AMERICANS LIVING NEAR TAMPICO SEEK REFUGE IN THE CITY

Fighting Has Begun and Real Assault Is Expected.

Washington Makes Protest Against Expulsion of Spaniards By Villa.

Six Hundred Refugees From Torreon Reach Juarez.

Washington, April 8. — American women and children in Dona Cecilia, a suburb of Tampico, have been brought into the city by order of Rear Admiral Mayo, in order that their lives may not be endangered by fighting in progress there.

Admiral Fletcher forwarded to the navy department this report he received yesterday from Admiral Mayo at Tampico:

"Sharp fighting during the day until 6, Vera Cruz firing all day. Do not believe this is serious attack on Tampico, as nothing indicates rebels have artillery, but report is persistent they will have some soon. Governor Caballeros is in command of the rebels. Some alarm in town, but not acute. Have brought American women and children from Dona Cecilia into Tampico. Some non-combatants injured."

Protest for Spaniards.

Vigorous representations have been sent from the American government to Gen. Carranza, the Constitutionalist chief, urging that he modify the order of Gen. Villa expelling Spaniards from Torreon.

This situation is giving grave concern to authorities here. The United States has undertaken to extend to Spaniards in Mexico the same protection it affords Americans resident there, and Ambassador Riano has been assured that nothing will be left undone to insure for the unfortunates at Torreon every right to which they are COLD KILLS FRUIT NEAR DALHART, TEX.

Snow Falls and Mercury Gets Down to 10 Above Zero.

Dalhart, Tex., April 8.—Winter came back to Texas Panhandle today with a temperature of 10 above zero. All the fruit in this section, it is believed, has been killed. An inch of snow has fallen. The snow is of great benefit to the cattle ranges which have lacked moisture.

ALTMAN ESTATE IS OVER $25,000,000.

New York, April 8.—A tentative valuation of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 is placed on the estate of the late Benjamin Altman, merchant and art connoisseur, who died in New York on Oct. 7, 1913, according to an announcement by the executors and trustees.

These figures include the value of Mr. Altman's art collection, which is easily worth $10,000,000 and which eventually will become the property of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, where it is now on exhibition.

The necessity for an immediate appraisal of the estate was obviated Monday by the action of the trustees in sending to the state comptroller an advance payment of $569,000 on account of the inheritance tax.

"DRYS" GAIN IN MINNESOTA

Majority of Cities Voting on Liquor Favor Temperance.

St. Peter and Other Places, Wet for Years, Banish Saloons.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Temperance advocates were elated today over their victories in a large majority of Minnesota cities of the fourth class which held municipal elections yesterday, with the liquor license question the principal issue.

The most notable victory of the anti-saloon forces was scored in Southern and Southwestern Minnesota, where Madison, Marshall, Luverne and Canby, for a score of years leading saloon towns, and even historic St. Peter, where saloons have operated continuously for more than sixty years, were swept into the dry column.

A majority of forty-three votes in favor of the prohibitionists closed the saloons at Litchfield, which had been "wet" for more than twenty years. Other towns voted into the "dry" lists included Mantorville, Tracy, Cannon Falls, Fergus Falls and Blue Earth. The liquor element was successful in Sauk Center, Le Sueur, St. James and Hastings, and in a few of the smaller towns that voted for the first time on the license question under the local option law of 1913.

RE-ELECTED MAYOR BY REDUCED MAJORITY

GERHARD A. BADING
Of Milwaukee.

SEIDEL FAILS TO COME BACK

Cuts Bading's Majority in Two in Milwaukee Mayoralty.

Twenty-Seven Wisconsin Cities Vote to Bar Saloons.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 8.—The counting of the votes from the paper ballots in yesterday's municipal election in Milwaukee is a very slow process and far from being complete, but unofficial though reliable returns do not change the estimate of last night, which gave Mayor Gerhard A. Bading, non-partisan candidate for re-election, a majority of over 6,000 ahead of Emil Seidel, Social-Democrat.

J. P. Carney and Louis M. Kotecki are elected treasurer and city comptroller, respectively, beyond a doubt.

City Attorney Daniel W. Hoan, Social-Democrat, appears to have been elected over William H. Timlin, Jr., non-partisan, according to returns up to 10 a. m. With seven precincts to hear from in strong Social-Democratic wards, Hoan it appears, will win by approximately 200 majority.

New Board of Aldermen.

The new board of aldermen probably will consist of 28 non-partisans and 9 Social-Democrats. At present there are 11 Social-Democrats on the board.

Among those who failed for re-election is John Koerner, non-partisan, who has been a member of the council from the Fourth ward for many years. How-

JOIN MEN THEY SENT TO STATE'S PRISON

Flanagan and Turner Go From St. Paul to Stillwater.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Martin Flanagan, former chief of the St. Paul police department, and Fred Turner, a former city detective, convicted several weeks ago of participation in the collection of thousands of dollars of blackmail from women of the underwold, today were taken to Stillwater, Minn., to begin serving indeterminate sentences of from one to ten years in the state penitentiary.

The two former police officials were driven from St. Paul to Stillwater in an automobile, after it had been announced this morning that they would be taken to prison in the customary manner, aboard an interurban electric car. The change in means of transportation, it was said, was made in deference to the wishes of the prisoners.

See Men They Sent There.

Stillwater, Minn., April 8.—Martin Flanagan and Fred Turner, formerly connected with the St. Paul police department, were brought to the penitentiary here shortly before noon today. They were taken to the old state prison, where they were "dressed in" according to the usual routine for new prisoners.

News of the arrival of the former police chief and his assistant in the St. Paul detective department spread through both arms of the buildings rapidly. Much interest was manifested in a quiet way by inmates, particularly among those whom Flanagan and Turner had been instrumental in sending here during the time the former officers were in power in the St. Paul department.

COMMISSION PLAN FOR IRVINGTON, N. Y.

Irvington, N. Y., April 8.—The commission form of government was adopted at the special election yesterday by a vote of 787 to 702. The commissioners will be chosen at a special election five weeks hence.

SIXTEEN COUNTIES ADDED TO DRY LIST BY ILLINOIS VOTERS

Two-Thirds of Townships Holding Elections Put Ban on Liquor.

Thirty Women Elected to Office; Springfield Women for Saloons.

MORE VOTES THAN VOTERS IN AURORA.

Aurora, Ill., April 8.—With a vote of 16,575 cast at the election on the saloon yesterday, the drys declare that their assertion that the wets brought illegal voters here is substantiated, as their canvass of the township before election showed only 15,500 of voting age living in Aurora. The township went wet by 1,259, with women of the East side district, where two-thirds of the population lives, giving the saloon a majority. In the town as a whole the women voted the drys a 808 majority.

Chicago, April 8.—Women voting for the first time in Illinois township elections demonstrated their power yesterday by closing the doors of more than a thousand saloons outside of Chicago, adding sixteen counties to the thirty already dry, and barring the sale of intoxicants in approximately 200 of the 300 townships in which local option was an issue.

Their victory included eleven of the larger cities of the state, which until the votes were counted last night, were wet territory. They were: Bloomington, Galesburg, Elgin, Decatur, Canton, Freeport, Belvidere, Monmouth, Kewanee, Lockport, and East Galena. Rockford, Mattoon and Galva were kept in the dry column by women's votes.

No New "Wet" Townships.

No city nor township which was dry before the election was lost by the anti-saloon forces, but the cities of Springfield, Quincy, Rock Island, Aurora, Alton, Moline, Dixon and West Galena remained wet.

Complete returns from country townships and from more remote sections of the state were not available, but detailed figures of the vote in fifty-seven townships placed the women's vote at 40,681 dry and 18,181 wet, showing that in those townships approximately 70 per cent of the women's votes favored the anti-saloon ticket.

Where the accurate figures were available, the men's vote was shown to be about one-eighth greater than the women's and to have been divided into approximately 60 per cent wet and 40 per cent dry.

Thirty Women Elected.

In addition to their victories over the saloons, the women elected thirty women officials—twenty-six township collectors, three town clerks and one woman member of a city board of education, Mrs. Mary L. Morrison of Springfield.

NO WOMEN LAND OFFICE

Seventy-Three Per Cent of Them Vote in Chicago Election.

Help Beat Subway Plan—Few Side With Progressives.

Chicago, April 8.—Although 73 per cent of the Chicago women eligible to vote took advantage of their newly gained franchise at yesterday's municipal election, none of the nine women candidates for membership in the city council was successful.

The women candidates received only a scattered vote. Alderman John (Bathhouse) Coughlin, who for a score of years has represented the First ward, won by nearly 4,000 votes over Miss Marion Drake, a court stenographer who made a spectacular campaign. Miss Harriet E. Vittum, head resident of Northwestern University settlement, went down to defeat before Alderman Stanley S. Walkowiak in the Seventeenth ward.

Nearly 500,000 Votes.

The vote in Chicago yesterday totaled nearly 500,000. Out of a total of 217,614 women who had qualified, 158,686 voted. The number of men who voted was 328,987, or 72 per cent of those eligible. Although not as large as they had expected, suffrage leaders expressed themselves as highly pleased with the interest shown by the women. Chicago women, Democrats at the polls yesterday showed a slight majority over women Republicans, while Progressives were a bad third. The figures indicated, in round numbers, about 55,000 women Democrats, 51,000 Republicans, 20,000 Progressives and 13,000 independents. The balance of the woman vote was scattered.

Chicago's new council will be overwhelmingly Democratic, as it has been for the last several years. Of the successful candidates, six sixteen served in the last city council. Of the new

YOUNG BRITISH ARMY AVIATOR IS KILLED

Last Flight as Pupil Ends in the Sergeant's Death.

London, April 8.—Sergeant Deane of the British army flying corps was instantly killed today at the Brooklands aerodrome while making his final flight as a pupil before receiving his pilot's certificate. Deane, acting against the advice of his instructor, ascended to a height of 1,200 feet. He then attempted a sharp spiral descent, during which he lost control of the aeroplane.

LEE OPENS BATTLE FOR NOMINATION

Would Drive Brewery Control of State's Affairs From Capitol.

Says the People Demand Clean Politics and Honest Government.

Owatonna, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—William E. Lee of Long Prairie opened his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor with an address at the opera house here last night. Mr. Lee was accompanied to this city by a delegation of supporters from St. Paul and Minneapolis and was welcomed by a band and a parade of enthusiastic friends. The crowd was so great that the opera house would not hold all who desired to hear the anti-machine candidate, and an overflow meeting was held.

Senator O. A. Lende of Canby also addressed the gatherings in support of Mr. Lee, who was given a splendid reception.

The Paramount Issue.

In his address, Mr. Lee insisted the paramount issue of the campaign was finding out whether Minnesota had a government it could control, and through which it could act; he opposed state control of local public utilities; argued the need of an efficient civil service, adding that the state now had enough useless boards to wall it up and roof it over again. The candidate condemned the state's antiquated governmental organism, and said, if elected, he purposed to give Minnesota a business man's and not a politician's administration, and to drive brewery control of the state's affairs from the capitol.

Mr. Lee told his hearers he believed in law enforcement, the right of the majority to rule, a conservation of the state's natural resources, good and even better schools, and in addition had much to say of the value of scientific farming, adding by way of parenthesis, that the best products of the farm were the boys and girls raised and educated there.

"Nero fiddled while Rome was burning," said Mr. Lee, in discussing state extravagance, "but the chief executive of Minnesota has outfiddled Nero, and as a result the taxpayers of Minnesota are crying out for a business administration.

"The one great issue of this campaign is to find out whether or not we have a government we can control and through which we can act. The machine has but one issue—control of the government. When we have wrested the control of the government from the bosses and greed we can move forward. Until then we are impotent. It is the people against the machine.

What the Machine Is?

"Naturally comes the query—what constitutes the machine?

"Let me tell you: First, there are the large brewery and allied interests. Then, there are some corporations whose owners desire to get more out of the public than they are entitled to for the service they render. Then, there are the multitude of office holders, mostly appointive officers, scat-

Taft's Declaration of Hopelessness of Situation Proves Error.

Bogota, Colombia, April 8.—The treaty between the United States and Colombia settling the Panama controversy was signed yesterday at the state department of Colombia by the American minister, Thaddeus A. Thomson, and representatives of the Colombian government.

Terms of Treaty.

Washington, April 8.—Twenty-five million dollars is the amount the United States agrees to pay to Colombia for the partition of Panama and the acquisition of the canal zone, in the treaty signed in Bogota by American Minister Thomson and the Colombian legation.

No rights for a new interoceanic canal across Colombia by the Atrato river route, and no coaling privileges on San Andreas and Providencia islands off the Colombian coast, it was added, were contained in the treaty.

While the Colombian minister, Senor Betancourt, received a cable from his foreign office informing him of the signing of the agreement, the state department still was awaiting word from Mr. Thomson.

Boundary Line.

The boundary between Colombia and Panama is to follow the line laid down in an earlier treaty which was signed, but never approved by the Colombian congress.

One important demand which the South American republic had been insisting on—the free passage of her merchant vessels through the canal—was given up because of President Wilson's attitude in favor of repeal of tolls exemption. That had been a stumbling block in the way of final agreement.

The Colombian congress will be called in special session to pass on the treaty before it is submitted to the senate here.

Acceptance of the treaty will end ten years of negotiations and friction between the United States and Colombia, and will relieve strained diplomatic relations which have been watched with the keenest interest by all Central and South American republics.

FLAY METHODS IN LAKE TRADE

Tell Commerce Commission Rates Are High Enough Now.

Washington, April 8.—Great Lakes package boat lines independent of the railroads, are making, according to testimony submitted today to the interstate commerce commission, good profit upon investment, although they carry less tonnage than the lines under railroad control. The intimation of witnesses for the shippers was that the rail lines were "starving" their boat lines through expensive management and the continuance of out of date methods of operation, to divert traffic to the rail lines.

Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the traffic committee of the Duluth Commercial club, maintained that the attitude of the railroads tended to reduce the lake tonnage.

Challenges Whole Policy.

"We challenge," said Mr. Barnes, "the whole policy of the operation by the railroads of package freight lines on the Great Lakes. It has all the disadvantages of a monopoly and none of a monopoly's advantages."

He insisted that the railroad-operated package lines had adopted no economies, no modern methods of handling freight in loading and unloading, and that the expense to the shippers, instead of being reduced, constantly was being increased. He cited four independent package freight lines on the Great Lakes in which he was a stockholder, that declared each a dividend of 10 per cent in 1913 on a business that was quite 15 per cent less than that done by the railroad-controlled boat lines.

Says Request Shows Nerve.

"Yet," he declared, "these railroad-owned lines have the temerity to come here to ask for an advance of their lake-and-rail rates."

G. R. Hall, traffic manager of the Duluth Commercial club, criticized the "archaic methods" used by the lake-and-rail lines in handling freight. He maintained that the traffic, scientifically handled, would show such a profit as would preclude the possibility of an increase in lake-and-rail rates.

ASQUITH DECLARED DULY RE-ELECTED

No Other Candidates for Seat in Parliament Appear.

London, April 8.—Premier Asquith again became a member of the house of commons today when he was returned unopposed by his old constituency of East Fife, Scotland. At noon, as no other candidates had put in an appearance, the returning officer of the constituency declared Herbert Henry Asquith duly elected.

Premier Asquith resigned his seat in the house of commons on March 19 after he had taken over the war secretaryship from Col. John Seely. According to the British custom, a member of parliament, on accepting an "office of profit under the crown," is compelled to give up his seat in order to seek the approval of his constituents for his acceptance of office.

While the premier was absent from the legislative chamber, Reginald McKenna, home secretary, performed the functions of leader of the house. During this short period the home rule bill passed its second reading.

The resignation of Col. Seely, secretary for war, was brought about by the crisis in the army in connection with the Ulster situation.

SUFFRAGETTE HURLS WHISTLE AT JUDGE

Mrs. Drummond Raises Pandemonium During Her Hearing.

London, April 8.—Pandemonium reigned in Marlborough street police court today when "Gen." Mrs. Flora Drummond, the militant suffragette, again was brought up and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or go to prison for two months, for creating a disturbance in Hyde Park during the Unionist rally on Saturday.

Mrs. Drummond was so violent that three policemen had to pinion her and remove her hatpins before the magistrate found opportunity, during a pause in the uproar, to pronounce sentence.

The "general" vehemently declared that she would never pay the fine. She was forcibly removed to a cell.

Railed at Suffragette.

All the time Mrs. Drummon was in court she kept up a fierce struggle with the police and warders and shrieked denunciations of every one present. Even a sister militant suffragette, who was in court, was the victim of verbal attack because she did not storm the prisoners' enclosure and rescue the "General."

Seizing a policeman's metal whistle, Mrs. Drummon flung it at the magistrate's head, but he dodged the missile.

Taking advantage of the diversion, Mrs. Drummond then sprang from the enclosure, but was seized before she got far away and was carried back, shouting and struggling.

When Mrs. Drummond had become calmer she was released, as either she or some one else had paid her fine.

MOORS BUTCHER TWO AVIATORS.

Rabat, Morocco, April 8.—Capt. Herve, a French military aviator, and a lieutenant he was carrying as a passenger were hacked to death by insurgent Moors after they had escaped uninjured from an aeroplane accident in the desert.

The two officers were engaged in a reconnoitering flight near Zenmour, when their motor became disabled while they were high in the air. The captain piloted the machine in a gliding flight to earth.

Both alighted safely and were endeavoring to repair the defective motor when a band of Moors surrounded them, and after torturing them, cut them up with swords and shears.

The Moors also destroyed the aeroplane.

GRAN GIVEN A DIVORCE

Charges of Cruelty Brought By Mrs. Gran Are Insufficient.

Judge Expresses Deep Sympathy for Both Parties to Case.

Holding that the charges of cruelty counterclaimed by Mrs. Olga Gran in the sensational divorce suit brought against her by her husband, Victor H. Gran, a local attorney, were insufficient to warrant a decree being granted in her favor, Judge Cant in district court late yesterday afternoon announced that he would grant the divorce to Gran on the grounds of adultery.

Gran asked for an absolute divorce and the custody of their children, two boys, Robert 5, and Russell, 2, alleging that on Jan. 31 last his wife had committed adultery with John R. Heino, also an attorney and his former business associate, in the latter's office, 308 Sellwood building. Mrs. Gran denied the charge and counterclaimed adultery and cruel and inhuman treatment. The adultery charges on both sides were submitted to a jury, the verdict substantiating Gran's charge against his wife and exonerating him from the accusation made by her.

Evidence was taken before Judge Cant without a jury on the other questions involved. After the examination of the last witness had been concluded Judge Cant stated that he was ready to decide the case.

Judge's Decision.

Judge Cant held that the charges of cruel and inhuman treatment and of connivance which had been preferred by her were not sufficient and directed A. E. McManus, attorney for Gran, to draw findings in favor of the plaintiff. It is understood that Attorney B. M. Goldberg will ask the court for a new trial for Mrs. Gran.

In announcing his decision, Judge Cant stated that he would take under advisement for the present the matter o the custody of the children and the question of alimony. During the course of remarks at the conclusion of the case, Judge Cant said:

"There has been quite a serious tragedy enacted in this Gran home, and these two poor people are in a sad position. Regardless of who is at fault and who is not, those of us who have been in close touch with the situation from the beginning can feel nothing but deep sympathy for each of them—the one who is the wrongdoer, if such there has been, and the one who has been wronged.

"I sincerely hope that in the further progress of the matter and in the future goings and comings of these two people such steps may be taken as will result in a not too severe treatment of either the one or the other. And yet neither can hope wholly to escape from the necessary consequences from their own acts. That is a law which operates upon us all, and which tends, in some measure, to keep us in the right way.

"As far as I can read from the evidence and between the lines it is probably true that Mr. Gran has failed to be at home as fully with his wife and children as he should have been. Had his bringing up been somewhat different, and his experience other than it has been, he would have managed in some way to spend a greater amount of his time at home with his wife and children. But he came up through hard work and rather stern experience and I have no doubt that as he entered the practice of the law he thought it necessary that he work sometimes both night and day, and part of the time at least while he was away from home during the evenings he was working at the office, and part of the time, no doubt, he was attending lodges where he had social intercourse, and where, I suppose, he hoped to increase his acquaintance and thereby increase his business and erable him the better to support his wife and family. He is subject to some criticism of the general nature which I have expressed in reference to the matter."

In touching upon Mrs. Gran's counterclaim, the court stated: "It seems to me that the matters upon which Mrs. Gran relies were incidents which were not altogether pleasing, but yet out of which, by reason of the necessities of the case, she has attempted to make more out of them than she was justified in doing."

HARD TO GET HEINO JURY

But Three Jurors Are Secured for Criminal Action.

Owing to the widespread notoriety of the Gran divorce case considerable difficulty is being experienced today in the selection of a jury to try John R. Heino, the co-respondent in the divorce case, on the criminal charge which he is facing. He was jointly indicted with Mrs. Olga Gran, wife of Victor H. Gran, his former business associate, on a charge of adultery.

Heino, who has been out on bonds since his arrest, appeared in court this morning with his attorneys, William P. Crawford of Superior and Walter F. Dacey of this city, and demanded a separate trial. Judge Dancer granted the motion, which will mean that Mrs. Gran will be tried later. Warren E. Greene, county attorney, appeared to direct the prosecution.

Although all the morning was given over to the examination of jurors, only three were accepted to serve on the panel. They were Arthur E. Stock, D. S. McKay and Oscar A. Anderson. It is expected that the remainder of the day will be devoted to the drawing of the other nine jurors. It is expected that the evidence on the part of the state will be similar to that adduced at the divorce trial where the same question was submitted to a jury.

INTENDED TO END IT ALL

But Despondent Youth Is Cheered By City Visiting Nurse.

"When a fellow's got consumption I guess the best medicine he can take is a dose of lead," was the cheerful remark which was made yesterday afternoon to Miss Louise E. Schneller, visiting nurse of the health department, by a young man who had come to the city hall for information as to the proper treatment for tuberculosis.

He declared that he was certain that he had contracted the disease and was in the bluest kind of a blue funk. Of his own volition he went on to tell his story. He said his parents had died of tuberculosis in the old country and that when he came here he met a "fast bunch." He made no effort to save any money and was down to his last $10 bill. As he proceeded he broke down and sobbed.

Remorse had him in its grip and when he was again able to control his voice he gave expression to his despondency by stating that he contemplated suicide. Miss Schneller explained to him that as the disease had not progressed much past the first stages no reason existed why he should not recover if he took care of himself. When he left he was looking through glasses of a brighter hue and said that he would return at 4 o'clock today "for further instructions."

The list of those waiting to gain admittance to the sanitarium has been reduced to thirteen. In the last week about a dozen patients have been sent to Nopeming, the county pavilion or the state institution at Walker.

WILL CONFER THE THIRTIETH DEGREE

Work of Scottish Rite Masons Ends With Maundy Thursday Banquet.

The conferring of the fourteenth degree on thirty-four candidates last night at the Masonic temple was brilliantly performed by Venerable Master E. K. Coe and his assistants, and the attendance of Scottish Rite Masons was a heavy one.

This morning the fifteenth degree was conferred and this afternoon the eighteenth—Knight Rose Croix—was conferred. This evening the thirtieth degree will be conferred by C. W. Stilson, commander of the council of Kadosh. Tomorrow morning the consistory will confer the thirty-first degree and in the afternoon at 2 o'clock the thirty-second degree will be given.

Fifty-seven are taking the Rose Croix and consistory degrees.

The spring reunion will end with the Maundy Thursday banquet tomorrow night, followed by the solemn ceremony of the extinguishing of the lights. The relighting of the lights will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the temple.

OXFORD TEAM SAILS.

Southampton, Eng., April 8.—The relay team from Oxford university, whose members are to participate in the intercollegiate four-mile relay race at Philadelphia on April 25, left for New York today on the Olympic. The vessel is due in New York April 15.

The team is composed of Arnold T. S. Jackson, president of the Oxford University Athletic club, who won the mile race at the Olympic games; D. N. Gaussen, G. M. Sproule, an Australian and Norman S. Taber, a Rhodes scholar from Providence, R I, who is already in America.

ABANDONS RUGBY STYLE OF FOOTBALL

Los Angeles, Cal., April 8.—Rugby football, after a three years' test at the University of Southern California, has been found grievously wanting, according to a statement made today by Warren F. Bovard, Jr., athletic manager at the university, following a decision of the faculty athletic committee yesterday to return to the American game.

The main reason for dropping rugby is that the university wants to form a collegiate athletic conference with two other Southern California institutions that have remained loyal to the American game.

Bovard made the prediction that while rugby is liked by the players, it will have disappeared from American colleges within five years.

MAY USE MILITIA.

Virginia Governor Is Determined to Stop Track Gambling.

Norfolk, Va., April 8.—State militiamen were held in readiness today by Governor Stuart to suppress the race meet at Jamestown, if Attorney General Pollard should call for their aid.

Fifteen men charged with being bookmakers, arrested yesterday in a spectacular raid on the track, were released on bail, for trial late today.

SEATON GIVES UP.

Goes to the Brooklyn Federals After Long Dispute.

Chicago, April 8.—Pitcher Tom Seaton will be with the Brooklyn club, and, with Walter Ward and Manager Bradley, is now on his way to join the Ward team, according to President Gilmore of the Federal league.

Gilmore made his announcement today after a long distance telephone talk with Ward at Gulfport. According to him the dispute has been settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. Seaton being contented with the arrangements, though he had been strong in favor of remaining with the Chicago team and his "pal," Ad Brennan.

TWO CANADIAN BANK ROBBERS KILLED

New Hazleton, B. C., April 8.—Two bandits were killed here yesterday in a fight between a band of robbers and a large posse of citizens, after the robbery of the Union Bank of Canada branch. Six men held up the bank and four got away with $1,100 cash. A posse started in pursuit.

The bank, a substantial building of log construction, standing apart from other buildings, had been opened only a few minutes for business when the robbers appeared.

The bandits were not more than a half minute in the bank. As they backed out the clerks began to reach for their pistols and the robbers fired several shots.

The shooting alarmed the town, and several cowboys who happened to be in a hardware store, opened fire. Two of the robbers fell dead as they raced along the road toward the bush.

The robbers are supposed to have been the ones who in the last year have robbed banks at New Hazelton, B. C., Granite Falls, Wash., Abbottsford, B. C., and Elma, Wash.

JUDGE NEEDS TIME TO "CATCH UP"

Will Leave Bench to Decide Many Old Cases.

In order to dispose of matters which have piled up on his desk for weeks and months while he has been actively engaged at the trial of cases, District Judge Cant will take a recess from his duties on the bench for the present.

It is understood that the other judges of the court have agreed to so arrange matters that Judge Cant will not be called upon to sit in on the trial of any new cases until he has had an opportunity to decide the matters now pending before him.

A number of important cases have been submitted to him for a decision. Probably the most important piece of litigation which he has been called upon to decide is the street railway franchise suit.

Superior

MANY ATTEND STORE OPENING

Crowds Admire New Lightbody-Wingate Establishment and Big Stock.

Throngs of people attended the grand opening of the Lightbody-Wingate department store, Fourteenth street and Tower avenue, this morning. The opening of this store marked a new epoch in the retail dry goods business in Superior, this city now having one of the most up-to-date establishments at the Head of the Lakes.

From the time the store opened at 10 o'clock this morning hundreds of people, shoppers and others, viewed in wonder the beauties of the store as well as the goods offered to the public.

One of the most impressive features of the store is the splendid, almost dazzling view afforded the patron on first entering. Glistening glass showcases and adjustable shelves, reinforced by scintillating mirrors, display their rows and rows of attractive goods. The mezzanine floor in the rear, with its rest rooms, lounging veranda, offices and special shops, is unrivaled by anything in the Northwest.

The store is so well day-lighted that it might appropriately be called "The Daylight Store." Every nook and corner is illuminated by daylight. At night the lighting system is equally effective. The first floor is brilliantly lighted by fifty 500-kilowatt electric lamps, which almost rival the sunlight. Each showcase has a lighting system of its own, similar to stage footlights, and the display goods are in clear view.

The mezzanine floor, with its comfortable lounging chairs and the splendid view it gives of the entire store and all patrons, is expected to prove very popular with the patrons. Other modern conveniences that the store provides for patrons are restrooms, marinello shops, free telephone booths and so forth. The half-floor is covered with a luxurious green carpet.

The fixtures of the store are of golden oak. The floors are of maple. Twenty-four immense pillars adorn the interior, and enhance the stately appearance of the immense first floor.

In addition to having the most modern natural and artificial lighting systems, the new store has one of the best ventilating systems of any store in the city. The Garner system is used. By means of an electric fan, with its scores of exhaust ducts for the expulsion of impure air and as many intake ducts, the air in the store is kept constantly pure and fresh. The steam-heating system is used.

The new store has given careful attention to its humanitarian equipment in the treatment of its employes. The store has a restroom in the basement for its girl employes. Steel lockers are provided for each of the more than 100 employes.

One convenience that will be much appreciated by the women shoppers is the innovation of a playground department in the basement for the children. The women may safely leave their children downstairs, while they make their purchases. The playground will be equipped with an indoor toboggan slide, a sand pile and other contrivances that will furnish amusement and entertainment for the children. This arrangement is one of the most progressive and helpful conveniences that up-to-date stores have introduced.

Farm Board Meets.

The Wisconsin state board of agriculture is holding a meeting in Superior today for the first time in the history of the city. Many matters of interest to the city and Douglas county are being discussed including the encouragement of Northern Wisconsin to patronize the Wisconsin state fair. At noon the members of the board were guests of the Commercial club.

Firemen Save Auto.

Gasoline leaking from an automobile standing at the corner of Belknap and Baxter street, yesterday afternoon was ignited by friction and exploded, enveloping the car in flames. The entire city fire department was called to the scene and rescued the machine before it was badly damaged.

Devils Lake Hotel Robbery.

Devils Lake, N. D., April 8.—While the night clerk was absent from the office for a few minutes, a passerby stepped into Hotel Western early Tuesday and took away the cash register. He carried it to the shelter of a building nearby and broke it open, appropriating $25 which it contained. The register stood on the front of the office desk and the room is exposed to the view of the street by a big glass front.

Kenmare, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Brow and his family, residing near here, were saved from asphyxiation by his daughter awakening and giving the alarm.

Buys Blooded Hogs.

Minot, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fifty-eight pure blood Poland China, Duroc Jersey and Yorkshire sows, aged from 10 to 12 months, have been purchased by W. A. Peck, agent of the Ward County Better Farming association, and they will be distributed to the boys who will participate in the annual pork production contest.

Farmer Gored By Boar.

Menominee, Mich., April 8.—John Tesselaar, a farm employe, was gored by a 450-pound boar here Monday. He is in a critical condition.

So great has become the demand for whale meat in Japan that there is danger of a scarcity of whales in that part of the Pacific, and the Japanese government has limited the number of whaling vessels.

PLANS ARE APPROVED

Valuable Suggestions Offered By the Heads of Departments.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Just on paper, the plans of the efficiency commission for consolidating the state government into convenient departments look all right. But the real question is, will they work?

Most of the officials in the state house believe they will. There is plenty of criticism. The members of the board of control believe three men using their judgment in consultation are better than a single executive for that department. The railroad and warehouse commissioners question the advisability of transferring weights and measures to an executive department. George H. Hazzard believes state parks are so very important and so much neglected that they should be set apart from other departments by themselves.

But take it by and large, the men on the job, if they do not wholly approve the plans, declare them a step in the right direction—something like the "80 per cent good" judgment of Jacob Schiff on the currency law.

More Approval Than Expected.

There is in fact more approval than one would expect to find among men whose duties are affected. Men don't like to have things moved around. In our family the majority is grouchy every time mother moves the table where the whatnot used to be, and when she shifts the bedstead and the bureau father complains for weeks that he can't sleep. It is the same in all business. "We have changes to propose from time to time," says a high railroad official in St. Paul, "and invariably the heads of departments tell us it can't be done, it won't work—and then we go ahead and do it. And it works."

Having made a plan that looks right on paper, the commission is consulting with the department heads and any subordinates who have suggestions. "The sole aim," says C. P. Craig in a letter to the heads of departments, "is to place every man in that relation to his own department and to every other which shall make for the maximum of efficiency and economy."

Getting Valuable Suggestions.

On that basis the commission is getting valuable suggestions. One group has been reshaped entirely from the first outline. It was found that the health department articulated more closely with the institutions than with such matters as fire prevention and oil inspection. So it is not proposed, apparently with the same assent of all the departments concerned, to consolidate the present health department with public welfare and to lump a group of inspection duties in the department of commerce, each retaining its proper head but all brought under one roof.

There may be other changes. The commission maintains an open mind at least until every one has been heard. It is not expected, however, there will be any amendments from the present outline, as to its principal features.

The Chinese puzzle is not nearly as puzzling as it was when one hundred and forty activities lay before the commission all in a heap.

BURY OLD ENGINEER.

Many Railroad Men Gather About Bier of Robert H. Carr.

Brainerd, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Robert H. Carr, the Northern Pacific engineer was held here attended by many railway men and especially engineers from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Staples, Brainerd and other points and was the largest gathering of railway men ever seen here. Carr died at Los Angeles, Cal., from injuries received in an automobile accident, and the remains were escorted from California to Brainerd by a brother engineer, William Smith, of St. Paul, a great friend of Carr and who was with him in his last moments. The pallbearers were Charles Zimlin, Harry Baxter, George Ames, Fred Desch, William Smith and A. I. Green. The honorary pallbearers were H. W. Wales, Joe Yost, Michael Durkin, Sam Gorman, George Conley and Doc Laughlin. Mr. Carr was the second oldest Mason of Aurora lodge, No. 100, A. F. & A. M. The body lay in state in Masonic hall until the hour of the funeral, the services being under Masonic auspices and the sermon preached by Rev. G. P. Sheridan.

ORGANIZE SHIP LINE.

G. N. and N. P. Make Ready for Canal Traffic.

The Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads have prepared for the new traffic situation that will be created through the opening of the Panama canal next year, in the organization of the Great Northern Steamship company. Its stock will be divided equally between the two companies.

It is estimated that these boats will steam from Astoria to San Francisco in twenty-four hours, and three hours will be allowed for the train journey between Astoria and Portland, thus enabling the company to compete with the Southern Pacific for lower California business.

THREE NEW TRAILS INTO CARRINGTON.

Carrington, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be three new auto trails through Carrington this summer. The black and white trail will be from Fairmount to Portal via the Soo main line across the state. The green and white will be through here from Jamestown to Leeds, and a red and white line will be along the Turtle Lakebranch from here, diverging to Bismarck from the western end. The signs and posts for all three trails will be placed in position soon.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—William J. Stock of Coleraine, Itasca county, today filed with the secretary of state for state senator from the Fifty-second district, comprising Itasca and Cass counties.

Representative P. H. McGarry of Walker has already filed for the position. Dan Gunn of Grand Rapids has represented the district for the last eight years, but will not be a candidate for re-election.

OBITUARY

Dr Joseph Bryant, formerly president of the American Medical association, died in St. Vincent's hospital, New York, April 7 of diabetes. He had been in the institution since March 11. Dr. Bryant was one of the most eminent surgeons in the country.

Duchess Eugenia Di Litta, who played a prominent role at the court of the late King Humbert of Italy, died in Milan, Italy, April 7, at the age of 77. The Duchess Di Litta was an ardent patriot, and during the struggle for Italian independence led the women of Lombardy aristocracy in refusing to attend court balls participated in by Austrian officers.

Before ascending the throne, King Humbert was so lavish in his attentions toward the duchess that Queen Margherita, in 1875, returned her nuptial ring to her father-in-law, King Victor Emmanuel II, declaring that she would not wear it while the duchess was received at court. With time, however, this resentment wore away, and when King Humbert was assassinated at Monza in 1900, Queen Margherita ordered that the Duchess Di Litta be informed immediately, and she, after the queen, was the first person to reach the side of the dead monarch.

Claude Seymour, son of Charles Bailey Seymour, once editor of the New York Tribune, died in Chicago, April 7. Mr. Seymour was a wealthy merchant.

ROSENTHAL SLAYERS MUST DIE NEXT WEEK

Governor Glynn Refuses to Interfere in Gunmen's Behalf.

Albany, N. Y., April 8.—Governor Glynn refused either to commute the death sentence of four gunmen who were convicted of slaying Herman Rosenthal, or to grant them a reprieve until after the second trial of Former Police Lieut. Charles Becker. They now must die by electrocution in Sing Sing prison some time next week, probably Monday.

"It would have been a miscarriage of justice to have granted commutation, and an improper exercise of executive power to have granted a reprieve," the governor said in a statment. "The case of the four gunmen does not depend in the least on the result of the Becker case, and no evidence has been offered tending to show that there is any reasonable probability of anything developing in the second Becker trial which would change the result reached in the gunmen's cases."

Frank Cirofici (Dago Frank), Harry Horowitz (Gyp the Blood), Louis Rosenberg (Lefty Louie), and Jacob Seidenshner (Whitey Lewis).

Included in the governor's statement were the texts of letters he received from Supreme Court Justice Goff and District Attorney Whitman, who acted in the case. Both men strongly opposed the granting of a reprieve.

TWINS ARE BORN TO MR. AND MRS. GERRY.

New York, April 8.—Twin boys were born today to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingston Gerry. Mrs. Gerry was Cornelia Harriman, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman. They have two other children.

French Women Cannot Vote.

Paris, April 8.—French women have not the right to vote, according to a decision by the court of cassation. The women's rights league of France had tried to have its members register as voters for the coming elections and applied to the court, which ruled against them.

FREE BATHS FOR PUBLIC

Women's Organizations Are Forming Plans to Present to Council.

Bayou at Mouth of Kingsbury Creek Favored —Small Cost.

Free public baths for men, women and children will be located in West Duluth, if the plans being formed by some of the women's organizations of this end of the city are adopted by the city. It is proposed to ask the city to set aside a part of the water front recently condemned for an addition to Fairmont park for a public bathing spot.

The site is said to be one of the best that could be secured for this purpose at the Head of the Lakes. It is claimed that at a small cost the bayou into which Kingsbury creek empties, which runs through Fairmont park and thence into the bay, could be fixed up for this purpose.

It is proposed to have the public bathing place divided into two parts, one for girls and women and another for men and boys. A pavilion similar to those of the Harriet island baths at St. Paul is favored, to be in care of city employes. Small charges to cover the cost of soap and towels would be made.

The place is said to be the most adaptable for this purpose on account of its location. It is shielded from the winds of the north as well as from those off the lake, and the water will, it is said, maintain a greater degree of warmth there than in any other place on account of its distance from the main current of the river. The current in the bayou is said to be sufficient from the flow of the creek to carry off the sluggish waters. The bed of the inlet is said to be solid and smooth, with sand formation.

It is proposed to have a small amount of dredging done to remove weeds and other substances from the inlet.

The women's organizations intend to petition the city commission to have the work done under the supervision of the park department. They propose to have the city officials take some action in the matter this year in order that the public baths may be a reality this coming summer, if possible.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE.

Florence Lundquist Is Recipient of Many Presents.

Miss Florence Lundquist, whose wedding to Ernest Kuchenbecker will take place on April 15, was guest of honor last evening at a bundle shower given at the home of Mrs. Carl Kuchenbecker, 119 North Sixty-third avenue west. Miss Lundquist was the recipient of a number of handsome presents. The guests were: Mrs. George Dahl, Mrs. John Mattson, Mrs. Oliver Henry, Mrs. James Connolly, Mrs. E. Huncordeck, Mrs. H. Fedi, Mrs. C. Castle, Mrs. Matt Olson, Mrs. Carl Dahlberg, Mrs. J. Sundstrom, Mrs. Malberg, Mrs. Simonson, Mrs. F. Mattson, Mrs. A. Peterson, Mrs. R. Klug and Mrs. J. Horman.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Henry Fedi entertained in honor of Miss Lundquist at an apron shower. Sixteen guests were present. This evening a shower has been planned in her honor at the home of Miss Ethel Nelson, of Nineteenth avenue west and Piedmont street.

BALL FANS ORGANIZE.

New Duluth Will Place Team in City League.

Baseball fans of New Duluth met last night and organized a team and raised a sum of $100 to fit out properly. It is proposed by the suburbanites to place a team in the city league this summer that will give any of the amateur aggregations a hard race for the city championship.

V. C. Powers was elected president of the baseball club. The other officers are: Frank Wacha, manager; Fred Dystrom, secretary; Dr. George B. Gilbert, Carl Wanamaker and F. W. Damkroger, directors.

The team will be organized within a few days and practice will begin as soon as the weather becomes warmer.

De Chambeau Funeral.

The funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth de Chambeau, wife of George de Chambeau, 131 South Fifty-third avenue west, who died yesterday will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the St. James Catholic church. Burial will be made in Calvary cemetery.

Child Passes Away.

Janet, the 1-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Brainerd, 615 North Fifty-ninth avenue west, died this morning. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the family residence. Interment will be at Oneota cemetery.

Fined for "Singing."

Clarence Jones and a companion were singing loudly on Raleigh street at a late hour last night when interrupted by Patrolman Perry. Jones, who is said to have been under the influence of liquor, refused to comply with the patrolman's orders to stop the noise and he was taken to the police station. In police court this morning he was found guilty of disorderly conduct and fined $10 and costs. Sentence was suspended on promise of good behavior for six months.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mesaba hive, No. 7, L. O. T. M. of Proctor, will make arrangements at its meeting this evening to entertain the county convention of the Maccabees. The convention will be held on April 14.

Members of Euclid chapter, O. E. S., entertained at a "500" card party last evening at the West Duluth Masonic hall. Honors were won by Mrs. Van Brunt, Mrs. George Pinther and Julius Aman. The hostesses were Mrs. C. G. Futter, Mrs. H. W. Lanners, Mrs. George Murray and Mrs. Charles Comfort.

Herman Nyhous returned last evening from a short visit at Carlton.

Mrs. Lucien Merritt, 4611 Oneota street, entertained this afternoon for the Ladies' Aid society of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church.

Mrs. P. F. Lee, 618 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, was pleasantly surprised last evening by her friends in honor of her birthday. Cards and music featured the entertainment. There were twenty-four guests.

Miss Minnie Fedi, 503 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, is reported ill at St. Luke's hospital. Miss Fedi is a teacher at the Ely school.

Ernest Johnson and Nels Norman today completed the purchase of the West Duluth Cement Block works from H. C. Brown. Mr. Brown established the cement block works several years ago and has built up a large business in this end of the city. The industry will be operated with a full crew of men this spring and summer.

THE FOUR GUNMEN

Are Proof of Guilt and Sing Sing's Chair Sufficient?—Do Their Lives Show What Makes Murderers?

By WINTHROP D. LANE,
Of the Staff of the Survey.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

How are "gunmen" made?

"Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie," "Whitey Lewis' 'and "Dago Frank" will die in Sing Sing during the week of April 13 unless the governor of New York intervenes. When their bodies are lifted from the chair society will rest content in the belief that it has done its utmost to make their cases crime deterrents.

All society seems to ask is, did they kill Rosenthal, the gambler and "squealer" who was shot in July, 1912? And will they pay the penalty? Doubtless this is society's first responsibility.

But shall we stop there? Is it not important to learn as much as possible of their early lives and associations to discover how we may prevent more "gunmen" from being made? Where did these four boys come from? Who are their parents? How was their childhood spent? Did they become murderers in a day?

"Lefty Louie."

Lefty Louie was born in the heart of New York's congested lower East Side. The family is one of respectable, orthodox Jews. The father, financially well off, is trustee of a synagogue. No suspicion of crime has ever been lodged against any other members of the family.

After an illness at the age of 6, the doctor said that Louis must have all the fresh air he could get. At that time the family was poor and the only fresh air for Louie was in the street. The stern household discipline was then broken down. The myriad sights and sounds he had wondered about, he could now investigate first hand. New friends were waiting to teach him the amusements of the door step and the side walk.

In a couple of years he became, says his father, a "street fiend." The first misdeed his family knew about happened when he was 11 or 12. With another boy he tried to take some money out of a little bank in which his brother kept his savings.

All this time he was going to both the public and Hebrew schools and receiving the usual religious instruction of his race. At 12 or 13 he had become a frequenter of pool rooms, where he probably learned how to pick pockets. He was sent away to a private school for a year and after that worked both in the shipping department of a department store and in his father's office.

But his passionate longing for the street, continued. His first arrest was in 1907, when Louis was 16. The charge was "disorderly conduct" and he was sent to the house of refuge. Soon after he came out he was arrested for picking a pocket and sent to the house of correction for nine months. These were his only arrests up to the murder of Rosenthal.

"Whitey Lewis."

Whitey Lewis came to this country with his family from Poland in 1900, when he was 12 years old. In Poland, the family says, he never got into trouble. His parents are Jews and are poor. The excitement of street life in New York city was too much for Whitey, with his rural upbringing, and during his first year here he made the acquaintance of professional criminals in Chinatown. He worked for a while in a book binding shop and then started to learn tin smithing with an uncle in Jersey City.

His first arrest came when he was 16. He pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the second degree and was sent to Elmira reformatory. He was paroled and earned his absolute release in seven months. Two other convictions for similar offenses followed and then Whitey entered the army and went to the Philippines.

There he got into a struggle with a fellow who taunted him for being a Jew and Whitey, who had a knife in his hand, cut his persecutor. He was given hard labor for three months and dishonorably discharged. He returned to this country and fell in with his old associates. Like Lefty Louie and Gyp the Blood, he declared on the witness stand that he had met Jack Zelig, the notorious gang leader, about a year before the murder.

Two of Whitey's brothers have been arrested, one for picking a pocket.

"Dago Frank."

Dago Frank was confirmed in a Protestant Episcopal church at the age of 16. His family attended the church regularly and it has been said that Frank sang in the choir. He began work at 15 years of age and for four years was an errand boy at $3 a week for a news bureau. His employers never complained of his conduct.

Soon after he left this job he was convicted of carrying concealed weapons. This is the only charge except that of murdering Rosenthal ever made against him. Frank says the weapons were handed him by an ex-convict and that he was caught with them fifteen minutes later. He was sent to Elmira reformatory and after fourteen months was paroled, earning his absolute release in seven months.

He worked a year as steamfitter's helper for a construction company and no complaint was made against his character or industry.

By what steps he came to be a member of the notorious Jack Zelig gang, it is difficult to learn. The attorney who defended him and the other gunmen says that he is "the pity and conundrum of the four." This attorney thinks that it was the evil associations Frank formed while in the reformatory that caused his undoing. Frank was one of the few non-Jews to belong to Zelig's gang. A Jew had once given his mother and sister employment and helped them with their rent. Frank has ever since had a kindly feeling for Jews. When Zelig was killed, a letter from Frank was found on his body reciting these facts, saying "Although I'm a wop, I know you'll stick by me."

"Gyp the Blood."

Gyp the Blood was a childhood companion of Lefty Louie and the story of his entrance into law-breaking is much the same as that of Lefty's. His father is in the tailoring business and well-to-do. From the ages of 8 to 12 Gyp, who is a Jew, received instruction in the Talmud and the other usual religious teaching of his race.

With Lefty he frequented poolrooms. For a while he was an errand boy for a dry goods store and it may be that his trips to all parts of the city brought him into contact with evil associates.

At 17 he was arrested for the first time, the charge being petit larceny. He was discharged. The next year for a similar offense he was sentenced to nine months in the city reformatory. He served a second term in the reformatory and then a year in the state's penitentiary. Two of Gyp's brothers have been arrested also.

Such are the histories of four young men now looked upon as desperate and hardened criminals. Yet beyond their connection with one crime, the world has shown no concern in the stages by which their criminal careers developed. None of the parents of the gunmen has ever been charged with crime. The early years of each of the four seem to have been normal and straightforward. Gradually they made the acquaintance of older boys and men who had mastered the trick of turning an easy dollar. Their own entrances into crime were gradual and began, in every case but that of Dago Frank, with attempts to get spending money easily. None of them was given the benefit of probation or a suspended sentence.

Do not these facts suggest the importance not only of punishing criminals but also of finding out why they are criminals? Shall we be content merely with providing electric chairs and other methods of disposing of the finished criminal, or shall we attack the processes by which criminals are made?

IS PROTECTING DULUTH PROPERTY

Proctor Wants an Allowance From City for Fire Department.

The village of Proctor wishes the city of Duluth to contribute towards the maintenance of its fire department and its police force.

R. G. Wombacher, recorder, has written to Commissioner W. A. Hicken, head of the safety division, explaining that a return is due for the protection afforded property in the city limits. He says that about seventy-five houses near Proctor are in Duluth territory, lying between the village and Bay View Heights.

The recorder states that the village has a volunteer fire department and that each man is paid $2 for each blaze which he helps fight. He wishes to know if the city will make these payments where fires occur in the Duluth limits. He adds that the village is contemplating the purchase of new equipment and that it is felt that the city should pay part of the cost. The same situation applies to police protection.

Commissioner Hicken said that he would investigate the situation before making any recommendations. He was rather surprised to learn that there are so many houses in Duluth's limits adjacent to Proctor.

WOMEN'S SHRIEKS HALT COURT WORK

Suffragette Throws Gripsack at Judge When Arraigned.

Belfast, Ireland, April 8.—Militant suffragettes created so much confusion and noise in the police court here today when Dorothy Evans and Madge Muir, officials of the Belfast branch of the Women's Social and Political union, were brought up for trial, that the proceedings had to be adjourned.

The two women were charged with having in their possession explosives for the purpose of committing a felony.

The court was crowded with women when the prisoners were brought in, and acting apparently on a signal, they raised such a din that neither the magistrate nor the prosecuting attorney could make himself heard.

The suffragettes kept up the uproar for a long time. Forty of them were ejected from the court, but the noise still continued and the magistrate finally decided to suspend the sitting.

As they were led out, the two prisoners shrieked that they would not permit the holding of a court.

After passing a short period in the cells, Miss Muir and Miss Evans again were brought into court. Both tried to dash through the door into the street and in the struggle with the officials Miss Evans fainted.

When placed in the prisoner's enclosure, Miss Muir hurled a grip sack at the magistrate's head. The latter remanded both to custody.

Faces New Charge.

James Sorenson, who has been held a prisoner by the local authorities on a charge of bastardy, was yesterday turned over to a deputy sheriff from La Moure county, N. D., where he will be brought to trial on a charge of seduction.

In district court yesterday, on the motion of Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, Judge Dancer dismissed the charge of bastardy which had been preferred against him in this county. The young woman involved in the case lives at Edgerly, N. D. She recently came to Duluth and caused Sorenson's arrest here.

ART APPRECIATED.

"An old farmer and his wife," said Mr. Edeson, "once visited an exhibition where the nude predominated. They seemed a good deal impressed, almost stupefied, by all the white and gleaming pictures. As they left I heard the old man say, with a sigh:

"'Well, Hannah, I never expected to see as much as this for a quarter.'"

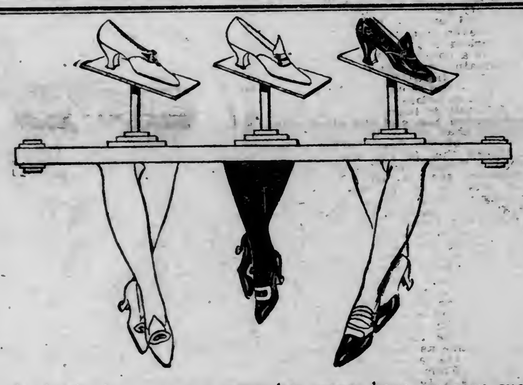
Beautiful Florence Martin



Will Be Seen at the Lyceum, April 9, 10, 11 and 12.

in the new comedy sensation, "PEG O' MY HEART," by J. Hartley Manners, which is now in its second year at the Cort theater, New York, where it is breaking all records for sustained popularity with Laurette Taylor in the title role. The entire action of the play is supposed to take place in the living room of a villa in Scarboro, England, and has as its central figure a wild, mischievous, whole-souled girl who has been reared amid poverty in New York, but, nevertheless has preserved the flower like fragrance of the wildwood. Loyalty to a lowly father and to her father's country, Ireland, is the watchword of her nature, and she does not hesitate to express her sentiments when suddenly transplanted from the grip of penury to an aristocratic old home in England. Oliver Morosco has surrounded Miss Martin with a brilliant cast and the production is a fine one.

USUAL CUT IN COAL PRICES

Duluth Gets Summer Rates; No Reduction in Eastern Cities.

Despite the fact that the drop in coal prices which usually occurs April 1, did not take place in the East this spring, substantial cuts in all kinds of coal except bituminous were made in Duluth. Householders who make a practice of buying a season's supply of fuel after the spring cut may do so as usual in Duluth.

Both the wholesale and retail prices have been cut. Egg, stove and nut coal dropped 50 cents a ton and pea coal 25 cents. Bituminous prices are just as they were.

It is said that considerable agitation has been aroused in the East by the fact that coal prices were not reduced as expected on April 1. The maintaining of the old prices is said to be due partly to the Pennsylvania tax of 10 cents a ton on the product of the mines and to labor troubles.

High cost of fuel, however, is a very different story, if any stock is taken in the report made to the New Jersey assembly this week by an investigating committee.

The investigators assert:

(1) That eleven big railroad companies, avoiding the commodities clause of the Hepburn act, control 87 per cent of the anthracite coal dug out of the earth.

(2) That the prepared sizes, such as are used almost exclusively by small consumers, are sold at the enormous profit of upward of 300 per cent.

(3) That suppression of the combination, managed by forty men, will restore competition and remove the evils that now exist.

LESS THAN HALF DESERVED TO PASS

Ink Reduces Marks of Pupils Graded in Rural Schools.

Although teachers in the rural schools in reading papers in the recent high school board examinations gave 1,259 pupils a rating of 65 per cent or more, less than half were deserving of this mark according to L. A. Ink, principal of the unorganized schools.

Mr. Ink after rereading the examination papers found the number who passed to be 572. The papers were forwarded yesterday to the state high school examiner at St. Paul who will issue credit slips to those who have passed. The slips will entitle the pupil holding them to admission without further examination to the high and agricultural schools of the state.

ASSESSOR WISHES TO HEAR PROTESTS

Will Check Up Figures With Property Owners This Week.

City Assessor J. Allyn Scott is receiving many calls from property owners who wish to learn how their holdings have been valued for the purposes of the 1914 assessment.

A complete revaluation of the entire city has been made under the direction of the assessor, as was necessary to comply with the provisions of the new state law passed by the last legislature. In many cases the figures have been materially changed, particularly on buildings, which run considerably higher than heretofore. This is because the statute specifies that they shall be assessed on a basis of 40 per cent, while in the past they have been assessed for about one-third.

Assessor Scott is willing to check up his figures with any property owners or agents who desire it. If errors have been made they can be rectified. As the tentative figures will be entered for permanent record next week the assessor wishes to make any changes which seem just before that time. For that reason he wishes that those who have been planning to come to his office to go over their assessments would do so this week. If the assessor feels that he cannot make any changes a full statement of the case will be prepared and presented to the city board of review.

OFFERS TO GO TO JAIL FOR MOTHER.

Boston, April 8.—When Mrs. Annie C. Deitch was sentenced in municipal court yesterday for shop-lifting, her son, a college student, asked to be permitted to go to jail in his mother's place, declaring that he was better able to undergo the hardship than she. The court informed him that it was impossible. Mrs. Deitch, who was sentenced to three months imprisonment, gave bail.

HONOR SYSTEM FOR CONVICTS SUCCEEDS.

Lindale, Tex., April 8.—The honor system among Texas convicts has worked so well that Governor O. B. Colquitt yesterday came here to pay in person the wages of fifty, the pioneer band in the system, who work unguarded on roads in this section.

There has been but one attempt at escape in the two months the experiment has been under way, and even then the two runaways were captured by the other convicts, who wrote to the governor apologizing for the broken promise of their fellows.

The governor is considering extending the system to other roads in the state. The convicts receive 50 cents per day.

LET PRODUCERS MARKET OWN OIL.

Washington, April 8.—To relieve the situation in the oil producing territory of California, which affects the industry in that state and elsewhere, Secretary Lane, after conferring with members of the house land committee, is preparing a bill which would enable independent producers to market their oil.

IS SUED FOR $1,494.69, BUT JURY GIVES HIM $50

A verdict for $50 was returned by a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court yesterday afternoon in favor of Albert John Young, who was defendant in a suit brought by the Crow Wing Lumber company. The plaintiff company sued for $1,494.69 on two promissory notes and Young filed a cross bill, counterclaiming $750 for services performed.

The jury was out but a short time. It denied the company's claim and awarded Young $50.

FARGO TO HAVE CENTRAL MARKET.

Fargo, N. D., April 8.—(Special The Herald.)—The voters of Fargo having authorized a central market system, the city commission will probably lose little time in the establishing a place of that nature. Having been urged for years by many residents of the city the advocates are elated over their success. The members of the commission may be somewhat divided in sentiment as to the location and the cost of the site and the building. Many sites are suggested. The first experiments will probably be as nearly central as possible with as economic a structure as can be secured to properly handle the business.

It was argued by the men offering the motion that the special session would spend more money than it would save.

Chautauqua For Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., Apirl 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A chautauqua is assured for Brainerd this summer. The Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua system will have a seven days' session, using a large tent capable of seating 2,000 to 2,500 people. The dates are June 9 to 15. The company has held chautauquas the past eight years in Austin, Mankato, Marshall and Luverne.

Big Hastings, Minn., Fire.

Hastings, Minn., April 8.—The southwestern section of the buildings of the Brandt Manufacturing company, on West Second street, was destroyed by fire of an unknown origin early yesterday. The loss on building and machinery is estimated at $60,000, fully covered by insurance. Sixty men are temporarily thrown out of employment.

West End

NEARLY 1,000 SEEK PRIZES

Commercial Club Garden Contests Are Attractive to Schools.

Many Boys Will Raise Vegetables and Girls Flowers.

Nearly 1,000 children of the West end will participate in the garden contest to be held under the auspices of the West End Commercial club according to reports being received from the various schools where the children are registering their entries. So far more than 700 names of children who will become amateur gardeners this year, have been received by the committees.

At five of the West end schools a special committee of pupils has charge of taking these names. These schools are the Adams, Ensign, Lincoln, Munroe and Bryant. The largest registration of names is reported from the Lincoln school where nearly 300 pupils intend raising garden truck on the back lots of their homes.

A complete report of the names entered will be given at the next meeting of the club. The committee in charge is already receiving subscriptions for the prize fund and has assurances of nearly the entire amount, as well as offers of a number of special prizes.

At the schools several of the children have submitted plans of their proposed gardens this year. Some of these will raise vegetables exclusively while others will grow vegetables and flowers. Most of the girls entered in the contests intend to try for the flower garden prizes. The contestants are being furnished with seeds through members of the committee.

PREFER ANOTHER SITE FOR DEPOT

Club Will Ask Soo to Build at Twenty-First Avenue.

The West End Commercial club will attempt to induce the Soo Line to build its proposed West end passenger and freight depot at Twenty-first avenue instead of Twenty-fourth avenue, as announced by the road. A petition to that end will be circulated among the business men and forwarded to the company.

The officials of the road announced some time ago that a depot would be erected in this end of the city. It was intimated that the depot would be located at Twenty-fourth avenue.

Business men of the West end say that they have appreciated the announcement, but would rather have the depot closer to the center of business and also that by locating it at Twenty-first avenue, it would be closer to the intersection of two street car lines. The matter is to be taken up at the next meeting of the club.

"The depot, if located closer to the business section, would do us a great deal more good," said John Moir. "The business center of the West end is in the neighborhood of Twentieth avenue, and the closer we can get the depot to that point the better it would be for the community."

Swedish M. E. Notes.

The Young People's Society of the Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will be entertained at a social and literary meeting this evening at the home of Miss Minnie Johnson, 332 North Twenty-first avenue west.

The ladies' aid society will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Lundholm, 2303 West Seventh street.

Rev. C. W. R. Wermine will conduct midweek prayer meeting in the church tomorrow evening.

The Swedish Methodist congregation will take part in union services on Good Friday at 10:30 a. m. to be held in the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue and Second street.

Special Easter programs are being arranged for the various services to be held Sunday. The Sunday school will hold a union meeting with the congregation in the forenoon and in the evening the choir has planned a special musical program.

Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paulson, 2231 West First street, were pleasantly surprised by a number of their friends last night at their home. They were presented with a handsome electric lamp. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Peter Nelson, John Paulson, August Nelson, Anton Johnson, Adolph Bjorlin and Conrad Nordvall, Mesdames A. Wieberg, E. Lundberg, John Forsen, O. A. Carlson, Misses Hilda Tygerson, Agnes Sjodahl, Jennie Griffith, Lydia Stolhanske, Manda Stolhanske, Anna Wahl, Christine Anderson, Muriel Johnson, Helen Johnson and Messrs. Tells "Sermon Story."

Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, gave a "sermon story" last night at the revival meeting, which was attended largely by children of the Sunday school. The services last night were planned especially for the children. The revival meetings will be continued tonight, tomorrow evening and Friday evening.

Big Attendance Nightly.

Passion week meetings are being held nightly at the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, and Saturday evening will be the only exception. The meetings have grown to such an extent that the lecture room had to be abandoned and the auditorium of the church is being used.

West End Briefs.

Lars Anderson of West Fifth street returned yesterday from a two months' visit to his farm in Itasca county.

The St. Luke's Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, will entertain tomorrow afternoon at the last of a series of Lenten teas. It will be held in the guild rooms of the church.

A smoker has been planned for the members of Fridhem lodge, Order of Svithold, for Friday evening at Sloan's hall.

Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the First Swedish Baptist church, is expected to return home tomorrow from Minneapolis, where he attended the state Baptist board meeting.

Mrs. Joseph Olson, 2118 West First street, is visiting relatives at Virginia, Minn.

PARCEL POST RULES FOR BOOKS DEFINED.

"Books is books."

This is the decision of the postal authorities at Washington regarding the question that recently arose as to the distinction that is to be made in the parcel post rules regulating the sending of books. All books are included in the ruling, no matter if they are bound in leather or in paper, or whether they are catalogs or advertising publications. All the government demands is that the book weigh eight ounces or more to be included in the parcel post ruling.

If a book weighs less than eight ounces, the rate will be 1 cent for two ounces, just as was the ruling before parcel post went into effect, and which still regulates third class mail matter.

FOUR SALOON LICENSES REFUSED.

Brainerd, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners refused four applications for saloon licenses in Oak Lawn township, that of W. H. Spalding in the new town of Woodrow, C. J. Evensta, Lewis Danielson and Julius Holz, at points in the township. The Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company also objected to saloons.

PASSOVER TO BE OBSERVED

Jews Will Begin Celebration of Feast Friday Night.

Many Symbols of Flight of the Jews From Egypt.

At sundown Friday Jews throughout the world will begin celebrating the Feast of Passover, which will continue until April 18. In Duluth the reformed Jews will hold a public Seder or feast Friday evening at 6:30 at Temple Emanuel, while special services will be held at the orthodox synagogues, followed by the feast at the home of each individual. On Saturday and Sunday morning services will also be held at the local Adath Israel synagogue and again the following Friday and Saturday mornings. Friday evening, April 17, a special Passover service will be held at Temple Emanuel, Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits speaking.

Oldest Hebrew Feast.

Passover, or Pesach, as it is called, is the oldest Hebrew feast. It dates back 3,300 years and celebrates the deliverance of the Jewish race from the despotic rule of Pharaoh. Upon the stories of the flight of the Jews from Egypt, their subsequent wanderings for forty years, and the leadership of Moses, depend the later stories of the acceptance of the Ten Commandments on Mount Sinai and the final building of the temple at Jerusalem. The observance of Passover follows closely the details of the Biblical tale throughout the entire week.

Friday night the first Seder is held at the homes of all the Jews of the world. The observance of this Seder or feast has hardly changed in the slightest since it was originated. The members of each family make this event a home-coming, and the emancipation of the Jewish race and praises of its leaders are sung during the feast. At the close a prayer is offered for the re-establishment of Jerusalem as the home of the Jew as of old. This means more to the Jews oppressed in Russia and Roumania than it does to the free citizens of America. To those still pining in slavery, Passover still sings the song of ultimate redemption, while to those living under a free flag, it teaches the undying lesson of gratitude.

Characteristics Domestic.

The main characteristics of the celebration of the Passover are mostly domestic. In orthodox homes the feast will be observed both Friday and Saturday evening, while the reformed Jews hold but one feast. On the following Friday and Saturday more special services are held at the synagogues, while in the reformed temples only Friday is observed. The symbols of the Seder service are the roasted lamb bone, reminding the Jew of the lamb that was slaughtered as a sacrifice of the covenant; second, the matzah or unleavened bread, to be eaten during the whole week in place of ordinary bread, recalling not only the hasty preparations with which the Israelites hurried out of Egypt, but their absolute reliance on God; and the bitter herbs, suggesting vividly the bitter life of Moses and his brethren while in the land of Pharaoh.

Two other symbols of the table should be noted, namely, the four cups of wine allowed each member at the feast, symbolizing the four-fold phase in which God couched the first "declaration of independence," and the cup of wine set aside for the prophet Elijah, who, ever present in spirit, always brings anew the message of undying hope of the Messianic reign of universal peace, freedom and justice.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Luster to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. Agent, Wirth's drug store, 13 West Superior street.

GASOLINE PRICES FALL

Increased Production Has Caused Drop of Two Cents Since March.

As a result of increased production and a slackening in demand at some of the larger centers, there have been general reductions in gasoline prices all over the country. Duluth automobile owners and other consumers are now buying gasoline in a retail way at 20 cents a gallon, a reduction of 2 cents since the first of the month. From present indications, dealers are of the opinion that the product will sell cheaper yet, and they are buying in quantities to cover their immediate requirements only. This is a considerable change in the situation from a year ago, when advances in quotations came along with painful regularity to autoists and other users.

It is to be noted that at St. Louis, Mo., the Standard Oil Company of Indiana has cut its wholesale gasoline figure down to 13 cents a gallon, making its fifth reduction since the downward movement began. That result has been brought about through especially severe competition in that territory.

That the oil companies generally made enormous profits last year is evidenced in the annual report of the Prairie Oil & Gas company, just issued. Its net earnings for the year were $15,932,620, equivalent to 88 per cent on its $18,000,000 capital stock. This came on top of profits of $22,802,513 earned by that company in 1912, equal to 127 per cent on its stock.

RAISES LIQUOR ISSUE.

Personal Rights League of North Dakota Is in Politics.

Bismarck, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The liquor question will be made an issue in North Dakota politics again as a result of the organization here of the Personal Rights league, a body fostered by the North Dakota German Alliance and several lodges of The Verein, a German fraternal order.

Support of resubmission and opposition to women suffrage are cardinal virtues which the league will insist candidates for office must have if they wish the support of the body.

The German Alliance has a big membership throughout the Missouri Slope district. Morton, Sheridan, McIntosh, Logan, Stark, Sonthern Emmons and Southern Kidder, portions of McLean, Pierce and McHenry county, have particularly heavy German votes, and in those counties the league will be a material influence.

Desire to avoid politics in the fraternal orders is responsible for the organization of the league, which will conduct an active campaign.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way Is to Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Woman's Realm

At the meeting of the Drama league held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. R. Holden, 1932 East Superior street, delegates were named to represent the local organization at the convention of the Drama League of America to be held in Philadelphia April 23, 24 and 25. Those chosen were Mrs. F. A. Patrick, Mrs. E. H. Wolforth and Mrs. W. N. Ryerson, all of whom are now in New York and can easily attend the meetings at Philadelphia.

Up to this time all conventions of the Drama League of America have been held in Chicago. Seventeen large cities extended invitations to the organization. Philadelphia was chosen as the place of meeting becase it is one of the oldest and one of the largest of the producing centers and ranks third in point of membership in the league.

Subjects to be discussed at the convention are audiences of today, the drama that is presented to them, conditions that control both the audiences and the plays they attend and problems that confront drama centers.

In addition to discussions of the drama and things pertaining to it directly and indirectly there will be several interesting entertainments. Annie Russell and her company will give a special performance at the Little Theater. Plays and Players, the famous Philadelphia group of amateurs, will present a French fifteenth century play, "Monsieur Patelin."

The talk by Mrs. Otis Skinner, "Behind the Scenes in a One Night Stand" promises to be interesting and to give the delegates a good idea of something of the real lives of players. Miss Fola La Follette will speak on "The Psychology of Audiences."

Other prominent names on the program are Percival Chubb, Harrison Gray Fiske, Benedict Papot, Meredith Nicholson, Augustus Thomas and Percy MacKaye.

Dr. Richard Burton, head of the department of English of the University of Minnesota, has been named by the nominating committee as candidate for president of the national organization. As Dr. Burton is the only one named for the office Minnesota may even now claim the honor of having one of her citizens as the head of the Drama league. Dr. Burton has lectured in Duluth.

The board of directors who will hold their offices until 1915 are Brander Matthews, Percival Chubb, Mrs. Otis Skinner, Raymond M. Alden, S. H. Clark, Gilson Gardner, William S. Hefferan, J. Creighton Matthews, Benedict Papot, Mrs. James Harvey Robinson, Mrs. Frederick Vaughan and Mrs. William Vaughn Moody.

JAN KUBELIK AND WIFE.

Jan Kubelik, the famous violinist, sailed for Europe this week after a most successful tour of America. Part of the time he played with Mme. Melba, the great soprano. Wherever he went he confirmed the reputation he has made in the last season as a musician of wonderful technique. Mme. Kubelik, who was the divorced wife of Count Czaky when she married the violinist, accompanied her husband on his tour. During their visit to America they met the Count Czaky and entertained him. The count and Mme Kubelik are still good friends.

Linnaea Society.

At the meeting of the Linnaea society yesterday arrangements were completed for tag day, May 16. A report given yesterday showed $165 was realized at the buffet luncheon given March 12. This money and the proceeds of tag day will be devoted to sufferers from tuberculosis. The committee appointed to visit the tuberculosis hospital reported favorably upon the conditions there. It was decided to send flowers to the tuberculosis hospital at the county farm for Easter. At the informal reception that followed the business meeting the hostesses were: Mrs. Oscar Peterson, Mrs. A. Saltwick and Mrs. B. F. Rossom. Pink carnations were used on the tea table.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting, May 15. This meeting will be held at 2 o'clock to accommodate the delegates to the Federation of Women's clubs at Cloquet. The hostesses at this meeting will be Mrs. P. A. Sjosellus, Mrs. P. C. Smith and Mrs. A. Swenson.

Thimble Bee.

The women of the First Baptist church will have a thimble bee this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. G. Chambers in the St. Regis apartments.

Meeting at Bethel.

The regular woman's meeting will be held at the Bethel tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of Glen Avon Presbyterian church, will be the speaker. The mothers of Bethel Sunday school pupils and all women who are interested in the work of the institution are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN PLAYS ROLE OF DETECTIVE TO GATHER EVIDENCE FOR SUIT AGAINST M'ALPINE ESTATE

MRS. W. H. TITUS.

EUGENIA GLIDDEN TITUS.

When Mrs. Mattie B. Titus of San Francisco, Cal., widow of the late W. H. Titus, a California lumberman, found that it was necessary for some one to come to Duluth to obtain certain information to be used at a trial of a lawsuit in the California courts against the estate of the late John McAlpine of this city, she did not leave the matter to her attorneys, but came here personally to attend to matters.

Mrs. Titus and her 12-year-old daughter, Eugenia Glidden Titus, who accompanied her, returned yesterday to California, after having spent ten days in the city. On April 20, Mrs. Titus expects to appear as a witness at the trial of the McAlpine lawsuit, which will occur in the Federal court of the Northern district of California. Titus and McAlpine were associated together in a California land deal and the lawsuit involves their transactions. Mrs. Titus and Mrs. McAlpine are sisters.

Among the coming attractions soon to be seen at the Lyceum is William A. Brady's production of "Little Women," direct from its record-breaking six months' run at Mr. Brady's playhouse in New York, and with the original company and production. The dramatization of "Little Women" was made by Marian de Forest, a well known magazine and newspaper writer of Buffalo, and awakens many memories among the readers of Louisa M. Alcott's famous story, many of whom still journey to the old homestead at Concord, Mass., now preserved as a permanent museum. When "Little Women" was presented for the first time in New York it was commended as a faithful reproduction of the novel, carrying no attempt at theatrical effects, but aiming solely at simplicity and the vivyfying of Miss Alcott's long endeared personages.

Oliver Morosco will send J. Hartley Manners' exquisite comedy "Peg O' My Heart" to the Lyceum, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

So much that is good has been said of this New York success in the metropolitan papers and magazines that a detailed description is not necessary. Suffice to say that popularity of the show is, largely due to its freedom from the slightest suspicion of the unclean or sensational. "Peg" is portrayed by Florence Martin, and her interpretation of the character is said to be one of the most loving and artistic imaginable. The little Irish girl brimful of wit, which flows from her rosy lips as the crystal water from a spring, "Peg" tells a story that made old Manhattan, staid and blase, forget the more sensational attractions for this beautiful story of refreshing youth.

For the first time in twenty-five years of his vaudeville life, James H. Cullen was disconcerted Sunday.

Mr. Cullen has toured the Orpheum circuit fifteen times, and has faced vaudeville audiences for a quarter of a century, so it takes something unusual to disconcert hm. During nearly all of that time he has worn a long black frock coat on the stage, and has used a little black notebook from which he reads jokes at the finish of his act. Last Saturday somebody stole the frock coat from his dressing room in Minneapolis, and the book went with it. Arriving here Sunday he was unable to get another coat in time for his opening performance, and for the first time in nearly a quarter of a century he appeared without his frock coat and his book. Monday he got a new book, and ordered a new frock coat, but for the first time since he used to appear with McIntyre & Heath when the three of them first went into the business, he admits he was nervous in facing an audience.

Next week it expected to be the banner week of the Orpheum season. The Orpheum Road Show will open a week's engagement at the local theater. It is headlined by "Romeo the Great," said to be the most wonderful trained monkey in captivity. Claude and Fannie Usher, two favorites with Duluth audiences, will also return with the Road Show.

FLOWERS ARE PLENTIFUL

Big Easter Demand Has Not Caused Much Change in Prices.

There is no scarcity of flowers for Easter, according to local florists, and best of all, the prices for all varieties are slightly below the average, with the exception of violets, for which there is usually a large demand at this time of the year, causing the regular prices to soar.

Local florists said this morning that their supply of violets is about fifteen to twenty times that ordinarily carried. It is the only flower, however, that has not been reduced slightly in price or has kept the average. Violets will sell for $1.50 a bunch and they are the most popular for corsages on Easter Sunday.

Lilies-of-the-valley, which also make a beautiful corsage, are selling for $1 a dozen, while sweet peas cost $1 a bunch.

Easter lilies are selling for 25 cents a bloom and from 50 cents to $1.50 a pot, the price depending on the number of blooms to a pot. There is a large supply of lilies on hand and the price is no higher than usual.

Spring jonquils, daffodils and tulips are now on hand and are reported to be selling much cheaper than usual. Local florists have a large supply of the flowers and also of the pots, which sell from 25 to 75 cents each.

The ever popular roses are plentiful and are selling for $1.50 to $2 a dozen for the common varieties.

HOLIDAY PROGRAM AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The Boys' Department Y. M. C. A. special program attracted a large number of the boys yesterday. Special games were conducted in the gymnasium in the morning; swimming and a game tournament in the afternoon; and in the evening an Easter social consisting of a rooster crowing contest, egg race, rooster fight, set the hen, chase the feather and an egg tug. Each boy brought a boiled egg which was returned to him when the refreshments were served.

This morning there was a game contest in the gymnasium. At 2:30 a large number of boys in charge of Mr. Batchelor took an observation trip through the Northern shoe factory. Twenty-five members of the Knights of Sir Galahad in charge of Mr. McLeod left for a hike to the Spirit Lake branch of the boat club, where they will spend the night, returning tomorrow morning. Each boy will carry blankets and lunch for two meals. Tonight there will be a masquerade party at the boys' building. All members of the club are invited. The program for tomorrow will be, a swimming period at 10 a. m., 2:30 p. m. a trip through the Butternut bread factory and through the Patrick mills. Monday a trip was made through the woolen mills. The boys saw the wool as it came from the sheep's back and watched it until it became cloth. Tomorrow they will se it being made into garments. At 4:30 there will be a game tournament in shuffle board. The winner will receive five points in the Hustler club. At 8 o'clock there will be a "stunt" night, any member or group of members can put on a stunt. The Sunday club committee will present a little play entitled "Dixy's Dilemma." Those taking part will be: Warren Moore, Edwin Pearson, Harold Coe and John Shields.

LORD BYRON'S HOME IN ROME IS FOUND.

Rome, April 8.—At a meeting of literary men here yesterday, including the American ambassador, Thomas Nelson Page, and the British ambassador, Sir Rennell Rodd, the announcement was made by Nelson Gay of Boston, secretary of the Rome committee of the Keats-Shelley association, of the discovery of the house where Lord Byron lived when in Rome. This house is in the Piazza di Spagna, facing the house where John Keats died. For nearly a century literary men have searched for its site, which has now been found through a letter.

OBSERVATIONS

—By PEGGY PEABODY—

Fresh Air, Sunshine, Exercise and Baths Are Curses for Ills.

With the coming of spring there is a decided increase in the number of people who seem to think that they are in need of a medicine, or spring tonic, as it is called.

It is true, too, that after a long winter of hearty, heavy eating and confined living, the blood and general system may be benefited by some of the very simple remedies that have been handed down from our grandmothers and great-grandmothers.

A concoction of sulphur, molasses and soda, a valued remedy the country over in olden days, as a preventive, if not a cure-all, of every ill to which the flesh is heir, is making its appearance in many homes today. But I have heard its value very much disputed by medical authority as too harsh a remedy for any but the thick and sluggish blooded.

The main point with the very large percentage of the women, and men, too, for that matter, who take medicine for any cause whatsoever, is that they are taking medicine. The knowledge that they are taking something that a doctor has prescribed for them or that some of their many friends and fellow-sufferers have recommended as magical in its effects, is sufficient to work a cure. More often than not the ill is a subterfuge, albeit an unconscious one.

Many of us have heard it affirmed that in very many cases where doctors are called upon to recommend a course of treatment or a remedy, they more times than not prescribe to relieve the mind and not to cure a real physical disability. Very often none exists, except that which the imagination and a life devoid of interest and ambition creates. Though we are convinced that this state of affairs exists, we seldom think to apply the truth of it to ourselves.

Tonics are in order, and they may be necessary in some cases at this season. But let me give you a prescription that will do you more good than any a physician can write, and which is well within the means of all. It is concocted of fresh air, sunshine and exercise, and the use of those great essentials, soap and water. These are essentials of health that too few avail themselves of. Pin your faith to these things from now on and see if they do not serve you better than the most carefully compounded spring tonic.

THE RICH PROMISE OF THE FIELDS.

The government reports that the average condition of winter wheat April 1 was 95.6 "of normal," against 91.6 per cent last year, 80.6 in 1912, and 85.7, the ten-year average.

In other words, the winter wheat crop on April 1 was pretty nearly in perfect condition. The acreage is high, and the outlook for a banner winter wheat crop could hardly be better.

Spring wheat of course is not planted, but the outlook there is for a tremendous acreage, and if nature is as kind to it as it has been to winter wheat, it is easily possible for this growing season to lay broad and deep the foundations of the rosiest reign of prosperity this country ever has enjoyed.

Following Republican precedents, we suppose we ought to make great claims for the Wilson administration as a producer of good crops, but we'll let that rest until the harvest.

In the meantime, it is well to remember that agricultural prosperity is the basis of all prosperity, that when the fields are fruitful business is good, and that it is hardly possible to parallel a great crop year with a year of business depression.

It is a time for laying plans of business conquest, not for microscopic hunting for reasons for alarm.

From his owner's assertions of proprietorship, one would almost infer that the Houn' Dawg dug the canal.

AN ATTACK ON FAIR REPRESENTATION.

One Thomas J. Meighen of Fillmore county has begun legal proceedings in the hope of defeating the legislative reapportionment law which was passed last year after a generation of struggle by the northern part of the state against the unfairness of the apportionment law of 1897.

The ground on which he proceeds is a mere technicality, too trifling to require consideration. It is not that which interests us, but the spirit of the attack—and the reaction against it which is evident in that section of the state.

Meighen offered to file for the senate from Fillmore county, which was a senatorial district under the 1897 apportionment, but which is now part of a new senatorial district including Houston county. His filing was of course refused, and he has gone to court on the ground that the new apportionment is invalid. If his suit should prevail, the iniquity of the 1897 apportionment would be restored, and the equity of the 1913 apportionment would be lost.

We have utterly no idea that this suit will prevail, but it is painful to think that there is a single citizen in Southern Minnesota who would attempt to restore the evil conditions of rank injustice that prevailed under the old apportionment.

However, we do not believe for a moment that this man Meighen represents in this action the sentiment of his neighbors. To believe that would be to assail every resident of Fillmore county as a friend of injustice and oppression, an enemy to fairness and equal representation, and a traitor to American ideals of government.

The Herald never believed that the people of Southern Minnesota were at fault for the long delay of an honest reapportionment. It could not believe that and still believe them to be honest and fair. And it does believe them to be both honest and fair. They are fellow citizens of a great state in whose glory we have a common pride. The fellow Meighen is made of different material from his neighbors, we are sure.

Assailed for his act by believers in fair play, Meighen in a bitter communication in a Preston newspaper chooses to put his opposition to the reapportionment law not on the ground that it is unequal or unfair, but, forsooth, that it was "the work of the agents of the steel corporation!" It is impossible to take that as anything but a joke. The home of the "steel trust" is in St. Louis county, which gained no more—if so much —from reapportionment than the Northwestern part of the state, many of the representatives of which have always inclined to favor every measure that was aimed at the prosperity and security of the people of the iron range communities.

It is not the Meighen attack on reapportionment, which is idle and cannot possibly prevail, nor his talk of the "steel trust," which is ridiculous, that interests us. It is the evidence which his un-American and un-democratic effort has produced that the people of his neighborhood are fair and just and honest. This is what interests us in this episode.

For instance, M. J. Grattan, a splendid citizen of Fillmore county, writes in the Preston Times as follows:

> Taxation without representation is tyranny, whether imposed by King George on the colonies or by Fillmore and Houston counties upon their neighbors on the north. Where one voter here equals four or five in representation, that constitutes taxation without fair representation and is indefensible from any standpoint of equity and justice. Any attempt on our part to defeat reapportionment by a legal technicality betrays a grasping, selfish spirit which is not content with what is due us but seeks more by devious means. A square deal, equal representation, is all we are entitled to, and attempting to grasp more brings us into bad odor with fairminded men of other sections whose good will we desire and may often need. To use the knife of legal chicane to cut out the pound of flesh will in the long run bring us the tribution meted out to Shylock. And it would be deserved; make no mistake about that. Let our friends upon the north understand, unqualifiedly, that this move is not backed by public opinion.

The people of the north, we are sure, believe that fully. To believe otherwise is to believe that we live in a commonwealth stained by a type of citizenship deserving only the contempt of lovers of liberty everywhere.

Samuel A. Langum, himself a candidate for the legislature, and one of the best known citizens of Minnesota, in his newspaper the Preston Times, after a feeling review of the long fight for just legislative representation, says:

> No one claims that the apportionment was not as fair and equitable as circumstances permitted, or that we were unduly discriminated against. This being the case, will it pay us to continue this dog-in-the-manger policy? How would we feel if conditions were reversed and our Northern neighbors should insist in keeping us in subjection by the mere brute force of numbers, without regard to justice or decency? Have we no regard for the feelings or good opinion of the balance of the state? And if by chance and chicanery we should be able to hold on for a little while, what would it benefit us in the long years to come? For the ultimate good of Southern Minnesota, and because of the fair name of Fillmore county, the Times hopes that Tom Meighen will fail miserably in his attempt to undo the tardy justice, however grudgingly bestowed, of the reapportionment act of 1913.

These assurances are good to hear.

No Northern Minnesota man believes that such activities as those of Meighen are in accord with public sentiment in Southern Minnesota. What the man Meighen proposes is to substitute injustice for justice, inequality for equality, oppression for freedom, foul play for fair play. But manifestly we need not concern ourselves about Meighen. His vigorous neighbors are fully equal to the task of handling him. Yet one thing we would be interested in having them discover—the voice is the voice of Thomas; but the hand is the hand of —whom?

Virginia, Minn., is among the latest ladies to indulge in a new Easter lid.

YESTERDAY'S ELECTIONS.

Mayor Konkel of Superior got what his supporters call "a sweeping vindication" in yesterday's recall election. Upon examination, however, this victory fails to disclose good reason for the use of the adjective "sweeping."

What happened is that Mr. Konkel successfully resisted the attempt to recall him by the slender plurality of ninety-one votes out of a total of 5,293. Had fifty voters switched, he would have been beaten. Had a hundred of his 2,692 supporters forgotten to vote, he would have been beaten.

The result is hardly more than enough to indicate a state of doubt in the minds of our neighbors across the bay about the "wide open" policy on which Mayor Konkel was attacked; and "Silver Joe" got the benefit of the doubt.

There is no question whatever what did it. Superior believes that it is making money out of Duluth's tight lid, as no doubt it is, and a few more than half of its voters wanted it to keep on making money that way. It was a narrow squeak for Mayor Konkel and his policy of keeping open town for those who like plenty of tobasco and pepper to season their diversions.

The most interesting things about yesterday's elections concerns Monday's election in Alabama—the removal beyond doubt of the fact that Leader Underwood was nominated by the Democrats of Alabama to be their candidate for United States senator. They chose him in preference to "Hero" Hobson, and they chose with exceeding wisdom. Oscar F. Underwood is a big man and a valuable man, and it would have been a great loss if he had been crowded out of public life by defeat at the hands of such an erratic individual as Mr. Hobson.

The saloon got some hard raps yesterday, especially where the women voted. They voted in Illinois—seventy-three per cent of those who registered in Chicago, and probably a larger percentage in the smaller towns where license was the issue. A good many saloons in Illinois were put out of business by yesterday's voting, and quite a number in Minnesota, where fourth class cities voted on license for the first time since the local option law was expanded to include them.

Congressional elections were a stand-off—one Democrat and one Republican. However, this is a loss of one to the Democratic majority, as the Republican elected fills a Democrat's place. In Boston, a Democrat got more votes than the Republican and Bull Moose candidates combined. In New Jersey a Republican got a substantial plurality over a Democrat, with a Socialist third and the Bull Moose candidate among the "scattering."

No doubt some people will be duly shocked to find that Illinois continues on the map after allowing the women to vote on some things there.

A Jewel from Jadam

New York Sun: The pursuit of poetry in the barren pages of the Congressional Record is a weary task. The average congressman knows a few stock pieces from old school readers; these serve his turn when his hour of eulogy and obituary eloquence strikes. Short cuts from "Thanatopsis," "The Psalm of Life," Whittier's "I know not where His islands lift their fronded palms in air," and so on; the didactic, religious and mortuary verse of congress is sound, but it is always the same. True, once in a great while a statesman breaks into "original" comic verse, which is sure to have been written by somebody else. On Tuesday, however, the Record enshrined a real, though none of the freshest, treasure. The Hon. Benjamin Grubb Humphreys of the Third Mississippi district said for himself and a Gopher statesman of immortal memory:

> "I have always believed that Adam Bede had my constituents in mind when he told us a few years ago on the floor of this house the hard luck story of the man
> "Whose horse went dead and his mule went lame
> And he lost his cow in a poker game,
> And a cyclone came on a summer day
> And blew the house where he lived away,
> Then an earthquake came when that was done,
> And swallowed the ground that the house stood on;
> Then a tax collector, he came 'round
> And clanged him up with the hole in the ground."

This is a pathetic and a noble poem, direct in its appeal, and as overwhelmingly cumulative as "The House That Jack Built." What brilliant obscure genius poured it forth in one gust of flame, himself incinerated in a coruscating crater? It is instinct with the fatalist humorous American spirit; yet what anthology registers it? What temple rises to its author?

The Hon. Adam Bede, also known as Jadam, the Venerable Bede, was sketched from life by George Eliot. Famous as a Republican member of congress and its joy from 1903 to 1909, he now lives in health and wealth at Pine Hill, Minn. So far as the Sun knows he is the only living patriot and sage who wears birch bark trousers, although he calls them not "trousers," but a ruder name. Can the Hon. Jadam Bede throw a ray of light upon the entire and perfect chrysolite which the Hon. Benjamin Grubb Humphreys has enchased?

The Value of Leadership.

Chicago News: William Kent, formerly of Chicago, now representative in congress from a California district, has the happy faculty of getting directly at the heart of a question when he begins to discuss it. For example, in a recent article in Harper's Weekly, dealing with the Wilson administration, Mr. Kent writes: "The chief complaint made against Woodrow Wilson is that he is dominating legislation and is acting as a leader. If there is any one thing needed under our system of hampering checks and balances, it is leadership. Our house and senate have been so pitted against each other by the doubts and fears that are evidenced in the Constitution that somewhere there must be efficiency and leadership. If the man who, alone among all elected officials in the nation, owes his election to the entire people and not to any specific district or state—if this man, who alone is free from the pressure of local interests and local demands, cannot afford leadership, then the ship of state is indeed without a pilot."

Mr. Roosevelt as governor of New York and later as president of the United States, Mr. Hughes as governor of New York and Mr. Wilson as governor of New Jersey and now as the nation's chief executive, have won renown because they assumed responsibilities of leadership. Under our system, the chief executive must be a leader if the government is to function in the interest of the people as a whole. If the executive does not lead, the legislative body either flounders in hopeless incompetency, or the reins of power are taken in hand by some irresponsible party boss.

Mr. Wilson is proving himself a great president because he is a great party leader, in the best sense of the term, and also a great popular leader. The country would be in a far worse condition than it is if the president had failed to take the responsibility for leadership which he has assumed with courage and wisdom.

Only a Slight Reduction Desired.

Lippincott's: A surgeon at Johns Hopkins hospital is fond of stories in which the joke is on the doctor. He tells this one:

One patient fancied there was something the matter with his heart. His physician made a cursory examination which disclosed a large swelling in the patient's cardiac region.

"There certainly appears to be an extraordinary swelling right here," said the doctor, tapping with his finger on the patient's side. "We must reduce this at once."

Whereupon a faint smile appeared on the patient's worried countenance. "Oh, Doctor," he exclaimed, "that swelling is my pocketbook. Please don't reduce it too much!"

The Quickest Way.

Pittsburg Chronicle: They had been making hay while the sun shone and when they had finished a high haystack the boy shouted from the top:

"Say, mister, how am I going to get down?"

The farmer considered the problem and finally solved it:

"Oh, jest shet yer eyes an' walk around a bit!"

When Dawn Comes to Christiania

From "Under the Soil," by Knut Hamsun.

A faint, golden, metallic rim appears in the East where the sun is rising. The city is beginning to stir; already can be heard on occasional distance rumble of trucks, rolling into the streets from the country, large farm wagons heavily loaded with supplies for the markets—hay and meat and cordwood. And these wagons make more noise than usual because the pavements are still brittle from nightly frosts. It is the latter part of March.

Everything is quiet around the harbor; here and there a sleepy sailor tumbles out of a forecastle; smoke is rising from the galleys. A skipper puts his head out of a companionway and sniffs toward the weather; the sea stretches in undisturbed calm; all the winches are at rest.

The first wharf gate is thrown open. Through it one catches a glimpse of sacks and cases piled high, of cans and barrels; men with ropes and wheelbarrows are moving around, still half asleep, yawning openly with angular, bearded jaws. And barges are warped in alongside the docks; another army begins the hoisting and stowing of goods, the loading of wagons, and the moving of freight. * * *

The sun climbs higher. Now people begin to swarm in all directions; shrill whistles are heard, now from the factories in the city suburbs, now from the railways and docks; the traffic increases. Busy workers dart hither and thither—some munching their breakfasts from newspaper parcels. A man pushes an enormous load of bundles on a push cart—he is delivering groceries; he strains like a horse and reads addresses from a notebook as he hurries along. A child is distributing morning papers. * * *

Traffic and noise increase and spread; beginning at the factories, the wharves, the shipyards and the sawmills, they mingle with wagon rumblings and human voices; the air is rent by steam whistles whose agonizing wails rise skyward, meeting and blending above the large squares in a booming diapason, a deep throated, throbbing roar that enwraps the entire city. Telegraph messengers dart hither and yon, scattering orders and quotations from distant markets. The powerful and vitalizing chant of commerce booms through the air; the wheat in India, the coffee in Java promise well; the Spanish markets are crying for flesh—enormous quantities of fish during Lent. * * *

The Gold Spoon No Mascot

Brooklyn Eagle: A boy born with a wooden spoon in his mouth must make his own way. Self-dependence is an education in itself. A boy born with a silver spoon in his mouth, assured of early educational advantages, may still be free from the anemia that atrophies ambition. A boy born with a gold spoon in his mouth is most luckless of the three. Only the strongest characters can overcome the obstacles that such a boy must face; only the heritage of a marvelously quick mind and marvelously keen eyes can elude the pitfalls that threaten him everywhere.

We suppose that all fathers will sympathize sincerely with August Belmont, put on the stand as a witness in the suit for separation brought against his son by a woman whom that son married. There is no romance of a rich young man in the story. Romance is an exalted word. Romance contemns counsel fees. It abhors alimony. It laughs at litigation.

With the frankness of a great man of affairs, Mr. Belmont testified as to the provision he had been making for his son. He had allowed him $3,000 a year, and had paid him $75 a month as a clerk, but had stopped both the allowance and the salary when he learned of the marriage. He knew what Raymond Belmont's personal resources were; they did not exceed about $14,000 after overdrafts and other claims had been met, and meant an income of not more than $600 a year. He added, speaking of Raymond: "He has no personal property, no real estate and no prospective interest in anything."

Sympathy is, indeed, Mr. Belmont's due. If we turn to the young man himself, it is impossible to restrain the reflection that his is one of the hundreds of cases where the gold spoon has proved itself the reverse of a mascot. Opportunities have been thrown away. Yet whoever blames Raymond Belmont must do so with some doubt whether fate is not too strong for all of us. "Could I have evaded the gold-spoon hoodoo?" is a very wholesome question in self-examination.

Conscience.

I built a wall, and it took many years,
So strong, so grimly fortified its stony face.
Outside I thrust those things that hindered me
And in my busy life had no abiding place.
Tears, Sympathy and Leniency were first to go;
Then Generosity and Trust, and, lastly, Truth.
I drove them forth with many a lusty blow—
Mortised the last stones tight. I had no ruth.
Unhampered now my gold and fame could grow!

Fast sped my days—faster my coffers filled.
Within the shadow of my wall I plied a thriving trade—
All the long working hours I wove a glittering web.
Not till the dark shut down was I dismayed,
For there remained just one most foolish thing
That would not loose its grip upon my soul.
Each night it waked from sleep with dreadful clamoring
And endless gibings at my puerile goal.
For those without it mourned in constant sorrowing;
Naught could I do to quiet or console.

Thus driven desperate, I razed my wall with travail sore!
Back trooped those pardoning, hopeful things to me once more—
And lo! Upon my threshold stood an angel blotting out a score!
—E. H. Wolff in New York Times.

Nature.

Lippincott's: He was enraptured with the scenery. His fair companion at the country resort sat upon the stone wall beside him.

"Behold that exquisite sunset!" he exclaimed. "Note the delicate flesh-tints, the cream shades, the long dashes of vermilion, and the almost living fire that leaps up from the sinking sun as from a fountain. Behold the framework of darkening skies and of deep green. Isn't it wonderful?"

His fair companion sighed heavily.

"You just bet it is!" she exclaimed. "It looks just like a great big lobster salad!"

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, April 8. — (Special to The Herald.)—Only one man in our midst, so far as can be learned, after a diligent and painstaking inquiry, has ever found the United States Marine band placed as a huge bunker in his path when he tried to niblick his way into congress.

The one man who had to scale or dodge the United States Marine band was, or is, Charles Martin Borchers of Decatur, Ill.

Borchers ran for congress against Former Representative William B. McKinley, who was known during his term in congress as the Human Christmas Tree because of the alacrity with which he showered food and other high-priced gifts on his associates. McKinley felt that if concerts by the United States Marine band would add one whit to the sum total of happiness and joy throughout his district, and increase his chances of re-election one jot or tittle, the least he could do would be to provide the concerts. Being a multi-millionaire and being also the manager of the Taft presidential campaign, he was able to arrange for the band to shift its field of operations from the District of Columbia to Illinois.

Everybody agreed that it was perfectly lovely of Mr. McKinley to let the home folks in on the same music that is played for functions at the White House, but all this was tough on Borchers. His cow was causing him enough handicap, even without the United States Marine band to figure on, and there were days when he feared he wouldn't reach congress at all.

There is no animal that Borchers dotes on as he does a cow. The cow is a patient dumb animal that provides us with milk and cream and butter, and sleeps in stables on nests of straw, while horses and mules are used more as beasts of burden, and from the hen we obtain nice fresh eggs with which we can make eggnogs, custard pies and—

Well, anyway, Borchers was greatly attached to his cow. Up to the time he entered his campaign for congress he had always milked the cow with his own hands, and he took great pride in the fact that none but he had performed that simple yet consequential chore. No matter how important a lawsuit he had engaged his attention all day he liked to go to the barn in the evening and listen to the squsz, squsz, squsz, squsz of the warm milk into the large tin pail.

Imagine the situation. On the one hand was McKinley and the United States Marine band, making it necessary for him to campaign vigorously in all parts of the district, or else be lost sight of amidst so much musical competition. And on the other hand was the milking to be done night and morning.

He finally compromised on making a few quick dashes out over the district, intrusting the milking to his wife, who also was reared on a farm and could milk a cow just as well as Borchers could himself.

And that, by the way, brings us to a touch of romance. Borchers spent his early life as a farmhand and got his education mostly at noon hours while the plow horses were resting and masticating their oats. In the autumn he used to go about from one farm to another and hire out to assist in husking the golden corn. The last place he ever did corn husking was at a farm where there were six attractive young daughters in the family. Borchers was particularly impressed by one of these and he used to follow her about and engage her in conversation while watching the deft manner in which she milked the cows. When the time came for him to be separated from his cow to campaign for congress, Borchers thought of those earlier days, and he felt that his wife was the one person to whom he could intrust the milking.

Since reaching Washington Borchers has had to face another trying situation and has been compelled to change the style of his mustache as a possible solution of his troubles.

He and James Wickersham, delegate to congress from Alaska, are almost exact doubles. Both have—or did have—short little stubby mustaches, a heavy coating of hair and a similar arrangement of facial features. They are exactly the same height and weight, and one can scarcely tell them apart, even though Wickersham is about twelve years the elder. A few weeks ago Wickersham delivered a vigorous speech in support of the proposition for a government railroad in Alaska. The speech made a strong impression, but scarcely a word of congratulation did he receive. Everybody showered the congratulations on Borchers who was unable to get anything done for a day or two, but devote himself to explaining that he is not Wickersham, but Borchers. If he walks along the street, he cannot proceed far until somebody stops him to discuss the situation in Alaska. The Alaskan territory has become such a nuisance to him that he fairly hates the place.

Wickersham similarly wastes a lot of time conveying assurance to people that he is not Borchers.

One day recently the two met to see what could be done in the way of arbitration. Both agreed that, come what may, they will never forsake the high principles that have actuated them thus far in life. So it was no use to talk any farther about either one raising side whiskers. Inasmuch as Wickersham was here first, it was conceded to be no more than fair that Borchers should make most of the facial sacrifices. So Borchers is going to let his mustache grow to two or three times its normal size in the hope that it will end the confusion. If necessary he may let it grow until he has a long drooping circus-proprietor-mustache like that worn by Senator Walsh of Montana.

Wanted to Know.

Savannah Press: Blushing, she hid her face on her father's shoulder.

"He loves me," she breathed.

"Wants to marry you, eh?" the old man grunted.

"Yes, papa."

"What's his income?"

She started.

"I don't know," she murmured, "but the coincidence is very strange."

"What coincidence?" asked her father.

"Clarence," she answered, "asked the very same question about your income."

All in the Bill.

Milwaukee Journal: "I have sent for you," said the man of the house, "because these pipes need looking after. There's a leak somewhere and a lot of gas going to waste."

"No, sir," replied the gas company's inspector, meditatively; "maybe there's a leak, but there ain't any gas going to waste—you'll find it all in the bill."

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

Jingoes Seldom Fight.

Waseca Herald: If the United States is forced into war with Mexico it is the poor men's sons in this country whose lives will be sacrificed. The wealthy manufacturers, mine owners and contractors who will profit by the war, will see that their loved ones are kept far from the scene of battle. Think this over, neighbor.

In Keeping With His Chief.

Detroit Herald: The attendance of Secretary Daniels at the funeral of William Wilkes, for thirty-seven years faithful keeper of the door of the secretary of the navy, which was held in a negro cottage on the afternoon of March 5, is mute testimony to the genuine democracy of one of our nation's greatest officials.

But They're Worried Now.

Cambridge North Star: It is said that the brewers' association holds the key to the political situation in Minnesota. We have heard that few appointments to political situations in this state are made without the consent of these brew-masters.

Oh, No! The Governor Wants His Job.

Roseau Times: While Governor Eberhart's state reform committee is at it, why not work out a plan for a state government under a commission. It is the only solution to a business way of conducting the affairs of the state. The coming legislature may have a majority so far removed from the influence of the railroads and liquor interests as to permit of the calling of a constitutional convention which is badly needed, and such a convention might possibly give the state a progressive and workable common sense constitution.

Rines' Estimate of Gordon.

Mora Times: Sam Y. Gordon, former lieutenant governor, has decided to run for the house. Sam is one of the real big men in Minnesota politics and he will be a power for good in the next legislature, as we feel confident that his district will be glad of the opportunity of having him serve it. He was a progressive when it took courage to advocate progressive policies. He is not the bombastic kind of a progressive but believes in doing things rather than talking about what ought to be done. As presiding officer of the senate he was a power in aiding the passage of good legislation.

Safe Odds.

Cambridge Independent-Press: Last week a gentleman by the name of Johnson (not Scandinavian) filed for the Republican nomination for state treasurer against Walter Smith, the present incumbent. The Johnsons and Smiths have a long list in Minnesota and it remains to be seen what's in a name. Ten to one Smith will be the victor in this contest.

If It Is!

Madison Independent-Press: If the outcome of the present jangle among the Republicans of this state shall be a united party then the present unpleasantness will not have been in vain.

Eastertide

Oh, rare as the splendor of lilies
As sweet as the violet's breath,
Comes the jubilant morning of Easter,
A triumph of life over death;
For fresh from the earth's quickening bosom
Full baskets of flowers we bring,
And scatter their satin-soft petals
To carpet a patch for our king.

In the countless green blades of the meadows,
The sheen of the daffodill's gold,
In the tremulous blue on the mountains,
The opaline mist on the wold,
In the tinkle of brooks through the pasture,
The river's strong sweep to the sea,
Are signs of the day that is hasting
In gladness to you and to me.

So dawn in thy splendor of lilies,
Thy fluttering violet breath,
Oh, jubilant morning of Easter,
Thou triumph of life over death!
For fresh from the earth's quickened bosom,
Full baskets of flowers we bring,
And scatter their satin-soft petals
To carpet a path for our king.

A Patient, Moderate Man.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Ohio challenges the world to produce the most patient man. And, in full confidence that her own first entrant will win all the honors in the contest, Ohio makes known the man and the evidence of his patience.

He is George F. Brown of Canton. He hired out to a farmer in 1889 at $30 a month, has not had a payday since, but has delayed till now suing his employer. Three hundred months at $30 a month equals $9,000, and patient Mr. Brown wants the court to get him that amount.

Think of a payday once in twenty-five years. Think of a "ghost" which refuses to "walk" oftener than once in a quarter century. Think, further, of the supermannish patience of an employe who would wait so long to bring his boss before a jury for an accounting.

The Canton man, one takes it, has a moderate disposition. He has not cared to do anything hasty. He probably liked his position and, rather than embarrass his employer by inconsiderate demands for money, preferred now and then to give him eight or ten years more for meeting the payroll. Even the benign possibilities of arbitration as a peace agency pale into impotency when compared with such monumental patience as this.

Kind Words.

Youth's Companion: It is often told that Eugene Field one day wandered into a basement restaurant, sat down at a table, put his chin in his hands and gazed moodily into space. A waiter came to him and after the manner of his kind enumerated the long list of dishes that were ready to be served.

"No, no," said Field, dejectedly, "I require none of those things. All I want is some sliced oranges and a few kind words."

Whether or not the incident be true, it is suggestive. Unquestionably, deeds weigh far more than words, and yet it is almost tragic to think how much happier and better this struggling world would become if kind words were more often heard. We all, every day, come in contact with those who are in Eugene Field's state of mind. They are in our own homes; mothers and fathers and children. They are behind the counters of stores; they are employes on trains; they are servants in kitchens; they are everywhere, and their name is legion. A word of appreciation would brighten the whole day and would make it easier for them to keep on trying.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

The colonization scheme which has been under way at West Duluth for some time was fully matured last evening at a meeting held in Johnson's hall. F. Bjorge was elected president, L. L. Aune secretary and Gust Bergren treasurer. A proposition from the Associated Railway Land department of Florida was virtually accepted as the most promising opportunity offered the colonists. The terms comprise the gift of a whole township in Manatee county, a few miles from Tampa bay, to be divided into parts of forty acres each. The meeting was attended by about 200 people, 85 of whom, nearly all Scandinavians, agreed to go.

William E. Lee of Long Prairie will be a candidate for representative this fall, and again a candidate for speaker of the house.

Dr. John F. Fulton of St. Paul has been commissioned surgeon general of the Minnesota National Guard to succeed the late Dr. Murphy. He will rank as brigadier general.

John Shea, the popular roadmaster of the Duluth & Iron Range road, will leave in a few days for Binghamton, N. Y., where he will be married on April 18 to Miss Katie Cecil Carroll of that place. She is a niece of Mrs. Theodore Hannon of Two Harbors.

B. F. E. Bauer, well known to the shoe trade of Duluth, left last evening for Rochester, N. Y., from which city he will travel for a leading shoe manufacturer.

H. Thorson of the State bank returned yesterday from California, where he has been visiting for several months.

On April 10 Miss Lucia Judd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Judd, and Dr. James McAuliffe will be married by Bishop Shanley of Fargo, uncle of the bride. Miss May Costello will be bridesmaid and John McAuliffe will be best man. The ushers will be O. C. Hartman, Joseph Engles, C. F. Macdonald and H. C. Huot.

The Cat in Kitty.

Dallas Lore Sharp in Atlantic: Stroke kitty the wrong way and she suits. Yet she sleeps in the kitchen by the fire. What of it! The very lap of her mistress has not counted with the cat in her. The cat in kitty is wild to the tip of her twitchtail. Watch her—if she hasn't already scratched you—as, crouched in the grass, she makes her way toward some unsuspecting bird. A shiver runs through you. You can feel her claws—so tiger-like is she, so wild and savage, so bent on the kill. Or come upon her at dead of night in some empty, dimly lighted alley. She is on the prowl. The light of the narrow, gulch-like street falls on her with a startling largeness and marks her silent shadow on the flags. She moves stealthily out to the corner, and, well within the shadows, stops to glance furtively up and down the open cross street. But the people are all within the shut doors. There is no one for her to devour.

Something New.

Harper's Magazine: The new minister was asked to dine at the home of one of his parishioners, and, of course, responded to the request to say grace. In the little pause which succeeded the "amen" the small daughter of the family exclaimed naively:

"Well, my papa don't know that piece!"

THE SMOKE PROBLEM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of April 6 I notice an article headed, "Will Give Talk on Smoke Prevention," which stated that George S. Conley, fuel inspector for the Northern Pacific Railroad company, would deliver a lecture on smoke prevention before the Duluth city council. I wondered why he had selected the city council to instruct in that subject.

Further along in the article I read that Mr. Conley had been in our city several days, and I immediately concluded that he had been present at Saturday night's fire and observed that the fire engines made more smoke than the conflagration, or possibly he may have spent a few minutes watching that outfit that goes around thawing out sewers. If he missed seeing both those, then he must have wandered down to Michigan street and Second avenue east and been rendered thoughtful at the sight of the atmosphere in vicinity of the smoke inspector's and other officials' headquarters.

Many of us will watch eagerly for the better observance of smoke ordinance by the city's steam operators hereafter, and, no doubt, when the city has found out how to operate its steam engines, steam boilers, steam road rollers and sewer thawers (smokelessly) that the public will sit up and take notice.

Yours for a clearer atmosphere,

J. E. FALARDEAU.

THE LEGION OF THE UNEMPLOYED

To the Editor of The Herald:

Mr. Editor, I have another bee in my bonnet. This time it is a desire to say a few words on the great and growing subject of "the unemployed" that induces me to take up the pen and diffuse a little of my vast (?) sum of knowledge. In looking over The Herald of March 24 I saw an article by Algot Enge entitled "The Unemployed," and I confess that until then I had not noticed the subject on the editorial page of March 21, also called "The Unemployed." So digging back among some papers of different sorts I found the edition of the 21st and read both through carefully. I noted what Mr. Enge said about bringing the man and the job together, by separating the child from the job. I also considered his ideas in the second phase, where he says, "Pass a law—an effective law—against the exploitation of prison labor for the enrichment of private individuals." I wish to say that I agree with what he says in his first idea, but I don't know enough on the subject of prison-made goods to express myself in full on this point, though it does look reasonable on the face of it. I believe most of the readers will agree with me that, from the language and ideas of Mr. Enge, they would judge he was a Socialist. That is no disgrace. I admire many of the Socialist ideas myself, and I sometimes fear that I may become a full-fledged member if this poverty, crime and misery keeps on as they are in many places—(shall I say the most of places?) There are things about the Socialist doctrine that I don't like; yes, there are two or three points about it that I consider foolish, almost crazy, but I haven't got the time nor inclination just now to tell what they are, nor to argue it out. But now to return to the editorial of the 21st. The editor says that "one good thing at least will flow out of" all this noise about the unemployed. This is, that more thought for the luckless lot of the man out of a job is being taken than ever before. And it may be that something tangible will come of it—something practically and constructively helpful. Let us hope so—and also work for it. The Good Book tells us that "Faith without works is dead." Farther on the editor tells us that "There are many jobless men in the country, even when prosperity is at the full of its tide; even when, at many points, grain rots in the fields or needed work goes undone for lack of help." Next the editor says, "This is so because there is no organized plan for getting the man and job together."

I would not attempt to say that I know more than the editor on this subject, but there are many things that need explaining, considering, turning it about, and viewing it from different angles. And this reminds me of something, but before I go straight to that "something" I'll put in a few words on the other side, as it were. A few days ago I was talking to one of my neighbors about the idle and out of work, when he quickly came back with the remark, "You know, George, there are men who won't work." I answered, "You're right, there are, but etc." Then I went and got a copy of Appeal to Reason, No. 953, and read a small item to him entitled, "What a Social Worker Thinks." Here it is: "Ten per cent are hopeless wrecks. Another 10 per cent are booze victims, drug victims, vice victims—pretty far gone—too far to be able to brace up without steady and patient help. But 80 per cent have simply lost their nerve because of the haunting uncertainty of employment. They are men who would make good if they could get steady jobs at fair wages and with fair treatment." Then my neighbor said, "Yes, there's a lot to that 'fair treatment.'" Which brings me back to a reminder of that "something,"—and this is it: When a laboring man applies for a job—no, I mean when he tackles his job—after he has got it, (I don't claim to know exactly how many times in a hundred, but I'd place it at eighty-five anyhow)—he is expected to do just as much the first day as he did on the fifth or the tenth day—and his muscles are not used to it. Once in a while a good-hearted boss will go easy on a man till he gets a little hardened in or limbered up, as the case may be. I have known of two or three section bosses when they received a new hand, also a man who had just returned from a "spree" and felt like a physical wreck for the time being, to plainly remind him to "take it a little easy for today—I know how you feel." Right here I realize, like Savoyard, that I've been "drifting away"—so let's return to that editorial. The editor says—away down toward the last—"Therefore some system of labor distribution is needed. To be helpful, it must be national in its scope. To be permanent and effective, it must be governmental." Um! Hold on! I guess I'll let go of that. I don't believe the digestive apparatus in my mind is strong enough to handle that yet. But for all that, it may be that The Herald is right. And time and trial may yet prove the wisdom in the words that sums the matter up, to wit: "To be permanent and effective it must be governmental." That doesn't sound very good when we consider the stacks of millionaires in this country, does it? Some of those swell-headed, big-bellied, walking money-bags, who are possessed of such a low, mean nature that they would like to make either prosperity or a panic just for the satisfaction there is in it, should read and consider Gen. iv., 9-10—"And the Lord said unto Cain, Where is Abel, thy brother? And he said, I know not; am I my brother's keeper? 10. And He said, What hast thou done? The voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground." The rich men of this country have been sowing greed, pride, haughtiness, cruelty and carelessness. And they are reaping antagonism, brute force, distrust, strikes, Socialism, union labor, loss of confidence, hatred, bombs and dynamite. "Be not deceived—God is not mocked. For whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

Thanking you for the space, if it is satisfactory to be printed, and promising to try and abstain from such long harangues in the future, I remain, a being of sympathy for the poor.

GEORGE W. McKAY.

"Yes, daughter, that's FINE for SPRAINS"

You've only put it on twice, and the pain's all gone, and my arm's 'bout as well as ever. I sure never saw anything so quick as Sloan's."

So say thousands of others who have used Sloan's Liniment for many years for burns, scalds, cuts and sprains.

Helped Her Knee

Mrs. T. E. Williams, of Chicago, Ill., writes: "This winter I sprained my knee, and a friend recommended Sloan's Liniment. I used it and it did me lots of good."

A Quick Improvement

Mr. L. Roland Bishop, of Scranton, Pa., writes: "As I was leaving my office for lunch, I slipped and fell, spraining my wrist, and at four o'clock could not hold a pencil in my hand. At five o'clock I purchased a bottle of your Liniment, used it five or six times before I went to bed, and the next day I was able to use my hand as usual."

Best for Sprained Wrist

Miss H. S. Spokesfield, of Linwood, Mass., writes: "The other day I called on my neighbor, a beautiful old lady 75 years old, who had fallen upstairs and sprained her wrist. I asked her what she was doing for it, and she said she was using Sloan's—the best liniment there is."

Rheumatic Throat Is Common Trouble

Should Be Treated in Blood To Prevent Recurrence.

There are successful gargles that stop soreness in the throat, but to prevent their incessant return, the blood must be put in order. The best remedy is S. S. S., as it influences all the functions of the body to neutralize the irritants or waste products and to stimulate their excretion through the proper channels.

Rheumatic sore throat is a dangerous indication, as it means that the blood is loaded with more uric acid than the kidneys can excrete, and may thus lead to serious general disturbance.

The action of S. S. S. stimulates cellular activity. It prevents the accumulation of irritants in local spots. It enables the arteries to supply quickly the new red blood to replace worn-out tissue.

For this reason uric acid that finds the throat an easy prey to its breaking-down influence, is scattered and eliminated. In other words, S. S. S. prevents chronic conditions by enabling all the mucous linings of the body to secrete healthy mucus. Its influence is shown in a marked improvement of the bronchial tubes, whereby the huskiness of voice with thick, grayish expectorations is overcome. S. S. S., well diluted with water, means a blood bath, since it is welcome to any stomach and at once gets into the blood.

S. S. S. is free of all minerals and contains ingredients wonderfully conducive to well-balanced health.

You can get it at any drug store, but do not accept anything else. There is danger in substitutes. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 528 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Our Medical Dept. will give you free instruction by mail on any subject of blood disorders. Write today.

PASTOR ONLY ADMONISHED

Dr. Price Convicted of "Imprudent and Unministerial Conduct."

New York, April 8.—"Guilty of imprudent and unministerial conduct," was the verdict of the court of the New York conference of the Methodist Episcopal church against Rev. Dr. Jacob E. Price, pastor of the Washington Heights church, defendant on charges made by women members of his congregation.

Two other specifications, one accusing Dr. Price of "immorality in conduct in violation of the moral law" and the other of "indulgence of sinful tempers and words," were not sustained.

It was the judgment of the select committee which reported to the conference that Dr. Price "should be, and hereby is, admonished" as a result of his conviction on the first specification.

Bishop Luther B. Wilson, presiding at the conference, directed the conference to receive the findings of the committee without any expression of approval or disapproval. The committee's report accordingly was received in silence.

The court did not find Dr. Price guilty of acts sufficiently flagrant to demand a change of pastorate, for in the list of charges for the ensuing year, as read by Bishop Wilson, Dr. Price retains his Washington Heights pulpit.

HEAVY SNOW FALLS ON APPLE BLOSSOMS.

Roswell, N. M., April 8.—With 3,000 acres of apple orchards in full bloom, a heavy snow storm fell here last night, doing great damage to the crop. The snow storm followed an all-day rain.

HEATLESS LIGHT SOON, HE CLAIMS.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 8.—Prof. W. D. Bancroft of Cornell announced the discovery of a light known as the "electric firefly," in an address at the convention of the American Chemical association here yesterday. This light resembles the phosphorescent glow of a firefly, but is not yet commercially available. Prof. Bancroft made the announcement of his discovery in a paper in which he declared that light without heat is a near possibility.

SCORES MADE BY DAIRYMEN

Milk Inspector Makes Public Records for the First Quarter.

Only Two Above 90 Mark—Spring Cleaning in Progress.

But two Duluth dairymen scored 90 per cent or better in the quarterly scoring which has been completed by Milk Inspector Gust Hedman. J. U. Sebenius was given a mark of 94.9 per cent and Anton Moe was next with 90.3.

Several went below 70 per cent, but the majority were between 70 and 90 per cent.

The milk inspector explains that this is the most unfavorable time of the year for the dairymen, which accounts for the falling off from the previous scorings. The cows have been in the barn all winter, and it has been difficult to keep the stables in the best condition. The milk inspector is confident that the next quarterly scoring will show a material improvement.

The system used in rating the dairies is that followed by the Federal government. It takes into consideration all conditions of the dairy, such as light, ventilation, equipment and sanitation. The report also shows the number of cows in each herd, the quality of milk furnished daily by each dairyman, the average butter fat and the average or last bacteria count.

Housewives can ascertain the ratings of their dairymen from the following table:

WANT ALL WESTERN RATES READJUSTED.

Denver, Colo., April 8.—At a conference here of traffic commissioners of eleven Western cities, it was decided that a petition should be filed within ninety days before the interstate commerce commission for a general readjustment of transportation rates for trans-Missouri territory, provided a compromise is not reached between the carriers and the interested communities within that period.

It was also decided to call a second conference in Denver as soon as practicable and that communities affected be urged to send delegates. A conference also is to be held with representatives of the railroad within the ninety-day period, but no definite date was set.

The meeting was held under the direction of a special rate committee of the Denver chamber of commerce, and was the result of many months' fight for lower rates in the Western territories.

SERIOUS CATARRH YIELDS TO HYOMEI

Be wise in time and use the Hyomei inhaler at the first symptom of catarrh, such as frequent head colds, constant sniffling, raising of mucus, or droppings in the throat. Do not let the disease become deep-seated and you are in danger of a serious if not fatal ailment.

There is no other treatment for catarrh, head colds, husky voice or bronchitis, like the Hyomei method, none just as good, so easy and pleasant to use, or that gives such quick, sure and lasting relief. You breathe it—no stomach dosing. Boyce drug store sells it with agreement to refund your money if you are not benefited.

Try Hyomei at once and see how quickly it clears the head, stops the sniffling, and banishes catarrh. Hyomei will help you to enjoy good health. All druggists sell it. Ask for the complete outfit—$1.00 size.

Will Be in Charge of Construction of Fond du Lac Bridge.

County Board Authorizes Structure Which Will Cost $35,000.

Thomas F. McGilvray of the Duluth Engineering company, former city engineer, was appointed by the board of county commissioners yesterday afternoon to take charge of the construction of the proposed wagon and foot bridge across the St. Louis river at Fond du Lac, which will give Duluth and St. Louis county a direct highway into Carlton county and through to the Twin Cities.

The board selected a special engineer for the work owing to the fact that E. K. Coe, county road and bridge engineer, would be unable to devote as much of his time to it as the board would like, on account of a number of other projects which he is now handling.

The commissioners, as had been expected, passed the resolution offered by Commissioner Kauppi authorizing the construction of the bridge which will cost $35,000 exclusive of engineering expenses. The board directed Charles E. Adams, its attorney, to get into touch with the war department so that the necessary permission might be secured for building the structure across the interstate stream.

The construction of the bridge will be begun at the earliest possible moment.

Road contracts in the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh commissioners' districts were let by the board yesterday afternoon as follows:

Sixth district—Alex Maki, 2½ miles of the Young road from Vermilion road to south quarter corner of section 3, 56-14, $1,045 per mile; Matti Harris, two wooden bridges over Mudhen river on the Farmers' road, $510.

Seventh district—Fred Gustafson, one mile of the Gustafson road $2.75 per rod; Matt Perala, one mile of Goodwill road on south line of section 31, 61-19, $2.65 per rod; Thomas Bowen, one mile Greaney road on east line section 16, 62-21, $900.

The board made the following appropriations for improvements of roads in the Second district: McQuade road, $1,000; Riley road, $500; East Duluth and Lester River road, $500; Howard and Gnesen road, $500; North Shore road, $1,000; Stiff Line road, $1,000; West Knife road, $800; Flynn road, $400; Ryan road, $600; Tischer road, $2,500; Normanna road, $500; Vermilion road, $4,400; Lismore road, $500; Howard and Gnesen road in city limits, $3,000; Calvary road, $1,000; Rice Lake and Vermilion roads, $1,500; Norton road, $500.

A communication was received by the board from the state board of control recommending that the interior of the county jail building be painted at once. The matter was referred to the jail committee of the board.

IS CONTRACT RELATION.

Members of Polish Church Association Must Abide By Its Laws.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 8.—Roman Kowalkoski and Harry Olzewski lost their suit to be reinstated as officers of the Central administration of the Polish Association of America before Judge Grimm, the judge deciding yesterday that the association did right in refusing to permit them to serve. They had been dismissed by the Rev. Bolesaus Goral, spiritual adviser of the association.

"If the church exercises autocratic power in condemning certain things and restraining others without just cause, the answer is that Kowalkowaski and Olzewski voluntarily subordinated their rights to the obedience of such power when they became members," the court said.

Judge Grimm held that the relation between the association and its members was a contract relation and in becoming members they contracted to abide by its laws.

Earlier the association had indorsed a pastoral letter written by Archbishop S. G. Messmer forbidding the Catholics among others, to join the American Federation of Polish Catholic laymen. Nevertheless the plaintiffs participated in a convention of the federation as delegates, and for this they were dismissed from the association.

MAMMA, DADDY AND CHILDREN ALL LOVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Harmless "Fruit Laxative" Cleanses Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

A delicious cure for constipation, biliousness, sick headache, sour stomach, indigestion, coated tongue, sallowness—take "California Syrup of Figs." For the cause of all this distress lies in a torpid liver and sluggish bowels.

A tablespoonful to-night means all constipation, poison, waste matter, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved out of your system by morning without griping. Please don't think of "California Syrup of Figs" as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself or your children, because this delicious fruit laxative can not cause injury. Even a delicate child can take it as safely as a robust man. It is the most harmless, effective stomach, liver and bowel regulator and tonic ever devised.

Your only difficulty may be in getting the genuine; so ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs." Say to your druggist, "I want only that made by the 'California Fig Syrup Company.'" This city has many counterfeit "fig syrups," so watch out.

WOULD ANNUL MORTGAGE.

Trustee Sues in Behalf of Screen Company Creditors.

R. W. Higgins, trustee in bankruptcy for the Minnesota Screen company, on behalf of its creditors, yesterday started suit in district court in which it is sought to have annulled a mortgage on certain property given by August de Noble and other officers and directors of the company on April 1, 1913.

It is alleged that at the time the mortgage was executed, the officers of the company knew of the company's insolvency. The company is a Virginia corporation, which was organized on Jan. 24, 1910, with a capital stock of $50,000. The incorporators are August de Noble, Millard Matheson and Edward Curtis.

DRIVE LAST SPIKE IN CANADIAN RAILWAY.

Vancouver, B. C., April 8.—The last spike on the Grand Trunk Pacific transcontinental railway was driven at noon yesterday near the Nechaco river at Fort Frazer, B. C., 220 miles east of Prince Rupert.

Monday night the track-laying gang on the east and west ends of construction left a half-mile gap, and yesterday morning two crews raced for the middle. President Chamberlain was not present, but five special cars from Edmonton, with railway officials and guests, were at the scene. Moving pictures were taken of the track-laying race. Chairman Smithers will drive the golden spike in August, when the line really will be finished.

The Grand Trunk main line now stretches from Portland, Maine, to Prince Rupert, B. C. A line of steamers gives Prince Rupert connection with Vancouver and Puget Sound. A branch south from Fort George, B. C., now under construction, will permit the operation of trains to Vancouver.

PARIS IS BEING STIRRED BY FOUR NEW MOVEMENTS

Organized Forces to Combat Rats, Immoral Clothes, Freak Art and Undeveloped Physique.

Paris, April 8.—Paris is being stirred by four new movements. Rats, immoral clothes, freak art and undeveloped physique are all to be combatted by organized forces.

While the League of Patriotic French Women has taken up the gage against indecent clothes, a reaction has also come to the great vogue of cubism, post-impressionism, futurism and other advanced esthetic art schools. A group of artists who hold ultra-academical principles has been formed. They declare they have felt neglected, and they have decided at last to make themselves heard. A new salon is to be formed, for even the present official salons show tendencies towards the new heterodox school.

Some prominent artists are behind the movement, which is likely to constitute a strong revolt against revolutionary art. The majority of critics, while by no means accepting all the claims of the cubists and futurtsts, freely admit that they have let air and light into the dry places of art, and that exhibitions from which they are excluded seem dull and tame. In spite of their extravagances, they have succeeded in being accepted as serious pioneers. The attitude of the general public is interrogatory, if not respectful; there is little tendency to condemn off-hand, and that it is a clear gain to the innovators.

Athletic Renaissance.

Some of the most prominent men in France have come to the support of an athletic renaissance. A national league, to aid in the development of physical education, has just been founded, with the patronage of such men as Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the International Olympic committee; Hebrard de Villeneuve, counselor of state and president of the Academy of Sports, and Maurice Donnay of the French academy.

At the head of the committee which will direct the movement is the marquis de Polignac.

A propaganda in favor of physical education will be carried out in several ways. Lectures and practical demonstrations will be given. The cinematograph will be utilized to show the various stages of development of athletics by leaders in this branch of sports. The league will give its aid to such organizations as wish to become allied with it, and will do everything possible to put the country in a leading position in athletics.

Paris has also begun a war of extermination of rats. It is estimated that no less than 3,000,000 rodents infest the city. The central market and the stockyards are overrun by the pest.

Cotton Raising in Morocco.

France might easily declare her independence in the cotton growing industry and cease the yearly "tribute" of $50,000,000 for imported cotton, chiefly from the United States, according to Laurent Bonnevay, who led a recent debate on the Moroccan budget in the chamber of deputies.

He declared that if France developed the cotton lands of Northwest Africa it could produce all the cotton needed for French requirements, and export to other manufacturing countries.

M. Bonnevay gave the results of an inquiry made by M. Lamba, an agricultural expert who studied the cotton growing possibilities of Tunis, Algeria and Morocco. M. Lamba found that cotton of an inferior quality was already grown in some sections of these countries, and he was convinced that cotton culture could be made as remunerative there as in Egypt, which now grows 1,500,000 bales.

M. Bonnevay said the French consular agent at El-Kaa had imported Egyptian cotton plants and obtained excellent results. Several French officers interested in the agricultural development of Morocco had also experimented with cotton culture at outlying French coasts with great success. M. Bonnevay had no doubt that cotton would become the most valuable export of Morocco.

McKinley Gets $96.
In district court before Judge Dancer yesterday afternoon a jury brought in a verdict for $96 against D. H. Clough & Co., contractors, and their bondsmen, the National Surety company, and in favor of Robert C. McKinley. McKinley sued for gravel taken from his premises in section 19, 50-14, which was used by the contractors in the construction of a city reservoir. McKinley sued for $1,200.

Easter Week Services.
Special Easter week services will be held at the First Presbyterian church tonight and Thursday and Friday evenings. Dr. Yost, the pastor, will be in charge. His subject tonight will be "The Things Christ Refused." The services will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

We Will Bond You,
Pulford, How & Co., 609 Alworth building.

Commissioners Hear Lecture.
The members of the city council and several city officials attended a lecture given this morning in the fuel car of the Northern Pacific railroad by George T. Conley, fuel inspector. The car was run to a track opposite the rear of the city hall for the convenience of the officials. Mr. Conley gave an interesting talk upon the elements of combustion, demonstrating his points with laboratory equipment as he proceeded. The car was filled with employes of the road and several citizens interested in the smoke prevention attended.

Must Return to Farm.
William McLaughlin, 39 years old, who escaped from the police court several weeks ago after he had been sentenced to serve sixty days on the work farm for being drunk a third time, was arrested this morning. He will be committed on the original sentence.

Sholund Case Waits.
City Prosecutor Gurnee returned this morning from St. Paul, where he went Monday to represent the city of Duluth in the Charles Sholund saloon license case. Mr. Gurnee said this morning that the return of the writ of certiorari, set for yesterday, has been continued until April 28.

Suspect Is Discharged.
John Fountaine, 19 years old, who was arrested this morning by Capt. Fiskett on a charge of attempted larceny, was discharged following a trial in police court. Fountaine was accused by Charles Stubstad of the McKay hotel of having attempted to steal $5 from his clothes. Fountaine denied the charge when arraigned and the case was later dismissed by Judge Cutting.

Will Meet With School Board.
Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, will meet with the school board tomorrow to discuss the handling of contagious diseases as they affect the schools. Dr. Webster wishes to have all suspicious cases promptly investigated in order that the spread of contagious diseases through the pupils may be prevented.

Elephant Tag on Each Orange is a guarantee of the highest quality.

Original Sentence Imposed.
Because Arthur Sheehan, 24 years old, who was last year placed on parole following his conviction on a charge of larceny, failed to report to Probation Officer Hicks, he was yesterday afternoon arrested for violating his parole. He pleaded guilty and the original fine of $50 and costs or sixty days was imposed. Sheehan is also wanted by the Superior authorities on a charge of voting illegally at the last primary election.

Faces Larceny Charge.
Leonard Borgen, 24 years old, was arrested last night as a suspect of larceny. He is accused by police of having stolen several kodaks from the Penny Arcade store. The police are now investigating the case and Borgen is being held at headquarters in the meantime.

Drink Ends His Parole.
Louis Sandstrom, 43 years old, who was recently placed on parole following his conviction on a charge of drunkenness, was last evening arrested for violating the parole. He was found in a drunken condition by Patrolman Gamache. This morning Sandstrom pleaded guilty and he was fined $40 and costs or thirty days on the work farm.

Studying Social Centers.
E. Dudley Parsons, an instructor in one of the Minneapolis high schools, is in Duluth investigating social center activities. Miss Marguerite Culkin, local social center director, told him of what is being done and he was greatly interested in what has been accomplished. Minneapolis has no social center, but the administration is contemplating entering that field.

Will Repair Incinerator.
A representative of the Decaire Manufacturing company of Minneapolis, which built the incinerator, is in the city today making a careful examination of the plant. The incinerator is in need of extensive repairs, the estimated cost being $600 to $700. Before making that expenditure the officials wished to be sure that the best results would be secured and at the request of Commissioner Hicken and Health Director Webster, the company sent a man here to look over the plant. The incinerator has been in operation for a number of years and is without recent improvements, some of which may be recommended.

McDonald on Range.
Brown McDonald, local immigration inspector, is on the range this week. He will return within a day or two.

Civil Cases Go Over.
No civil cases will be heard in municipal court on Good Friday. A short session of police court will be held in the morning.

Morris in Twin Cities.
The calendar in the Minneapolis Federal court is so large that Judge Page Morris, who went there last Friday, will be compelled to remain in the Twin Cities for the remainder of the month. He had planned to return to Duluth this week, but he writes that he will be unable to conduct court here for at least two weeks.

Partners in Dispute.
A dispute over a partnership business is being aired before a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court today where the lawsuit brought by Austin J. Meagher against Joseph G. Fogarty is on trial. Meagher and Fogarty back in 1909 formed a partnership known as the Floodwood Land company. Meagher claims that in 1912 they dissolved partnership and Fogarty took over the business, agreeing to pay him $1,250 for his interest. He alleges that Fogarty still owes him $967.83 on this account.

Juror Called to Funeral.
No decision in the personal injury case of Miss Florence Watson against the city of Duluth will be given until Monday although all the evidence will probably be in this afternoon. A. M. Vinji, 1111 East Sixth street, Duluth, one of the jurors, received notice today of the death of his father-in-law in Superior and he will be given a leave of absence until after the funeral. It is not expected that he will return in time to help draw up a verdict before Monday.

Force Funeral Friday.
The funeral of Edwin Butler Force, who died yesterday afternoon at St. Luke's hospital, will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from Memorial hall. It will be in charge of Culver post, G. R.A., of which he was a member. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

Lost Child Found.
Wandering away from her home at 931 Seventh avenue east shortly after noon today, 4-year-old Rose Howard was found by a pedestrian near police headquarters. He brought the child into the station, where she was later claimed by her mother.

Will Inspect Uniforms.
The Duluth Police association will hold the spring inspection of uniforms this afternoon at its regular meeting to be held in the assembly room at headquarters. All the officers who go on duty this evening will be inspected.

Parents File Petition.
Louis and Carola Peverievi of Pergola, Italy, parents of Paul Peverievi, aged 24, who was killed in a cave-in at the Lincoln mine near Virginia on Jan. 23 last, today filed with the clerk of the probate court a petition asking that letters of administration on the estate of their son be granted to Domenico Ripante of Virginia. Peverievi's estate consists of a cause of action for alleged wrongful death against the young miner's employers. Besides his parents, Peverievi left five sisters.

Is Seriously Ill.

ANOTHER SINGER OF NOTE AT NEW ST. LOUIS HOTEL.

Few sweeter tenor voices have ever been heard in this city than that possessed by Frank Nowak, who is now appearing at the New St. Louis hotel. Miss Hazel Gilso, violinist; Miss Clara Wolfe, contralto soloist, and Art Buemer, the king of rag time pianists, are three other stars who will also be there for a few days giving concerts every evening in the beautiful Woodland cafe from 8 to 11, and on Easter Sunday a special prepared musical program will be rendered from 12 to 2 and 6 to 8 during which hours dinner will be served arranged by George W. Lawrence, the celebrated steward, who was formerly connected with the Northern Pacific railroad.

VAIL AND OTHERS QUIT WESTERN UNION

New York, April 8.—Pursuant to the agreement with the department of justice disintegrating the Western Union Telegraph company and the American Telephone & Telegraph company, directors of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, who likewise were directors of the Western Union, resigned from the Western Union board today. Those who resigned are Edward B. Jeffery, Charles Lanier, Lewis Cass Ledyard, John J. Mitchell, Harry B. Thayer, Theodore N. Vail, John I. Waterbury and Robert Winsor.

The other directors were re-elected and the following were added to the board: William H. Baker, Henry W. Deforrest, William Fahnestock, Percy A. Rockefeller, Mortimer L. Schiff and William H. Truesdale.

A meeting of the new board has been called for April 15, when it is said Newcomb Carlton will be elected president.

MINNEAPOLIS GAS RATE ROW SETTLED

Compromise Is Reached Between the City and Company.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minneapolis gas rate controversy was compromised today by Daniel Fisk, city attorney; J. O. P. Wheelwright and W. A. Lancaster, attorneys for the gas company.

According to this settlement the 70-cent rate is allowed to stand from last November to April 1. For twenty-one months, beginning April 1, the rate will be 80 cents. For the next thirty-four months 77 cents will be charged. Reduction from 18 to 15-candle power is permitted.

The agreement covers five years, and the average price of gas for that time will be 77.46 cents per 1,000 feet.

GRAIN MEN WILL FIGHT TOGETHER

Meeting of Exchange Members Is Called for Thursday.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—While the farmers of the Northwest are holding daily meetings and telling how they will stand by the co-operative marketing movement, the grain exchanges which have fought the farmers' movement are preparing a little backfire.

A call for a meeting of the members of the grain exchanges of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis and Duluth has been issued by G. W. Wells, secretary of the Western Grain Dealers' association. The meeting is to be held at the Montrose hotel, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Thursday. It is announced that at the meeting the question of trading in futures will be discussed, along with certain proposed changes in rules. Secretary J. G. McHugh of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, leader of the fight on the farmers' exchange, has issued personal notices urging members to attend.

It is believed that the meeting is called for the purpose of frustrating the plans of the Equity exchange by changing rules that have been objected to by farmers.

MERCURY LOW IN THE SOUTHWEST.

Kansas City, Mo., April 8.—The lowest temperatures ever recorded so late in April were registered over most of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, and in North Texas today, and the local officers of the United States weather bureau predicted temperatures several degrees lower throughout that territory tonight.

Kansas temperatures reported here ranged from 11 deg. above zero at Hays in the western part of the state to 24 deg. at Topeka and other points in the eastern part. The temperature here was 26 deg., which breaks the local bureau records of twenty-five years' standing.

WOULD INVESTIGATE RESERVE BANK WORK.

Washington, April 8.—The first move to investigate the selection of the twelve regional reserve cities of the banking system was made in the senate today when Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, introduced a resolution calling upon the organization committee for all its data and the reasons upon which it based its conclusions selecting the reserve districts. Under objection by Senator Swanson, Democrat, it went over until tomorrow.

WILL OPEN NEXT WEEK

Trout Fishing Season in Northern Minnesota Is Drawing Near.

Streams in This District Restocked and Promise Good Sport.

The fever is in the air. What fever? 'Tis evident that he who asks that question is no disciple of Isaak Walton.

For if he were, he would know that April 15 comes next week. He'd be fully aware of the fact that it's only a week from today. Ordinarily a week is but a short time, but when one has been waiting weeks and weeks for the last week to expire, that last week has minutes which seem like eternities.

April 15 is the day on which the trout fishing season opens. To the true followers of the sport the day is of more significance than the inauguration of a president or the coronation of a king. It is fully as important as a birthday, marking the introduction of another season's enjoyment, greater than which there is none for the real fisherman.

The fever is in the air, all right. Just size up your fisherman friend. You've maybe been wondering what has been ailing him, he's been so fidgety and worried looking. But you forgot that he was the same way last year and that it is the same old trouble, the same old fever which gets him this time o' year as regularly as the season rolls around.

Weeks ago he got out his pole and his lines and his creel and his flies and his reel, fondly caressing them and living over again in memory never-to-be-forgotten days of the past. His outfit is spick and span and ready for action. He is only waiting for the day to come around when he can don the old togs, with the old corncob tucked away in a handy pocket, and hie himself away to the banks of his favorite stream.

Is Only Remedy.

It's the only remedy for the fever which has him in its grip. There is no other cure, but the victims are the most willing patients in the world.

Nor do they feel that it is a day lost if they come back without a full day's catch, or no catch at all. The spirit is that of the fisherman who returned to the pool which furnished him great sport when he was a kid. He had a real outfit on the occasion of the visit in question and he got all the pleasure possible in making his preparations. After sitting on the bank for a while with his line in the water a native chanced to come along. "You're wasting your time trying to get any fish out of this stream; it was cleaned out years ago," was the cheerful news which he vouchsafed. What did you want to tell me that for," answered the fisherman. "You've gone and spoiled a whole day's enjoyment for me."

The prospects for a good season were never better. For the last two or three years the state game and fish commission has been restocking the streams in this part of the state. Millions of fry have been planted and a considerable percentage of these have now grown past the legal limit of six inches. There is fair trout fishing in some of the streams which flow through the city and there are scores of others within a short distance. These will receive attention from those who can spare but a day in pursuit of the speckled beauties. The more fortunate who can get several days or a week will seek those further away, where the fishing is better because fewer people are able to get there. A little later the season will open for black bass and the wall-eyed pike, and then the fisherman's cup of content will be filled to overflowing.

U. S. LOSES TRUST CASE

Federal Court Dismisses Suit Against D. L. & W. Railroad.

Holds There Is No Statutory Bar to Alleged Trust.

Trenton, N. J., April 8.—The United States court has filed an opinion here dismissing the suit of the United States government against the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal company for alleged violation of the commodity clause and the Sherman anti-trust law. The court holds that there is no United States law or decision prohibiting the same set of individuals holding stock in two distinct corporations, even though they may be engaged in kindred business.

The decision was handed down here by Judges Gray, Buffington and McPherson of the Third judicial circuit. The action was brought in the Federal court here, but through a certificate of expedition filed by Attorney General McReynolds, was heard by the judges of the court of appeals at Philadelphia in January.

Was Aimed at Coal Trust.

The case is considered of the highest importance by the government, as it is one of the steps planned by the department of justice in its efforts to break up what it alleges to be a monopoly of the anthracite coal trade. The case, which was brought under both the Sherman anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the Hepburn railroad law, in all probability will go direct to the supreme court of the United States.

A somewhat similar suit recently was instituted against the Lehigh railroad and its subsidiaries in the Federal court in New York, and another government action against the Reading to separate it against the Jersey Central railroad and other interests, is in the United States court in Philadelphia.

Government Will Appeal.

Washington, April 8.—Steps will be taken immediately by the department of justice to appeal to the supreme court from the decision of the court of appeals in the case against the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company. Attorney General McReynolds said he hoped to be able to have the case up for argument during the fall term.

CUT CANADA FREIGHT RATE

The Railway Commissioners Also Establish New Rate Zones.

Special Distributing Tariffs Sanctioned—Grain and Flour Cut.

Ottawa, Ont., April 8.—Substantial reductions in freight rates are made in a decision by the railway commission, which at the same time provides for new rate zones and standardization of tariffs.

All Canada west of the Great Lakes is divided into three zones. The first of them extends from the lakes to the mountains and is to be known as the Prairie section. The Pacific section includes British Columbia, while the zone to be known as British Columbia Lakes section applies to the navigable waters in that province.

For each of these sections a standard of maximum rates has been set. What is at present known as the Manitoba standard has been extended to fix all rates in Prairie and British Columbia Lakes sections, abolishing the higher rates now charged in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

While the Pacific section rates will be somewhat higher than those of Prairie and British Columbia Lakes zones, they will nevertheless be lower than the maximums now in force in Saswkatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, the provinces included in this section.

Special Distributing Rates.

Sanction is given to special distributing freight tariffs and of these Canada's large commercial and industrial centers would be the beneficiaries. Under them a reduction of 15 per cent of the Prairie standard tariff may be made. Through rates from Eastern to Western Canada will be based on the tariffs which apply to shipments West from Port Arthur and Fort William.

The reduction in freight rates will amount to from 5 to 30 per cent on nearly all classes of goods on all railways operating from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast, and will go into effect on Sept. 1 of this year.

Local grain and flour rates are substantially reduced by two methods, first, by a direct reduction ranging from 20 to 30 per cent, and secondly, by making the terminal Fort William rates the maximum that may be charged between intermediate stations.

Flour and Grain Products.

The west bound rates on flour and other grain products are similarly reduced. This is an indorsement of the complaint of the United Farmers of Alberta, and the application of the Winnipeg board of trade.

The United Farmers of Alberta also win out in their application for reduced rates on these products to British Columbia stations.

Substantial cuts in coal rates from the Alberta mines are also made.

The special mileage rates on butter, cheese and eggs, pressed meats and dressed poultry between all Prairie points came in for reductions, as did also the special rates on fruits and vegetables from British Columbia. The rates on sugar from Vancouver were not changed.

No reduction was made in livestock rates, and the present rates of ores, concentrates, and smelter products were retained. The rate on pig iron from Port Arthur and Fort William to Winnipeg, was reduced from 20 cents per 100 pounds to $3 per gross ton.

The board found that the passenger business is at present being conducted at a loss and felt not justified in directing a change until afforded an opportunity of seeing what improvement in passenger revenues will result from improvements in operating facilities now under way.

TEMPLARS WILL OBSERVE EASTER

Masonic Soldiery Will Hold Services Sunday Afternoon at Temple.

Duluth commandery, No. 18, Knights Templar, will, according to custom, celebrate the resurrection of Christ at the Masonic temple next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Sir Knight Thomas W. MacLean, D. D., vicar of Trinity procathedral. This service is obligatory with all Knights Templar and is religiously followed at each Easter. The Templars are directed to appear in uniform, but without swords.

Just prior to the services of the Templars the Scottish Rite Masons will conduct the ceremony of relighting the lights, which will be extinguished at the close of the Maundy Thursday banquet at the temple on Thursday evening.

WOULD UNMASK SHIPPING TRUST.

Washington, April 8.—"Its purpose is to unmask the shipping trust," said Representative Henry, Democrat, of Texas, in explaining a resolution he introduced to authorize an investigation of steamship transportation of freight between the Atlantic and Pacific ports and in the coastwise trade.

Joint ownership, common control, holding companies, interlocking stock and directors and other officers and rates would be investigated.

Mr. Henry said the information would be valuable in connection with the senate's consideration of the Panama tolls repeal.

Actress Tells Secret

A Well Known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair and Promoted Its Growth With a Simple Home Made Mixture.

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview at Chicago, Ill., made the folowing statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray haired person look 20 years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of hair, relieves itching and scalp humors and is excellent for dandruff nad falling hair."

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

THE city of Birmingham, Ala., is contemplating the use of glass trash cans illuminated at night. This will be an innovation on the downstown street corners of Birmingham. The negotiations up to date have been in regard to a galvanized wire can with advertising on the sides, to be given to the city free and the city to receive a percentage of the advertising. The wire glass proposition has ben brought up recently and appeared to appeal rather strongly to the commissioners. It was stated that the glass can would be illuminated from the inside at night so that the advertising on them could be read then as well as in daylight. This feature will be entirely under the control of the city after the proposition is accepted.

George B. Ward, president of the city commissioners, has been in communication with different parts of the country trying to secure detailed information on modern trash appliances and it is his idea to start cleaning up the city. In this connection it would be well to mention that there is a concern making an ornamental waste box which is being introduced in a number of cities. This ornamental waste box consists of a pedestal for a flower urn and is about five feet in height and has a base of eighteen square inches. Near the middle of the stand is an opening in which paper or other waste matter is deposited, the inside being equipped with a gunny-sack which serves as a receptacle. When this is filled it may be removed and another substituted. For its removal there is a door that may be opened with a key, which, of course, will be in possession of any one in charge of the street cleaning operations, so that the box may be relieved or emptied at stated intervals. This door is larger than the opening through which the material is deposited.

At various times in the past the city officials have proposed to place such cans on the principal streets of the city, first in the downtown section and then in the suburbs. Other cities which have used them report that they have been a big help in keeping the streets free of waste paper and other loose material, thereby considerably improving the appearance of the city. Several offers have been received offering to place the cans free of charge provided the donors could use them for advertising purposes, but none of them has been accepted.

LUMBER AND GRAIN LIGHT

Shipments of All Other Products Show an Increase.

President of St. Paul System Is Optimistic Regarding Business.

Apart from grain and forest products, the volume of traffic now being handled by the railroads at the Head of the Lakes is substantially heavier than a year ago.

According to the report of the manager, A. E. Piering, the Lake Superior demurrage handled a total of 26,357 cars of all classes of freight in March, a decrease of 2,087 cars as compared with the corresponding month last year. The difference was more than accounted for in the falling off in the grain movement in which 2,268 cars were reported, a decrease of 3,172 from March, 1913.

Handlings of lumber and forest products aggregated 3,112 cars, a drop of 246 from last year, but increases in traffic were the order in every other product through the list. Coal shipments from the Duluth and Superior docks showed an increase of 136 cars in an aggregate of 13,485 cars sent out by the roads that are members of the demurrage bureau.

The movement of iron pipe and machinery aggregated 1,475 cars, an increase of 149 cars. General groceries and merchandise handlings turned up a gain of 421 cars, the total being reported at 966 cars. That building sertions that Duluth jobbers are rapidly extending their trade in all lines. Forest products accounted for about 3,500 cars or about the same as the road's 1913 March tally.

Agents of the railroads operating here aver that the freight movement so far this month is running about evenly with last year. It is a subject of comment that traffic to and from the newer districts of this state is making the best relative showing.

A. J. Earling, president of the St. Paul system, avers that the car loadings of his road for March were 5,000 in excess of last year. In the course of an interview just given out, he spoke hopefully regarding the outlook for an improvement in business later on in the season. He is sanguine that a greatly increased area will go under crop in the Northwest as a result of the good soil conditions, and the acreage plowed last fall.

He spoke enthusiastically regarding the electrification of the St. Paul railroad's line across Montana upon which actual work will probably be started next week. He considers that the economy and efficiency of electrical operation has been fully demonstrated by the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific road which carries ore from the Amalgamated Copper company's mines to the smelters.

WILSON IN FAVOR OF LOCAL OPTION

Views Are Given Following Navy Order—Puzzle for New York.

Washington, April 8.—President Wilson is in favor of local option on the liquor question, and does not believe prohibition should be made a part of a party program. Since the order of Secretary Daniels was issued prohibiting the use of liquor by officers in the navy, persons in a position to obtain the president's views have learned that he will stand by his letter written in May, 1911, while governor of New Jersey, to Rev. Thomas B. Shannon of Newark, N. J., in which he said:

"I am in favor of local option. I am a thorough believer in local self-government, and believe that every self-governing community which constitutes a social unit should have the right to control the matter of the regulation or the withholding of licenses.

Not Party Question.

"But the questions involved are social and moral, and are not susceptible of being made parts of a party program. Whenever they have been made the subject-matter of party contests, they have cut the lines of party organization and party action athwart, to the utter confusion of political action in every other field. They have thrown every other question, however important, into the background, and have made consecutive party action impossible for long years together."

Secretary Daniels told friends that the purpose of his order was in no way to give a political aspect to the subject of prohibition or to commit the national administration, but only to promote efficiency in the navy.

Pickle Dish for Warship.

Albany, N. Y., April 8.—The "dry" order issued by Secretary Josephus M. Daniels for the navy recently is causing three state officials to worry over what kind of a silver service shall be purchased for the battleship New York. At the last session of the legislature, a bill appropriating $10,000 for the purchase of a silver service for the new ship was passed and a few days later the governor signed it.

"We may have to eliminate the punch bowl and substitute a pickle dish," the governor said.

KONKEL IS RE-ELECTED

Superior Mayor Returned By Narrow Margin; O'Hare Also Victorious.

Citizens Turn Down Plan to Purchase the Street Railway.

Citizens of Superior yesterday re-elected Joseph S. Konkel mayor of Superior and gave his administration their approval in one of the closest and most hotly contested elections ever held in the city. The mayor received a majority of 91 votes over James R. Hile out of a total of 5,293 votes cast.

Charles N. O'Hare was successful over A. D. S. Gillette and was re-elected by a majority of 375 votes in the commissionership race. The citizens turned down the proposition of purchasing the Superior street railway by a majority of 1,232 votes, more than two-thirds of the voters having cast their ballots on the question.

Mayor Konkel carried half of the wards of the city. While Mr. Hile carried as many wards as Mayor Konkel, his majorities in these wards were not sufficient to overcome the heavy vote that the mayor got in the down town districts.

The mayor carried the First, Third, Fourth, Sixth and Tenth wards and received in the Fourth ward a majority of 240 votes which the opposition was unable to overcome. The Seventh ward, said to be the stronghold of the opposition turned in only a small majority for Hile.

According to announcements made this morning there will be no contests held. The city and county prosecuting departments intend to continue actions and investigations against alleged illegal voting in some of the precincts.

City officials take the returns of the election as a vindication of the present administration and its policies. The recall petition for the mayor and the subsequent campaign was one of the bitterest that has ever been held in the city, and charges of corruption, lax law enforcement and similar violations were made against the administration.

Throughout the entire day until late last night when the final returns of the election were in, crowds of people thronged the streets. Excitement was at fever heat during the announcement of the returns which for hours were about even. The final result was signaled by the extinguishing of all electric lights twice. Once would have meant Hile's election.

Phil S. Perkins won easily over M. C. Brzonkala for county judge, and James A. Baker and W. O. Streeter were easy winners in the race for the office of constable.

Ward—	—Mayor— Hile.	Konkel.	—Councilman— Gillett.	O'Hare.

when the little republic of Panama was set up over night with guarantees of integrity from Washington, or that the whole question be submitted to The Hague for arbitration.

The last negotiations were just at the close of President Taft's administration, when Minister Dubois, under instructions of Secretary Knox, offered a settlement on this basis:

Ratification by Colombia of the so-called tri-partite treaty of 1909, also known as the Knox-Arosemena treaty, by which Panama agreed to apportion with Colombia the annual payment of $250,000, which she receives from the United States as rent for the canal zone for a sufficient period to liquidate any claim of Colombia's, up to $10,000,000.

Payment of $10,000,000 cash to Colombia by the United States for an option on the Atrato river canal route, and coaling sites at St. Andreas and Old Providencia.

An offer of the friendly influence of the United States with Panama for an adjustment between Panama and Colombia over the partition.

Old Plan Rejected.

The Atrato canal option would have continued for seventy-five years, during which Colombia would have enjoyed the sum of $10,000,000 with interest; she might have recovered from her claims on the Panama railroad, had an arbitration been in her favor, some $16,000,000; other claims were estimated at some $33,000,000. In all, had Colombia won all her contentions, her recovery would have totaled more than $90,000,000.

Just before going out of office, President Taft transmitted a letter to congress containing Secretary Knox's report of the negotiations, saying that Colombia, by refusal, had "closed the door to any further overtures by the United States."

Secretary Hay previously declined to submit Colombia's claims to arbitration on the ground that they were political and not justifiable, and further, that they might call in the question of the right of Panama to exist as a sovereign state.

Was "Inherited" Problem.

Soon after President Wilson took office the negotiations were reopened, and have been proceeding steadily to the conclusion reached yesterday at Bogota, when a treaty was signed.

It is assumed here that the Colombian foreign office would not approve a treaty which the congress of the country would be unlikely to ratify.

How far the administration here has gone toward sounding the senate on its proposals is not known, and any preliminary steps looking toward ratification probably will not be taken until the terms of the convention have been fully transmitted to Secretary Bryan and he has privately advised senators of the foreign relations committee.

council forty will be Democrats, twenty-one Republicans, six Progressives and three independents.

Women Helped Beat Subway.

Votes of women helped defeat a proposition for a comprehensive subway system, which had been planned at an estimated cost of $130,000,000. The subway proposition was lost by a majority of 90,000 votes.

Another public policy question providing for home rule in the regulation of public utilities was successful by a majority of 4,000.

Five bond issues, totaling $8,350,000, for city departments and for the completion of the Cook county hospital, were defeated by large majorities. One bond issue, providing $350,000 for municipal bathing beach improvements, was successful.

Propositions to increase to four years the terms of aldermen, the city clerk and the city treasurer, and for the revision of the municipal court act, failed.

Proposals to annex the villages of Cicero and Morgan Park, suburbs, were successful. However, Cicero voted against annexation. Morgan Park will vote on the question in two weeks.

May Double Precincts.

Chicago's 1,300 precincts may be doubled in number before the next election because of the crowded conditions at the polls yesterday. With the addition of women voters, the total number of voters was nearly doubled in every precinct. The city had been divided so as to give each precinct about 300 voters. Nearly 600 persons voted at each polling place yesterday.

Election officials said women were deliberate in their voting. In most cases the new voters read carefully each public policy proposal before marking their ballots.

The Socialist party had an aldermanic candidate in each of the thirty-five wards. In most of the wards the Socialist vote was third, and in one ward, the Twenty-seventh, in the northwestern part of the city, their candidate took second place. The total vote polled by the Socialist candidates was 39,900.

tered all over the state, and then there is the 'boss.'

"Like a spider in the center of his web, feeding upon the degradation of mankind, plotting enticements and allurements for innocence, and sucking the life blood of industry, sits the astute and cunning manipulator of our destinies. Under the pseudonym of an attorney-at-law, he collects tribute, exhales the poisonous breath of innuendo, and dictates appointments and policies.

"Each of these constituent parts has its share to contribute, and each receives recognition and compensation for the services rendered. The brewers contribute to the campaign fund and violations of the law are winked at in return.

"The office holders are the molders of public opinion, the managers of local campaigns, the chore boys who do the running about for the boss. They are scattered all over Minnesota, and if you examine them closely, you will find that each one has a string tied to him. When the boss pulls the string he dances. Oil inspectorships have been doled out to certain country newspapers as a cheap method of bribing them to support the administration.

"If we are to reform that state government the first thing is to get rid of the man at the top.

"In his veto of the Nolan bill, the purpose of which was to permit the city of Minneapolis to manage its own local public utilities, the governor asserted the people were not competent to manage their own affairs, the municipal officials incompetent and dishonest, and he declared that their opposition to a state commission rested on their desire to hold on to these sources of corruption. I need not remind you that a state utility commission was not heard of in Minnesota until the utility companies found that these officials were not only honest, but capable of looking after the people's interests. The people are paying the penalty of his vetoes, through excess charges and inconvenience.

Favors Local Control.

After a campaign of several months, the governor found public sentiment so strongly adverse to his utility bill that he abandoned it. I am unalterably opposed to such a commission for such a purpose. I believe that in the matter of public utilities the principle of home rule and local control should govern and if elected I shall exert my influence for the creation, development and perfection of a system of utility supervision and control that will recognize as paramount the rights and powers of local government.

"In the last analysis, government is simply a matter of carrying on the people's business, and it requires the same kind of talent, ability and honesty of purpose that successful private business must have.

"The need of our state government today is an energetic and competent business direction. It is a business man's job. I am a business man and if elected I shall consider that the people have employed me to see that their business is conducted promptly, efficiently and economically.

"All matters of legislation are matters of political policy, to be determined by the majority of the people as their sense of the public welfare dictates.

"I believe we should have an effective civil service law to apply to all appointive offices, thus providing an efficient corps of workers to do the state's business. Real civil service reform would be impossible if the people did not prefer political purity. The people of this state demand clean politics and honest government, and upon this I desire to stand or fall."

Mr. Lee then discussed what he termed the antiquated and complicated governmental organism and the imperative need for a complete overhauling and reorganization of the administrative machinery of the state government, citing the fact that he called public attention to such a need during the campaign of two years ago. Referring to the tardy selection of thirty men to form an efficiency commission, the candidate said the commission in its reports had held up to public gaze such a multiplicity of boards and bureaus and disconnected and disorganized offices as to make the state's business organization the laughing stock of every business man in Minnesota.

"This condition," declared Mr. Lee, "has grown up while the chief executive has been engaged in the pleasure-able pastime of travel, oratory, tango dancing and song writing."

Taxation and Extravagance.

Coming then to the subject of taxation and extravagance, Mr. Lee said he had, during the last campaign, pointed out the enormous increase in the expenditures of the state government and that the governor had made an effort to show that other states were worse off in that regard than Minnesota.

"My contentions are now generally agreed to; and the state auditor has recently issued a statement confirming them. The governor no longer disputes them, but takes refuge in laying the blame on the legislature," said the candidate.

"I believe," he continued, "in the conservation and development of natural resources; by continued public ownership, development and protection of all remaining timber and mineral lands and water power; through reforestation, by reclamation and by control and development of the waterways of the state.

"Good roads are necessary to the development of any country. I favor a road policy that takes into consideration, first and foremost, the needs of the farmers and which will make more accessible the numerous local centers of the different communities of the state. Roads are primarily a local utility and I believe should therefore be under direct local control and supervision as far as as compatible with a broad policy of state improvement.

"The people of the state are interested in free and open markets. Any fair minded person will agree that no unnecessary burden or expense should attach to the product of the farm, the factory or the shop on its way from the producer to the consumer.

"I am in full accord with the world movement to better protect the life, health and welfare of the people, by prohibiting excessive hours of labor and improving conditions under which labor is performed, with rigid restrictions on the employment of women and children. The minimum wage and workmen's compensation laws are movements in the right direction and should be so developed that exact justice will be done."

Old Age Pensions.

Mr. Lee expressed himself as favoring the movement to make provision for the declining and non-productive years of those employed on salary, and that he would urge including those who had faithfully performed public service, school teachers, nurses in the state hospitals, and others who might become eligible through long service.

"Money expended in public schools," Mr. Lee declared, "paid the largest dividends," and he contended the school system of the state should be kept free from political entanglements, and upon the highest possible patriotic, moral and intellectual plane.

"We hear much these days," Mr. Lee proceeded, discussing the matter of majority rule, or direct popular government. "In the coming election the people will have an opportunity to vote upon a number of proposed amendments to the Constitution, including the initiative and the referendum, which should become a part of our Constitution.

"I believe in the primary election law. With the experience of two years ago and this year the legislature should be able to cure any defects by amending it. Minority rule must be made impossible. The question of the elective franchise for women is calling our attention. No one should object to permitting the people to express their will upon this question. The legislature should submit the necessary constitutional amendment.

For County Option.

"I believe in county option and that the people of any governmental unit should have the legal machinery provided for the expression of their will upon the liquor question.

"I believe in reducing the power of the brewery in politics and curbing the sinister influence of the liquor traffic."

Speaking next of the legislature, Mr. Lee said: "The right kind of a legislature and governor working in harmony can regenerate the political conditions of the state. I urge you to give thoughtful consideration to your representatives in the legislature.

"As a result of co-operation and diversified farming we have not only a great improvement in the farms and in the financial condition of the farmer, but there is an improvement in the farm buildings, improvements in the homes; in the schools and churches, and in the public roads, and what is better than all, the people are better citizens than they were.

"The best products of the farm are the boys and girls raised and educated there. As an employer I can state that the boy who is raised on an up-to-date farm is a better boy and gives better satisfaction in his work, is more intelligent and takes a broader view of every subject than he could if he had been raised on the 'all work and no profit' farm of former years.

"I stand for good government," concluded Mr. Lee. "I know you stand for good government. All good citizens do. The people of Minnesota have never been found wanting in a crisis. From village and city; from farm and mine; from shop, mill and counting house, office and store; from pulpit, press and pen, from all over this broad empire of ours comes the voice of determination, the pledge to arms. The machine is doomed. For the confidence reposed in me I am deeply grateful. Your aid and co-operation in this great contest I earnestly solicit. God giving me strength, I shall not fail you."

ing said they hoped to win in 90 per cent of the townships. After the returns were announced last night F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, declared that he was more than satisfied with the result.

"Not a city nor township which was dry has gone over to the enemy," he said, "and our victories have been many. This election will hasten legislation curtailing the liquor selling in the state. We have just begun to fight, and the campaign will continue until there is not a saloon left in Illinois. Before another wet and dry election we hope to have a county option law on the statute books, and that will make our battle easier to win."

Sixteen New Dry Counties.

The sixteen counties added to the list of thirty already dry are: Boone, Brown, Christian, De Kalb, De Witt, Fulton, Henry, Jersey, Knox, Livingston, Macon, McLean, Shelby, Stephenson, Warren and Winnebago.

Of the near-dry counties resulting from the election, Jo Daviess and Whiteside have each one wet city, West Galena and Fulton, respectively. Kane county has two wet places: Aurora, where the hottest kind of a contest resulted in favor of the liquor dealers, and St. Charles.

Rock Island, which landed in the wet column, experienced an eleventh hour change, influenced, it is believed, largely by promises that the number of city saloons would be curtailed, more stringent regulations enforced, and all bars closed at 11 p. m. weekdays and all day Sundays.

Springfield Women Favor Saloon.

Springfield, the state capital, voted wet after a campaign in which every possible argument for and against liquor selling was presented to the voters. A majority of the women voted wet, the figure being 4,301 dry and 4,676 wet.

Freeport, which for more than fifty years has been wet territory, and which was regarded by many as certain to remain so, saw its forty-eighth saloons wiped out of existence by the votes of women.

Joliet was voted wet by a majority of approximately 2,500. Late last night reports were that the city had gone into the dry column by 1,000 votes. The anti campaign, particularly in the wards where the steel workers live, was vigorous. Nearly 10,000 women voted, their ballots being nearly equally divided between the wets and the drys. A majority of the men voters favored the saloon interests.

Close in Bloomington.

On the face of the returns, Bloomington was voted dry yesterday by a slender majority, placed by one newspaper at eighty and by another at fifteen on a total vote of 14,000. If the official canvass by the city council tonight shows a dry victory, the wet lenders intimate that they will petition for a recount.

The township of Proviso, one of the Cook county townships outside of the city of Chicago which was reported last night to have voted dry, was today shown by the complete returns to have been voted wet by a majority of 883. There are seventy-seven saloons in the township, and a large amusement park, as well as a number of summer gardens and road houses in which liquor is dispensed.

Complete election returns today showed Galesburg, Ill., went dry by 3,002 votes. The men's dry majority was 424 and the women's 2,578.

Dry After Twenty-one Years.

For the first time in twenty-one years the village of Elmwood, near Peoria, has gone "dry." The vote of the women gained a victory for the drys which netted them 136 votes in the majority. The villages of Edwards station and Bartonville voted wet. Only three local option elections were held in Peoria county.

Colorado Results.

Denver, Colo., April 8.—Yesterday's municipal elections in the smaller towns of Colorado were fought out on local issues. In the six coal mining camps, where union labor was an issue, the labor candidates were successful.

Returns received early today showed that in towns where the wet and dry issue was foremost the wets won in six and the drys four.

New Mexico Republicans Lead.

Albuquerque, N. M., April 8.—Returns received early today from yesterday's municipal elections in New Mexico showed that Republican tickets led over Democratic and fusion candidates.

Jost Re-elected in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., April 8.—Henry L. Jost, Democrat was re-elected mayor of Kansas City over four other candidates by a majority estimated at over 9,000 votes. The non-partisan ticket, pledged to commission government and headed by Clarence A. Burton, was second. All the Democratic candidates for the upper house of the council were carried in on the tide which swept Mayor Jost back into office.

The Democratic candidates for comptroller, treasurer and police judge also were successful. Mayor Jost carried thirteen out of the sixteen wards of the city.

Mayor of Joplin.

Joplin, Mo., April 8.—Mayor Joseph Osborne was defeated for re-election by Hugh McIndo, a former state senator, in Joplin's first vote on officials for service under commission government.

Divide Nebraska Victories.

Omaha, Neb., April 8.—In yesterday's municipal elections, the question of license and recall created great interest, with party politics entering into but few contests. Temperance advocates claim a victory on the license, some towns which have long been wet going dry. The opposition, however, turned the tide in a number of other places, carrying them to the wet column.

Kansas Women Voted.

Topeka, Kan., April 8.—Women cast a heavy vote in the elections held throughout Kansas yesterday. Only local issues were involved.

At Hutchinson, Dr. E. W. Cook was elected mayor. Recently a revival was held in Hutchinson and over 1,000 converts were made. The churches became active in politics and both Dr. Cook and Lincoln S. Davis, his opponent, were pledged to clean the town.

Mayor of St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 8.—Elliott Marshall, Republican, defeated David E. Curtin, Democrat, and two other candidates for mayor of St. Joseph in the municipal election.

entitled under international law and usage.

That Spain proposes to exhaust every resource to protect her people in the revolution-torn republic was made plain when Rear Admiral Mayo, at Tampico, cabled the navy department that the commanding officer of the British cruiser Hermoine had been instructed to care for Spaniards at this besieged Federal port.

Problem Is Grave.

The gravity of the problem has been increased by the unofficial but credible information that this policy of expulsion of the Spaniards is to be of general application; that as rapidly as the Constitutionalists by force of arms extend their control over such cities as Saltillo and Monterey and other places now within the Federal line, they intend to drive out the Spaniards and seize their property.

Refugees Reach Juarez.

Juarez, Mex., April 8.—Six hundred and twelve men, women and children of the Spanish colony, expelled from Torreon by Gen. Villa, arrived here before daybreak today. Huddled in the passenger cars, they waited for dawn and the arrival of George C. Carothers special agent of the department of state.

"Mr. Carothers came up a day ahead of us to see what he could do with Gen. Carranza," said Joaquin Fernandez, a prominent member of the colony. "We are under protection of the American flag, and we decided not to leave the cars until Carothers comes."

Carothers had another interview with Gen. Carranza last night, but it was learned that the general's attitude against the Spaniards remained unchanged.

Carden Returning.

Southampton, April 8.—Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, sailed today on the Olympic for New York on his way to Mexico City. Before Sir Lionel's departure the foreign office announced that he was returning to his post in Mexico temporarily and that he would proceed to another post later in the year.

The mission for which Sir Lionel has been selected is that in Brazil. It is understood that he will leave Mexico City for Rio de Janeiro very soon.

ever, he was defeated by another non-partisan.

Edmund T. Melms, a prominent Social-Democrat, who during the Seidel regime was president of the council, was defeated in yesterday's effort to get back.

The vote does not appear to be as heavy as two years ago. The Socialists seem to have polled almost equal to the last election and the cutting down of Eading's plurality of over 12,000 two years ago to almost half that number is looked upon by them as a victory.

The registration and yesterday's returns show that there were many thousands of "stay-at-home" voters.

Bonds For Harbor.

Milwaukee voted in favor of a bond issue for harbor improvements.

Circuit Judge William J. Turner, non-partisan, was re-elected by a decided majority over the Social-Democratic candidate.

Supreme Court Justice J. C. Kerwin has no opposition throughout the state.

The four circuit judges outside of Milwaukee whose terms expired were re-elected.

Little in the way of returns has been received from counties voting on the proposition for an extra session of the legislature.

Wets and Drys.

Throughout the state interest in yesterday's election centered chiefly in the license question, the larger cities voting "wet." Out of 57 places heard from, 30 went "wet" and 27 "dry." Madison, Janesville, Beloit, Edgerton, and Sparta are among the more important "wet" victories, while Grantsburg, Lodi, Lancaster, Barron, Cumberland and Union Grove registered "dry."

Reports also show the following to have voted in favor of license:

Palmyra, Mauston, Darlington, Boyceville, Downing, Wheeler, Manawa, Shawano, Westcott, Dodgeville, Ridgeway, Cobb, Linden, Hollandale, Fort Atkinson (by three to one).

Victories for the dry element were recorded in Mascomni, Barneveldt, Montfort, Mifflin, Rewey, Black Earth, Blanchardville, Argyle, Stoughton, Washburn, Norway, Poakin Lake, Turtle Lake, Rice Lake, Amery, Chetek, Cameron, New Auburn, Ridgeland, Dalls and Barron.

Madison Mayor Beaten.

Racine reports the election of A. J. Eisenhut as city treasurer by a large majority.

Neenah re-elected C. B. Clark, non-partisan, mayor over J. N. Stone, the oldest editor in the state.

Few Changes in West.

La Crosse, Wis., April 8.—No important changes in the wet and dry columns in Western Wisconsin occurred in the elections yesterday. Important towns voted as follows:

Viroqua, Blair, Eleva, Holland, Onalaska town and Chaseburg, which have been dry, remained dry.

Galesville, Sparta, De Soto, Whitehall and Trempealeau, now wet, remain wet.

The closest fight was at De Soto, an oasis for the dry territory in Minnesota on the west side of the river. The saloons won out by 8 votes.

BOYS APPEAL TO THE MAYOR

Ask His Help in Securing Sites for Baseball Diamonds.

If spring hasn't come it is undoubtedly close at hand. A sign equal in significance to the arrival of the first robin appeared at the office of Mayor Prince yesterday afternoon.

The sign was the appearance of two delegations of "kids," who want the city's assistance in securing baseball grounds. They asked the executive to use his influence to the end that diamonds may become available in the vicinity of the Fairmont school at West Duluth and between Forty-sixth and Forty-eighth avenues west and Fourth and Sixth streets.

The embryo Ty Cobbs and Walter Johnsons and other illustrious heroes of the national game represented that the greatest boon which could be conferred upon them at this time would be getting baseball grounds. They said that they do not like to play in the streets where they would interfere with traffic or knock balls through windows.

Mayor Prince assured them that he has not forgotten that he was a "kid" once and knew just how they felt about it. He said that he would take the matter up with the property owners without delay. He thought there would be little difficulty in securing the desired permission.

JIMMY TEN EYCK'S senior eight will be opposed by the Argonauts of Toronto at the National. This fact is certified to by the telegraphic statement to The Herald that the Argonauts will not send a crew to the English Henley this season, but will go after the crack crews of the Dominion and the United States.

Let us state that the crew finally selected by James as the quintessence of local excellence will find competition in the turnout of the Argonauts. Ever since the men of Canada have figured seriously in the rowing game the Argonauts have been among those prominently mentioned.

One never to be forgotten year at Syracuse our eight was beaten by the light eight of the Argonaut house, and upon other illustrious occasions the crews of this famous and ancient and honorable club have won some of the most notable victories registered by the Canadian oarsmen.

Therefore if the general class of the country is lowered to the minor register and the crews that come to the large and welcoming environs of Philadelphia are not up to the snuff of other years, there will be at least one eight that will take a lot of beating—for these Argonauts are distinctly and impertinently there.

Thy Bleeding Spirit.

READING in one of the English sporting pages that a genial and well informed friend sends us occasionally, that for the first time in thirty years Ireland has won the Soccer football championship from dear old England, our heart goes out in this time of severe affliction to that of bleeding athletically inclined England.

The athletic trials and tribulations of old England have been not unlike the trials and afflictions that beset Job, one of the real leaders of the double league.

First some of our aspiring and perspiring pugilists robbed the mother country of the prestige she managed to save from the series of incidents growing more or less directly out of the Boston tea party. Following upon these severe and continual defeats came the Olympic games, the polo cup defeat, the loss of the Davis cup, the cup defender incident, and the dismal spectacle of a French boy whipping the champion of Great Britain at the ancient game England proudly boasted of supremacy in—boxing.

Loss has fallen with heavy hand on the broad accent boys, and it is therefore with sorrow and chastened spirit that we read of the loss of the soccer championship.

Be of good cheer, old Tom Lipton is again to the rescue and while there is life there is 'ope, aye, chappie.

Waits Until Yost Sees Him.

TRAINER FARRELL of Michigan rises to the public forum with the statement that he has developed among the youths of the Michigan track team an athletic candidate of rare and cultured attainments in the person of one Constantine D. Tripolitis, a Greek, who is proving an adept at the throwing the javelin.

In addition to distinction at this feat, listed as one of the point winners on the Olympic program, the Greek is said to be some boy at other stunts requiring muscle and agility.

This little remark makes us think that it will not be long before the trained and hawk-like orb of one Fielding Yost will be measuring the expanse and capabilities of the Greek youth.

And—something more—Amos Stagg has a Chinaman in his squad who has attained to classical distinction in the gymnasium. Doc Williams has never developed any athlete of Chinese origin who threatened a minor sort of yellow athletic peril among the colleges of the conference.

The Kink May Come Over.

LITTLE drops of news from across the sea tell us of the contemplative coming of King Alfonso of Spain with a Polo team that is to compete for the large amount of glory that will travel hand in hand with the winning of the tournament that will be played at the San Francisco fair.

The last time the United States was more or less intimately associated with the horseback riders of the Don country, was at the matter of San Juan hill. We won that contest in somewhat hollow fashion and since that more or less memorable occasion the Spanish people have cared little for our game.

Now that King Al is thinking of coming over on one of the regular liners and trying his hand at the game of polo, let us all go in with three rahs and a tiger and hope and sincerely trust that the little emphatic feelings of the past are dead and buried.

One of the Coast Kind.

FROM out of the sunshine and sand of California comes information reeking of partiality in close connection with the decision given in the case of Clabby versus Murray, which was decided in the Daly city courts of pugilism.

Jim Griffin, a prodigious lover of the home found and grown things, we should judge, was the referee in this quarrel and though it is said that James Clabby landed scores of blows to the loosely associated returns of his brother at arms, the hands of both of the battlers were promptly raised aloft at the conclusion of the battle.

This merely goes to show that you have to go like blazes to win from one of the native sons on the coast.

GRAIN MAN IS CUE STAR

Who on earth is William Henderson?

Well, William Henderson is a dark horse in the amateur billiard world. He is a member of the Chicago board of trade and has been discovered by Charles Frederick Conklin, former national and international amateur balk line champion.

When Conklin withdrew from the amateur ranks he, in partnership with William Burdick, opened a billiard room on Jackson boulevard, directly across the street from the board of trade. At least Conklin and Burdick acquired the room which had formerly been conducted by Charles H. Weeghman, president of the Chicago Federal league baseball club. And it was here that Conklin first got his lamps on William Henderson, "the coming national amateur balk line champion."

So impressed was Conklin with the natural, fine swinging stroke of Henderson that he displayed a keen interest in the grain broker from the start. Taking him on for a game, Conklin found the dark horse a worthy opponent, and the old champion had to step right along to beat him. Conklin averaged 9, while Henderson's clip was a trifle under 8.

Henderson Becomes Pupil.

From that moment Henderson became a pupil of Conklin, and an apt one at that. His style needed correcting and he was a bit shy on his draws and masses, but in general his work was good and he possessed all the earmarks of a champion.

Now Conklin has sometimes to travel at a 20 average to beat the newcomer in the amateur field, and only last week Henderson took Charles Fredericks' measure in a 400-point game at 18.2 balk line. In that contest Henderson averaged 18, and had the high run of the game, a well accomplished compilation of 124.

Henderson, though a man of 40 years or better, has shown such marked improvement under the earnest tutelage of the former amateur champion that Conklin has persuaded him to enter the national tournament next year, feeling that he will have an excellent chance to carry off the championship. And Conklin is willing to wager a good bet right now that his protege will not finish worse than third in the big event of 1915.

KANSAS CITY STARS SHINE

Northern League to Be Plentifully Supplied With Missouri Players.

Kansas City, Mo., April 8.—Every team in the Northern league will have one or more Kansas City players in its lineup this spring, except the Superior club. Twelve local pastimers will be given tryouts in the Northern league, some of which were on the payroll of the league last year.

Winona, Virginia, Fort William, Fargo and Duluth will each have two Kansas City faces in their lineup and Winnipeg and Grand Forks will each give one player a chance to land a regular job.

Roy Baxter, an outfielder, and Leo Murphy, a catcher, who played with the champion Winona team last year, are being given a tryout with the Kansas City team of the American Association at present, but from all indications they will probably be back in a Winona uniform when the Northern league season starts, as Lefty Davis has several of last year's players, who are holdouts, while the Blues have a surplus of national pastimers.

Joe Harville, a pitcher, who heaves from the "wrong" side, and Billy Drammell, a catcher, will try to hook on to the Duluth payroll.

Clyde Bramble, an outfielder, and Man Brokaw, an outfielder, will try to land a regular job with the Virginia club.

Rube Johnson, a pitcher, who is reported to have the speed of his namesake, Walter, and Frank Butchart, an outfielder, are scheduled to try to land their meal tickets with the Fort William club.

Horace Flagg, an infielder, and Frank Watkins, a pitcher, will in all probability land regular jobs with the Fargo nine. Flagg is being given a tryout with the Minneapolis team of the A. A. at St. Joseph, Mo., and, according to late reports, he will be turned over to the Cantillon farm at Fargo. Watkins pitched for the Virginia club a part of last season.

Big Peters, who is a some catcher, both in ability and weight, will try out with the Grand Forks team. Peters will probably make good. He had a favorable record with the Davenport team of the Three-I league last season and was sold to Grand Forks.

Joe Sporn, an infielder, will try out with the Winnipeg team.

MEMBERS OF ENGLISH POLO TEAM CHOSEN

Will Play in England Before Sailing for America to Take Part in International Polo Matches at Meadowbrook.

New York, April 8.—The English players for the international polo matches against America which will be held at Meadowbrook this spring, have been selected as follows:

No. 1, Capt. H. Tompkinson; No. 2, Maj. F. W. Barrett; No. 3, Capt. Vivian Lockett; back, Maj. C. Hunter; substitutes, Maj. Mathew Lennowe, Capt. E. Palmer and Capt. H. Ralston.

The English team will leave Madrid on April 15, for England, where a series of twelve matches will be played with the Old Cantabs, made up of Capt. Haseltine, F. M. Freake, G. M. Buckmaster and A. L. Haigh.

The players will probably remain two weeks in England before sailing for the United States. The English ponies, thirty in number, will leave London on May 17 for America.

OUIMET IMPRESSES ENGLAND FAVORABLY

London, April 8.—English newspapers are devoting much space to Francis Ouimet, the American golfer, who already has won many friends by his unassuming manner, modesty and sportsmanship.

Ouimet made his first appearance on an English golf course at Deal yesterday, and there was much speculation as to how he would shape up after his long rest from practice. That he needs vetry little practice to get into form was shown when he went around the course in 81 strokes, a remarkable performance in the face of a stiff wind.

BIDDING FOR BIG TENNIS TOURNEY

New York, April 8.—A spirited contest has developed for the honor of staging the international tennis games for the Davis cup, to be played Aug. 13 to 15.

The principal bidders for the event are the Longwood Cricket club of Boston, the Crescent club of Brooklyn, the Allegheny club of Pittsburg, the Merion Cricket club of Philadelphia and the West Side club of this city.

As the West Side club offered so many inducements in the way of erection of stands and provisions for the comfort of the spectators and players, it was taken for granted that the games would be awarded to New York. Boston tennis players, however, have not given up hope, and have presented arguments which are said to have had weight with some members of the committee that will decide the question. It is said that one of the members is openly for New York, another for Boston, and the third undecided but leans toward Longwood.

PITCHER WHO HAS JUMPED TO THE FEDS

RUSSELL FORD.

RED BLUHM GOES TO NEW ORLEANS

Duluth baseball fans will no doubt be interested in the announcement that Red Bluhm, former first baseman of the Duluth White Sox, has been sold by the Cleveland club of the American association to the New Orleans club of the Southern league.

While the red-headed one, even from the first day he cavorted around the first bag at our ball park here, possessed the nifty knack of knocking 'em down with his eyebrows, his rise to higher company brought on troubles in the hitting line.

From Duluth to New Orleans makes the run of climatic changes one that should harden the heart of the red-head and foster his philosophy.

Bluhm is but a youngster in years, and the coming season will be but his third in professional baseball company. Mayhap it will transpire that the agile fielder and nifty guardian of the station number one will improve in his hitting and will again be back in faster baseball company.

Red is a clean, hard-working ball player, and as such deserves success of golden-tipped variety.

RAID ON BOOKIES.

Fourteen Arrested at Virginia Race Track on Governor's Orders.

Norfolk, Va., April 8.—Fourteen reputed bookmakers were arrested at the track of the Jamestown Jockey club yesterday, charged with gambling. The arrests were made on orders from Governor Stuart, who announced at Richmond that every effort would be made to prevent gambling at Virginia race courses. Those arrested were held in $2,000 bonds each for their appearance in court today.

Ten special policemen, sworn in on orders from the governor, raided the betting ring during the third race, and are said to have taken charge of $5,000 found in the possession of alleged bookmakers and reputed to have been placed on entries in the race.

Attorney General Pollard directed operations against the reported gambling. He was instructed by the governor to make further arrests today if gambling is attempted.

Robert Levy, manager of the Jamestown track, announced last night that racing would continue, but that instead of the race track management offering purses, the horse owners would divide the gate receipts every day.

McCOY TAKES KLAUS' GOAT AWAY FROM CHIP.

New York, April 8.—Al McCoy of Brooklyn knocked out George Chip of Newcastle, Pa., a leading claimant for the middleweight title, in the first round of their ten-round match last night. The knockout came after one minute and forty seconds of fighting.

The result was a great surprise, as McCoy had been considered only a fairly good middleweight.

In the first round, Chip assumed the offensive and was forcing McCoy around the ring, when the latter landed his first blow—the knockout one.

NEWS FROM THE STARS IN SPRING PRACTICE FIELDS

New Orleans, La., April 18.—Fred Merkle's home run drive over the left field fence netted the New York Nationals their fourth consecutive victory yesterday over the New Orleans Southern association team. The score was 1 to 0. Merkle later hit for three bases and also hit a single. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
New Orleans	0	3	0

Batteries — Fromme and Meyers; Bagby, Glavenich, Gudger and Adams.

Lynchburg, Va., April 8.—In a game here yesterday between Baltimore and Pittsburg of the Federal league, Pittsburg hit Quinn in the initial inning, securing a six-run lead, but Baltimore finally overcame this and won, 9 to 8. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	8	13	0
Baltimore	9	13	1

Batteries—Barger, Leclaire and Berry; Quinn, Smith and Jaclitsch.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 8.—The Brooklyn Nationals evened up the spring series with the New York Americans yesterday, winning 5 to 4 in a loose fielding game. Both Reulbach and McHale pitched the full game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	5	8	3

Batteries—McHale and Sweeney; Reulbach and Miller. Umpires—O'Brien and Emslie.

Belleville, Kan., April 8.—Lathrop pitched a one-hit game for the Chicago American second team yesterday, shutting out Belleville, 6 to 0. Score:

Sox	6	9	0
Belleville	0	1	4

Batteries — Lathrop and Sullivan; Scott and Page.

Philadelphia, April 8.—The Philadelphia Nationals had the local Americans shut out until the eighth inning yesterday, when the Athletics tied the score and won out in the ninth, 2 to 1. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Nationals	1	8	0
Americans	2	4	0

Batteries — Alexander, Jacobs and Killifer and Burns; Shawkey, Pennock and Lapp. Umpires—Connolly and Byron.

Louisville, Ky., April 8.—Rain prevented the exhibition game scheduled for yesterday afternoon between the Detroit Americans and the Louisville American association teams. The Detroit team left for Cincinnati.

New Orleans, La., April 8.—The New York Giants have started north. Several games will be played en route to Philadelphia, where the team will open the season April 14.

SPIKE KELLY IS FOULED IN CONTEST WITH FERNS

Superior Fighter Sinks to Floor From Low Blow in First Round---Young Burke Also Claims Foul in His Bout With Jack Doyle.

BY BRUCE.

Misfortune, riding under whip and spur, trampled all over last evening's boxing show of the Twin Ports Athletic club. Two accidents occurred, stopping the semi-windup in the fourth round and the main bout of the evening before the expiration of the first round.

"Wild Cat" Ferns, during the short interval of fighting that the spectators were privileged to witness, lived up to the ferocity suggested in the ring name under which he sails.

At the call of time the Ferns one assumed the aggressive. After feeling around for half a minute Ferns rushed and sent Kelly into the ropes. Again he rushed and in the clinch attempted to work both hands to the Kelly kitchen. His royal spikelets protested to the referee against this free work in the embraces and Mr. Ferns humbly begged the pardon of his adversary.

Again Ferns rushed and this time Kelly neatly sidestepped. Just before the conclusion of the round, when the spectators had settled down to the gleeful anticipation of a corking scrap, Ferns rushed again and forced Kelly to the ropes. Ferns hit out quickly, his right coming up from the waist, and with a groan, turning half around, a look of agony convulsing his features, Kelly slowly sank to the resin.

Like a lot of amateurs some handlers hauled the suffering Kelly to his corner and later he was taken from the ring, groaning with the poignant pain of the blow that landed in the groin.

Ending Is Unfortunate.

As in any athletic contest where the public is given a short run for its money, the ending was exceedingly unfortunate. The promoters must be absolved from blame—it was simply unfortunate, and that says it all.

The scrap would have been a corker, if the two minutes and a fraction of work can be taken as a criterion from which to judge. Ferns was obviously out to make a fight of it from the first gong, and with his rushing and aggressive tactics it looked like the bout would have been filled with action.

The Doyle one was pitted against Young Burke of England, a wee cockney, who took the match on two hours' notice. Defoe, or Johnny Sokol, one does not know which, as the announcements were different, was to have met the New Yorker. Burke was the last minute substitution and therefore had no time whatever in which to train.

Doyle refused to shake hands and got in Dutch with the crowd from the start off. Little Burke, clever, fast and possessing some real knowledge of the boxing game, made a fine showing against the better-conditioned and longer-armed Doyle.

While Doyle had the shade, Burke was making excellent progress until the fourth round, when he sank to the floor, spasmodically holding his gloves to his groin.

There is a dispute as to whether the little Briton was fouled. One doctor, it was stated after the bout, said he was, and another claimed he could find no evidence of a low blow. There you are.

Kid Billings Wins.

Joe failed to wake up until the final round. Joe is a placid and phlegmatic youth, it would seem, for he went through seven of the eight rounds with his countenance stuck out a broad target for the lefts and rights of the suburbanite.

Occasionally Joseph would essay a return, or more seldom yet, a lead; but this was seldom, and with monotonous regularity he kept receiving a straight, slightly overhand left, occasionally varied with a left hook and a right cross.

Blood streamed from the Koski nose, but at that he was not hurt. Joe's chief claim to undying gladiatorial fame must rest in an unruffled spirit and a philosophical outlook upon life.

Kid Paul had the shade on Young Wagner. Kid Paul is from Duluth, and, if census reports are not wrong, Young Wagner hails also from the western portion of our metropolis.

The rejuvenation of Aunt Mary has nothing whatever upon the comeback of that ferocious miller, Kid Paul.

Last evening the kid was at his best, and this mix was filled with animated action from gong to gong. It was for four rounds, and it was biff-bang most of the way.

Wagner kept a left in reserve, like our naval militia, and occasionally forgot himself so far as to use it. The Wagner one lacks experience, but did very well for a novice.

Every once in a while Young Wagner would stare a blow and would then become skeptical about using it and would gently let his glove sink against the handsome countenance of Kid Paul.

But Wagner showed the signs of a belligerent temperament many times and landed that left with resounding effect. The kid was there with wicked rights and kept coming all the time, and had the shade.

It was a great victory for that section of our city lying between Third and Second avenues east on Superior street. A chop suey supper celebrated the event, we are told.

P. S.—The Kid says he is now ready for any one in the world of his weight.

Dr. Ned McNulty of Duluth acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the warriors.

AMERICAN FIGHTERS INVADE ANTIPODES.

San Francisco, Cal., April 8.—Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Ind., the middleweight pugilist, left suddenly yesterday with his manager for Australia via the liner Ventura. He said he had agreed to fight three bouts for "Snowy" Baker, the Australian promoter. With Clabby went Steve Ketchell and Joe Walling, Chicago lightweights, and Johnny Shiff, a Los Angeles featherweight.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 8.—Clabby's trip to Australia will not affect his status as a probationer of the Los Angeles police court, under suspended sentence of three years as a result of a street brawl in which a policeman was severely beaten. Police Judge White said he had given Clabby permission to go to Australia when the pugilist represented that he was going for legitimate engagements and would return soon.

WALTTR NASGODA TO MEET BILLY HARVEY.

Under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World, Walter Nasgoda and Billy Harvey, two of the best of the welterweight wrestlers of Duluth, will meet this evening at the old Masonic temple.

As both of the boys are evenly matched and both are about the best that have been produced here, the bout should be a corker.

The bout will be to a finish and should result in a fine contest.

DUBS TO FIGHT FOR BRITAIN'S TITLE.

New York, April 8.—Arrangements have been completed for a fight between Jim Coffey, the "Dublin Giant," and Bombardier Wells for the heavyweight championship of Great Britain, according to private cable advices received here. June 29 has been set as the date.

The contest will be held in London under the auspices of the National Sporting club.

Cole Out for Senator.

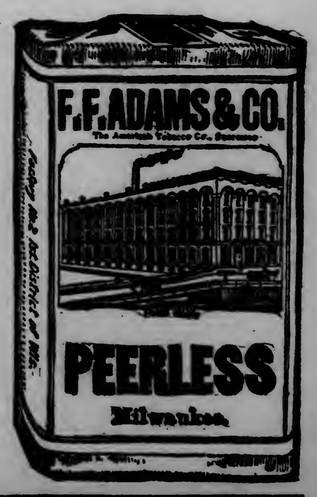
Columbus, Ohio, April 8.—Former Congressman Ralph D. Cole of Findlay made formal announcement here last night of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator at the August primaries.

For Manly Men

We have purposely made up a tobacco to appeal to the strong, vigorous man who wants full flavor and fragrance combined with natural sweetness in his smoke or chew. This tobacco is PEERLESS. It was put on the market fifty years ago especially to satisfy the tobacco hungry man. It has filled the bill.

Firemen, policemen, out-of-doors men, two-fisted men in general, all say PEERLESS satisfies. Once they start using PEERLESS they cannot get the same satisfaction out of any other brand.

PEERLESS



Long Cut Tobacco

has character to it. That's why it appeals to and pleases these men of sturdy character.

PEERLESS is made from pure Southern Kentucky leaf, aged for three to five years, so as to bring out slowly and naturally all the juicy mellowness and richness of the tobacco. That's why its quality never varies—and that's why hurried-up, hashed-up tobaccos can't compare with PEERLESS.

In the strenuous hours of work or in the pleasant hours of relaxation, be sure to have some of this wonderful tobacco with you.

Just try PEERLESS for a week—"Smoke it or chew it—but go straight to it." Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

Other sizes, 10c, 20c and 40c Packages, and 45c Tin Pails.

ROAD MATTERS ARE CONSIDERED

Lake County Board Disposes of Various Highway Subjects.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners yesterday received a communication from the town board of Two Harbors and Matt Spellum, one of the supervisors appeared before the board asking the county to construct the road laid out between section 3. This road starts at Waldo and runs to Drummond and would be a big aid to farmers in that vicinity. The county board adopted a resolution to build the road and will be reimbursed by the town of Two Harbors to the extent of $1,500.

Messrs. Hillman, Oman, Holbeck, John Peterson and Robert Peterson appeared before the board and asked the county to raise the Stewart river bridge and to cut down the hills so as to modify the grade. After considering the matter they decided to refer it to Mr. Hanson, superintendent of road construction and advised him to take the matter up with the town of Silver Creek.

To Reimburse County.

County Auditor Paulson reported that he had appeared before the tax commission and also met the state highway commission and made arrangements so that the county will be reimbursed for any engineering work done on roads on which state aid will be received.

The state highway commission reported that Lake county has been apportioned the sum of $14,000 to be expended in accordance with the provisions of the state highway commission.

Mr. Dwan appeared in behalf of the Lake County Development association asking the county for aid in defraying expenses in advertising the agricultural resources of Lake county and payment of annual dues to the Northern Minnesota Development association. The county appropriated $400. The auditor was instructed to call for bids for a road grader.

ERRORS FOUND IN CITY BOOKS

Eveleth, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Irregularities, errors and discrepancies involving comparatively small amounts were disclosed in an auditor's report on city books of which a synopsis was read at the council meeting last night. The report covered the findings from an audit of th city books for the years 1912 and 1913.

Incidents were cited where bills had been paid allowed in larger amounts than originally authorized by the council; where parts of certain bills were duplicated; where illegal expenditures had been made for band music for a Fourth of July celebration and for a banquet for the council; where bills had been overpaid through clerical errors and where errors had been made in figuring the amounts of bills and contracts; where no returns had been made to the city for fees collected by the clerk for filing chattel mortgages, by the health commissioner for recording births and deaths and by the chief of police for serving papers, where there was evidence of public officials having been interested directly or indirectly in small transactions with the city.

Liquor Licenses Transferred.

Five liquor license renewals and a transfer were granted.

An ordinance was passed extending the fire limits.

The report of the health commissioner showed twenty-five births and six deaths in the city for the month of March. Four cases of scarlet fever were reported during the month.

Rupture Cured At Home

His Remedy and Big, Interesting Book Sent Free to All Sufferers.

If Captain Collings could cure himself of a double rupture that kept him bed-ridden for years, by a simple means of his own invention, why can not you achieve the same blessed result by doing as he did? You can't be much, if any, worse off than this old seafarer was, for no truss could hold his rupture. Doctors told him he must be operated upon or die. Yet he cured himself absolutely and his big, free book tells how.

"Blast my toplights! I can dance the hornpipe as well as if I'd never been ruptured."

Why should you continue to go through life with the awful handicap of a rupture? Why be annoyed and embarrassed by awkward, uncomfortable and ineffective trusses that are only makeshifts at the best? Why be denied so many of the pleasures and joys of life because the slightest violent exertion may cause the truss to slip and the rupture to displace?

Do not put up with these things. Get Captain Collings' absorbingly interesting book and his free remedy that is so generously offered to those who suffer as he did for so long. Costs you not a penny—places you under no obligation whatever. Just clip and mail the coupon below and receive book and remedy free of all charge and prepaid.

VILLAGE PRESIDENT ALSO TOASTMASTER

PATRICK HAGEN.

Mountain Iron, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Patrick Hagen, the new postmaster here, is serving his third term as mayor of Mountain Iron and is one of the village's most popular citizens. Born in Rockland, Mich., in 1866, at the age of 17 he went to Ironwood, Mich., where he was employed as a grocery clerk for fifteen years and coming here ten years ago embarked in the mercantile business with G. J. Orcutt, and F. J. Matchefts in the Mountain Iron store. Mountain Iron has a population of about 2,000 and a taxable valuation of nearly $11,000,000.

Under Mr. Hagen's administration Mountain Iron has taken a new lease of life, and many permanent improvements have been accomplished. During 1914 several of the village streets will be opened, a free public library, and a city hall will be built and some parks placed in different parts of the village.

MICHAEL BOYLAN NOW IN CHARGE

Virginia, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor M. A. Murphy last evening turned over the gavel to Mayor-elect Michael Boylan, who assumed the reins of office, and amid the best of feeling the incoming and the outgoing administration fraternized. The City band was on hand to add music to the occasion, while many fine floral tributes graced the council chamber, and a large number of spectators cheered the outgoing and the incoming administrations.

In laying down the cares of office, Mayor Murphy referred modestly to some of the things his administration had accomplished, the most notable of which was taking over the light and water plant, and added that he wished his successor every success.

Boylan Eight-Hour Man.

Mayor Boylan, thanking Mr. Murphy for his good wishes, said that he hoped to acquit himself creditably in the onerous position he had assumed. He said he wanted to see an eight-hour day for city employes, music in parks, a public gymnasium and a municipally owned gas plant.

After these felicitations connected with the change in mayors, the council got down to real business—the division of the offices. The forecast in yesterday's Herald was carried out, the following being elected: Fred J. Mollan, president of the council; C. W. Lundstrom, vice president; Albert E. Bickford, city clerk; R. J. Montague, city attorney; A. E. Anderson, city engineer; Peter King, poundmaster; Carl Anderson, scavenger; M. Halvorson, plumbing inspector.

There was a deadlock over the positions of assessor and street commissioner and no appointments were made.

The appointment of a health officer and milk inspector was left over to the next meeting of the council next Tuesday.

HIBBING COP TO CHASE SPEEDERS

Hibbing, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The council last evening ordered additional pieces of motor-driven machinery. A two-cylinder motorcycle with speedometer was bought from the Range Cornice & Roofing company for $325, to be used by the police department in the pursuit and timing of speeders. The Kelley Hardware company of Duluth had a bid in on an Excelsior machine with electric starter.

A 50-horse power Kissel street sprinkler and flusher was purchased from John Makl, the cost being $4,650. There was but the one bid in.

WHITE WAY POSTS BOUGHT BY HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for 461 white-way posts to be used in the extensions planned for the coming season was awarded at the water and light board meeting to Elmer P. Morris of New York at a price of $30.65 per post, or $14,129.65 for the lot.

The posts are specially cast for the village and are of a design that will match with the present system. The base and post has a heavier appearance, weighs more and yet costs less than the ones purchased last year. A sample was cast and set up for the board. Shipment will be made as soon as possible.

The board decided to call for bids at once for the laying of the cement foundations for the posts and the filling in of the conduit trenches.

DESERTER SURRENDERS.

Eveleth, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Richard H. Loveless, a deserter from a United States army post at Fort Bayless, Wash., surrendered himself to an officer here. The police communicated with the army officers and have been instructed to hold the deserter for delivery to the officials at Fort Snelling, St. Paul.

"I want to square myself," Loveless explains as his reason for giving himself up. "Imprisonment will be better than the feeling that there is a reward out for my capture. I will regain my citizenship and come out a free man."

Loveless enlisted two years ago in the Twenty-sixth company, Coast Artillery corps, according to his story, and deserted Aug. 8, 1913. Since deserting he has traveled about the country a great deal.

BRAZICH CASE GIVEN TO JURY

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The evidence was concluded in district court late yesterday in the case against Bozo Brazich indicted for killing Officer Kokko at Nashwauk Feb. 10 last. This morning the lawyers summed up, the judge charged the jury and the twelve retired at 11:30 to deliberate.

Many witnesses were heard, all having more or less bearing on the case but the two important witnesses were Eli Karakus who is one of the men indicted with Brazich and Mary Boncich.

Karakus testified to having seen Brazich with a gun shooting at Kokko, the policeman who was killed.

Accused Had Only Gun.

Brazich, it was shown, had the only gun around the place and the only gun found by the officers. Mary Boncich testified that she was in bed the time of the shooting and that she was awakened by the noise, that Brazich ran into the room next to hers and threw himself on the bed and began to cry saying that the policeman had killed his brother and that he had killed the policeman. Immediately following the trial of Brazich Judge Wright adjourned court until April 21. This adjournment leaves the court with probably the cleanest calander of any adjournment ever had. At this term there were only three cases continued and of these two will probably be settled out of court.

There are only seven jury cases left on the calendar and seven or eight court cases making not over fifteen cases in all left on the calendar. The cases in the murder trial of the assailments of Kokko will be taken up at the time of reconvening of court on April 21.

MANDAMUS CASE IS BEFORE JUDGE

Chisholm, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney C. R. Woods for Recorder Culver and Attorney Edward Freeman on behalf of Former Deputy Village Recorder Frank Austin argued the mandamus proceedings last evening in Hibbing before Judge Hughes. Mr. Freeman claimed the mandamus proceedings were not proper in that they were not served on Former Village Recorder Minty Tramontin. After listening to numerous citations Judge Martin Hughes took the matter under advisement and will either decide to quash the proceedings or render his decision on the facts as submitted. It is believed that the matter will be disposed of within a week and that records belonging to the incoming recorder will be turned over to him in a reasonable time. The village council will meet this evening, at which time the matter of turning the records over to Mr. Culver may be done by agreement.

VILLAGE HALL CHANGES.

Chisholm, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light board yesterday afternoon issued instructions to have the village hall so arranged that offices will be provided separately for the village recorder and the clerk of the water and light board. The work will be started at once and the new offices arranged soon to accommodate the newly created offices made by the council. Several new bureaus have been created which require department heads and those rooms are included in the new arrangement.

The jail office will be enlarged and in the women's cell the old steel inner cage will be dispensed with and the padded cell rearranged.

Aside from ordering furniture for the new office of the superintendent of the water department and the passage of the monthly bill and payroll the meeting was without special feature.

SULLIVAN WINS CUP.

Chisholm Man Finally Carries Off the Bowling Trophy.

Chisholm, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Tramontin Bros.' silver bowling trophy cup has finally been awarded to C. J. Sullivan, who won the final contest with John Bullot after all other competitors had been eliminated. The windup of the contest between Bullot and Sullivan was close and exciting. Bullot got a noticeable lead in the first two games, but the pins then began breaking bad for him and better for Sullivan until at the finish. Sullivan won by 46 pins. His score was 1,636 and Bullot's 1,590. In one game Sullivan bowled 234 and Bullot in the same game 232. Sullivan's average for the nine games was 182 and Bullot's 177. Both of these men bowled in the recent Duluth tournament, but did not make as good scores as some of the other Chisholm bowlers at that time.

EVELETH BANK TO ERECT NEW BUILDING.

Eveleth, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Miners' National bank of this city has purchased the Tower hotel property at the corner of Jones street and Grant avenue, owned by Nels Anderson.

The two-story frame hotel building will be razed to give place to a two-story brick bank and office building.

CLOUDY

Again cloudy weather is predicted. Ain't it awful? Along comes one fair day and then the weather man grows stingy again and hands us the clouds. Of course it's only "partly cloudy," but it will be enough to obscure the sun at times anyway, and sun baths will be interrupted. Oh, well!

The weather was gray and cold a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 5:33 and will set this evening at 6:46, giving thirteen hours and thirteen minutes of sunshine, three minutes more than yesterday. Wonder if the double "13" will prove unlucky.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Colder weather prevails in the lake region, the Central valleys and Southwestern states, with freezing temperatures southward to Southwestern New Mexico and Central Texas. During the last twenty-four hours rain or snow fell over the lake region, Ohio and Lower Mississippi valleys, the extreme Southwest, Rocky mountains and plateau region."

A SPARTAN OUTRAGE.

House Wired Up and Match Applied, But Inmates Escape.

Gilbert, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is intense indignation here and at Sparta over the despicable attempt made early yesterday to burn the boarding house of Paul Kovaceovich in the Sparta location and perhaps cremate five men, a woman and child sleeping in the place. The lower door was wired and the match applied but before the fire attained great headway the inmates of the house were aroused and escape, some being cut in getting out. There appears to be no clue to the villains who tried the murder stunt.

GILBERT GIRL TO WED.

Will Become Bride of Ironwood, Mich., Young Man Next Week.

Gilbert, Minn., April 8.—Announcements have been issued of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Martha Wiggins of Gilbert to George Abeel, Jr., of Ironwood, Mich. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Carmichael, here next Wednesday, the 16th. Miss Wiggins was born and raised in Negaunee and is a graduate of the Negaunee high school. The family moved to the Mesaba range three years ago. Bert Carmichael, a brother, holds a responsible position with the Oliver Iron Mining company here.

RAILROAD'S OFFER.

Tells Hibbing Council What It Will Do About Alice Viaduct.

Hibbing, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the Great Northern railroad agrees to construct a viaduct over its crossings at Alice, the village council will not demand a viaduct over the new yards to be constructed near the Winston-Dear properties.

Representatives of the company appeared before the council yesterday afternoon with a map of the proposed improvements. So that the people going in that direction need not pass over four or five railroad tracks, the road asks permission to change the road at Brooklyn road, making it about 300 feet longer. The change would necessitate crossing only one track.

Earl Hunner of the Great Northern ore properties appeared with the representatives of the road to show that within a few years work on the property known as the Longyear No. 2 would be started and the present road would have to be abolished.

There is some talk of cementing the road through Brooklyn and abandoning the highway that must be changed.

William T. Bray, a Duluth architect, is working on the plans for the building, which is to be among the finest in Eveleth. Work will be started as soon as possible.

ELY FOR LICENSE BY 125 MAJORITY

Ely, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a majority of 125 votes the people of Ely who expressed themselves at the polls yesterday on the license question favored continuing the city in the "wet" column. It was the most exciting election probably ever held here right up to the minute the last vote was counted. The vote was the largest polled in years.

John A. Harri and John Schaefer were elected by large majorities as mayor and municipal court judge, respectively.

Arthur Toma was elected city treasurer and Anton Kotchevar was elected assessor. The alderman elected were Mike Somero, James White, Fred James, Olaf Knutson, John Preshiren and Axel Hegfors.

BAYLISS BANQUET.

Plans Perfected for Giving Chisholm Social Affair.

Chisholm, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committees in charge have prepared the following program for the farewell banquet to be tendered Mining Superintendent Bayliss, who has moved to Eveleth, at the O'Neill hotel Saturday evening, April 25:

Violin solo, Edward Hagen; vocal solo, Miss Winnifred Hayes; vocal solo; Douglas Smith; vocal solo, Miss Winnifred Andrews; vocal solo, George Blasing; piano solo, Miss Lucile Brandenburg; vocal solo, Harry Angst; cornet solo, Oscar Simstrem; reading, Mrs. Harry Angst; selection, High School Glee club. Outside speakers will include Warren E. Greene and Judge Martin Hughes.

HIBBING GUN CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS.

Hibbing, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—An enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Gun club was held last evening. Officers were elected, plans made for the season's shoots and an interesting talk given by Fred Myers of Biwabik, a member of the state game and fish commission.

The officers for the coming year are: President, D. F. W. Bullen; vice president, L. J. Micka; secretary and treasurer, J. L. Lewis; assistant secretary, W. H. Day; field captain, John Adams.

It was decided to co-operate with the county fair officials in the erection of a new judges' stand, the lower part of which would be used by the club during their shoots.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active. HAVE YOU HAD THE GRIP?

There are certain disorders, such as the grip, that especially debilitate and make the body an easy prey for more dangerous diseases. Ask those who have had the grip regarding the present condition of their health and most of them will answer: "Since I had the grip I have never been well." They still have profuse perspiration, the persistent weakness of the limbs, the disordered digestion, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart caused by the thin-blooded condition in which the grip almost always leaves its victim after the fever and influenza have subsided. They are furthermore, at the mercy of relapses and of complications, often very serious. In an attack of the grip there is a rapid thinning of the blood and not until the blood is built up again is complete health restored.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly make the blood rich and red, drive out the lingering germs from the system and transform despondent grip victims into cheerful, healthy men and women.

HIBBING COUNCIL NOTES.

Liquor License Hearing Is Postponed to Next Week.

Hibbing, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report of the clerk of the municipal court was submitted to the council yesterday afternoon for the week ending March 30, showed that from village and state cases the court received $59.66, from civil cases $25, while the expenses amounted to $13.10. The balance $71.56 was turned over to the village treasurer.

Bids for the laying of curb and gutter on First and Hibbing avenues in Alice will be received by the council at a meeting in the near future, the village engineer having been instructed to prepare plans and specifications. With this work completed the sidewalks in that section of the village can be laid this season.

Postpone License Hearing.

Because Robert Stratton, attorney for Mario Sognalla claimed that the notice had not been given in time for a proper preparation of a defense, the hearing as to why the license held by Sognalla should not be revoked, was postponed until next week. The council had its evidence ready to show that the saloonkeeper had sold to minors and was prepared to take action.

BIWABIK HONORS LATE J. E. RILEY.

Biwabik, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The people of this village paid a fine tribute this morning to the late village clerk, John Emmet Riley, by closing all business houses during the time of the funeral, from 10 to 11. High mass was celebrated at St. John's Catholic church by Rev. Father Leydon the church being crowded, all village officials, past and present, being present. Interment was in Lakeside cemetery. The pall bearers were: Ed Kenny, Pete O'Donnell, J. D. Sullivan, J. P. Beatty, O. E. Everett, F. A. Hawerdon.

The New Council Meets.

The old village council held its last meeting last night and wound up some routine business. The new council then met but out of respect to the late village clerk, John E. Riley, adjourned until April 15 without doing anything. At the next meeting the various offices will be filled.

FAMILY AFFAIRS AIRED AT VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The trial of the case of August Walberg versus his son-in-law, Leroy Edwards, to recover $1,000 for the keep of Edwards' wife and son, began in district court this afternoon before Judge Hughes and promises to be quite an airing of family troubles.

The grand jury is still in session working it is reported on the Baikan election in which colonization is alleged. It is reported that the jury will find it difficult to return a true bill in this case. The jury is expected to report some time tomorrow.

GRAND RAPIDS CONTEST.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be an interclass cup contest in orations and declamations between high school students at the high school tonight in which the following will participate:

Seniors: Wayne Gilbert, Ethel Kremer, Will Whaling.

Juniors: Evelyn Lane, George Mooers, Gladys Sisler.

Sophomores: Edith Brackin, Frank McCormick, Kenneth Sutherland.

Freshmen: David Brandon, Elmore Roecker, Joseph Kennedy.

CONSIDER ITASCA ROAD QUESTIONS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Itasca county board is considering the bids for the big state road contracts which were presented at the last meeting. The contracts for all of state road No. 2, except the Cohasset-Deer River portio not this road will be let, and the contract for the north and south road from Deer River to the county line on the north will be let at this meeting. Aside from this a number of minor road maters will be taken up and disposed of.

BUHL OFFICIALS REPLY TO CHARGES.

Buhl, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the charges are the result of peevishness on the part of disappointed office-seekers and are not supported by the truth is the claim of local officials in connection with the charges brought against John F. Dougherty, who was employed last year as a construction foreman for the village in an extensive municipal campaign.

Dougherty, it is alleged, was hired on a percentage basis to superintend village improvements, and in the course of the paving work bought 14,000 sacks of cement. It is alleged that Dougherty sold the sacks for 10 cents each, netting $1,400, and that the money was never returned to the city.

BANGOR MINERS ARE STILL OUT.

Virginia, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—From all that can be learned at this distance from the scene of the Bangor mine trouble the miners who quit because of the adoption of the contract wage system are still out. No reports have been received here of disturbances at the mine.

CLUB HOLDS ITS ELECTION

Public Affairs Committee Will Also Hold Annual Meeting.

Name May Be Changed to Duluth Association of Commerce.

The annual election of the Duluth Commercial club is taking place today, the polls being open practically all day for the receiving of the vote on the candidates for the board of directors.

This evening the annual meeting will take place, and coupled with it, for the first time, will be the regular monthly meeting of the public affairs committee. The combined meeting promises to be an unusually interesting one and every effort is being made to have every member of the club attend. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner, served at 6:15 and it is expected that the dining room of the club will be taxed to its full capacity.

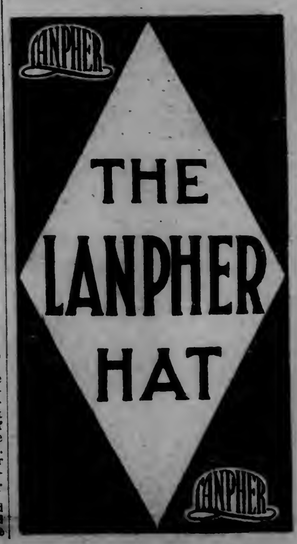
At the meeting the annual reports will be read and a complete history of what the club has accomplished in the last twelve months will be given. That the club has achieved some big things since the last annual meeting is well known, but they will be heard of again tonight in pleasant reminiscence; and plans will be made for a campaign of progress for the ensuing year.

One question of importance which will come up will be that of changing the name of the club from "Duluth Commercial club" to "Duluth Association of Commerce." It is likely that some decision will be reached in this matter this evening.

LEASE MANY ACRES IN MORTON COUNTY.

Mandan, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Over 175,000 acres of state school lands in Morton county will be leased April 25, under the direction of Commissioner Frank Henry of the land department.

The Morton county lands are largely grazing lands, and constitute the greatest area under state ownership in any county in the state.



Commissioner Henry has a series of leasings in all parts of the state during the present month.

Cleaning Up Minot.

Minot, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The newly appointed police chief of Minot inaugurated a civic cleanup campaign by arresting three alleged blind-piggers in raids. Mrs. Louise Rush was arrested in her place, and a considerable quantity of beer was confiscated. L. J. Turner and John Sampson are the other accused men.

To Use Minot Normal.

Minot, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—School sessions are being held in the Minot normal school building this week, the main structure having reached such stage of completion that its occupancy is now possible.

PLAN ORGANIZATION OF COUNTY SCHOOLS

State Board of Education Has Meeting at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Details of the organization of county school districts were discussed today at a conference of the members of the state educational commission.

The commission proposes to do away with rural districts as such, and combine all schools in each county outside of independent districts under one board of five members elected by the people.

There are now 7,500 rural districts in Minnesota, each governed by a board of three trustees, making a total of 22,500 school officials. The new plan is to have a single board for each county, eighty-six in all, with a membership of but 430.

The problem before the commission is how to define the school boundaries within a county. It is likely that the territory to be served by each school will be left to the discretion of the county board. The question of future organization of independent districts was also discussed.

NO NEWS OF LOST SEALING VESSEL.

St. John's Nfld., April 8.—There was no news today of the Southern Cross and her crew of 173 men. Wreckage is occasionally sighted, but it cannot be connected with the missing sealer.

Asks for Relief.

New York, April 8.—William J. Ellis, mayor of St. John's, Nfld., now in this city, has issued a call for a meeting of Newfoundlanders in New York tomorrow evening to organize relief for the families that have suffered through the sealing disaster.

PHYSICIAN KILLS ARIZONA RANCHMAN

Phoenix, Ariz., April 8.—T. E. P. Booth, foreman of a ranch near here, was shot and killed today by Dr. L. E. Wiggins, a physician of Shelby county, Texas. Dr. Wiggins surrendered himself to the sheriff.

The physician charged that Booth had wrecked his home.

CARPENTERS' UNION No. 361

You are requested to attend the funeral of Mrs. Anna Hay, wife of Brother A. M. Hay, from the residence, 319 East Fourth street, tomorrow (April 9th) at 2 o'clock p. m.
CHAS. McKINNON, Pres.

HANDLING GRAIN AT BUFFALO ELEVATORS

Boats May Be Ready to Start West April 15.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8.—Handling of grain was resumed at the elevators here today. The housemen returned to work pursuant to a settlement whereby the men receive an increase of 10 per cent in wages. The work on transferring the 7,500,000 bushels of grain afloat here will be rushed, and some of the grain boats may start out as early as April 15, if ice conditions in the upper lakes are favorable.

DRYS GAINING IN CHIPPEWA COUNTY.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., April 8.—The villages of New Auburn, Holcomb and Cornell yesterday voted dry. Fourteen out of nineteen country districts in Chippewa county voted dry. Chippewa Falls voted in favor of enforcing the Sunday closing law.

John T. Twohy was elected mayor, the vote being the lightest in twenty-five years.

Special Sessions Returns Slow.

Madison, Wis., April 8.—Only meager information has reached the capital regarding the vote in various towns of the state on the question of a special session of the legislature. The town of Merrimac, Sauk county, voted unanimously against it. Fox Lake, La Valle, Mazomanie and Borneveld voted unanimously for it.

RESERVOIR BREAKS; OHIO TOWN FLOODED.

Galion, Ohio, April 8.—The retaining wall of the west reservoir of the Big Four railroad broke early today, flooding the lowlands in this city. Property damage, it is said, will be considerable. There was no loss of life.

Winburn Heads Georgia Road.

Savannah, Ga., April 8.—William A. Winburn of Savennah, vice president of the Central of Georgia railway, was elected president at the meeting of directors of the road today. He succeeds C. H. Markham of Chicago.

NAT GOODWIN NOW AN AUTHOR

Much-Married Actor Writes His Biography and Calls It "I Wonder."

Kansas City Star: Nat Goodwin has written his biography, which is about to be published. As the man in the street remarked, "it ought to be a hum-dinger"—and it is fair to assume that means about everything that is superlative. And by the way, Mr. Goodwin explains that his real name is Nathaniel Carl Goodwin, Jr.—just like that. "I've been Nat so long," he remarks, "that when I try to use my whole name I'm like the man the dog bit because he came home sober."

Mr. Goodwin has been writing his book "goin' on to" five years, and, having brought it up to date, he finds that it totals ninety chapters, has 300 illustrations and covers a period of forty years. He calls it "I Wonder;" it isn't clear just why.

Friends Judged His Manuscript.

Most of the work on "I Wonder" was performed at the actor's ranch in Southern California and at his home at Santa Monica. Friends and acquaintances of the stage and well-disposed real estate agents—the latter, it seems, comprise the bulk of Southern California's population—would sit around and pass judgment on the admissibility of the evidence as Mr. Godwin read his manuscript aloud to them. This "I Wonder" waxed great in anecdotes.

Like many famous actors, young Nat showed no inclination for the stage in the days of his graduation from "the Little Blue Academy" down in Maine, though he points with pride to the fact that his valedictory address before his schoolmates called forth great praise from the local newspapers. While in his 'teens he was persuaded to take a small part in a little play which was staged in Providence. This was his first appearance and lasted not quite five minutes. In grease paint and grotesque costume he fled back home to Boston and mother, declaring, "Send me to a shoemaker's and let me learn the trade! I can never be an actor!"

Goodwin, however, changed his mind about being a shoemaker and began to spend all his evenings at the old Boston Museum. There he frequently "suped." One of his first real parts was in the title role of "Nathan Hale." Of the first appearance he relates the following anecdote:

Charles Hot had assured me of his intention of being present with his wife. But she refused to accompany him, and Charley, having purchased two tickets, sought someone to go with him. He soon found a friend and invited him to go along. Much to his astonishment, the friend quietly and firmly refused the invitation.

"Why not?" asked Hoyt.

"I don't like Goodwin," his friend replied.

"Well," said Charley, "you like him as an artist, don't you?"

"No," replied the other, "I don't like him on or off the stage."

"Come along," said Charley, "you are sure to enjoy this performance. They hang Nat in the last act."

Cohan World's Greatest Genius.

Concerning his contemporaries in the profession Mr. Goodwin pays special tribute to E. H. Sothern and George Cohan—and the greater of these is apparently George.

"If ever a man deserved the position he attained," writes Mr. Goodwin, "it is Edward H. Sothern—if only for his energy and tenacity of purpose. Even in this country, surrounded as he is by productions of beastly immorality on every hand, to be able to make Shakespeare a paying investment is an achievement to be proud of." He continues: "Any man who has the courage to announce his intention of playing 'Macbeth' for one week on Broadway—and does it—deserves a place in the Hall of Fame. Hats off to Edward H. Sothern!"

As for George M. Cohan, Mr. Goodwin calls him, quite simply, "the greatest genius the stage of any country has ever brought forth." Also, George is "one of the dearest of my friends. For years, in spite of a feeling of familiarity on my part that bordered on affection, Georgie always addressed me as 'Mister' Goodwin. Finally I remonstrated with him. 'Call me Nat,' I urged.

"'I'd like to,' replied George, 'but I can't. You're too big a man to call by his first name.'"

Nat Did the Divorcing.

Somebody, somewhere, once wrote that Nat Goodwin was more "divorced against" than "divorcing." "That is a very pretty paraphrase," observes Nat, "but like most things printed about me—untrue. Of three divorces in which I have figured I obtained two—and had to work very hard and spend an enormous sum of money to enable Edna Goodrich to obtain the other. Here is the way Mr. Goodwin discusses his adventures:

"I suppose I have no right to refer to the sanctity of marriage trivially—'a union of two souls' cemented by a paid preacher should at least be treated with respect. Granted! From the point of view of some persons this is all true, but for my part I have no reverence for any sanctified ceremony or obligation that can be annulled by a $5,000-a-year judge.

"I have the same respect for the marriage ceremony, as far as the church part of it is concerned, as I have for the warden of a prison who opens the gate for a murderer and allows him to go free.

"My second marriage with a young society lady of Buffalo, a married woman whose name was Mrs. Nellie Baker Pease—who came to take tea with my mother and stayed three months—was absolutely and solely the result of her overwhelming desire to get out of 'society' and into 'Bohemia.'

"As has been the case too often with me and as is usually the case with all young men who marry—I had nothing to say about it at all. Mrs. Pease told me there was much 'talk' about us, and the only proper thing for me to do was 'prove to the world' a great many things, including my devotion to her—and do them all by marrying her.

"Poor lady! How little she knew her own mind—or at least to gain that way an entree into the mysterious land she called Bohemia. As it was she found no happiness with me — and eventually it became necessary to divorce her."

Mr. Goodwin's discussion of his marriages somehow suggests to his mind the affiliated subject of divorce. However that may be, he reverts to the case of Maxine Elliott. Says he:

"It was far more expensive for me to divorce Maxine Elliott than it cost to wed her—I mean as far as the actual cost of the ceremony went. The parson never got a peek at my bank roll. The divorce counsel did—but they earned their fee.

"Talk about Reno being the Mecca for vacillating souls! If the poor, deluded ladies only knew New York—the real New York in its relation to divorces—they would know that by comparison the Empire state makes Reno look like a Mormon mausoleum.'

The story of the wreck of the sloop on the California coast and the accident which nearly cost Mr. Goodwin his life in the summer of 1912 is told in great detail by the actor. He gives to Miss Margaret Moreland, who is now his wife—or was when last heard from—entire credit for his rescue both from the waves and from the doctors. Of the latter he writes:

"I suppose I should not complain because they wanted to cut me open to find out if they were correct in their conjecture as to what had happened to me!

"But Miss Moreland objected!

"And by objecting she saved my life. One of the physicians has admitted it to me—since. Their argument was simple. If they were correct in their conjecture—all right—if not, they could sew me up again and put me under the ground."

During his long convalescence Mr. Goodwin says he discovered the meaning of the term "fair weather friendship" and had occasion to revise his list of friends. He also had the privilege of reading his own obituary and discovered what an important person he really was. "When I am denied the opportunity of reading my next obituary," he observes, "I hope those who write it will deal kindly with the poor player whose only mission on earth was earnestly to endeavor to live to make the world laugh at sorrow and smile away the tear."

RURAL FOR SURE.

Lippincott's Magazine: A party of Nashville motorists turned a sharp curve in the Cumberland mountains and paused for a look at the scenery. Just below them, on a jutting rock, a mountain boy of about 19 was looking dejectedly up and down the road, evidently in search of something.

"Say, lady," he asked one of the party as the car started, "is you seen anything of a cow down the road named Crump?"

REPUBLICAN WILL SUCCEED BREMNER

Democrat Is Elected to Congress From Twelfth Massachusetts.

Paterson, N. J., April 8.—The Republicans gained and the Democrats lost a seat in the house of representatives as the result of the special election in the Seventh New Jersey district. Dow H. Drukker, a contractor of Passaic, was elected congressman to succeed the late Robert L. Bremner by more than 5,000 plurality over James J. O'Byrne, personally indorsed by President Wilson and aided by some of the foremost campaign speakers at the call of the administration.

With two out of 112 election districts missing, Drukker got 10,469 votes and O'Byrne 5,143. Demarest, Socialist, got 5,118 and Whitehead, Progressive, 600 (estimated).

No Slap at Wilson.

Leading Democrats refused to accept the result of the election as a repudiation of New Jersey's first citizen. They declared that the reapportionment of 1912, which divorced Passaic county from Sussex and Bergen counties and placed it in a congressional district by itself, left a normal Republican plurality. Although Congressman Bremner, a Democrat, was elected by this new district, the Democrats assert this his success was a personal one.

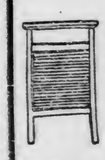
The Seventh district is one of the centers of the silk and woolen spinning industry in America. Drukker made his campaign appeal chiefly on the tariff issue, declaring that the manufacturers and the workmen in the district had suffered from the reductions brought about by the Democratic administration.

Statement By Doremus.

Washington, April 8.—When news of the Republican victory in the Seventh New Jersey district came, Representative Doremus of Michigan, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, after a conference with Secretary Tumulty at the White House, issued this statement:

"Two special congressional elections were held Tuesday—one in the Seventh New Jersey and the other in the Twelfth Massachusetts. These two elections the Democrats broke even. The Seventh New Jersey district as recently jerrymandered, is strongly Republican and always has been. The late Mr. Bremner, because of his tremendous personal popularity, was probably the only Democrat who could carry the district. If the Democrats had succeeded there yesterday, it would have been almost a miracle."

Democrat Succeeds Curley.



Boston, Mass., April 8.—James A. Gallivan, Democrat, was elected to congress from the Twelfth district to fill the unexpired term of Mayor James M. Curley, resigned. He received a majority in a triangular contest. The vote was: Gallivan, 8,708; Frank L. Brier, Republican, 3,973; James B. Connolly, Progressive, 3,592.

SCHOOL UNION VERY POPULAR

Consolidated Schools in Forty-Three of Fifty North Dakota Counties.

Towner County, in North Central Section, Is in Lead With Fifteen.

Fargo, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first consolidated school map ever prepared in any state showing the distinction between the town and the open country consolidated schools, has just been issued by N. C. Macdonald, state inspector of consolidated, graded and rural schools.

This map shows the exact location of each school in each county, square blocks showing the country and round dots indicating the town consolidated. There are 190 consolidated schools in North Dakota of which 115 are located in towns and seventy-five in rural districts. The gain during the year of 1913 was forty-eight and at least fifty to sixty are anticipated during 1914.

In Nearly all Counties.

There are consolidated schools in forty-three of the fifty counties of the state. The greatest center is in the northern central section. Towner county leads with fifteen, Cavalier on one side is second and Rolette on the other is third. Ramsey county is fourth and Cass fifth. The seven counties in the state without consolidated schools are Burke, Sargent, Dunn, Wells, McIntosh, Griggs and Pembina, the latter being the oldest county in the state.

The counties with only one consolidated school are Dickey, Sheridan, Mercer and Morton, the latter being the largest county of the state.

During the present year it is hoped to establish consolidated schools in each county of North Dakota and the bulk of new ones will be in the counties now having a limited number.

North Dakota educators are somewhat elated over the fact there are more consolidated schools in this than in Minnesota and that the increase during 1913 was more rapid in the land of the Flickertails.

CUYUNA LAND SUIT IN DISTRICT COURT

Partnership Affairs Involving Iron Lands Will Be Aired.

Brainerd, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Partnership affairs alleged to exist between H. J. Kruse, formerly superintendent of the Rogers, Brown Ore company, on the Cuyuna range and Chester D. Tripp, president of the company, are to be aired in a suit for an accounting instituted by Mr. Kruse, the title of the case being H. J. Kruse vs. Chester D. Tripp and the Crow Wing Land company. The suit revolves about the surface rights of land situated in the south half of the northwest one-fourth of section 11, township 46, range 29, in which the Pine Tree Lumber company owned the merchantable iron ore under the surface, of which there are millions of tons.

What Is Alleged.

The complaint recites the sale of a right-of-way through the land to the Soo line, for which $6,400 was received, the securing by contract of 10 cents a ton royalty on the ore. Kruse charges and alleges that the Pine Tree Lumber company and the Crow Wing Land company had paid to Tripp, after making a deed from Tripp to the Pine Tree Lumber company, and after making a contract of 10 cents a ton royalty on iron ore and prior to the commencement of this suit substantially $26,000. Kruse asks that the partnership be dissolved and that an accounting be taken, that a receiver be appointed, that the Crow Wing Land company be restrained from paying to Tripp the percentage of royalties, that Kruse be decreed to be the owner of an undivided one-half interest in and to the agreement between Tripp and the Pine Tree Lumber company, that the interest of Kruse be declared a lien on and in said ore in the ground, and that the court further decree that the full one-half of said 10-cent royalty be hereafter paid by the Crow Wing Land company to the plaintiff. Fryberger, Fulton & Spear, of Duluth are attorneys for Kruse.

LONG EARS THAT BROUGHT $700 PER SPAN.

Crookston, Minn., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—As an illustration of the steady trend in the Minnesota Red River valley toward better stock, Gerrett Smith, a prominent farmer, this week sold two span of mules to the Perley Holding company for $1,400; $700 per span. Mr. Smith has been getting into high grade stock for many years, having splendid mules, and Hereford and Shorthorn cattle, and at a recent sale disposed of over 400 head of stock, all high grade stuff. The two span of mules referred to won first and second prizes, and general sweepstakes, at every fair in Northwestern Minnesota and North Dakota at which they were shown. The price received illustrates the profit in raising high grade rather than scrub stock.

UNION ORGANIZER HELD NOT GUILTY.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 8.—Dennis F. Gorman of Detroit, national organizer of the Upholsterers' union, was declared innocent of shooting Joseph Bayerele, a factory foreman, by a jury in district court here late yesterday. Gorman had been on trial for several days. Bayerele, employed at a factory where a strike was in progress, was shot and dangerously wounded on the morning of Feb. 14. He accused Gorman, who was directing the strike, of having fired the shot. The jury deliberated but a short time.

TO INVESTIGATE LAWYER'S ADDRESS.

Houghton, Mich., April 8.—Former Judge Streeter and Attorneys Burritt and Legris were appointed by Judge O'Brien yesterday to investigate speeches made by A. E. Petermann, an attorney for the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, which he believes may have rendered Petermann liable to prosecution for contempt. The speeches were made in Citizens' Alliance meetings Dec. 7 and 10. Judge O'Brien asked the committee if it is decided to bring proceedings, to begin the action before another judge.

SEVERAL CHILDREN IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Rochester, Minn., April 8.—Mrs. Ann Dooley, widow of John Dooley and a pioneer resident of Olmsted, Aitkin county, died at Cascade April 5, aged 60, and is survived by seven children as follows: Dan and Jerry of Leeds, N. D.; Mrs. Walter Morrison of Cascade; Thomas of Antler, N. D.; Mrs. Fred Johnson of Noonan, N. D.; Ed of San Francisco, and Leo of Max, N. D.; also two stepchildren, John M. Dooley of Brinsmade, N. D., and Mrs. Mary Maroney of Seattle. A brother resides in Washington.

SENT TO ST. CLOUD.

Mill City Young Man, Who Figured in Hotel Robbery, Admits Guilt.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 8.—Still bearing the scar of a bullet wound received in a battle with the clerk of a local hotel, whom he tried to hold up, Russell White late yesterday pleaded guilty to attempted robbery and was sentenced to the state reformatory at St. Cloud. The maximum time which he may serve is seven and one-half years. White entered the hotel early on the morning of Sept. 29, last, and ordered the clerk to hand over the hotel cash. The clerk snatched a revolver from behind the desk, fired and wounded Edwards in the hand. He escaped and was captured a few days ago.

White, who, when arrested, gave his name as R. W. Edwards, is the son of Robert S. White, a contractor of this city, and lives within a block of the hotel on which the robbery was attempted. His identity was not discovered until after the prison sentence had been pronounced. He is 27 years old.

ONE "WET" VOTER LESS IN OSTBURG

So Wisconsin Town Votes License By Decreased Majority of One.

Ostburg, Wis., April 8.—This town yesterday voted in favor of license by a majority of two votes. The result two years ago was a majority of three votes for the "wets." The loss of one "wet" vote is accounted for by the death in an interurban street car accident six weeks ago of a known "wet" sympathizer.

Ashland Could Not Vote.

Ashland, Wis., April 8.—Ashland voters had no opportunity to cast their ballots yesterday. The city authorities decided, as there was only one candidate, Justice Merwin, of the municipal court, to succeed himself, it would be a waste of money to open the election booths. Ashland is a city of 11,000 population.

Result at Brule.

Brule, Wis., April 8.—The following officials were elected here yesterday: P. W. Jay, chairman; John Byorni, supervisor; A. J. Webster, town clerk; O. W. Carlson, treasurer; Oscar Maki, assessor; John Ulvila, justice of the peace; James Heuchenn, constable.

Washburn Finally "Dry."

Washburn, Wis., April 8.—Washburn, which has been "wet" for the last thirty years, voted out the saloons yesterday by a majority of twenty-five after one of the hottest political battles in years. The "drys" also carried seven of the twelve aldermen. Ed Bryan, the "wet" candidate, was elected mayor.

Kenosha Result.

Kenosha, Wis., April 8.—After the most bitter campaign ever known here, Mathias J. Scholey, former mayor and former member of the state assembly, was elected mayor yesterday, defeating Dr. William M. Farr by 492 votes. Scholey received the votes of most of the working men in the city. George W. Harrington was re-elected city clerk and Martin Stimetz city treasurer, and John W. Stevens, assessor.

Big bond issues for schools, bridges and a filtration plant all were defeated by big votes.

FORTUNE HIDDEN AWAY.

Frank J. Mitchell, Lumberman, Had $58,000 in Safety Deposit Box.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—When the safe deposit box held by the late Frank J. Mitchell, lumberman, was opened Monday a fortune was revealed. Wrapped in brown paper were eleven packages of currency amounting to $58,500.

Mr. Mitchell began placing the money in the box in February, 1913. He cashed a check on the First National bank of Stillwater for $75,000. It is believed that he divided this money up in St. Paul banks and from time to time drew out $5,000 lots and put them in his box.

Meta Tozer Mitchell, widow, is dying at St. Joseph's hospital of a mental disease and knows nothing of the rich find.

A bitter struggle over the Mitchell affairs doubtless will take place in the Ramsey county courts. Mitchell married Mrs. Meta Tozer, a rich widow, and all of his money came through her.

In addition to the fortune in currency, Mitchell had many valuable securities and diamonds in the box.

The Northwestern Trust company and W. M. Burns have been appointed guardians for Mrs. Mitchell. The property of Mitchell and his widow amounts to about $700,000. In his will Mitchell left the widow only one-fourth of the estate.

TO REDUCE TAXES.

Convention at Milwaukee in June to Name Complete Ticket.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 8.—E. L. Philipp of Milwaukee is heading a movement to call a Republican state convention of citizens interested in reducing the taxes, to be held in Milwaukee some time in June. A full slate of candidates for state offices will be brought out at this meeting.

In a statement he issued Mr. Philipp said it would be a Wisconsin convention for Wisconsin people and policies. All voters will be welcome who believe in the national Republican party, a protective tariff, retrenchment in expenditures at Madison, and who believe in a clean-up of the state government for the public good.

RAP CITY ABATTOIR.

Grand Forks Women Claim New Enterprise Is Poorly Managed.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charges that the Grand Forks municipal abattoir, recently erected, has failed of its purpose in the elimination of unwholesome conditions usually incident to cattle slaughtering, are made by the Grand Forks Women's Civic league, which yesterday filed formal complaint with Mayor M. F. Murphy and the city council.

The women charge that faulty construction has resulted in insanitary conditions, while the lack of adequate equipment has created waste which, if properly handled, would return profits to the city.

Thorough investigation of the abattoir, methods of construction, and immediate remedying of the defects, are asked by the complainants.

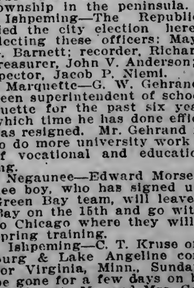
FARGO COLLEGE NOT TO DEBATE.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The triangular debating contract, including the University of North Dakota, University of Manitoba and Fargo college, will not be carried out next year, arrangements having been made whereby Fargo college will be dropped.

North Dakota will debate the University of Manitoba and probably the University of South Dakota.

NO APPLICATIONS

At La Crosse for Food Shipped By Parcel Post Test.



La Crosse, Wis., April 8.—In La Crosse, one of the ten cities in the United States in which the producer-to-the-table experiment is being tried by the postoffice department, not one consumer has thus far applied at the postoffice for the lists painstakingly compiled of the farmers willing to ship directly to the consumer. A long list of farmers has been obtained, but in the eight days the plan has been in operation not one person has offered to take advantage of their proposals. Indirectly, however, the action of the government has had some effect, for prices have come down. Eggs today retailed at 18 cents a dozen, or 2 cents below the best offer made by the farmers shipping via parcel post.

Editor Wedded Fifty Years.

Rochester, Minn., April 8.—The golden wedding anniversary of A. W. Blakely, editor of the Rochester Post and Record and one of the veteran editors of Minnesota, and Mrs. A. W. Blakely has just been celebrated quietly. Mr. Blakely came to Rochester in 1860, working first in the postoffice, and later started his apprenticeship in the newspaper business with his brother, David Blakely, on the Rochester Post.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Minot, N. D.—That the Reporter and the Optic may be consolidated is a persistent rumor here. It is asserted that following the consolidation a telegraph service will be added. This is in line with the rumored consolidations at Fargo and Jamestown and the one made effective some months ago at Grand Forks.

Hazelton, N. D.—The street lighting system here is to be extended. The electric light plant was established a short time ago and the business section of the city lighted. The plan is proving so popular it will be extended into the chief residential sections.

Harvey, N. D.—Falling from the roof of a building on which he was handling the nozzle of a hose, fighting a fire in a business block, Anton Bakken, aged 27, suffered injuries which may cause his death. Bakken is completely paralyzed from the hips down.

Minot, N. D.—With an offer of a free site already before the board of the state lodge, Minot is making an effort to secure the location of the state home for dependant members of the lodge of Odd Fellows.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Funeral services for William Whalen, who died in Minneapolis last Friday, were held April 6 at St. Michael's Catholic church. Interment was in Calvary cemetery.

Fargo, N. D.—Clarence Nordgaard died April 4 at the home of his mother in this city. He was 23 years of age. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Anderson of the United Lutheran church officiated. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Rev. Albert Torget, pastor of the Presbyterian church, left Monday for Rolette to preside as moderator over a meeting of the Minnewaukan presbytery.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Chippewa Falls—Oscar Olson of Melrose, Wis., was found guilty in Judge Bundy's court and paid a fine of $12, including costs for maliciously cutting a bicycle tire with his jackknife.

Eau Claire—Work on St. Patrick's new parochial residence is progressing rapidly. The foundation is already in and the framework is going up. The old residence has been moved to a point at the rear of the church and between that structure and the Sisters' house.

Madison—S. W. Sells & Co. were granted on Monday a refund from the Omaha and Northwestern roads of $5.78 for overcharges on a car of excelsior from Rice Lake to Fort Atkinson.

Sheboygan—Assemolyman Carl Zillier was knocked down and seriously injured while entering the postoffice here Monday afternoon. Two boys moved the revolving doors so rapidly as Mr. Zillier was entering, that he was knocked down and rendered unconscious with injuries to his head and hip.

Fond du Lac—The will of C. A. Galloway, president of the Fond du Lac National bank, who died Thursday, was filed Monday. The estate is estimated at $160,000, of which $125,000 is personal property. The will directs the payment of $5,000 to the widow, Mrs. Flora Jewell Galloway, and thereafter an annuity of $4,000 for the support of her two children.

Kenosha—Alderman Herbert Thomey of Kenosha gave a pint of his blood on Sunday in order that his 3 year-old son might have life and have it more abundantly.

Milwaukee—A cap found upon the government pier, near where a man fell into the lake Sunday and drowned, was identified by Mrs. Mary Ehlers, as belonging to her husband, Fred, aged 42, who has been melancholy because of failure to get work

Madison—Governor McGovern has reappointed Ralph Smith of Merrill to be a member of and chairman of the state board of control for a term ending the first Monday in April, 1919.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Gwinn—Martin Peterson has returned from New Orleans, La., where he took a course of lectures in the economics of railroad firing. He has had the best record of any of the firemen on the Munising, Marquette & Southeastern railroad for the past two years and was sent to the meeting by the company.

Negaunee—With but one exception, the city election Monday was a landslide for the Taxpayers' party. Mayor William S. Heggaton won over Theodore Hagwall, the Socialist candidate, by a majority of 843 votes. In no ward did the latter poll a strong vote. The largest vote he received was in the Second, where forty-five ballots were cast in his favor, as against 148 for Heggaton.

Newberry—Rollin Payne, a representative of the state tax commission, recently inspected the tax rolls of McMillan township. Mr. Payne informed Supervisor Park that it was his judgment that the property in the township was assessed at nearer the true cash value than in any other township in the peninsula.

Ishpeming—The Republicans carried the city election here Monday, electing these officers: Mayor, Dr. G. G. Barnett; recorder, Richard H. Olds; treasurer, John V. Anderson; school inspector, Jacob P. Niemi.

Marquette—G. W. Gehrand, who has been superintendent of schools in Marquette for the past six years, during which time he has done efficient work, has resigned. Mr. Gehrand is planning to do more university work in the line of vocational and educational training.

Negaunee—Edward Morse, a Negaunee boy, who has signed up with the Green Bay team, will leave for Green Bay on the 15th and go with the team to Chicago where they will hold their spring training.

Calumet—Mr. and Mrs. George Friggens and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nicholls and son, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pollard, and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Doney arrived home Saturday evening from Ironwood, where they have been located for several months. They will resume their residence here.

Houghton—The examination of W. A. Melville, who was brought back from Chicago on a charge of perjury in connection with an alleged statement relative to the Daily-Jane murders at Palnesdale, will be held next Thursday morning in Justice Eichkern's court in Hancock.

Hancock—Joseph Laird, aged about 50 years, died April 6, in St. Joseph's hospital, after a lengthy illness with a complication of diseases. He has relatives at Baker City, Or., and until they are heard from no arrangements will be made for the funeral.

Lake Linden—Mrs. Elizabeth Kaspar, a resident of Lake Linden since 1882, is dead, following an illness of long duration. The deceased was born in Germany seventy years ago.

Houghton—E. F. Niemeyer for the past year manager of the Houghton branch of the Cudahy Packing company, has been notified to report to the Chicago headquarters of the firm to receive an appointment to a higher position. Mr. Niemeyer will be succeeded here by John Blair, former manager of the Minneapolis branch.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Stillwater—Christian Junker died at the city hospital, where he was taken from his residence on the Lily Lake farm, aged 48 years. He came to America from Germany about eight years ago, and remained in Chicago a short time, later coming to Stillwater, where he has since resided. A widow and two children survive.

Little Falls—Supt. F. W. Dobbyn has engaged C. A. Smith, who has been in charge of the manual training work at Pipestone, as instructor in that department of the high school, to succeed Edward Skibness, resigned.

Mankato—The annual meeting of the Southern Minnesota Dental society will be held here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Dr. H. B. Clark of St. Paul, an expert in tooth extraction; Dr. W. G. Crandall of Spencer, Iowa, a specialist in amalgam work, and Dr. H. A. Mazes of Minneapolis, a crown and bridge man, will give demonstrations.

Grand Marais—George Mayhew has closed down his logging camp in Rosebush and is now engaged in hauling a lot of ties from Maple Hill.

Red Wing—According to the report of the board of audit, Goodhue county had on March 1, $156,158.88 in the county treasurer's office and in county banks or depositaries. The tax levy for the year 1913 reached a total of $468,987.06 of which amount $130,990.26 were collected. The abatement of taxes totaled $57.83. The uncollected taxes in the county amount to $335,938.97.

Crookston—A. G. Sandberg has filed as a candidate for the nomination as sheriff of Polk county. Mr. Sandberg was a candidate for the nomination two years ago, and received the second highest vote in a field of eight candidates.

Rochester—Mrs. H. H. Witherstine of this city has been honored by the election as president of the Rochester board of education, a distinction that has come to few women in the state, and in some circles it is believed that Mrs. Witherstine is the first woman in the state to be elected to such an office.

Brainerd—Lena Perlinger, who was granted a divorce from Steven Perlinger, whom she had married in Crow Wing county, and was also awarded the custody of the two children and alimony in the sum of $700, which was made a lien on the eighty acres owned by the defendant and situated in the north half of the northeast quarter of section 5, township 43, range 31, and reputed to have a value of about $2,100.

St. Cloud—Officials of St. Cloud have been notified that the board of control has authorized Supt. C. S. Reed of the state reformatory to employ inmates of that institution in the work of repairing and improving the road between the reformatory and the Tenth street bridge.

Winona—Frank D. Brown, formerly prominent here, was stricken with heart failure while in bed at his home at Seattle and was found dead Saturday morning. The body, accompanied by the widow, her sister, Mrs. W. A. M. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Heidel, will arrive here Wednesday morning for burial.

Faribault—Thomas H. Loyhed, Jr., died at his home here April 6 after several months' illness. He was 27 years old. Until his illness he had been farming in Northern Wisconsin, and had been with a railroad company in Mexico and British Columbia. Mr. Loyhed was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Loyhed and was a former student of the University of Minnesota.

About Your Own Vigor

Sent Free To Men

MR. READER:

Here is something I have to offer you absolutely for nothing—a little private book of special information about the legitimate uses and unnatural abuses of manly vigor; about the preservation of manly strength and its possible self-restoration; an illustrated pocket compendium of 8,000 words, 72 pages and 30 half-tone photograph reproductions—which I am very pleased to send by mail, absolutely free of charge, in a plain sealed envelope, to any man, young or elderly, single or married, who writes for it.

Over a million of these books have been thus sent to applicants all over the world since my free offer first appeared. Publishers are charging as much as $2 for books on sex subjects, while my book is free. Therefore, reader, if you would like a great fund of inside information relating directly to the subject of manly vigor, all put up in perfectly plain, easy-to-read language, with many hints that you can surely apply to your own self, no matter how strong you may be, or how nervous or rundown you may be—if you want to know the facts about this particular subject, given to you without a single scare, then fill in the coupon below, send it to me and receive my book, sealed, by return mail. In one part of this little publication I describe a mechanical invention of my own, which I call the SANDEN Vitalizer, something you wear at night as an aid to the restoration of lost or waning strength; but you are not expected to get one of these appliances unless you decide for yourself that you want one. The book is complete, and there is absolutely nothing you are required to buy or pay, either now or in the future. Therefore, please send me your name and address today.

SANDEN, Author.

MANHOOD! The quality which rules the world today. My friend, there never was a time in the history of the human race when real, sturdy manhood, manly vigor and manly courage counted for as much as they do now, this very minute. No matter what your years, whether you are 20 or 60, you must be either entirely in the race or entirely out of it. It is invariably the fellow who proves up strongest in this human strength that forges to the front, while weaklings stand aside; it is he also who is in most demand and most sought after by women and men of his community, simply because he radiates that marvellous magnetic influence which only an abundant vigor and rugged manly health can radiate. I believe any man can hope to completely develop or restore this same vigor or manly strength, no matter what his past follies may have been, provided he is willing to REALLY MAKE THE EFFORT; and provided, of course, he is not weighed down by extreme old age or is not incurably diseased. To my mind, the read of the one who wants more vigor is perfectly plain, but it is a road that any man MUST travel if he attains the highest ideals in respect to his own manhood. See information in my free book.

As to the SANDEN Vitalizer, previously mentioned, will say it is a little mechanical appliance, weighing but a few ounces, which you wear at night. This Vitalizer generates and sends forth a certain soft, penetrating force which I call Vitality. It drives this Vitality into your nerves, blood, muscles and organs as you sleep. It is quieting to the nervous system—or, at least, so users say. Men write that it takes pain out of the back often at once and restores vitality in ninety days. Remember, the general information of the free book is independent of this Vitalizer, and you are not expected to get one of these little appliances unless you want to. You can write me later as to that if you so desire. With special attachments, my Vitalizer is used by women as well as men for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc. If you live in or near this city I should be most pleased to have you call in person at my office, where you may see and test the Vitalizer free of charge. Hours—8 to 6; Sundays, 10 to 1. Or if inconvenient to call, do not fail to write for the free booklet.

COOPER DAMAGE CASE POSTPONED

Inability to Get Service on Alleged Slayer Assigned.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The suit of Mrs. Mary Ross against Harry J. Cooper of Hillsboro, and his son, McLain Cooper of Hood River, Or., to recover damages for husband's death will not be tried at the term of the district court which opened at Fargo yesterday, the case having been continued over the term.

Mrs. Ross seeks remuneration for the slaying of her husband by McLain Cooper.

The recent attempt to extradite McLain Cooper from Oregon to North Dakota, to face charges of alleged bribery, it is alleged, was designed to bring him within the jurisdiction of the local courts that he might be served, as the plaintiff has been unable to obtain service on him.

E. B. FORCE SUMMONED

Was First Duluth Officer to Be Retired on Pension.

Edwin Butler Force, 70 years old, veteran of the Civil war, member of the Duluth police force for twenty-two years and the first officer ever retired on a pension in this city, died early yesterday afternoon at St. Luke's hospital following an illness of more than two years.

Mr. Force had been ailing for the last two years and for more than a year had been a constant visitor at St. Luke's hospital. Several weeks ago his condition became worse and he died about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

He was a prominent member of Culver post, G. A. R., and was well known among the Civil war veterans throughout the state. For four terms Mr. Force was adjutant of the local post and one year he held the position of commander. For several years he was aide-de-camp on the staff of the department commander and when Former Governor Van Sant was commander-in-chief, Mr. Force was on his staff at the national encampment that year.

EDWIN BUTLER FORCE.

Mr. Force also represented the local post at the encampments held at San Francisco and Boston.

Mr. Force was born in Marshall, Mich., and he lived in the Michigan city until the war broke out, when he enlisted in the Twenty-fifth regiment, Michigan infantry. His father was very much opposed to his serving in the army and succeeded in forcing his son to withdraw from service. Later, however, Mr. Force re-enlisted and served until the close of the war.

About thirty-two years ago Mr. Force came to Duluth and on Oct. 3, 1884, he was appointed patrolman on the Duluth police force. He took part in the labor strike of 1889 and was later given a gold medal by the city of Duluth for his bravery. On May 1, 1906, he retired on a pension, the first police officer ever given that privilege by the department. He had served twenty-two years.

Mr. Force is survived by one brother, George Force, who lives in Michigan. Local Civil war veterans, who have taken charge of the body, yesterday wired the latter and arrangements for the funeral will not be made until he is heard from. The body has been taken to the Stewart undertaking rooms.

WINTER FLAREBACK DUE FOR THE EAST

Weather Bureau Issues Special Bulletin on Conditions.

Washington, April 8.—An old fashioned flareback of winter is about to sweep the East. At the weather bureau today this special bulletin was issued:

"Abnormally high pressure and low temperatures prevail over the great interior basin of the country, the line of freezing temperature extending to the Oklahoma-Texas line.

"These conditions will move eastward and southeastward over the Gulf and Atlantic states during the next twenty-four to forty-eight hours, and frosts may be expected Wednesday night to the Gulf coast, with temperatures near or below freezing in the interior and frosts on Thursday night over Northern Florida.

"In Georgia and the Carolinas freezing temperatures are likely on Thursday night, while to the northward they will be from ten to twenty degrees lower. Over the great central valleys and the west low temperatures will continue for another day or two."

VOTE TO CENSURE MR. McDERMOTT.

Washington, April 8.—Congressional censure for Representative McDermott of Illinois as a result of the disclosures of the lobby investigation, was agreed upon by the judiciary committee. The determination was reached at a long session which did not determine whether the censure should extend to the National Association of Manufacturers and its officers. Committeemen who had been holding out for a resolution of expulsion for McDermott finally yielded to one for censure only.

Admits Beating Parents.

Minot, N. D., April 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charged with drunkenness, during which she admitted beating her father and mother, Ida Hackmeister of this city was fined $5. Her father paid the fine.

SHORT TERMS ARE NO MORE

Congressman Miller Says Continuous Sessions Are Necessary.

Nation's Business Demands It—Consistently Against Free Tolls.

Congressman C. B. Miller, who is home for this week, resting up from his labors in Washington, is of the opinion that the time has gone by when the legislation of the nation can be handled in short or limited sessions of congress.

"The business of the nation," said he to The Herald today, "has grown to such an extent that we may as well make up our minds that congress will have to be in almost continuous session to handle public affairs. That does not necessarily mean continuous making of new laws any more than the daily meetings of the board of directors of any large concern mean a continually changing policy. But congress must pass on public matters and they are coming up too rapidly to permit of the old-time short sessions and getting home. This may not appeal to some congressional aspirants, for the old supposition was that being a member of congress was a snap. The 'snap' part of it disappeared long ago, and being a member of congress now means real work."

Mr. Miller feels somewhat amused over the furore caused in some quarters because he voted against free canal tolls. Said he in regard to it:

"There was nothing remarkable about that. I was merely consistent. I voted the same way when the bill was first up. I accompanied the committee that went to Panama three years ago to investigate conditions with a view to furnishing whatever legislation was believed necessary. We were thoroughly convinced at that time that free tolls would be a mistake. I supported President Wilson this time because I had not changed my mind about the matter. The president was right—absolutely right—as he usually is.

Economically and Morally Right.

"We all know that the American ships that would benefit would be the coastwise traders. That is a monopoly. Any ship in the coastwise trade must be of certain build and fly the American flag, all foreign ships being shut out. Should we give them free tolls we would simply be conferring a ship subsidy, to which we are opposed. That is the economic side of it. The moral side demanded that we charge tolls, for there is no mistaking the language of the treaty.

"Another view of it—economic, too—that seems to have been overlooked by those who have found objection to the vote against free tolls, is that for the first few years, at least, the canal will be operated at a loss. Why should we exempt American ships when their tolls will go a long way towards meeting the expense of operation? Would it be better to tax the American people as a whole to make up the deficit? If those who want to see free tolls feel that way they are welcome to their opinion; but I feel otherwise."

Mr. Miller said that he believes that the senate will pass the anti-free toll bill, but not before about a month from now.

"At first, there was a good deal of objection in the senate," said Mr. Miller, "but undoubtedly the sentiment has changed. There is no question in my mind but that the senate will follow the lead of the house, but it will spend a good deal of time in talking about it first."

IS VICTIM OF NERVOUS COLLAPSE

L. A. Simonson Is Detained at Request of Friends.

Louis A. Simonson, one of the most prominent workers of the Minnesota Anti-Saloon league and the Prohibition forces of the state, president of the West End Commercial club and a candidate for the state legislature in 1912, is the victim of a complete nervous breakdown. He is being held at police headquarters pending a hearing before Judge of Probate Gilpin.

Mr. Simonson, it is believed, has overworked and his condition today is declared by many business associates and acquaintances to be the result. For the last two years he has won first prize among all the agents of the life insurance company, for which he is the local agent.

During his residence in Duluth of about ten years Mr. Simonson has been one of the strongest workers in the fight against liquor. He is a member of all the local temperance organizations. He ran for the state legislature at the last election on the Prohibition ticket.

His friends have been making every effort of late to aid him, but his condition became worse and this morning Patrolmen Mahlen and Monahan were called and they took him to headquarters.

Rev. Mr. Oftsie of the West end filed a complaint against Mr. Simonson with the probate court and a hearing will be ordered by Judge Gilpin within the next day or two. It is hoped that treatment in a sanitarium will restore him. Mr. Simonson lives with his family at 2102 West Superior street. He is 45 years old.

MAUNDY THURSDAY AT BAPTIST CHURCH.

Maundy Thursday will be observed by the members of the congregation of the First Baptist church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. This service will be held in the main auditorium of the church, and there will be special music by the church choir. The communion service will be observed and new members welcomed. This Thursday night corresponds to the night on which Jesus instituted the Lord's supper.

Easter Sunday, the minister, R. Edward Sayles, will preach at both services. The sermon theme for the morning will be: "Why I Stiall Believe in Immortality."

Mrs. Valborg Gunderson-Finkleson will render violin solos both morning and evening. There will be special music by a chorus choir.

GOES CRAZY OVER CAILLAUX FAVORS.

Paris, April 8.—Mme. Vilz, a prisoner in Saint Lazare jail, today was sent to an insane asylum, having become demented in consequence of her campaign against the granting of favors by the prison authorities to Mme. Caillaux, who killed Gaston Calmette. The woman occupied a cell near that of Mme. Caillaux. For several days she had shrieked continually against her fellow prisoner.

STRIKERS WIN FIRST ROUND

Six Master Painters Agree to Terms of Union Men.

Men Deny Being Influenced By I. W. W. Agitators in Strike.

That the painters, paperhangers and decorators' strike is partially settled and prospects good for a complete settlement within few days is the report made by officials of the painters' union today. Six of the master painters have already accepted the terms of the union, it is said, and agreed to take back the striking men at once.

The report that I. W. W. agitators are at work in Duluth and are back of the strike was emphatically denied by the officers of the painters' union.

"The I. W. W. union and the painters' union are dual organizations," said J. E. Jensen, recording secretary of the latter union today. "The ideals and aims of the two organizations are conflicting, and the painters' union refuses to admit to membership any member of that organization. For that reason the report that we have been influenced by these men is without truth or foundation."

The strikers held another big meeting this forenoon, and great optimism was expressed by the officials when the gathering adjourned. Expectations for an early and satisfactory settlement of all differences was expressed.

"Things are rapidly coming to a proper solution," said Mr. Jensen. "Several of the master painters have already met our demands, and a large number of our men will go back to work. The employers who have agreed to a union shop and a Saturday half holiday will take back all their men. We expect several other master painters to come in as soon as they have been notified of the action of the others who have. All of them have not yet been notified.

"A point that has helped us is that several of the non-union men who have been working during the strike have now come over to us and will join our union. This action was taken yesterday afternoon and this morning. Furthermore non-union men from outside are not coming in to take the places of the strikers."

A point that has worked much in favor of the strikers is that a strike would not necessarily mean a complete lay-off for the union men. It is pointed out that work is abundant at this season of the year, and the strikers are not under obligation to refuse work if offered by persons other than their former employers. The public is in need of labor and plenty of work is said to be waiting the strikers.

BETTER CHANCE FOR EARLY START

Elevator Strike at Buffalo Settled—Affected Grain Shipping Here.

Word was received in Duluth last evening that the elevator strike at Buffalo, N. Y., has been settled. The terms of settlement were not given but that is of minor importance at this end of the Great Lakes.

With the elevators tied up while the men were out and with every indication of the strike being prolonged it seemed here that there was not much chance of early shipping of grain from Duluth. Boats that have been lying in the Buffalo harbor all winter with grain in store, have not yet been unloaded because of the strike, and no grain would be sent forward from here until they were, because of the inevitable congestion.

The settlement of the strike will cause an earlier opening of navigation than was planned. No vessel owners were anxious for their ships to start out before May 1 and not even then if the strike conditions continued.

Were the coal strike to be settled now, so that the stockpiles at lower lake ports could be built up, thus ensuring cargoes for up-bound boats, normal conditions on the Great Lakes would then resume and a busy season would likely result.

KILL THEMSELVES TO AID GRANDCHILDREN

Aged New York Couple Commit Suicide By Hanging.

New York, April 8.—Despondent because they believed they were a burden to the grandchildren, Jacob Theis, 79 years old, and his wife, 78, committed suicide today by hanging themselves in the home of their grandson, George, on First avenue.

The old couple made careful preparations for their death. The husband helped his wife adjust the noose around her neck. Then he assisted her to the window sill upon which the rope was fastened. When she had stepped off to her death, he hanged himself beside her.

WILSONS GOING TO WEST VIRGINIA.

Washington, April 8.—Plans for President Wilson's Easter trip were changed today. The party will go to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., instead of Hot Springs, Va., as previously announced at the White House. The purpose is to afford Mrs. Wilson rest and an opportunity to recuperate from her recent illness. The president will leave Thursday night, spending Friday, Saturday and Sunday at White Sulphur Springs, and being back at his desk Monday morning.

CARE OF BABY.

Dallas News: Babies soon learn the regular hours for feeding, and with a little patience on the part of the mother, the baby's life can be made to run as evenly as a little machine. Then the mother can count on the hours she will have for other work. A baby will even learn to waken at its regular feeding time, if properly trained to regular hours. I know of an infant that wakened regularly for his last bottle for many months, and at the last did not open his eyes, because his nurse had the bottle ready for the slightest movement when the time came near for this last feeding. It was a great comfort to the mother to feel sure there would be no crying spell, and that the child really wanted to get to sleep again as quickly as possible after the milk was taken. It is worth trying for, and only needs constant attention to detail until the habit is established, and then equally constant adherence to the regular hours for feeding. It is better for both child and mother to follow some such plan.

Babies need fresh air day and night. Many kinds of illness are cured by fresh air. Warmly covered, and away from draft, a baby may sleep in a room with the window open—even in cool weather. In winter, new born babies ordinarily are not taken outdoors until they are four weeks old. In the summer they go out at two weeks.

Keep baby warm when out, and protected from winds and glaring sunlight. I have seen sleeping babies in the open air turning and squirming in their couches in an effort to get away from a blinding, glaring sunlight. It seems incredible that anyone should expose an infant in this way, but it is the truth that many ignorant young mothers allow their child to be thus treated and later wonder at failing eyesight. Babies living in the country may take their naps on the veranda, in mild weather, and thus get plenty of fresh air.

Fresh air will help to cure sick babies and will help well babies to digest their food. Fresh air may be kept in a room by putting a board, the width of the window and two or three inches thick, under the lower sash. The fresh air coming in at the opening between the upper and lower sash does not make a draft, and will keep the air in the room pure.

HOW MANY BANANAS DID YOU EAT?

The "Slip" in the Peels of the Bananas Imported By the United States Would Launch the Ships of the World—Where They Come From and How They Grow.

Everybody that eats at all eats bananas—that is almost everybody. From the rare luxury and tropical curiosity of forty years ago the banana has become almost as common and well known as the apple and, taken the year round, considerably less expensive. From the crowded markets of New York to the cross-roads country store of Arkansas the yellow bunch is as familiar as is the homely barrel of potatoes, and the enormous quantity of this nourishing fruit consumed by the people of the United States is astounding.

"If you did not eat forty bananas last year, you did not have your share," writes Franklin Adams, editor of the Monthly Bulletin of the Pan-American Union. "Over 46,000,000 bunches, or more than 3,500,000,000 bananas, were imported by the United States in 1913. The immensity of these shipments can be more readily grasped by the statement that they would cover an area over twenty feet wide reaching from New York to San Francisco, or, placed end to end, would extend more than thirteen times around the earth at the equator. The 'slip' in the peels would launch the ships of the world. The wholesale value of the 1913 importation, at point of export, was over $16,390,000, while in all probability the consuming public of the United States expended over $40,000,000 for this delectable fruit."

With the increased cost of living owing to the proportionately decreasing food supply, the banana comes forward as an important factor in the world's economy. While its use as a food is limited in this country almost entirely to its consumption in a raw state, in localities where it grows it is frequently baked and is also used for making flour, delicious confections, etc. Placed in a closed barrel and allowed to ferment, bananas produce an excellent vinegar, while from the ripe fruit a delightful cordial is obtained. Dried ripe bananas are said to be superior to figs, weigh only about one-ninth as much as the bunches and occupy correspondingly less space in shipment. In other words, the banana has many kinds of food values not but little known in the country which consumes the most.

Banana culture is really one of the oldest of industries. It seems to have been known almost since the origin of the human race. Long before the dawn of history in the Old World, perhaps before the Old World rose from the waters, man lived on the fruit of the musas. The banana was generally considered a native of Southern Asia, where it has been carried into America by Europeans, until Humboldt threw doubt upon its purely Asiatic origin, quoting early authors who asserted that the banana was cultivated in the Americas long before the conquest. It is claimed that bananas formed one of the staple foods of the incas of Peru who lived in the warm and temperate regions of the Montana. It seems that almost all tropical countries claim the fruit as indigenous.

On the American continents bananas are successfully grown through 50 deg. of latitude, from Tampico, Mexico, 25 deg. north, to Asuncion, Paraguay, 25 deg. south. Cultivation of the fruit is practically restricted to the eastern coast line, for the banana is one of the thirstiest of plants, and cannot be expected to produce its maximum in districts where there are less than 100 inches of annual rainfall.

The banana has a prodigal method of propagation, for before the parent stalk and fruit have matured new ones spring up. These are offshoots that grow from the root of the original plant, resembling the sprouts from the "eyes" of a potato, and each in turn becomes a parent stalk with its fruit. It follows that unless most of the constantly appearing new plants are cut out (which is the practice) the first stalk in a few years will become the center of a small jungle. The plants grow to a height of from fifteen to thirty-five feet, spreading in all directions, until the soil is overburdened with a mass of stalk and leaf growth and stunted fruit is produced.

The plant will grow with wonderful rapidity under favorable circumstances. Within a period of six or seven weeks the two or three-foot plant will more than double in size, and a month or so later the leaves cease to unfold and a spike appears out of the center of the crown. This is the future stalk of the bunch and carries a huge red blossom at the end. It develops rapidly, bending more and more until it has completely turned upon itself, so that the bananas grow end up, or in a position the reverse of that in which they are seen when hung up for sale. From seven to twelve months after the blossom appears the fruit is ready for the gatherer.

In cultivation four suckers, or shoots, are usually allowed to grow in one hill, and their graduation is so arranged that while the oldest is bearing fruit the next is in blossom, the third is half grown, and the last is just coming up from the ground. The plantation yields a continuous harvest for years without replanting. In planting for the market about 200 hills are allowed to the acre. Sometimes the number is increased to 225, having 900 stalks, yielding about 300 marketable bunches a year. It is said that the cost of production of bunches that sell for 30 cents is about from 10 to 15 cents, the average profit per acre being about $50 annually.

In 1899 banana trading was organized on modern commercial lines. Over 150 vessels have since been built for this trade and are plying between American ports and the tropical fruit belt. Wireless telegraph stations along the Central American coast keep in touch with the banana fleet that is moving in a steady procession up and down the Caribbean. When a steamer starts from a United States port to secure its cargo a cable is sent notifying the growers to prepare for the cutting of the crop. About thirty-six hours before the expected arrival of the vessel orders are sent to the plantations, notifying them to cut fruit for delivery on the specified date. The day before the steamer is due trains are made up at the fruit ports and sent out to pick up the fruit, these trains being so timed that steamers will not be delayed waiting for cargo. On the morning of the cutting the first out on the plantations are the "cutters," who go up and down the long avenues of banana plants armed with long palm poles having broad steel blades at the ends, with which the plant is half severed at about eight feet from the ground. The weight of the fruit bends the top of the plant down slowly, when the bunch is cut from the stem by a machete. Following the cutters come the picking-up gangs, who deliver the fruit at the receiving platforms along the railroad tracks. An inspector counts and grades the bunches, rejecting those that show signs of ripening or are undersized or bruised. As soon as the train is loaded it is rushed to the port where steam conveyors reach from the open hatchways of the vessel to the doors of the cars, and a cargo of 20,000 bunches can be loaded and stowed in less than ten hours. On the voyage to final destination the fruit is constantly closely inspected, wind sails and ventilating fans being used to maintain the proper temperature.

When the vessel arrives at an American fruit wharf the work of discharging the cargo to the ventilated cars commences. Every bunch is recounted, regraded, and reinspected. Fruit that shows signs of ripening is sent to nearby markets. Fully ripe fruit is sold to dealers and peddlers in the city. In a few hours the shipment has been discharged and cleaned up, and the vessel is ready for the return trip.

FORCE H. C. OF L. TO RETREAT

Toledo Women Got Public Markets and Reduced the Prices—Middlemen Fight Hard But the Housewives' League Is Successful.

Henry M. Hyde in Chicago Tribune: Led by the organized women of the city, Toledo, Ohio, has been making a determined effort to reduce the cost of living to its citizens.

Toledo is one of those Ohio cities which in recent years have made such great progress in the direction of real democracy and municipal home rule. Consequently when the women's clubs demanded the erection of great municipal markets where consumer and producer could be brought together and the profit of the middle man eliminated the city council was ready to listen.

At a referendum a bond issue of $200,000 for market purposes was voted by a big majority, though a hard fight against it was made by retail grocers and market men. Even before that there had been a small city market, but it was in an undesirable neighborhood and had gradually come to be used almost entirely as a hay and corn market.

New Market In a Convenient Place.

For the new market the city bought four and one-half acres of land at a cost of $70,000. The site is conveniently and quickly reached from all parts of the city by street cars.

Nearly three acres of this land were at once covered with a market building, a concrete structure, one-story high and rather pleasing from an architectural standpoint. It contains 276 stalls, arranged on either side of six wide and open aisles. The stalls vary in size and the city charges a rental of from $25 to $50 a year for them.

In June, 1911, the new market house was opened with elaborate ceremonies of dedication in which Brand Whitlock, mayor, and the officers of the women's clubs took part, every one of the stalls being occupied.

For the first year the success of the market house seemed complete. Thousands of women visited the market every morning and the prices of vegetables and other food supplies dropped, while the quality improved. So great was the success of the new plan that scores of other market gardeners, who had been unable to rent stalls, backed their wagons up along the curb for several blocks adjacent to the market house and did business in the open air.

Middlemen Made a Fight.

Retail dealers and produce commission men presently found their own business seriously damaged and determined on retaliatory measures. The commission men especially made a hard fight on the city market:

Their most successful method was to send out buyers, who met the wagons driving into the market house and bought the entire load. Then, instead of going to occupy his stall and sell his produce to the housewife, the market gardener would drive to a waiting freight car and unload for shipment to some other city.

Meanwhile the organized women of the city were also busy. The various clubs were united in the Housewives' league, and the city was asked to provide a place for a market under its exclusive direction. The city administration was sympathetic and was glad to turn over to the women the old hay and corn market on Superior street.

The old buildings and stalls were cleaned and painted, and the Housewives' league made strict rules governing their use. No one who did not actually raise the produce offered for sale was allowed to occupy space; commission men and hucksters were rigidly barred under pain of arrest, and police were stationed about the square to see that these rules were enforced.

Producers Got Stalls Free.

No charge whatever was made for the use of the stalls by farmers and other actual producers, and a committee of women was constantly on hand to keep things running smoothly.

From the start the new enterprise of the Toledo women was successful. The prices of all sorts of produce, eggs, butter and poultry dropped, and it was always easy to fill the market basket with freshly gathered vegetables and other food products of the highest quality.

Three days in each week during the season more than 100 truck gardeners and farmers bring their own stuff in to the women's market and sell it direct to the consumer. So far there has been no successful interference on the part of retail market men or commission merchants.

Encouraged by its success, the Housewives' league is now planning the erection of four new municipal market houses, one in each of the four quarters of the city.

WHEAT TAKES SHARP JUMP

Market Advances on Short Covering and Bulge in Coarse Grains.

Flaxseed Trading Is Erratic But It Closes With Small Gains.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 8.—The market was strong up to the close. May wheat closed ⅜c up; July ¾c up and September 1½c up at 88¼c. May durum closed ½c up and July ½c up. Oats closed ¾c up at 36¼c. Rye closed unchanged at 54½@56½c for the best grades. There was no market in barley.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 36c and July 37⅛@37¼c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 87¾c asked and calls at 88c bid.

The impression that the government crop report had been fully discounted led to heavy short covering and buying of wheat at the opening this morning, and prices advanced ⅜c during the first few minutes' trading on excited bidding. After resting there for a time, further bulges materialized as a result of the strength in the corn situation, and fears that the present cold wave might work down into the winter wheat territory. There was also some talk of export business having been worked at Winnipeg, and some uneasiness was expressed on the score of the delay in seeding operations through the Northwest. Operators furthermore pointed out that many things may happen through the Southwest and Middle states to impair the present high condition of the winter wheat plant, and might easily knock from 50,000,000 to 100,000,000 bu off the government's estimate of 662,000,000, which is based on the maintenance of the present extraordinarily high condition up to the time of harvesting, nearly three months hence.

The bulls were disappointed at the action of the Liverpool market, which only in a measure reflected yesterday's decline here. Expectations over there are for light Argentine and world's shipments this week. That led to good support and bidding for cargoes.

Duluth operators were pleased to receive intimation this morning to the effect that the grain handlers' strike at Buffalo had been settled. The prompt unloading of stocks afloat there is now assured, and that, it is taken, will materially hasten the opening of navigation and the sending of cargoes from here down the lakes.

Receipts were liberal today, primaries amounting to 813,000 bu against 300,000 bu last year. Inspections at Duluth came to 19 cars against 20 last year, and there were 50 cars of all grains on the tracks for the day. A feature at present is the renewed movement of bonded grain this way, 31 cars coming to hand today.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at 89c, and it gained ½c more up to the closing hour. July opened ⅛c up at 90¼c and gained ½c more. May durum opened ⅛c up at 87¼c and advanced ⅜c more. The July option opened ½c up at 89c and held at around that figure.

Flaxseed Turns Strong.

There was good trading in flaxseed throughout the session, but it was mostly in small lots. Fair crushers support was in evidence on the weak spots.

The market opened weak, and sold off ⅞c at the start on the execution of considerable selling orders. Quotations were then advanced as rapidly as they had receded until they were well above yesterday's close. Final quotations showed advances of ¼c with the market steady.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.57⅝ and closed ¼c up at $1.57⅝ asked. July opened ¼c off at $1.59 and closed ¼c up at $1.59⅜ asked, and the September option opened ⅜c off at $1.59 and closed ¼c up at $1.59⅝ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.38⅝ bid and July at $1.41¾.

MARKET GOSSIP.

A. D. Thomson returned today from a month's vacation, spent in Florida points. He commented on the large exodus of Duluthians down that way during the winter.

The Minneapolis cash market was firm, with the demand very good. Most of the mills were in the market with the exception of Cargill's. Interior stocks in the line companies' houses are pretty well all in. One northern blue stem sold at from 1½@3c over May, and velvet chaff at 1½c over. Flour demand was better, and sales the last week bave been quite good. Cash one northern wheat sold there at from 89¾@91¼c, and No. 2 northern at from 87¼@88¾c.

An official German report for March places the conditions in that country as follows: Winter wheat April 1, 80 per cent against 78 per cent on May 1, 1913, the conditon was winter rye 83 per cent. Dryness and warmth is urgently wanted by farmers.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The wheat market was under influence of moderate realizing, and opening values were ¼d lower, being influenced by the weakness in New York and also Buenos Aires yesterday and the highly favorable government report. Following the opening the market was dull but steady. There was a noticeable quiet demand for cargoes, and offerings of American winters over night were larger, but still support was in evidence. The forcast is for light Argentine shipments this week and expectations of light world's shipments other than from America. At 1:30 p. m. prices were ¼@⅜d lower.

"Corn opened ⅛d higher and later July gained ⅛d on better spot demand, fewer Plat offers aid rains in Argentina."

Argentine—Tonnage loading is 154,000 tons, against 216,000 tons last year for all grains.

The weather is favorable for field work in Roumania, which is progressing favorably.

Argentina—Estimate wheat, 1,000,000; corn, 2,125,000.

Our agent cables today general heavy rain for corn.

Broomhall's India agent cabled that heavy rain is falling in the Punjaub, and wheat is being damaged.

Baker had the following from his Chicago correspondent: "The trade is staggered at the stupendous figures on the growing winter wheat which indicates almost two crops in one. Cables come only ¼@⅜d lower on this. Freezing weather over the belt is shown this morning which may dull the edge of the bears' onslaught. It will not be profitable to become too enthusiastically bearish, and it may be that on any decline export business of a large character will pass."

Price Current says: "Based upon information secured from correspondents April 1, 3 and 4, the soil condition is extremely favorable to the winter wheat plant, and for spring plowing and seeding. The percentage of seeding which has been done in spring wheat is as follows: Illinois, 18 per cent; Wisconsin, 18; Iowa, 41; Nebraska, 39, and Kansas, 100.

"Seeding of oats in Ohio and Indiana is 15 per cent; Illinois, 11; Wisconsin, 10; Missouri, 5; Iowa, 10; Minnesota, 10; Nebraska, 13; Kansas, 88, and Oklahoma, 99. Basing the crop of last spring at 100, the percentage comparison of crop this spring is as follows: Ohio, 96; Indiana, 98; Illinois, 96; Wisconsin, 11; Missouri, 92; Iowa, 89; Minnesota, 98; South Dakota, 94; Nebraska, 84; Kansas, 71; Oklahoma, 94.

"Hog slaughterings in the West for week ending April 4 were 335,000, compared with 437,000 in the preceding week and 471,000 in the same period last year."

Parker Paine received the following comment from Chicago today: "Figure it any way possible and the official report of yesterday on winter wheat is most bearish. Allowing for the natural decline in condition and a little loss in acreage from April to harvest, the total indicated on the face of the report 662,000,000 bu may be brought down to about 620,000,000 bu. It is claimed in some quarters this morning that the bureau at Washington interprets the figures to indicate a crop of about 610,000,000 bu. As soil conditions are perfect the promise is surely the greatest ever known at this date. Would caution against over-selling in a bear flurry, but on any hard spots would suggest quick sales."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Prices Rally After Response to Bearish Crop Report.

Chicago, April 8.—Although the wheat market responded promptly today to the bearish crop figures from Washington, prices soon rallied to a considerable extent. Freezing weather, especially in the Southwest, tended to induce a good deal of buying. Many traders also were disposed to regard the government report as having been pretty well discounted in advance. Quotations after opening ¼ to ¾c lower, rallied to nearly Monday night's level.

Uneasiness over delay in seeding in Northwest helped to sustain the market. Closing prices were firm at the same as Monday night to ¼c off.

Corn rose on account of the absence of selling pressure. The few speculators who expected weakness in sympathy with wheat were quickly forced to cover. Prices opened a shade off to ¼c up and then made a material advance all around.

Later the purchase of 240,000 bu of Argentine corn to come to Chicago in May had a temporary bearish effect. The close was nervous at ⅛@¼c to ½c net advance.

Unfavorable seeding conditions put firmness into oats. Besides the market was inclined to follow the bulge in corn.

Provisions went higher with hogs. First sales were 2½@5c to 7½c up and there was no sign of any important reaction.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Break in Canadian Pacific Is Feature of Morning Session.

Prices Have Recovery But Fall Off Again Before the Close.

New York, April 8.—The wide break in Canadian Pacific which carried it below 200 for the first time in several years was the chief development of the morning session, although it affected the rest of the market to only a slight degree.

Later there was a recovery when the coalers began to show the stimulating effect of Lackawanna's victory in the anti-trust suit. Reading and Lehigh were run up about a point on this movement, causing an increase of covering in other stocks. Trading was on a considerably larger scale, the forenoon total being nearly four times yesterday's amount in the corresponding period.

Bonds were steady.

Canadian Pacific slumped violently at the opening today on the reduction of freight rates by the Canadian railway commission. It opened with a block of 3,000 shares at 202 to 201¼, a maximum decline of 5⅝. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie, a controlled road, lost 5 points. The general list was heavy, with an increased volume of business.

Opening losses were partially retrieved, Canadian Pacific rallying a point. Heavy foreign selling of Canadian Pacific drove it down again to 199¾, which was an incentive for renewed active selling of the general list again.

The market began to drag again after its forenoon rally. No response was made to copper producers' figures, which showed a reduction in supplies of 13,762,000 pounds.

Weakness of individual stocks caused the market to sag further. Texas company continued its decline, falling three points.

The market closed heavy. Lackawanna Steel's large shrinkage in earnings for the last quarter, the expected decrease in United States Steel tonnage figures and dismal comment by steel trade journals intensified the general heaviness. Union Pacific, New Haven and Amalgamated lost a point and the coalers relinquished their gains.

SMALL DECLINES IN MINING STOCKS

The market in mining stocks at Boston was dull and inclined to weakness today even in the face of 13,762,533 pounds decrease shown in metal stocks during March by the copper producers' report.

Changes in quotations were only fractional, but they were mainly in the way of declines.

In the Duluth curb list, Calumet & Corbin was firm, selling at 29@30c.

The fillip given to the property in its recession as a copper producer by the increasing lead output is shown in the earnings of $2.12 per share in 1913, the largest in five years. In this period copper production declined from 10,000,000 pounds to 7,700,000 pounds, while lead output jumped from practically nothing to 19,200,000 pounds.

Hancock Consolidated Mining company for the year ended Dec. 31, showed total receipts of $212,192; total disbursements of $206,414, and an excess of receipts of $5,778.

According to a wire received by Gay Sturgis today the report of Arizona Commercial Mining company for the year ended Dec. 31, 1913, shows cash, accounts receivable, supplies, and securities on hand, amounting to $138,000, with accounts payable of $8,715, leaving a working capital of approximately $130,000.

MAKING A NEW CHIEF IN AFRICA.

Letters describing the installation of a new chief in Angola, West Africa, have just reached the American board. The new leader succeeds Kanjundu of Chiyuka, an able and distinguished native Christian.

When Kanjundu died, even the heathen "old men" around said, "Only a good man can be chief after Kanjundu." His eldest son, to whom the honor would naturally have gone, had been ruled out by the dead chief himself as not fit for the office. Kanjundu's brother declined the headship, saying: "I am old. I cannot go to the fort when they call. I cannot read, and Chiyuka is a village of books. Moreover, I am not one of 'The Dords' (Christians), and no one but a Christian can be a successor of Kanjundu. We look over the possible ones and we choose Chikosi."

So Chikosi, a nephew of Kanjundu, was unanimously chosen to reign in his stead. The members of the royal family sent for him and told him of the decision, and all the people raised their hands and cried, "It is Chikosi that we want as our chief."

The lad who had been Kanjundu's attendant then came forward and said, "The chief said, 'When I am gone and my successor is chosen, he is to receive my hymn book, Psalms, and Proverbs, and the Sixteenth chapter of Proverbs is to be read.'" So the chapter was read and prayer offered, and the books given to Chikosi.

Then the tribes-people prepared for the installation ceremonies. The streets and villages were cleaned, the oxen were killed for the feast, and the women pounded all night so that there might be meal enough to feed all who came. The young men went to the new chief's house to bring him, in triumph to his Ombala, or council house. The bush car which had been Kanjundu's was used. Chikosi, wearing a new gray tweed suit, russet shoes, and a gray felt hat, was seated in it. A crowd of people shouting, singing and playing on musical instruments surrounded it. Children bearing bunches of wild flowers stood on each side the trail, and relays of youths ran in front of the car to clear the way for the chief.

From the ombala and the chief's house the procession went on to the church, where a religious service was held—the first Christian installation of a chief ever known in Angola.

Chief Chikosi is said to be a fine looking man, about 40 years old, a good speaker and evangelist, and has been a deacon in the mission church for a number of years.

CAUSE FOR ANGER.

Ladies' Home Journal: Mr. Wilkins was near the exploding point when his neighbor met him on the street.

"That man Tompkins," he burst out, "has more nerve than anyone I ever met!"

"Why?" asked his neighbor, curiously.

"He came over to my house last evening and borrowed my gun to kill a dog that kept him awake nights."

"Well, what of that?"

"Why," shouted Mr. Wilkins, "it was my dog he killed!"

ORDER FOR ADJOURNMENT AND OF HEARING ON PETITION FOR PROBATE OF WILL—
State of Minnesota,
County of St. Louis—ss.

In Probate Court. In the Matter of the Estate of Joseph Sellwood, Deceased.

In the matter above entitled, the petition of Richard M. Sellwood for the allowance and admission to probate of an instrument bearing date January 21st, 1914, purporting to be the last will and testament of Joseph Sellwood, deceased, duly came on to be heard before this court at the appointed time, to-wit, April 6th, 1914, at ten o'clock A. M., pursuant to notice theretofore given, and it appearing to the court that before the time so appointed for the hearing as aforesaid there has been duly filed in this court certain objections to the allowance of said purported will, by one of the heirs of said deceased, to-wit, Ophelia S. Leithhead, one of his daughters, upon the alleged grounds briefly summarized as follows: That said purported will and testament was not executed by the said Joseph Sellwood in the manner required by law to make said will valid, and that at the time of said alleged execution the said Joseph Sellwood was not of sound mind or disposing memory, and that said purported will was procured by undue and illegal influence of the residuary devisees therein named, and is not in fact the will of said deceased; and the said Ophelia S. Leithhead having also then and there filed her petition for the probate of a lost or destroyed will of said Joseph Sellwood, alleged to have been executed by the deceased as his last will and testament, at some time between December 25th, 1911, and the month of April, 1913, and devising and disposing of his estate, as alleged in said petition, in substance, as follows: That his antenuptial agreement with Martha E. Triggs of date April 4th, 1910, should be carried out; that his debts and funeral expenses should be paid; that his grandchildren, Richard M. Sellwood, Jr., Joseph G. Sellwood and Francis Sellwood, should have Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) each, and that his grandchildren, Leslie S. Leithhead and Jim Leithhead, should have Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) each; that his nephew, Joseph Sellwood, Jr., should have Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000), to be paid him on reaching forty years of age, and in the meantime the income therefrom, amounting to One Hundred Dollars ($100) per month; that his niece, Lucy Sellwood, should have One Thousand Dollars ($1,000), and the residue of his estate he gave, bequeathed and devised equally between his son, Richard M. Sellwood, his daughter, La Rue S. Mershon, and the petitioner, his daughter, Ophelia S. Leithhead, and alleging that said lost or destroyed will was the last will and testament of said deceased;

NOW, THEREFORE, by reason of the facts aforesaid, it is ordered, that the hearing set for this day upon the petition of said Richard M. Sellwood be and the same hereby is adjourned to May 4th, 1914, at two o'clock in the afternoon, and that the hearing upon the objections of said Ophelia S. Leithhead to the allowance of said purported will, and upon her petition for the allowance of said alleged lost or destroyed will, be heard before this court at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in Duluth, in said County, on Monday, the 4th day of May, 1914, at two o'clock P. M., at which time and place proofs shall be taken upon both of said purported wills and objections, and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to appear and be heard.

ORDERED FURTHER, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law, and that a copy of this Order be served on the County Treasurer of St. Louis County, not less than ten days prior to said day of hearing, and by mailing a copy of said notice to each heir, devisee, legatee or interested party at least fourteen days before said day of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., April 7th, 1914.

LODGE, REPUBLICAN, SUPPORTS WILSON'S PANAMA TOLLS PLAN

Makes Speech in Senate Urging Repeal of Law.

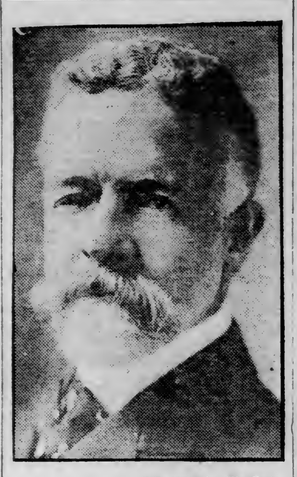
America Too Strong for Any Accusation of "Truckling."

Washington, April 9.—Senator Lodge, ranking Republican member of the foreign relations committee, addressed the senate today in support of President Wilson's Panama canal tolls policy. He maintained vigorously the legal right of the United States to exempt its shipping, foreign as well as coastwise, from tolls, but declared that "a decent respect to the opinions of mankind" and the "distrust and in same cases dislike" with which the United States is regarded abroad, demanded prompt repeal of the exemption clause of the canal act.

"Whether we shall insist upon giving to our ships $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 in a disputed way is, in my conception, a very small question compared to the larger issues which are here involved," said the senator. "When the year 1909 opened, the United States occupied a higher and stronger position among the nations of the earth than at any period in our history. Never before had we possessed such an influence in international affairs, and that influence had been used beneficently and for the world's peace in two conspicuous instances—at Portsmouth and at Algeciras.



Shadow Was Lifted.

"Never before had our relations with the various states of Central and South America been so good. It seemed as if the shadow of suspicion which, owing to our dominant and at times domineering power, had darkened and chilled our relations with the people of Latin America, had at last been lifted.

"This great position and this commanding influence have been largely lost. I am not in the councils of the president of the United States, but I believe that during the past year the present position of the United States in its foreign relations has become very apparent to him, as it has to other responsible and reflecting men, and with this appreciation of our present position has come the earnest wish to retrace some of our steps, at least, and to regain, so far as possi-

WRIT FOR AGITATOR

Colorado Court Issues Habeas Corpus for "Mother" Jones.

Third Petition Is Granted By the Supreme Body.

Denver, Col., April 9.—The supreme court late yesterday issued a habeas corpus writ for the release of "Mother" Mary Jones, now held as a military prisoner in the coal strike zone at Walsenburg. The writ is returnable in ten days.

The action of the court is the result of a petition presented last week by Horace N. Hawkins, attorney for the striking coal miners. Until yesterday the court had not given permission for the presentation of the petition.

The petition was the third application for a writ.

During the detention of "Mother" Jones, the 82-year-old strike leader, in a hospital at Trinidad, the first application was made to the supreme court. It was denied on Feb. 18, on the ground that the lower court should first pass upon the case.

The second application was made to the district court of Las Animas county which denied the application, sustaining the authority of Governor Ammons to imprison "Mother" Jones, under the decision of the supreme court in the Moyer case.

It was planned then to appeal to the supreme court. This plan was abandoned when "Mother" Jones was released and brought to Denver a few weeks ago. "Mother" Jones was again arrested and detained at Walsenburg.

In the petition upon which the court acted it is contended that the issues are identical with those upon which the district court had given its decision, and that further action before the district court is unnecessary.

PROHIBITION GAINS GROW WITH RETURNS

Over Half the Counties in Illinois Now Bar Saloons.

Chicago, April 9.—Revised returns from Tuesday's local option elections in Illinois show that more than half of the 102 counties in the state are now anti-saloon territory. Twenty-one counties were added to the dry column. Thirty counties already were dry, making a total of fifty-two prohibition counties.

Substantially complete returns from 280 of the 300 townships which voted on the liquor question show that 946 saloons were voted out. These saloons are in 114 incorporated villages and cities. Twenty-nine villages and cities which were already dry voted to remain dry. Sixty cities and villages which had been wet voted to remain wet. However, the wets failed to win a single township which was dry prior to the elections.

WOULD GIVE LAND TO COUNTRY TEACHERS

Claxton Suggests That They Be Engaged for Life.

Louisville, Ky., April 9.—Recommendations that the rural school teacher be employed for life, or during good behavior, and that each be furnished with a house and a plot of land for his own and experimental uses, were made by P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, at a session here of the conference of education in the South.

This plan for the readjustment of the country's rural and normal schools included the rearrangement of school terms and courses so that boys and girls forced to work can attend school one week and work the next, and the readjustment of normal schools so that teachers may be trained for the proper instruction of the country youth.

ROOSEVELT TO SAIL FOR HOME MAY 12.

New York, April 9.—Theodore Roosevelt is expected to reach Manaos, Brazil, the last of this month, according to a dispatch from Anthony Fiala, a member of one of the divisions of the Roosevelt exploring party, which the Times published today. The Fiala dispatch dated at Manaos yesterday, says:

"Capt. Amilcar de Magalhaes, commanding the exploring party which started down the Giparano river, has just arrived. Leo C. Miller, the naturalist of the American Museum of Natural History who accompanied the Roosevelt expedition, is with him.

"Mr. Miller says he left Col. Roosevelt in good health on the Duvida river on Feb. 27. The Colonel, he says, has been engaged in some difficult exploration, and may be expected to reach here late this month. There is some talk of his sailing on May 12."

HOROWITZ MAY CONFESS

New Development Looked for in Case of Gunmen.

Alibi Affidavit for "Dago Frank" Sent to Glynn.

New York, April 9.—There were persistent rumors today to the effect that at least one of the four gunmen who are to die at Sing Sing Monday morning for the part they played in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, would confess. The rumors could not be traced to their sources.

Joseph A. Shay, counsel for Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant, convicted of instigating the murder but saved by higher court ruling, said he might go to the prison some time today and endeavor to get statements from the four men, to be used by the defense at the second trial of Becker. In case the condemned men decline to make statements to him, he has prepared an application to the supreme court for an order requiring the appointment of a commission to take their depositions. In either event, it was said, the execution of the sentences would not be delayed.

Has Not Lost Hope.

Although Governor Glynn twice has refused to grant a reprieve, the families of the gunmen and their counsel, Charles G. F. Wahle, had not given up all hope today. Every means known to the law will be employed from now until Monday, Wahle declared.

Today he will send a memorandum to Governor Glynn on the latter's refusal to grant a reprieve. The memorandum will take the form of an argument in answer to the governor's reasons for his refusal. Wahle had at first intended to go to Albany today to make a personal plea to Governor Glynn, but when the delegation of rabbis failed yesterday to move the governor to reconsidering his decision, Wahle determined that the interests of

NO TRACE FOUND OF TEMPERANCE WORKER

Church Is Ready to Spend Entire Resources in Search.

Danville, Ill., April 9.—The entire resources of the Church of Christ in the United States will be called upon, if necessary, to unravel the mystery surrounding the disappearance March 31 of Rev. Louis R. Palmont, a "dry" worker at Westville, a mining village five miles south of Danville.

Four detectives have been employed by local representatives of the church, and every means possible will be taken to find Palmont, dead or alive. Not a single scrap of evidence has been secured concerning his whereabouts.

Governor Dunne's refusal to call out the local national guard company to assist in the search has caused Sheriff Shepard to organize a posse of special deputies who will go to Westville to begin an organized search. Ponds will be dragged and abandoned mines searched, as well as the wild and uneven country near the village.

BISHOP SCHINNER TO GO TO SPOKANE.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 9.—Right Rev. A. F. Schinner, formerly bishop of Superior, Wis., has been appointed bishop of the newly created diocese of Spokane, Wash., according to word received here today.

REPORTS MASSACRE OF THE CHRISTIANS

Official Statement Tells of Mussulman Outbreak in Albania.

Athens, April 9.—An official communication says that Mussulman Albanians on Tuesday entered Koritsa, in the vilayet of Monastir, and with the aid of the gendarmerie, who had previously disarmed the inhabitants, began yesterday a massacre of Christians.

A Vienna dispatch on April 3 said it was reported from Avlona that irregular forces had fiercely attacked Koritsa, but were repulsed by the Albanians.

SAY BANKER SPENT EVERYTHING IN SIGHT

Creditors Want His Estate Given to the Trustees.

Toledo, Ohio, April 9.—Charges that the late George A. Klahr, president of the defunct People's bank at Sycamore, Ohio, appropriated to his own use not only the original capital and a part of the earnings of the bank but also more than $200,000 of the deposits, were made by creditors of the bank in Federal court here.

The charges were made in testimony offered by the creditors in support of a petition recently filed in Federal court, in which they asked that the trustees in bankruptcy be given possession of Klahr's personal estate, estimated to be worth $75,000.

K. F. SHAH.

New York, April 9.—K. F. Shah, the new Chinese minister to the United States, arrived by way of Europe on Sunday and stopped in New York before going to Washington. Mr. Shah brought Mrs. Shah and four children, the minister was dressed in American clothing and so were all the children except the baby. Mrs. Shah wore her native dress.

Mr. Shah lived in New York for a number of years as consul general. He speaks excellent English and his eldest boy also speaks our language.

SUFFRAGETTES BURN MANSION IN ULSTER

Woman Uses Hatchet in British Museum in London.

Belfast, Ireland, April 9.—Suffragettes continued their firebrand campaign in Ulster today by burning Orlands, an old mansion near Carrickfergus or Belfast Lough. The usual suffragist literature was found about the grounds.

Used Hatchet in Museum.

London, April 9.—A militant suffragette today smashed ten cases containing exhibits in the Asiatic section of the British museum. She used a hatchet to commit the outrage. Beyond breaking a few specimens of valuable porcelain, however, she did very little damage except to the glass cases.

The woman was arrested, and when taken to the police station declined to give her name.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 9.—W. A. Scripps, the former publisher, who is critically ill at his home in Altadena, was said to be slightly improved today.

BOY FALLS FIVE STORIES; IS NOT EVEN BRUISED.

New Haven, Conn., April 9.—Six-year-old Michael Wilkowsky lost his balance while playing on the roof of a five-story building, turning over several times during his fall, and landed unhurt on a mattress. He was taken to a hospital where physicians failed to find even a bruise.

COLD HITS WIDE REGION

East, South and Southwest Feel Belated Winter.

Fruit and Vegetables in Exposed Places May Be Killed.

Washington, April 9.—Winter's belated touch enveloping the entire East set new records at official thermometers.

In New Orleans, straw hats and spring finery were replaced with winter overcoats. Throughout the South Atlantic and Gulf states heavy damage to fruits and early crops was feared. A 30 deg. drop in a few hours was recorded at Mobile. Snow flurries were recorded as far south as Greenville, S. C., breaking the April records of several years. Fruit trees in blossom in the Norfolk tidewater section were caught in the nipping frosts. April snow in Richmond was recorded for the first time since the Spanish war.

The weather bureau predicted heavy frosts as far south as Northern Florida tonight and cold weather nearly everywhere east of the Rocky mountains.

Coldest April in Years.

Memphis, Tenn., April 9.—Freezing and near-freezing temperatures were reported from West Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Oklahoma by the local weather bureau today. At Fort Smith, Ark., the mercury fell to 30 deg. At Jackson, Miss., a temperature of 36 was recorded and at Vicksburg 38.

In Memphis the freezing point was reached. Nashville and Chattanooga reported 32 deg. temperatures. Indications are that much of the fruit and vegetables in exposed places has been killed.

Today the sun is shining, with promise of a decided rise in temperature.

Muskogee, Okla., reported the coldest April weather in twenty years. From Bartlesville, Okla., near the Kansas line, to Durant, on the Texas border, freezing temperatures were recorded. At Westville, Ark., ice formed

KING TWO HOURS UNDER THE KNIFE

Extensive Ulceration of Stomach Found By Surgeons.

Stockholm, Sweden, April 9.—King Gustave of Sweden was operated on today at the Sophia hospital here. The surgeons found that he was suffering from extensive ulceration of the stomach.

The operation, which was performed by Prof. John Wilhelm Berg, a well-known Swedish surgeon, and Jules Heribert Akerman, lasted two hours. It was announced afterward that the royal patient's condition was satisfactory, although his majesty was weak.

The queen occupied an apartment in the hospital during the operation, and will stay there until the king is convalescent.

After the operation a bulletin was issued which read:

"A more or less superficial ulcer was discovered on the left lower side of the stomach near the pylorus, or opening between the stomach and small intestine. The ulcer showed no signs of being malignant. The operation of gastro-enterotomy then was performed."

SHARED THE THRONE OF LATE RULER OF JAPAN

DOWAGER EMPRESS HARUKO.

DOWAGER OF JAPAN DIES

End Comes Suddenly in Presence of Emperor and Family.

Empress Had Seen the Greatest Advances in Modern Japan's History.

Tokio, April 9.—The Dowager Empress Haruko died at the imperial villa at Namazu today. Following the usual custom in the case of the death of a member of the imperial family, the official announcement of the event will not be made until the body has been transferred to the capital. This is expected to take place tomorrow.

Her majesty passed away suddenly, in the presence of Emperor Yoshihito, the empress and the other members of the royal family, who had been summoned from the capital.

The imperial patient had developed deceptive symptoms. She displayed increased vigor and asked for food. A short time afterward her majesty became unconscious. The doctors in attendance applied restoratives, but without avail, and she died without recovering consciousness.

Her majesty had been suffering for a considerable period from angina pectoris, but the official diagnosis declared that Bright's disease was the direct cause of her death.

Dowager Empress Haruko was the widow of Emperor Mutsuhito, who died July 30, 1912. She was born May 23, 1850, and was the daughter of a nobleman, Ichijo Tadao. In 1868 she married the late emperor, and was declared empress.

Haruko, by the side of her husband, passed through the troubled period of the transformation of Japan at the beginning of Mutsuhito's reign. She saw him transfer his capital from Kioto to Yeddo, which was later renamed Tokio. She watched with curious interest the opening of the country to foreign commerce, its departure from old world customs and its adoption of Western civilization. She waited in the imperial palace news of the Japanese armies at war, first with China and then with Russia, and saw the complete evolution of Japan into a world power.

Of Simple Tastes.

Haruko was simple in her tastes. She presided over court functions with great dignity, on most occasions wearing Western dress, especially when she came into contact with Americans or Europeans. When the function was purely Japanese, she occasionally returned to the picturesque costume of her youth.

The dowager empress was greatly affected by the death of Mutsuhito, suffering for many months from an affection of the heart. She died at the imperial villa at Namazu, a watering place near Yokohama.

Draper No Better.

Greenville, S. C., April 9.—No improvement was reported today in the condition of Former Governor E. S. Draper of Massachusetts, stricken here with paralysis. Attending physicians would make no predictions, but indicated they entertained grave fears for Mr. Draper's recovery. Members of the former governor's family arrived today from Massachusetts.

Situation There Regarding Foreign Property Is Serious.

Mexican Herald Admits for First Time Villa Holds Torreon.

Carranza Justifies Villa's Expulsion of the Spaniards.

Washington, April 9.—Overnight dispatches to the navy department from Rear Admiral Fletcher reported fighting still in progress at Tampico, without advantage to either side. On account of a heavy norther, Rear Admiral Mayo was discouraging refugees from going aboard ships there.

Admiral Fletcher sent this report, received from Admiral Mayo yesterday afternoon:

"Mayo reports fighting continues with no change except that the gunboat Zaragoza is assisting the Vera Cruz in shelling Arbol Grande. On account of a norther and no advantage in fighting am discouraging refugees from coming on board. Have received few on Des Moines alongside dock. If rebels receive artillery, which seems to be improbable, conditions will be more serious. Reports circulated on shore that American battleships are supplying arms to the rebels."

Refuge on Warships.

The admiral added that he had directed Admiral Mayo to give refuge to Americans and other foreigners on American vessels as far as possible. The department today suggested to Admiral Fletcher the possibility of taking the marines off the transport Prairie at Vera Cruz and sending that vessel to Tampico to receive the refugees who cannot be cared for on the other ships without more or less inconvenience. It is about settled that if an additional ship is sent to the east coast it will be either a navy transport, possibly the Hancock, now at New Orleans—or a commercial vessel.

Officials here did not regard the shore report from Tampico that the rebels are receiving aid from the American battleships as worth comment.

Conditions in Tampico.

Concerning conditions in Tampico the state department today issued this statement:

"From Vera Cruz wireless reports indicate that the situation at Tampico as regards foreign property, is complicated and serious. The Waters-Pierce oil refineries have been occupied by attacking forces during the last two days and as a consequence, have been under fire from the Federal gunboat in the harbor. A loss to the entire property is feared. The warehouses of the Agencia Comercial, a German property, were burned with a loss of $500,000."

From Ensenada it is reported that the situation at Mazatlan is tranquil.

Five Americans arrested at Vera Cruz as a military precaution were released today. A consular report from Torreon says "very good order" has been re-established there.

Brig. Gen. Hugh L. Scott at El Paso today reported to the war department by wireless that fighting was said to be in progress at San Pedro and Parras, but he gave no details.

165 HUNGRY MEN BREAK FROM TRAIN

Kelley Followers Demand Food and Pueblo Police Serve Beans.

Pueblo, Colo., April 9.—After breaking their way from box cars, into which they had been locked, overpowering a dozen police and railroad detectives, 165 members of "Gen." Kelley's army of the unemployed left a Denver & Rio Grande freight train two miles north of this city today and marched back to town, demanding food.

The men were escorted to the city corral, where the police made arrangements to supply a menu of beans, bread and coffee. It was planned to send the "army" east over the Missouri Pacific railroad as soon as cars can be supplied.

When the train bearing the army arrived here today the cars were locked, and the police planned to send the train on through to Denver. The band, however, objected to this program and the escape followed.

Bryan Back at Work.

Washington, April 9.—Secretary Bryan, who has been kept indoors for a week by a hard cold, returned today to his desk at the state department.

BANKS TO AID DAIRYMEN

Will Loan Money to Farmers for Purchase of Cows.

Local Agriculturists and Bankers Adopt the Ashland Plan.

Representatives of the leading banks of the city met late yesterday afternoon with C. P. Craig, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Commercial club and others interested in agricultural development, and adopted the Ashland plan of promoting dairying in this vicinity.

The Ashland plan is simple and has proved very effective. Business men of Ashland, where the plan had its origin, guaranteed the banks 25 per cent of loans made to farmers for the purchase of cows. The banks took chattel mortgages on the animals when they advanced the money. The rate of interest was made very low—6 per cent, it is understood. Before the loans were made, the farmers who desired to take advantage of the benefit offered them are required to file an application with the trustees appointed, stating how many cows they can properly take care of. This application is then turned over to an inspector, who not only looks into the applicant's reputation for honesty and how his credit stands, but also investigates conditions at his farm to find out if he can properly house and feed the cattle, whether he is slovenly or otherwise in his conduct of his farm, and everything that will tend to promote or retard success.

If he is found to be satisfactory his application is granted and the loan advanced. In this way the Ashland district has built up wonderfully as a dairy center, and in a very short time; and the bankers have not yet experienced a loss. The matter was broached in Duluth last week, and yesterday culminated in the action mentioned. The trustees appointed are E. G. Church, George C. Stone and W. G. Hegardt.

The matter will be taken up further by the agricultural committee and it is likely that a sub-committee will be appointed to visit the business men of the city to see about their subscriptions to a guarantee fund. That completed the banks of the city will be ready to do their part.

At a luncheon served last week at the Commercial club to business men and farmers the matter was taken up, thoroughly discussed, and received a most enthusiastic indorsement of all present. It is believed that the farmers will enter into the work with zest and will take advantage of the opportunity afforded them.

COMING TO DULUTH TO FIND A WIFE

Olaf Larson of Holland, Mich., the man who wrote Mayor Prince in his search for a wife, has accepted the offer made the other day by Manager W. M. Abrahamson of the Empress theater, and in a telegram received here this morning, states that he will arrive in Duluth tomorrow.

Mr. Abrahamson has offered to find Larson a wife, the only condition made by the local theater manager being that Larson be willing to have the Empress audience choose for the woman who will apply in answer to the advertisement for a wife, the one whom they think will make him the best partner. Larson has agreed and after his arrival tomorrow, arrangements will be made for the contest, and an entry list will be prepared.

Montana Printer Dies.

Jamestown, N. D., April 9.—J. E. Manner of this city was called to Helena, Mont., by the death of his brother-in-law, I. W. Gerlich, a veteran Montana printer, who died in a Helena hospital of appendicitis and hernia, aged 52. Mr. Manner is taking the body to St. Paul. Interment will be made beside the mother and brother of the deceased. A native of Dubuque, Iowa, Mr. Gerlich learned his trade in Wisconsin and for twenty years had worked in newspaper offices in Montana.

DROP GAMBLING CHARGE

Trio Dismissed on Ground of Insufficient Evidence.

Because evidence was insufficient, Judge Cutting dismissed the gambling charges against Mike Godlesky, 24; Peter Mesunas, 28, and Anton Krijus, 39, who were arrested last evening by Detectives Toewe and Bradley.

Godlesky came to headquarters early last evening and reported that he had lost $40 while gambling with Peter Mesunas and Anton Krijus at 1129 West Superior street.

Lieut. Schultz detailed Detectives Toewe and Bradley to investigate the claims of Godlesky and they later arrested Mesunas and Krijus on a gambling charge. Godlesky was also arrested and this morning the three were arraigned before Judge Cutting.

Superior

BUYS CUYUNA INTEREST.

Bayfield Man and Others in Hundred Thousand Dollar Deal.

Frank Boutin of Bayfield, Wis., and several business associates this morning closed a deal whereby, for a consideration of $100,000 they became owners of a one-sixteenth interest in 840 acres of rich iron mining properties on the Cuyuna range. The deal was closed through George G. Newton's office today.

The mining property includes some of the richest mines on the Cuyuna range. In the parcel of land is the Pennington mine and also 130 acres of property now under lease to the Whitmarsh Mining company. The rest of the property lies adjacent to these mines and is said to have indications of rich ore.

"No License" Campaign.

Superiorites who were disappointed at the outcome of the city election intend to start a "no license" campaign in the hope of placing Superior in the column among the "dry" cities of the state.

Several of the pastors who took an active part in the recent investigation of moral conditions as well as in the recall election are said to be back of the proposed campaign. A number who were asked about it refused to discuss the matter at present, but intimated that there was something to the rumor.

COUNTY BOARD MEETS.

Old Members Turn Over Clean Slate to Successors.

The old board of county supervisors are holding their final meeting this afternoon at the courthouse. All business of the old board will be completed and the members expect to turn over a clean slate to the new members.

According to the election returns the following will comprise the new board: First ward, E. A. Clark; Second ward, William A. Hagreen; Third ward, John Bradshaw; Fourth ward, Joseph McMullen; Fifth ward, Peter Ackerson; Sixth ward, Emanuel Rossiter; Seventh ward, Fred J. Loss; Eighth ward, Wallace W. Andrew; Ninth ward, Nels Nelson; Tenth ward, W. R. Hallam; Amnicon, Oscar Lindquist; Bennett, E. P. Carlson; Brule, T. W. Jay; Gordon, William Wilkinson; Hawthorne, John Levine; Highland, J. W. CITY BEGINS PAVING WORK

Will Pave Lake Avenue From Canal to Twelfth Street.

The public works division of the city began its activities for the season yesterday by commencing the improvement of Lake avenue from the canal to Twelfth street, which will be paved with concrete.

The work is being done by day labor and an effort will be made to push it through to an early completion. This will be a great convenience to the hundreds of people who go to the boat club during the summer.

The estimated cost of the job is $20,000, of which the city's share is figured at $4,500.

The city will do more work by day labor this year than ever before. In addition to the Lake avenue job it will pave Superior street between Fifteenth and Thirtieth avenues. Arrangements have been finished for the purchase of most of the material and it will be started within a short time.

Crow Wing Cases Appealed.

Brainerd, Minn., April 9.—The so-called gas company franchise case, which in the district court gained a decision that the mayor's veto was of no value, has been taken to the supreme court. An appeal to the supreme court has also been taken in the so-called kidnaping case by two of the defendants, Peter Newman and W. J. Sullivan of Crosby.

SHOLUND WANTS A "SQUARE DEAL"

Will Ask Council to Give High Court Complete Report.

Charles Sholund, whose saloon license at 101 East Michigan street was recently revoked by the council, served notice upon City Clerk C. S. Palmer this morning that he will ask the council to furnish the supreme court with a more nearly complete record of the proceedings than was forwarded to comply with the writ of certiorari issued by that body.

Through his attorneys, Sholund alleges that the return was false and a sham, being incomplete in many essential particulars. He asserts that it did not show that there was no written resolution leading to the revocation; that it did not show the objections which were raised; that it did not show that Sholund was given no opportunity to defend himself; that it did not show that petitions were presented asking a postponement and approving Sholund's moral character; that it did not show that Commissioner Hicken said that the revocation was recommended under section 18 of the saloon code, and that it did not show that the council refused a request that a statement be inserted in the record giving the reason for the council's action. The notice declares further that the return was carelessly and negligently drawn and is a self-serving declaration.

Attorney W. H. Gurnee, police prosecutor, who has been representing the city in the case, said this morning that the notice is comparatively insignificant as it affects the merits of the case. He stated that the city will present its own defense and that the notice is equivalent to requesting the city to answer as desired by the appellant.

To Combine Brainerd Clubs.

Brainerd, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. A. Haggard, O. A. Peterson and Carl Zapffe have been appointed a committee of the Commercial club to confer with the Booster club Friday evening with the view of presenting the consolidation of the two clubs in an effort to secure the best results along the line of boosting Brainerd. The Commercial club has extended to the state Sunday school convention at Winona this year, an invitation to hold their 1915 convention in Brainerd, the club pledging to secure a hall for the assembly.

Do you know why cows' milk will not do for your baby?

Many mothers who cannot nurse their babies think that cows' milk is a safe substitute. But it is not. You can't depend on getting cows' milk fresh and pure. Nearly all milk is 30 hours old when you get it. There are but 8 clean dairies in every 100, and so many cows infected with tuberculosis, you can't be sure that the milk you get is free from these dangers.

Even were you sure of getting absolutely pure milk, still it would not do for your baby. Cows' milk is intended for strong little calves, and nature has provided a calf with four stomachs to digest it. Your baby's tender little stomach cannot digest the heavy curds in cows' milk. It struggles under such an unfair load and finally becomes weak and ill. Give your baby the food nearest to mother's milk—

Nestlé's Food

The best of cows' milk from our own guarded Dairies, purified and modified with just enough wheat, sugar and other strength-building elements added—this is Nestlé's Food. Even the frailest baby can digest it. Cold water and one minute's boiling prepares it. No fuss, no bother, no risk. Your baby will thrive on it as the babies of three generations have done.

Send the Coupon for a sample box of Nestlés and our "Better Babies" Chart—FREE. This chart shows you how to judge your baby according to modern health standards. See whether your baby weighs as much as he should, and whether his measurements are up to the standard of a baby his age. Send the coupon today for the Chart, our helpful Mothers' Book, and a big box of Nestlé's Food.

"Trying to Get Him to Save"

THERE is a volume of sentiment back of those six simple words, if one but stop to consider. The mother, who can picture the future of her boy, is "trying to get him to save." We open accounts almost daily for the boy of today who will be the man of tomorrow. A wife starts an account for her husband. She is "trying to get him to save." She has a vision of the coming years when the accumulation of the earning days will mean rest, contentment, happiness. Perhaps it is a vision of a little farm or a snug home. Saving will make it real. We are trying to get YOU to save, because we see the actual results of saving in the lives of others.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE NATIONAL BANK

PROHIBITION CHIEF MAINE PARTY PLANK.

Augusta, Maine, April 9.—As at the Democratic and Progressive state conventions held last month, the question of prohibition appeared likely to occupy a leading place in the discussion at the Republican state convention today. Since state officials are to be nominated at the primaries in June, the principal business was the adoption of a platform. Many of the delegates favored a plank urging national prohibition.

An attack on President Wilson's Mexican and Panama canal tolls policy was made by Congressman John A. Peters of this state in his address as presiding officer of the convention.

WAGE DISPUTE ON RAILROADS SETTLED

Terms of Agreement Will Be Given Out Friday.

New York, April 19.—The dispute between the Eastern railroads and their trainmen and conductors regarding the interpretation of the awards made some time ago by the Federal board of arbitration has been settled. The board has been holding executive sessions here, adjourning finally last night, and its decision will be made public Friday after a copy of the findings has been filed in the United States district court here.

Both sides to the dispute have indicated their acceptance, it is understood. The roads and their employes were represented at the hearings.

CARNEGIE AT THE NATIONAL CAPITOL.

Washington, April 9.—Andrew Carnegie was an auditor in the house gallery today and applauded a speech supporting the Panama tolls exemption repeal, by Representative Vollmer of Iowa, the newest member. Later Mr. Carnegie visited the White House.

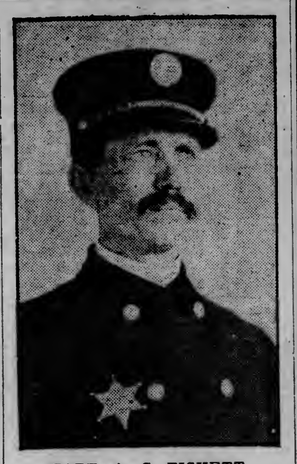
FISKETT WILL AGAIN HEAD POLICE RELIEF ASSOCIATION



Capt. A. G. Fiskett and Lieut. Frank Schulte were yesterday afternoon re-elected president and secretary, respectively, of the Duluth Police Relief association at the annual meeting and election held at police headquarters.

Capt. Fiskett has held the office continuously for the last fourteen years. He has made an enviable record as head of the organization and his re-election for the ensuing year was made unanimous by the members of the association. Next spring he will complete a round fifteen years as president. The office was held by Chief Troyer up to the time he was made chief.

Sergt. A. V. Youngberg won the vice presidency from Sergt. David Butchart by the toss of a coin, they having received a tie vote at the election. Lieut. Schulte has held the position of secretary for several years and his re-election marks the unanimous approval of the association of his services. Gus Lahti was named treasurer to succeed Lieut. John Drannen, who will retire on a pension June 1.

During the fiscal year ending March 31, approximately $1,900 was paid out of the treasury as the result of death and illness among the members, two of whom died. There are eighty-four members in the association, twenty-five of whom are no longer in the police department, but who still pay the annual dues of $3. In the event of death, a member's heirs receive $500.

CAPT. A. G. FISKETT.

GOOD EARNINGS FOR SOUTH SHORE

Monthly Report Shows Business Better Than Year Ago.

Satisfactory traffic is reported by the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad in its statements of current earnings. The road's February report showed gross earnings of $237,738, or slightly better than last year. For the eight months its gross aggregated $2,320,165, as compared with $2,217,352 for the corresponding period in 1913. After providing for the heavy improvement program carried through during the year, $481,071 was left for net revenue, or $22,000 better than a year ago.

With the collapse of the miners' strike in the Michigan Copper country, officials of the company expect to handle increased business from now on. The road's bridges and roadbed have been brought up to standard as the result of liberal expenditures for improvements during the last two years, and it is now enabled to take care of its traffic at a greatly decreased operating cost.

There has been considerable influx of new settlers already this spring into the farming districts along its system in Northern Wisconsin and Northern Michigan.

ARRANGE FOR A SOCIAL SURVEY

Committee Named to Outline Plans and Secure Worker.

Another step towards securing a social survey of Duluth was taken at a meeting of representatives of the Woman's Council, the Inter-church council and the Commercial club with Mayor Prince at the Commercial club yesterday.

A committee of three was named to outline plans of procedure and to find an experienced worker to take charge of the survey. The committee consists of Mrs. Arthur Barnes of the Woman's Council, A. T. Banning, Jr., of the Commercial club and Rev. J. W. Hoffman of the Inter-church council.

The committee will co-operate with Mayor Prince and the welfare department. All present available information will be collected and filed with the welfare department and some arrangement may be made whereby other data will be secured through the voluntary services of those interested in the movement. This would be sorted and classified by an experienced social worker and form the basis for the complete survey, which would be finished under his direction.

CITY WISHES TO SELL PROPERTY

Merritt Would Raise Fund for Duplicate Force Main.

Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, head of the division of public utilities, would sell some of the property of the water and light department for which the department has no use, and devote the proceeds toward paying for a right-of-way for the duplicate force main from the Lakewood pumping station.

The department is planning to lay part of the second main this year. For this purpose it wishes to acquire a seventeen-foot easement south of the present sixteen-foot right-of-way through sections 34 and 35, township 51 and range 13. The property is owned as follows: Owsley estate, 260 square feet; Norton estate, 1.35 acres; Richardson, Day & Cheadle, 2,109 square feet, and Duluth & Iron Range, 1,700 square feet. The department also desires to purchase additional ground for a reservoir and pumping station in the Woodland district.

The property which it would sell, is the ground that was secured for a site for the middle system reservoir, which was not used, and the house and lot on South street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east, used as a residence by the engineer of the Endion pumping station when the old plant was in operation.

SAY JUROR AGREED TO $3,000 BRIBE

Larimore Man Held for Trial in Grand Forks Case.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The charge that Richard Bruyere of Larimore, a juror, had made an agreement with John Fadden, W. A. Scouten and J. C. Mahon to receive a bribe of $3,000 in the McLain Cooper murder trial, was made today. He waived a hearing and was bound over. Also waived a hearing on the specific charge of receiving $36.

HURLEY RE-ELECTS OLD OFFICERS.

Hurley, Wis., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—There were two separate tickets voted here Tuesday. The entire Lambrix ticket was elected as follows: Chairman, M. Lambrix; supervisors, R. Paul and Louis Volgt; town clerk, W. E. Paynter; town treasurer, E. M. Reible; assessor, Fred J. Peterson; constables, Frank Dardas and Max La Fave.

These held the same offices last year. They made their issue plain to the people before election that they would work together for the benefit of the town, morally, as well as socially.

Swell Corns? Try Wonderful "GETS-IT"

Greatest Corn-Cure World Has Ever Known. "Gets" Corns Sure as Fate.

Thousands say "GETS-IT" is simply magic. If you've tried nearly everything under the sun to get rid of those corns, so much the better for "GETS-IT." Corn freedom is yours at last, not net week or next month, but right now! "GETS-IT" goes after corns as a crow does corn. There are no more thick plasters and greasy salves that don't remove, no more files, razors and jabbers that make corns grow. Put a few drops of "GETS-IT" on and see every corn and callus shrivel and vanish. That's the new way, the painless, sure, safe, quick way. Only "GETS-IT" can do it. Apply it in 3 seconds.

Every druggist in the land sells "GETS-IT," 25 cents a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

STEAM SHOVEL HITS BLAST; FOUR KILLED

One Man Is Blown Into Wheel and Ground to Bits.

The Dalles, Or., April 9.—Three men were instantly killed, one was so badly hurt that he lived only a few minutes, another's nose was blown off and three others were less seriously injured by an explosion of The Dalles-Celilo canal works, a mile and a half east of here, when a government steam shovel struck a "missed hole" and discharged a tremendous blast of dynamite. The dead:

EDWARD KENLDER.

ALEX LIND.

EDWARD RYAN.

C. A. DRICH.

With the exception of Kendler, the engineer of the shovel, all were laborers, known as "pit men."

Arthur Eckerson, a power man, was the man whose nose was blown off. William Smith, brakeman on the work train, was bruised about the chest and hands by flying rock and D. W. Lester, cranesman, sustained slight cuts on the face and head. Chris Krier, the shovel fireman, escaped with a gash over the eye.

Kendler, the engineer, was seated in the engine room door. The blast hurled him through the door and into the engine [illegible], where he was caught in the [illegible] of a big wheel. His body was torn to pieces.

WANT TWO MORE REGIONAL BANKS

Western Governors Also Ask Slice of Public Domain.

Denver, Colo., April 9.—Seven governors at the Western governors' conference here went on record with a demand to congress for the establishment of two more regional reserve banks—one in the Pacific Northwest and the other in the Rocky Mountain states.

This action was taken on motion of Governor Lister of Washington, and was indorsed by Governors Oddie of Nevada, Carey of Wyoming, West of Oregon, Haines of Idaho, Spry of Utah and Ammons of Colorado.

The governors also adopted a resolution urging congress to give the Western states 5 per cent of the public domain within their boundaries, the proceeds to be used for road improvement.

KENTUCKY MAN IS FOR PROHIBITION.

Bismarck, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Malcolm R. Patterson, former governor of Kentucky, will enter North Dakota this month, speaking at several points under the direction of the North Dakota Prohibition Enforcement league.

Dr. P. A. Baker, president of the National Anti-Saloon league, will also speak with Mr. Patterson.

MAN MURDERED IN CAFE IN CHICAGO

Police Look for "Duffy the Goat" and a Woman.

Chicago, April 9.—Isaac Henagow, a cigar jobber, formerly of San Francisco, who was shot and killed last night in a south side cafe, was identified today and a mystery as to his identity was cleared up. Henagow formerly was sparring partner for a pugilist known as "Kid Farmer," according to his brother, Maurice, with whom and his parents and two sisters, the victim lived here. Maurice Henagow said that his brother was known in sporting circles as "William Wood."

The police are looking for James Franche, alias "James Duffy" or "Duffy the Goat," who was said to have been drinking with Henagow and a woman a few moments before the shooting.

Finding of letters and cards in Henagow's pockets addressed to persons in San Francisco led at first to the belief that he was "William Wood" of San Francisco.

AMERICAN MAILS DELAYED BY GALES.

Queenstown, April 9.—The American mails again were marooned here today when the tenders were unable, owing to the gale, to get alongside the Olympic outside in the harbor. The liner sailed without them at half-past 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Warning by Kidneys Should be Heeded

Early Symptoms Can Be Checked.

Just because you're not incapacitated from business or pleasure, the warnings of kidney disease should not go on unheeded, or serious results are bound to follow. A pain in the back, that tired feeling, rheumatism, neuralgia and various other symptoms indicate disordered kidneys which can be restored to their normal condition by using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. Under the influence of its general restorative effect the violence of all disease symptoms rapidly subside; pains in the back disappear, disorders in the urine are corrected, and gradually the uric acid in the blood which causes rheumatism is eliminated. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy acts on the liver and kidneys. The fame of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has been continuous for 37 years in effectually removing kidney complaints, as thousands of former sufferers testify. It clears up the liver, kidneys and bladder and enables these organs to do their work properly and effectually. It will help you from the very first dose. At all druggists in 50c and $1.00 sizes. JERSEY CITY AND PASSAIC PROTEST

Want to Be Included in New York Reserve Bank Field.

Jersey City, N. J., April 9.—A protest against excluding this city from the Federal reserve district of New York city has been forwarded to Washington by a committee of Hudson county bankers. All the large banks in the county are represented. The protest calls attention to the position of Hudson county as part of New York for banking and business purposes.

"Including the county in the Philadelphia Federal reserve district would result in much inconvenience," it is declared.

A similar resolution has been passed by the Associated Bankers of Passaic and vicinity.

"JONESY, THE BELL RINGER." IS DEAD.

Cambridge, Mass., April 9.—"Jonesy, the Bell Ringer," widely known among Harvard men, died yesterday at the home of his son-in-law, Former Mayor Walter C. Wardwell. He was 88 years old. For many years Austin K. Jones rang the bell in the college yard for chapel and recitations, and his figure was as familiar to generations of Harvard undergraduates as that of "John the Orange Man" and "Poco" Bennett, the "Ol' Clo'es Man," both of whom died recently.

WONDERFUL STOMACH REMEDY IS FOUND IN TIME TO SAVE WOMAN

Mrs. Williams Gets on Way to Health After First Dose of Treatment.

Mrs. Peter Williams of 2749 Eighteenth street, S., Minneapolis, was desperately ill with stomach trouble. She faced the probability of an operation.

After taking Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy, discovered for her by a kind friend, she found herself on the way back to health. Mrs. Williams wrote:

"I have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy for the fourth time and I am feeling like a new woman. I am entirely out of pain. I had been sick for eighteen months and four of our best doctors could do nothing for me. They all agreed that an operation was the only thing. One day a man told my husband of your remedy and that night he brought it home to me."

Mrs. Williams' letter tells an experience like many of the thousands who have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy with unusual benefit. It clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and poisonous matter. It brings quick relief to sufferers from stomach ailments, liver and intestinal troubles. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations; many are sure it saved their lives.

The remarkable merit of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy has caused many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Probably this remedy is known among your own neighbors; ask them. Go to your nearest druggist and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments, and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

PLAN LIBRARY BRANCH FOR GARY

Mayor Prince Takes Up Matter With School Board.

The city will establish a branch library at Gary if a room can be secured in the new school building which will be built there this spring. Mayor Prince will take the matter up with the school board. He has spoken to several of them and as the idea impressed them favorably it probable that the room will be available. The mayor states that only through some such arrangement could a branch be placed in Gary, at least for several years. The additional expense to the city will be light.

The new school may also be utilized for social center purposes next year. Mayor Prince states that this would be particularly desirable at the steel plant suburbs because of their isolated location.

Since the West end branch changed its location, moving to rooms on the ground floor of a building on Twentieth avenue west, the circulation has more than doubled. Many people did not know that a branch was located in the West end, as it was in the rear of the second floor of an office building.

ARE EAGER FOR BASEBALL FIELD

City Will Be Asked to Purchase Ground Near Grand Avenue.

Boys of West Duluth are wondering if they will have a field in this end of the city this coming summer large enough to play baseball in. With the recent acquisition of the ground in the valley along Forty-ninth avenue by the Duluth Corrugating Roofing company and its decision to build there this summer, the baseball enthusiasts fear that they will have no place to play.

Efforts will be made to have the city purchase or lease a piece of ground somewhere above Grand avenue near Forty-sixth avenue west. The city will also be asked to secure a block near the Fairmont school for the same purpose.

"If some step is not taken soon all available property suitable for a baseball field will be taken up," said Frank H. Wade this morning. "The purchase of such a field by the city would be a good investment. It would do more to keep the boys from loafing on the streets and visiting undesirable places, than any other thing. Playgrounds and ball parks will keep the boys busy playing, and they can get no more wholesome exercise than at a game of baseball."

CURLING CLUB BANQUET APRIL 21

Members Make Plans to Entertain About 150 Guests.

Members of the Western Curling club will hold their annual banquet and celebration on Tuesday evening, April 21. The date was decided last night at a meeting of the officers.

The affair will be held in Dormedy's hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street. Plans will be made to entertain about 150 guests.

Among the guests to be invited will be donors of various trophies, who will award the trophies and special prizes to the winners. The winners of events are as follows: W. E. Judson rink, the Bagley and Esterly trophies; Melvin Olson rink, the Union Match trophy; Charles Iltis rink, the Henricksen cup; and the F. H. Wade rink, the Burns and West Duluth Commercial club trophies.

A number of the members will be called on for short talks during the evening. The toastmaster has not yet been decided on but it is probable this will be done before the annual meeting next Tuesday. The latter meeting will be held at the club rooms, Fifty-seventh avenue and Bristol street, and officers will be elected and plans made for improvements to the club's quarters.

The banquet arrangements are under the charge of the present officers. These are F. H. Wade, president; A. H. Donald, vice president; J. A. Scott, second vice president; E. G. Kreidler, secretary and W. B. Getchell, treasurer.

WOODSMAN IS "SHORT CHANGED"

Proves Easy "Money" for Two Strangers on Train.

The old "short change" game found an easy victim in Sievert Tredahl while he was coming into the city on a Canadian Northern passenger train this morning. Two men, whose descriptions are in the hands of the police, are said to have worked the game on Tredahl and netted $45 on the deal.

One of the two men asked Tredahl if he had large bills which he would give in return for those of a smaller denomination. Pulling out a roll containing six $10 bills, Tredahl said he would oblige them.

The "sharpers" then counted out $59 in paper bills, containing ten $5 bills and nine $1 bills and $1 in silver. After counting the money they handed what Tredahl believed to be the roll to him and departed.

As the two men got off at West Duluth the conductor aproached Tredahl and asked him if he had changed bills for the men. He said he had and was told to count it. He then found that he had only one $5 and nine $1 bills and the $1 in silver. Tredahl then got off the train but lost sight of the men. He made a complaint to Lieut. Wilcox of the West Duluth station and later at the Central station to Chief Troyer, giving a good description of the men. So far the police had been unable to apprehend them.

Tredahl was returning from the woods with the winter's savings in his pocket. The short change trick took place shortly before he arrived in the city.

CITY OFFICIALS WILL TALK TO CLUB

Prince and Cleveland Will Speak on Parks and Tree Planting.

Henry Cleveland, superintendent of parks, and Mayor W. I. Prince will be the principal speakers at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club tomorrow night. They will talk on parks and the planting of trees along the city's highways.

Many home owners in West Duluth are interested in the planting of trees in front of their homes. The city's plan of planting these trees and the cost incidental to this work will be fully explained by the officials. It is expected that the meeting will be well attended.

It is probable that the officials will also speak on the work which the city proposes to do at Fairmont park and the proposed plan for establishing public baths at this point on the water front.

NEARLY DROWNS IN SHALLOW POOL

Aged Sailor Is Rescued From Perilous Position By Two Boys.

An old sailor and fisherman living on Fifty-second avenue narrowly escaped drowning this morning in a pool of water less than a foot deep, located back of the Northern Pacific railway station on Fifty-fourth avenue west. Wet goods taken internally by the fisherman on his visits to place along Central avenue proved to be too large a cargo to carry him safely across the pool.

When he started to cross the slough he stumbled on a plank and fell headlong into it. His head landed under another plank in the water and he could not get it out. Richard Schaffer, a boy 13 years old, saw the accident and with two other boys rushed to the man's assistance.

Only for the fortunate appearance of the boys, it is claimed, that the man would have drowned. Wading into the place, the boys dragged him from under the plank and with great difficulty finally pulled him to the sidewalk. The man was able, with the assistance of the boys, to get home.

Blaze in Flax Straw.

A small blaze in a pile of flax straw in the rear of the Northwestern Linen mill at Forty-ninth avenue west and Oneota street gave the West Duluth department a run yesterday afternoon. The damage did not amount to anything. It is believed that sparks from a locomotive caused the blaze.

West Duluth Briefs.

Miss Hazel Kent returned today from Madison, Wis., to spend Easter with her relatives at 335 North Sixtieth avenue west.

State Senator James P. Boyle of Eveleth, who is a candidate for congress from the Eighth district, was a visitor in West Duluth this morning. He spoke last night at a large meeting at Gary.

A large delegation of West Duluth Masons will attend the Scottish Rite banquet at the Duluth temple this evening.

Forest Kent, 335 North Sixtieth avenue west, will leave Saturday to spend a month's vacation visiting places of interest in the West and Southwest.

The Mothers' club of the Fairmount school will meet Monday afternoon at the school building to make plans for a concert to be given the following Thursday.

GLASGOW MEN WILL VISIT CITY

Thomas M. Millan, senior magistrate of the city of Glasgow, Scotland, and Alex Walker, solicitor and city assessor and surveyor of municipal rates of the same city, will be in Duluth about April 11.

The two are making a tour of the United States to study some of the municipal problems of the American cities, and Duluth is one of the cities that will be closely investigated by the Scots.

Among the cities that are being visited are Chicago, Philadelphia, Omaha, Denver, St. Paul and Minneapolis, New York, Boston and Duluth.

MEREDITH AFTER CUMMINS' TOGA

Publisher Announces His Candidacy for Senate From Iowa.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 9.—E. T. Meredith, farm magazine publisher, today formally announced his candidacy on the Democratic ticket for the United States senate to succeed Senator Albert B. Cummins, Republican. In a statement addressed to the "Democrats of Iowa," Mr. Meredith declares that Iowa is placed in the inconsistent attitude of having given Wilson its electoral vote, and "having in the senate Mr. Cummins, who persistently opposes legislation proposed by Mr. Wilson."

After declaring that he believed his candidacy was desired by Democrats of Iowa regardless of factions, Mr. Meredith says:

"We should give President Wilson the co-operation of a Democratic delegation in congress to work with the administration for the great laws yet necessary to be placed on the statute books. We should not return Senator Cummins, who has continuously criticized President Wilson for doing many of the things Senator Cummins advocated in his campaign for election and against which he has since voted."

OPEN IRRIGATION MEETING IN DENVER

Secretary Lane and Western State Officials Meet There.

Denver, Colo., April 9.—An irrigation conference called by Secretary of the Interior Lane for the purpose of deciding upon new policies for the development of Western lands through irrigation opened here today. Governors and other officials of several Western states, officers of the interior department and irrigation experts from many parts of the United States and several foreign countries were in attendance.

Early in the day the governors conferred with the Federal officials to determine the program for the sessions. It was expected the sessions would continue through the remainder of the week.

OIL TANK CAR FOUND LOADED WITH BOOZE

Whisky, Wine and Beer Possibly Intended for Oklahomans.

St. Louis, Mo., April 9.—An oil tank car in the yards of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railroad here, was found today to be loaded with whisky, wine and beer. Internal revenue officers ordered the car "held" for investigation.

The car was billed to Oklahoma City and it is believed the liquor was smuggled into the car in an effort to ship liquor into the prohibition state of Oklahoma.

OMAHA PROTESTS BANK ARRANGEMENT

Objects to Being Part of Kansas City Region.

Omaha, Neb., April 9.—Officers of the national banks of Omaha have drawn up a formal protest to be sent at once to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, objecting to the placing of Omaha in the Kansas City district of the reserve banking system. The protest is the formal action of the Omaha clearing house.

The burden of the protest is that the selection of some of the locations for regional reserve banks was not made with a view to the customary course of business, and that, therefore, it is not in accordance with the letter and intent of the currency law.

The protest asks that if Omaha may not have a regional bank of its own, it may be thrown into the Chicago district as the trend of its business is in that direction. It asks also that Wyoming, along with Nebraska, be thrown into the Chicago district as is represented by the votes of Wyoming now on file with the organization committee.

WILL TRY NEGRO FOR LEEGSON MURDER.

Chicago, April 9.—Isaac Bond, a negro, will be placed on trial May 6, it was announced today, charged with the murder of Miss Ida G. Leegson, white, a trained nurse and art student. Miss Leegson, who was supporting herself by nursing while working in a sculpture class at the art institute, was found strangled to death on the prairie at the outskirts of the city Oct. 5, 1913. It is the police theory that she was lured to her death on a pretext that she was wanted as a nurse.

Shields Votes School Bonds.

Shields, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Without an opposing vote the citizens of Shields indorsed a bond issue of $2,500 for a school building to be erected this year. Even the most enthusiastic advocates scarcely hoped for a unanimous vote on the proposition. Plans for the building will soon be prepared and the contract let so it will be ready for occupancy this fall.

PERUNA RESTORES A Chronic Invalid

Mrs. Sophia Bauer, 621 First Ave., North, Faribault, Minn., writes: "I cannot praise your wonderful medicine, Peruna, enough. It has done much for me during the past ten years, and I keep it in the house continually. I was in such a condition that I could eat nothing but bread and milk, and even that was too heavy for me at times. Now I can eat anything. I will recommend Peruna to all my friends."

The effect of Peruna on digestion is immediate—sometimes wonderful, as in Mrs. Bauer's case. Sharpens appetite, quickens digestion and stimulates the bowels. A most convenient and valuable family medicine. In tablet or liquid form as preferred.

NEW YORK TO MAKE HIGHWAY BRICKS.

Albany, N. Y., April 9.—Bricks for use in constructing highways in New York state will be made at the Elmira state reformatory as soon as buildings and apparatus are erected.

Governor Glynn today signed a bill appropriating $75,000 for this purpose. The plan is the first step in the governor's recommendation to the legislature that convicts be employed in manufacturing road material.

John N. Carlisle, state commissioner of highways, said today that under present traffic conditions brick is the only material the highway department feels safe in using.

BURY WEYERHAEUSER AT ROCK ISLAND, ILL.

Rock Island, Ill., April 9.—Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the lumber millionaire, was buried here today in Chippianock cemetery in a grave beside that of his wife. The funeral services, according to the rites of the Presbyterian church, were held at the home of Weyerhaeuser's daughter, Mrs. S. S. Davis. Rev. W. B. Hill of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a son-in-law of Weyerhaeuser, assisted in the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Weyerhaeuser spent their early years in this city. It was here that the foundations of the vast Weyerhaeuser fortune was laid. A number of his friends from St. Paul, Minn., were present at the ceremonies. The services were brief.

TRUTH ABOUT CANAL TOLLS

C. B. Miller Points Out America's Moral Obligation Regarding Panama.

Consistent With Time-Honored Policy of "Free Seas" as Well.

That many people do not understand the situation which prompted President Wilson to demand of congress that the action for free tolls for American ships through the Panama canal be rescinded, is the belief of Congressman Miller. Congressman Miller, who supported the president in his demand to quit the "sharp practice" as he termed it, says that the matter is a very simple one, and that the part of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty covering it is brief and clear. The congressman said to The Herald today:

"The treaty with Great Britain, commonly known as the Hay-Pauncefote treaty of 1901, under which the Panama canal was built by the United States, clearly and squarely requires that the ships of all nations observing the rules of the canal, are to be treated exactly alike, and that there can be no discrimination.

"The treaty is one of the shortest on record, containing as it does, only a very few paragraphs, and of these one contains and expresses the whole situation. It is as follows:

Terse Phrasing.

"'The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules, on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation or its citizens or subjects, in respect of the conditions of charges of traffic or otherwise. Such conditions and charges of traffic shall be just and equitable.'

"This, of course, is simple English, clear English, and forceful English. It means what it says.

"This principle also, is but a reiteration of the American policy respecting navigable waters from the very beginning of the government. America has ever demanded free seas of the world. Many nations, particularly Spain, tried to divide up the sea and control their respective areas. We fought it tooth and nail. European nations paid tribute to the Barbary pirates controlling the entrance to the Mediterranean. America refused, sent a fleet, and the deeds of our sailors at that time still thrill the youth of our nation. All great highways of commerce on the sea we had demanded shall be open on equal terms to all ships of all nations. What we demand of others, that we must ourselves concede.

Britain's Concession.

"The principle of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty becomes even stronger when historically considered. A sea route was sought and people talked of a Panama canal. We found, however, that Great Britain was ahead of us. She had large possessions in the West Indies. She, by treaty, had a claim to the whole Mosquito coast and a right to build a canal. We at once negotiated and secured the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of 1850, which contemplated that private contract should build the canal, but when built it should be open on equal terms to the ships of the two nations. Ever since making that treaty England has, of course, claimed the right to have her merchant ships not discriminated against. England has conceded our right to fortify the canal, to use it as a military and naval base. In fact, the treaty has all been interpreted our way, save in the matter of favoring American coastwise ships—which is contrary to the American time-honored and war-enforced principle, contrary to our economic interests and squarely contrary to the express terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty."

COLD HITS WIDE REGION

during two successive nights.

Much damage was reported to the garden truck and fruit in Arkansas. Farmers and orchard owners used smudge pots during the night in an effort to protect the fruit trees.

Kansas Peach Crop Suffers.

Kansas City, Kan., April 9. — The peach crop in Kansas is badly damaged by the unseasonable cold weather. The extent of the damage to the peaches and whether it includes other fruit has not yet been estimated, according to Julius Wellhouse, Jr., director of the Kansas Horticultural society. Ice from a quarter to three-eighths of an inch thick formed in most sections of the state.

Damage Reported.

Atlanta, Ga., April 9.—Extremely low temperatures were reported today over the South Atlantic and Gulf states. Reports say fruit and vegetables in Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia have been greatly damaged.

Freezing Temperatures.

Kansas City, Mo., April 9.—Freezing temperatures ranging from 20 to 30 deg. were reported from many parts of the Southwest today. The average temperature was said to be lower than ever before recorded so late in the session.

Horticulturists expressed the fear that fruit has suffered severely and truck farmers reported serious damage to early vegetables.

HOROWITZ MAY CONFESS

his clients would best be served by forwarding the memorandum by special messenger.

The rumors regarding the expected confession had it that the one gunman most likely to talk was "Gyp the Blood" Horowitz.

Alibi for "Dago Frank."

An alibi affidavit for "Dago Frank" Cirofici, the existence of which was rumored yesterday, will be sent to the governor with Wahle's memorandum. The affidavit is signed by Frederick Reo, a special officer in a Harlem dance hall. Reo says that on the night Rosenthal was killed he took a note from a woman, who had been arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, to the home of "Dago Frank" and met "Dago Frank" there. It was then 1:55 o'clock in the morning, about the time Rosenthal was murdered.

The memorandum also calls to the governor's attention the fact that ten of the twelve jurors who convicted the gunmen expressed themselves in favor of a reprieve.

Rabbis' Appeal Dramatic.

Albany, N. Y., April 9.—An impassioned and dramatic appeal made by five Jewish clergymen of New York for a stay of the execution of the four gunmen who were convicted of killing Herman Rosenthal, was denied by Governor Glynn late yesterday.

The plea, which was made in the executive chamber, was based on the possibility of new evidence developing in the second trial of Former Police Lieut. Charles Becker. It so completely unnerved the executive that he had to retire to his private office for a time before he could continue his duties.

"That was the most difficult experience of my life," he said.

The clergymen are all officers or members of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America. Each one was permitted to make his plea. The governor meanwhile stood nervously twitching his watch chain. His face was drawn and white, his lips quivered and tears were in his eyes.

At times he interrupted the speakers to say that the evidence before him did not warrant a change of his decision not to grant the prisoners' plea for executive clemency.

"If it were my heart alone that was considering this case," he said, "you know what I would do. I have spent many sleepless nights because I realized that I alone stood between the boys and death. But I have made up my mind. It was a choice between sentiment and justice, and I had to side with justice. I would have given every cent I possessed not to have to pass upon this case finally."

LODGE, REPUBLICAN, SUPPORTS WILSON'S PANAMA TOLLS PLAN

ble, the high plane which we formerly occupied.

Now Regarded With Distrust.

"It would be an obvious impropriety to point out the specific conditions of our present relations with the various nations, both in the old world and the new; it is enough to note the fact that we are regarded by other nations with distrust and in some cases with dislike. Rightly or wrongly, they have come to believe that we are not to be trusted; that we make our international relations the sport of politics, and treat them as if they were in no wise different from questions of domestic legislation.

"This has not been in accord with our history or our position. Only once have we abrogated a treaty, and then actual, if not declared, war existed. We have scrupulously observed our international agreements, and where differences have arisen we have settled them, not with the high hand of power, but by negotiation and arbitration.

"Decent Respect."

"I suppose that at this moment, in the midst of the adroitly stimulated passions raised against the president's recommendation that we should repeal the toll exemption, it will be thought very poor-spirited and even truckling —I believe that is the accepted word— to suggest that in deciding this question we should take into consideration the opinions of the other nations. Nevertheless, I consider this a very important element in any decision which I may reach, and I am encouraged to believe that I am right in so thinking, because I have the warrant and authority of the author of the Declaration of Independence. When Jefferson framed that great instrument he declared that the impelling reason for making the declaration was 'a decent respect to the opinions of mankind.'

"The outcry about exhibiting subserviency to Great Britain or any other country because we seek to repeal the tolls, seems to me hardly worthy of serious consideration. The United States is altogether too great and too powerful to be subservient to any one, and the mere fact of suggesting it seems to me to indicate an uneasy suspicion on the part of those from whom it emanates, not only of the validity of their position, but of the power and greatness of their own country, as to which I, for one, am troubled by no doubts."

Public Hearings Begun.

Public hearings were begun today before the senate canals committee on the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption. Senators who have introduced bills and resolutions on the subject were first heard.

Senator Norris, Republican, spoke on his amendment to reaffirm the right of the United States to discriminate in favor of its own ships if it chooses to do so and to direct the president to submit the controversy to arbitration. He opposed the exemption as a subsidy, and said he did not want congress to construe the treaty and foreclose the right of the United States to control the canal.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, made a statement supporting his proposal to make the canal free to all ships of all nations.

Commissioner Chamberlain of the navigation bureau, Prof. S. H. Huebner and Dr. Emery Johnson, who investigated the tolls question for President Taft, will be heard later.

Senator O'Gorman said the witnesses from New Orleans and the Pacific coast would be unable to appear before the end of next week.

PITTSBURG BANK SOON TO REOPEN.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 9.—The Pittsburg Clearing House association has approved the petition of the First-Second National Bank of Pittsburg for reinstatement to membership, subject to the approval of the comptroller of the currency. The action, according to the reorganization committee of the bank's depositors and stockholders, means the reopening of the bank within a month.

Just One Application and Ugly Hairs Vanish

(Modes of Today.)

Here is a simple treatment for removing ugly hairs. It is painless, requires little time and can be used in the privacy of your home: Get some powdered delatone and with water mix enough paste to cover the objectionable hairs. Apply for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin, and it will be left soft, clear and hairless. This method is inexpensive and entirely harmless, but be sure to get delatone or the result may be disappointing.—Advertisement.

ICE ON LAKES IS BREAKING UP

Fields Are Gradually Disappearing; Thickness Is Reduced.

Ice on the Great Lakes has been materially reduced during the last week, according to the report of the United States weather bureau, just issued. Many of the ice fields are breaking up or disappearing in the lakes and the ice in the rivers and harbors is being reduced in thickness and open water is beginning to appear in places. The report in part follows:

"The reports from the regular and display stations of the weather bureau and the meteorological service of Canada indicate that the ice fields over Western Superior have practically disappeared. There are some fields over the eastern portion that are broken and moving with the winds. The conditions in Whitefish bay have not changed materially during the past week. In St. Marys river the thickness of the ice is decreasing and some open water is showing. In Green bay the ice continues intact over the northern portion and is broken and moving with the winds over the southern portion. In Michigan no ice fields have been reported south of the islands except from St. Joseph north to Ottawa beach, and these fields are broken and drifting with the winds. The ice at the Straits has decreased in thickness to ten inches and some open water is appearing near Mackinaw and at Mackinac Island. The ice fields over the northern portion of Huron have disappeared; there are extensive fields reported over the southern portion, and extend beyond vision at the mouth of the lake. The connecting rivers are open. In Erie the fields are confined to the eastern portion; these fields are broken and drifting with the winds and much open water is appearing. No field ice is reported in Ontario and the harbors are nearly all open.

"In comparison with the same period last year there is less ice reported in all the lakes except Central and Southern Michigan, where the conditions are about the same."

ICE BREAKING BEGUN IN HARBOR

Marine Men Preparing for the Opening of Navigation.

Marine men at the Head of the Lakes are slowly preparing for the opening of navigation, which is expected to take place in a week or ten days if the weather is favorable. The inspection of vessels and the breaking of ice in the harbor are the only features in marine circles at present.

Very few large vessels docked here last fall, and for that reason the inspection work has been light this spring. Several of the vessels here do not require inspection this season. The local inspectors have just looked over the Minnesota and found her in good condition. No other inspections are contemplated for a time.

Considerable ice has been broken during the last two days, and the harbor is pretty well opened. The Minnesota and America have transferred the Cuyler Adams from the New Berwind docks to the ship yards.

Marine men say that no more ice will be broken here until Saturday. The weather during the last week has not been very favorable for clearing the lake of ice although conditions are much better than they were. With a warming up of the weather marine men believe that navigation may open in a week or ten days, but this can be accomplished only through a big change for the better in weather conditions.

MISSING SAILOR HEIR TO ESTATE

John Sherman Bickel Is Sought By His Sister.

Laura Bickel of 8817 Birchdale avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, has written to L. M. Willcuts, collector of customs, asking his help to locate her brother, John Sherman Bickel, aged 40, whom she has not heard from for some time.

Their father, she says, died recently leaving a small estate to be divided between them and she desires him to have his share. She stated that she was all alone in the world and that she needed his protection and company.

Miss Bickel states that she believes her brother to be a sailor on the Great Lakes, probably a stoker or a deckhand. He is 6 feet tall, large boned, broad shouldered, has light hair, blue gray eyes and smooth faced.

FIVE RESCUED IN GALE.

Lifeboat Battles Nine Hours to Save Fishermen.

Chicago, April 9.—The power lifeboat of the South Chicago station of the United States life-saving station service battled the lake gale nine hours yesterday rescuing five fishermen caught on the government piers. One of the men was on the pier at Gary, Ind., and it took the power boat six hours to go there and back.

The government pier here is one and a half miles long. The storm waves broke clear over it and the four men at the end of the pier were helpless and likely to succumb from exposure.

FALLING OFF IN ORE MOVEMENT PREDICTED.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Cleveland vessel owner yesterday took 200,000 tons of soft coal for delivery at a fast dock at Superior during the coming season at 80 cents. Most shippers will not be in the market for another few weeks, and several vessel owners are in no hurry to charter their boats for coal until they know how much ore they will be able to get.

The ore situation is such that it is impossible to forecast either the amount of ore that will be transported or how soon contracts will be made. Estimates as low as 35,000,000 tons have been made for the season movement and as high as 45,000,000 tons. It will probably be a late movement and little chartering is looked for until next month at the earliest.

The grain shippers are not in the market for anything just now. There will probably be a late trade this season as grain is not selling.

Indorsed for Supreme Court.

Jamestown, N. D., April 9.—Judge Spalding was indorsed at a special meeting of the State Bar association held here to recommend to the people of the state a choice for state supreme judge. There was a goodly representation of attorneys from various parts of the state.

NO ADVANTAGE FOR EITHER SIDE YET IN TAMPICO FIGHTING

by the Mexican Herald today.

The newspaper states that Gen. Aureliano Blancquet declares that Gen. Jose Refugio Velasco, the Federal commander, has not evacuated the city "in the full sense of the word." The minister of war says the Federal commander has made a strategic move which is expected to give the best results on the arrival of the Federal columns now on their way to Torreon.

Carranza Upholds Villa.

Juarez, Mex., April 9.—Gen. Venustiano Carranza has given out a statement on the expulsion of foreigners, justifying Villa's action and declaring that the property of Spaniards will not be confiscated. He says that the Spaniards' expulsion was "on account of their active participation in the movement in favor of Huerta," and that it was done to keep them out of trouble "of a serious nature." He says that if it shall be found that any of the expelled Spaniards have never meddled in political affairs, they will be allowed to return.

The Spaniards, he says, "cling to their nationality for the protection it has afforded them in oppressions of our people. They rarely become Mexican citizens, although they mix actively in our politics."

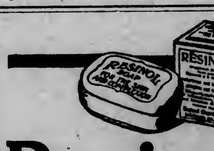
Villa Takes Torreon Banks.

Juarez, April 9.—Gen. Villa yesterday took over the four principal banks of Torreon, according to a report which he telegraphed to this city with the request that it be given to the press of the United States. His prize does not include money or negotiable securities, as the bankers took the precaution of shipping these when Velasco evacuated the country. He has the buildings and furniture, however. The banks affected are the Banco Nacional, the Banco De Laguna, the German & South American bank and the Bank of London & Mexico.

Villa's explanation is this:

When on Oct. 18, 1913, he took Torreon the first time, friends of the Constitutionalist cause contributed 2,000,000 pesos. Twenty-five per cent of this, Villa says, he used to buy drafts on London, Paris and Berlin to strengthen his credit.

When he abandoned the city for the compaign up north, a Federal garrison moved in, and in January of this year, when he attempted to draw on his drafts, he found that the banks had stopped payment. He therefore accuses them of having robbed him, and is taking such retaliatory measures as are available.



Richest Man Impoverished.

El Paso, Texas, April 9.—Rafael Arozena, wealthiest resident of the Laguna district and reported to be the most extensive grower of sea island cotton in the world, was one of the Spanish refugees who rode to the border in a second-class coach with only his personal possessions to show of his lifetime of struggle in the Coahuila cotton country.

Senor Arozena is to the Coahuila Spanish colony what Don Luis Terrazas is to the Chihuahua refugee colony of Mexicans. He is the leader in commercial activities of the Laguna district, owns a number of the largest haciendas in the district, and his wealth is estimated at $17,000,000 Mexican currency. He carried only a leather satchel, a steamer rug and a bag filled with his personal belongings, which he gathered together hastily when the order was given by Villa for the Spaniards to leave the country.

"I am alone. My relatives and my possessions are all in the Laguna district," he said. "I hope to be able to return, for I have had no part in the internal politics of the country. For that reason I prefer not to say anything for fear that it might be misunderstood. I was not mistreated by anyone at Torreon, and have no plans for the immediate present."

Arozena is said to raise 5,000 bales or 2,500,000 pounds of cotton a year, from which the gross income is said to be $400,000.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks — Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

WEST END

HERALD BRANCH:

FINE NEW THEATER FOR WEST END

Emil Nelson Will Build Structure Which Will Cost $55,000.

The West end will have one of the finest theaters in the city, according to the plans being made by Emil Nelson, proprietor of the Star theater. The plans are now being drawn by Holstead & Sullivan, architects.

The building will be erected adjoining the Nelson block now occupied by the Star theater. It will have a frontage of fifty feet on Superior street, will be 140 feet deep and two stories high. Arrangements for a seating capacity of 1,300 will be made.

The new building will cost about $55,000. It is expected that the plans will be ready for the contractors in about ten days. The contract is to be let as soon as possible in order that the building may be ready for opening early in the fall.

OTTERSON HEADS YOUNG OLD TIMERS

Association Makes Plans for Annual Picnic in June.

The annual meeting of the Young Old Timers' association of the West end was held last night at the office of E. A. Thompson, 2032 West Superior street. Andrew Otterson was elected president; W. C. Burton, vice president; Fred S. Britts, secretary, and William Harvey, treasurer.

ANDREW OTTERSON.

Plans were considered for holding the annual picnic of the organization on either Sunday, June 21 or 28. Provisions will be made to take the entire 300 members of the society to the picnic grounds in automobiles. The affairs in previous years has been held at Birch's farm on Lester river and it is planned to hold it there this year if the grounds can be secured for the day wanted.

The general committee to have charge of the affair will be selected at a meeting of the new officers to be held at Mr. Thompson's studio on April 22.

The Young Old Timers' association was organized four years ago with its membership limited to men who have resided in the West end for a period of twenty or more years. The total membership has now passed the 300 mark.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES.

Churches Will Hold Joint Meetings in West End.

Good Friday will generally be observed with special services in the churches of the West end tomorrow. The principal services will be held at 10:30 o'clock and again in the evening.

Joint observation of the day will be held by four of the churches at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street at 10:30 a. m. The congregations taking part in the joint services are the Swedish Mission, Swedish Methodist, Swedish Baptist and Norwegian Danish Methodist churches.

Rev. H. A. Ofstie, pastor of the latter church, will preach the principal sermon. He will be assisted by Rev. J. J. Daniels, Rev. Swaney Nelson and Rev. C. W. R. Wermine.

Tomorrow evening communion services will be held at the Swedish Mission church.

WILL GIVE SACRED CONCERT ON EASTER.

A sacred concert is being arranged for Sunday, April 19 at the St. Clement's Catholic church, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, to be given under the direction of the guild. A feature of the program being arranged is a lecture to be given by Rev. Hugh Floyd of the cathedral. The musical part of the program is being arranged under the direction of Mrs. B. J. Borth, Miss Theresa Lynn and Mrs. C. B. Nunan.

BIG CROWDS ATTEND REVIVAL MEETINGS.

"What Is a Christian?" will be the subject of the sermon given by Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, this evening. The meeting tonight is one of the series of revival meetings which has been held in the church during the last two weeks.

Tomorrow night the pastor will speak on "The Power of the Cross." The meeting tomorrow will be the closing service of the two weeks' revival campaign. These meetings have attracted large crowds to the church, and it is expected that many new members will join the church next Sunday.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. Inez Johnson, 907 North Twenty-third avenue west, and two children have left for Saskatoon, Can., where they will visit relatives.

Mrs. Milton Fish, entertained at a picnic for members of her Sunday school class of the Central Baptist church. The party was taken to a farm six miles north of Woodland, where the children were entertained.

"Personal Work" will be the subject of an address given this evening by Rev. Milton Fish at the widweek services to be held this evening in the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street.

F. G. Holman of Mountain Lake, who has been visiting relatives in the West end, left for his home last evening.

The Sunday school of the Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street, will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for rehearsal of its Easter concert. The concert will be given Easter evening. Rev. P. O. Hanson will preach in the church at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Communion services will be held this evening at the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock Rev. J. H. Nervig will preach. The confirmation class will meet Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The pastor has also arranged to hold special Easter services on Sunday.

FULL BULL MOOSE TICKET FOR IOWA

George White of Nevada Is to Run for Governor.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 9.—Progressive leaders of Iowa succeeded in bringing out candidates for practically every state office and a number of congressional offices yesterday. George White of Nevada is the party nominee for governor. Other nominations for state offices were:

H. H. Betty of Davenport, lieutenant governor; W. J. Sinyard of Archer, secretary of state; H. D. Tade of Hillsboro, treasurer; M. E. Weldy, Des Moines, attorney general, and F. H. Keys of Council Bluffs and L. R. Rosebrook of Oskaloosa for railroad commissioners.

No candidate for state auditor was named, but J. B. Fruden of Dubuque probably will get the place if he will accept. Carl Franke of Mason City was named national committeeman, to succeed Judge I. L. Stevens of Boone, who resigned last fall.

OLD RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY

A. C. Robinson, Engineer, Succumbs to Heart Failure.

Alonzo C. Robinson, 58 years old, a resident of Duluth for the last thirty-six years, died suddenly of heart trouble at 11 o'clock last evening at his residence, 1004 Lake avenue south. He had been in apparently good health of late, and his death was a complete surprise to the members of his family.

Mr. Robinson was an engineer at a local elevator and was very well known among the earlier residents of the city. He came here with his wife thirty-six years ago. Besides a widow, he is survived by four children. They are: Mrs. Leo Thompson, Port Arthur, Ont.; Mrs. Albert Fraser, Claremont, Wyo., and John and Ada Robinson of Duluth.

He was a member of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the National Association of Stationary Engineers.

The body has been removed to the Grady & Horgan undertaking rooms, where the funeral arrangements will be made some time today. Interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

GRAN MUST PAY WIFE ALIMONY

Must Also Pay Attorney Who Defended Her During Trial.

Pending a motion for a new trial in the Gran divorce case, which will be urged by B. M. Goldberg, attorney for Mrs. Olga Gran, defendant, Victor H. Gran, plaintiff, will be obliged to pay his wife $7 a week temporary allimony, according to the order of Judge Cant of the trial court. The court has also ordered Gran to pay his wife's attorney $150 for his services in defending Mrs. Gran. As soon as formal findings in the divorce case are signed, a 40-day stay will be granted.

BILL TO REGULATE HOUSE LOBBYING.

Washington, April 9.—A bill to regulate lobbying in the house was introduced by Representative Floyd of Arkansas for the judiciary committee. It would require every legislative counsel and agent employed by any person, corporation or association to promote or defeat legislation, to register and to render an account of all money expended by him in such capacity.

WILL MAKE FIGHT UPON NEGRO JUDGE.

Washington, April 9.—Southern senators have indicated their intention to make a vigorous fight against confirmation of the reappointment of Robert H. Terrell, a negro, as the municipal judge of the District of Columbia. The nomination came up in regular order on the executive calendar yesterday, but no action was taken.

SYNDICATE OF SHOP-LIFTERS.

Portland, Or., April 9.—An alleged shoplifters' syndicate, led by a woman and composed of approximately a score of persons, mostly women, has been uncovered, the police assert, following five arrests. A half dozen more arrests were made later.

A store room in the courthouse was heaped with recovered loot. Virtually every big department and jewelry store in Portland has suffered losses, and the loot is valued at thousands of dollars.

ORDERS PAYMENT BY SIEGEL BANK.

New York, April 9.—Judge Hough of the United States district court late yesterday signed orders for the immediate distribution of $302,000 to the New York and Boston depositors in the failed bank of Henry Siegel & Co. He also signed an order for the distribution to the New York depositors of $100,000 reported by the bond filed with the state comptroller.

The $302,000 equals 11.5 cents on the dollar of the depositors' claims. The $100,000 equals 3.9 cents more on the dollar of the New York claims, so that 15.4 cents on the dollar seems to be all that can be counted on with any assurance by the depositors.

SENATE REFUSES TO CONFIRM CONSUL.

Washington, April 9.—President Wilson's nomination of James C. McNally of Pennsylvania to be consul at Nuremberg, Bavaria, was refused confirmation in the senate by a vote of 26 to 24, after a prolonged debate.

McNally formerly was in the consular service in China, and several years ago charges were made against him in connection with a real estate deal promoted there by an American. The case was twice investigated by the state department, but when McNally's nomination to the Nuremburg post came in Senator Williams objected on the ground that these inquiries had not served to clear him entirely.

This was the first of President Wilson's consular appointments to be rejected by the senate. Five postmasters and a receiver of public moneys previously have been refused confirmation.

"WIFE-HUNTER" HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE.

Tacoma, Wash., April 9.—Everett K. Ellis was indicted yesterday for alleged fraudulent use of the mails in sending from Camas, Wash., to women throughout the United States a circular in which he offered them a chance to obtain a diamond ring and a trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition at his expense if they would aid him in finding a wife. He promised to give business, bank and social references, and enlighten them further on receipt of a postal money order for 25 cents.

URGE MEDIATION BOARD IN INDUSTRY.

Washington, April 9.—Settlement of industrial labor disputes by a mediation and conciliation board similar to that established under the Newlands act for the solution of railroad troubles, was advocated by representatitves of employers and employes here before the United States Industrial Relations commission.

The commission heard spokesmen for employers and employes of the printing and building trades and of the clothing industry.

Slayer of Two Dies.

Chicago, April 9.—Peter Welter, who a week ago shot and killed Mrs. Katherine Morris and Mrs. Sarah Sallans, neighbors, died at a hospital last night. Welter confessed to shooting the women and then trying to end his own life. He was unable to tell why he shot the women.

COAL MAN'S AUTO KILLS BICYCLIST.

Waterloo, Iowa, April 9.—Fred F. Fairbanks is dead at a local hospital from the injuries received yesterday afternoon when an automobile driven by Howard S. Miller, wholesale coal dealer, crashed into him, causing a fracture of the skull. Fairbanks was riding a bicycle.

STOP

Coffee Drinkers, And think a minute!

Some persons seem able, for a time at least, to get along with coffee, but it contains a subtle, habit-forming drug, caffeine, which sooner or later is pretty sure to rob one of health and comfort.

If you know coffee don't harm you—if you feel prime and fit under its continued use, well and good—stick to it.

But—if you are sometimes a bit "off color," and irritable nerves, disturbed heart action, biliousness, headache, or symptoms of liver or kidney trouble make you wonder what's the matter—

Better find out what coffee has to do with it.

Evidently some people are learning the truth about coffee—listen—

During 1913 the sales of coffee in this country decreased over one hundred million pounds.

A mighty army of former coffee drinkers now use and enjoy freedom from their old coffee aches and pains.

POSTUM

Postum, made of whole wheat and a bit of molasses, is a delicious table beverage absolutely free from the coffee drugs, caffeine and tannin.

If you are interested in bettering yourself—think it over!

Postum now comes in two forms.

Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder, requires no boiling. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

Woman's Realm

Chicago, April 9.—Declaring that the new women voters of Illinois demonstrated their desire to vote and their proper comprehension of civic matters at Tuesday's township elections throughout the state, women suffrage leaders today began a movement for full suffrage for the women of Illinois.

The women announced they would unite their efforts to have a constitutional convention called at an early date. The full right of suffrage could only be granted through a change in the state's basic law.

Under the equal suffrage act passed by the last legislature women cannot vote for state officials, members of the legislature, members of congress, police magistrates or other constitutional officers. The new law granted them the vote on questions of public policy and for president and city officials.

"The next step for the women of Illinois," said Mrs. George Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, "is to agitate for a constitutional convention so that our men may give us the privilege and right to vote in national affairs. The women should agitate this everywhere."

"Full suffrage undoubtedly is the next step for the women of Illinois," said Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, president of the Chicago Equal Suffrage association. "We can have no hope of getting it until a constitutional convention is called and the women may help materially in creating the sentiment for such a convention by talking and agitating it."

LECTURES ON MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis Man Speaks on History of State.

R. Dudley Parsons of Minneapolis gave an illustrated lecture on "The History of Minnesota" at Lakeside school last evening. A statement made by Mr. Parsons was that the Puritans were the first people to settle in Minnesota. "It seems strange that Puritans, who are always associated with the 'stern and rockbound coast' of New England, should have settled at St. Paul, Minneapolis and Sauk Center," the speaker said. The first institutions established at these places by the Puritans were a church, a school and a library, Mr. Parsons said.

The lecturer told of the great lumber center at Virginia that puts out 1,000,000 feet of lumber a year; the flour center of Minneapolis and the orchard district at Lake Minnetonka. He said there are 1,000,000 cattle in the state now and that in ten years the number will be doubled, making Minnesota one of the greatest cattle states in the country.

Mr. Parsons came to Duluth to visit the social centers, with a view to establishing social centers in Minneapolis.

DRESSMAKERS BUSY.

Washington Society Expects Wilson-McAdoo Wedding in May.

Washington, April 9.—While no date has yet been announced for the wedding of Miss Eleanor Wilson, the president's youngest daughter, and Secretary McAdoo, Washington society expects it to take place within a month. Dressmakers already are at the White House and it is believed that an announcement of the wedding date will be made within a short time and that it will be some time in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, who were married at the White House last November, were expected here today from Williamstown, Mass., and will join the president and Mrs. Wilson, Misses Eleanor and Margaret Wilson and Miss Helena Woodrow Bones on their trip to White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. There they will spend Easter. The president will return to Washington Monday, but Mrs. Wilson and other members of the family may stay at the springs several days longer.

Prospects are that after the family returns to the White House active preparations for the wedding will be begun. That the reception after the wedding may take place outdoors is not altogether unlikely, as the White House grounds are never prettier than in the spring.

Holy Week Services.

The Maundy Thursday service at St. Paul's Episcopal church will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. There will be a sermon by Rev. W. E. Harmann. This service gives the holy communion some time near the hour it was established by our Lord. There will be a full choral service.

The Good Friday morning service will be at 10 o'clock. There will be a three-hour service from noon until 3 o'clock. During the first five minutes there will be silence, after that there will be meditations on the seven last words of Christ, by direction. Persons are at liberty to enter and leave the church at their own pleasure during this service.

Missionary Society.

Mrs. Percy Fuller, Mrs. Ted Cardner and Mrs. J. A. Davis will be the hostesses for the meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Christian church tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fuller, 914 East Fifth street. The president, Mrs. Charles Ryberg, will be in charge of the program that will begin at 2:30 o'clock. "The Needs of Latin America" will be discussed. There will be an interesting program and all who are interested in the cause of missions will be welcome.

Mrs. Loyhed's Son Dies.

Mrs. Edgar H. Loyhed of Faribault, Minn., will have the sympathy of many Duluth women on account of the death of her son, Thomas Loyhed, who died suddenly Monday noon at his home in Faribault. Mr. Loyhed suffered from a nervous breakdown following an accident and his mother has been with him in Minneapolis. He seemed to be recovering and had been taken to Faribault, when he grew worse suddenly. He was 27 years old and was formerly a student at the University of Minnesota.

Mrs. Loyhed is the secretary of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs. She is prominent in the Daughters of the American Revolution and was formerly state regent. Mrs. Loyhed is known personally to many women of Duluth.

Rue-Lohn.

Miss Sarah Rue and Dwight Lohn were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. G. Brandt of 1306 East Eleventh street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Wulfsberg of St. Paul's English Lutheran church. Mrs. Brandt played the Mendelssohn wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe meteor with shadow lace draperies. She wore a long veil and carried white roses. The maid of honor, Miss Mabel Stephenson, wore pale blue messaline. Her corsage bouquet was of roses. The bridegroom was attended by Leon Lohn.

At the wedding supper that followed the ceremony sweet peas and ferns were effectively used in the decorations. The out of town guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Anna Rue, Miss Mabel Stephenson, Leon Lohn and I. C. Brandt, all of Fosston, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lohn will be in Duluth until Easter Monday when they will go to Froid, Mont., to make their home.

Amusement Notes.

"A character of the stage is always in a state of growth," according to Miss Florence Martin of the "Peg O' My Heart" company which will open a four days' engagement at the Lyceum tonight.

"A dramatic character, if it is intelligently interpreted, never reaches maturity, but develops and grows constantly as a snow ball must which is rolled over a carpet of snow. When an author hands his script to an actor he presents him with but a skeleton upon which must be hung the flesh and sinews and draperies. And always the artist will feed and nourish his subject as he would any living thing. To fail in this feeding means an emaciated character of the stage. A mere puppet or prop, something to hold up the three walls of the stage. It takes more than personality. Never does an actor let his character mature. He keeps it young and vigorous in his own mind, and in the minds of his audience. Nothing upon the stage can live alone, away from its fellows. There must be association, union. The actress or actor who ignores this point will never reach the ideal in her or his profession. There must be a blending of colors if we want to get results, and a blending of harmonies and natures or individualities. There can be no war without a creed, no love in this world if there is only one person in it. There must be two and threes always, and upon the stage. An inspiration must come through association. A glance or gesture from another may bring out some phase in the character one is trying to portray."

An early booking at the Lyceum is "Little Women," Louisa M. Alcott's immortal story of Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy, which has been dramatized by Marian de Forest, a Buffalo magazine and newspaper writer. Sweet, simple, quaint and refreshing is this story of a half-century ago, and the play is as charming as the book, bringing very close to those who know and love the story the old friends from out of the covers of the book into that larger, more intimate life of the stage. "Little Women" makes grown people smile and men and women cry as they see it acted out upon the stage. The play is a source of real joy, even as the book has been so many years.

Miss Irene Timmons, who is headlining the Orpheum bill this week in the one-act comedy, "New Stuff," is able to trace her family back to the Mayflower—that much overcrowded ship.

At least one member of her family has served in every war the United States has fought from the Revolution to the present time. She traces her family to Peter Brown, who was one of the passengers on the Mayflower. Capt. Peter Worden, who took a prominent part in the Revolution, was also one of her ancestors. Miss Timmons is a member of the Daughters of the Revolution, having joined Onandaga chapter at Syracuse, N. Y.

"Of course, in America," said Miss Timmons, "we don't judge a man by his ancestors, and we don't carry the pride in family to the extremes they do in Europe, but I cannot help feeling a little pride in my family."

In spite of the fact that this is Holy week, and supposed to be the dullest week of the year in the theater business, the attendance at the Orpheum has held up well. Next week the Orpheum Road Show will be the attraction. In addition to "Romeo the Great," the wonderful trained monkey which will headline the bill, Claude and Fannie Usher will return in a new play. Their sketch, "Fagin's Decision," and Miss Usher's appearance with "Spareribs," her nondescript little terrier, were one of the most popular acts seen at the Duluth Orpheum last season. "Spareribs" is also seen in the new sketch.

Are Especially Active in Skagway and Juneau Campaigns.

Seattle, Wash., April 9.—Cable dispatches from Alaska indicate today that the results of the elections in various parts of the territory this week were determined to a measureable degree by the votes of the women, who cast ballots for the first time. Women were given the right to vote by the enactment of a measure of the first territorial legislature a year ago.

In Skagway the familiar methods of campaigning brought victory to the feminine politicians. Electors were steered to polling places by women workers who bought cigars and lunches and supplied conveyances while explaining sample ballots. They elected their entire non-partisan ticket in Skagway against the taxpayers' ticket, which has been in power six years.

Bitter Fight at Juneau.

In a bitter municipal fight in Juneau, in which women were particularly active, the Citizens' party was able to elect but two candidates against the Peoples' party, headed by Former Mayor Valentine. The two candidates were for the council.

In Ketchikan, center of the fishing industry, the reform ticket won by electing five out of seven councilmen and the school clerk.

The important feature of the election of Fairbanks was the defeat for the city council of Dan Driscoll, territorial representative, said to be Congressional Delegate Wickersham's choice for representative in the district.

In Cordova the Citizens' Progressive party won on a platform promising reforms and economy. In Valdez the non-partisan ticket, with a single exception, was victorious. In Seward the People's ticket elected a straight slate. George B. Grigsby was elected mayor of Nome.

MUSICAL FIREMEN ORGANIZE QUARTET.

If Nero really fiddled at the burning of Rome, he set the fashion then and there for proper deportment at conflagrations of more or less magnitude. As a fire fighter Nero was a piker, but his musical plan of attack will be embodied in twentieth century customs of fire fighters and to this end the Volunteer Quartet of No. 2 department has been organized. The members are: Harvey Robinson, basso profundo; Capt. Fisher, second bass; John Phillips, lyric tenor; Gerald Black, lead.

"We have organized for our own amusement," said Mr. Phillips yesterday as he signaled for the key to the first rehearsal of "Little Drops of Water."

EXPECTS GOOD SEASON ON THE IRON RANGES.

R. W. Hitchcock of the Hibbing Tribune, who is a guest of the Holland today, is of the opinion that there will be an active season on the Mesaba iron range, despite the fact that some of the independent furnace companies do not contemplate heavy operations at this time.

"The fact that the lease of the United States Steel corporation on the ore lands owned by the Hill interests will expire Jan. 1, will cause more than the usual activity in the mines controlled by the Hills," said Mr. Hitchcock.

"This will offset any decrease in the normal activities of the range, and should, in the opinion of some, bring the total tonnage nearly up to the average of past years.

"Some of the mining men are of the opinion that the demand for ore will increase and that there will be a strong close. It might be said that some of the independent shippers do not like the outlook for the season."

SUES IRONTON MAN.

Brainerd Attorney Brings Action for Legal Services.

Brainerd, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles A. Russell, a local attorney, has commenced suit for $5,000 against John E. Mattson, a mining man of Ironton, for legal services alleged to have been rendered. Mattson owns the ground on which is located the Armour No. 1 mine and Russell claims that he was engaged to inquire into the stripping rights of the Armour No. 1 mine and to examine into the alleged trespass of the Pennington Mining company. Papers were drawn up for a suit against the Pennington Mining company, but not served, pending settlement. Russell claims that Mattson is believed to have received $7,000 cash from the Rogers, Brown Ore company, or from some other company operating the Armour No. 1 mine and that he received from the Pennington Mining company $3,000 and Mr. Russell now wants $5,000, the share alleged to have been agreed upon.

Charles Nohr, a resident of St. Louis county, who died, aged 44, on March 23 last, left an estate of $9,000, according to a petition for administration filed in probate court yesterday afternoon by his sister, Mrs. Rachael Thompson, aged 65, who resides at Abbotsford, Wis.

Nohr died possessed of $5,500 cash in a local bank and two city lots at Port Arthur, Ont., said to be worth $3,500. Besides his sister at Abbotsford, Wis., he is survived by two brothers, Merton Nohr and Theodore Torgerson, the latter residing in Norway.

Mrs. Thompson asks the court to grant letters of administration on her brother's estate to her husband, Carl B. Thompson of Abbotsford.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Consider Your Own Views As Well As Others.

I was present the other afternoon at a little social affair when the subject of current plays came up. "What do you think of so-and-so in so-and-so?" one of the young women asked. "I find it quite boresome," answered a young woman from just across the room. "Boresome?" the other cried. "Why, how strange! It is by far the best show I have seen for years."

The positive manner in which the latter utterance came made me realize all of a sudden how very wrong the woman who first spoke might be. And for no other reason that she assumed that her opinion was the only true opinion, and that, therefore, the opinion of everyone else should be just like hers.

Why should you expect your neighbor's point of view to be the same as yours? Why should you assume that yours was the only point of view?

Now, as a matter of fact, I had seen the play referred to in the above conversation, and while I enjoyed parts of it very much, I can easily see where it would be most commonplace to many people I know.

The first woman liked it—it appealed to her in every way—yet when the second woman remarked that it was boresome she marveled and wondered why. And that was as far as she went. Instead of attempting to find out just why the other party did not like it she began to argue in defense of her own attitude, thereby accentuating her own narrow mindedness.

If people do not agree with you—try and find out just why they do not. Many times I have found out by doing this that my original viewpoint was wrong altogether. We are often apt to assume our ideas and likes and dislikes are the authorities. They are not by a whole lot, and the more we take into consideration the viewpoints of others the greater and truer viewpoint we will get for ourselves.

The following bit of verse touches upon the matter in question very prettily:

Don't wrap up so much in self,
But let your garments flow
Around some other human need
The world must surely know.
The trouble is we miss so much
Of that which beauty gives
By dwelling on the grave mistake
"'Tis only me that gives!"

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB YEAR.

Reports and discussions at the annual meeting of the Duluth Commercial club last evening reflected a year of activity and progress, and revealed anew the coming years of greater progress and higher achievements.

There has been splendid progress in the rate fights, and while the club was meeting Julius H. Barnes, chairman of its traffic commission, was at Washington with Roy Hall, its traffic expert, continuing the fight for free, fair trade conditions on the lakes.

Good progress was reported, too, in trade boosting, in local manufacturing and retail and wholesale trade, and in all the many useful lines of activity to which the club has dedicated its splendid force, which is the static power of the public spirit of Duluth made dynamic by organization.

This city has had a magnificent awakening in the past decade, and the Commercial club has been its willing and marvelously effective agency in bringing Duluth into its own. The community is splendidly served by this triumphantly and aggressively active organization, which is striking straight to the heart of real problems, which wastes no energy in by-play and foolish side issues, and which is worth to Duluth a hundred times more than it costs to maintain it.

The name of the club wasn't changed, though most of those present voted for the change, because it takes a majority of the full membership to do it.

We can't feel altogether sorry about this, for there are two sides to the question. The club authorities wanted to change from "Commercial club" to "Association of Commerce," because the former title is likely to give outsiders the impression that the organization is a "club" in the smaller sense of the word rather than an association of commercial interests, which it is. So far as outside regard for the organization is concerned, it would have been well to make the change.

But in Duluth the words "Commercial club" are a talisman of vigorous and aggressive and successful endeavor. They spell achievement. Much of the awakening and the new vigor of Duluth is associated with the old name, which is also simpler and less stodgy. So while it may have been well enough to change, there is yet a gain in the failure of the attempt to change.

A high-tariff community in New Jersey has elected a Republican to congress to succeed a Democrat, and the Republicans are claiming that this constitutes a repudiation of President Wilson and his policies. If there is anything on earth more interesting than most other things, it is the mental processes of the professional party politician.

THE FLURRY.

One of the newspaper critics of the reserve district plan, published in a city which did not land where some of its people wanted to land, says: "It has absolutely upset existing conditions!"

That reminds us of something.

When Theodore Roosevelt was president, filling out the unexpired term of President McKinley and therefore not minded to start much of anything on his own hook, he discovered that while the law required government employes to work seven hours a day, they were working only six and a half hours.

They went to work at nine, took half an hour for lunch at noon, and quit at four. You had to count the lunch interval to make it seven hours; but that was what had been done for many, many years.

But Col. Roosevelt believed that seven hours meant seven hours, and he ordered that the half-hour for lunch be made up by working until four-thirty instead of four.

Something happened in Washington then very like what happens when you idly throw a stone into an ant-hill. Washington upheaved, and seethed with anger. Everything there was based on the four o'clock closing, and had been for years beyond count. And everybody was mad.

"Why," exclaimed a woman during a heated and exclamatory discussion of the new order, "It upsets all our arrangements!"

That was the Washington attitude—as though "our" social arrangements were more important than the government's business. And that is what we are reminded of when we read that the reserve district plan has "absolutely upset existing conditions."

Sometimes, you know, existing conditions absolutely need to be upset.

There is such a thing as discovering, too, that long boasted financial and commercial supremacy has been quietly undermined by the country's growth.

For instance, New Orleans has long considered itself the financial metropolis of the Far South, and it is hugely indignant because the bank for that region went to Dallas. It forgets that while it has grown slowly and sleepily, the Dallas territory has expanded amazingly.

The new currency system has upset a good many of "our arrangements," but they needed to be upset if account is to be taken of today instead of a generation that is past.

With all their throwing things at the judges, it would seem safe to assume that none of the suffragettes will imitate the example of the Camorrists and begin to throw false teeth and glass eyes around the court room.

SLIGHTLY IN ERROR.

One of the self-assigned duties of a partisan newspaper is to pick flaws in the opposition, no matter how glorious its achievements.

For instance, the morning paper says: "Unless there is an unlooked for change, it seems that President Wilson's luck or good guiding is to desert him at the treasury department. * * * Official figures show a deficit, after allowing fifty million dollars of revenues from the income tax, of more than another fifty millions for the fiscal year ending June 30 next."

Now that would be rather alarming—if it were true. The Associated Press last night furnished the News Tribune with a statement, which it did not use but which will be found in The Herald tonight, showing that customs revenues are so far exceeding the estimates made at the time the new law was passed that with the revenue from the income tax there is now expected to be no deficit whatever.

It is rather melancholy to see a partisan newspaper hoping for national bankruptcy for party gain; but how can such misstatements of fact be otherwise accounted for? It would be uncharitable to call it ignorance.

The settlement of the dispute with Colombia over the procuring of the Panama canal zone ought to furnish a basis for a get-together meeting between Dear Will and Dear Theodore.

A WRONG RIGHTED.

It isn't a matter that most of our busy folks have had occasion to bother with much, but it will be one of the brightest of the smaller gems in the diadem of the Wilson administration that under it the wrong this nation did Colombia is to be righted.

Under Roosevelt, we plundered Colombia of her Panama territory—as the Colonel himself said, "we took it."

Under Roosevelt, and later under Taft, we turned a deaf ear to the sensitive little republic's appeals for redress. Mr. Taft saw only hopelessness in the situation.

But now, under Wilson, a treaty has been arranged that indemnifies Colombia, restores its self-respect, and harmonizes all differences.

Colombia is a small nation, and the matter may have seemed to many to be of small account. But Colombia had been unjustly treated, and to the Latin-American peoples whose friendship we are seeking to cultivate it looked as though we had played the bully to her. We took what we wanted and kept it and refused payment simply because we were strong. Now, because we are not only strong but inspired by the instinct of justice, we are paying our little bill and squaring things with our little neighbor. It is well.

A majority of the women of Springfield, Ill., voted to retain the saloons. This will be a severe shock to the saloon men who fought woman suffrage for fear it would mean the end of their business.

Somewhat Mixed.

Philadelphia letter in the Boston Transcript: The recent snow, melting on the just and unjust alike, played a mean trick on a Forbes-Robertson poster, which had been stuck over a bill extolling the charms of a burlesque show. Half the Robertson paper had been blown away, leaving the following amazing decoration to the landscape near the Widener mansion:

Forbes-Robertson
Hamlet
A show of legs and laughter.

And from an advertisement in Chicago, where the manager of a moving picture house carelessly followed the formula he had used for another sort of exhibition:

Intimate views of the home life of Ethel Barrymore
No children allowed.

Dr. Eliot's Able Editor

Editorial in the New York Times.

The news from Cambridge, Mass., that Woodrow Wilson has presumed to revise the lines written by Harvard's ex-president, to be inscribed on the pavilions of the new postoffice building in Washington, will not, we believe, occasion in Dr. Eliot a moment's distress of mind. For one thing, both men are accustomed to discipline, habitually self-imposed. Like all who have become masters of thought and expression, both have frequently sought and submitted to criticism. If in this instance Dr. Eliot's style, which is justly famed for its clarity and lucidity, has acquired new luster from Dr. Wilson's polishing, it is because that matchless phrase-maker had the advantage that accrues to every capable rehandler of verbal goods.

For the east pavilion Dr. Eliot wrote:

Carrier of news and knowledge,
Instrument of trade and commerce,
Promoter of mutual acquaintance
Among men and nations, and hence
Of peace and good-will.

The able editor strikes out the word "commerce," which repeated the idea of trade, and inserts "industry"—producer of the means of trade. Instead of the hesitant and argumentative "Promoter of mutual acquainance * * * and hence of peace and good will," the Wilsonian mind fuses the whole in this expression:

Promoter of mutual acquaintance,
Of peace and good-will
Among men and nations.

As Dr. Eliot wrote it, the inscription for the west pavilion stood:

Carrier of love and sympathy,
Messenger of friendship,
Consoler of the lonely,
Bond of the scattered family,
Enlarger of the public life.

"Carrier," repeated from the previous inscription, becomes "Messenger" by the schooling from the White House, and "Sympathy" is made to precede "Love"—it does that naturally—thus improving the rhythm; while the notion of distant friends comforted by the ministry of the mails more fully develops the Cambridge composer's theme in this revised version:

Messenger of sympathy and love,
Servant of parted friends,
Consoler of the lonely,
Bond of the scattered family,
Enlarger of the common life.

And the "common life," the life of the people in their usual private relations—not in their public relations—was precisely what Dr. Eliot should have meant and the opposite of what he did says. He will be grateful because his lines were well edited.

The Coal Merchant and the Consumer

New York World: Every consumer will sympathize with the coal merchants' acute distress in being obliged once more to hoist the retail price of coal. It is a familiar tale of woe that is repeated year after year. All the average householder can do is to bear up the best he can under the dealers' sufferings and meekly pay the bill.

There has been no coal miners' strike this year, or increase in the miners' wages in the anthracite region to serve as a pretext for raising the price of coal. But there are other pretexts that serve just as well, as the coal merchants as a body are grieved to explain.

The state of Pennsylvania has taxed coal at the mine about 10 cents a ton. The consumer will pay that. The coal handlers want a few cents a ton more. Of course the consumer will pay that whether the coal handlers' demands are satisfied or not. The cost of the workmen's compensation law must be met somewhere. Naturally the consumer will be eager to shoulder that, too.

It is useless for him to complain. But there is one little grievance which he might be justified in expressing. Why should the coal merchants waste so much grief on themselves?

They seem to be able to raise prices whenever they please, and sometimes more than is necessary to protect themselves against the charges of others. What do they stand to lose so long as they hold the helpless consumer at their mercy? Why not at least spare him the pain of undergoing their explanations and continue to charge him more and more every year for coal without requiring him to pay them also in pity for their sad lot?

Cheapening Passion.

Katharine F. Gerould in the Atlantic: There was a great deal more sex, in its subtler manifestations, in the old novels and plays, than in the new ones. Not so long ago, a novel was a love story; and it was of supreme importance to a hero whether or not he could make the heroine care for him. It was also of supreme importance to the heroine. The romance was all founded on sex; and yet sex was hardly mentioned. Our heroes and heroines still marry; but when they consider sex at all, they are apt to consider it biologically, not romantically. We, as a public, are more frankly interested in sex than ever; but we think of it objectively, and a little brutally, in terms of demand and supply. And so we get often the pathetic spectacle of the hero and heroine having no time to make love to each other in the good old-fashioned way, because they are so busy suppressing the redlight district and compiling statistics of disease. Much of the frankness, doubtless, is a good thing; but beyond a doubt, it has cheapened passion. For passion among civilized people is a subtle thing; it is wrapped about with dreams and imaginings; and can bring human beings to salvation as well as to perdition. But when it is shown to us as the mere province of courtesans, small wonder that we turn from it to the hero who will have difficulty in feeling or inspiring it. Especially since we are told, at the same time, that even the courtesan plies her trade only from direst necessity.

Countering on Mr. Sawyer.

Boston Journal: Rev. Roland D. Sawyer, the Democratic representative from Ware, was appearing before the committee on the judiciary in favor of a bill to improve the morale of the legal profession. He was glad, he said, that an earnest effort was being made to uplift the attorneys and the profession. Then, crossing his hands on his breast, he remarked with true ministerial dignity.

"You know when our Lord was on earth he had serious controversies with the lawyers."

"I understand, also," interrupted Representative Bowser of Wakefield, "he had considerable trouble with the local clergy."

Nearly All His Shoes On.

Lippincott's: Carl was going out with his mother one afternoon and had been sent upstairs to get ready. After a considerable wait the mother called from downstairs:

"Hurry up, Carl! We're late now. Have you got your shoes on?"

"Yes, mother," replied the boy, "all but one."

Mothers

William Allen White in Emporia Gazette.

The Oswego mother who allowed her 15-year-old daughter to go to Kansas City on a shopping trip unattended is surprised that the girl disappeared. Upon which text we desire to submit a few remarks upon the subject of mothers. The mother business is one of the most over-advertised lines in the world. Whenever a sob-squadder desires to turn on the faucet of our tears, he begins tremulous talk about mothers being the sacredest things alive. Good mothers are sacred; so are good fathers. But when you consider how many mean, ornery, good-for-nothing doless people there are in the world—don't forget this great big important fact: Some fool woman in the mother business, neglecting her real duty, is responsible for all this meanness more than any other one thing. A man may put the devil in his children. But in nine cases out of ten the mother can breed it out, or train it out, or love it out if she will work on the job. A lot of women get an idea that they can rest on the glory of merely being mothers. A lot of mothers think that just because poets have had a lot to say about the sacredness of motherhood that there is nothing else to do. But fool people usually are the result of fool mothers. Charity workers in every town know of scores of instances where men earn fairly good wages, and where the women by their shiftlessness, laziness, and meanness have put the family in poverty and want. They can't cook; and they know nothing of taking care of children; they live out of sacks and cans; they gad the street by day, and go to picture shows at night; they can't sew, and they won't clean up the children. They haven't the character to make the children mind, and they are too thriftless and idle-minded to keep the house much better than a pigsty.

A mother is "the holiest thing alive" only when she is the embodiment of intelligent, consecrated love. When she is merely a brood animal, when she is either a slattern—if she is poor, or a gadabout and a bridge fiend if she is rich, she deserves no more credit for being a mother than she does for having warts or a high instep.

The gush about motherhood being so holy a function has fortressed a lot of fool females in their folly. And the blessed time is coming when the soft pedals are going to be taken off motherhood, and put on womanhood plus horse sense. The Gazette is in favor of a strict law which will prevent men with communicable diseases from marrying and breeding lust and vice into other generations. But along with that law should be a companion law which will prevent issuing a marriage license to a woman who can't cook, can't keep a house, can't clean up children's dirty noses and necks, and can't pass a decent examination on the feeding and care of infants. When women know something about what they are going into, as married women—whether they are rich or poor—there will be more in the sacredness of motherhood than the poets ever have sung about. New civilization has taken women from the home; it has put them in stores and offices and shops and factories. Home science now must be learned outside the home. But it must be learned and the sooner the law cracks down on fool girls who go into matrimony caked in ignorance and breed fool children who raise hell in the world, the better will this sad old world be.

And further deponent sayeth not.

The Road Makers.

What is the end of the road we are paving?
What of the land at the end of the road,
Trees and green meadows and royal palms waving,
Soft sloping valleys and cool waters laving
The green grassy shores of the final abode?
Who knows? Who knows?

What of the road we are paving so surely?
Slowly we pave it with stone after stone.
What of the stones that we place so securely?
Do we select them for worthiness purely,
Footing for those who must travel alone?
Who knows? Who knows?

What of the road when we finish its making?
Shall other feet tread in the path we have made?
Silently, surely, are others now taking
The course we took at the morning's awaking,
Will they stumble over the stones we have laid?
Who knows? Who knows?

What if we pause for a rest in the making,
Drowsing to sleep in the languorous noon?
Dreams on our eyelids, the poppy is shaking;
Of either the sleep or tardy awaking,
Of sins that our hands on the roadway has strewn—
Who knows? Who knows?

What is the pay for the road we are laying?
What the reward when the road is complete?
Why all the planning, selecting, and weighing,
Hoping, despairing and doubting and praying?
Of the burdens we bear through cold and through heat,
Who knows? Who knows?

This do we know of the road and its ending;
Heaven and God are the ultimate goals;
And of the stones that we place in our wending,
Smoothing the way for those on us depending,
The great Master Workman, the Builder of souls,
He knows. He knows.
—Annie O'Connor in New York Times.

"I Must."

Toledo Times: "I must," said Lord Nelson at Trafalgar; "I must," said Washington at Valley Forge; "I must," said Lincoln at Gettysburg; "I must," said Mark Twain, with bankruptcy clutching at his heart; "I must," says every great man and woman, sensing duty, opportunity, crisis and the larger success.

"I must," is God's vest pocket formula to you who breathe His free air and work in His workshops.

Daily every one of us faces tasks that we didn't expect and that we had rather not do. It is the order of circumstance. But just the minute that "I must" comes along, our program clears up and our work proceeds plainly and according to plan. That man is most satisfied with life who is most satisfied with doing what he feels is his best.

"I must!" All right, proceed.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, April 9. — (Special to The Herald.)—Representative Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, who is one of the scholars of congress, owes much of his success in life to the fact that the limbs of a certain tree back home grew in just the shape they did.

Fess was raised on a farm, and as his father died when he was small, a great deal of work fell to his lot. But the more he worked the more he desired time to read. Whenever he was able to save a dollar or two he spent the money for books. Whereupon his brothers would jump all over him, inquiring:

"What good will the books do you after you get them?"

All his relatives and friends advised him to try to forget his frivolous ways and stick to work. Every time they caught him reading, they cited cases of boys who had idled away their time over books as he was doing, and grew up to be poets, paupers and dress-makers' husbands.

Fess then tried to read in secret, but there was not a place in the house or the barn where he could be alone. Invariably somebody discovered him and forced him to go from Milton to milking.

In despair Fess looked about for a place to read in peace, and he discovered the maple tree that was to become one of the best friends he ever had.

It had one large limb that a boy could straddle and ride comfortably for hours at a stretch, and it grew at an angle that permitted the main trunk to serve as an excellent support for one's back. Moreover, there was a hollow place in the trunk where books could be kept. The foliage was so luxuriant that one could hide there with Ralph Waldo Emerson or John Bunyan and be effectually concealed from the view of those who busied themselves with the more routine side of farm life, such as throwing down hay or plucking potatoes from the warm mother earth.

In that way and in that tree Fess got himself launched on his scholarly career as an educator and statesman. Except for that tree he might have ended up as a painless dentist.

Representative Denis O'Leary of New York received a letter a time ago from a constituent who expressed an earnest desire for an assortment of garden seeds. O'Leary sent them, but there must have been a slip-up on the part of Mr. Burleson's postoffice department, for a few weeks later O'Leary received another note from the man deploring the fact that the seeds had never reached him.

"Why ain't I just as much entitled to seeds as anybody else?" the writer demanded. "Two of my neighbors sent for seeds the same time as I did, and one of them has had his in the ground now for six weeks already. His plants is beginning to show above ground. Is it 'im not just as good as my neighbors?" And so on for a couple of pages. Then at the bottom of the letter was this brief postscript:

"Them dam seeds has just arrived."

Representative Stephens of California got a request for garden seeds from a woman in his district, who wished to grow things in the ground. Without wasting a moment, Stephens placed almost a dime's worth of seeds in a government envelope with his congressional frank in one corner and sent them off to brighten the landscape in California. When the woman got the seeds she read on the envelope the words, "$300 fine for private use."

So she promptly sent the seeds back with this note of explanation:

"I am much obliged for these seeds, but I wanted them to use in my own private garden, and I couldn't possibly afford to pay a $300 fine if I were caught planting them."

With the exception of Smith and Stephens, the commonest name in the house of representatives is Taylor. There are four Taylors and they hail from New York, Colorado, Arkansas and Alabama. All are Democrats. Moreover they are in perfect accord on the great questions of the day. Not once since the four Taylors have been in congress together have they failed to vote the same way. Every Taylor agrees perfectly with every other Taylor.

Representative Henry Vollmer, a newly arrived member of congress from Iowa, was in public life here in Washington on a previous occasion—some twenty-five years ago. That time he was distributing clerk in the house, a position that carried with it such duties as jabbing the various bills into proper pigeon holes. It was not so onerous a position in those days that one didn't have time for other things, and Vollmer used to sit and listen to the debates by the hour, dreaming of the time when he, too, would place remarks in the Congressional Record.

When he came here recently to take his seat, Vollmer was escorted over to the house by his colleague, Maurice Connolly.

"They're just finishing up the debate on the education bill," explained Connolly.

"Well, I'm glad they're finishing up," said Vollmer; "they were just starting the debate on the education bill when I left here twenty-five years ago."

On his return here after a quarter of a century, Vollmer looked all over the capitol for familiar faces. He found only three. One was Sereno Payne, and the others were two colored doortenders.

Hospital Sounds.

Atlantic: Past my door the busy nurses flit; they do hard things to me with deft and tender hands. Motor cars roar to the unseen entrance and the doctors come stamping and booming through the hall in all their professional cheerfulness—not professional only, big, cheer-giving boys that they are. Sometimes my door is swiftly closed, that I may not hear or see, but I know the sound of those creaking wheels and the burden they carry; burden wide-eyed and fearful as it goes, sodden with heaviest sleep when it comes back.

But my room has a window. Sounds float through it to me in bed, distant engines that shunt and call; nearer hons that clack incessantly like busy housekeepers who never cease; the shrill-sweet fluting of a cardinal bird, highest-hearted whistling in the world, like a gallant fife at the lips of a prince; the far-away lusty crying of the baby boy who is the latest comer. I wonder what she lies and thinks about, that new-born mother; I wonder what he is thinking about, that new man-soul who came flying through another hospital window like my own.

Wins Both Ways.

Richmond Times-Dispatch: It occurs to us that Mr. Wilson has it on that earlier statesman who would rather be right than president. Mr. Wilson has copped both pennants.

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

And Think of the Thaw!

Gheen Record: Duluth had a scare for a while that the lake was going to be backed up on her. Just think of the possibilities of being the Venice-of-the-North, and taking a spin down Superior street on your skates on snappy mornings.

Any Time.

Waseca Herald: The Duluth Herald warns its readers to beware of an attack on the primary system. Like all things human, the primary system has its faults. But from the standpoint of public welfare it is infinitely superior to the boss-ruled caucus system.

Soak 'Em.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: Following the lead taken by The Duluth Herald, the papers of the mining sections of Northern Minnesota have started a campaign against the gun-toter that should result in the abolishment of the cowardly and inexcusable habit of lugging a revolver around.—Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

The habitual gun-toter is a murderer at heart, a cowardly, craven one, and he should be put out of circulation as fast as discovered. Many courts simply impose a fine and confiscate the "gun," whereupon the toter goes right out and buys another and awaits his victim. Soak 'em.

It's Coming Sure.

Willow River Farmer: It has been stated by men competent to judge correctly in the premises that within fifteen, and possibly within ten years from now, ocean-going steamers will be unloading and taking on cargoes from the docks at Duluth. The proposition for the construction of the canals is being put up to the United States and Canadian governments and favorable action seems almost a certainty. Minnesota in the midst of a continent and more than a thousand miles from old ocean's gray and melancholy waste seems destined to give harbor to the merchant navies of the world.

Thank You, Mr. Jones.

Bagley Independent: The Duluth Herald is the best daily published in the state. The Herald is a genuine booster for Northern Minnesota, reliable and progressive in every respect and its editorials on state and national affairs are read from coast to coast. The Herald's list here in Bagley doubles that of any other daily that comes to the Bagley postoffice.

And Wants to Help Along.

Grand Rapids Herald-Review: As a result of the efforts of the Duluth Commercial club, Northeastern Minnesota is receiving some very good advertising in catalogues sent out by different seed houses. In quite a number of them reference is made to the soil of this section and the crops to which it is best adapted. Duluth has apparently awakened to the fact that water transportation and iron ore are not the only things in the world worth paying some attention to.

A Modern Farm Fable

Fred Telford in Farm and Fireside: Once upon a Time the Farmers in a Community became interested in improving their Lot. They employed a County Adviser to tell them about balanced Rations for the dairy Cows and the best Rotation of Crops and what was the matter with the Soil. Half the Farmers owned Bulls with Pedigrees that made them blush when they thought of their own Family Trees. They formed a Company and imported a $3,000 Stallion, and then paid an Expert $75 a month to take proper care of the valuable Animal. In short, this Community had its Eyes open to the Things that make Country Life worth living.

But they carelessly stopped before they finished the Job. Three of the Members of the Horse Company were the District School Directors, and their wires got crossed when they hired the Teacher. They picked a Slip of a High School Girl who could not boil water without burning it. She had always passed in her Work with high Marks because her Father was President of the Board. She knew more about Marcel Puffs and Directoire Gowns and dancing the Turkey Trot than about Reading and Arithmetic. But she knew how to dress, and she was willing to take the School for $30 a month.

When the Girl came out from the City in September one of the first young Men she met was Bill, Son of one of the Directors. Bill was 20 and a Joy to his Father. He hit it off fine with the Girl until she noticed the accumulation of non-commercial Fertilizer on his Boots. Then she tilted her Nose at an Angle of forty-five Degrees and wiped Bill completely off the Map. And the old Man wondered why the young Fellow was all at once dissatisfied with Farm Life and wanted to get a Job in the City.

Moral: If you're going in for the Uplift, be consistent.

Making a Home.

Elisabeth Woodbridge in the Atlantic: The home is spiritual, but it arises through the vehicle of the physical. We may not be able to track it down to any one material aspect. Sleeping under one roof does not make a home; gathering about a common lamp or a common fireplace does not; possibly even children in a nursery cannot make a home. We may eliminate one or another of these and still keep the spiritual thing that we prize. Sometimes we must eliminate, when the very multitude of its outward signs blur the real meaning—you cannot see the woods for the trees. But a proverb usually needs a supplementary gloss, and in this one it should be added that without trees there will be no woods. And so, in the case of the home, if in one extreme there is danger of submerging its significance in the mass of its physical expressions, there is at the other extreme the danger of dissipating significance through a paucity of physical expression.

What He Would Have Done.

Youth's Companion: Ben Foster was noted for his shiftlessness. If it had not been for his wife, he would not have done a stroke of work on his little farm and garden. It was all his wife could do to get him to work, for he preferred to sit and read all day.

One evening, after he had been reading French history with deep interest, he closed the book and said to his wife, "Do you know, Maria, what I'd 'a' done if I had been Napoleon?"

"Oh, yes, I know well enough," his wife responded. "You'd have settled right down on a farm in Corsica and let it run to ruin, while you grumbled about your hard luck."

Among the Liberal Arts.

Burlington Free Press: If pitchers' salaries continue to mount higher, baseball will cease to be one of the professions and become one of the liberal arts.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

The Davidson theater, the finest playhouse in Milwaukee and one of the handsomest and costliest theaters in the country, was destroyed by fire, which broke out between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning. The valuable scenery carried by the Lilliputians is all gone and Manager Rosenthal of the company says it was worth $25,000. A score of firemen fell with the roof into a seething mass of flames. Several escaped, but the others were caught by the burning roof and roasted to death. The deaths number about ten. The theater cost about $350,000, and the loss is fully half that amount.

The term of Julius D. Howard as postmaster of Duluth expires April 19 and Maj. Baldwin has recommended T. M. Helinski as his successor.

The ice in the bay is still intact and the cold wave of the past few days has chilled all prospect of starting up the lumber mills at West Duluth for a week at least.

W. J. Holmes and family have returned to West Duluth from a visit of several months in California.

Charles Canning, one of Duluth's best known citizens, died at Hendrum, Norman county, yesterday from nervous prostration which followed an attack of the grip. He was about 50 years of age and a native of the north of Ireland. He located in 1878 at Hendrum and his farm grew until it is now one of the finest in the Red River valley. In the fall of 1889 he came to Duluth and built a home and store at 931 West First street. He also established himself in the grain trade and, becoming a member of the board of trade, worked up a large business. He served in the legislature of 1885 from Norman county and in 1888 he was the nominee of the Alliance party and the Democrats for congress in the Fifth district, but was defeated by S. G. Comstock of Moorhead, although he ran more than 5,000 ahead of Cleveland's vote. His estate will aggregate $50,000 or $60,000.

The Bevier Milling & Mining company has been organized with a capital of $300,000. The officers are: H. Bevier, president and treasurer; Jeff Hildreth, vice president and general manager; F. S. White, secretary. The property of the company includes the Little American mine and the stamp mill at Rainy Lake City.

John Harwick has been taken to St. Mary's hospital to have several fingers amputated which were frozen several weeks ago at Mountain Iron.

You Look Better When You Smile.

When you're feeling mighty blue,
As misfortune comes to you,
And ill luck seems heaped about you
In a pile;
You will stand a greater show
If you don't let others know,
And besides you look much better
When you smile.

When your business all goes wrong,
Just keep plodding right along,
Better times are surely coming after while;
Sun is sure to shine again,
Cheerfulness is not in vain,
And you look a good deal better when you smile.

When your health seems broken down,
Don't sit by to scowl and frown,
Pessimism long ago dropped out of style;
Let your heart give forth good cheer,
Scatter sunshine far and near,
For you look a whole lot better when you smile.

Later on when you await
Judgment at the heavenly gate,
The frowns you'll find are scarcely worth the while;
Greeted now by angel band,
You have reached the promised land,
And you won the good St. Peter with your smile.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THE EGG PROBLEM.

The "egg" problem submitted to the readers of the Open Court for solution has aroused considerable interest, and several correct answers have been received. Various prices were fixed as the price for the eggs, but in each case the price for each dozen eggs was one-third of the price obtained for each egg remaining after the whole number had been divided by 12. Following are some of the correct answers:

To the Editor of The Herald:

If each man charges 10 cents per dozen and 30 cents for each remaining egg, each man turns in $1.

RAYMOND J. KILLEEN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have the following solution of the "egg" problem. First they sold the eggs at 1 cent a dozen (just imagine that nowadays). Then the clerk who had the fifteen eggs, had 1 cent and three eggs left. The clerk who had the fifty eggs had 4 cents and two eggs left, and the clerk who had the eighty-five eggs had 7 cents and one egg left. The eggs they had left they sold for 3 cents apiece. (This is more like it, isn't it?) Then the first man had 1 cent plus 9 cents, or 10 cents; the second man had 4 cents plus 6 cents, or 10 cents; and the third man had 7 cents plus 3 cents, or 10 cents.

M. Q.

My answer to your problem in Tuesday's Open Court column is as follows:

No. 1 had eighty-five eggs, making seven dozens and one egg. He sold the seven dozens at 3 cents a dozen—21 cents. He sold the remaining one egg at 9 cents. Adding, we get 30 cents.

No. 2 had fifty eggs, making four dozens and two eggs. He sold the four dozens at 3 cents a dozen, making 12 cents. He sold the remaining two eggs at 9 cents each. This gives 30 cents.

No. 3 had fifteen eggs, making one dozen and three eggs. He sold the one dozen for 3 cents and the remaining three eggs for 9 cents each, making a total of 30 cents.

TAKING ORDERS FROM SAMPLES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I notice in The Herald an ordinance to license canvassers. Does not that ordinance conflict with the interstate commerce act, as I am informed the courts have ruled that a person taking orders from samples requires no license? Thanking you for information through The Herald. Signed,

Three Duluth attorneys and two Duluth judges refused to give an opinion on the above question unless it were formally presented to them. If "A Subscriber" is interested for business reasons he would do well to employ an attorney, give him all the facts, and get his opinion.—The Editor.

"THE MONEYLESS MAN."

To the Editor of The Herald:

I see a man from this village is asking for the poem, "The Moneyless Man." Well, I think the following is what he refers to.

OLE ASBJELD.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 7.

Is there no place on the face of the earth
Where charity dwelleth, where virtue has birth,
When bosom in mercy and kindness will heave,
When the poor and the wretched shall ask and receive?
Is there no place at all where a knock from the poor
Will bring a kind angel to open the door?
Ah! search the wide world wherever you can,
There is no open door for the moneyless man.

Go look in the halls where the chandelier's light
Drives off with its splendor the darkness of night,
Where the rich hanging velvet in shadowy fold
Sweeps gracefully down with its trimmings of gold,
Where mirrors of silver take up and renew
In long-lighted vistas the wildering view.
Go there at the banquet and find if you can
A welcoming smile for the moneyless man.

Go look at your church with its cloud-reaching spire,
Which gives to the sun its same look of red fire,
Where arches and columns are gorgeous within,
And the walls seem as pure as the soul without sin.
Walk down the long aisles, see the rich and the great
In their pomp and their pride of their worldly estate;
Walk down in your patches and find if you can
Who opens a pew to the moneyless man.

Go look in the banks where Mammon has told
His hundreds and thousands of silver and gold,
Where safe from the hands of the starving and poor
Lie pile upon pile of the glittering ore.
Walk up to the counters—ah! there you may stay
Till your limbs get weak, till your hair turns gray.
You will find in the banks not one of a clan
Has money to lend to the moneyless man.

Go look at your judge with his dark flowing gown,
With scales in his hand to weigh equally down.
Where he frowns on the poor and smiles on the strong
And punishes right while he justifies wrong;
Where jurors their lips to the Bible have laid
To render a verdict they have already made.
Go there at the court room and find if you can
Any law for the cause of the moneyless man.

Then go to the hovel, no raven had fed
The mother who suffered too long for her bread;
Kneel down by her pallet and kiss the dead frost
From the lips of the angel your poverty lost.
Then look in your agony upward to God
And smile when He smites you with chastening rod;
And you will find at the end of your life's little span
There is a welcome above for the moneyless man.

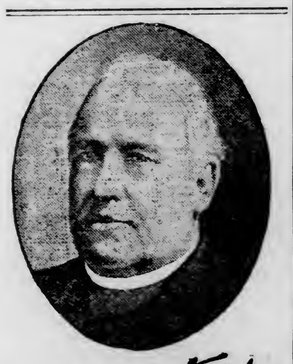
QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you kindly answer the following questions in your Open Court column?

1. An American-born woman marries a man of foreign birth. After marriage he commits a crime, for which he may be deported. Is the woman subject to deportation as his wife?

2. If a man and wife are both of foreign birth and are not United States citizens but are parents of a daughter born in this country, who proves to be an immoral character, can she be deported?



3. Is a man born in the United States of foreign parents an American citizen?

4. Kindly explain the nationality of creoles. Have they any colored blood?

A. T. G.

Angora, Minn., April 7.

The answers to your questions are as follows: 1. No. 2. No. 3. Yes. 4. A creole is a person of French or Spanish descent, who is a native inhabitant of Louisiana or one of the states adjoining, bordering on the Gulf of Mexico. The term creole negro is employed in the English West Indies to distinguish the negroes born there from the Africans imported during the time of the slave trade. The application of the term to colored people has led to an idea common in some parts of the United States, though wholly unfounded, that it implies an admixture greater or less of African blood.—The Editor.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Agent, Wirth's Red Cross drug store, 13 West Superior street.

SUBSIDY IN THE SADDLE

By SAVOYARD

Washington, April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Every true man's apparel fits your thief."—Shakespeare.

And a shameless and vicious subsidy can masquerade in many disguises and here is the ship subsidy whining around about "national honor" and professing monopoly of all the patriotism that is left in the world. It insists in the name of national honor that congress shall not dishonor the nation in order to give it $2,000,000 annually. I speak of the subsidy, not of its supporters.

What is the proposition here? It is this—vote our monopoly a subsidy of $2,000,000 every year and we will give it back to the people. I am astonished that any man in congress is simple enough to believe that. Look you, there is not now, never was and never will be any real competition between the transcontinental railroads and the ship trust, and the exclusion of railroad-owned ships from this subsidy was the spawn of ignorance and cowardice. Before this debate is over I am going to show you about that. It was only a piece of cheap and low demagogy. And this cry against England is yet cheaper and still lower. The railroads care not a rap about it.

The ship trust, the lumber trust, Tammany Hall and all the vicious things that Mr. Bryan defeated at Baltimore in 1912 are here demanding that the Democratic party do what the Republican party never did do—grant a ship subsidy. The same agencies that opposed Wilson at Baltimore are opposing him now. It is the same fight, led by the same man.

Now everybody knew that Champ Clark would seek to stab the Democratic administration as soon as he could muster the moral courage to do so and saw what he thought an opportunity to succeed. It is general report that Champ did not want to draw his dagger at this time but that Hearst demanded that he should. Well, he got but one supporter in the entire Democratic delegation from Missouri and tidings from his own district are ominous. He may not be a member of the next congress.

Underwood's case is different—he believes in subsidy and would grow a merchant marine in a hot-house.

Now these two leaders revolted from the Democratic president on what they are pleased to term "national honor." I suppose that is what they mean, if they mean anything other than that both are receptive candidates for Wilson's job in 1916. They got a great deal of applause—on the Republican side of the house. It was enthusiastic, delirious. Tom Reed never got as much. They deliberately put themselves in the same trundle bed with W. H. Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, Philander Knox, Joseph G. Cannon, Joseph B. Foraker, Victor Murdock and James R. Mann. And scrouged in with them, as at Baltimore in 1912, were William R. Hearst and Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany boss, the lumber trust and the ship trust.

Now, take it from me—whenever a Democrat finds himself in such a squad as that the thing for him to do is to take an observation and discover where he is at. As Mistress Nellie Gwynne remarked on a certain occasion: "Odd's fish! What company am I got into!"

Republicans, impotent themselves to harm Wilson, are hailing Clark and Underwood as more than Jefferson and Jackson. It is insolence intolerable for any Republican to pick out Democratic worthies. As for Fitzgerald, he is excusable, as he was when saved old Joe Cannon's bacon. He has got but a single constituent—Boss Murphy—and he has to obey orders. Now Murphy is not for this subsidy for his health. If the ship trust gets the subsidy he will strike Nixon for a divvy. At present Tammany is on short commons, and a rakeoff from a ship subsidy would help immeasureably.

What is this proposition of Clark and Underwood, of Foraker and Cannon, of Mann and Murdock? Here it is—that the man growing tobacco in Kentucky, the man planting cotton in Alabama, the man breeding mules in Missouri, the man raising corn in Kansas and the man sowing wheat in Minnesota shall be taxed to make up this deficit of $2,000,000 a year, graft the ship trust diverts from the United States treasury. That is all it is. I don't see how any human imagination can be so wild as to discover how any one of the classes I have named can reap any benefit whatever from this subsidy, even remotely, and it is certain that they will be taxed to make good to the treasury the amount of the subsidy.

And then it is only opening to a big subsidy. It is absurd—it is idiotic—to believe that this exemption from tolls will build a merchant marine. Mrs. Partington undertook to sweep all the water out of the Atlantic ocean with a broom.

Why be a piker? Why not make it what they hope to make it, and will make it if it becomes Democratic policy—ten times $2,000,000 a year, and that is the undertaking here—in the name of "national honor?"

Of course our farmers can stand it. But don't forget that every egg the Democratic party has laid is in the Woodrow Wilson basket and he that would break a single one should change his party.

SOCIALISTS HAVE LECTURES SCHEDULED

Prof. John D. Ohsol will speak at 310½ West First street this evening. His subject will be: "The Mission of the Socialist Party." The meeting will begin sharply at 8 o'clock, and is open to the public.

Prof. Ohsol will speak at Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west, next Tuesday evening and will address the members of the Scandinavian branch of the Socialist party.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the coming meeting at which Eugene V. Debs will speak. Socialist organizations in a number of towns have written to the local committee asking for reservations of as many as 100 tickets each.

HALTS WESTERN UNION BUILDING.

New York, April 9.—A permanent injunction granted by the supreme court may hold up until May 1, 1918, the completion of the greater part of the new $8,000,000 building of the Western Union Telegraph company at Broadway and Dey street. The owner of a restaurant in the old Western Union building, which must come down to make room for the new structure, obtained the injunction. When the proprietor refused to vacate, the telegraph company shut off his light and water supply. The restaurant got these necessities from outside and then brought suit to restrain the Western Union from further interference until the expiration of its lease in 1918.

VIEWS CHANGE BEHIND BARS

Father Decides He Will Support His Two Children.

Two days behind the bars in the county jail changed the views of John Gladora, 24, on the subject of a father's moral obligations to his children.

Gladora was released from custody yesterday afternoon after he had deposited $100 with Humane Agent McKercher as a guarantee that he would contribute regularly to the support of his two minor children who are being cared for at the Children's home.

Gladora was arrested by the humane agent Monday on a warrant charging him with having contributed to the dependency of minor children, a proceeding under the juvenile court law. He was to have been arraigned in Judge Ensign's court Saturday, but when he furnished the bond to the humane agent yesterday, the court dismissed the case and released the prisoner.

Gladora and his wife, Anna, were unable to get along together and Gladora left her with two children on her hands, Joseph, aged 20 months, and John, 3. The mother placed the youngsters in the Children's home and secured employment to pay for their board in the institution. She made it a go for two months, but finally appealed to the humane society for relief, stating that she could not make both ends meet.

Gladora's whereabouts were inquired into and his arrest procured. The father at the time of his arrest protested that he did not have to support his children if his wife refused to live with him. He was given two days in the county jail to think it over. Yesterday he was quite willing to submit to any sort of a compromise.

GOOD SEASON IS EXPECTED

Duluth Jobbers Prepared for Activity With Opening of Navigation.

With Few Exceptions Quotations Are Firm in All Commodities.

In point of volume, business being taken by Duluth wholesalers and manufacturing establishments is said to be making a favorable comparison with last year. Optimism is spreading as a result of the exceptionally bright agricultural outlook in this district and throughout the West. With favorable weather, it is expected that the largest area in several years back will be seeded to spring wheat. The resumption of mining operations in the ranges is being anxiously awaited by the business men in the various towns, as the trade situation in them is at present seasonably dormant. Preparations are being made for an active season from the opening of navigation till the late fall.

Good Groceries Movement.

"The movement in groceries is good, and it is running much heavier than last year," said C. R. Rust of the Rust-Parker-Martin company today. A gratifying feature he noted is that retailers are carrying light stocks in most commodities, as a rule, and with the extra spring demand now developing through this district, they are ordering in larger quantities for the season than in a considerable period back. With few exceptions, quotations in edibles are firm, and any reductions that have come about are merely nominal. Coffees are weaker, being off ¼@½ cent a pound this week. It is to be noted that coffees have declined steadily since last October, when the high point in two years was touched. The main cause of the decline has been the heavy crop movement which has exceeded all expectations, and the unsettled financial conditions in Brazil. As a result of that situation, Brazilians have been forced to sell at concessions, finding themselves unable to carry stocks over. Sugars have dropped five points this week, and the situation in them is still bearish, leading to the confining of purchases to a hand-to-mouth basis. A heavy sale in canned and dried fruits and vegetable staples is reported.

Active Dry Goods Trade.

Dry goods trade over this territory is being maintained in satisfactory volume, according to F. A. Patrick & Co. Mail orders in dress goods and accessories and in women's ready-to-wear garments for prompt shipment have been especially heavy of late.

Some of that house's salesmen in mackinaws and northern wool products are now in from their trips after landing a record volume of trade. Future orders in woolens, blankets, etc., for next fall's delivery are said to be well maintained.

Shoe Factory Busy.

The Northern Shoe company advised that its factory is employing more operatives at the present than at previous periods in its history. The company's travelers are booking substantial orders from over Northern Minnesota and North Dakota, while its representative at Spokane is averred to have booked double the volume of business last month as compared with a year ago. The factory has inaugurated a selling campaign in its "Farmpruf" line of work shoes. Through the tanning process adopted in preparing the hide, ammonia is said to have no effect on the leather, which remains soft and pliable under all conditions. Hockey and skating shoes for next winter's use are also being featured.

Furniture Sales Expand.

An increase of 33 per cent in its volume of furniture business last week over a year ago, was reported by the De Witt-Seitz company. A good expansion in sales was said to be showing from over Northern Michigan and Northern and Western Minnesota. Orders in mattresses are bulking up heavily, leading to capacity operations at the company's factory.

Leather Market Firm.

The Schulze company also averred that its trade is bulking up well ahead of last year. Shipments of heavy harness for use in spring farming operations are said to be large. The filling of orders in summer goods will be started next month. The market is firm in all classes of leather.

Liberal Hardware Shipments.

Apart from screws which have declined between 15 and 20 per cent, there have been no notable quotations changes in hardware staples or features this week. The two Duluth wholesale establishments, the Kelley-How-Thomson company, and the Marshall-Wells Hardware company, reported liberal trade in shelf goods and spring farming tools. Country merchants are showing a disposition to order more freely than in some time back.

Building Paper a Feature.

The Peyton Paper company advised that its trade in March, and so far this month was the best in its experience. Orders in building paper are the feature, including that exceptional activity is expected in new construction through the district this season. The company has just added an auto-truck to its delivery equipment. Among the outside buyers at its warehouse today were: J. Zimple, McGrath, Minn.; William Millen, Drummond, Minn., and Axel Lyons, Two Harbors.

QUIT PUBLISHING LUMBER PRICES.

St. Louis, Mo., April 9.—The publication of lumber prices will be discontinued by the Yellow Pine Manufacturers' association, according to a resolution adopted by that organization at a meeting here and ordered incorporated in the bylaws. This action followed a threat of the Missouri members who recently were fined by the supreme court of the state on the charge of violating the anti-trust laws, that they would withdraw from the association unless it amended its constitution to prohibit the dissemination of information relative to sales and marketing.

RECKLESS DRIVER GETS TWO YEARS.

San Francisco, Cal., April 9.—"Hardly a week passes but that somebody is maimed or slaughtered in San Francisco by the careless operation of automobiles," said Judge Owler of the superior court, in sentencing Louis Kantor, a chauffeur convicted of manslaughter, to two years in the penitentiary. Kantor killed John McDermott, teller in a national bank, Christmas morning, and fled.

SALOONS CONTEST BLOOMINGTON VOTE.

Bloomington, Ill., April 9.—Attorneys for the saloons last night filed a notice of contest of the election held Tuesday, when seventy-eight saloons were voted out of business by a majority of seventy-five. The principal contention is that all the voters were not registered.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

DETROIT and Grand Rapids have had public markets for years. These are largely wholesale but a number of retail markets are being installed in the smaller cities throughout the state of Michigan. These markets have two main objects in view, lower cost of living by bringing the producer and consumer together and to build up trade between the producer and the merchants. A city retail market was opened in Jackson, Michigan, last fall and so far has proven most successful. It is nicely equipped and the stalls are free to the sellers. The market is well advertised in the local newspapers. It is opened all day and Saturday evenings as well. A great variety of stuff is sold, including all farm produce, butter, eggs, chickens, all kinds of meat, bread, cake, cookies, canned fruits, pickles, etc.

North Lansing has a street market that has also proven very successful and the city of Lansing is now establishing a market with stalls which will be placed under a roof. The city sealer of weights and measures will also be market superintendent. Stalls for single rigs are 10 cents. Double rigs and automobiles, 20 cents per day, and the total charge by the year is $5. Saginaw also will open a municipal market this year, and Battle Creek, Muskegon, Cadillac, Bay City and Houghton as well as other cities have plans for city markets.

Duluth has three public markets. One has been in operation at the Armory for several years and two others were started at West Duluth and the West end last summer. All of them will be conducted again this summer. They have been a success and the city officials are co-operating with the farmers and various civic organizations to enlarge their scope and increase their usefulness.

"THERE'S A BIGGER AND BETTER DAY DAWNING FOR THE WATERPORTS," IS THE CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE TO 400 LEADING CITIZENS AT THE ANNUAL CLUB MEETING

OPPOSED TO CANAL PLAN

Lakes to Mississippi Project Condemned By Three Engineers.

Public Affairs Committee Also Seeks Adequate Market Facilities.

That Duluth will not sit supinely by and see Governor Eberhart try to have a ship canal constructed from Duluth to the Twin Cities, was determined last evening at the annual meeting of the public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club, held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the club proper.

Vice Chairman Henry Nolte brought the matter up by reading a newspaper account of how Governor Eberhart has called a meeting of governors of states along the Mississippi to take action regarding such a canal. The matter was referred to the committee on harbors and waterways which was instructed to see to it that Duluth is adequately represented at any such meeting to be held. The committee had referred to this in its annual report, saying that despite the fact that three United States engineers, Majors Sears and Fitch and Col. Potter, have condemned such a project, it still comes up as a bugaboo.

Another special matter which came up and was acted upon decisively was the following resolution submitted, together with a special report by C. P. Craig as chairman of the agricultural committee, and which was unanimously adopted:

"That resolved by the Duluth Commercial club, in annual meeting this 8th day of April, 1914, that we call to the attention of the city commission the pressing need for adequate, attractive public market facilities, to the end that the agricultural development of the surrounding country be furthered and the cost of fresh garden produce be reduced to our citizens; that we respectfully request the city commission, and especially Hon. W. I. Prince, mayor and commissioner of public affairs, in whose division falls the control of public buildings, to devote to the purpose for which it was originally intended, a public market, the entire lower floor of the Armory, and that the said space be cleared this year and made sanitary and attractive."

At the close of the annual report of Vice Chairman Henry Nolte, which was the first report read following the dinner, to which about 400 members of the club sat down, Mr. Nolte read the following telegram from Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the public affairs committee, who is at present in Washington, D. C., appearing before the interstate commerce commission:

"Statements submitted by carriers in the lake and rail advance cases requiring careful analysis, have occupied my time so fully that I have been unable to prepare an annual report. I will present the chairman's report later, including important developments here. There's a bigger and better day dawning for the water ports."

Excerpts of the various reports made at the public affairs committee last evening follow:

GREAT YEAR FOR CITY.

Vice Chairman of Public Affairs Committee Says 1913 Was Productive.

In the absence of Chairman Julius H. Barnes of the public affairs committee, Vice Chairman Henry Nolte made a report, which was, in part, as follows:

"The last year has brought developments of the greatest importance to our city. The decision of the interstate commerce commission in the lake-and-rail case stands out above all other developments, as indicating the progress we are making in furthering the commercial and industrial growth of the community. Other transportation changes will exert a strong influence in our future.

"That our market is developing is indicated by statistics on immigration into Northern Minnesota. Men qualified to speak say that the settlement of the territory directly around us is going forward more rapidly than in any district in the United States. The steel plant is nearing completion, and we are informed that it will be in operation within a year. Several new industries have been brought to Duluth and some of our old-established industries have made notable extensions.

"The public affairs committee, on behalf of the club, has maintained close relations with the chamber of commerce of the United States. Matters submitted on referendum by that body have been considered by the committee as a whole or by the executive committee, and the will of the club was thus recorded on each subject so submitted."

AGRICULTURAL WORK.

Follow Up Work Has Engaged Committee's Attention During Past Year.

C. P. Craig, chairman of the agricultural committee of the club, made the following report:

"Our activities for the year have been more in the nature of follow up work, encouraging and assisting those agencies which we have started on an independent basis.

"Briefly recounting in detail some of the specific acts of this committee, we beg to advise you that we have held sixteen meetings, and secured from St. Louis county an appropriation of $1,000 for county agent work. In co-operation with the homecroft committee we carried out an agricultural and livestock exhibit in connection with the industrial exhibition at the Duluth Curling club last September; obtained material improvement of public market condition at the Armory and have the promise of Mayor Prince that this year the Armory will be cleared entirely for the use of a market and the establishment upon the old courthouse site of a hay, wood and general wagon sales market, together with stabling facilities. We arranged the usual attractive exhibit at the state fair and made many friends. The exhibit was not entered in a competitive way.

"By insistent urging we, in co-operation with this advisory committee, succeeded in having a short course held in our new school the past month. This we count one of our greatest achievements.

"We cite a few of the things which are yet to be done and commend them to the careful consideration of our successors:

"First—Carry out the usual exhibit at the state fair on a non-competitive basis, give study to new ways of presenting in a more impressive way the old fact that St. Louis county is the best agricultural, livestock and dairy county in this or any other state.

"Second—Put on an agricultural and livestock exhibit in co-operation with the industrial exposition, if that is to be an annual affair, and if it is not, put one on independently, making it bigger and better than the one last year.

"Third—Co-operate in a live, active, encouraging and thoughtfully constructive way with our agricultural school, its advisory board, our district supervisor of agriculture, our agricultural agents, and the agricultural agents of adjoining counties.

"Fourth—Wage a relentless campaign until up-to-date, adequate public market facilities are a part of our municipal equipment.

"Fifth—Publish an important, up-to-date bulletin on "Facts Proven" with respect to the incomparable adaptation of St. Louis and adjoining counties for dairying.

"Sixth—Complete the work undertaken by this committee for the establishment of a credit enabling neighboring farmers to buy dairy cattle.

"Seventh—There should be close relationship between this committee and the homecroft committee.

"Eighth—Urge the establishment in Duluth in 1915 of a two months' permanent summer school for teachers and to be in the nature of a continuation school for everybody."

EDUCATIONAL CO-OPERATION.

Committee Helps in Organizing and Promoting Educational Work Generally.

E. C. Wade, chairman of the committee on educational co-operation makes the following report:

"Your committee has not accomplished all it hoped to but has been helpful in organizing, promoting or stimulating educational work, or interest in it, in several quarters. We co-operated in promoting attendance of business men at the annual exhibit of the manual training high school last summer. We have played an active part in organizing, advertising, securing enrollment and in some cases instructors for the state university extension work. This has been practically the first year of this work in Duluth and your committee and the university management feel gratified at the number of courses organized, the numbers enrolled and the general results obtained. Already plans are under way looking toward new classes and larger enrollment for next year.

"Your committee also played an inconspicuous though prominent part in the organizing of the Duluth Office Men's association which has met with such spontaneous success from its very inception and which promises to be a stronger and helpful factor in the building of a bigger and better Duluth.

"Your committee has gathered considerable information on the work of the St. Paul institute, the principal of which, in a recent letter, recommends a study of the Minneapolis plan where all instruction is free. Our committee has not worked out details of a program for Duluth sufficiently to make definite recommendations but we believe that with a splendid manual training high school which is not in use evenings, with a public school board, superintendent and department heads all anxious to see it used to a larger extent, and with a sympathetic, aggressive community a program can be arrived at which will mean the opening of the manual training building for night school work next fall.

"We further recommend to our successors as follows:

"First, that they consider inviting a representative of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial education to visit Duluth and advise both as to immediate and future policy for the development of vocational training in this city.

"Second, that they early plan to get out a large attendance of business and professional men to the annual exhibit in the manual training building.

"Third, that they continue the co-operation of this club with the state university extension department."

GOOD ROADS REPORT.

Much Done in Past Year and Much Still to Be Done.

H. J. Mullin, chairman of the committee on good roads, made an enthusiastic report, which was greeted by hearty applause. He said in his report that much missionary work has been done and a great deal of valuable information has been obtained. Many roads and proposed routes were investigated and hearty indorsement was given the proposed Farrell cut-off road. The report says that while the progress on the Duluth-St. Vincent road is very slow better work has been done than on any other road in the state started under the Elwell law. He says that under that law not a mile of inter-county road has been built yet although the law has been in force five years. He reported on the appropriations made by the county board for the Miller trunk road and for the opening of the Vermilion road to run north from Island Lake to Biwabik.

Mr. Mullin also said that so far as the Duluth-Port Arthur road is concerned there is good progress with the Canadians working faster than those at this end. He reported unfavorably on the proposed scenic highway from Fond du Lac to Thomson because of the exorbitant cost that will be necessary to put it into shape. He also urged attention for the proposed Twin City route, and appealed for early action.

BRIEF REPORT.

Municipal Committee Urges Road Improvement and Passes on Council's Action.

The report of the municipal committee, Frank Crassweller, chairman, which follows, is brief and to the point:

"Your municipal co-operation subcommittee would respectfully report that their labors have not been very arduous during the past year. They have held six meetings, and, among other things, have taken up and urged the completion of the grouping plan on congress and the city government by the erection of a new Federal building and a new city hall upon the grounds already reserved for those purposes.

"The new water rate schedule was discussed and the city commission commended for considering a matter of such vital importance to the citizens and as a legislative rather than an administrative measure.

"The committee also met with delegates from the West Duluth Commercial club and took up the question of road improvements and subways under railroad tracks, and also met with the city representatives, representatives of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company and of the West Duluth club, in endeavoring to have matters settled satisfactorily."

HOMECROFT WORK.

Chairman Colman Reviews Work of Past Year and Makes Recommendations.

C. F. Colman, chairman of the homecrofting committee, suggests that the Commercial club take several important actions, which he describes in his report as follows:

"Our work has largely been in the creating of interest throughout the city in gardening and in the canning of vegetables so raised for winter consumption. S. L. Potts was engaged during the summer months to give advice to gardeners, stimulate interest, and render aid to any in need of his services.

"We recommend the following:

"That prizes, aggregating $100 be offered by this club within the next thirty days for the best display of outdoor grown vegetables (canned and fresh) and flowers, exhibited at the industrial exposition next fall. That a portion of this prize money be offered for the best written statement from any person residing in Duluth as to what benefits they have derived from gardening.

"That a plot of ground be procured by the new committee, and the common vegetables planted therein, with a view of their ripening at about the date of the industrial exposition; to be used during the exposition, for the purpose of demonstrating the canning method.

"That the city be divided into four or more districts; that a competent and enthusiastic gardener, living in each district, be appointed by the new committee to encourage the raising of vegetables and flowers in his district, to be displayed at the fall exposition in competition with the other districts of the city."

IMPROVEMENTS IN HARBOR.

Committee on Harbors and Waterways Transact Most Important Business.

F. B. Spelman, chairman of the committee on harbors and waterways, reported one of the busiest years the committee has ever had, as follows:

"In my report a year ago, outlining the different subjects to be taken up for discussion, was the boundary line between Wisconsin and Minncsota through the St. Louis bay. The court of appeals has decided that the old natural channel close to the Minnesota side is the boundary between the two states. An appeal has already been taken to the United States supreme court, and we expect a decision from the highest authority in the land. Commissioners have been appointed by the legislatures of Minnesota and Wisconsin to fix the boundary line. As it is an important question for taxation of riparian rights, we believe the supreme court decision will be necessary to determine the point.

"The Lake Superior and Mississippi canal scheme bobs up occasionally, although Majors Sears and Fitch and Col. Potter, army engineers in charge of the district, in various times reported unfavorably. The legislatures of Wisconsin and Minnesota appointed commissioners to investigate and make a report to their respective legislatures at the next session. The last I heard of it was that Attorney Sullivan of Stillwater, Minn., and an attorney of Chippewa Falls, Wis., were appointed to prepare a case before the army board. We will no doubt be given an opportunity to be heard in opposition.

"The improvements in our harbor to facilitate the handling of our large increasing commerce requires the services of an expert in this line. The railroads are already complaining of the delay in getting into our city over the interstate, and the Northern Pacific bridges, while the vessel interests would be seriously affected provided they could not have the right-of-way in our channels. It is rather ahead of the time to talk about a tunnel from Rice's to Conner's Point and do away with both bridges, but the time will soon come when this will have to be seriously considered.

"We can get a large amount of dockage on the harbor side of Minnesota Point, and for the railroad to reach it a tunnel will be built under either the Minnesota or Wisconsin entry at some future time. At the next session of our legislature we hope to obtain a lease for twenty-five years from the state for a city dock at Thirty-eighth avenue west.

"The sewage disposal of our lake cities is a very important matter for us, particularly at the West end, which is being built up very fast. The only outlet is in our river and harbor. A large number of cities in the country are successfully using a filtering system, and plans should be determined at once for the West end.

"The international joint commission has employed experts to investigate the pollution of our Great Lakes, and it will not be long before a full report will be made on this subject, and the government may compel the cities to filter the sewage. Milwaukee, Wis., and Rochester, N. Y., are already installing filter systems, and in time will come for Duluth to set the example to other cities on Lake Superior.

"A report was made by this committee in the matter of the application of the Michigan Northern Power company for the construction of compensating works at Sault Ste. Marie. This brought up the question as to the maximum level for Lake Superior. The mean level of the lake for the last forty years is 602.27 feet above mean tide at New York, and all the improvements in our harbor have been adjusted accordingly. This application is to be passed on by the international joint commission, whose decision is final. A meeting was held in Detroit, Mich., last month. A. H. Comstock represented this club, and D. A. Reed, superintendent of the water and light department, the city. At said meeting a maximum limit of 604.1 was suggested. This was opposed by our representatives with others, for the reason that great damage would result at this end of the lake, but as the opposition was not prepared to present expert testimony as against the testimony of the experts for the power company, a continuance was granted to April 7, at Washington, D. C.

"Since the Detroit meeting a tentative draft of the regulations controlling the operations of the compensating works was received, which fixes the maximum limit at 603.6. This, we believe, is too high, and at times during serious easterly storms will cause great damage to our improvements and to Minnesota Point. The committee on harbors and waterways has gone on record as recommending that not higher than 602.75 be fixed in the regulations."

CITY WELL ADVERTISED.

Publicity Committee Puts in Active and Fruitful Year.

That Duluth has been given some of the best publicity work of its history, and that fruit has resulted, is shown in the report made by Alfred Hanchett, chairman of the publicity committee, which follows in part:

"During the past year your publicity committee has carried on three kinds of work: Press bureau work, which consists of the writing and getting published without charge and for the news value, of newspaper, magazine and trade paper articles; an information bureau, constructed and managed under the direction of the publicity committee at the corner of Fifth avenue West and Superior street; the writing, designing and supervising of publications, advertising Duluth and the Duluth Commercial club.

"By far the most important accomplishment of your committee during the past year has been the press bureau work. Many thousand dollars' worth of free advertising has been gained for Duluth. Through such press bureau work, many publicity articles, a number of them illustrated in important national magazines and other periodicals, have told Duluth's story. Your entire committee has worked with enthusiasm and industry on the preparation and distribution of this press bureau copy, but the great preponderance of this work has been done by the club's expert publicity man, Mr. McCarthy. His thorough and successful newspaper experience has given him the press agent's most needed qualification—a knowledge of what will and what will not get over the desk of the city editor.

"Your committee believes that the value of being organized to get press bureau publicity has been demonstrated, and now earnestly points out the necessity of taking one more step during the coming year to put Duluth's publicity, as conducted by the Commercial club, on the same substantial and permanent basis as you have put other departments. We recommend most heartily that you gentlemen should treat the publicity arrangement for Duluth with the same consistency and foresight that you would treat such publicity arrangement for your own private enterprises. Therefore it is necessary, in the opinion of your committee, that a publicity campaign be at once outlined for the next four years.

"Without going into the details of what such campaign should be, your committee believes that Duluth's advertising in Northwestern papers to her Northwestern sister communities should be carried on steadily. We believe that Duluth is now a candidate for election as metropolis for the Northwest. We all know there are other candidates, but Duluth has a reputation, a prestige, important qualities of strength and possibilities for the future that she should not 'hide under a bushel.' They should be taken out and given publicity before the communities of the Northwest, that hold power to make Duluth their metropolis."

DOES GOOD WORK.

Committee on Neighborhood Clubs Finds Closer Feeling Is Created.

One of the most interesting and significant reports made last night was that of Bentley P. Neff, chairman of the neighborhood clubs committee. It follows:

"Your committee has endeavored to carry out the spirit of its instructions at the time of its inauguration and has discharged its duty to the best of its ability.

"Its ambition has been to carry to the various neighborhood clubs of the city that spirit of friendly interest and goodwill, the inception of which was in the public affairs committee.

"Several meetings of representatives of the various neighborhood clubs were held at the Commercial club, and your committee visited several of the clubs on their regular meeting night. Time would not permit of our visiting the entire list through correspondence and verbal assurance they knew they could call upon us for any assistance and that we were theirs to command when needed.

"Duluth today is one great united body and the splendid work done by the neighborhood clubs in promoting the interests of their various localities, together with the backing they have given the larger organization in all efforts for the welfare of Duluth, has made this forward, aggressive movement a solid unit for greater accomplishment.

"Never before have the people of this city been so nearly in accord with the golden rule, and never before have so many men and women been willing to labor for the common good. This is the spirit of co-operation (engendered by the excellent work done by the many different civic clubs of the city) that your committee has tried to emphasize, and though it may not solve all the problems of the city, it will "sweeten the waters of human life and pluck many a thorn from the pathway of mankind."

WORK OF SMOKE PREVENTION.

Committee Meets With Encouragement and Offers of Co-operation.

Chairman J. B. Crane of the smoke prevention committee made a very interesting report of efforts made during the past year toward stopping the smoke nuisance. It was as follows:

"The smoke prevention committee made a preliminary report on smoke conditions in the city and sent this to all the organizations in Duluth, asking for suggestions and their co-operation. Later, with a committee appointed by the local association of stationary engineers, the committee made a thorough investigation of methods used in handling the smoke nuisance in other cities, and a final report on this proposition with recommendations was made to the commissioners of the city of Duluth.

"The commissioners accepted one of the recommendations, namely, that some local man be appointed and this man be sent to Chicago or some other city, to become acquainted with their methods of handling this problem. J. W. Schneider was appointed to this work and after spending four weeks in Chicago, has been working on this problem for the past two months.

"He appears to be going at the proposition in a workmanlike manner and has drafted a suitable ordinance and is making daily observations of chimneys which are not complying with this ordinance, and sending letters to such violators as he finds.

"Most of the railroads entering Duluth had already appointed smoke inspectors for their systems and these men had started in working in Duluth before the city appointed their man."

"BOOSTINGLY YOURS."

Frank X. Gravel Tells of Trade Extension Work of Past Year.

The chairman of the trade extension committee, Frank X. Gravel, made an enthusiastic report on the work of the committee as follows, signing himself "boostingly yours":

"Our first work was the organizing of a trade excursion, which lasted seven days, June 1 to 8, 1913, covering that part of North Dakota north of the main line of the Great Northern railroad, from the Minnesota boundary and west to Minot. In our lineup of sixty men on this trip were all classes of business and professional men. We made 148 towns, and on a conservative estimate our boosters met about 45,000 North Dakota people, and we are pleased to state that our boosters were not at all backward in spreading the gospel of "A Greater Duluth" at each stop, and to all of those they came in contact with. This trip covered 2,300 miles.

"Our committee also lined up over 100 boosters, who had been out on different trade extension trips to take part in a parade for the "Lark o' the Lake" entertainment on the evening of Saturday, July 26, 1913; also for the parade inaugurating the industrial and agricultural exposition on Monday evening, Sept. 2, 1913.

"We also arranged for a special train over the D., M. & N. to Hibbing for Duluth day at St. Louis county fair, Aug. 30, 1913. We judge the number attending by our special train, regular trains and by automobiles amounted to 700.

"Our committee also got together a party of twenty business men to attend a banquet at Brainerd, Minn., as guests of the Brainerd Commercial club on Nov. 25.

"The chairman of our committee visited several county fairs during August, September and October, 1913, and has twice been the guest of the Baudette board of trade, as the representative of the Duluth Commercial club.

"We believe that trade extension or booster trips are beneficial to Duluth's business interests, and recommend their continuance during the coming spring or summer. One more six-day trip would cover the remaining tributary towns not already visited up to this time.

"Our committee is pleased in reporting that we were successful in financing all our trips without drawing on any reserve of the Duluth Commercial club in any way, and we report a balance on hand of $12.46 and no outstanding bills against our committee."

DR. TUOHY'S REPORT.

Health Committee Makes Recommendations to the Commercial Club.

Dr. E. L. Tuohy, chairman of the committee on public health, in his report last night, which is in part as follows, makes several recommendations:

"Briefly summarized, our work may be divided as follows, as well as our recommendations:

"First—We have stood for the development of a department of public health, headed by a health officer, devoting his entire time to the work.

"Second—We have taken the stand relative to garbage collection, that this is a sanitary problem akin to the cleaning of streets, and the abatement of nuisances, and not in a vital sense, a health problem. The city should undoubtely control all the garbage wagons much as they do the mechanical street sweepers.

"Third—Your committee has taken a stand relative to obnoxious medical advertisements as well as other fraudulent advertising, in the newspapers.

"Fourth—A sub-committee has been formed to confer with a committee of the Women's council regarding the steps to be taken to establish a city and county hospital. This meritorious project is receiving consideration at present time, and at the coming session of the legislature, the proper enabling legislation will be secured."

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

Bishop McGolrick Reports on Work Done By His Committee.

Bishop McGolrick, chairman of the committee on parks and playgrounds, reported in part as follows:

"Our commissioners have taken due precautions at the coming spring as to the care and development of public parks and squares. The planting of trees and native shrubs goes on as usual, and those who have a special interest in the beautifying of the city are furthered in that direction by the well-established nurseries now in good working order.

"The opportunity of boulevarding Fourth street from Sixth avenue east to the normal school should be promptly discussed and put into operation. It seldom happens within the city limits that the streets are found wide enough to admit of a beauty spot lengthened out several blocks and planted with shrubs and flowers. We have at least one such strip of street, and we should utilize it.

"As a member of the Humane society I would point out the utility of an addition to our drinking fountains, of a lower basin for the use of dogs. The additional cost would not be much and would be in the right direction."

URGES HOME TRADING.

Chairman of Retail Co-operation Committee Makes Plea to Club.

George A. Gray, chairman of the retail co-operation committee, praises Duluth stores in general and asks local support, in his annual report, which is, in part, as follows:

"Owing to the fact that the retail stores of Duluth are working through their own organization, there have been comparatively few meetings of our committees during the past year. Nevertheless the committee has not been asleep or unmindful of its duties.

"I want to ask the support of every member of the club for the retail stores of our city. I could say much here regarding the advantages to our city and to our stores if every member of the club would himself patronize the stores of Duluth and urge his family and friends to do so, but I will spare you. You know as well as I that these stores are very many retail stores in Duluth, each one carrying large assortments of the best merchandise that money and brains can bring together. I honestly believe that there is hardly a city in the United States having the same volume of retail business where there are so many first-class stores as there are here. Personally, I have no fault to find. I do not ask you to trade at our store, but I do ask you to trade at some Duluth store, and in that way do much to build up Duluth in every way."

TRAFFIC MATTERS.

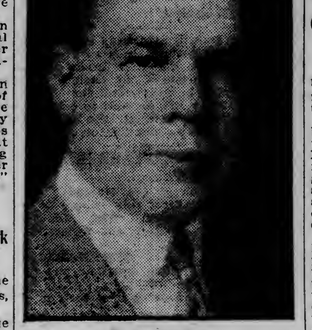
Commission Reports on Achievements of Past Year in Rates.

The traffic commission reported on business done for the past year, the report being made by C. F. Rowe, vice chairman of the commission in the absence of Chairman Julius H. Barnes. The commission expresses the belief that permanent relief has been given Duluth in view of the ruling of the interstate commerce commission has said:

"We therefore find that any scale of rail and lake rates to Duluth in excess of the rail and lake rates to Chicago from trunk line territory is, and for the future will be, unduly discriminatory against Duluth and therefore unlawful."

In reciting the accomplishments of the year the commission's report deals with the establishment of a through passenger service from Duluth to Pacific coast points; the arrangement made to have through transcontinental tickets issued routing passengers via Duluth with stopover privileges; the publication of tariff by certain roads making changes in freight rates to points in Wisconsin which are advantageous to Duluth manufacturers and jobbers; changes in rate basis to points in Kansas; the securing of better rates on heating apparatus, horse shoes and toe calks from Duluth to Chicago; the adjustment of rates on cotton linters from Texas points to Duluth; better rates on log loading and hoisting machinery from Duluth to points in Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma; the securing of refrigerating equipment on lake boats for the shipping of dairy products; the victory in the famous lake and rail case, and that of the Duluth grain rate case.

NO CHANGE IN CLUB'S NAME



Many Favor It But Vote Falls Short of Majority.

Five New Directors Elected; Retiring President Presents His Report.

The annual meeting of the Duluth Commercial club was held last evening at the clubrooms, jointly with that of the public affairs committee, the club taking the meeting after the public affairs committee had finished its business.

Aside from the announcement of the tellers of the result of the annual election, the chief business before the meeting was the proposition to change the name of the organization from "Duluth Commercial club" to "Duluth Association of Commerce." This attempt was defeated owing to the fact that the by-laws of the club require that a majority of the members of the club cast their votes in such a case and two-thirds of such a majority favor it.

The number present, together with the proxies sent in last night, fell short of the required number, and although a large majority of those voting were in favor of the change, the attempt was declared lost. A number of other changes were made in the by-laws, all of them being simply in the way of codifying them, as they have been amended from time to time until they have become patchwork. The amendment of last evening straightens this out.

R. B. KNOX,

The directors elected at the annual election which took place yesterday, as announced at the meeting last night, are, they being elected to serve two years:

David Williams, J. B. Crane, J. R. McGiffert, D. B. McDonald and John A. Stephenson.

The directors who hold over for another year are A. H. Crassweller, A. M. McDougall, J. W. Lyder, Jr., Hans B. Haroldson and Watson S. Moore.

The retiring directors are R. B. Knox, George A. French, J. O. Lenning, H. R. Armstrong and George A. Sherwood.

The directors will hold a meeting next week at which time they will elect a president and other officers.

Appreciate Barnes' Work.

When the club took the meeting over, President R. B. Knox introduced W. McGonagle, who, in a brief address, declared that as good as work of past committees and officers have been the year just ending shows that during 1913 the most efficient and fruitful work of the club has been accomplished. He declared that it is now assured that Duluth has arrived and that no more worrying about what may be will be necessary. Mr. McGonagle applauded the work of Chairman Julius H. Barnes of the public affairs committee in behalf of the city, and suggested that, in appreciation of it, the members present should give him thanks by a standing vote. The result was spontaneous, every man getting to his feet without further formality and applauding the chairman to the echo.

President Knox then gave his annual report, which was, in part, as follows:

"The work of the club is done by men whose services we could not buy at any price, but who give unstintingly of their time in order that this organization may be a power for good in this city. I draw your attention to the work of the public affairs committee as shown in the reports of its various sub-committees as made tonight.

"The traffic branch of that committee has devoted years of earnest hard work to the task of having Duluth's natural position as a shipping point recognized by the common carriers of this country, and success has crowned its efforts. No greater boon has come to the business interests of Duluth since its incorporation as a municipality than the readjustment of freight rates brought about by this traffic bureau and the self sacrificing men who have worked for and with it to accomplish this great result. If I were to attempt to draw your attention to the special work of these subcommittees I would need to mention every one, and you have heard tonight just what each has done.

"This club is doing a really marvelous work in Duluth and the surrounding country, and to carry it on to even greater success than heretofore we must have money. This is your work and, whether a member of the club or not, every business man in Duluth should subscribe as large an amount as is possible to the public affairs committee fund. It is spent wisely and every dollar so far used in the work of that committee has brought to our city a return of many times the original investment. Look on it as an investment only and the certain profit to come from it should justify every one of you in urging upon all of your business friends and associates the wisdom of investing largely in this work. We need and could make the best sort of use for your immediate and certain profit of $50,000 a year. Get it for us.

"The secretary of the club and the secretary of the traffic bureau earn and should receive larger salaries. We must pay the market price for men—if we don't someone else will, and men such as these two are hard to get. Neither one has any idea that I am to say anything about this tonight. I believe that it would be money well spent to increase their salaries materially. You will never get two more devoted, able and energetic men no matter what you pay. The value of their services cannot be measured in dollars and cents."

Secretary's Report.

Secretary H. V. Eva then made his report. Regarding the matter of membership, he said:

"The membership ledger on April 1, 1913, showed 889 resident members and 156 non-resident members. During the year we have taken in 168 resident members and thirty-one non-resident members, making a total of 199. We have lost by death, 6; on account of removal, 28; resignations, 29; and suspensions, 43; or a total of 106, leaving the membership March 31, 1914, 983 resident members and 155 non-resident members, or a total membership of 1,1338. This is the largest membership the club has had since its existence."

Further, he spoke of the development of agricultural work and the assistance given not only the surrounding country but the whole of Northern Minnesota in development; commended the very effective publicity work done; commented favorable on the advertising buyers' committee, showing that over $30,000 has been saved during the past year; and suggested a similar committee to pass on requests for subscriptions and sort out the worthy from the unworthy.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Committee Reports a Busy Year With Some Good Results.

The committee on street improvements, of which H. J. Atwood is chairman, held ten meetings and "did things." The report follows in part:

"The committee held ten meetings, but that is not a fair indication of the time and effort given to the work. Numerous inspection trips were made; members of the committee devoted a great deal of time to the study of street improvement methods in this and other cities, and took a keen and constant interest in the work being done by the division of public works.

"The commissioner of public works in Duluth has a herculean task. Especially during the last year his position was difficult, as the old administration left to the commission a heritage of a street improvement fund obligated to the last penny. The year's work was laid out before the commission took over the government and there was little opportunity for discretion in the program.

"Your committee offered some criticism on the methods of inspection during the season. We feel that the city's inspection service was not properly organized, nor the inspectors properly instructed. We feel that there has been too great a disposition on the part of the city engineer and the commissioner of public works to allow deviation from specifications. We believe that when specifications are drawn, and bids received on them, they should be adhered to. Mistakes might result from that method, but we do not believe the mistakes would be as serious or productive of as great harm to the city generally as the practice of allowing modifications in specifications after the contract has been let.

"Our efforts all through the season have been along the line of constructive criticism. We find that our attitude on many subjects is confirmed by the report of Prof. S. S. Smith of the University of Wisconsin after a visit to Duluth and an examination of specifications.

"People who show a disposition to resent the slow progress of street improvement work in Duluth should remember that the city is working within limitations. The street intersection provision of the charter limits the city to a certain amount of work each year, and the commissioner of public works must use his best judgment as to the work which should be given precedence. The commissioner is sincerely endeavoring to do what is best for the city as a whole. Last year he had no discretion as to what work should be done; this year he must disappoint many people on account of the stringency in the funds for street improvement purposes.

"Your committee recommends that a similar committee be named as a part of the public affairs committee for the next year and that this work be continued. This committee has issued a card on which reports of street conditions may be made. We urge citizens to use these cards that the committee may be informed of work it should do."

WATCHFUL WAITING.

State and County Committee Chairman Says Committee Has Adopted National Policy.

John H. Hearding, chairman of the state and county committee, reports the year's work in part as follows:

"With good roads, legislation and taxation referred to other committees, your committee on state and county co-operation has been unable to discover many very important subjects demanding its attention. Accordingly, only a few meetings have been held, and the committee has emulated our national administration in a policy of watchful waiting."

Wilson Indorsed.

Raleigh, N. C., April 9.—Resolutions urging a state-wide primary law for state, national and other officers and indorsing the administration of President Wilson were adopted at a mass meeting here last night, which was featured with addresses by Secretary Daniels of the navy department, Senator Pomerene of Ohio and Governor Craig, all of whom spoke on progressive Democracy.

Soda Relieves Indigestion or Acid Stomach

Few Stomach sufferers know that Indigestion, Sourness and Gases are not caused by a lack of digestive juices, but result always from acidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach, which retards digestion and promotes food fermentation. Everything eaten sours in the stomach like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we get a heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we belch gas and eructate food or have heartburn, water-brash, bloating and nausea.

A well-known authority states that a 10-grain Sodagen tablet taken any time, followed by a tumbler of water instantly neutralizes these stomach acids; stops fermentation, absorbs the gases and sweetens the entire digestive tract. He says any pharmacist can supply a package of 10-grain Sodagen tablets as they are constantly prescribed for stomach acidity because of their harmlessness to the digestive organs, being composed of Soda, Calcium Carbonate and Magnesia U. This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: APRIL 12.

Luke xxiv, 13-35: The Journey to Emmaus.

CONNECTION.

We go forward in the story of Christ in order to get a lesson for the Easter day. It is not about the resurrection itself but about one of the manifestations of the risen Christ the very day He arose. This incident is reported only by Luke.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Lost Faith of the Disciples, 13-24.

"And behold, two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs from Jerusalem. And they communed with each other of all these things which had happened. And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus Himself drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were holden that they should not know Him. And He said unto them, What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye walk? And they stood still, looking sad. And one of them, named Cleopas, answering said unto Him, Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusalem and not know the things which are come to pass there in these days? And He said unto them, What things? And they said unto Him, The things concerning Jesus the Nazarene, who was a phophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people: and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered Him up to be condemned to death, and crucified Him. But we hoped that it was He who should redeem Israel. Yea and besides all this, it is now the third day since these things came to pass. Moreover certain women of our company amazed us, having been early at the tomb; and when they found not His body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that He was alive. And certain of them that were with us went to the tomb, and found it even so as the women had said; but Him they saw not."

1. DESPAIRING.—These two were not of the twelve, but of the great multitude who had followed the Master. Their home was only sixty furlongs, or seven and a half miles, from Jerusalem and they gave up hope of seeing Him again and went on back home. Truth is, there was nothing else to do. If they had only understood the Scriptures better! But they didn't. They could hardly be blamed either. They had waited around all day for some word and then quit. As they told Jesus Himself "this is now the third day," which indicated that they had heard what He had said about the third day, and as nothing took place they gave up. But they thought none the less of Jesus.

2. COMMUNING.—They held on to each other. That was the saving clause. Moreover they talked to each other about it, which showed that He had possession of their whole beings. He was planted in their hearts. They "questioned together" but didn't question His goodness. Though their thoughts were on Him they didn't reognize Him when He made one of their company, because they were so absorbed in their grief and He was so changed that it was easy for Him to prevent recognition till the right moment.

They not only communed with each other in talk and mutual sympathy but with this gentle, benignant stranger who joined them and asked two questions, "Why are ye sad?" "You must be the only person living in Jerusalem or near there who has not heard of it." "Of what?" Then their plaint follows. Notice the state of mind that they disclose—unimpaired confidence in the character and works of Jesus the prophet; wonder and confusion at the "strange things" that had happened; worldly view of the Messiah as one who should "redeem Israel," meaning "from Roman bondage;" utter inability to see that the empty tomb reported by the women was fulfillment of the words of prophets and of His own words. Their capital mistake was that they didn't wait for further light from the empty tomb. But He is coming to their aid.

II.

Their Faith Recovered. 25-31.

"And He said unto them, O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! Behooved it not the Christ to suffer these things, and to enter into His glory? And beginning from Moses and from all the prophets, He interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning Himself. And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going; and He made as though He would go further. And they constrained Him, saying, abide with us; for it is toward evening, and the day is now far spent. And He went in to abide with them. And it came to pass, when He had sat down with them to meat, He took the bread and blessed; and breaking it He gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and He vanished out of their sight."

We note seven steps by which the Master led them out of their gloom of doubt into the joy of faith.

First, He got them to express themselves, as we have seen, and that did them good. To put our doubts into words is often to see their insignificance and to rise above them. He drew them out in such a tactful way that they knew they were talking with a friend.

Second, He rebuked them for their misconception of their own Messiah—foolish ones and slow of heart to believe not only what their own Scriptures, but what that same Jesus had taught them. Two arguments are in that rebuke—that the Old Testament had taught both His death and resurrection, and that there was on Him, holy as He was, an obligation to do this. It was necessary in order to the expiation of their sins that an offering be made and, once He took up the work of the Messiah and entered into human life with all its relationships, He was under obligations to keep His word and to serve those with whom He was bound by ligaments of life. It's a wonderful truth He confesses.

Third, He instructs them, carefully quoting the passages they were probably familiar with. That put rock under their feet.

Fourth, He excited their desire for His further help when they reached their destination, for He would surely have gone on if they had not had enough interest to request Him to go in with them.

Fifth, He made a very subtle and powerful appeal to their memory. They have their faith in Him restored by this time and are to be rewarded by an actual sight of Him. In the giving of thanks He appears for the first time as His old self, as they had often seen Him—same looks, same tones of voice, same words of thanksgiving, and perhaps the prints of the nails in His hands.

Sixth, at the same time an opening of their eyes by means of this revelation of His old self and by an inner illumination which He gave them, a thing He knows how to do to this day.

Seventh, His sudden departure was a confirmation of it all. In an ordinary guest that sudden withdrawal without a word would have been gross discourtesy. Only one person could do that without giving offense. It surely was Jesus.

III.

Their Ministry to the Others. 32-35.

"And they said one to another, Was not our heart burning within us, while He spake to us in the way, while He opened to us the scriptures? And they rose up that very hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon. And they rehearsed the things that happened in the way, and how He was known of them in the breaking of the bread."

1. JOY.—Their joy was very great and it had several enduring elements in it—the recovery of something lost, the answer to elemental and conscious and cultivated needs in finding Jesus as their own forever; the completeness of their confidence, intelligent, harmonious with their scriptures, confirmed by sight of Him, a new vision of the spiritual rather than worldly character of the Messiah. They traced their joy back to His talk and the scriptures.

2. MESSAGE.—It was the normal Christian impulse to go right to the others with the news they had in order to relieve them as well as relieve their own pent-up feelings. Others had seen Him by this time and all were telling what they knew and were anxious to know more. There was a distinct need for what these two could tell and the telling of it kept them from ever relapsing into doubt.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

Christ's risen body was a spiritual body; and yet it was endowed with immanent physical potentialities, being capable of investing itself with physical aspects and qualities. And this is just one of the differences between what St. Paul, in his great argument for the resurrection, calls the natural body and the spiritual body. If the risen Lord ate, it was not because He yielded to a physiological necessity; it was because, as in the case of the three angelic visitors to Abraham by the oaks of Mamre, He chose to exercise an imminent potentiality.—Boardman.

The Master, in whom these two disciples had trusted for Israel's redemption, had made provision for that redemption by His death and resurrection, and even then was alive and walking by their side. Thus often in our experience when we have been most down-hearted we have afterward found that the Lord was preparing to spring upon us some sweet surprise.—Henson.

Shredded Wheat

It is the real "staff of life," being made from the whole wheat grain, steam-cooked, shredded and baked under conditions that insure its absolute purity and cleanliness. More nourishing than meat or eggs, costs less and is much more easily digested. Supplies the warmth and strength that are needed for chilly days.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas or canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalade.

TO EDUCATE CRIPPLED CHILD

State Public School Is Expected to Accept Fern Dudley, Aged 10, Despite Her Deformity.

Although 10-year-old Fern Dudley will hobble through life as a cripple, she will not be denied the advantages of an education.

Fern is the oldest of a family of five children who were turned over to the poor commission last January by a mother, who declared that poverty had forced her to give them up.

On Jan. 8, Mary Dudley, aged 30, mother of five, walked into the office of Clerk Charles Shogran of the poor commission and announced that she had four children to give away.

Mrs. Dudley carried one of the candidates for adoption in her arms. The other three trudged along. Fern, a little crippled girl, with whom the mother did not wish to part, hobbled in with the rest.

Deported From Canada.

The entire family had been deported from Canada and were stranded in Duluth without either money or friends. They had been sent out of Canada because they were likely to become public charges there. John Dudley, father of the children, had deserted them while they were living at Maple Creek, Sask.

The clerk of the poor commission had the children cared for temporarily at the county home for dependent children conducted by Mrs. Margaret Finkle at 16 West Fifth street. In juvenile court soon afterwards they were made wards of the state.

Myrtle, aged 5, and Willard, 3, who were made wards of the state, were placed in Duluth homes and the other two, John, a bright-eyed lad of 10, whose only weakness is that he is terribly addicted to stuttering, and Richard, aged 1, were taken to the state public school at Owatonna during the latter part of January.

The mother and the oldest daughter, Fern, shortly afterward went to the range, where Mrs. Dudley sought work to support herself and child. A charitably inclined family took in the little cripple for a time.

Ward of State.

Fern, however, wants to go to school and the mother has consented that her eldest child also shall be made a ward of the state and committed to Owatonna, where she will be given the advantages of a schooling. Humane Agent R. D. McKercher left last evening for Virginia to bring the child to Duluth.

Fern's case will be taken up Saturday in juvenile court. It is expected that she will be committed to the state public school at that time. It is a rather unusual thing for the state public school to accept a crippled child, but it is understood that the school authorities have agreed to accept the ward in this case.

MAY SELL PROPERTY.

T. Gordon May Act Without Consent of Insane Wife.

Because his wife is incurably insane, Thomas Gordon has been given the right in district court to sell and dispose of his real estate without her signature to the deeds conveying the property, as if he were unmarried. Gordon's right's in this particular were established in a decision handed down by Judge Bert Fesler yesterday.

Josephine Price Gordon, to whom he was married at Madisonville, Ohio, June 10, 1867, has been an inmate of Longview hospital for the insane at Carthage, Ohio, since Sept. 7, 1874, and depositions from her attendants state that she is incurably insane.

Gordon applied to the court for permission to sell certain real estate independently of Mrs. Gordon's statutory interest.

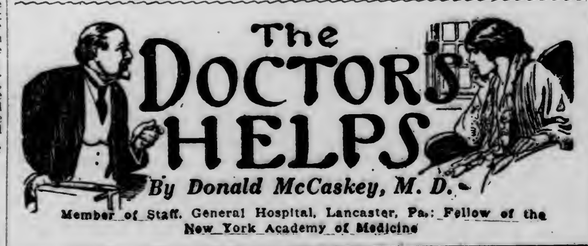
MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN



How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."—Mrs. James A. Beidel, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

FRESHLY BAKED BREAD SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO COOL BEFORE EATEN.

An inquirer asks: "Is it best to let fresh bread get cold before we eat it, or is it just as healthy to eat it warm?"

By all means permit your freshly baked bread to get cold. This gives the action of the yeast cells the best chance to divide the tiny particles of flour, rendering them more easy to digest. If you eat the freshly baked bread when it is still warm, you are eating to a certain extent the raw dough. This is not healthy. The bread should be permitted to stand until cold.

THIS CHILD HAS WORMS.

A mother asks me about her boy, aged 3 years, who has been troubled with worms. "We have tried," she says, "Jayne's Vermifuge and several other prescriptions from a local physician, but these give only temporary relief. Will you kindly suggest a medicine or treatment which will have a permanent cure for my boy? He is otherwise in perfect condition, fleshy and healthy, but we cannot get him to take castor oil. At times he has spells, whereby he is all but in a stupor, and we bathe and hold him for hours. We give him hot water injections with soap, and he cries and complains of his back aching whenever we resort to this method of hurried relief. Glycerine suppositories give some help, but we find we are almost getting him where we have to resort to some method to get a freely bowel movement, and we consider it unwise. The Doctor's Helps Department in this paper has been a great source of useful information to us along the general lines of health, and my husband and I wish to thank you."

The treatment of worms in children has been described in a previous Doctor's Helps article. Your letter does not say what particular type of worms your boy is suffering from, yet I presume that you mean the ROUND WORM. If this is the case, no treatment will avail, unless the eggs are killed. Briefly, your boy should get a one-tenth grain dose of calomel, until two grains have been taken, and this should be followed in two hours by two tablespoonfuls of a saturated solution of epsom salts. This will sweep out the entire bowel, both of worms, of food and of mucous. Nothing should be eaten by the child once you start this treatment. As soon as the bowels begin to move the boy should be given, on the back of his tongue, a one-grain dose of powdered Santonin. This should be washed down with a glass of hot water, and this dose should be repeated in one-half an hour, washed down with another glass of hot water. The Santonin acts as a poison to the eggs of the round worm, and four to six hours after the last dose of Santonin has been given the entire bowel should be again swept out with a two-tablespoonful dose of castor oil. This treatment may be a little severe. It will usually, however, bring the result. By all means let me urge the necessity of having your child placed under medical observation. It will be necessary to starve the child and likewise give the latter several rectal injections after the Santonin has begun to take effect, otherwise many of the eggs will remain lodged within the lower bowel.

TROUBLED WITH HER NAILS.

A New York state lady writes:

"The nails of my fingers and toes are like tissue paper, and for the last few years, when I am in the bathtub, they deliberately fall off, and I do not know when they are gone until afterward. Can you give me any advice on this matter?"

There is some very radical disorder with your nutrition. Have your urine, blood and your bowel movement carefully analyzed and studied. It may be that your diet needs to be radically changed, particularly with regard to fruity acids and cereal grains, such as malt, barley, corn, wheat, etc. All the local applications in the world applied to your finger and toe nails will not restore them to normal until your blood is brought to its proper state of nourishing power.

ENGRAVERS SUE FOR BOYCOTT.

New York, April 9.—Action for a permanent injunction for the alleged blacklisting and damage to the amount of $50,000, has been brought in the United States district court under the anti-trust law of the state of New York by the American Anti-Boycott association against the New York Engravers' Union No. 2. The order was made returnable April 17. The suit was brought in favor of the Gill Engraving company of this city, conducting what is known as an "open shop" plant.

It is alleged in the complaint that the union had forbidden its members to do work for any firm having part of its engraving done by the Gill company.

Good News for Eczema Sufferers

(From the Eastern Drug Reporter.)

"Retail druggists everywhere report continued and growing demand for quintone, the new home treatment for eczema, salt rheum, tetter, ringworm and other itching eruptions of the skin or scalp.

"The new drug quintone is different from other eczema cures, and purchasers report that 'they can feel it heal.'

"The treatment is simple and inexpensive. The first application, it is said, will instantly stop the most annoying and intense itching.

"To prepare, get two ounces of quintone and dissolve in a half pint of hot water. Apply this solution to irritated surface twice a day."—Advertisement.

CUSTOMS REVENUE MAY NOT SHRINK, AS WAS PREDICTED

Treasury Department Issues Statement on Tariff Operation.

Indications Are That Over $270,000,000 Will Be Received.

Washington, April 9.—Figures have been made public in a treasury department statement showing that the revenues from the customs during the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1914, almost certainly will meet and probably will exceed the estimates made when congress passed the new tariff law.

The statement prepared by Assistant Secretary Malburn, in charge of customs, said:

"It was estimated that the receipts from customs for the fiscal year 1914, which included three months under the tariff act of 1909 and nine months under the present tariff act, approved Oct. 3, 1913, would amount to $270,000,000, resulting in a loss of $49,000,000 from the customs receipts of the previous years.

Likely to Exceed Estimate.

"The total customs collections for the nine months just ended amounted to $225,500,000, showing a loss for the nine months previous of $24,750,000 as compared with the collections for the same period during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1913. As this loss is only one-half of the estimated loss for the whole year, it is probable that the receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, will exceed the estimate.

"It is to be noted that the loss in revenue during the months of January and February, 1914, amounted in round numbers to $6,000,000 and $10,000,000 respectively. This was caused by the falling off of the duties paid on sugar, as that commodity was retained in bonded warehouses pending the reduction of sugar duties on March 1, 1914. The customs receipts for these two months amounted to $23,500,000 and $17,500,000, respectively.

"The customs receipts for the month of March just closed were nearly $26,000,000 as against $27,500,000 for the corresponding month of 1913, showing a loss of but $1,500,000 and a recovery of receipts compared with February of this year of over $8,000,000.

Good Margin of Safety.

"In view of the above figures, it now appears that a monthly average of less than $15,000,000 for April, May and June, the remaining three months of the present fiscal year, would bring the total of customs receipts up to $270,000,000, the original estimate for this fiscal year. It is probable that receipts for the three remaining months will exceed this average of $15,000,000, and that the total receipts for the fiscal year will run over the estimate of $270,000,000."

$750,000 PROMISED TO WELLESLEY.

Wellesley, Mass., April 9.—Wellesley college has received a gift of $750,000 from the Rockefeller foundation toward restoration of facilities lost in the recent destruction of College hall by fire.

In announcing the gift, the board of trustees said it was conditional upon the raising of $2,000,000 before the first of next January. The plan of the trustees is to spend $1,500,000 for new buildings and $250,000 for endowment. Seven new buildings will be required to do the work formerly done by the single great building burned.

The trustees explained that the raising of $1,000,000 endowment fund, which was well under way, and almost half of which had been pledged before College hall burned, is now merged in the large plan.

COURT NOT SATISFIED

Finds Accounts of Estate Administrator Not According to Law.

History of Poupore Estate Not Closed—Appeal to Be Taken.

Another chapter in the interesting story which centers around the double life history of Antoine Poupore, a well-known character about Cloquet for many years, who died in September, 1909, may be written before the affairs of his estate are brought to a close.

The estate has been involved in litigation of one kind or another since the death of Poupore and from present indications the end is not yet. Judge S. W. Gilpin of the probate court is not satisfied with the final accounting of the funds of the estate, which has been submitted by J. H. Whitley, attorney for O. E. Knisley, administrator, and has refused to allow it.

Yesterday Judge Gilpin made an order directing Knisley to turn over $213 to creditors of the estate in payment of claims which have been allowed by the court and distribute the residue of the estate, amounting to $47.55 among the heirs, according to law. This order was made after the court had adjusted the account submitted by Attorney Whitley and had found that the administrator had failed to account for all of the assets of the estate.

The Final Account.

In the final account filed by Attorney Whitely, the total receipts of the estate were given as $1,334.05 all of which it was claimed had been expended except the sum of $220.29 which was claimed to be exempt under the rights of his widow. The court, after adjusting the account, charged the administrator with receipts amounting to $1,997.09 and with expenditures amounting to $1,036, leaving a balance of $960.55. The court holds that the claims amounting to $913 against the estate should be paid before a deduction of the $500 exemption allowed by law to the widow was made, on the grounds that the law provides that the widow shall make her selection of exempted property before the estate is administered and not after the final account has been filed.

Objection to the allowance of the final account as submitted by the administrator, through his attorney, J. H. Whitely, was made by Courtney & Courtney, attorneys for the Stone-Ordean-Wells company and other creditors of the estate whose claims have not yet been paid, although they have been allowed by the court. In the court's readjustment of the account the administrator is charged with certain property which his attorney, Mr. Whitely, claimed had been stolen from the estate after Knisely had been appointed administrator but before he took active charge.

It is understood that Attorney Whitely, on behalf of the administrator, will appeal the case to the district court. It is also understood that Courtney & Courtney, attorneys for the creditors, will urge further objections to the account as it now stands, claiming that attorney's expenses in connection with litigation with which the estate has been involved have been improperly charged to the estate, the claim being made they should have been borne by the widow for whose benefit action was brought.

Knisely is a Minneapolis newspaper man who was formerly connected with the Duluth Daily Star during the existence of that publication in this city. At a recent hearing on the allowance of the final account before Judge Gilpin, he testified that he had been acting as administrator only in name and that he had left the entire estate in the hands of his attorney, Mr. Whitely.

The Poupore double-existence story is recalled in connection with the matter. Antoine Poupore, for several years prior to his death, was a resident of Poupore's Siding, this county, where he conducted a small store and a lumber business. After his death in 1909 it developed that he had been leading a double life and that he had a wife and a family living in New York state, whom he had deserted years ago, and another wife and family in this county.

After Poupore's death, both widows and families claimed the estate. The court decided in favor of the New York family.

To Cure Corns, Callouses, Bunions and Aching Feet

The following is absolutely the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments: "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for fully fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts. The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goes instantly and the feet feel delightful. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Any druggist has Calocide compound in stock or he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale house. Prepared only by Medical Formula Co., Chicago, Ill., and Dayton, Ohio.

SAYS SOME ADS ARE NOT MARKED AS SUCH

Washington, April 9.—Representative Barnhart, Democrat, of Indiana, author of the newspaper publicity section of the postoffice law, told Postmaster General Burleson today that he believed certain newspapers were violating its provisions by not marking as advertising certain matter attacking the repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption, which, Mr. Barnhart alleges, he has reason to believe is being furnished by a shipping trust. Mr. Burleson told Mr. Barnhart he was ready to receive any evidence of violation of the law.

"The postmaster general has information that certain newspapers, some of them the largest and most influential in various cities from coast to coast, are printing articles for the shipping trust in the agitation against the tolls repeal bill," said Barnhart today.

"These articles according to information before the department, are printed as bona fide news articles, without the slightest indication that they are advertisements. Newspapers and their editors and owners, if investigation discloses that they are accepting pay for the so-called news articles, may be fined by the courts and their newspapers barred from the second-class privilege."

HUNDREDS KILLED BY CHINESE BRIGANDS

Pekin, April 9.—Brigands under the notorious "White Wolf" today killed hundreds of inhabitants of the towns of Ituhsien, Chowchih and Meihsien, the vicinity of Sian Fu, capital of Shensi province. They looted the three towns and are sweeping the entire country.

All foreigners residing at out-stations have been ordered to Sian Fu, where a column of 1,500 regular troops has arrived. Further reinforcements have been sent.

COAL OPERATORS TO PLAN ACTION.

Columbus, Ohio, April 9.—Coal operators will meet here tomorrow afternoon to discuss terms they will offer to the miners at a joint conference to be held probably Friday or Saturday, April 17 or 18, according to announcement made here today by operators.

Hiring and Firing.

LIGHT TRADING IN COPPER ISSUES

Market Declines on Small Buying By Investors in All Quarters.

While there was no special break in any issue, the market in mining stocks was weak at Boston today and declines were general through the list. The volume of business put through was small with absence of buying power in any quarter.

Butte & Superior closed 25c off at $34.50; Calumet & Arizona 50c off at $68; North Butte 25c off at $27.25; Granby 50c off at $88; Franklin unchanged at $6.12; and Amalgamated Copper 50c off at $75.87.

In the Duluth curb list, Calumet & Corbin sold at 29@30c, closing at the former figure bid. Keating was in demand at $1.50, but no stock was offered on that basis.

Directors of the Wolverine Mining company, according to information received by Gay & Sturgis, have decided to omit the dividend usually paid in April. The October dividend also was not paid, for the same reason that the dividend now due is omitted—practical cessation of operations because of the strike in the Lake Superior mining district.

A wire received by Gay & Sturgis from Boston today reported that the board of directors of Inspiration Consolidated Copper company have authorized an issue of $4,500,000 five-year 6 per cent debenture bonds. The entire issue of bonds has been underwritten by a syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan & Co.

These bonds are issued to provide additional funds necessary on account of enlargement of the company's plant to 10,000 tons per day to pay for additional development and for purchases.

The company's annual report will show a total developed ore area of 89,643,000 tons, of which 73,320,000 tons is sulphide ore averaging 1.71 per cent copper.

NO CHANGE IN SITUATION

Master Painters Hold a Meeting But No Action Is Taken.

Building Owners and Managers Declare for Open Shop.

No new developments were reported today in the painters, decorators and paperhangers' strike. The master painters held a meeting at the St. Louis hotel at noon but no definite action had been taken when The Herald went to press.

The Herald was informed yesterday by the strikers that six of the master painters had agreed to their terms, but this was denied today by several of the master painters. The men refused to give out the names of those who, it was claimed, had agreed to the strikers' terms.

The Duluth building owners and managers have gone on record as "unalterably opposed to a closed shop in this city." Their views were set forth in the following resolutions:

"Resolved that the Building Owners and Managers Association of Duluth, representing about 40 per cent of the improved property in the city, is unalterably opposed to any movement looking toward the closed shop in Duluth.

"Resolved further that the association believes at this time all owners and citizens desiring the best welfare of the city, should assist at this time in every way possible, these controllers and firms who steadfastly maintain the open shop principles and treat fairly both union and non-union men, willing to work side by side.

"Resolved further, a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Duluth Commercial club and the Duluth Builders' exchange.

"Passed unanimously at the April meeting.

"STEWART G. COLLINS, Secretary."

Easter Monday Ball.

Duluth Aerie No. 79, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will usher in the dancing season in Duluth with a grand Easter ball to be given at the Auditorium Monday evening. The music will be furnished by thirty pieces of the Third Regiment band.

The committee in charge has planned a number of interesting features for the gusts and the members expect a large crowd of Duluth as well as out-of-town people at the affair. The dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Though Uncle Sam has been giving away land ever since the passage of the original homestead act, just half a century ago, he still has about seven hundred million acres left.

BURGLAR WILL BE SENTENCED

Fred Jackson, 30, who is reported by the police to have confessed to eleven burglaries which have taken place in this city since Dec. 18, 1812, will be arraigned for sentence at 5 o'clock this afternoon before District Judge Dancer.

The prisoner is expected to plead guilty to the one specific charge of having on March 10 last burglarized the hardware store of A. C. Geise, 103 West First street, and stolen $25 in cash, a revolver, several razors and watches and other valuables. At the time of his arrest Jackson was living at 224 East First street.

ON THE IRON RANGES

STATE APPEAL BOARD IS URGED BY PREUS

State Insurance Commissioner Outlines Need for Legislation.

Hibbing, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Strongly recommending legislation that would provide for a state board of appeals to which complaints regarding fire insurance rates could be made, J. A. O. Preus, state fire insurance commissioner, reviewed the situation in the country at large and in Minnesota in particular in an interesting address before the Commercial club last evening.

That the present system failed to provide a proper incentive for individual work in the reduction of the fire hazards and that the overhead expense of doing business was entirely too large were the two main reasons given for the general dissatisfaction that existed. Numerous amendments to the workmen's compensation act, which Mr. Preus predicted had come to stay, were also forecasted.

Causes of Big Losses.

Carelessness, over insurance and arson were the three great causes of the high losses, according to Mr. Preus, and of these the heaviest was carelessness. The various methods that could be employed by municipalities to reduce this hazard were carefully explained in an interesting manner.

Practically all of the business that would properly have come before the club last evening was postponed until next Wednesday evening, when a special meeting will be held. The annexation of an adjoining town so that the Sturgeon lake road might be properly improved and the construction of a potato warehouse are among the more important subjects.

VIRGINIA BOOKS QUITE POPULAR

Nearly 5,000 People Patronized Public Library Last Year.

Virginia, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the local public library is a very popular institution is evidenced by the annual report of Miss Mabel Newhard, the librarian, there being 1,203 new borrowers registered during the twelve months. There are 4,744 borrowers, of whom thirty live in the country.

During the last year 60,872 books were loaned for home use. Fiction leads in popularity among the patrons of the library, 34,824 books of fiction being loaned. Fiction appealed to children as well as adults, 15,892 youngsters taking books of fiction, while the older readers read 18,932 books of fiction.

Non-Fiction Books Popular.

That there are many students in the city is demonstrated by the fact that 26,048 books of reference were issued, children taking 16,656 books, while adults borrowed 9,392 books.

The average daily attendance in the reference and reading room is 300. One hundred periodicals are on file, while thirty-two newspapers are received daily and weekly. The average number of Sunday readers is 300.

Miss Newhard's assistants are Miss Stella M. Stebbins, first assistant librarian, and Misses Ethel C. Wright, Ina Mattson, Ruth McNickle and Wheelock Sherwood, page.

Balance on Hand.

The total receipts for the past year amounted to $11,600.25, $7,800.80 being received from the city. The unexpended balance is $3,508.90. Membership fees, fines, lost and damaged books amounted to $283.04. Power, light and water, books, services and other expenditures totaled $10,015.49, leaving the present balance at $1,581.75.

At present there are 10,860 books on hand. During the year 599 books were added by a gift. By purchase and otherwise the volumes were increased by 3,207 books.

CLOQUET MAN IS GIVEN CONTRACT

Will Build Twenty Miles of Duluth-St. Vincent Road.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Itasca county's big 1914 campaign of road building is advancing rapidly. The county board has just authorized the expenditure of approximately $125,000 for roads.

Louis Leimer of Cloquet was given the contract for building twenty miles of the Duluth- St. Vincent highway, from this village to one mile west of Swan River station for $32,019.

Duisithian Given Job.

James Dowling of Duluth will be paid $23,940 for building seventeen miles between Bigfork and Alvwood.

The Taconite-Relief road contract calling for twenty-eight miles of construction was let to Arthur Mitchell of Bovey for $29,430.

Three miles of road construction on the west end of the Marcel-Third river road which connects with the Blackduck road on the boundaries of Beltrami county was let to Johnson & Beardsley of Alvwood, for $2,947.37. This road will, when completed, give a fine highway from Grand Rapids to Bemidji.

Certain Bids Rejected.

The commissioners rejected all bids for the contemplated road between Deer River and Northome, a distance of about thirty miles, and the work will be readvertised. The bids submitted were all in the neighborhood of $50,000, and it is the opinion of the county engineer that the cost of construction should not exceed $32,000.

A large number of contracts for bridge work were also let today. Chief among these was a bridge across the Popple river in the northern part of the county, which is to be built by the county, at a cost of $2,121.21. J. L. Price & Son, at a cost of $2,121.21. Another important bit of work will be the construction of a bridge across the Swan river at Warba, let to the Iowa Bridge company of Des Moines, Iowa, for $3,874.41. The Hennepin Bridge company secured the contract for a bridge across the Big Fork river, in the town of Wirt, for $1,991.

The Duluth Corrugated Roofing company was given the contract for furnishing the county with 175 culverts, at a cost of $2630.58.

BRAZICH WITNESS TO BE PROSECUTED

Admits Swearing Falsely in Case of Convicted Nashwauk Man.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bozo Brazich, whose trial commenced Monday on the charge of murdering Policeman Kokko at Nashwauk on Feb. 10 last, was found guilty of murder in the first degree yesterday afternoon.

The jury went out about 11:30 a. m., and returned a verdict about 2:30 in the afternoon. Sentence was imposed by Judge Wright, giving the convicted man the sentence provided by law of imprisonment for life.

Eli Karakus, the witness whose testimony was mostly responsible for the conviction of Brazich, will probably have more regard for the truth while under oath if the plans of County Attorney McOuat, regarding his case are carried out. Karakus is one of the men indicted with Brazich and four others charged with the murder of Policeman Kokko. At the preliminary hearing Karakus testified that he had not seen any one with a gun, and that particularly he had not seen Brazich with a gun.

Admits Perjuring Self.

In the trial here he testified that he had not only seen Brazich with a gun, but that he had seen him shooting at the policeman, and admitted that he had testified falsely at the coroner's inquest. Now the state proposes to prosecute him for perjury and teach him and his kind it does not pay to commit perjury, a practice which has been all too common in this country in the past.

SCARLET FEVER'S SECOND VICTIM

Two Harbors Girl of 12 Succumbs to Dread Disease.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sigma Falk, the 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. John Falk, died this morning at her home, 826 Ninth avenue. She had scarlet fever in one of its worse forms. The first symptoms of the disease appeared on April 2 and the doctor was summoned on April 3. On account of the seriousness of the case a nurse was immediately called in. The condition of the girl rapidly changed from bad to worse, until her death this morning. Mrs. John Falk, mother of the deceased, is a widow and has lived in this city for a number of years. There is also another case of scarlet fever in the same family.

Second Fever Death.

This is the second death from scarlet fever since the epidemic started about three weeks ago, Roy Bjurman dying on March 19. The number of cases in the city seems to be gradually increasing, although everything is being done by the authorities to remedy conditions. Several new cases have been reported in the last twenty-four hours. The nurse employed by the city and school board has thirty suspects all of whom have certain symptoms of the disease. Among new cases reported are Ralph and Helen Dwan, children of City Attorney John Dwan and Virginia Hayes, daughter of D. J. Hayes.

After Expectorators.

Hibbing, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—"A bas spitting on sidewalks" will be the slogan here if the village adopts the recommendation of the board of health and arrest those who persist in making sidewalks spitoons. The council has the matter under advisement.

TWO HARBORS CITY QUINT CLAIMS TO BE CHAMPION

Two Harbors, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Two Harbors city basket ball team has just completed a very successful year under the able management of Archie Grant. The team has won eight games and lost three games. Two of the defeats were suffered at the hands of the Bemidji team at Bemidji. The fast Y. M. E. A. team of Superior was the only team to defeat Two Harbors on their floor this year. The team has scored 378 points to their opponents 257. This was an average of 25 for Two Harbors per game and 23 for their opponents. The games played for the year and scores were as follows:

Jan. 2.—High School alumni, 16; Two Harbors, 38.

Jan. 10.—High School, 14; Two Harbors, 35.

Jan. 17.—Biwabik, 22; Two Harbors, 57.

Jan. 24.—Aurora, 15; Two Harbors, 55.

Jan. 31.—Y. M. E. A. (won by Superior), .

Feb. 14.—Kelly Hardware, 16; Two Harbors, 34.

Feb 27.—Bemidji, 27; Two Harbors, 18.

Feb. 28.—Bemidji, 29; Two Harbors, 21.

March 14.—C. A. C. of Duluth, 23; Two Harbors, 27.

March 21.—Duluth Universals, 16; Two Harbors, 34.

March 26.—Badgers, 19; Two Harbors, 42.

The local team claims the championship of Northern Minnesota.

EVELETH WILL TRY TO COLLECT

Going After Restitution of Money Alleged Due the City.

Eveleth, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—In speaking of the errors and discrepancies shown in the auditors' report made at the last meeting of the council, Mayor J. J. Gleason states that the council will ask for restitution in some instances.

The report showed that contractors had paid nothing for water used on city jobs. This item amounts to at least $150 for the two years which the investigation covers. The largest item is water abatements amounting to over $900. The report states that the city books do not show that authority was ever given to make the abatements. Errors, minor discrepancies and overcharges bring the total loss to the city close to $2,000 exclusive of fees which the auditors claim were not accounted for.

The council is holding an adjourned meeting this afternoon to consider bids received for several city contracts.

NOT REVENUE MEASURE.

Preus Discusses Charges About Non-Collection of Claims.

Hibbing, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the law referred to has never been considered a revenue measure by him or his predecessors and that the claims referred to can only be collected by civil action started by the attorney general, was the statement made by J. O. A. Preus, state insurance commissioner when informed that B. F. Ward, an insurance expert of Minneapolis had filed charges that Preus had permitted $40,000 worth of claims to become outlawed and had failed to press demands for $131,500 more. Ward further said that Preus had never required the annual report of these companies and had failed to exact the penalties for the failure.

Mr. Preus when shown the dispatch, said: "The law referred to has never been considered a revenue measure but is a part of the statute merely for the purpose of enabling the insurance commissioner to compel companies derelict to file their annual statements. In fact the insurance commissioner is not empowered under the statute to collect these claims. On the contrary the law provides that they must be recovered in civil suits started by the attorney general. When the attorney general has acted in regard to these claims it will be seen whether the policy of the insurance department has been justified."

SOCIAL CENTER POPULAR

Two Harbors Plan for Girls Over 16 Meeting With Success.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The social center for girls which was organized here on March 17 is meeting with success and the promoters are very much pleased with the interest and enthusiasm shown by the members. The total enrollment has been growing steadily and the number of girls actually present has reached the hundred mark.

The class is open to every girl in the city over 16 years of age who does not attend the public schools. The instruction is free to every member but each girl must bring her own material from which she may make whatever she chooses.

It is also the intention of the members to have several social parties after the lenten season as the real object of this social organization is to promote recreation and clean amusement among the young people of this city.

ELY MOTHERS' CLUB.

Organization Chooses Delegates to Women Meet at Cloquet.

Ely, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mothers club met yesterday afternoon at the Central school, and a program of music, readings and a folk dance was given, after which refreshments were served.

The club decided to send delegates to the Federation of Woman's club that meets next month at Cloquet and Mrs. H. E. White and Mrs. Peter Schaefer were chosen.

This will be the first time the local club has been represented at the convention.

The club will give a musical entertainment in the near future, and members are now trying to arrange for this event. The club will also give a lyceum course during the coming winter, instead of giving the home talent entertainment as has been their custom during the past two years.

FLUE PLUGGED UP.

Eveleth Family Has Close Call From Gas Asphyxiation.

Eveleth, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The family of Dominick Jerome had a narrow escape from asphyxiation when several bricks were dislodged at the top of the chimney, plugging the flue. Mr. Jerome was aroused by the falling brick and visited the rooms occupied by his wife and children and found them sleeping all right.

Feeling uneasy he made two other trips to their rooms and on the last visit found them nearly unconscious. They were taken into the open air and a physician summoned. If Mr. Jerome had not been awakened it is probable that there would have been a tragedy in the home.

HIBBING PARK BOARD'S PURCHASE.

Hibbing, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—One hundred and ninety nine light posts, built to hold but the single lamp, were purchased yesterday afternoon by the park board from Elmer P. Morris of New York, who was recently awarded the contract for the posts for the white way extension. The posts are to be used in Bennett park which is rapidly nearing completion.

AURORAITE BREAKS ARM WHILE DRILLING.

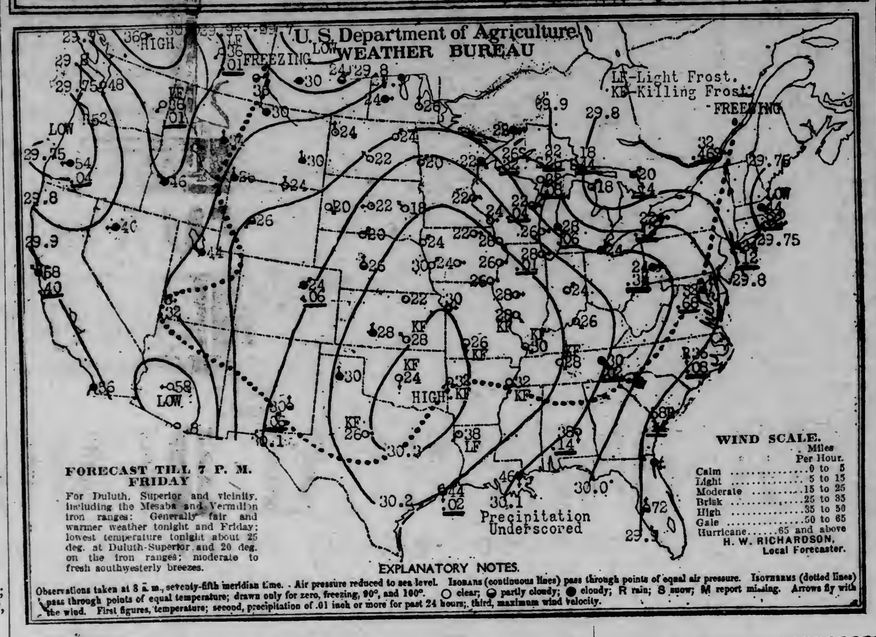
Aurora, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Victor Lina broke his arm here yesterday when he became caught in the rigging of a drill. He was taken to the Lenont hospital, where he was given medical treatment.

VIRGINIA ELK LIFE MEMBER.

Virginia, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local lodge of Elks installed new officers at the home last night Past Exalted Ruler E. F. Johnson conducting the exercises. Adolph Braa, a prominent member who worked hard to bring about the fine new temple was honored by being made a life member.

RANGE PRINTERS TO MEET AT VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The range printers and publishers will meet here April 20 to discuss range matters, printing matters. They will be entertained at dinner by local publishers. A member from the Ben Franklin club of Minneapolis will speak.



THROW AWAY YOUR EYEGLASSES!

A FREE PRESCRIPTION

You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days, everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona, fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one Optona tablet, and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you even a little take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 90°, and 100°. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

WARMER

Cheer up—cherries will soon be ripe! At least fair and warmer weather is promised for tonight and Friday. This will helps a good deal in view of the fact that the highest temperature recorded yesterday was the freezing point. Today isn't had at all, being fair with a nice tang in the air.

A year ago today was cold and dusty. The sun rose this morning at 5:31 and will set this evening at 6:48, giving thirteen hours and seventeen minutes of sunshine, four minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Freezing weather prevails southward to and including Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas and New Mexico. Killing frosts occurred last night in Tennessee, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Central and Northern Texas. During the last twenty-four hours rain or snow fell over Atlantic and Pacific states, the lake region, Colorado and New Mexico."

HIBBING GARDENERS WILL BE AIDED.

Hibbing, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rules and regulations for the care of the garden plots laid out in Bennett park, to be given to forty-four local people for cultivation during the coming summer, were adopted by the park board. It was decided that the plots would be allotted by lottery, each person applying being entitled to an equal chance as the names would be drawn from a hat and assignment made as the drawings took place.

The lots may be used to grow vegetables or any small fruit or flowers and the rules are strict in forbidding trespassing, the planting of trees and the growing of weeds.

HIBBING SOLDIERS WILL BE INSPECTED.

Hibbing, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local militia company will be inspected this evening by Maj. H. H. Nuenberg of the Third battalion and all expect to make an excellent showing. The men have been working for the Federal inspection which is to be held on April 15, so that the sudden notice of today's inspection did not catch them unawares.

Finn Bowlers Best.

Hibbing, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Finns took two out of three games from the All Nations in the new village bowling league after an interesting match. Booth rolled the high average with 187 and Joe Mares the high score with 215.

Heads Kitzville Board.

Hibbing, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The appointment of a village marshal was laid over at the first meeting of the new village council of Kitzville, when the board was organized. Robert Stratton was re-elected to the position of village attorney, and the bonds for the various officials of the village were properly fixed.

Eveleth Militia Inspected.

Eveleth, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Company F of the Third infantry, M. N. G., was inspected and put through the drills last night for Maj. Neuenberg. Federal inspection will take place April 17.

Eveleth Spinster Dies.

Eveleth, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Gusta Peteri, aged 65, died yesterday at the home of Peter Peterson from pneumonia. Miss Peteri had lived here for many years. An estate estimated at $8,000 was willed to a brother in Finland.

Parole Breaker Sentenced.

Virginia, Minn., April 9.—Theodore, son of Jacob Stubler, a former Virginia saloonkeeper, who broke his parole by becoming intoxicated and engaging in a fight in a local saloon, in district court yesterday was sentenced to serve four months at the county work farm.

He recently pleaded guilty to a charge of selling liquor to minors and was placed on parole by Judge Hughes.

Get Mountain Iron Jobs.

Mountain Iron, Minn., April 9.—The new village council has made the following appointments: Chief of police, J. S. Henderson; night patrolman, Charles Murphy; superintendent electric light and water plant, Charles Walker; street commissioner, Matt. Pecalin; health officer, Dr. Parsons; city engineer, Charles Doorway; justices of the peace, F. R. Stephan and C. Webb. Appointments were also made on the committees of health, finance, police, water and light, street and alleys, and the library board. George Elibertson was appointed clerk for the water and light department.

"Drys" to Continue Fight.

Ely, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although they lost the fight against the saloons in Tuesday's election the local "drys" will not desist and may organize a permanent body to continue the fight. It is claimed the vote of only seventy against no license showed a gain in sentiment.

Virginia Court Case

Virginia, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case of Wahlberg vs. Edwards is on trial in district court here in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $1,000 for the keep of defendant's wife, the plaintiff's daughter, and plaintiff's son. The grand jury is expected to report late this afternoon.

GERMS MADE HARMLESS

Rich red blood is the power that keeps the human body in order. Every day many germs of disease enter our bodies but they are made harmless and passed off if the fighting forces of the body are in good condition. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood, enable it to absorb more oxygen, the agent which burns up the body poisons. In this way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not only a tonic but a specific for the host of diseases that come as a result of thin blood and that can get a foot-hold only when the tone of the body is low.

TWO DEAD AND THIRTY INJURED AT TORONTO

Sixty-Foot Wall of Burned Building Falls on Men.

Toronto, Ont., April 9.—Two laborers were killed and thirty injured last night by a fall of a sixty-foot wall of a building previously destroyed by fire.

IS A BOWER OF LOVELINESS

J. J. Le Borious' Greenhouse Is Filled With Easter Flowers.

J. J. Le Borious' greenhouse at 921 East Third street, with its thousands and thousands of home-grown flowers and plants, is a veritable bower of loveliness at the present time. Flowers of all kinds are in bloom and visitors are surprised at the size of the greenhouse, and the extent of the stock.

Mr. Le Borious is especially featuring the Easter lily and hundreds of these beautiful flowers are growing in the greenhouse, under the care of nearly twenty men, who give their constant time and attention to the blooms.

Mr. Le Borious reported this morning that there is an exceptional sale of lilies this week, and he accounts for this record-breaking sale by the fact that the price of the Easter flower is within reach of all people and in comparison is lower than other flowers. They are selling at 25 cents a bloom and from 50 cents to $1.50 a pot, the price depending on the number of blooms to a pot.

Plants of many kinds, all grown at the local greenhouse, are blossoming and Duluthians are afforded the opportunity of purchasing home-grown flowers for Easter. Mr. Le Borious takes great pride in his greenhouse, and nothing apparently delights him more than to show a visitor through the long rows of flowers and plants.

Boy or Girl? Great Question!

This brings to many minds an old and tried family remedy—an external application known as "Mother's Friend." During the period of expectancy it is applied to the abdominal muscles and is designed to soothe the intricate network of nerves involved. In this manner it has such a splendid influence as to justify its use in all cases of coming mother-hood. It has been generally recommended for years and years and those who have used it speak in highest praise of the immense relief it affords. Particularly do these knowing mothers speak of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and freedom from those many other distresses usually looked forward to with such concern.

There is no question but what "Mother's Friend" has a marked tendency to relieve the mind and this of itself in addition to the physical relief has given it a very wide popularity among women.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. It has helped a host of mothers to a complete recovery.

It is prepared only by Bradfield Regulator Co., 301 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Avoid the many worthless substitutes.

By BRUCE

IMPRESARIO Mike Collins of the new Hudson Athletic club has been a visitor in our fair midst during the last two days. The impending business of bringing visitors to the Wolgast-Tillman setto was one of the matters discussed during the stay-over of Michael.

Down in the vicinity of the Twin Cities, if the sentiment wafted higher by Mons. Collins is correct, they believe that Wolgast is going to have a stiff argument in the person of John Tecumseh Tillman, with the Cadillac youth riding triumphantly in the ultimate role of conqueror.

Being the promoter of the coming contest, Mike Collins very wisely refrained from expressing an opinion as to the outcome of the bout.

Here is the idea, expressed in one of those nutshell surroundings:

Wolgast is fast, if not the finished boxer. He has two very excellent hands. He can flail away with that left with excellent effect, and if he succeeds in landing in the kitchen of the Tillman entry several seconds from positions outside the ropes are liable to be exhorting John Tecumseth to rise from a prostrate position.

Be that as it may, the coming tilt between the veteran of some of the most spectacular battles of this country and the embryo Tillman is very liable to break all of the attendance records under the Hedman law—outside of Milwaukee.

Wolgast is a card, one of the greatest in the pugilistic game, and Tillman being a Minneapolis boy, the interest in the bout was engendered some time before the signing of the articles.

The Ever Aftermath.

ALL things have an aftermath—even the faded romance of the maiden aunt. The scrap of Tuesday evening will therefore arise and stand attention.

For one we can understand how those who slipped the man in the box office some good money for a pasteboard should be peeved at the result. At the same time the most philosophical thing to do is to look squarely at the facts of the case.

Kelly was injured and the accident was unavoidable—especially from the standpoint of the promoters. Some people may hold accidents of like nature against the boxing game, but a little cool and sane reasoning should convince anyone of the utter lack of fairness in condemning any sort of sport because of accidents that occur now and then.

Kelly is a professional pugilist who earns his livelihood from the ring. It is rather absurd to believe that a tried veteran of his standing would quit unless he was too severely injured to continue. The crux of the whole matter is that an accident cut short the bout and gave it to Ferns, and while those present have the right to feel that through an accident they did not receive the worth of their money, it is hardly fair to condemn the fight game in general or the promoters of the affair in particular for something that was entirely unavoidable.

This Osman Chap.

ROWING gossip of Syracuse university gives lavish praise to the Duluthian, Art Osman. Arthur is at the present time stroking the freshman eight at the school Ten Eyck Pere presides over in the mere matter of rowing, and according to the reports that drift back home, the Duluth youngster is one of the finds of recent rowing years.

After looking Osman over in the junior eight boat of the Duluth Boat club, the elder Ten Eyck declared the boy was one of the most promising oarsmen that he had ever rested his well trained eyes upon.

Jess After the Big Ones.

YESTERDAY a letter from Oscar Thorson found its way thither. According to the message from distant Des Moines, Jess Westergaard, the gigantic Swede of the Iowa platte, is after the scalps of the best of the heavyweights and figures to wrestle for the world's heavyweight championship before the season has closed the curtains on the game of grapple.

Of the American wrestlers in the basking limelight of the national calcium, Westergaard stands forth among two or three as the logical contender for the title.

No wrestler has come to the front so fast as large and open faced Jess, and if the day comes that he will be listed in the tournament for the highest title of the world, for the throne that has been vacated by the permanent retirement of the great Gotch, this big and rangy Swede will have the following of a lot of the fans throughout the length and breadth of the country.

The Lavish Spender.

WHEN N. E. McBride of Chicago was in Colombo he had a long conversation with Sir Thomas Lipton. The tea man informed the visitor from the midst of Chi that he had expended something over $1,000,000 in the efforts to lift the cup. This would indicate that in prodigal methods at least the Sir Thomas man is one of the real sports of the world.

It might be interesting to some to learn that when a boy of 15 tender years Sir Thomas worked in a livery stable of New York. Let us hope he was kind to the horses.

Later the builder of disappointed yachts went to Omaha and in the packing town got the start that later enabled him to amass sufficient coin of the realm to furnish us with some of the very best international sport.

Just so long as Sir Thomas does not lift the cup, just so long will the people of the American refuse to be worried over the amount of money he has spent for yachts.

SNOW STORMS AND COLD PREVENT MANY GAMES

Chicago, April 9.—Snow storms throughout the Central West yesterday caused a score of exhibition games scheduled for American and National league teams to be called off. The following games were canceled:

Detroit Americans at Cincinnati, Chicago Nationals at Dayton, Ohio; Minneapolis American association team at St. Joseph, Mo.; Cleveland Americans at Indianapolis; Chicago Americans first team at Topeka, Kan.; St. Louis Americans and St. Louis Nationals at St. Louis.

Rain caused a postponement of the game scheduled between the New York Americans at Philadelphia and the Boston Nationals at Baltimore.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 9.—Two runs behind at the end of the seventh, the Brooklyn Nationals won in the last two innings against the Philadelphia Americans yesterday, scoring twice in the eighth and once in the ninth. The score was 3 to 2.

For five innings Bush held the locals to one scratch hit. Burning relieved him and was wild, passing three batters and hitting another, which, with a sacrifice fly, enabled Brooklyn to tie the score in the eighth. The winning run came with one out, Smith singling, stealing second, and coming home on Stengel's smash to center.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	000001100		2	3	0
Brooklyn	000000021		3	6

Batteries — Bush, Durning and Schang; Ragan, Allen, Pfeffer and Fischer.

Omaha, Neb., April 9.—Pitcher Stevenson of the Omaha Western league won the plaudits of 1,500 shivering fans yesterday when he struck out Honus Wagner, with a man on third base and two outs. Pittsburg won the game, 13 to 3. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	13	13	2
Omaha	3	10	7

Batteries—Mammaux, Duffy and Brenegan, Coleman; Stevenson, Closman, Ormsby and Shestak.

Mobile, Ala., April 9.—The New York Giants defeated the Mobile team, 3 to 0, yesterday. The game was called at the end of the seventh owing to the cold weather. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Mobile	0	6	1
New York	3	8	2

Batteries—Keeley, Cullom, Williams and Schmidt; Demaree and McLean.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 9.—Yesterday's game between the Minneapolis American association team and the St. Joe Western league club was called off on account of cold weather. The same teams play here today and tomorrow.

Lincoln, Neb., April 9.—Playing in a temperature not far above freezing, the Lincoln Western league team yesterday defeated the Chicago Americans No. 2 by a score of 3 to 2.

TO CONFLICT 275 TIMES

"Feds" Complete Season's Schedule After Much Difficulty.

Seventy Conflicting Games Will Occur in St. Louis This Year.

Chicago, April 9.—The Federal league will conflict with organized ball in 275 games this year, according to its schedule, which was announced here today by President Gilmore. The schedule was adopted practically as drawn up by Secretary Lloyd Rickard, who spent weeks trying to overcome the many difficulties that had to be surmounted before a chart acceptable to all the clubs was possible.

The impossibility of avoiding conflicts entirely was recognized at the start, but Rickard eliminated many of them that at first it seemed probable would have to stay in the schedule. The fact that Baltimore and Buffalo, for instance, are in one section in the Federal league and in different sections in the International made it impossible to arrange the chart so that both clubs would be away when their competitors were home. Similar conditions governed Kansas City and Indianapolis, and Brooklyn and Pittsburg.

Most Conflicts at St. Louis.

The greatest number of conflicts take place in St. Louis, where the Federal leaguers will compete with the American and National league teams in 70 games. Chicago is next with about 58 conflicts, Kansas City has 34, Indianapolis about 20, Pittsburg 27, Baltimore 20, Brooklyn 21, and Buffalo 20.

The objection to President Ward of the Brooklyn club to Sunday baseball resulted in the Brooklyn team being carded to play double-headers on five Saturdays which preceded the Sundays into which its series in Western towns would naturally run.

The opening of the season will spread over several days. Only one game will be played on April 13, when Buffalo opens the season at Baltimore. On April 14, Pittsburg starts the campaign at home with Brooklyn. On April 16, Indianapolis opens the season at St. Louis and Chicago at Kansas City. Home games in Chicago and Indianapolis will be played first by Kansas City and St. Louis April 23.

Month Away From Home.

Before they play at home, the Brooklyn and Buffalo teams will be on the road nearly a month. After the two opening series, they, as well as the Pittsburg and Baltimore teams, tour the four cities of the western section, and will not appear before the fans of their home towns until May 11.

Memorial day, double-headers will be played by Kansas City at St. Louis, Indianapolis at Chicago, Pittsburg at Baltimore and Brooklyn at Buffalo. On July 4 St. Louis plays two games at Kansas City, Chicago at Indianapolis, Buffalo at Brooklyn and Baltimore at Pittsburg. On Labor day, St. Louis is at Kansas City, Chicago at Indianapolis, Baltimore at Brooklyn, and Pittsburg at Buffalo. The season of 154 games for each club closes on Oct. 14.

Jumps to Federals.

DULUTH VISITOR TELLS OF TRIP AROUND WORLD

N. E. McBride Made Historic Tour With White Sox and Giants---Nearly Drowns in Pacific and Receives Blessing of Pope.

BY BRUCE.

"When we came within sight of Mount Sinai the sacred memory of the ten commandments came to our minds and sins and commissions smote us with battering force, for it seemed that we saw—at least some of us—those tablets emblazoned forth in fiery protest."

This is not the story of a crusade, dear readers, but rather of the trip around the world of the White Sox and Giants, and particularly of N. E. McBride, a business man who is very well acquainted with scores of Duluthians, who makes Duluth and clothes, both very frequently.

Mr. McBride is of Chicago. He was a baseball fan when Al Spalding was pitching that peculiar underhand delivery that was in vogue in the days of—let us see—oh, it was years ago. "Mac" was just a kid then; a wild-eyed kid, crazy about the game. But his fanhood started right there.

He is a personal friend of Fred Pfeffer, the wonderful second baseman of the old Chicago White Sox, and Williamson and Anson. He is also a staunch friend of Charles A. Comiskey and when the Noblest Roman of them all strolled into the McBride place of business one day last spring that was filled with the joy of the golden universe, and said: "Mac, I have framed a trip around the world with the baseball boys; will you go?" McBride's brother answered right off the reel: "He will."

When that memorable trip around the world was taken years ago, when Spalding and Tener and Anson and the other who's who in baseball girdled the globe, Mr. McBride wanted to go. He could not make the grade, but figuratively leaped at the opportunity of last November.

As most of you are aware, the Sox and Giants sailed from Victoria, B. C., on Nov. 19 last. On Nov. 29 the ship carrying the world tourists ran into one of the worst storms in the history of the usually pacific Pacific.

"The ship became unmanageable," said Mr. McBride yesterday. "The emergency crew was mustered. The lifeboats were made ready and we prepared to meet our doom. Booms were carried away and it looked like '30,' as you folks say.

"Some Storm."

"From the official log I learned that the engine traveled 269 knots in a certain number of hours and in reality the ship traveled 106 knots. This was caused, understand, by the fact that the screws were out of water a lot of the time. Some waves, my boy. At one time, I shall never quite forget it, the wind registered a velocity of ninety-nine miles per hour. This is official.

"We were 18¾ days in this storm. Imagine it! All of us fond of life, glowing optimists, most of us with families and a working interest in the dear old U. S. A. Imagine over 18 days when you said goodbye to friends at night with an especial fondness in your voice and a hard grip of the hand.

"Yokahama! My boy, what memories it brings back. What poet dealt with these fleeting memories? He was a regular big leaguer.

"It was in the morning. The sun was shining and the mist was just raising from the sea and land. The vivid foliage of the land of Nippon mingled with the golden sunlight and gave an exquisite coloring.

"Off in the distance loomed Fujigama, the sacred mountain of Japan, with its majestic peaks blending in the blue of the sky line. Let me tell you some of us will never forget the picture of Yokahama.

"Listen, the Japanese don't know anything about the fine points of the game of baseball. We beat Tokyo by the sweet and inspiring tune of 17 to 1. We would wait—I am an American, you know—till they pitched an easy one and then hit it over the fence. It was all very simple.

"The Japs are fast and agile, but compared to the baseball knowledge amassed down the lane of the years by the players of this country, they are mere tottering infants in the game."

Girdling the Globe.

From Japan the tourists sailed to Hongkong and from China set sail for Manila. From the possessions of the United States the trip was continued on to Australia, the never never land giving tourists one of the most delightful sojourns of the trip. From Australia the tourists continued on to Colombo, to Egypt, to Nice, to Paris and to London.

"More than 3,000 people met the ship at Sydney," said Mr. McBride. "We played at the cricket grounds at Sydney and a vast assemblage was on hand.

"Over there the cricket club has social features; club houses, cafes, and other things, most of them extremely delightful. The ladies were dined and after the game we were given a magnificent dinner at the hotel. Then we went to the theater and afterward the rude and brutal men attended a prize fight at Rush Cutters' bay.

"Hugh McIntosh took us to one of his theaters and gave a private performance and treated us in regal manner. We will always remember Hugh McIntosh.

"At Melbourne the lord mayor entertained us—and it was some entertainment. The Australians treated us in such a manner that the members of the party will never forget the stay there.

Met the Pope.

"We met the pope. Listen, when the party was ushered into the room where his holiness had consented to give us an audience it was a sight to make you think. Most of the men were in dress suits and most of the women in black. When the pope appeared most of those baseball players had relics of some sort that they wanted the pope to bless. His holiness made one grand sweep by blessing every member of the party and all their possessions.

"I met one of the cardinals and he asked me if I was not an umpire, owing to the fact that I am large and wear a grave expression.

"At Colombo Sir Thomas Lipton entertained the world tourists. His headquarters are at Colombo. He is a real gentleman and one of the finest sportsman of the world. As we went to our cabins that evening each man and woman found a five-pound package of the finest Lipton tea, with the compliments of Sir Thomas.

"We went through the Suez canal, through the Red sea and Indian ocean. We visited Cheops, you know he is a pyramid, one of the big league kind, 451 feet high, 755 feet on the longest side and occupies an area of 636,824 square feet. Some pyramid! We played two games in Egypt.

"Italy is a moss covered ruin, superstitious and credulous, with a shrine every few feet it seems.

"We visited Monte Carlo, one of the greatest business institutions of the world, by the way—never mind how much some of us lost—I said it was a wonderful business institution, did I not? We visited Paris and were dined and wined by some great man whose plate was solid gold and silver.

"We went on to London and I sat as near the king during that now historic game as I am to you right now. Excuse me, he looks as cold as a mackerel.

"You know someone told the king that baseball was the national game of the Americans and that he should not by any means miss the chance of paying the Americans a compliment by lending his presence to the game. So the king was there, with regal attendance, and whether the king understood the game or not, he saw with some 36,000 of his subjects one of the greatest games that it will ever be the lot of mortal man to see.

Wake the Britons Up.

"Right at the startoff some one hit a ball that looked good for all of the bases on that historic old football field. Steve Evans went back like a deer and then in sudden desperation leaped and came down with the ball. It was a marvellous catch. Just after that someone else hit one on the nose and old Sam Crawford made another wonderful catch.

"That sort of woke up even the plegmatic Britons and they followed the game with more than the ordinary interest. It so happened that we gave the English one of the greatest games of baseball that has ever been played.

"One Englishman sitting next to me wondered why nine men played against one. You see he figured the nine men in the field against the one man at bat. They couldn't get the idea of the coachers, calling them the 'barriers.'

"It was a grand trip, a wonderful trip. We saw the poverty of the old world in all its startling ugliness, and it is indeed impressive. It makes a man think to behold thousands of people who go to bed at night wondering where they are going to get anything to eat the next day. We beheld a civilization, centuries old, reeking with superstition, in some cases, and more cynical than the philosophy of our country. And that trip made every one of us think more of our own land. The inspiring sight of the old dame with the candle, who greets you as you land at New York, was a sight that made every man and woman in our party feel something tugging at the heart."

Mr. McBride added that every game played on that trip was for blood; that it was the American league against the National, and that the games were played as hard as if the two teams were engaged in a league race.

TOMMY GIBBONS TO MEET BROWN

St. Paul Middleweight Is Matched With the Chicago Greek.

Thomas Quincy Gibbons, sturdier of beam than Brother Michael Clancy Gibbons, and possessing in no small store some of the qualities pugilistic that have made the Peerless Mike the most famous welter and middleweight now before th fight public, is scheduled to exhibit his wares before the fans at the Head of the Lakes when he clashes at the Arena club with Greek Knockout Brown of Chicago.

This will be the first fight card offered by the new management of the Arena club and should prove a clever card.

Thomas is a comer, as was shown in his fight with William Tell Miske, and the Knockout Brown personage is one of the toughest among those sequestering in the middleweight ranks. Not possessing very much of the science stuff, and not the fastest person in all the wide dominion of the world, the Chicago Greek has fought most of the who's who in the 158-pound division and he has made them all go.

Following close in the footsteps of Brother Mike, the younger Gibbons has made considerable ring progress since his debut. Tommy is fast and has a corking left. In his boxing he uses some of the stuff that has made Mike famous, and there are some of the followers of the ring game who profess to believe that Tom is going to make a very strong bid for steller honors among the ranks of the middles.

WILL TRY THE JAVELIN THROW

New Feature for Field Sports at Pennsy April 25.

Philadelphia, April 9.—An added event to the program of relay races and field sports at the University of Pennsylvania on April 25 will be the javelin throw. Although candidates for the American Olympic teams have competed in the javelin throw in this country, it will be the first time that it will appear on a college sporting program as a purely intercollegiate contest. The idea of placing this event on the program is to give American athletes a chance to practice at javelin throwing and make them more able to compete with European javelin throwers in the Olympic games.

It was announced today that Dorizas, Pennsylvania's Greek athlete, who is a champion strong man, and the Intercollegiate champion heavyweight wrestler, will compete in the javelin discus and shot put events. He competed in javelin and discus events while a student at Roberts college in Constantinople. He is expected to show up well in the discus against Western athletes who are better performers in the event than Eastern collegians as the discus is regularly on the program of the Western intercollegiate games.

Word comes from Harvard that Jackson, one of the best hurdlers in the East, will be on the mark April 2 despite a recent slight operation. Others in this event include Kelly, the world's champion, from the University of Southern California.

AFTER SON'S LAURELS.

Louis Sockalexis, Sixty Years Old, Would Run Marathon.

Boston, Mass., April 9.—Louis Sockalexis of Old Town, Me., father of Andrew Sockalexis who finished second in the Boston Athletic association Marathon race last year, offered himself as an entrant for this year's race but his 60 years were held to be too many to allow him to compete with the youth of the country, and his entry was rejected.

Louis said he had trained faithfully all winter hoping to equal the performance of his son.

BOOKIES SENTENCED.

Appeals Taken in Virginia Race Track Sensation.

Norfolk, Va., April 9.—The thirteen men arrested in a spectacular raid at the Jamestown Jockey club race track charged with being bookmakers were sentenced to six months in jail and each was fined $100 by Magistrate J. Burnell Bragg after a trial lasting until late yesterday.

An appeal was noted in each case, and the accused were held in $1,500 bond for trial by a jury. The defense, through their counsel, contended that they had violated no laws.

Racing continued at the Jamestown track and it was announced that the meeting would continue until April 17, the closing date.

JINXED PLAYER MAY GO TO BOSTON REDS.

Detroit, Mich., April 9.—Del Gainer, one of the veterans of the Detroit Baseball club, may play first base for the Boston Americans this season.

Word to that effect was received here last night from Manager Jennings, who is with one of the Detroit squads at Cincinnati. Jennings said he received a cash offer from Manager Carrigan of Boston for Gainer's release, but intends to keep the tall Southerner at least until the season is under way.

Gainer has been one of the most unfortunate players in major league baseball. During the past three seasons, he seldom has played a dozen games without sustaining severe injury. His misfortunes started in 1910 when a ball pitched by Jack Coombs of Philadelphia broke his arm.

Jennings also sent word north that Dubuc would pitch the opening game against St. Louis here Tuesday.

DECIDING WHO WILL MEET CHAMPION GOULD.

New York, April 9.—By winning their respective matches yesterday in the semi-final round of the national amateur court tennis championship tournament at the Raequet and Tennis club, C. T. Russell of Boston and C. E. Sands of this city are the finalists who meet today in the match that will decide which shall play in the challenge match against Jay Gould, the title holder, next Saturday.

Both of yesterday's contests went through five sets, Sands defeating Pierre Lorillard, Jr., of Tuxedo and Russell outplaying W. H. T. Huhn of Philadelphia, who met the champion last year. Lorillard showed fine form in the first half of the earlier match, but weakened toward the finish, while Sands played his usual strong game all through, winning by 5-6, 6-0, 5-6, 6-2, 6-2.

The second match was a spirited contest, both Russell and Huhn playing right to the top of their game. In the final set the light in the court became very poor and this seemed to trouble the Boston man, who at one stage led by four games to one. The Philadelphian evened the score in the tenth game and it was set for vantage, Russell winning out cleverly. The score 6-3, 4-6, 6-5, 4-6, 7-5.

Americus Throws De Rouen.

Kansas City, Mo., April 9.—Gus Schoenlein (Americus) of Baltimore won from Raoul de Rouen, the French wrestler, here last night in straight falls. De Rouen used rough tactics in the first fall and Referee Porteous disqualified him after 21 minutes and 34 seconds of wrestling. Schoenlein took the second fall in 28 minutes with a half nelson and crotch hold.

The Season Is On.

The Masonics defeated the Y. M. H. A. team in the opening game of the season yesterday by the score of 23 to 14. The game was featured by the hitting of the victors. The battery for the Masonics was Walt Levenson and Tilman, while Bennett and Finklestein performed in the battery points for the losers.

Wins Foils Title.

Boston, Mass., April 9.—Robert Van Nardroff of Brooklyn, N. Y., a Harvard undergraduate, won the New England foils championship last night. He defeated C. D. McLaughlin of the Boston Athletic association, the former title holder. These two, together with V. H. Smith, a clubmate of McLaughlin, will represent New England in the national championships.

Will Stake His Title.

Chicago, April 9.—Bennie Allen, billiard champion of the world announces he will meet Roy Pratt of San Francisco May 27 and 29 in San Francisco in a contest for the title.

EIGHTY-NINE VOTES ARE TO BE CUT OFF

Plan to Lower Southern Representation in Republican Convention.

New York, April 9.—Charles D Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee, has made public the proposed plan to decrease the percentage of the Southern and territorial representation in the Republican national convention in 1916, and thereafter from approximately 35 per cent of the total voting strength to less than 16 per cent, as provided in resolutions adopted by the committee at its meeting last December.

The plan is addressed to the Republican conventions of the several states, which are asked to ratify the action of the national body before Jan. 1, 1915.

A special committee composed of Charles B. Warren of Michigan, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho and Governor Henry D. Hatfield of West Virginia, drafted the report of the action taken in December which embodies other resolutions adopted by the national committee. These guarantee:

Recognition, in the call to be issued for the next national convention, of the right of any state to provide for the election of delegates in direct primaries.

The right of any state to elect all delegates from the state at large, or part from the state at large and part from congressional districts.

These provisions were adopted with a view to eliminating contests before the national body such as in the past have produced discord and dissension.

The special committee says:

"The plan adopted and recommended for ratification provides that the Republican voters in each state shall hereafter be represented in a national convention of the party by four delegates-at-large; two delegates for each representative-at-large in congress; one delegate from each congressional district, and an additional delegate from each congressional district in which the vote of 1908 for any Republican elector or for the Republican nominee for congress in 1914 shall not have been less than 7,500.

"Alaska and the District of Columbia, under the plan presented, will each be entitled to two voting delegates, while Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands will each be entitled to two delegates without the right to vote."

The result of this change in the basis of representation, if ratified by the requisite number of state conventions, will be a decrease of 89 votes, as follows: Alabama will lose 8, Arkansas 3, Florida 4, Georgia 11, Louisiana 8, Mississippi 8, New York 2, North Carolina 3, South Carolina 7, Tennessee 3, Texas 16, Virginia 8, Hawaii 4, Porto Rico 2, and Philippine Islands 2.

Under the plan presented a congressional district not entitled to two delegates on the vote cast in the presidential election in 1908 will qualify for two if 7,500 or more votes are cast for the Republican nominee in the congressional election this fall.

Will Succeed Gen. Ewart.

London, April 9.—Lieut. Gen. Sir Henry Crichton Sclater was appointed adjutant general to succeed Gen. Sir John Ewart, who resigned with Field Marshal Sir John French because of the Ulster difficulties.

BURNING ITCHING SCALP DISEASE

Scratched Until Scalp Cut All Over. Could Not Sleep. Hair Came Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Fifteen Days.

Ardon, Iowa.—"My son had a scalp disease; he had a burning itching for fifteen or sixteen years. On account of the intense itching he would scratch his head until his scalp was cut all over. Several scabs had formed by scratching. He would wake up at night and scratch; sometimes he could not sleep with the itch and burning. There were pimples about as large as a pin-head all over his scalp, a red rash as red as blood. His hair came out gradually. It seemed as if the hair was dry, no life in it.

"He used ———, a wash of blue stone and toilet soap, still he never got any relief until he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. He would wash his head until it would be white with the lather from the Cuticura Soap, then he would wash his scalp clean with warm water, then rub the ointment all over his scalp. He was cured in fifteen days' time." (Signed) Mrs. Jane Edwards, Oct. 15, 1913.

In selecting a toilet soap why not procure one possessing delicate emollient properties sufficient to allay minor irritations, remove redness and roughness, prevent pore-clogging, soften and soothe sensitive conditions, and promote skin and scalp health generally? Such a soap combined with the purest of saponaceous ingredients and most fragrant and refreshing of flower odors, is Cuticura Soap. Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

ADDITION TO ELEVATOR

Consolidated Company Will Spend $400,000 on New Building.

The building of a 2,000,000-bushel addition to the Consolidated Elevator company's elevator "H," at an estimated outlay of $400,000, is proposed during the present season.

It was announced today by George Spencer, president of the company, that the plans for the addition had been prepared, and that later on, if there is reasonable assurance of a good wheat harvest in the Northwest, the contract for its construction would be let with a view to its being ready for handling grain next fall. This addition will bring the capacity of the Consolidated's elevator system up to 12,000,000 bushels. Its erection will come on top of a 900,000-bushel addition to elevator "D," completed early last winter, and is evidence of the fact that the readjustment of the grain rates has led to an increased routing of grain to the Head of the Lakes.

"Our 10,000,000-bushel elevator capacity is now nearly taken up, but we have sufficient space left to carry us through till the opening of navigation," said Mr. Spencer. "Had there been a heavy spring wheat crop in the Northwest last fall, we would have been swamped. That has led us to prepare to increase our storage capacity this year."

With the building of the new house the storage capacity of the elevator system on this side of the bay will have been brought up to 35,325,000 bushels.

SUMMER SCHOOL WILL OPEN JUNE 15

Aim Will Be to Make Rural Teachers More Efficient.

The summer school, which will be conducted for the rural teachers in the schools of St. Louis county, will open for a six weeks' session June 15, according to an announcement made yesterday afternoon by N. A. Young, county superintendent of schools.

The purpose of the summer school is to make the rural school teachers more proficient in their methods. The course is intended to instruct teachers how to instruct their pupils. It is expected that the enrollment will be about 120.

The teachers for the school and their subjects are: Superintendent M. A. Morse, Buhl, language and grammar; Superintendent J. E. Lunn, Biwabik, school management and geography; Miss Sarah Brammer, Gilbert, history; Miss Mary O'Connor, Gilbert, arithmetic; Miss Lillian Noonan, Buhl, penmanship; Mrs. M. B. Holmes, Duluth, primary reading.

PRESTONS STAYING AT LONDON HOTEL.

London, April 9.—Prof. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., and Mrs. Preston, formerly Mrs. Grover Cleveland, arrived in London and took up their quarters in a modest hotel at Bloomsbury so quietly that the Anglo-American colony was unaware of the presence here of the former mistress of the White House. The two were accompanied by Mrs. Preston's elder daughter and younger son. The other children are to join them on the continent when the schools close.

Prof. Preston, who is on leave from Princeton university, expects to spend a month in London working at the British and South Kensington museums and the national gallery, studying old manuscripts. He will then leave for the continent, where he expects to continue his work. In the meantime Mrs. Preston and the children will enjoy themselves sightseeing.

CHICAGO BOARD TO VOTE ON CORN GRADE.

Chicago, April 9.—Proposed changes in the rules of the Chicago board of trade with reference to the grading of corn will be voted on April 13. The changes place a premium on unmixed corn, and otherwise are necessary to conform to the United States government's new corn rules, which go into effect July 1, 1914.

After July 1 all contracts shall be for "contract" corn, according to the text of the new rules mailed to all board of trade members. Numbers 1 and 2 mixed corn shall be at contract prices. Nos. 1 and 2 white or 1 and 2 yellow unmixed, have a premium of ½c a bushel. No. 3 white and yellow unmixed are 2 cents under contract price. No. 3 mixed is 3c under contract price. No. 4 unmixed is 4½c under contract price and No. 4 mixed is 5c under contract price.

COURT SUSPENDS OMAHA CAR FARE LAW.

Omaha, Neb., April 9.—Judge Sears, in the district court, has issued a temporary restraining order to prevent the city of Omaha from enforcing the ordinance adopted by the voters of the city, through the initiative and referendum, compelling the street railway company to sell seven tickets for 25 cents. The order is returnable Wednesday, April 15.

The company's attorneys claim the state railway commission alone has authority to regulate street car fares, and that the proposed rate would be confiscatory.

CLOSES LAKE RATE TALKS

Julius Barnes Is Last Witness for Shipping Interests.

He Shows Where Economies Could Be Effected By Carriers.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 9.—Taking of testimony by the interstate commerce commission on the application of Eastern railroads for a 5 per cent increase in freight rates has concluded so far as the present phase of the proceeding is concerned. Protestants against any increase in the lake-and-rail rates closed their case with the testimony of Julius H. Barnes of Duluth, who urged that the lake-and-rail carriers were not entitled to an advance in rates because their service was antiquated and unnecessarily expensive to shippers.

In rebuttal of this testimony E. T. Douglas, general manager of the Mutual Transit company, operating steamers on the Great Lakes, testified that the carriers had exhausted every effort to improve their methods of handling freight, particularly package freight, and had been convinced that existing methods were the best available.

Arguments on April 27.

Arguments upon the question as to the need of the carriers for more income have been set for April 27, and the commission expects briefs to be in hand by that time. It is probable no further proceedings will be held until the commission shall have announced a decision on that question. If the commission should hold that the added income is not needed, the case will terminate automatically.

Opposing the application of the lake-and-rail lines for permission to advance lake-and-rail rates 5 per cent, Mr. Barnes declared there is no relation between rail and water rates.

"The water rates," said Mr. Barnes, "should be based on the value of the service performed, plus a fair return on the investment. This basis should be used without regard to the differentials."

Showed 1913 Earnings.

Mr. Barnes submitted statements showing the net earnings in 1913 of several of the lake lines. The Mutual Steamship company earned 19 per cent of its capital; the Superior Steamship company, 23 per cent; the Duluth Steamship company, 25 per cent; the Inter-Ocean Steamship company, 31 per cent, and the Atlas Steamship company, 31 per cent. All except the Atlas paid a 10 per cent dividend last year.

Analyzing the financial statement of the Mutual Transit company, Mr. Barnes declared that it is now paying 6 per cent interest to the Mutual Terminal company on $1,000,000 borrowed by the Terminal company at 4 per cent. He declared that if there was a fair adjustment of the accounts of both the Mutual Transit companies, the company would be in fine shape financially and able to pay good dividends on its capital.

Paid High for Boats.

Mr. Barnes also declared that the Mutual Transit company paid a very high price for the Northern Steamship company vessels, and also the Soo Line ships, when they were taken over in order to eliminate the Western railroads from participation in the lake carrying trade.

Mr. Barnes also introduced a letter from A. B. Wolvin, in which it was stated that flour could be carried from Duluth to Buffalo at a profit at 80 cents a ton, even though the vessels should have no west-bound business.

Mr. Barnes also asserted that the handling charges on lake tonnage could be reduced from 40 cents a ton to 25 cents if modern appliances and methods were used. This, he said, would leave less reason for the proposed 5 per cent advance in rates.

YOUNG DOES NOT "KNEED" TEACHERS.

N. A. Young, county school superintendent, has no need for a teacher who spells need "kneed."

He so notified an applicant for a position in the St. Louis county schools yesterday.

The pedagogue applying for the position wrote from Knox, Ind., stating that she had all the necessary certificates and had several years' experience.

The query, "Do you kneed any teachers?" however, queered her.

GIRARD SOCIALIST MAYOR IS BEATEN.

Girard, Kan., April 9.—Richard Houghton, Socialist mayor of Girard, was defeated for re-election by Henry Sauer, independent, according to complete returns. Sauer's majority was 172 votes. Girard is regarded as one of the strongest Socialist towns in the Southwest.

MACHINE FAILS TO RECORD 120 VOTES.

Hartford, Conn., April 9.—Joseph H. Lawler, Democrat, will be declared elected mayor of Hartford in the city election of Tuesday, although on the face of the returns, Mayor Louis S. Cheney, Republican, apparently has been returned to office by 64 votes. This statement was made by Chief Moderator Patrick J. Mahon. It was claimed by the Democrats that a voting machine in the Fourth ward failed to work properly, and that because of this 120 votes cast for Lawler were lost. This would have given the Democratic candidate the election. The machine was opened and it was found that a cog connecting with the Lawler counter was jammed, preventing it from recording the vote.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

TO DECIDE ON FRIDAY

Grand Forks Magistrate Will Then Rule on Jury Bribing Charges.

Attorneys for State and Accused Have Summed Up Sensational Case.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Justice Phil McLoughlin, last night at the conclusion of arguments which have extended over two days, during which, counsel for Tracy R. Bangs and J. C. Mahon asked for the dismissal of jury bribery charges laid against them, announced that he would render his decision Friday.

Attorney George Bangs of the defense, charged in his argument that J. A. Sullivan, the bailiff who made the complaint against the other defendants, had been given promises of immunity, despite Sullivan's statements on the witness stand to the contrary.

Mr. Bangs also argued that Sullivan's career of crime since he confessed to the state, notably in St. Paul and Portland, and features of which were admitted from the witness stand by Sullivan, was of such nature as to completely discredit his testibony.

Claims Evidence Is Undisputed.

State's Attorney Burtness of Grand Forks, in asking that the accused be bound over to the district court, insisted that there was evidence, undisputed, which connected the defendants with the briberies that have been charged, and which have been admitted by Sullivan.

Evidence of an entirely different nature from that produced against Bangs and Sullivan, will be introduced in the hearing of Richard Bruyere, a Larimore juryman. One of the features is the alleged contract made by Bryvere with J. A. Sullivan, appointing Sullivan as his agent in the collection of the alleged bribe of $3,000 promised but never paid.

WILL BREED STOCK.

Farmers Around Mott, N. D., Going Into Other Lines.

Mott, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Noting the success of a recent shipment of draft horses from here to New York others will make an effort to engage in the business.

The farmers of this section are abandoning exclusive grain raising and going in for horse breeding and dairying and beef and pork production. While dairying has many advocates in North Dakota there are a great many farmers who fear the drudgery of milking. To this class the beef and pork production appeals more strongly and promises almost as good returns.

DRISCOLL CREAMERY TO BE CO-OPERATIVE.

Driscoll, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local creamery is to be converted into a co-operative concern. The stockholders met and voted favorably to that plan. More than $1,000 additional stock was at once subscribed and other funds will be raised.

There were operated during the last year in North Dakota eighty-seven creameries. This year a large number are to be reopened and new ones established. There were manufactured in the state during the last year 4,250,000 pounds of butter, and cream that would have made at least that much more was shipped to centralizing plants in Minnesota.

AAKER'S CANDIDACY APPARENTLY PLEASES.

Fargo, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The announcement of the candidacy of H. H. Aaker of Fargo for the Bull Moose nomination for governor is generally indorsed here by

A GOOD SUGGESTION TO DULUTH PEOPLE

It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka, drains from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and acts on BOTH the upper and lower bowel so thoroughly that ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IMMEDIATELY. We are mighty glad we are Duluth agents for Adler-i-ka. W. A. Abbett, druggist, 205 West Superior street.

the followers of Col. Roosevelt. This gives Fargo two of the gubernatorial candidates, Governor Hanna living here. Aaker secured 11,000 votes when he ran for the Republican nomination for governor four years ago. Whether his change of political parties in the meantime will seriously affect his vote is uncertain. His friends insist the acquaintances he made then and the support he will receive over the state from former students make him a formidable candidate.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE SPEAKER COMES

Boston Woman in North Dakota to Oppose Votes for Women.

Fargo, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The woman suffrage campaign in this state is to be further enlivened. Miss Bronson, a speaker representing anti-suffrage, arrived here today from Boston and will at once begin a speaking campaign, which will be carried to all parts of North Dakota until the election this fall. She will be assisted by a number of Eastern speakers. Mrs. Young, a leading club woman, and the wife of a former chief justice and other well-known Fargo women are interested in the fight opposing woman suffrage.

"ALFALFA" DAY AT STAPLES SATURDAY.

Staples, Minn., April 9.—Saturday will be "alfalfa day" in Staples. H. I. Davey, the "alfalfa king," will distribute seed to farmers who are planning on planting alfalfa this year. Governor Eberhart will deliver an address. Other speakers will be Prof. Crane of the Great Northern railway, F. W. Murphy, president of the Western Central Minnesota Development association; M. E. Harrison, secretary of the Western Central Minnesota Development association, and it is hoped that J. J. Hill will be present.

HANNA AT EAU CLAIRE.

North Dakota's Governor Seeking Aid for Fargo College.

Eau Claire, Wis., April 9.—Governor L. B. Hanna of North Dakota spent Tuesday and part of yesterday here, as the guest of O. H. Ingram. He came in part to interest Mr. Ingram in a growing Christian college located in Fargo, N. D., the trustees, of which the governor is one, being anxious to raise a large endowment fund.

The afternoon of Tuesday was spent here by Governor Hanna in going about the city, visiting the lumber district, residence portions, the paper mill, refrigerator factory and other places of interest.

In the evening at the Galloway house in honor of the governor, Mr. Ingram gave a small dinner party, fifteen being present.

Bury St. Paul Pioneer.

St. Paul, Minn., April 9.—Michael Lynch, 78 years old, a resident of St. Paul since 1856, died at the home of his brother, John Lynch. He was an employe of the Great Northern road for many years. The funeral took place at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30 a. m. today.

SOLD INDIANS DRINK.

Ogema Saloon Keeper Given Six Months After Trial.

Detroit, Minn., April 9.—H. P. Sherer, the Ogema saloon keeper who was recently arrested for selling liquor to the Indians was convicted here and sentenced to jail for six months. Sherer, according to evidence brought out at the trial, did a rushing business supplying Indians with liquor ever since getting his license two years ago, it was alleged, and considerable evidence was given to prove that Indians had formed the greater part of his trade.

STAPLES STILL WET.

License Wins Out By Majority of Ninety-One Votes.

Staples, Minn., April 9.—The license advocates carried the city election Tuesday by 91 votes and the city will continue "wet." Dr. F. H. Allen was elected mayor by a majority of 61 votes; M. Durkan, alderman-at-large, by a majority of 7 votes; A. W. McClelland, alderman from the Second ward, C. A. Wirtz from the First ward, Fitzgerald from the Third ward, and Frank Smith from the Fifth ward; J. R. Nims, city treasurer; F. C. McGivern, municipal judge. There were 566 votes cast, this being the largest vote cast for years.

BADING'S MAJORITY.

Non-Partisan Mayor Elected in Milwaukee By 8,554 Votes.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 9.—Complete returns from Tuesday's municipal election give Mayor G. A. Bading, non-partisan, a majority of 8,554 over Emil Seidel, Social-Democrat. Bading received 37,701 and Seidel 29,147 votes.

Bading received 5,475 and Seidel 1,125 fewer votes than two years ago.

Mayor Bading will be backed up by a board of aldermen consisting of twenty-nine non-partisans against eight Social-Democrats.

The Social-Democrats captured one of the chief city offices, that of city attorney, Daniel W. Hoan, the present incumbent having received 32,462 against 31,936 for William H. Timlin, Jr., non-partisan.

Joseph P. Carney and Louis M. Kotecki, non-partisans, were re-elected treasurer and comptroller respectively by over 8,000 majority.

The Real Cause of Most Bad Complexions

It is a stern fact that no truly beautiful complexion ever came out of jars or bottles; the longer one uses cosmetics the worse the complexion becomes. Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must expel, through the pores, its share of the body's effete material. Creams and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing. If more women understood this, there would be fewer self-ruined complexions. If they would use ordinary mercolized wax instead of cosmetics, they would have natural, healthy complexions. This remarkable substance actually absorbs a bad skin, also unclogging the pores. Result: The fresher, younger under-skin is permitted to breathe and to show itself. An exquisite new complexion gradually peeps out, one free from any appearance of artificiality. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and try it. Apply nightly like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings.

To eradicate wrinkles, here's a marvelously effective treatment which also acts naturally and harmlessly: Dissolve 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel and use as a wash lotion.

WILL MEET AT FARGO.

North Dakota Democratic Leaders to Confer There April 16.

Devils Lake, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Col. Joseph M. Kelly of this city, chairman of the committee of Democrats in charge of the question of bringing out candidates for all state and congressional offices, has called a meeting for Fargo on April 16, when the several district committeemen, who have been investigating conditions since the recent Minot gathering, will make a report.

It is believed by many that Prof. J. Nelson Kelly of Grand Forks will receive the support of the committee for the gubernatorial nomination. Out of the field of several prospective candidates that have been mentioned, Mr. Kelly's is the only name that remains. George P. Jones of Edgeley was at one time looked upon as a likely candidate, but Mr. Jones has chosen to enter the senatorial fight.

BUILDERS' EXCHANGE FOR NIGHT SCHOOLS.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Night schools will be established in all the leading cities of North Dakota if the plans of the North Dakota Builders and Traders' exchange are carried out. That body adopted resolutions calling upon the several local exchanges to take steps toward establishing night schools for foreign laborers.

The local Builders and Traders' exchange, at a meeting last night, adopted resolutions asking the board of education of the city to establish such a school.

NORTH DAKOTA'S SHARE.

Banks to Take $300,000 Stock in Federal Reserve Bank.

Bismarck, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota banks will subscribe to slightly over $300,000 of the capital stock of the Federal reserve bank for the Minneapolis district, according to statistics compiled by Secretary W. F. Macfadden of the North Dakota Bankers' association.

There are about 150 national banks in North Dakota, and they have capital and surplus aggregating approximately $5,000,000.

North Dakota bankers are well pleased with the fact that a bank has been located in the Twin Cities.

CADOTT, WIS., HAS $200,000 FIRE LOSS.

Chippewa Falls, April 9.—Fifteen buildings at Cadott, twelve miles east of here, were destroyed by a fire which was not under control until late yesterday. All of the buildings on the west side of the main street of the village, covering a space of three blocks, were burned. The fire, which is said to have originated from an explosion of gasoline in a hardware store caused a loss estimated at $200,000.

BOY'S BLOODY NOSE GIVES FIREMEN RUN.

St. Paul, Minn., April 9.—When Johnny Bates, 8 years old, fought and was whipped by a playmate on his way home from school yesterday, the police ambulance made one of the longest runs of the season. Johnny's bloody nose caused the trouble.

An excited voice told the telephone operator at the central station that a boy had been struck by a fire engine in the Midway district.

After a run of six miles police surgeons were told that the call had been sent in by mistake.

Rehearing at Ashland.

Ashland, Wis., April 9.—The request of the city of Ashland for a rehearing in the Water company case has been granted by the state utilities commission and May 14 is fixed as the date for the beginning of the rehearing. Madison is fixed as the place where the hearing will be held, but City Attorney Dillon will ask to have this changed to Ashland.

Made Deputy U. S. Marshal.

Devils Lake, N. D., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. F. Duis of this city, brother of George E. Duis of Grand Forks, has been appointed chief deputy United States marshal for North Dakota, under S. J. Doyle, taking the position made vacant by the retirement of Gil Stout, who goes out with Marshal Shea.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood streets, Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Mrs. O. C. B. writes: "I am informed that I have kidney trouble and that it is fast approaching a serious stage. What would you prescribe?"

Answer: If your symptoms are the usual ones, such as puffs under the eyes, swelling ankles, scant, copious or foul smelling urine, accompanied by headaches, pains, depression, fever, chills, etc., I would advise the immediate use of balmwort tablets, a very fine remedy for such difficulties, sold in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration.

"Al" writes: "I should like a good, reliable treatment for the hair and scalp. Something that will cure dandruff and stop falling hair, also cure an itching scalp."

Answer: The most reliable treatment for the scalp is sold in 4 oz. jars at any drug store, and is called plain yellow minyol. It is superior to anything known for the scalp. It gives new vigor and helps the hair to keep its natural color. This will positively cure your dandruff, and stop the itching of the scalp.

"Harry M." writes: "I am quite tall and do not weigh enough for my height. Am very nervous and my skin is very pale."

Answer: You can readily increase your weight by taking three grain hypo-nuclane tablets regularly for several months. These tablets will also overcome nervousness, help digestion and assimilation and thus improve the color of the skin. Many report gaining 10 to 30 pounds with improved health in every way. The tablets are packed in sealed cartons with directions and are widely prescribed for your ailment.

"Poor Ann" writes: "Every winter I am troubled with slight attacks of rheumatism. I have tried many things but with no avail."

Answer: The best thing for rheumatism is made by mixing the following ingredients and taking a teaspoonful at meal times and again at bedtime. Iodide of potassium, 2 drams; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, ½ ounce; comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz., and syrup sarsaparilla comp. 6 oz. take and will drive the cold out of the system.

"D. P. C." writes: "If you can prescribe something to prevent an attack of appendicitis, please do so. I have constipation, sour stomach, headache and am weak and listless with pains after eating."

Answer: The best treatment for disordered stomach and bowels, due to indigestion, is tablets triopeptine, sold in sealed cartons with full directions.

"Energy" writes: "Let me say that my condition puzzles and worries me. In the last year I seem to have been growing old rapidly, though only 38. My food and sleep do not recuperate my strength and energy, and lately I have dizzy spells, trembling, headaches, loss of appetite, memory and hopefulness. Despondency and worry over my condition are ever present."

Answer: Cheer up, get well and then conserve your vitality by proper, temperate living. Obtain three grain cadomene tablets in sealed tubes with full directions, use them and an agreeable, pleasing restoration should ensue to your entire satisfaction.

"Miserable" asks: "I was miserable all through the summer last year on account of being too fat. Can you please help me to reduce with something harmless?"

Answer: Hundreds of persons who are too fat suffer. It is needless suffering. The discovery of the principles contained in 5-grain arbolone tablets, make it comparatively easy to reduce from 10 to 50 pounds. These excellent tablets are put up in sealed tubes with directions for self-administration.

"Gwendoline" writes: "Kindly tell me what to do. I suffer with liver, kidney and stomach trouble. Am constipated and have slight attacks of billousness."

Answer: For your stomach, liver and kidneys, take three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). These little tablets are packed in sealed tubes and contain full directions for using. They will purify the blood and act directly on the liver and kidneys, and if taken regularly will gradually effect a relief for all ailments that arise from chronic constipation.

"Wife": Incontinence or bedwetting in children is usually corrected by using the following in 10 to 15 drop doses in water one hour before meals: Tincture cubebs, 1 dram; tincture rhus aromatic 2 drams; comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix well.

"C. R." writes: "I have a very troublesome case of catarrh of the head and throat. I suffer annoyance and embarrassment very keenly. Can you give me something to stop this trouble?"

Answer: Use daily a nostril wash and gargle made with antiseptic vilane powder. Obtain a two or eight ounce box of it and use it according to the directions enclosed.—Advertisement.

BIG "SALES" MADE BY Y. M. C. A. CLASS

If all the goods that were sold in the Y. M. C. A. class in salesmanship last night had to be delivered from Duluth's warerooms today, there would be a scurrying and hustling.

This was the first session at which the principles of salesmanship that have been studied were actually put into practice. Enthusiasm ran high, and the men were loath to leave, even at 10 o'clock.

Next week one of the most experienced salesmen in the city will "sell" his line to one of the big wholesale buyers.

GRAND JURY FINDS MANY INDICTMENTS

Eighteen True Bills Found at Virginia, Some Made Public.

Virginia, Minn., April 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The grand jury reported eighteen indictments in district court today and later in the day is expected to make another and perhaps final report to the court. Some of the indictments are made public.

The grand jury looked into the death of Erick Lake, found shot to death in his cabin at Marcom lake, north of Eveleth, some time ago, and decided that he killed himself and was not murdered, as many claimed.

Those Who Are Indicted.

Mike O. Brino and Mike Grabich were indicted for assault in the first degree for being implicated in a cutting affray at Spina.

John Chadrin was indicted for a first-degree assault at Buhl.

Paul Matich was indicted for getting money under false pretenses at Hibbing.

First-degree assault bills were returned against the following for being implicated in a stabbing at Buhl: John Cirutto, Mike Miller, Joe Miller, Sam Velich and John Pokevich.

Nick Ivankovich of Old Mesaba was indicted for first-degree assault.

STOVALL'S RAID IS SANCTIONED

Gilmore Says It's Retaliation for Organized Baseball's Efforts.

Chicago, April 9.—George Stovall's raid on the St. Louis Americans was made with the sanction of President Gilmore of the Federal league, the latter said today.

"Organized baseball tried to wreck Stovall's club, and took away Blanding and Baumgardner, who had signed legal contracts with him," said Gilmore. "Therefore I gave the Kansas City club permission to deal with members of the St. Louis team, whether they had signed contracts or not, and thus give it a chance to build up again.

"If organized ball goes to court over Hamilton's jumping and the courts give him back to the Browns, then the same decision will return Blanding, Baumgardner and Hogue to us. Besides Hamilton, there are four or five members of the St. Louis Americans wanted by Stovall, and he has my full sanction to get them if he can."

Gilmore did not credit a story that Shortstop Morgan had deserted the Pittsburg Federals to join an American association team.

St. Louis, Mo., April 9.—President Hedges of the St. Louis Americans said he knew nothing of the jumping of Hamilton.

"All my players are signed and any one who has no respect for a contract is not good material to build a pennant winner with," he added.

WILL ENTER BASEBALL.

Samaritans Will Organize Team for the Coming Season.

Duluth council No. 3, Modern Samaritans, is the latest organization to enter the field for baseball honors. At a meeting last night steps were taken to organize a baseball team among the members, and twenty volunteered to try for the council's regular team.

Fred Richardson was elected captain of the team, and J. A. McLaughlin, manager. Arrangements for games can be made by communicating with the latter at 209 Axa building.

Similar steps have been taken by the Alpha council No. 1, and it is said that considerable rivalry exists between the two lodges. It is expected that several games will be arranged between the two bodies.

Played in Boisterous Wind.

Sandwich, Eng., April 9.—Francis Ouimet, the American golf champion, and Arthur G. Lockwood, former amateur champion of Massachusetts, won easily today in a foursome match against the Marquis of Linlithgow and Lord Charles Hope, his brother. The Americans won by five up and four to play. The match was played in a boisterous wind.

Englishmen Win.

Westward Ho, Devonshire, England, April 9.—Jerome D. Travers, former American golf champion, and Frederick Herreschoff of New York, were defeated here today by Denys Scott and Capt. H. Hinde, both of the Royal North Devon club. The Englishmen won by 4 up and 2 to play.

INCOME TAX HITS MINING DIVIDENDS

Wisconsin Supreme Court So Holds in Vandyke Case.

Madison, Wis., April 9.—Dividends received from mining stock are taxable under the income tax law, according to a decision of the supreme court today. The case was that of Vandyke vs. the City of Milwaukee.

It was argued by the attorneys for the owners of the stock sought to be taxed that ore taken from a mine and sold, the proceeds paid in the form of dividends could not be taxed as income because it was capital and not income. Such dividends, it was argued, reduced the actual capital or property value of the mine, and were not income on unimpaired capital. The court, speaking through Justice Vinje, rejected this contention.

"To give a term its technical meaning would not only violate the evident intent of the constitutional amendment and of the legislature, but it would practically render the income tax act impossible for administration. The task of tracing dividends declared by all sorts of corporations to their source to determine how much came from capital and how much from income, strictly speaking, or how much from enhancement from capital value, would be colossal in the amount of labor required, perplexing in character and productive of almost endless litigation.

No such construction should be given it unless absolutely demanded by the language of the act. It follows that ordinary dividends declared by a going corporation, including mining corporations, will be conclusively presumed as against stockholders to be from earnings or profits for purposes of income taxation."

SAVE YOUR HAIR! IF FALLING OUT OR DANDRUFF---25 CENT DANDERINE

Ladies! Men! Here's the Quickest, Surest Dandruff Cure Known.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime — will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

There's a Reason For Baldness—But No Excuse For It

How to Prevent Grayness; What to Do If Already Bald.

Neglect of the hair and scalp is the primary reason for baldness in nearly all cases. But any excuse for the neglect is necessarily a poor excuse. A little systematic attention and the use of a really good hair tonic will destroy and prevent the return of dandruff. That, in turn, prevents premature grayness and baldness. Many hair tonics on the market are worthless if not harmful. The SAFE way is to mix your own hair tonic at home, or have a reliable druggist mix it for you, according to this formula: Dissolve ½ drachm Menthol Crystals in 6 oz. Bay Rum; then add 2 oz. Lavona de Composee. Mix thoroughly. Rub into the scalp with fingers or stiff brush night and morning. This is the best-known formula for dandruff, to stop falling hair, to cleanse and beautify the hair, and to stimulate the growth of new hair. One of the ingredients not only stimulates the hair-growing follicles, but tends to revive the activity of the pigment-forming cells, so as to make prematurely gray hair turn back to its natural color. The ingredients of this hair tonic can be purchased at any drug store. Try this tonic night and morning for 30 days, even if totally bald; it has accomplished wonders for others.—Advertisement.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This masterstroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers, to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Bevee Drug store and 1 other leading druggists of Duluth and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution:—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

MARKET OFF AT THE CLOSE

Wheat Breaks Near Finish With Liquidation Over the Holiday.

Flaxseed Slumps on Liberal Offerings and No Support From Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 9.—The market broke sharply at the close on weakness in coarse grains and liquidation. May wheat closed ⅝c off, July ½c off and September ½c off at 87¼c. May durum closed ⅜c off and July ⅜c off.

Oats closed ½c off at 35⅜c. Rye closed unchanged at 54½@56½c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 35¾c bid and July at 35⅞c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 87⅝@87½c bid and calls at 88⅛c.

Wheat was strong again today under the influence of an unexpectedly higher closing at Liverpool and fears of possible damage through the spreading of the cold wave in the Southwest. Business turned quiet after a splurge around the opening, with indisposition on the part of operators to increase their commitments over the holiday. Prices gained ⅛@⅝c at the start and then there was an easing up on some realizing.

Reports of export business at Chicago and at the seaboard helped holders. It was thought, furthermore, from European statistics, that additional amounts of American wheat will be required by foreigners in the near future.

The domestic situation was regarded by local operators as bearish all along the line. Advices from Kansas City, St. Louis and Oklahoma were to the effect that no damage to the winter wheat plant had come about in those territories and that the weather furthermore was warming up.

The bulge at Liverpool was attributed to firmer offers of American winter wheat and a better demand for Manitobas. Russian crop news was bullish, with exceptionally cold weather prevailing in that country.

Reports being received by Duluth elevator men from their correspondents over the West show that current farmers' deliveries have almost reached the vanishing point in many districts. Seeding is expected to be general within the next few days, as farmers have the ground all prepared to start in at the first appearance of farm weather.

Receipts were liberal here today, 32 cars coming in, compared with 12 last year. There were also 21 cars of bonded wheat on the tracks. Arrivals at Minneapolis came to 200 cars against 202 last year.

May wheat opened ¼c up at 90c and it gained a fraction more up to the closing hour. July opened ¼c up at 91c and gained ¼c more. There was a better demand for durum. The May option opened unchanged at 87⅝c and after gaining ⅜c it sold off ¼c. The July seed opened unchanged at 89c and advanced ⅜c.

Break in Flaxseed.

The market in flaxseed was quiet with trading confined to small lots. A sagging tendency was shown at the outset, with only limited inquiry from crushers. Quotations went off ½@⅝c around the opening. There was renewed weakness at the close with final prices showing declines of 1⅜@1⅝c.

London was the only foreign market open, and the close there was ½c down.

May flax opened ⅛c off at $1.57½, and it closed 1⅝c down at $1.56 asked. The July option opened ¼c off at $1.59⅛, and closed 1⅝c down at $1.57¾ asked. The September seed opened ⅜c off at $1.59¼, and closed 1⅜c down at $1.58x asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.36¾ bid, and July at $1.39¼.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The wheat market was affected at the opening by the unexpected steadiness in America yesterday and firmer offers of American winters and a better demand for Manitobas and Australian offers. Following the opening trading was dull, but the undertone was steady, with some covering over the approaching holidays. Argentine weekly shipments are expected to be light, according to overnight cables from Buenos Aires and a better demand for cargoes developed. At 1:30 p. m. prices were ⅛d to ¼d higher.

"Corn opened at ¼d decline and later September further lost ⅛d. Better weather in Argentina, weakness in Buenos Aires and private reports of large Argentina shipments this week caused a limited inquiry for forward deliveries. At 1:30 p. m. prices were ⅛d to ¼d lower."

An official French report places the condition as follows: Winter wheat April 1 70 per cent against 71 per cent on March 1 and 72 per cent on April 1 last year.

Broomhall's special Russian news said: "The recent storm extended over a very large area and it is expected that the general damage will result. Spring sowing is very backward. At Tanganrog there are about twenty steamers awaiting loading, but arrivals are so small that loading is difficult as holders of stocks who bought at higher prices show no inclination to let go at present level."

George C. Van Dusen of the Van Dusen-Harrington company is quoted as follows in an interview at Minneapolis: "The cold snap has given seeding a temporary set-back. We have had reports from South Dakota where much seeding has been done. In Western Minnesota too, the farmers have been sowing wheat. In Southern Minnesota they have had to wait on account of heavy moisture in the ground. The soil in both Dakotas and Minnesota is in splendid shape to receive the seed, according to reports tabulated by grain men. Reports from 140 stations showed that from 60 to 100 per cent of the plowing had been done last fall."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Dull, With Higher Opening But Later Declines.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 9.—In anticipation of tomorrow's holiday, the local wheat market was extremely dull today. The opening was fractionally higher on stronger cables, but eased off later owing to listlessness in the trade. An increased cash demand is in sight for the immediate future, according to local dealers, but this is offset by the favorable conditions for a big spring wheat crop in the Northwest.

Wheat—May opened 88⅜@88½c; high, 88⅝@88¾c; low, 87½@85⅝c; closed, 87⅝@87¾c asked. July opened 90¼c; high, 90⅜c; low, 89⅜c; closed, 89½c askd.

Flax, $1.52@1.54.

Flour continued in fair demand today. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 62,144 bbls. Barley, 43@56c; rye, 55½@57c. Bran, $23.50.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Go Up Owing to Cold in Southwest.

Chicago, April 9.—Cold weather over the Southwest put wheat prices today on the upgrade. Opening quotations were ⅛c to ½c higher and the market afterward scored a further advance.

Tightness in May contracts intimidated short sellers but the deferred deliveries suffered a decided raction during the last hour. The close was weak, ⅛@¼c off to ⅛c up compared with last night.

Regardless of continued purchases of Argentine cargoes to come to Chicago in May, corn showed strength. Traders leaned to the idea that not enough supplies to make any difference could reach here from South America before June. Prices started a sixteenth off to ¼c up and subsequently made a material gain all around.

Liquidation later by holders more than wiped out all the gain. Contrary to expectation Argentine samples received here failed to show weevil. The close was weak at ⅜c net decline.

Oats rose with other grain. The market, however, was dull.

Larger receipts of hogs at Western points weakened provisions. First sales were a shade to 5c lower and there was no sign of any important rally.

Wheat—No. 2 red, 93½@94c; No. 3 red, 92½@93c; No. 2 hard, 91¼@91½c; No. 3 hard, 90½@91c; No. 2 northern, 93@94c; No. 3 northern, 92@93c; No. 2 spring, 93@94c; No. 3 spring, 92@93c.

WEAKNESS IN STOCKS

Heavy Selling of Steel on Cuts in Prices of Products.

Report That Kansas & Texas Preferred Dividend May Be Passed.

New York, April 9.—Foreign selling gave direction to the stock market during the morning. London sold Canadian Pacific, Steel and Kansas & Texas, the last for Dutch holders. Room traders followed the lead of foreign representatives and sold stock. Blocks of 1,000 to 2,500 shares of Steel were unloaded and the effect of this selling was shown in the gradual spread of heaviness in other quarters.

Losses of the favorite shares were not severe but the wide breaks occurred among the specialties and weaker railroads. Pressure on Kansas & Texas was due to reports that the preferred dividend might be passed at the meeting of the directors later in the month. Earnings on the stock during the eight months of the fiscal year have been at the rate of only 2.15 per cent.

Bonds were easy.

Liquidation in Canadian Pacific was resumed at the opening today and it fell a point to 199⅛, the lowest in several years. New Haven, Texas company, Louisville, Corn Products preferred and Bethlehem steel preferred fell 1 to 2 points. The leading speculative stocks, which were barely changed at the opening, eased off later under the influence of these declines.

Special liquidation of railroad and industrial stocks undermined the market and prices fell slowly, after offering some resistance. Weakness of Canadian Pacific and Kansas & Texas shares testified to renewed foreign liquidation. Canadian Pacific fell 1⅜, Kansas & Texas 1¾ and the preferred 3⅜.

The slight effect produced on the general market by the drastic liquidation of certain stocks encouraged some trading ventures on the long side in the early afternoon, but the list did not gain much. Kansas & Texas issues rallied 1¼ to 1⅜. Rumeley touched new low points at 8⅞ and 23¾ respectively for the common and preferred.

United States Steel was sold anew on news of the cuts in prices of steel products and the whole market weakened.

The market closed heavy. Weakness of industrials caused the standard issues to lose ground, with particular heaviness in Great Northern.

AMENDMENT OF ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— TEHAN IRON COMPANY.

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

We, the undersigned, respectively President and Secretary of TEHAN IRON COMPANY, do hereby certify that at a special meeting of the stockholders of said company called for that expressly stated purpose, held on the 6th day of April, 1914, at the office of the Secretary of said company in the city of Duluth, the following resolution was adopted by the majority vote of all of the shares of said corporation, and by majority vote of all of its members, namely:

"RESOLVED, That Article V of the Articles of Incorporation of said company be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be One Hundred and Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($125,000.00), and the same shall be divided into one thousand two hundred and fifty (1,250) shares of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) each, and the same shall be sold either for cash or property or things of value deemed by the board of directors equivalent thereto, such determination by the board of directors to be final and binding upon the parties in interest.

The stock of this corporation shall be paid for as called for by the board of directors, and no stock which has not been subscribed for, and upon which payments called for have not been made as required by the board of directors, shall be entitled to vote or representation in any of the proceedings of this corporation.

"RESOLVED FURTHER, That the President and Secretary of this corporation cause this resolution to be embraced in a certificate duly executed by them, under the corporate seal of this corporation, and approved, filed, recorded and published as prescribed by law to make said amendment effectual."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands and the seal of said corporation, this 6th day of April, 1914.

J. B. ADAMS, President.

W. D. BAILEY, Secretary.

(Corporate Seal, Tehan Iron Company.)

Signed, Sealed and Delivered in Presence of, J. A. SINCLAIR. C. M. VAN NORMAN.

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

On this 6th day of April, 1914, before me, a Notary Public within and for said county, personally appeared J. B. Adams and W. D. Bailey, to me personally known, who, being by me duly sworn, did say that they are, respectively, the president and secretary of Tehan Iron Company, a Minnesota corporation; that the seal affixed to the foregoing certificate is the corporate seal of said corporation, and that the said instrument was executed in behalf of said corporation by authority of a majority vote of its members, and of its stock and stockholders, and that the statements contained in said certificate are true, and the said J. B. Adams and W. D. Bailey acknowledged the said instrument to be the free act and deed of said corporation.

JOHN A. SINCLAIR, Notary Public, St. Louis County, Minn. My commission expires Aug. 14, 1915. (Notarial Seal, St. Louis Co., Minn.)

State of Minnesota, Department of State.

I hereby certify that the within instrument was filed for record in this office on the 7th day of April, A. D. 1914, at 9 o'clock A. M., and was duly recorded in Book Y-3 of Incorporations, on page ——.

FIGHTING AT TAMPICO, MEX., NOT YET OVER

Great Damage Done to Oil Properties by Federal Shots.

Foreign Women and Children Removed to Safe Shelter.

Villa is Said to Have Used British Consul as Messenger.

Washington, April 10.—Continued fighting at Tampico, with great damage to the valuable oil property there, was reported to the state department and navy department today in dispatches from the warships on the Mexican coast. An official statement at the state department described the situation as to the oil properties this way:

"Several oil tanks have been struck, one is on fire and oil is running into the river. A number of refugees are on the warships."

The fighting at Tampico was described as heavy, with the rebels in possession of Dona Cecilia and Arbol Grande.

Rear Admiral Fletcher reported that Rear Admiral Mayo had delivered another letter to Gen. Zaragosa about the shots fired into the Pierce oil plant from Federal gunboats. Grave fears are felt here that there may be wholesale destruction of the properties.

Assurance was received that all American women and children have been gathered into places of safety.

Summary of Reports.

Latest reports to the navy department were summarized in this statement:

"At 3 p. m., Thursday, Admiral Mayo reported from Tampico to Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz that there had been but desultory firing since daybreak.

"Two women have been reported hanged for attempting to release prisoners from Curatel. A Constitutionalist prisoner has been reported hanged for having bullets in his possession.

"At 10 p. m. Admiral Mayo reported further that there was a lull in the fighting during the afternoon. The Vera Cruz moved up to the vicinity of Tolisi road at 3 p. m., and did some firing. There was also fighting in trenches near Altamira. Admiral Mayo has delivered another letter to Gen. Zaragoza relating to damage by gunboats to the Pierce oil plant. An oil tank at Arbol Grande was on fire at 8:30.

Women and Children Safe.

ARMY MANEUVERS WILL BE CURTAILED

War Department Announcement of Sparta Plan Is Made.

La Crosse, Wis., April 10.—According to an announcement by the war department, the present outline for encampment and maneuver work for the coming summer, which will be held on the national military reservation at Sparta, will not be as extensive as had been anticipated some months ago. The gathering of the regular army on the Mexican border will greatly affect the maneuvers here and at various other camps in the division.

In keeping with the recommendations of the national board for the promotion of rifle practice, a scheme for five national division matches has been approved by the secretary of war and regulations modified from the old national matches have been announced. Sparta has been designated as Division C and includes the Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth tactical divisions, comprising the states of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota.

GET CLEW TO FATE OF SEALING VESSEL

Pelts Thought to Be From Southern Cross Are Washed Ashore.

St. John's, Nfld., April 10.—Seal pelts thought to have come from the missing sealing steamer Southern Cross, were sighted today seventy miles south of St. Mary's bay by the steamer Kyle, which has been searching the coast for a week. This is the first definite clew to the fate of the vessel, which last was reported off the southern coast on March 31.

The pelts are skins which have been roughly removed, and to which considerable fat usually adheres, causing them to float readily. It is believed that they either were washed from the decks of the sealer or floated to the surface after she went down.

None of the sealing fleet that came in last week from the St. Lawrence grounds, where the Southern Cross had been seal hunting, lost any pelts off the southern coast in the vicinity of St. Mary's bay.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE HEAD IS SUICIDE

Prof. Henry Savage Shoots Himself at Newport News.

Newport News, Va., April 10.—Prof. Henry Savage, formerly of Liberty, Mo., head of the Hampton Woman's college, near this city, committed suicide today by shooting.

WAS HELD PRISONER BY THE MEXICAN REBELS

LUIS TERRAZAS, JR.

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—Luis Terrazas, Jr., is the son of Luis Terrazas who recently fled from his home in Northern Mexico taking with him most of his family. Luis, the younger, was left behind. Gen. Villa seized and confiscated much of the property of the Terrazas family, said to be the richest family in Mexico. Then he demanded from the elder Terrazas a ransom of $250,000 for his son. He threatened to kill the younger Terrazas if the ransom was not forthcoming.

Recently it was reported that Terrazas had escaped and was making his way south.

WILSON FAMILY AT WEEK-END RESORT

Go to Spend Easter at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 10.—President Wilson, with Mrs. Wilson and members of their family arrived here early today to spend Easter. The president plans to return to Washington Monday. At the hotel Mr. Wilson and his family were shown to their apartments quietly and without ceremony.

On the same train with the president were the Princeton university musical clubs, which will give a concert here tonight. At the hotel where the president is stopping are Mrs. John W. Gates, Mrs. John Jacob Astor and her sister, Miss Katherine Force.

Horseback riding, driving and golf are the principal diversions here, extended motoring being impossible on account of the mountain roads.

KING'S CONDITION IS "SATISFACTORY"

Surgeons Issue an Optimistic Bulletin at Stockholm.

Stockholm, Sweden, April 10.—King Gustaf's condition was "satisfactory" today, according to the surgeons who operated yesterday for the relief of ulceration of the stomach. Their bulletin this morning said:

"His majesty passed a quiet night, sleeping three hours. He suffered some pain which, however, did not interfere with the cicatrization of the wound. The king was able to take water and tea without any ill effects."

TWO DROWN WHEN AUTO MISSES FERRY

Norfolk, Va., April 10.—Two men were drowned and five others were injured when an automobile plunged through the gates on a ferry steamer into Elizabeth river last night. The dead are:

JOHN TULLY of New York.
W. J. CANAVAN of Norfolk.

The survivors are William Fintzer, L. Hanff, Nathaniel Vogel, Burt Johnson and Richard Smith, all of New York. Smith received a bad wound on the head.

Tully and Johnson, who were arrested Tuesday in the raid on the Jamestown race track, had just secured bail and were returning from Portsmouth to Norfolk when the accident occurred. The automobile started just before the boat reached her slip and plunged through the gates into the river.

CLUB OPPOSES VOTE FOR NEW YORK WOMEN

New York, April 10.—A resolution opposing woman suffrage in this state has been adopted by the Union League club and forwarded to Albany. The vote, it is announced, was almost unanimous. Extending the suffrage "would be detrimental to the best interests of the people of the state, men and women," says the resolution.

FINAL FIGHT FOR GUNMEN

Affidavit and Note Are Sent to Governor Glynn at Albany.

Discrepancy in Court of Appeals Decision is Alleged.

NEW WITNESSES FOUND.

New York, April 10.—Counsel for the four gunmen announced this afternoon that they had found two new witnesses whose testimony they believed would gain a reprieve for their clients and might lead to a new trial.

Lionel Kringle, one of the prisoners' attorneys, said:

"The first witness said he was coming out of the Elks' club on the night of the murder and saw the gray automobile in which the murderers made their escape fly past with Sam Schepps on the running board and Bridgey Webber and Harry Vallon in the car.

"The second witness saw Vallon and Webber shoot at Rosenthal during the fusillade in front of the Hotel Metropole."

New York, April 10.—An affidavit purporting to establish an alibi for "Dago Frank" Cirofici; a note from Frank Moss, former assistant district attorney, attacking the credibility of two witnesses at the trial of Charles Becker and the gunmen; and an alleged discrepancy in the decision of the court of appeals which reversed Becker's conviction, were the points about which counsel for the gunmen doomed to die on Monday for the murder of Herman Rosenthal centered their fight today.

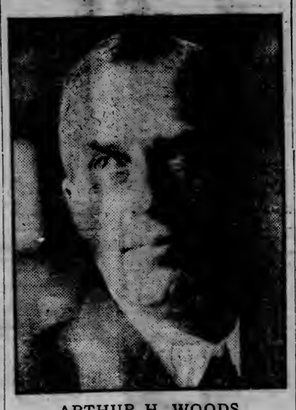
The affidavit, that of "Pinkie" Reo, an employe of a Harlem dance hall, who swears that he saw "Dago Frank" far from the scene of the murder about the time it was committed, was rushed to Governor Glynn by special messenger.

Doubted His Witness.

The note written by Frank Moss concerning the two witnesses—Luban and Margolis—was placed in the hands of C. G. F. Wahle, the gunmen's chief counsel, today.

"Mr. Moss' note," said Wahle, "shows that he didn't believe Luban was truthful. Yet he placed him on the stand as a witness. We shall get this note before the governor as soon as possible; if we again fail to move the governor, then we will take the whole matter before some justice of the supreme court."

Women Fail to See Glynn.



Albany, N. Y., April 10.—The wives of Louis Rosenberg ("Lefty Louie") and Harry Horowitz ("Gyp the Blood") and the mother of Jacob Seidenshiner ("Whitey Lewis") came here yesterday to plead with Governor Glynn for the lives of the four gunmen. The governor declined to see them.

TWO CHILDREN ARE CHOKED BY MARBLES

Mother Removes Spheres, But Fright Kills Both Boys.

Swampscott, Mass., April 10.—Sherman and Veryl Russ, children of about 5 years, tried last night to see which could stuff the most marbles into his mouth. The result was fatal to both. Choking and black in the face, the boys ran to their mother. She was able to extract the marbles, but the children died a short time later. Physicians said they had been frightened to death.

NEW COMMISSIONER OF NEW YORK POLICE

ARTHUR H. WOODS.

New York, April 10.—Arthur H. Woods, formerly private secretary of Mayor Mitchel, has been appointed police commissioner of New York to succeed McKay, who resigned.

LOCK MESSENGER IN TRUNK AND LOOT CAR

Two Men Commit Robbery on Rock Island Train.

Little Rock, Ark., April 10.—Attracted by muffled cries from the express car attached to a local Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific train, railway employes here last night found the express messenger, William Ahring, locked in a trunk, bound and gagged and the safe in the car looted.

The discovery was made when the train reached Little Rock from Hot Springs at 10 o'clock. It is estimated that between $2,000 and $3,000 was obtained by the two men who Ahring declares took possession of the car near Haskell, Ark., thirty miles from Little Rock, and forced him into the trunk. Other members of the train crew knew nothing of the robbery until the messenger was discovered in the trunk.

According to Ahring, the two men boarded his car, took his keys, then forced him into the trunk. That was all he knew, Ahring said, until he was released here.

DEFENDS SALE OF BONDS OVER COUNTER

Massachusetts Treasurer Says Net Loss Was Only $75.

Boston, Mass., April 10.—In defense of his recent sale of an issue of $6,000,000 state bonds "over the counter," rather than through a syndicate of bankers, State Treasurer F. W. Mansfield said in a public statement today that the net loss to the state was $75, compared with the last bond sale under the old methods.

"The big thing that I sought to accomplish," said the treasurer, "was to increase the interest of the people in their own state, to advance civic pride and patriotism and to bring the government closer to the people."

The public bond sale netted $450 more than would have been obtained had the bid of the syndicate been accepted, but the advertising cost offset this advantage.

COLD STORM IN FLORIDA

Serious Damage by Hail, Wind and Chill is Feared.

Georgia Crops Not as Badly Off as Was Thought.

Ocala, Fla., April 10. — Hail and wind storms, accompanied by a sharp dip in temperature, last night did many thousand dollars' damage to vegetable and citrus fruit crops throughout Central Florida. Orange groves and melon and tomato fields suffered severely. Southern Florida, however, where the bulk of the peninsula citrus fruits are produced, experienced only a cool rain. Frost in the state was confined to the northwestern section, where crops were not sufficiently matured to suffer materially.

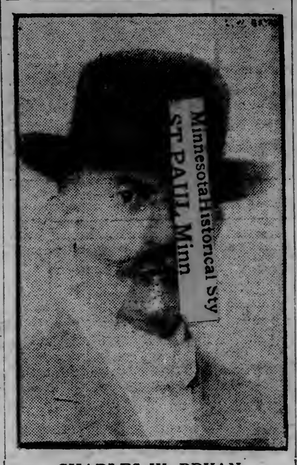
The heaviest loss was in this section, which was swept by a storm of cyclonic proportions. Houses were unroofed, windows broken and several large orange groves destroyed. The melon crop in this and adjoining counties, the center of the melon belt of Florida, is believed to be almost a total loss.

Georgia Not Badly Off.

Macon, Ga., April 10.—Damage to fruit in Georgia's peach belt after last night's low temperature was small, according to advices received today. Near-freezing weather was recorded in many places, but a brisk wind protected fruit trees on high ground and frost was experienced only in lowlands.

BOYS ASPHYXIATED IN OLD MOVING VAN

Build Fire in Bucket After Stopping Up Air Holes.



New York, April 10.—Three small boys crawled into a deserted moving van in a vacant lot in Harlem last night, stopped up the cracks to keep out the chill, then squatted around a fire they kindled in a bucket. Patrick Kenny, father of one of the little fellows, searching for him, chanced to look into the van today. He found his son, Frank, unconscious. John Scanlon, a 15-year-old companion, was dead and the third boy was apparently dying. Gas from the bucket fire had asphyxiated them.

OUST MOVIE MEN AT WEYERHAEUSER RITES

Deputy Sheriffs Drive Them From House and Cemetery.

Rock Island, Ill., April 10.—Three motion picture camera operators who attempted to photograph the Weyerhaeuser funeral party were driven off the lawn of the family home yesterday by deputy sheriffs. The camera men were discovered later in the cemetery when they emerged from shrubbery to get a clearer view of the procession. The carriages were halted, the deputies alighted and each took charge of a photographer and escorted him from the grounds.

MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF NEBRASKA

CHARLES W. BRYAN.

Lincoln, Neb., April 10.—Charles W. Bryan, brother of W. J. Bryan, may be a candidate for governor of Nebraska. W. J. Bryan wants a progressive Democrat at the head of the ticket, and it is possible Charles will be drafted for service.

COPPER MINE MEN TO VOTE

Unions Order Referendum on Continuation of Strike.

More Reduction in Amount of Benefits is Predicted.

Calumet, Mich., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—At meetings of the five district locals of the Western Federation of Miners held this morning, the copper mine workers on strike were told that the district union council had decided to submit to a vote of the men the proposition of continuing the strike or going back to work. The question will be submitted Sunday afternoon and between two and three thousand men will vote, it is claimed.

It was reported at today's meeting that the district union officials have agreed to submit the proposition because, if the strike is continued, benefits will be cut. One decrease was made a month ago, when single men were cut off without any support and married men's benefits were cut in half.

Many Discontented.

The district union delegates also reported that the strikers can hope to secure no better conditions than have already been granted by the companies.

Many of the strikers are angry because the proposition was not submitted to them a month ago, when there were more opportunities to return to work. Most of the mines are now running full handed, which means the men will have to wait for some time to be taken on.

SEEK TRUSTEES FOR NEW HAVEN TROLLEYS

Elliott and McReynolds Have Conference at Washington.

Washington, April 10.—Attorney General McReynolds and Chairman Howard Elliott of the New Haven railroad conferred today at the department of justice to settle the personnel of the trust boards to take over the Rhode Island and Connecticut trolley systems now owned by the New Haven.

T. W. Gregory, special assistant to Mr. McReynolds, in charge of the New Haven case, presented a list of five men for each board, acceptable to the department, who are willing to serve. Department officials were hopeful that Mr. Elliott would find no objection to men on the list, and that the trolley part of the New Haven dissolution plan would be adjusted without further conference.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Canal committee postponed until Monday further hearings on the Panama tolls exemption repeal.

Senator Chamberlain received a letter from President Wilson indorsing proposal to send American army engineer to aid in reclamation and flood work in China.

Debate began on administration bill to conserve radium lands.

HOUSE.

Debate began on omnibus pension bill.

Postoffice committee considered plans for public hearings on proposals for government ownership of telephone lines.

Judiciary committee deliberated on Park resolution for impeachment of Justice D. T. Wright of the District of Columbia supreme court.

Debate resumed on legislative appropriation bill.

Park resolution for impeachment of Justice D. T. Wright of the district supreme court favorably reported by the judiciary committee.

Army engineers reported against a proposal to deepen the Potomac for navigation from Washington to Cumberland, Md.

Secretaries Bryan and McAdoo urged a $2,000 appropriation to send delegates to the international sanitary conference at Montevideo in December.

NEW HAVEN WITNESSES ARE SILENT

Commerce Commission Will Resort to Court For Power.

Efforts to Trace Alleged Use of Millions Are Balked.

"Advice of Counsel" is Pleaded By the Officials.

Washington, April 10.—Mandamus proceedings to compel the production of books and papers to disclose financial dealings between the New Haven railroad and the Billard company will be started immediately by the interstate commerce commission.

Chief Counsel Folk announced that he would bring the proceedings probably at New Haven. His decision came at the end of a morning of examination of witnesses who refused to answer questions intended to develop evidence of dealings involving millions of dollars. Upon the advice of their attorneys they denied the right of the interstate commerce commission to inquire into the financial affairs between the company and the railroad.

When the hearing adjourned there was a probability that the testimony of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven system, might be delayed to await the outcome of the mandamus proceedings.

Further Inquiry.

Further inquiry into the financial affairs of the New Haven railroad was begun by the interstate commerce commission today after several weeks of investigation into the books of the company. The inquiry, under the direction of Commissioner McChord, is being made in compliance with a senate resolution directing the commission to develop all facts regarding the New Haven's banking connections; the purchase of its subsidiary properties, the money paid for them and the emoluments or commissions paid for negotiating the various transactions.

Commissioner McChord announced that the principal matters to be considered at present were the relations of the Billiard company to the financial operations of the New Haven.

Walker D. Hines, counsel for the present management of the New Haven, said at the opening that it was the policy of Chairman Elliott and the present management to co-operate in every way with the commission and furnish all information.

Whipple Refuses to Answer.

Harry V. Whipple, president of the Merchants' National bank of New Haven, Conn., the first witness, refused to testify as to his business relations with the Billiard company. He said he was not now a stockholder in that company, but had been up to last fall. "To whom did you sell your stock in the Billiard company?" he was asked.

"I must decline to answer that question because I regard it as an invasion of my personal rights," replied Whipple.

Judge Stoddard, counsel for the New Haven, explained Mr. Whipple's declination to reply.

"We challenge the rights and the jurisdiction of the commission," said he, "to inquire into any act of the Billiard company. Our conclusion is that such an inquiry would be beyond the scope of the commission's authority. Acting upon that conclusion, we have decided to decline to answer questions relating to such matters."

"By Advice of Counsel."

"Were there any relations between the Billiard company and the New Haven during your incumbency as treasurer of the Billiard company?" Mr. Whipple was asked.

The witness again declined to answer by advice of counsel.

"Suppose," suggested Chief Counsel Folk of the commission, "that it can be shown that the Billiard company owed the New Haven railroad many millions of dollars, do you think it would be desirable to conceal this fact, in view of the desire of the senate for the information?"

"I think," interrupted Judge Stoddard, "that the senate resolution has gone far beyond the powers either of this commission or of congress. Neither the commission nor congress has any power to investigate the relations, if any, of the Billiard company and the New Haven railroad."

WANT WISCONSIN TAXES CUT DOWN

Two-Thirds of Towns So Far Reported Favor Extra Session.

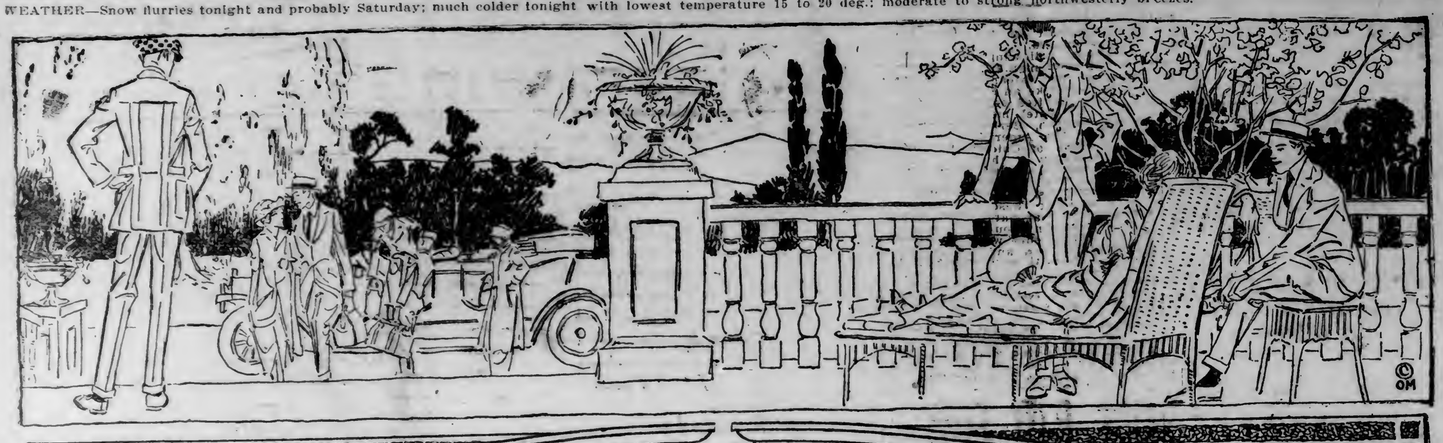
Madison, Wis., April 10.—Two-thirds of the towns of the state that have sent in their returns to Attorney General Owen thus far, favor a special session of the legislature. Every mail brings a bundle of returns, and this morning Attorney General Owen had received favorable returns from 194 towns. Ninety-nine towns sent in unfavorable returns, and in thirty-one that have thus far reported no action was taken.

Many of the returns received favoring a special session of the legislature are accompanied by letters stating the sentiment of the town meetings, and expressing the idea that the people are anxious for a special session that will eliminate any amounts not needed, so that the tax levy may be reduced.

In nearly all of the thirty-one towns where no action was taken the clerks report that the resolutions were tabled without discussion.

There are fewer than 700 towns in the state, and returns have been received from half of the towns. If the replies from the other half of the towns bear the same ratio as those from whom replies have been received, the proposition of a special session will be indorsed by nearly a two-to-one vote.

DECREASE IN THE UNFILLED TONNAGE.



New York, April 10.—The unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel corporation as of April 1 totals 4,653,825 tons, a decrease of 372,616 tons from the preceding month.

RURAL SCHOOL LEADERS ORGANIZE.

Louisville, Ky., April 10.—Permanent organization of the National Conference of State Supervisors and Inspectors of Rural Schools was effected at the closing session of the first national conference, which has been in session here the last four days. The next annual meeting of the conference probably will be held in Cincinnati in February, 1915, as a section of the superintendence department of the National Education association.

The conference here was called by P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education. Thirty-seven states were represented. The decision of the conference was that the most pressing needs in this work are "demonstration schools, state and local supervisors, consolidation of weak schools into strong centralized institutions, improvement of teachers' training, agricultural and industrial supervisors and community activities. Officers were elected as follows:

President, J. H. Binford, Richmond, Va.; vice president, W. E. Larson, Wisconsin; secretary, Lester H. Ivins, Ohio; members executive committee; T. J. Coates, Kentucky; W. H. Smith, Mississippi; C. G. Dargent, Colorado; N. C. McDonald, North Dakota, and G. W. Reaves, Missouri.

WANT TO FOSTER SOUTHERN SPIRIT.

Louisville, Ky., April 10.—A proposition for fostering the Southern spirit in the schools of the South was put forward at the closing session here of the League of Southern Writers. Mrs. Anne P. Rankin of Nashville, editor of the Southern Women's Magazine, Mrs. Rutledge Smith of Cockeville, Tenn., and other women writers advocated that text-book commissions in the various Southern states be urged to select readers for the schools which contain the best thoughts in the literature of Dixie, and histories which present historical events as affecting the South from an absolutely impartial viewpoint.

GOOD TRADE FOR EASTER

Fruits and Vegetables First Class and of Moderate Price.

Fresh Tomatoes and Onions Arrive From South and West.

Fruits and green vegetables are in exceptionally good choice and prices are reasonable. The Michigan street commission houses aver that the early Easter sale of all kinds of edibles has been liberal, with heavy shipments going out to the district towns. Dealers here prepared themselves to cope with the call that has developed by scouring the Southern markets for seasonable delicacies, and they are gratified with the success that attended their efforts.

Prices as a rule are slightly higher than last year at this time on account of the unfavorable weather that has prevailed at producing points in California and Louisiana.

Among the new features in vegetables, according to the Fitzsimmon-Palmer company, are Louisiana asparagus and California tomatoes. Texas onions are again cheaper with good receipts. Minnesota potatoes are unchanged at 65 cents a bushel, and while they are likely to sell below that figure as soon as farmers' deliveries increase with the improvement of the country roads, no decided decline is expected by the trade.

Oranges a Feature.

Oranges remain the feature in fruits. Quotations in them are unchanged today, but a slight advance in their cost is thought likely in the near future. Grapefruit is up on account of light receipts, and apples are selling higher. Box apples are said to be rapidly cleaning, and they are expected to be practically off the market within two weeks. Strawberries are not now available, attributable to cold weather in the South. The marketing of the second crop from Louisiana is not looked for before ten days.

Egg Prices Higher.

Eggs are up a cent and are now quoted at 19 to 20 cents a dozen. There has been a heavy Easter demand for them, and packers are also in the market, resulting in current supplies being fully contracted for. It is officially reported that 41,192 cases of eggs were received at New York yesterday, as compared with only 30,000 cases on the corresponding day last year. It is commented upon by the trade that eggs are now going into storage down there at 2- cents a dozen, or a cent higher than last year. It is thought, however, that the market will sell off in a few days with the extra Easter demand out of the way.

Butter Market Steady.

With the exception of dairy, which is off a cent, figures in butter are unchanged, the Bridgeman-Russell company quoting the best creamery at 26 and 27 cents; first creamery at 25 and 26 cents; imitation creamery at 21 and 22 cents, and dairy at 18 and 19 cents a pound. Butter proces are now at their lowest mark in several years. For instance, the New York figure for creamery yesterday was 26 cents a pound as compared with 37 cents last year and 34½ cents two years ago.

Cheese prices have so far held up in the face of a weak butter situation. For that, the light stocks being carried and the heavy demand through the country, is held responsible. The factories are gradually going into operation, and with the exception of twins, the market is weakening.

Light Poultry Supplies.

Poultry prices are up slightly, with supplies confined to frozen stock. Fanciers through this district are said to have disposed of practically all their available chickens last Christmas, and with hens now laying freely they do not care to kill them off. Very little live poultry is now coming in.

In meats, pork is up a cent, and quotations in beef, veal, lamb and mutton are firm and unchanged.

NEW WORLD RECORD IS MADE BY COW.

Petersboro, N. H., April 10.—By producing 1,059.59 pounds of butter fat in a year, a new world's record has been established by a Guernsey cow at the Cassatt farm at Berwyn, Pa., according to an announcement by William D. Caldwell, secretary of the Guernsey Cattle association.

The former record was held by a Holstein cow, owned by F. F. Field of Brockton, Mass., which produced 1,058 pounds of butter fat in a year.

The Cassatt cow produced 19,639.58 pounds of milk during the year. Mr. Caldwell says that the record of the cow was certified by state and government inspectors.

LOVETT QUITS THE B. & O. DIRECTORATE.

New York, April 10. — Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific Railroad company, has resigned as a director of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. W. Averhill Harriman, son of the late E. H. Harriman, was elected to succeed him.

Associates of Judge Lovett, who now is on his way home from an extended tour of the Orient, expressed the belief that his retirement from the Baltimore & Ohio is due in part to his interest in the Erie railroad, of which he is a director. The Baltimore & Ohio parallels and to an extent competes with the Erie system. In view of the sentiment now existing among railroad men regarding representation in competing lines, Judge Lovett, it is thought, deemed it advisable to withdraw from the Baltimore & Ohio board.

SULPHUROUS ACID FUMES AS MEDICINE.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 10. — By breathing sulphurous acid fumes, incipient cases of tuberculosis frequently can be cured, according to a public announcement made in the convention of the American Chemical society meeting here by Dr. Edward Gudeman of Chicago. Dr. Gudeman said that while this fact had been known for some time among certain physicians and chemists, yet the demonstrations along this line had not progressed far enough to make the announcement public until today.

TEN NURSES FOR SCHOOLS

Health Inspector Would Have Absence Through Sickness Investigated.

Nurses Would Also Act as Assistant Truant Officers.

The hiring of about ten additional visiting nurses for the public schools will be thoroughly considered at a meeting of the school board a week from tomorrow.

Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, has taken this question up with the board and believes that it would result in considerable benefit to the city. He states that it would undoubtedly materially reduce the amount of contagious disease in the city.

Under his plan nurses would have charge of three schools, enabling them to visit them every day or every other day. Every absence would be checked up, the nurse visiting the home of the absent student. Where any indications of disease were found the facts would be reported to the health department. Where no physician had been called the cases would be investigated by the health department.

With but two nurses and three medical inspectors the visits to the shools are now probably two weeks apart, making it impossible to have a close check upon those who are absent, whether through sicknes or for other causes. He states that good work is now being done, but that those now engaged in the field have altogether too much to do.

Dr. Webster states that there is no question but what contagious diseases are spread by school children. He asserts that with the closing of the schools during vacation the number of contagious disease patients invariably decreases. He is confident that with the nurses making frequent visits to the schools the amount of sickness would be little, if any, greater, during the time the schools are in session than when they are closed.

Dr. Webster pointed out further that if every absence is checked it would lessen and probably nearly wipe out truancy, for the "kids" would not take the chances they do now, when but one truant officer is obliged to look up these cases, which is a considerable contract for a single person.

TWO HEARINGS OF IMPORTANCE

Duluth Traffic Commissioner Returns From Trip to Washington.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Commercial club, returned this morning from Washington, where, in company with Julius H. Barnes, he appeared before the interstate commerce commission in several cases which are of great importance to Duluth. One was in opposition to the proposed general advance in lake and rail rates, and the other case was that in opposition to the permitting of the roads granting free storage at this point to shippers of goods through to the Twin Cities and other points in discrimination against local dealers.

Mr. Hall this morning expressed the opinion that the Duluth side of each of these cases would win. He says that a pretty full account of the salient points of the testimony in these cases has already been printed in the local newspapers in the form of dispatches from Washington, but that the reception of the Duluth men there was very cordial. The fight they put up was welcomed by the members of the interstate commerce commission, as it gave the commissioners a better insight into the conditions existing than had the cases been practically ex parte, as most of them are.

The commission will hold a hearing at St. Paul on April 20 and 21 of the complaint of the Twin Cities, asking that the recently decided cases, in which a larger spread than Duluth had asked was granted, be opened up again; and also will give an opportunity at that time to the carriers to let them show that their financial condition does not warrant lower charges.

STAND FIRM FOR THE OPEN SHOP

Builders' Exchange Members Offer Aid to Master Painters.

At a meeting of the labor committee of the builders' exchange and a committee of the Master Painters' association, held this morning, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That the labor committee of the Duluth Builders' exchange, in session with the Master Painters' association, reaffirm their stand in the continuation of the open shop policy and that the influence and support of the builders' exchange, through its labor committee, is hereby tendered to the Master Painters' association in their controversy to maintain the open shop policy;

"Resolved further, That a copy of this resolution be furnished to the daily press."

It was carried unanimously.

PROTEST FROM HOTEL OWNERS

Will Hold Meeting to Fight Proposed Prohibition Measure.

Hotel men from all parts of the country will meet at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, New York city, Tuesday, April 14, for the purpose of protesting against a resolution introduced in the house and senate providing for nation wide prohibition.

Several Duluth hotel managers expect to attend.

The annual meeting of the Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit association of United States and Canada will take place at the Waldorf at the same time, celebrating its thirty-fifth anniversary. Luncheons and banquets at the Waldorf and New Hotel Biltomore for the entertainment of the delegates have been arranged.

On Thursday following the special meeting, 175 hotel men and their wives will sail on the steamship George Washington to make an European tour. This tour has excited considerable interest abroad. Hotel men of London, Frankfort, Munich, Berlin and Paris, will entertain the Americans.

Percy Andreae of Chicago, will address the meeting of the Hotel Protective association on the issue presented to the hotel men by the prohibition amendments. The association is protesting against these amendments on the grounds that nation wide prohibitory legislation would be an unwarranted interference with the rights of American citizens, and the usurpation by the Federal government of a domestic question belonging to the several states, besides being an unwarranted attempt to restrict the personal rights of guests when staying at hotels. Mr. Andreae's recent address in New York on "Personal Liberty," which attracted widespread attention on the part of leading statesmen and educators, led to his selection by the hotel men to address their meeting.

WILL BID FOR ROAD NO. 4

St. Louis County End of St. Vincent Road May Be Begun Soon.

Sealed proposals for the construction of state rural highway, No. 4, also known as the St. Louis county portion of the Duluth-St. Vincent road, will be opened by County Auditor Odin Halden tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders.

The approximate amount of the work of construction of the proposed highway is as follows: The construction of thirty-two miles of highway, of which about one-half is through swampy land, and one-half through upland, involves grubbing and clearing of the whole right-of-way; 94,000 cubic yards of ditching; 38,000 cubic yards of turnpiking; 18,000 cubic yards of earth to be dumped upon the road where the highway traverses swamp; 13,500 cubic yards of excavation, cut and fill work; 37,000 cubic yards of graveling and the building of seventy-four culverts.

The estimated cost of the work exclusive of engineering expenses is approximately $112,500. The work is located between the intersection of the Culver road with the Miller trunk road, as an eastern terminus, and the westerly limits of St. Louis county, as a western terminus. The contracts for the building of the bridges have already been let.

Proposals will be received on one or more sections or schedules of the work or for the entire work. The auditor, however, reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Bids were called for twice before but all the proposals were rejected because they were too high in the opinion of the county road engineer.

When the road is completed it will be one of the finest highways in the state. It will be invaluable to the farmers of the Floodwood farming district as it will open up the first direct route from Floodwood to Duluth.

DULUTH IS THE BUSIEST CITY

Louis Oreck Reports a Lull in Business in the West.

"Duluth is the busiest city in the country."

That is the opinion of Louis Oreck, who returned yesteday with Mrs. Oreck and his two boys after spending three months visiting points of interest in Washington, Oregon, California, New Mexico and Old Mexico.

"Business is dead in all of the principal cities of the Pacific coast, with the possible exception of Seattle," said Mr. Oreck. "Thousands of men are idle and hundreds of families in destitute circumstances in the cities of Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities. Industry is at a standstill, and many merchants with whom I talked said that they were willing to sell out at a loss of 50 cents on the dollar."

Duluth, he said, is receiving a large amount of advertising in the West, and is being looked upon as the coming metropolis of the Middle West.

DISMISSES CHARGES AGAINST T. R. BANGS

Well Known Grand Forks Attorney Held Not Guilty.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The charges against Tracy R. Bangs, the well known local attorney, of bribing jurors to bring about the acquittal of McLain Cooper tried here for murder were dismissed today by Justice of the Peace Phil Loughlin before whom the sensational charges against Bangs and others have been heard.

The judge, however, deemed the charges against J. C. Mahon, also accused, of sufficient strength to warrant holding him for trial.

With this action by Justice McLoughlin, the preliminary round in the sensational cases is concluded, except for the hearing of Harry J. Cooper, father of the man alleged to have benefitted by the briberies. Mr. Cooper probably will be arraigned Saturday or early next week. His hearing has been delayed because he has been absent on his honeymoon.

The specific charges against the four men already held for trial are: J. C. Mahon, making an agreement to pay a bribe; J. C. Stevens, juryman, agreeing to receive $3,000 bribe; Richard Bruyere, juryman, agreeing to receive $3,000 bribe and of actually receiving $30; J. A. Sullivan, bailiff, charged with bribery as go-between.

Other Arrests Threatened.

Since the sensational charge was made against Bruyere yesterday, in which the names of John Fadden and W. A. Scouten were included as having agreed to give the bribe, rumors have been rampant as to prospective action by the prosecution, but State's Attorney Burtness declares that no new warrants have been issued.

Expenditures that have been made by the county in connection with the investigation by the Pinkerton detectives, will be scrutinized by the board of county commissioners, if the appearance of Attorney F. B. Feetham before the board yesterday brings results.

Mr. Feetham charges that the state's attorney has made expenditures that are unwarranted by law, and he insists that payment on a $1,000 warrant, recently drawn in favor of the detective agency, be held up.

The term of the district court at which the trials of the several defendants will take place, is scheduled during the early part of June.

Word "Duluth" Now Makes Eastern Capitalists Take Notice.

Harry Baker, a former resident of Duluth, but now engaged in the real estate business in Detroit, is back here for a few days. Although his business and home are in Detroit, the former Duluthian declares that Duluth looks like about the best city on the map.

"Down at Detroit the capitalists believe that Duluth has one of the greatest futures of any city in the country," said Mr. Baker. "We come into contact with some of the officials of the Steel corporation, as we are selling lots at the location of one of the new steel plants, and the officials declare that the future of Duluth is greater than a majority of the citizens of this city realize.

"The rate decision has gained a wide amount of publicity for Duluth among business men and investors, and when Duluth is mentioned there is an interested inquiry."

Minot Cocaine Ring.

Minot, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minot police have unearthed an alleged cocaine ring and have called in United States Marshal Shea to take charge of the prosecution of the alleged law violators.

In a raid made by local officials, Rena Manning and Lulu Cook, both colored, alleged leaders in the ring, were taken into custody. The officials have warrants for others which may be served within a day or two.

NO MORE TIME TO FIGHT CENSORSHIP

Film Company's Plea for Extension Denied By Court.

Toledo, Ohio, April 10.—Further time in which to appeal from the decision of Federal Judge Day of Cleveland, upholding Ohio's picture film censorship law, has been denied the Mutual Film corporation of Cleveland by Federal Judge Killits of Toledo. Attorney H. T. Clark of Cleveland, representing the film manufacturing company, sought a temporary restraining order from Judge Killits to further delay activities of the Ohio board of censors, pending an appeal to the higher court.

NEAR AGREEMENT IN IOWA MINES.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 10.—Preliminary work on the new wage contract between the coal operators of the Iowa district and the miners was expected to be completed at today's session, and a recess of ten days taken. President W. H. Rogers of District No. 13, United Mine Workers of America, announced the establishment of a legal department, with John L. Clarkson of Albia in charge. The purpose of the department is to look after the interests of injured workmen.

MISSOURI PEACHES DAMAGED $250,000

Other Fruits Also Suffered From Cold, the Experts Say.

Springfield, Mo., April 10.—Leading horticulturists of the Ozark fruit belt today said the freezing temperatures of the last three nights had damaged the peach crop in this section to the extent of $250,000. This estimate was made after an examination of peach buds in many orchards. Much damage also was done to other fruits, the experts said.

The minimum temperature here early today was 32 degrees.

Your Easter Finery Here!

What is smarter—different from anything else? A "Silberstein" Hat

That Fascinating Easter Hat Here!

OUR MILLINERY SALON is full of the prettiest Hats you ever saw,—one would imagine oneself in a Paris shop.

Many Ribbon and Wing trimmed Millinery. Not for many seasons have ribbons or wings played so important a part in the trimming of hats.

Of course, it's quite easy to understand. Ribbon has been made into so many curious fancies—fan-shaped pleatings, for instance, an idea originating in the Orient; and knots and loops and stalks, and cleverly wired bows. And the new "cire" ribbon, with its wax-like polish, has made many friends. It slips into the most bewitching bows and trimmings under the fingers of the Silberstein Millinery Artists.

Many women may ask themselves, can we get such smart Paris-like Hats as low as

$7.50 or $10.00

Why, of course, you can; just take elevator to our Millinery Salon on Third Floor.

All Easter Hats bought tomorrow will be delivered on time for Easter Sunday's wear.

GOOD FRIDAY IS OBSERVED

Nearly All Churches in Duluth Hold Special Services.

Anniversary of Christ's Crucifixion Calls Forth Deep Solemnity.

Today—Good Friday—is the anniversary of the crucifixion of Christ and marks the high tide of Lenten solemnity just as Easter marks the high tide joy and new life. Appropriate services were held in many of the Duluth churches today and evening services are scheduled to occur tonight. The tone of the services today was devotional although special musical programs featured services in some of the churches.

Episcopal Services.

At St. Paul's Episcopal church services were held at 10 o'clock this morning and from 12 to 3 o'clock this afternoon. The morning meeting was in the nature of a prayer service. This afternoon the service began with a period of silent prayer and was followed by a series of short sermons by the rector, Dr. A. W. Ryan, on the "Last Seven Words of Our Lord." Fix minutes was taken to each word. The three-hour service represents the period which Christ spent upon the cross. During this meeting members of the congregation are allowed to come and go at will.

At Trinity pro-cathedral services were conducted at 10 a. m. and from 12 m. to 3 p. m. as at St. Paul's.

At St. Peter's Episcopal church English service was conducted at 10:30 a. m. and services in Swedish will be held at 8 tonight.

Services at Christ's Episcopal church at Proctor were held from 2 to 3 o'clock this afternoon.

In Catholic Churches.

The program for the Catholic churches was as follows:

Cathedral of the Sacred Heart—9 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 7:30 p. m., tenebrae.

St. Anthony de Padua church (German)—8 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 7:30 p. m., simple devotion.

St. Clement's church—9 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 7:30 p. m., tenebrae and passion sermon.

St. James church—8:30 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 7:45 p. m., stations of the cross and sermon.

St. Jean Baptiste church (French)—9 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 3 p. m., English sermon and stations of the cross; 7:30 p. m., passion sermon in French.

St. Joseph's National Polish Catholic church—9 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 8 p. m., passion sermon.

St. Mary's Star of the Sea church (Polish)—9 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 8 p. m., singing of psalms and passion sermon.

St. Peter's church (Italian)—8:30 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 7:30 p. m., passion sermon.

St. Peter's and St. Paul's church (Polish)—7:30 a. m., mass of the presanctified; 7:30 p. m., passion sermon.

In Protestant Churches.

The First M. E. church is now holding a series of evangelistic meetings and for that reason Dr. Hoffman will not hold a special Good Friday service as is customary at this church.

At the Endion M. E. church special services will be held tonight at 8 o'clock under the direction of the pastor, Dr. William Forney Hovis. The feature of the service will be the reception of forty-two candidates for membership and the baptismal ceremonies. These candidates for membership took the vows at a meeting last night.

Devotional services will be held at the Pilgrim Congregational church at 7:45 o'clock tonight, and Dr. Charles N. Thorp, the pastor, will preach on "The Inscription on the Cross." Appropriate hymns will be sung. The communion service was observed last evening and was largely attended.

Dr. Robert Yost, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will conduct Good Friday services tonight at which the story of "The Cross, the Crucifixion and the Christ" will be told. There will be no sermon nor announcements.

At the Second Presbyterian church the pastor, Rev. John Allen McGaughey, will preach on "Resignation to the Divine Will" at a special service tonight.

Union Services.

The Swedish Mission, Swedish Methodist, Swedish Baptist and Norwegian-Danish Methodist churches held joint services at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, at 10:30 today. Special choir music had been arranged. Rev. H. A. Ofstie, pastor of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, delivered the principal sermon. He was assisted by Rev. J. J. Daniels, Rev. Swaney Nelson and Rev. C. W. R. Wermine.

Communion services will be held at tonight's services.

Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will close his revival services, which have been in progress for two weeks, in the church tonight with a lecture on "The Power of the Cross."

According to Rev. Mr. Silloway, the services have attracted large crowds and the attendance during the last week has been considerably more han at previous meetings.

"What Is a Christian?" was his subject last night.

Rev. Carl G. Olson, pastor of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, conducted special services this morning at 10:30 o'clock. The pastor spoke on "The Crucifixion of Christ." Rev. Mr. Olson will conduct services at Alborn, Minn., tonight.

Services in other churches will be held tonight as follows:

St. John's English Lutheran church ,services 8 p. m.

First Swedish Lutheran church, 10 a. m. high mass.

St. Paul's English Lutheran church, 8 p. m., holy communion.

First Norwegian Lutheran church, 8 p. m., union services.

CHASE WOLF OVER ICE WITH AUTO

Warroad Party Give Animal Lively Time for Score of Miles.

Warroad, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Marvin had rather an exciting as well as novel experience last Sunday. With a party of friends out on the lake in his new auto they were having a joy ride, when they sighted a wolf a short distance from the shore.

Mr. Marvin started after the animal and gave it a fast chase for about an hour, covering twenty-two miles. After changing the wolf's course several times he was finally driven back into Roseau county. The car was brought up alongside of him and the wolf was shot by a member of the party.

BEMIDJI PREACHER WEDS THREE COUPLES.

Bemidji, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three wedding ceremonies in an hour and a quarter was the record of Rev. S. E. P. White, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wednesday afternoon. At 2 o'clock he married Charles B. Lowry of Kelliher to Miss Sarah Jackson of McIntosh at the Presbyterian manse; at 2:30 o'clock he married Frank Bell of Funkley to Miss Elma Fisher at the home of Attorney Henry Funkley, and at 3:15 he married Leonard Dickinson of Wadena, father of Ray Dickinson of Buena Vista, to Mrs. Mary E. Trask, mother of H. R. Trask, at the Trask home, 1004 America avenue.

DULUTH AMAZES EXPERT SALESMAN

Newspaper Readers' Response to Ads Unusual—Other Things Astonishing.

B. C. Kussman, "The Truth Man," who has been engaged in selling the W. & L. shoe store stock, likes Duluth and is amazed at it. He is amazed over various phases of it, in fact. One thing is over the influence of the newspapers in attracting buyers.

"I've used newspaper advertising in a lot of places," said Mr. Kussman, "but I have never before—not even in the Twin Cities—noticed such a respohse to ads. And, in addition to this, the advertising rates here are so remarkably low for the results they produce that it is nothing short of astonishing. The advertising rates in the Twin Cities are three times as much and the ads do not produce the results those of Duluth do.

"Duluth in general, I find, is a better business city than most. It is one of the livest places I have seen in years and seems to contain a greater spirit of progress than most cities. I believe it is destined to be a great city, and before very long, too."

St. Clair Church Burns.

Mankato, Minn., April 10.—Fire completely destroyed the Catholic church at St. Clair Wednesday, involving a loss of $7,000 with $3,000 insurance. The fire is thought to have started from a defective furnace. Villagers saved the furniture and pictures.

RICE STATUE CONTRACT.

Marble Figure for Statuary Hall of Minnesota Senator Ordered.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—The H. M. Rice memorial statue commission has reported to Governor Eberhart the placing of a contract for a statue of H. M. Rice, the first United States senator sent from Minnesota. Mr. Rice served from 1858 to 1863. The statue will be placed in statuary hall at Washington.

The last legislature appropriated $7,500 for the work. F. E. Triebel, formerly of Stillwater, now of College Point, Long Island, will do the work for $7,000.

The statue is to be of Italian marble and the figure seven feet high on a pedestal three feet high. The statue will show Senator Rice attired in frock suit.

DRUMMER RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

East Grand Forks, Minn., April 10.—O. C. Quale of Sioux City, Iowa, was run down by an automobile driven by A. B. Hess of Crookston, here Wednesday night and sustained internal injuries. Quale is a traveling salesman for a packing company.

ONE OF LANGHORNE BEAUTIES IS DEAD

Mrs. Perkins Survives Her Husband Only Two Weeks.

New York, April 10.—Mrs. T. Moncure Perkins, one of the famous Langhorne beauties, died suddenly last night at the home of her sister here, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, wife of the artist.

Mrs. Perkins was visiting from her home in Richmond, Va., and had been in this city about four days. She expected to return to Virginia on Saturday. Mr. Gibson said that she had apparently enjoyed excellent health while here until early last evening, when she was stricken with apoplexy. Three hours later she died. As soon as she was stricken another sister, Mrs. Paul Phipp, was called and remained until the end.

Mrs. Perkins was 47 years old. Her husband died two weeks ago in Richmond. Mrs. Perkins is survived by three children, C. D. Langhorne Perkins and two daughters, May and Alice. Another of her siters was Mrs. Nannie Langhorne Shaw, and is the wife of Waldorf Astor.

The body will be taken to Richmond.

WILL MARK EGGS.

North Dakota Organization to Assure Patrons Fresh Ones.

Mott, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Guaranteeing every egg and standardizing the products will secure a big market for Hettinger county eggs, according to the members of the recently organized Poultrymen's association. It is asserted the product can be disposed of direct to the consumers and a great deal better profits made to the producer while the consumer will also secure his supplies cheaper. Each member of the association must stamp his eggs with a certain number, and if any eggs are not up to the standard they can easily be traced back. The Creamery association, the members of which are practically all members of the poultry organization, will look after the sales and the storage of the surplus supplies. Arrangements have been made with a labor organization in one large Eastern city to take forty cases of eggs daily.

SECTIONAL GARAGE MAN PROVED FRAUD.

Detroit, Mich., April 10.—Charles H. Manley of Detroit was convicted of fraudulent use of the mails by a jury in United States district court here last night. He was sentenced to four years in the house of correction. The government charged that Manley advertised a sectional garage, and accepted first payments from persons in various parts of the country, but failed to produce the garage.

GASOLINE NEARING 40-CENTS A GALLON.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 10. — Prof. Benjamin T. Brooks, in an address before the American Chemical society here, declared that gasoline is approaching the 40 cents a gallon mark, where alcohol will be an active competitor for use by automobilists.

He estimated the present American production of gasoline at 1,050,000,000 gallons and declared this is behind the demand made on it by motor vehicles, dry cleaners and various industries. To replace this amount of gasoline by 96 per cent alcohol made from corn would require 450,000,000 bushels, Prof. Brooks said.

$1,000,000 SAVED TO POSTOFFICE.

Washington, April 10.—Economies effected by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blakeslee during the first year of his administration saved the government $1,000,000, according to figures announced by Postmaster General Burleson.

The replacing of the old-fashioned mail locks with new and lighter locks is said to have resulted in a saving of $200,000; $65,000 was saved by using canvas instead of leather pouches; reduction in office employes netted $143,000, and the manufacture and purchase of canceling machines $100,000.

Iron River Still "Wet."

Iron River, Wis., April 10.—Iron River retains its eleven saloons, the "wets" winning by thirty votes in the no license battle.

The doll is probably the most antique of toys. It has been found inside the graves of the children of ancient Rome.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Agent, Wirth's drug store, 13 West Superior street.

PLAN PROHIBITION FIGHT IN MICHIGAN

Persistent Rumors Are Partly Confirmed at Lansing.

Lansing, Mich., April 10.—Persistent reports circulated about the capital that the anti-liquor forces of Michigan have determined to begin their long-threatened fight for state-wide prohibition by attempting to control both branches of the next state legislature, are partly confirmed.

No official statement was issued, but a man who has been prominent in more than one local option fight said he understood a number of prohibition leaders, including several ministers, have agreed to become candidates for the legislature, provided they are assured of the united support in their districts of voters who favor state-wide prohibition.

Rev. W. S. Steensma, an East Lansing minister, has announced his candidacy on the Progressive ticket for state senator from the Fourteenth district.

TOLLS KNELL OF CONGRESS

Senator Cummins Says It Has Been Obliterated By Wilson.

Denounces Tariff and Predicts G. O. P.-Bull Moose Union.

Chicago, April 10.—United States Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa here last night criticized the Democratic administration, defined his stand on the tolls repeal bill, pronounced the Republican party the true progressives, and blamed the Republican national committee for the Democratic victory of 1912. He was the chief speaker at the Appomattox day celebration of the Hamilton club.

Democratic defeat at the next national election, Senator Cummins predicted, would be effected by Republicans and Progressives united as the Republican party, and embracing a platform of progressive doctrines.

In dealing with the record of the Democratic administration, Senator Cummins declared it unnecessary to speak of congress.

Congress "Obliterated."

"The president has, for the time being, obliterated that ancient and once powerful department of the government," he said. "When, therefore, I speak of the Democratic administration, I mean Woodrow Wilson. The overthrow of representative government does not seem to have excited alarm, but the day will come when the country will understand better than it does now how vital it is to preserve independence of legislative authority.

"The president passed the tariff law. The Republican tariff of 1909 was too high. We ought to have reduced it, but we did not; and are now suffering the consequences of our folly. The fact that our tariff was much too high furnishes no defense for the extraordinary compound of ignorance and indifference which this administration has fastened upon the country. It acknowledges no economic principles, but its crowning injustice is in its rank, deliberate discriminations."

The Panama canal tolls exemption repeal probably will pass the senate, according to Senator Cummins.

Tolls Repeal Controversy.

"There are two entirely distinct and independent questions involved in this controversy," he said. "The first concerns a domestic policy, and with it no foreign nation has a right to interfere, and we would be a craven people if we permitted even the suggestion of interference. That is, if we had no treaty obligations, is it wise, is it fair to the whole country, to give coastwise boats free passage through the canal? My answer is 'no.' I believe these ships ought to pay their just proportion of the expense of maintaining and operating the canal.

"The second question concerns our rights under the treaty. To that I would say there is nothing in the treaty, nothing in the understanding of the treaty at the time it was made, that in any way restricts or limits our absolute sovereignty in this regard; and the man who is willing to accept the construction as made by Great Britain, or yield to the still more ignominious condition involved in assenting to the demand made by the president, is willing to pay a higher price for the friendship of that great country than I am willing to pay for the favor of the whole world.

He Is Appalled.

"It is impossible for me to understand the intellectual processes of those who insist that our contract with Great Britain denies us the essential privilege of regulating our domestic trade. To repeal the exemption clause under the message of the president, and to meet the attitude which a foreign nation has assumed without a reassertion of our power over coastwise shipping, is to put the British construction on the treaty forever. I am appalled when I think of the consequencees of that interpretation!

"If it is the correct one, then it would have been for better if we had never entered upon the mighty enterprise. It binds us to an obligation that a nation with the least sense of self-respect cannot and will not observe."

The Republican defeat of 1912, Senator Cummins declared, had been the result of some of the leaders' failure to heed the voice of the rank and file of the party.

"We suffered defeat and disaster," he said, "because some of the men clothed with the power of office refused to grapple with their problems.

"The unfair, unjust representation of the South, and the overthrow of the primary laws, were two of the great factors which brought about the disintegration which followed."

SAY COAL WAS TAXED IN CARGO

Island Creek Company Denies Charges of Delinquency.

Seeking the abatement of $726 worth of its personal property taxes on the grounds that a certain cargo of coal had been placed on the assessment rolls on May 1 last before it had reached this port and while it was still in a vessel on the Great Lakes, the Island Creek Coal Dock company yesterday filed an answer to the delinquent tax proceedings instituted against it in district court.

The amount of the tax was $3,267. The company admits that $2,541 is due as a personal tax on its other holdings and declares that this sum was tendered to the county treasurer before March 1, but that the treasurer refused to accept it as payment in full. The court is asked to abate the extra tax of $726.

The company also denies that it was the owner of the coal in dispute, but alleges that the fuel was unloaded on its docks and stored there for the owner.

TWO BETRAYED BY OPIUM RING.

New York, April 10.—Betrayed by the Chinese opium ring, Hugo Grobe, until recently second officer of a German liner, and John Eyckman, a hotel proprietor, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the government by smuggling opium into the country. Each was sentenced to serve one year and a day in the penitentiary. They had attempted to sell the opium to persons not connected with the "ring."

Even Cobblestones Won't Jar Baby In a Guaranteed Sidway Carriage

HOW would you like to be jarred and bumped on your tender, delicate little spine while being pushed over a rough walk or road? That's what happens in an ordinary baby carriage, because it has just ordinary seat-springs.

If mother had you cosily tucked in a roomy Sidway Baby Carriage, you would feel as though you were riding on a cloud.

The Sidway Long-Leaf Suspension Spring makes the Sidway the only bumpless, jarless, jogless baby carriage made. As baby grows this suspension spring can be regulated in its tension, to correspond with the baby's weight.

Sidway GUARANTEED Gives You Strongest Guarantee Ever Made On a Baby Carriage

This Name on the Frame of Every Genuine

If you have a Sidway, you and everybody else knows your baby is riding in the best baby carriage in the world, famous for its superb elegance in design and workmanship, and for its exclusive, practical features. Every Sidway has attached to it a guarantee that the manufacturers, the largest makers of baby carriages in the world, will replace any part that wears out or breaks within two years.

The special grade Fabrikoid Leather made exclusively for, and used exclusively on, the Sidway, is included in this guarantee, and in addition carries the guarantee of the DuPont Fabrikoid Co., sole makers of Fabrikoid.

The tires on every Sidway are not made of the ordinary composition, but of real, live rubber. It is also the roomy carriage, with the greatest bed length and width.

You pay no more for a "Sidway" than for many unguaranteed carriages which are neither so elegant, nor so gentle in their glorious, easy riding. Made in various styles by the Sidway Mercantile Co., Elkhart, Ind.

PASSOVER TO BE OBSERVED

Jews Will Celebrate Feast in Home and Synagogue.

Special Services Planned for Orthodox and Reform Jews.

Beginning at sundown tonight Duluth Jews will unite in observing the Feast Passover, or Pesach, which will continue for one week, ending Saturday, April 18.

At Temple Emanuel the congregation will hold a public Seder for all the members. The feast will be followed by the regular Haggadah service, which characterizes the observance of the opening nights of Passover. This service includes many chants and tales of the despotic rule of Pharoah, the flight of Moses and the Jews from the land of Egypt and the wanderings of this race for forty years. The children of the local Sunday school have been trained in the singing of the songs and they will also take part in the evening's program.

At the close of the Passover service, Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits will deliver a short talk, explaining the significance of this holiday. He also plans to call on several prominent members of the congregation for short talks.

Orthodox Jews observe the Seder in their own homes, where the feast is made the most important of the year. It also marks the home-coming and reunion of the members of a family. They will also observe Seder tomorrow evening, while the reformed Jews hold the feast on only one evening. During the week matzah or unleavened bread is eaten in place of the usual variety.

At Adath Israel synagogue there will be special Passover services tomorrow and Sunday morning and the following Friday and Saturday mornings. Next Friday evening Dr. Lefkovits will conduct a Passover service.

MAYO LAYS CANCER TO WAYS OF COOKING

Rochester Surgeon Talks at Meeting Held in New York.

New York, April 10.—A statement by Dr. William J. Mayo that the prevalence of cancer perhaps is traceable to present methods of cooking was to the laymen one of the salient points in a maze of technical decisions at the opening of the American Surgical association's annual convention yesterday. Dr. Mayo is a delegate from Rochester, Minn., and president of the association. He explained that cancer of the stomach formed a third of all cancer cases among civilized peoples. He asked:

"Is there some fundamental fault in the food or in the cooking of civilized men that gives such a preponderance to cancerous conditions in the gastric canal? Among the lower animals cancer of the stomach does not form nearly such a large proportion of the total number of cases."

Connected With Meat Diet.

Dr. Mayo said that the amount of meat consumed undoubtedly had something to do with the prevalence of cancer. He then explained other forms of cancer, among them cancer of the mouth among the natives of India, brought on by an irritation due to chewing betel nuts. Cancer of the groin, according to Dr. Mayo, is confined almost entirely to chimney sweeps and sailors.

During a discussion about the advisability of operating for appendicitis, Dr. James F. Moore of Minneapolis said that he felt that the removal of the appendix was "an interference with the designs of the Lord." Dr. A. Gerster, a New York surgeon, replied that if this were true, all surgery would have to be regarded as an interference with Providence. The discussion followed a paper on the "Two Stage Operation," read by George Crile of Evanston, Ohio.

In Position of Patient.

"We must put ourselves in the position of our patient," continued Dr. Gerster. "If I had to undergo an operation I would rather take a little extra risk to get it over with one clip."

The present convention is preliminary to the International Congress of Surgeons, which will meet here Monday with representatives from all parts of the United States and most of the European countries. Fifty of the foreign delegates arrived on the steamship Imperator yesterday.

ITALIAN ARMY BALLOON BURNS.

Milan, Italy, April 10.—The dirigible balloon "Citta di Milano," which was built by public subscription and presented to the army, was entirely destroyed yesterday. The balloon landed near Milan on account of damage to her motor. Almost immediately a crowd gathered, and notwithstanding the warnings of the officers aboard, some one imprudently lighted a cigar. A tremendous explosion resulted, in which fifty persons were injured, two of them seriously. Flames completed the destruction of the craft.

This is the first accident to any Italian dirigible.

MAINE REPUBLICANS TURN TEDDY DOWN

Also Adopt Platform Criticizing the Wilson Administration.

Augusta, Me., April 10.—A move to have the Republican state convention recommend the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as a candidate for president in 1916 met with failure. A resolution to that end, adopted by the Republican caucus of the town of Yarmouth, was offered as an amendment to the platform, but was declared out of order.

The platform as adopted condemns the national Democratic administration for what is declared to be "its hurried surrender to Great Britain in the matter of the Panama canal; its violation of platform pledges," and "its vague, vacillating policy in dealing with conditions in Mexico." National prohibition is favored.

The Underwood tariff law is characterized as "unjustly sectional and a menace to our industries."

A workmen's compensation law, a law limiting the work of women and children in factories to fifty-four hours a week, woman suffrage, ballot reform and a presidential preference primary are advocated.

$500,000 for Fair.

Washington, April 10.—A bill to appropriate $500,000 for a government exhibit building at the San Francisco exposition, in accordance with President Wilson's suggestion, was favorably reported to the house by the industrial arts and exposition committee.

Case, President, Resigns.

Racine, Wis., April 10.—Announcement is made at the local offices of the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company, that Frederick Robinson, vice president of the corporation, had tendered his resignation and left on a trip abroad. No reason for his retirement from the office of the big concern was given.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

NUREMBERG, Germany, saved its citizens $2,300,000 in the cost of meat during the year 1913. Statistics made public show that the fifteen retail shops maintained by the city sold only 4.3 per cent of the meat locally consumed last year. Thus, about 15,400 of Nuremberg's 358,000 population received the benefits of the city's sales of meat at cost price.

The city's statistics show, taking the lowest price prevailing at the regular meat markets, that on an average the city sold beef at least 4 cents, pork 3 cents and veal 2½ cents per pound cheaper than the regular butcher.

Duluth has no meat markets operated by the municipality, but an inspector visits them from time to time to regulate sanitary conditions. This has nothing to do with the prices which are charged, but is one of the various activities of the city to protect the health of the community.

Firemen Kept Busy.
Three grass fires and a small blaze at 225 Eleventh avenue east kept the fire department busy yesterday afternoon. The first blaze occurred early in the afternoon at Twenty-first avenue east and Greysolon road and another shortly after at Twenty-first avenue and London road, where the grass caught fire. The third grass fire was at Fifty-first avenue east and London road about 5 o'clock. The blaze at 225 Eleventh avenue east was started by sparks from the chimney and caused a damage of about $10.

Story of Crucifixion.
The story of "The Cross, the Christ and the Sacrifice" will be given at the First Presbyterian church tonight, the service beginning at 8 p. m. Appropriate hymns will be sung but no sermon will be preached nor any announcements made. Dr. Robert Yost will conduct the service.

Big Army of Lodgers.
There were 129 lodgers at police headquarters last night. It is believed by the local authorities that this is the largest number ever cared for at the station. When they left the station, the men formed a line that extended from Second avenue east to Lake avenue.

Case Is Postponed.
The case of Gus Maki against August Moison, proprietor of the Main hotel, 328 Lake avenue south, from whom the plaintiff is seeking to recover $150 he claims was stolen when he was at the hotel on March 17, was put over until tomorrow. The case is being tried before a jury and the postponement was made because the municipal court is closed today, Good Friday.

Denies Assaulting Mother.
John Mainella, 19 years old, who was yesterday afternoon arrested on a charge of assault, preferred against him by his aged mother, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court this morning. His trial was set for 10 o'clock Monday morning, bail being fixed at $500. Mainella was a former inmate at the state home for deaf at Faribault. He lives with his mother at 1101 West Superior street.

Denies Stealing Coal.
Charles Berg, 21 years old, who was taken into custody yesterday afternoon by Special Officer Dill on a charge of stealing 100 pounds of coal from the Omaha yards, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court this morning. His trial was set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and bail was fixed at $20.

Go to Reformatory.
Anton Kutcher and Eli Mannie, both of whom have been convicted of the crime of grand larceny in the range division of the district court at Virginia, will be taken by a deputy sheriff tomorrow to the state reformatory at St. Cloud. The prisoners are now in the custody of Sheriff Meining at the county jail.

Ontario Intervenes.
W. H. Hoyt returned this morning from Washington, where he was appearing before the international joint waterways commission to protest the raising of the level of Lake Superior by the proposed damming of the Soo river. It turns out that the province of Ontario has complicated things by demanding that it be given one-third of the profits of the Algoma company's power, claiming that under provincial law, it has to be consulted in all matters of riparian rights. The province thus comes in as an intervenor and the application is rather complicated at present.

Board Is Organized.
The general advisory board of the minimum wage commission met this morning at the Commercial club rooms with Miss Eliza Evans of St. Paul, a member of the commission, and organized. W. J. McCabe was chosen permanent chairman and Miss Evans, secretary. Three committees were appointed, as follows: Room, board and clothes, apprenticeship and education, miscellaneous. As the persons appointed on these committees have not all been consulted as to their acceptance, the personnel is not announced.

Will Hold Luncheon.
A Linnaea Branch luncheon will be held Saturday from 11 to 2 o'clock at the K. P. hall, 118 West Superior street. Musical numbers will be rendered between 12 and 1 o'clock and Miss Edna Meeker, secretary of the Duluth Associated Charities, will give a ten-minute talk on "Love and Service." The chaperones follow: Mesdames Josef Lonegren, Andrew Nelson, Louis Nelson, O. Olson and A. Johnson.

THE MISTAKES OF FAMOUS WRITERS

Anachronisms Are Common in the Works of Illustrious Novelists, Poets and Playwrights.

Japan Mail: A popular writer was recently expatiating on the strange errors of famous literary men.

Trillope, for instance, tells us that Andy Scott "came whistling up the street with a cigar in his mouth." Jules Verne, in "Around the World in Eighty Days," would have us believe that his hero arrives triumphantly at his club just as the clock strikes ten minutes to 12. It was a Paris journal that described the discovery of a naked body in the Siene with ten sous in his waistcoat pocket, which is on a par with Defoe's statement that Robinson Crusoe, before undressing to swim to the wreck, took care to fill his pockets with biscuits, while in "Don Quixote" Sancho goes on riding his ass after that animal's death.

In "King Solomon's Mines" Rider Haggard describes the famous eclipse of the sun as taking place at new instead of at full moon, and Walter Besant in "The Children of Gibeon," sets astronomy at defiance and makes the moon rise in the east at 2 a. m., whereas it must have been noted by all that the new moon rises in the west. In this connection the author went on to state that even Wolfe's "Burial of Sir John Moore" is wanting, as an inquisitive astronomer took the trouble to work back, and found that "the struggling moonbeam's misty light" was a myth, as there was no moon at all to struggle on the night in question.

Scott, in "Ivanhoe," makes a knight of Richard I converse with a contemporary of William the Conqueror, Richard's great grand-father, and in "The Newcomes" Clive dates a letter 183—and asks: "Why have we no picture of the sovereign and her august consort from Smee's brush?" forgetting that there was no prince consort until 1840.

The anarchronisms of Shakespeare were no less amusing. In "King John" cannon boom, although there were no cannon to boom until 150 years later. Printing is referred to in Henry II, although there was no printing until the seventh Henry's time. Clocks are spoken of in Julius Caesar, and he does not hesitate to include a billiard table as part of the furniture of Cleopatra's house! This reminds us of the teapot in the Mayflower museum that, to quote Max O'Rell, "was brought across by the fathers fifty years before tea became known in England."

New York Times: A metropolitan daily recently published an editorial article lamenting the passing of the old-time bunco men. The times have endured a vast change, more perceptible in manners than in morals, and in the new, unwritten code of etiquette there is much that is deplorable in the opinion of those who still cherish some of the finer instincts. A "gentleman of the old school" is so seldom encountered in these days that wherever one survives he is made the subject of comment, and it may be significant that the dominant note of that comment is invariably one of wholesome admiration.

The disappearance of the old-school gentleman has been observed even in the highways and byways of crime. The bunco man, the affable, courteous and peaceable person "who swindled like a gentleman and robbed like a Chesterfield" is no longer prominent in our midst. He has become almost as rare as hen's teeth, and tomorrow he will probably be as extinct as the dodo. In his place has come the brutal gunman of the gang and the furtive worker of cheap and tawdy graft. And our distinguished contemporary emits a gentle sigh over the vulgar decadence of one of the very oldest of the fine arts.

Of course, "bunco steering" and its allied industries formed only a highly civilized development of the original art. The earliest robbers among our primitive ancestors worked by an elementary system and depended wholly upon brute force. For some thousands of years there was no need of being polite about a holdup job or any little matter that involved a sudden and passionate transfer of personal property. It was not the custom, and no one thought of such trimmings on a simple occupation that for a long time was the prevalent industry. But eventually the superior robbers became so prosperous that they began to develop the rudiments of culture, and in time there was evolved a race of gentlemen, very barbaric gentlemen, who became the prototypes and progenitors of the ancient-historic and classical gentlemen, the mediaeval gentlemen, the Elizabethan gentlemen, the gentlemen of the old school and so on down to the gentlemen of Oxford and Cambridge, Harvard and Yale, New York, Boston, Chicago, Newport, Atlantic City and other uplifting resorts where culturitis is dispensed in liberal and varied doses to suit all tastes.

TO CO-OPERATE WITH INDIAN GOVERNMENT.

The British government in India has asked the American board workers at Barsi and Sholapur, cities in the Bombay presidency in Western India, to co-operate in an attempt to civilize the lawless tribes near those cities.

The plan proposed to the American board is that an industrial colony be started at Barsi, a town of 24,000 inhabitants. The government will put up the buildings, furnish guards for the compound at night and make a small cash grant per head for the food of the colony. The mission would have charge during the day, securing work for the men, carrying on schools and taking a personal interest in the people.

The government proposes further that the board take charge of a farm colony, to be established on a government reservation in Suriago, a village in which the board already has some work, supervised from the city of Sholapur about four miles distant. The 400 acres of this reserve contain good land, sparsely wooded with teak and other valuable trees. Here, as at Barsi, the government would put up the buildings, furnish the guards and give the mission a free hand for teaching and preaching. But no money grant would be made.

The land must be cleared and prepared for cultivation, wells dug, cattle, tools and seeds bought and the colony placed on a sound economic basis. The government stands ready to loan the necessary working capital.

It is thought that if this offer can be accepted and a combination formed between the government with its prestige and resources and these American Christian workers, the lawless population of these sections will soon become self-supporting, law abiding members of a Christian community.

IRON MERGER IS INDORSED

Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and Cuyuna-Duluth Companies to Join.

Plan to Form American Manganese Company—Capital $12,000,000.

At a meeting held in the Rowley hall yesterday afternoon shareholders of the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs Iron company unanimously indorsed the plan for the organization of the American Mangenese Manufacturing company with a capital of $12,000,000. As previously outlined, the proposal involves the merging of the Cuyuna Mille Lacs and the Cuyuna-Duluth iron companies and the purchase of the furnaces and coal deposits of the Dunbar Furnace company at Dunbar, Pa.

Holders Well Represented.

More than three-fourths of the shareholders were represented at the meeting in person or by proxy, and there was not a dissenting voice to the proposition as explained by W. H. Locker, secretary and treasurer of the company. According to the terms of the consolidation, shareholders of the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs company will receive for each 100 shares held by them 500 shares of preferred and 650 shares of common stock in the new company, which will have a par value of $50 each. It is proposed to effect the exchange of stock and complete the details of the consolidation by May 1, so that the new organization may be enabled to undertake active operations, both at the mines and the furnaces, on that date.

Board of Nine.

It will be managed by a board of nine directors on which the iron companies will be represented by two each and the Eastern furnace and financial interests by five. E. J. W. Donahue and W. H. Locker were appointed at yesterday's meeting to represent the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs Iron company and the Cuyuna-Duluth Iron company will elect two directors at a meeting of its shareholders to be held tomorrow afternoon, if the plan meets with their approval as expected.

The furnaces, coke ovens and coal areas of the Dunbar Furnace company taken over are located about sixty miles from Pittsburg in the heart of the coal and coke country. They employ approximately 800 men working at normal capacity. The furnaces are equiped to manufacture basic iron, manganese iron, spiegel and ferromanganese and have a capacity of 500 tons daily.

Some large contracts have been already booked for the American Manganese Manufacturing company, assuring full operations at its plant for some time ahead. Included in the list is an order for manganese pig iron from a prominent Eastern railroad company to be used in the manufacture of steel rails.

FORMER PARTNER OF ARTHUR IS SUICIDE

Edward J. Knauer Kills Himself in New York City.

New York, April 10.—Edward J. Knauer, a prominent attorney, once associated in the practice of law with President Chester A. Arthur, committed suicide today at his office in Long Island City by shooting himself with a revolver. A letter addressed to his wife said that financial troubles and failing health had made his life no longer worth living. Mr. Knauer was 59 years old.

UNEMPLOYED MEN AT COLORADO SPRINGS

Says They Will Quit Journey East if They Find Work.

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 10.—One hundred and sixty-two members of the "army" of the unemployed from California, who reached here late last night from Pueblo, were guests of the city today at Rosewell, a railroad town immediately north of here, where they were taken after breakfast to await a through freight train East. It was not thought that they could leave before night.

According to Peter Brown, their spokesman, they are on their way to Washington to join with others in a demonstration at the capitol. Brown said, however, that wherever work could be found, the men would drop off. The present "regiment" lost sixty men since it left California, and gained about the same number along the way.

BODY OF LOST BOY FOUND UNDER SNOW

Lad Is Believed to Have Fallen and Been Buried By Snow.

Bristol, Pa., April 10.—The body of William English, 14 years old, who had been missing since the blizzard of March 1, was found in a field near here today. It is believed the boy was caught in the snowstorm and becoming exhausted was buried under a huge drift. The body was found about 200 feet from where the boy lived, and was revealed by the melting snow.

WED IN MINNESOTA.

North Dakota Eugenics Law Drives "Engaged Couples From State.

Fargo, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rather than submit to a physical examination and furnish a certificate of moral character, as the North Dakota law requires, many residents of Cass county and other sections of the state contemplating marriage go over to the Minnesota side of the Red river to be wedded. The requirements there are much simpler. The decline in the number of marriage licenses issued in Fargo is more than made up in the gain in Moorhead.

The North Dakota law is quite similar to that of Wisconsin and apparently as unpopular.

Okuma May Be Premier.

Tokio, Japan, April 10.—Count Shigenobu Okuma, former foreign minister, was recommended to the emperor today by the elder statesmen for the office of premier, in place of Count Gombei Yamamoto, whose cabinet resigned in consequence of the naval graft scandals.

Woman's Realm

Duluth social workers have received a notice that the forty-first annual meeting of the National Conference of Charities and Correction will be held at Memphis, Tenn., between May 8 and May 15, and it is possible that one or more representatives from this city will attend the sessions.

The conference city lies within a region which has seen a most rapid development recently in the field of social work and it is expected that the attendance at the meetings will be unusually large.

Special efforts are being put forth by the officers and committee chairman of the National Conference to provide for the Memphis meeting a well correlated and organized program.

Japanese Tea.

About seventy-five children attended the Japanese tea given by the Mission band at Glen Avon Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. The affair was under the direction of Miss Maude Sherwin. The children who served tea wore Japanese costumes.

Mrs. E. Frank Barker gave a talk on Japan. She gave an outline of the history of the country and spoke of the home life and the life and customs of the young people.

Last winter Mrs. Barker spoke on Japanese women writers before the Saturday club. In recognition of her work in Japanese literature she was sent prints, books and photographs from the Japanese consulate at San Francisco. One of these books contains 1,571 recent views of Japan. Mrs. Barker showed this collection, together with Japanese souvenirs and post card views to her interested audience, that included many of the children's mothers.

Mrs. Barker wore a complete costume imported from Japan. The grayish blue kimono has an embroidered and hand-painted design, with Mrs. Barker's crest on the sleeves and shoulders. The lining of the kimono has a design of lilies and leaves. She wore Japanese house shoes of white silk with wadded soles and the Japanese outdoor footgear, sandals with rubber soles.

Miss Gertrude Wangenstein took the part of Mrs. Barker's maid. She wore a Japanese costume and wrote on the blackboard in Japanese script the names of the large towns of the empire.

Easter Tea.

The women of the Unitarian church will give an Easter tea Monday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock in the church parlors. An attractive program has been arranged. Mrs. G. W. C. Ross will sing several spring songs and there will be instrumental music. Mrs. H. N. MacHarg will give a reading, "The Arbutus," a Minnesota Indian legend. Tea will be served at small tables decorated with spring flowers.

COMITY IN CHINESE MISSIONS.

A new piece of China has been assigned to the American board by the China continuation committee, a group organized to carry out the policy of the Edinburgh interdenominational convention. This new field, comprising about a third of the province of Shensi, is about the size of Massachusetts, and has probably twice that state's population. There is not a mission station, and so far as known, not a native Christian living in the field. But there are seven or eight walled cities, a government center or two, a rich agricultural region and a large city, under the shadow of the Great Wall, which is the trade center for all that part of China and Eastern Mongolia and the military headquarters of the army of the northwestern provinces. Shensi contains vast deposits of coal, iron and petroleum, and its people are said to be very intelligent and physically vigorous.

This section was assigned to the American board because it joins the board's field in Shansi, the province which has made such a remarkable recovery from the time of Boxer massacres in 1900.

An unexpected gift from a Boston business man for new work in China enables the board to accept this new field with its heavy responsibilities, and plans are already under way for occupying the twelve leading towns of Northern Shansi by means of trained native evangelists. There will undoubtedly follow schools, dispensaries, and a hospital. Comity between the denominations in China makes for effective strategy in mission work, and the ultimate Christianization of this great country may be looked for with confidence.

ONE ON THE CENSOR.

Indianapolis News: During the South African war letters sent home by British soldiers had to pass through the hands of a censor. A certain private had sent four or five letters home and portions had been obliterated by the censor. He decided to even accounts with the censor and at the foot of the next letter he wrote: "Please look under the stamp." At the censor's office the letter was opened and read as usual. The officer in charge spent some time in steaming the stamp from the envelope, but his feelings can be better imagined than described when he read these words: "Was it hard to get off?"

BOY LIVES WITHOUT KIDNEYS.

New York Tribune: Russell, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Edwards of Freeport, L. I., is living without the use of his kidneys. They have been destroyed, physicians say, by scarlet fever.

Eight weeks ago the boy became ill. A physician treated him for a cold, but when he became worse another doctor was called, who said he was suffering from scarlet fever in an advanced stage. The physician declared the disease had settled in the boy's kidneys, which had been practically destroyed.

Since this diagnosis the lad has been studied by many physicians, for his condition is said to be unique. The doctors say they cannot see how the youngster can survive long.

NEW GOWN SEEN AT PARIS RACE TRACK

This is one of the latest spring gowns shown on a mannequin at the race course near Paris last week.

"Yes: Serve Campbell's Tomato Soup."

"Prepare it as a Cream-of-tomato, please."

And this is done as easily as said; and almost as quickly. Simply heat the contents of the can and an equal quantity of milk separately. Bring them to the boiling-point but do not let them boil. And when ready to serve take them from over the fire and pour the hot soup into the hot milk—this prevents curdling.

The whole process doesn't require over three minutes. And you have as fine a cream-of-tomato soup as you ever tasted. Why not enjoy it for dinner today?

WILL GET $12,000,000 AS SHARE OF ESTATE

MRS. W. W. SHERMAN.

Mrs. William Watts Sherman of New York has just come into some $12,000,000 through an order of court ordering the division of the estate of the late John Carter Brown. The money left by Brown is divided equally between her and John Nicholas Brown, a boy living in Providence. The money has been lying in trust for forty years. Of the $26,000,000 worth of property $300,000 was in New York real estate and the difference between the laws of Rhode Island and those of New York in relation to trusts was what led to the tie-up in the estate. Mrs. Sherman is the mother of Lady Camoys.

It seems a long time before we will need parasols but the new styles are being shown even if umbrellas are a great deal more popular about this time of the year. Some of the new parasols do not have the covers stretched tightly. On the contrary, each section is gathered slightly at the outer edge. If you have ever stopped to count your parasol ribs you have found there were eight of them. A new kind is being shown with twelve ribs. Of course, green will be a popular color because it is easy on the eyes but Dresden designs will be used extensively.

Many dainty collars of net, embroidery and lace are displayed. Of course all have the low neck effect. They may be in flat styles or in the nature of up-standing frills, but they must give a low neck effect. One of the new novelties is a fischu pin. It is in the shape of the letter "V" and is to be worn where the ends of the fischu join or with a collar that comes to a point at the throat.

The Middle Class Can Well Afford to Have Children.

"Those are the sort of people I like to see have children," said a woman friend of mine, indicating a couple who had all the appearances of worldly prosperity. "They can take care of them properly and give them a good start in life," she added by way of explanation.

Strange to relate, the couple she referred to had a family of five children, all young things growing up together. Rumor has it that one or two of them are not as bright mentally as they might be or as sound in body as they should be. If this is true, we can only pity the parents, who, in spite of their wealth, are not able to confer health upon their idolized children. However, the greatest medical skill and wisdom and every luxury known is at their disposal.

It is always a matter of satisfaction to see people of means rearing a sizable family. It is often remarked that those best able to care for children, from the standpoint of wealth and culture and other qualities supposed to be highly desirable, are not likely to be blessed with many children or else not inclined toward a numerous progeny. Whatever the reason, children are all too scarce among those well fitted by birth and training to have them.

While the rich do not appear to feel that it is their duty to have children there is a steadily increasing number of middle class folk who believe that the very wealthy are the only ones who can afford them. And they are leaving it to them, or else to the very poor, with the result that the class who are really best able to train children up somewhere near the way they should go are refusing to do it.

Never in any age have the best or brainiest men and women sprung from rich fathers and luxury-loving mothers. No more have they come from the shiftless, ignorant poor. That they have come from the poorer classes is not to be disputed. Patched clothing, and stomachs not always over-full, provided there are sensible parents, whom the children can respect, have and always will be productive of the better sort of men and women.

Money isn't the first requisite of parenthood, by any means, nor the best fortune that can fall to the child. Thousands of married couples who haven't any means except what they can earn can well afford to have a family of children; none better. It requires some courage and it may mean considerable privation, but it takes both to make fine men and women.

TWO COACH LOADS OF WHITE SLAVERS.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 10.—Two coachloads of white slavers and their victims and other undesirables, convicted of violations of the immigration laws, left here last night for New York. They will be taken to Ellis Island and held for deportation. The 75 prisoners, 40 women and 35 men, represented the results of the Federal government's warfare against the white slave traffic in many Western states.

DISTANT RELATIVE OF WILSON KILLED.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 10.—Robert E. Woodrow, a distant relative of President Wilson, was killed here yesterday when his motorcycle collided with a heavily loaded truck. Woodrow, who was an employe of a motorcycle company, moved here recently from Dayton, Ohio, where he was married three months ago. Woodrow's father was a cousin of President Wilson's mother.

CALL FOR FUNDS STILL GROWS

Bankers Are Pleased With Commercial and Industrial Demand.

Further improvement in the call for funds from general commercial and industrial quarters is reported by Duluth bankers. Lumbermen are now winding up their season's woods operations so that their financial requirements have been in fairly large proportions of late. Liberal expenditures are being made in outfitting the fleet of steamers that wintered in this harbor for the opening of navigation, and remittances by wholesale and retail establishments to cover commercial paper have mounted up into a considerable aggregate during the last two weeks.

While money continues easy and is loaning much below the rates current at this time last year, a firmer tendency is noted. The general resumption of spring operations is expected to exert a considerable influence in that direction.

Rates on commercial paper are reported to be firmer at Chicago and New York, ascribable largely to the influence of April disbursements and a better call for accommodation.

It has been announced by the secretary of the treasury that the entire amount of mony deposited in the banks last fall for crop-moving purposes had been repaid, and that the government had received $260,000 as interest on the transaction. A total of $37,386,000 had been deposited in 193 banks in sixty-two cities located in twenty-eight states. The last installment from the borrowing banks fell due on April 1.

"PENNSY" ROAD TO TRY NEW RAIL

Calls for Copper and Manganese in Big Test Orders.

It is intimated that a larger proportion than usual of copper and manganese alloys will be used in the rolling of the two test orders of 10,000 tons each, for rails, just placed by the Pennsylvania railroad Upon the results of the experiment, both as to cost and practice, will depend the placing of the railroad's full order which is expected to reach 175,000 tons.

The outcome of the experiments is being watched with interest by the managements of other railroads and officials of mining companies. If the performance of the new rails is as satisfactory as expected, the outlet for copper and manganese would be greatly broadened.

It is pointed out that the bessemer process rail has lost ground during the last few years. In 1907, when the improvement of rail-making processes began to be seriously considered, ninety-three per cent of all the rails made in the United States were bessemer, while last year but 23½ per cent of those turned were on that order.

The process of improving the open-hearth rail alloying has been attended with good results, and last year their tonnage exceeded that of the alloyed bessemer product.

KRAFCHENKO MUST DIE ON THE GALLOWS

Is Found Guilty of Murder of Banker in Manitoba.

Morden, Man., April 10.—John Krafchenko, whose exploits with the Winnipeg and Provincial police have made him notorious throughout Western Canada, was found guilty of the murder of Manager H. M. Arnold of the Bank of Montreal branch at Plum Coulee, and the theft of $5,000, on Dec. 3. The jury was out less than two hours.

Krafchenko was sentenced to be hanged on July 8 next.

Before he was sentenced Krafchenko made a statement to the court in which he did not deny that he had been concerned in the holdup of the bank, but asserted positively that he was not the man who killed Arnold.

STATE GOING TO SUE FOR REFUNDS

Railroads Have Not Paid All Claims Made By Shippers.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—Suit will be brought in the name of the state on behalf of shippers against railroads operating in Minnesota to collect disputed refund claims alleged to be due under the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the Minnesota rate case. Payment of most of the claims has been made without protest by the carriers, but payment has been refused on a large number, many involving a combination of state and interstate rates.

The litigation is likely to involve the obligation on the part of the railroads to pay any refunds at all and is similar in nature to the proposed action by the state of Missouri. In that state the supreme court upheld the rate law as it did in Minnesota but the carriers refused to pay refunds on excess charges while here they voluntarily made such payments.

Handled $500,000 in Claims.

About 10,000 of these refund claims, aggregating $500,000 have been handled through the state railroad and warehouse commission. There are, however, between 300 and 500 which the companies have declined to settle on the ground chiefly that they involve interstate tariffs.

In addition the Soo road has refused to pay to elevator men refunds on grain shipments on the ground that if anything is owing it is to the growers who sold their produce to the elevators at a price less the carrying charges to the terminal markets.

The Soo asserts that in equity the elevator men have no right to any refunds because they bought the grain on the basis of the then existing freight rates. The sum involved is considerable.

The state suit will not be brought until all claims for refunds have been presented. This must be done by about July 1, a year after the rate case decision.

The Minnesota railroads, it is said, already have paid out over $2,000,000 to shippers as a result of the rate case decision.

SOME OF THE ODD QUESTIONS THE COMMERCIAL CLUB ANSWERS

In his report to the Commercial club in annual meeting on Wednesday evening Secretary H. V. Eva told of the numerous and curious questions he is called upon to answer in letters that arrive at his office. Almost the whole scope of human curiosity or thirst for knowledge is covered. He gave as samples the following, which, he claimed, have been actually taken from letters received:

"How many tailor shops have you and how many cleaning and pressing establishments?"

"Please give me the name of the hat company that makes the $2 hat."

"Please send me some literature on Duluth and its climate. Also what your weather is like during April and May."

"Please give me the names of moving picture theater in your city."

"Please send me literature about St. Louis county."

"Please send me copy of your garden primer, which I read in the daily paper was for distribution."

"Kindly give me the name of someone who would be interested in handling a line of high grade advertising desk calendars in brass."

"Please send me any information you have relative to Duluth and its industries."

"Please send me copies of advertising you use to advertise your section of the country."

"Please send me literature on St. Louis county, also the whole of Northeastern Minnesota as I want to locate there."

"Kindly let me know when the steel plant opens up. I would like booklets showing Duluth and its industries."

"Please give me the name of a reliable real estate dealer in your city."

"Kindly send me the address of an employment office in Duluth."

"Kindly let me know what business conditions are in your city."

"Please inform me where I can purchase a cub bear."

Another man wanted to know the name of anyone dealing in live foxes.

Another wanted to know what chances were for opening a large retail department store in the city.

Another wanted to know who the exporters of grain are in the city.

"Please let me know how the commission form of government is working out in your city."

"Kindly let me know what building you go to in Duluth to secure a divorce without any further proceedings."

"Please send me the name of a leading furrier."

"Please send me copy of the famous speech on Duluth made by Proctor Knott in congress in the early seventies."

"Please send me map of Duluth."

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Common Sense Advice By a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because, acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the case of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.—Advertisement.

GRAIN AND STOCK FRAUDS CHARGED

Government Inspectors Arrest R. E. Brannon at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 10.—Government inspectors arrested R. E. Brannon, president and treasurer of the Standard Grain & Stock company, here late yesterday, on a warrant charging him with using the mails to defraud. He was bound over to the Federal grand jury and released under $7,500 bail.

Brannon is charged with obtaining money from persons all over the country for deals on the Chicago grain market, and then keeping the money without giving any value therefor.

ORDERS $250,091 JUDGMENT EXECUTED.

Chicago, April 10.—A judgment for $250,091.51 against Albert C. Frost, former head of the Chicago-Milwaukee Electric road, has been ordered executed by Federal Judge Landis. The judgment originally was entered by Judge Carpenter in May, 1913, and a stay of execution ordered. The order is in favor of the Sun Life Assurance company of Canada, which loaned Frost $175,500 at 8 per cent in 1907. Frost gave a promissory collateral note and put up $190,000 bonds of the Illinois and Wisconsin traction corporations.

LABOR CHIEF LAUDS MINERS

Gompers Says Western Federation Is Better Than Painted.

Criticizes Canadian Law to Compel Arbitration of Strikes.

Washington, April 10.—Charges by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, that the Western Federation of Miners has not been treated fairly in the Calumet copper strike, and criticisms of the principle of compulsory arbitration in labor disputes by representatives of both employers and employes, marked the close of the first of a series of hearings by the United States industrial relations committee on collective bargaining.

The Western Federation of Miners, Mr. Gompers said, has been given a bad name by its enemies and by an old declaration of principles adopted years ago. He declared the members of the federation have conducted themselves peaceably and fairly at Calumet, and that for the last few years the organization has been conservative in its general attitude.

Canadian Law "Bad."

The Canadian industrial disputes act, under which employers and employes are forced to defer drastic union action until arbitration has been tried, was criticized as a form of "slavery" by Mr. Gompers. W. L. Mackenzie King, former minister of labor of Canada, defended it as an excellent method of avoiding labor troubles. Mr. King added that he favored any means of reaching labor disputes which would give publicity.

Mr. Gompers placed responsibility for most labor strikes on unorganized, or newly organized, men and said that most trouble of this kind is caused by the mental attitude of employers and employes. He said he would not object to a Federal mediation and conciliation board for industrial disputes, except for the danger that efforts to bring about compulsory arbitration might follow.

Belief in governmental authority to investigate labor troubles affecting the public generally was expressed by James A. Emery, counsel of the National Association of Manufacturers, who said he approved of mediation and conciliation, opposed compulsory arbitration and was against the "closed shop."

Efficiency Next Topic.

S. Thurston Ballard of Kentucky, a member of the commission, declared he believed progress toward industrial peace would be promoted by the formulation of a commission of employers and employes of a declaration of principles setting forth the basic things for which both sides stand.

The commission plans to hold several executive meetings to consider the evidence gathered at the hearings here, and then to take up consideration of efficiency plans at another hearing starting April 13.

MERCHANT BY DAY; ROBBER BY NIGHT.

New York, April 10.—Edward Mendel, a modern Jekyl-Hyde, who was a respected iron and steel merchant in Newark by day and a thug in New York by night, has been sentenced to spend the next eighteen years of his life in Sing Sing prison. Mendel, who in Newark was a member of many fraternal orders and clubs, lured Mrs. Pauline Koetzel to an upper West side freight yard in New York and there tore her diamond earrings from her ears. He was captured as he was running away from the yard.

In court later three other women identified him as the thug who had similarly assaulted and robbed them.

FORMER GOVERNOR E. S. DRAPER IS DEAD

Massachusetts Manufacturer Succumbs to Paralytic Stroke.

Greenville, S. C., April 10.—Eben S. Draper, former governor of Massachusetts, died here late yesterday. Mr. Draper was stricken with paralysis here Tuesday. He was 65 years old and a prominent manufacturer of textile machinery in New England.

The condition of Mr. Draper had been serious from the time of the attack. His entire left side was affected by the paralytic stroke. In addition to physicians here and from Atlanta who were called on the case, two doctors from Boston were summoned.

Mr. Draper was stricken at a hotel here a few hours after his arrival on his way home from a trip to Florida and Cuba. As soon as his condition was noted, telegrams were sent to members of his family in Massachusetts, summoning them to his bedside. They arrived yesterday.

Served in Legislature.

Previous to Mr. Draper's election as governor of Massachusetts in 1909, he served as lieutenant governor from 1906 to 1908. He was governor from 1909 to 1911. Mr. Draper was elected as a Republican to both positions.

In 1896 as chairman of the Massachusetts Republican state delegation to the party's national convention, he assisted in obtaining the party's declaration in favor of the gold standard.

When the Spanish-American was war declared in 1898, Mr. Draper, as president of the Massachusetts Volunteers' Aid association, directed in large part raising of $200,000 which was used to fit out the hospital ship Bay State.

For several years Mr. Draper had been prominently connected with the Draper company, manufacturers of textile machinery. His home was at Hopedale, Mass., where he was born.

The body will be placed in a special car and taken to Hopewell, Mass., for the funeral.

MAY BE NOR'EASTER FOR EASTER SUNDAY.

Weather Forecaster H. W. Richardson fears that there is not going to be much chance to display Easter frocks or hats on Sunday.

He broke the sad news to The Herald this morning, but did it with reservation.

"The present unpleasantness," said he, "centered over Minnesota and won't last long, although we will probably have snow flurries tonight and tomorrow; but there is a bunch of trouble brewing over the Rocky mountains which may cause a disturbance here. It is a trifle too early to predict definitely on this, but I can tell you tomorrow.

"Should this cause a weather shake-up in this vicinity it may bring on a regulation nor'easter and you know what that means. There will be nothing doing in the way of new hats and gowns among sensible people."

Hence it may be that the Easter parade will be postponed.

NOTED SPEAKERS.

Expected at North Dakota County Superintendents' Meet.

Devils Lake, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The program for the annual meeting of the North Dakota County Superintendents' association, which will be held here April 28 and 29, includes a number of prominent speakers, most important of whom is M. P. Claxton, commissioner of education of the United States.

Other speakers are Superintendent E. J. Taylor of Bismarck; Superintendent John A. Haig of Devils Lake; Superintendent Mary Bell Flemington of Ellendale; Deputy Superintendent W. A. Parsons of Bismarck; President T. A. Hillyer of the Mayville normal school; Professor William Wimmett of the Valley City normal school; Superintendent M. Beatrice Johnstone of Grand Forks county; Superintendent E. G. Warren of Ward county; Superintendent Laura B. Sanderson of Towner county; President W. A. Broyles of the Walsh county agricultural school; Superintendent Miss Minnie Nellson of Valley City, and Superintendent J. W. Thornton.

GRAND FORKS MAY HAVE CANDIDATE.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—P. O. Thorson of Grand Forks, editor of the Normanden, may make the race for the Bull Moose nomination for governor of North Dakota, although H. H. Aaker has already entered the field.

Mr. Thorson has been urged by many of the Bull Moose party men who are antagonistic to Aaker, and who maintain that Thorson could poll a bigger vote.

Mr. Thorson said he had not yet made definite decision.

Harvey, N. D., Hospital.

Harvey, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Harvey hospital has just been opened. It is a modern structure, the funds for which were raised entirely by local interests. Harvey is one of the smallest cities in the state to have a completely equipped hospital, and local residents are pardonably proud of the distinction.

NORTH DAKOTA FINANCES

State Auditor Shows Year's Expenses and Receipts.

Bismarck, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Auditor Carl Jorgenson signed 12,656 checks during 1913, in handling the state's financial business.

Mr. Jorgenson's report shows a total of $5,043,565.43 expended during the year, while the receipts in the same period were $4,890,666.70. There was a balance of $985,829.20 when the year opened, while there was $833,930.47 on hand when the year closed, which also was the smallest balance any day during the year.

The average monthly balance was $1,548,246.99, while the greatest balance was $2,880,362.24.

CALLS SING SING COLLEGE OF CRIME.

New York, April 10.—Sing Sing prison was characterized "a college of crime" by Rt. Rev. David H. Greer, Episcopal bishop of the diocese of New York, in an address last night at the annual dinner of the Unitarian club.

"For mental, moral and physical reasons, you would not confine a dog in such a place; if you did he would go mad," said Bishop Greer after he had deplored the unsanitary conditions he said he found in the prison.

Bishop Greer, citing the case of the four gunmen now facing death for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, dwelt upon what he called the futility of capital punishment. He recently visited the gunmen in the death house.

To Divide Judicial Districts.

Jamestown, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Bar association will submit to the next legislative assembly a plan for a new distribution of judicial districts, under which the work of several judges would be more equalized.

LANPHER

THE LANPHER HAT

Spring's Here, Fellows!

Ha! Ha! Overcoats Coming Off! Can't Hide the Shabby Suit Now! But Don't Think of Paying $25 or $30 for a New One.

Take it from your Uncle Dud, (and I know something about duds, too). When you pay $25 or $30 for a suit of Spring Clothes, you're playing a good joke on yourselves. It's nonsense. Fifteen dollars is all you need pay for the finest fabrics and latest styles in this man's town, and that's straight.

Here's the idea fellows, and you're business men enough to get me, I know. I'm a little branch, a selling outlet, for the great and famous Glasgow Woolen Mills, where woolens, beautiful Spring patterns, that will make your eyes pop out of your heads, are figured in carload lots. Direct from the looms they come to our 117 stores and from there they come direct to you.

Ponder that men! There's no wholesaler's profit to add on; no jobber's profit, no sub-jobber's profits; no tailor's slice to boost the cost way up to the clouds. Those beautiful materials come direct from us to you. That's one reason why I can fit you out with the swellest Spring and Summer fabrics, the kind the ordinary tailor must ask $25 and $30 for, for $15. He's got to add on all those other profits, and of course you pay for it. I don't and that's the diff.

Now that's plain horse sense, fellows. It's just a difference in the ways of doing business. So don't let any one tell you that you can't get a first-class, right up to snuff made-to-order suit for $15. The fabrics I give you are the real pure, all-wool, fresh from the sheep's back. You can't duplicate them any place in town under $25 and $30. And styles, and fit? You just ought to see them. You'll be tickled stiff. Come in and let me prove it. Let me save you $10 on your Spring Suit. Just ask for George H. Mills, Mgr. Glasgow Woolen Mills Store, 333 West Superior street. And say, if you want a swell pair of trousers made-to-measure, now's the time. I'm selling my regular $5, $6 and $7 pants for $2.75. And, take it from me, they're pippins!

THE NEED OF A CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL.

There is an angle to the problems a city and county hospital would solve that, while the numbers it would affect are relatively small, is tremendously important. This is the problem of the unmarried mother.

The world today is showing a new attitude toward these miserables. Instead of hiding this phase of evil under cover, intelligent people are looking the facts squarely in the face and discussing them in the open. It is realized, now, that the ancient impulse to hustle these ugly things out of sight and out of mind meant that many crimes went unpunished, and that the innocent were condemned to bear a heavy load of injustice. Girls haunted with the fear of being found out have traveled from place to place, finally to bear their unasked children under the most distressing circumstances. Children born under such circumstances have not had half a show. Many girls have been driven to prostitution and even to murder by trying circumstances caused by the lack of public provision for their care.

These unfortunate girls need scientific care at the critical time to insure their future health and that of their children. Now, they are either driven into cover or thrown upon private charity. All too frequently their experience kills them, or leaves them sick and crippled—they and their children too.

When Father Donahue of St. Paul was here recently The Herald published an interview with him in which he thoroughly commended the plan for a city and county hospital here, and in which he laid special stress on the maternity feature. His suggestion was that the state ought to make provision for such cases. They could be handled in the city and county hospital, and be paid for by the state. He made the statement that Minnesota has about three thousand illegitimate births a year, which is surely a conservative estimate. His idea of having the state handle this problem, even when the cases are directly cared for by local institutions, is a good one. Duluth and St. Louis county might solve it locally by a city and county hospital; but it is impossible to have institutions in every county, and unless the state takes hold most of the unfortunates will still be uncared for.

Kansas City, which has reached a high stage of civic welfare work, has realized the economy of caring for unmarried mothers, and through its city hospital sees to it that they get the most expert care. By its social service staff, working in conjunction with the hospital, it has been able to bring criminal action against many culprits that might otherwise have escaped the punishment they so richly deserved. Duluth, with a city and county hospital, can do as much.

Social workers tell us that a girl is walking the streets of Duluth today, a cripple with an imbecile baby, because the person into whose care she fell in her hour of trial tried to dispense with the services of a doctor. Doctors now tell her that she will never be better, and that nothing can be done for the child. Both might have been saved if there had been a city and county hospital.

This is but an instance. There are many cases as bad, and there is danger of similar results wherever the timid and fearful unmarried mother is unable to get proper care. And this is but one of many problems that a city and county hospital would solve.

Apparently Villa has no particular use for the Spanish vote.

TAPERING OFF.

Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee has announced the plan for party reform to which the party is committed. Eighty-nine delegates are to be taken away from the Southern states.

This departs slightly from the electoral vote basis, but does not by any means reach the basis of Republican votes, which should be the logical one.

It is aimed at the evil of controllable votes from states where the Republican party is negligible, but it is aimed feebly. It is an improvement, but a small one—too small to help much. Purchasable votes from states without a respectable Republican electorate will still hold the balance of power in anything like a close fight. Mr. Hilles says that if this isn't enough, the next convention can provide more.

It is a sop—but hardly wet, even—to the Republicans who demand party reform. It is like cutting our dog's tail off an inch at a time to spare him pain.

Lincolnshire, England, is getting quite enthusiastic over potato growing. Which would seem to refute the popular theory among poetry readers that the principal product of Lincolnshire is a high tide on the coast.

DON'T NEGLECT THE INITIATIVE, THE REFERENDUM AND THE RECALL.

Perhaps it is because it is so early, but there isn't so much talk yet as there should be about the three safeguards of democracy that the people have a chance to vote into the state Constitution this November—the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

There ought to be a good deal of talk about these proposals.

They are very important, very revolutionary—either very good for us or very bad.

If they are beaten, it ought to be because they are bad, not merely by neglect.

If they are good, they ought to win decisively, and not be lost through public neglect.

For The Herald's part, it believes they are not only good, but vitally necessary—perhaps not now, but sure to be some day.

President Wilson, with his rare faculty for crowding so much into a phrase, spoke of them as "the gun behind the door." We hope we won't need them at all, but when we do need them we want them handy.

Just now, it is true, we need them as little as we have needed them in a generation. Law-making bodies and public servants just now are alacritous, even eager, to find out the public will and do it. In fact, when it is possible to get through a legislature measures submitting these fundamental changes to the people, that legislature is in such a frame of mind that the checks of the initiative, the referendum and the recall are little needed.

But this condition may be temporary—beyond any doubt IS temporary. The people have been neglectful before and have let control get into designing and disloyal hands. They will be neglectful again, and again control will get into designing and disloyal hands.

And then we shall need these tools of democracy, this "gun behind the door," the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

The people need them in their business. If they ratify the two constitutional amendments providing them, then they will have them for keeps. They will be there whenever they are needed, right behind the door within easy reach.

It is as safeguards, as checks upon representative government, as "the gun behind the door," that The Herald believes in these things.

They are working best when they are not used at all because they are not needed.

The initiative is to enable the people to enact needed legislation if the legislature refuses. When the legislature does what the people want, the initiative is not needed; but it is wise to have it handy in case the legislature ever ceases to do the people's will.

The referendum is to enable the people to veto bad laws if the legislature enacts them. When the legislature is loyal to the people, the referendum is not needed; but it is wise to have it handy in case the legislature begins to do things it oughtn't to do.

The recall is to enable the people to discharge a disloyal public servant. If public servants are loyal, the recall is not needed; but it is wise to have it handy in case public servants grow careless.

All three of these things Minnesota needs and wants, and there should be more talk about them so they will not perish from neglect.

Over in Germany any man who wants to live free of charge for awhile needs only to write a few lines about the crown prince.

Mother Instinct.

London Tit-Bits: At the close of his talk before a Sunday school the bishop invited questions.

A tiny boy, with a white, eager face, at once held up his hand.

"Please, sir," said he, "why was Adam never a baby?"

The bishop coughed in doubt as to what answer to give, but a little girl, the eldest of several brothers and sisters, came promptly to his aid.

"Please, sir," she added, smartly, "there was nobody to nuss him."

Hedges for the Garden

From the New York Evening Post.

Hedges, if you have place for them, serve at once the uses of utility and beauty. They protect your yard, help you out in many ways, such as marking boundaries, hiding ugly sights or guarding beds of tender things from blustery winds, and they add to the appearance of your garden. In older times there is reason to believe that the protective feature of hedges commended them chiefly to landowners, keeping out cattle, and even men. There are a great many hedges in the country which were planted and trained with that purpose.

Think for a minute of the places where you could use a hedge. It can mark off the boundary between front yard and back; can mark off the limits of a vegetable garden, and protect it, too; it can hide a boundary fence, if you wish, and make it a thing of beauty; it can be used as a background for a border of flowers.

Hedges are of slower growth than the average things the gardener plants, but they improve from year to year, and it is an excellent corrective to have things of this more leisurely class about the place.

California privet is the hedge generall chosen for practical use. It has much to endear it to the gardener. It will grow rapidly and can be clipped as much as you please. Few if any pests have a fondness for the California privet, and it holds its greenness well through the season. The main objection is that it is too common; and it is well to remember, too, that one curse of small gardens in this country is that they are too formal. California privet will add to that formality.

Other varieties of the privet hedge have been much used, too. There is a hardy Sheridan sort that has many excellent qualities of resistance, and attractive appearance. Box is not to be recommended to the average gardener.

Evergreen hedges are a good choice as a rule. Hemlock, arbor vitae and Norway spruce are three standard selections. Arbor vitae, once universal, has now lost much of its popularity to hemlock. Norway spruce may be made into an attractive hedge.

There are other hedges of extraordinary grace and beauty. The Japanese barberry is one. Both leaf and stem of this plant are graceful and delicate, and the conformation of the plant is pleasing. The red berries stay on through the winter.

The rosa rugosa makes a splendid hedge, but one should be wary of planting it on too small a place. It is best to keep the proportions in gardens as well as in architecture. There are many other hedge possibilities—lilac, spireas, honeysuckle, cedar.

The Hounds of Spring.

When the hounds of spring are on winter's traces,
The mother of months in meadow or plain
Fills the shadows and windy places
With lisp of leaves and ripple of rain;
And the brown bright nightingale amorous
Is half assuaged for Itylus,
For the Thracian ships and the foreign faces;
The tangueless vigil, and all the pain.

Come with bows bent and with empty quivering of quivers,
Maiden most perfect, lady of light,
With a noise of winds and many rivers,
With a clamor of waters, and with might;
Bind on thy sandals, O thou most fleet,
Over the splendor and speed of thy feet!
For the faint east quickens, the wan west shivers,
Round the feet of the day and the feet of the night.

Where shall we find her, how shall we sing to her,
Fold our hands round her knees and cling?
O that man's heart were as fire and could spring to her,
Fire, or the strength of the streams that spring!
For the stars and the winds are unto her
As raiment, as songs of the harp-player;
For the risen stars and the fallen cling to her,
And the southwest wind and the west wind sing.

For winter's rains and ruins are over,
And all the season of snows and sins!
The days dividing lover and lover,
The light that loses, the night that wins;
And the time remembered its grief forgotten,
And frosts are slain and flowers begotten,
And in green underwood and cover
Blossom by blossom the spring begins.

The full streams feed on flower or rushes,
Ripe grasses trammel a traveling foot,
The faint, fresh flame of the young year flushes
From leaf to flower and flower to fruit;
And fruit and leaf are as gold and fire,
And the oat is heard above the lyre,
And the hoofted heel of a satyr crushes
The chestnut husk at the chestnut root.

And Pan by noon and Bacchus by night,
Fleeter of foot than the fleet foot kid,
Follows with dancing and fills with delight
The Masenad and the Bassarid;
And soft as lips that laugh and hide,
The laughing leaves of the trees divide,
And screen from seeing and leave in sight
The god pursuing, the maiden hid.

The ivy falls with the Bacchanal's hair
Over her eyebrows shading her eyes;
The wind vine slipping down leaves bare
Her bright breast shortening into sighs;
The wild vine slips with the weight of its leaves,
But the berried ivy catches and cleaves
To the limbs that glitter, the feet that scare
The wolf that follows, the fawn that flies.

A Borrower's Negligence.

Bangs—Not a cent, my boy. Are you going around paying your little debts?

Borrowby—No; going around seeing if I'd overlooked anybody. Lend me five till Saturday, will you?

Mark Twain's Unlucky Watch

From Sketches Old and New.

My beautiful new watch had run eighteen months without breaking any part of its machinery or losing or gaining. I had come to believe it infallible in its judgments about the time of day and to consider its constitution and anatomy imperishable. But at last one night I let it run down. I grieved about it as if it were a recognized messenger and forerunner of calamity. But by and by I cheered up and set it by guess. Next day I stepped into the chief jeweler's to set it by exact time and the head of the establishment took it out of my hand and proceeded to set it for me. Then he said: "She is four minutes slow—regulator wants pushing up." I tried to stop him, tried to make him understand that the watch kept perfect time. But no; all this human cabbage could see was that the watch was four minutes slow and the regulator must be pushed up a little; and so while I danced around him in anguish and implored him to leave the watch alone, he calmly and cruelly did the shameful deed.

My watch began to gain. It gained faster and faster day by day. Within the week it sickened to a raging fever and its pulse went up to a hundred and fifty in the shade. At the end of a month it had left all the timepieces in town far in the rear and was a fraction over thirteen days ahead of the almanac. It was away into November enjoying the snow, while the October leaves were still turning. It hurried up house rent, bills payable and such things in such a ruinous way that I could not abide it. I took it to the watchmaker to be regulated. He asked me if it had ever been repaired. I said no, that it had never needed any repairing. He looked a look of vicious happiness and eagerly pried the watch open and then put a small dice box in his eye and peered into the machinery. He said it wanted cleaning and oiling besides regulating—come in in a week. After being cleaned and oiled and regulated my watch slowed down to that degree that it ticked like a tolling bell. I began to be left by trains, I failed all appointments, I got to missing dinner, my watch strung out three days grace to four and let me go to protest; I gradually drifted back into yesterday, then day before, last week and by and by the comprehension came upon me that all solitary and alone I was lingering along in week before last and the world was out of sight. I seemed to detect a sneaking fellow feeling for the mummy in the museum and a desire to swap news with him. I went to a watchmaker again. He took the watch all to pieces while I waited and then said the barrel was swelled—he could reduce it in three days. After this it averaged well, but nothing more. For half a day it would go like the very mischief and keep up such a sneezing and snorting and whooping and barking and wheezing that I could not hear myself think for the disturbance and as long as that held out there wasn't a watch in the land that stood a chance with it. But the rest of the day it would keep on slowing down and fooling along until all the clocks it had left behind caught up again. So at last it would trot up to the judge's stand all right and just in time. It would show a fair and square average, and no man could say it had done more or less than its duty. But a correct average is only a mild virtue in a watch, and I took it to another watchmaker. He said the kingbolt was broken. I said I was glad it was nothing more serious. To tell the plain truth I had no idea what the kingbolt was, but I didn't want to appear ignorant before a stranger. He repaired the kingbolt, but what the watch gained in one way it lost in another. It would run awhile and stop awhile, using its own discretion about the intervals. And every time it went off it kicked back like a musket. I padded my breast for a few days, but finally took the watch to another watchmaker. He said there seemed to be something the matter with the hair trigger; he fixed it and gave it a fresh start.

It did well now, except that always at ten minutes of 10 the hands would shut together like scissors and from that time forth they would travel together. The oldest man in the world could not make head or tail of the time by such a watch, and so I went again to have the thing repaired. This person said that the crystal had got bent and the mainspring was not straight. He also remarked that part of the works needed half-soling. He made these things all right and then my timepiece performed exceptionally save that now and then after working along quietly for eight hours everything inside would let go all of a sudden and begin to buzz like a bee and the hands straightway begin to spin around and around so fast that their individuality would be lost completely, and they seemed simply a delicate spider web over the face of the watch. She would reel off the next twenty-four hours in six or seven minutes and stop with a bang.

I went with heavy heart to one more watchmaker and looked on while he took her to pieces. Then I prepared to cross-question him rigidly, for this thing was getting serious. The watch had cost $200 originally, and I seemed to have paid out two or three thousand in repairs. While I waited and looked on I presently recognized in this watchmaker an old acquaintance—a steamboat engineer of other days, and not a good engineer, either. He examined all the parts carefully just as the other watchmakers had done, and then delivered his verdict with the same confidence of manner.

He said:

"She makes too much steam—you want to hang a monkey wrench on the safety valve."

I brained him on the spot and had him buried at my own expense.

My uncle William (now deceased, alas) used to say that a good horse was a good horse until he had run away once, and that a good watch was a good watch until the repairers got a chance at it. And he used to wonder what became of all the unsuccessful tinkers and gunsmiths and shoemakers and engineers and blacksmiths; but nobody could ever tell him.

A Skin Game.

Lippincott's: Hiram—"Haw! Haw! Haw! I skinned one of them city fellers that put the lightning rods on my house."

Silas—"Ye did? How did you do it?"

Hiram—"Why, when I made out the check to pay him I just signed my name without specifying the amount. I'll bet there will be somebody pretty mad when he goes to cash it."

Good Old-Fashioned Winter.

Indianapolis News: By this time a good many people are wondering what was the matter with the guy that so recklessy put the "good" in goodold-fashionedwinter.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—It was a weird string of circumstances that caused Thaddeus H. Caraway to dwell in the state of Arkansas—part of which he now represents in congress.

When Caraway was 18 years old he was a farmhand in Tennessee with about $7 in money and a desire to go to Utah. He was not quite certain why he wished to set out for Utah, but he felt that there was a great work to be done there. Just what this work was he did not know. He was sure, though, that Utah needed him. Moreover, he believed that it would be a wise expenditure of his life-time savings to take the $7 and round out his education in travel.

He interested two other young men in his plan to go to Utah, telling them how much there was to be accomplished there. And so the trio started for Utah.

Their money did not give out until a few minutes after they had crossed the Missouri line. They decided to halt there and engage briefly in labor to earn money enough to carry them further across the continent.

"Whatsoever our hands find to do that will we do," declared Caraway. And ere nightfall they were all employed with stout spades as members of a section gang. It was hot weather and the soil was sandy. As rapidly as they removed a spadeful of earth it pulverized and blew down the backs of their necks. Caraway noticed one man digging in a ditch and he could not resist the temptation to toss playfully a spadeful of the hot sand on the man's head in order to ascertain how much, if any, would remain in or about his ears. This caused merry, rippling laughs from Caraway and his two companions, but it led to their severing their connection with the section gang and they proceeded on their way with light hearts.

Their next employment was in a sawmill. After they had been working there a day and a half, Caraway took a piece of paper and a little stub of pencil and figured out that if they practiced economy it would require just seventy-four years for them to save enough out of their modest wages to take them to Utah.

"By the way," inquired one of the others, "just why are we going to Utah?"

Caraway had not thought of it before in that light. Frankly he did not know why they were going to Utah. It was agreed then that it would be much wiser to go to Tennessee—back among their kinfolk.

But the night before all were to start for Tennessee, a horrible thing happened. Some one entered Caraway's bedroom and took all his worldly belongings, including clothing—all except one unpretentious pair of trousers and a simple little robin-egg blue undershirt. Even his shoes and socks were gone.

Caraway had little heart for going back to Tennessee just then, and he bade them go on without him while he returned to the sawmill to wade about barefooted among the splinters and try to recoup his fortune.

* * *

When he had saved enough money to have shoes and other odds and ends of clothing and was able to move about among mankind by daylight once again, Caraway fell in with a chance acquaintance who suggested:

"Why don't you go to Arkansas and teach school?"

"And why should I go to Arkansas and teach school?" inquired Caraway.

"Because," said the stranger, "anybody can get a job teaching school in Arkansas just now."

So Caraway walked all the way to Arkansas and became a school teacher. At night he studied law and in a few months he was a lawyer.

* * *

Now, through all the vicissitudes of his life since leaving Tennessee, Caraway had kept up a correspondence with an attractive little girl back home. One day it occurred to him to propose marriage to her, for he felt that the time had come when he should settle down and take his proper place in society. He had no money, but he had a rather honest face and was able to borrow $250. With this he got married on and set out with his bride to New Orleans to attend the Mardi Gras. It was the first time either had had an opportunity to see the inside of a Pullman car or a theater, and Caraway determined that so long as the $250 held out he would spare no expense to make the wedding trip a triumph. Ten days later they returned to Arkansas with $2.61.

Caraway rented a house, bought some furniture on a dollar-down-and-dollar-a-month-ad-finitum basis and began the practice of law. He had no clients just yet, but as he hopefully remarked to his wife there was no telling how soon he might have one.

It was inevitable that a young man with so optimistic an outlook on life would get along. Caraway practiced law and dabbled in real estate and today he is wealthy. He owns 2,000 acres of cotton land and various other things, including a couple of extra suits of clothes. On occasion he has gone to the banks and borrowed as much as $100,000 at a time, largely on his frank, open facial layout.

* * *

Before he came to congress Caraway was prosecuting attorney and caused to be hanged some fourteen of the leading murderers of his locality during his term of office, which record still stands as the bogey score in those parts.

The Sin of Omission.

It isn't the thing you do, dear,
It's the thing you leave undone
That gives you a bit of a heartache
At the setting of the sun.
The tender word forgotten;
The letter you did not write;
The flower you did not send, dear,
Are your haunting ghosts at night.

The stone you might have lifted
Out of a brother's way;
The bit of heartsome counsel
You were hurried too much to say;
The loving touch of the hand, dear,
The gentle, winning tone
Which you had no time or thought for
With troubles enough of your own.

Those little acts of kindness
So easily out of mind,
Those chances to be angels
Which we poor mortals find,
They come in night and silence,
Each sad, reproachful wraith,
When hope is faint and flagging
And a chill has fallen on faith.

For life is all too short, dear,
And sorrow is all too great,
To suffer our slow compassion
That tarries until too late;
And it isn't the thing you do, dear,
It's the thing you leave undone
Which gives you a bit of a heartache
At the setting of the sun.

The State Auditorship

Press Comments on the Rines-Preus Contest.

In Spite of.

Austin Transcript: Henry Rines, speaker of the house of the last legislature, is eligible to hold the office of state auditor, the state supreme court has decided in a test case to determine whether Rines could be a candidate. Sure. And in spite of the St. Paul gang he will be nominated and elected.

He Will Be.

Crosby Crucible: When Henry Rines of Mora, candidate for the Republican nomination for state auditor, announced that one of the planks in his platform was to be a state land policy that would embrace the clearing of a fair-sized acreage on each piece of land sold by the state, he hit a popular chord that won him untold numbers of votes.

Not only has Northern Minnesota come to realize that early development of the state lands will not be realized until a broader policy along the lines of clearing and road building is adopted, but Southern Minnesota has seen it as well.

Mr. Rines is the sort of a man that is needed in the state auditor's office, and it is to be hoped that he will be given an opportunity to work out his plan for the early development of the cut-over and wild regions of the state.

Nor the Commission Form Either.

Cambridge North Star: Henry Rines was ifi favor of a commission form of government for the state last winter, and now the governor's efficiency commission is about to indorse it. But does the governor's organization indorse Henry Rines' candidacy for state auditor? Not on your daguerreotype.

Only Popular With Plain Folks.

Albert Lea Standard: It is small wonder that Henry Rines is being so strongly opposed in his candidacy for the state auditorship by the interests and the state Republican machine. He is the author of the gross earnings tax law, which brings over a million dollars every year into the state treasury from the railroads. He has shown in a great many ways where he stands and naturally is not very popular except perhaps with the ordinary everyday taxpayer, who understands where Mr. Rines' sympathies are.

Brewing Trouble.

Fairmont Sentinel: Up to date the cost of financing J. A. O. Preus' campaign for state auditor has exceeded that of his boss for governor in the ratio of 5 to 1. But what's the difference? The supplies are drawn from the same bar'l.—Princeton Union.

Knock off the last 1.

It Might Have Been Well.

Brown's Valley Tribune: The "conference" should have gone a step farther, to be consistent, and indorsed Henry Rines for state auditor. The "conference" was made up of progressive delegates who are opposed to the Eberhart-Smith machine. If there is one man in public life who demonstrated while in office that he stands for the things that the people of this state want, who stands for the "square deal" and cannot be controlled by the machine and predatory interests, that man is Henry Rines, late speaker of the house of representatives. The people should stand by and support the men who have stood by them. That is the way to encourage public men to do the right thing.

Town Gardens

Life: A garden is a place into which you put quantities of seeds, time and money, and from which you take out weeds and backaches, and occasionally flowers and vegetables. Every garden should have attached to it a trust company, a hired man, and a water meter; also faith, hope and charity.

Gardens are useful in many ways. They dispose of rain showers in April and dust showers in August; they are also used as a summer resort by your neighbor's hens, who find no other places so restful to a tired and feather-upholstered stomach.

If corn is grown in gardens, it affords a comparatively safe refuge for the village cat and kittens and often supports whole families of crows in comfort, if not luxury.

Gardens are usually made out of top soil, which your local florist or landscape architect imports from the neighboring quarry at great expense—to you. He then puts upon it a frosting of patent fertilizer whose presence becomes immediately evident to all within the sound of its voice. Some fertilizers, such as we have mentioned are said to fertilize, but we speak only from hearsay.

Gardens are of many kinds, including the common or garden garden and the Italian or sunken garden. A sunken garden does not differ materially from others, except that, as a rule, you sink more money in it.

Gardens should be tested occasionally by packing them up and sending them by parcel post to the department of agriculture at Washington. Or, if you do not wish to wait, have them chemically examined by the nearest soda clerk.

The results in each case will probably be the same.

If you live in the suburbs, always place around your garden a high hedge. This will prevent your neighbors from looking over and remarking that if you had followed their advice in the beginning you might have something to brag of.

The Little Road in the Woods.

Winifred Kirkland in the Atlantic: The sun is high, and the wind is blowing, and the comrade road is waiting, genially postponing its sure self-revelation, but a-tip-toe to be off now to the woods, where we many share our fun unmolested, unsuspected. The little road is climbing now beyond mistaking. She is stepping through the woods so familiarly that you might miss her if you didn't follow close, for she knows there is no fun in the woods if you can't get lost, can't drop the pack of personality from your shoulder, and grow one with brushwood shadow, or arched branch. When the road said this to me, I began to listen to her for every word that she might say. But stealing ever deeper into the woodland, my path is not talking now, she is singing rather, she is dancing. Suddenly in the deeps of the wood she opens up a long green alley of fairy turf, and waits to see if I will share it with her and go scudding it like a squirrel. The white state-way never dreamed that I could fly, but the little friendroad knew. The road plays with me. Near the rut made by a lumber team, she tosses a handful of wintergreen berries like flecks of coral for me to garner, and lifts a sudden torch of scarlet oak against some wood recess black and deep as a cave. Every time she hears the sound of woodchopping she whisks away into still deeper shadow to be alone with me. Looking to right and left you cannot see the open; the only open is above, in the blue.

The Inscrutable Ways of Editors.

Henry Sydnor Harrison, author of "Queed," in the Atlantic: Here is Robinson, vainly knocking at editors' doors for years. He writes a book, which luckily lands among the best sellers; and lo, next morning, his ante-chamber is full of editors. He, the despised, learns the sweets of courtship; old lords and enemies have become his lovers. Robinson is pleased with the turn of affairs; for one thing, he can now pay his landlady; it is his triumph of vindication, succulent revenge. At the same time, being quite conscious that he is the same man he was last year and very much the same writer, he will naturally expect to hear some explanation of all this sudden adoration, some air of continuity preserved in the gratifying somersaulting. He will expect to hear his new admirers state frankly that they—or rather their assistants, who are always responsible, I find—must have been making some pretty bad mistakes last year; or at the least to find them contending that he, Robinson, having sallied out and won a large following for himself, is in a very different position, commercially speaking, from his position last year. But the editors, to Robinson's astonishment, say neither this nor anything else. They avoid the past altogether; or perhaps they have forgotten it. Robinson the unknown being merely effaced by a new entity, Robinson the "headliner," or "top-notcher," born full-grown. And Robinson, if he intends to cling to his own essential unity with himself, will have to set afoot his own investigations.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

Lewis F. Hill of West Duluth has sent to The Herald a copy of the poem "The Moneyless Man," which is acknowledged with thanks, but it had already been published before Mr. Hill's copy was received.

THE SCIENCE OF RACE IMPROVEMENT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The awakening of interest in the new science of eugenics is one of the most hopeful signs of the time. There are wonderful possibilities in enlightened, consecrated parenthood. Luther Burbank, in his book, "The Training of the Human Plant," affirms his conviction that the race, if reproduced in conformity with eugenic laws, would make more rapid improvement in the next ten generations than in 100,000 years under ordinary conditions.

A knowledge of eugenic principles—especially the psychic factors, is of vital importance to every prospective parent. It has been discovered that the transient physical, mental and moral states of the parents just before the inception of a new life, are often transmitted to the offspring. This should be to them a sacred time, devoted to the awakening and cultivation of all desirable qualities of mind and heart, that these traits may be impressed on the germinal elements of the new soul.

The law of maternal impressions may also be invoked with undreamed of results. In the light of the new psychology, we know that the subconscious mental states of the expectant mother powerfully influence for good or ill the forming mind and soul of her babe. Then is her golden opportunity to implant noble, inborn talents and tendencies. If she will cherish only beautiful, kindly, happy thoughts and aspirations, and an all-absorbing desire or prayer that he little one may be lovely, pure and good, experience proves that it will almost certainly be so.

It is infinitely better to form the new life aright in the beginning than to attempt to reform it in after years. When every child is intelligently planned for and mutually desired and welcomed, then only may we hope to realize our vision of the ideal race that is to be. F. M. C.

EXCLUSIVE SOCIAL CENTER WORK.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of the 8th inst. it was announced that an illustrated lecture on "The History of Minnesota" would be given at the Lakeside school that evening at 8, and that all were invited to attend.

Two boys, aged 10 and 12 years, both pupils at the Lakeside school and much interested in the study of history, both at home and in school, had shown a keen interest in the announcement and having secured permission from their parents, presented themselves at the door at the appointed time, only to be advised that they were not wanted and that in the opinion of those in charge of social center work they should be home in bed.

Now this so-called social center work may be all right, but in the opinion of the writer a lecture such as announced would be of vastly more interest and benefit to pupils engaged in the study of history than to their fathers and mothers, many of whom already know of the rapid advancement Minnesota is making in dairying and other industries.

Furthermore, the writer opines that parents are properly qualified to nominate the bedtime hour.

Truly social center work is becoming exclusive! PARENT.

THE KENWOOD ROAD.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I should like to express my views on our Kenwood road, now that it has been used for a public dumping ground, with every kind of garbage, even dead animals, being thrown there. When the weather gets warm there will be germs there thicker than the hair on a dog.

Now a road that has to be traveled as much as this one is, ought to be kept in a sanitary condition. Let the health commissioner exert himself and look into this. We have never had attention before. There are more than a hundred persons, not including school boarders, who will be exposed to these germs.

BULGARIAN QUEEN TO SEE MINNESOTA

Personal Representative of Her Majesty Arrives in New York.

New York, April 10.—William Caspar, personal representative of Queen Eleanore of Bulgaria, arrived here last night on the liner Imperator to make final arrangements for the five weeks' visit of the queen to the United States. The queen, he said, will sail late in May and will visit all of the larger cities as far west as Chicago.

Mr. Caspar, who was born in the United States, has been a resident of Bulgaria for many years. He is a contractor for the Bulgarian government and a close friend of King Ferdinand and Queen Eleanore.

"The queen is coming to the United States as a student," he said. "She desires to study the methods employed by the United States in handling immigrants.

"She is also intensely interested in hospitals and the training of nurses. In Bulgaria there is a lack of professional trained nurses. The queen will bring with her four young Macedonian women whom she will have instructed in an American hospital."

Mr. Caspar said that although arrangements for the trip had not been completed, the queen probably would visit Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Washington and Rochester, Minn. In the last named place she will be the guest of Dr. Mayo.

The queen will sail from Hamburg for New York either on the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria on May 22, or on the Imperator on May 27.

Taft in Georgia.

Augusta, Ga., April 10.—Former President William Howard Taft arrived here yesterday for a stay, he said, which might last several weeks. He was accompanied by Mrs. Taft. The former president will be one of the speakers Tuesday at the dedication of a memorial bridge to Maj. Archibald Butt, who lost his life on the Titanic.

DOCK SEASON ABOUT TO BEGIN

D. M. & N. Operations Are Expected to Be Under Way Next Week.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern ore docks will resume activities for the season during the latter part of next week, according to expectations of the officials. It is expected that before the middle of the week ice in the bay will have been broken up sufficiently to allow the moving of steamers to the dock so that they may be loaded and ready to leave on the opening day of navigation.

Most of the men who will work on the dock next summer have already been engaged and told to be ready to appear for work within a few days. The docks are said to be in readiness to receive the ore as soon as it comes from the mines.

Some ore is already being hauled from the range and is being held in the railway yards at Proctor.

Anglin Funeral.

The funeral services for Margaret, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Anglin, 113 Wicklow street, who died Wednesday night will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock, from the St. Clement's Catholic church, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street. Interment will be made in Calvary cemetery.

SEVERELY BURNED BY OIL EXPLOSION

Mrs. Mary Johnson Carries Stove Out of Doors Despite Injuries.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, who resides in a small building in the rear of a hotel at 601 Garfield avenue, sustained serious burns about the arms and face yesterday afternoon as the result of the explosion of a kerosene oil stove. Department No. 2 was called out to put out the blaze.

Mrs. Johnson had just lighted the stove when the explosion took place. Fortunately she was standing with her side to it or it is believed she would have been seriously burned about the body.

Although severely burned she picked up the stove and carried it out of the house, and neighbors attracted by her cries, called the fire department. The damage to the house was slight. A physician was called and dressed Mrs. Johnson's injuries.

CHURCHES OBSERVE GOOD FRIDAY.

Good Friday was observed this morning in nearly every church in the West end. In all of the Lutheran and Catholic churches, services were held at 10:30 o'clock and a joint service by four of the Scandinavian churches was held at the same hour at the Swedish mission, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. Services will be held this evening in many of the houses of worship.

THIEVES MAKE GOOD SUITCASE HAUL.

Mrs. Mary Zien reported to the police yesterday afternoon that some one had stolen a telescope satchel containing $200 worth of Oriental goods which she had left in front of her home at 532 Garfield avenue. She says she left it but a few moments on the sidewalk and when she returned it was gone. No clew to the thieves has been found by the police.

West End Briefs.

Axel O. Markell of Minneapolis left for his home last evening after spending a week visiting friends in this end of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hasselstrom of Cokato are guests of West end relatives over Easter.

Miss Etta Thorsen of Albert Lea has returned home, after spending two weeks visiting relatives in the West end.

Rev. Milton Fish and Rev. Swaney Nelson, who attended a meeting of the Baptist ministers of the state held in Minneapolis this week, have returned home.

George A. Paulson of St. Paul is a guest of West end relatives this week.

Russell Dice, who is attending the state university, is spending his Easter vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dice, 2702 West Fourth street.

MULHALL MUST PAY $5,000 TO BARRY.

New York, April 10.—The appeal of Martin M. Mulhall against the $5,000 judgment awarded Richard Barry, playwright, for half the money which the one-time lobbyist received for correspondence sold through Barry has been dismissed through the appellate division of the supreme court. As a lobbyist Mulhall was in the employ of the National Association of Manufacturers, and the correspondence Barry sold for him included letters exchanged between public officials and officers of the association.

Mulhall received $10,000 for the information, and Barry won a suit against him, the playwright alleging the lobbyist refused to give him half the money. Mulhall refused to live up to such an agreement, Barry set forth in the supreme court suit.

EX-CONVICT'S WIFE SUES

Mrs. Sarah Reinaman Asks for Absolute Divorce.

On the grounds that her husband, John Reinaman, served two years in a Pennsylvania penitentiary, Mrs. Sarah Reinaman, 26, yesterday started suit in district court for an absolute divorce.

The Reinamans were married at Silver Run, Md., May 21, 1905. On April 27, 1907, he was convicted of larceny and sentenced in the court of quarter session, Adams county, Pennsylvania, to the Eastern penitentiary, Philadelphia. Mrs. Reinaman alleges she has not lived with him since that time. She asks the court for the restoration of her maiden name, that of Sarah Carbaugh. There are no children in the family. Reinaman is 29 years old.

SETS HEARING DATE.

Disputed Injury Claim Will Come Up In May.

Judge Bert Fesler of the district court yesterday set May 24 as a date for a hearing on the disputed claim of Joe Prdid against the Oliver Iron Mining company for personal injuries. Prdid alleges that although he was totally disabled in an accident which occurred recently at the Canisteo mine near Coleraine, his employers have refused to pay him more than $211.12 for his injuries. Prdid claims that a section of frozen earth fell on him, breaking both collar bones and two ribs and straining the muscles of his neck and back.

ESCAPES FROM FIRE; IS SHOT BY WOMAN.

St. Louis, Mo., April 10. — Carl Strauss, president of a garment company, who escaped from the Missouri Athletic club fire in which his two roommates perished, was shot and seriously wounded by Mrs. Etta Cook, a divorcee, yesterday. The shooting took place in a doctor's office in a downtown office building.

Mrs. Cook said she was moved by jealousy to fire the shots. Strauss asserted that he would not prosecute the woman.

Madison "Drys" Cry Fraud.

Madison, Wis., April 10.—The Madison Dry league will perfect a permanent organization in order to make an investigation of yesterday's election which resulted in 67 majority for the wets. Its officers believe enough votes were sworn in illegally to carry the city for a license and it is probable they will ask for a recount. They say the question will again be submitted to the people two years hence.

This Grafonola, equipped with the new No. 6 Reproducer and tone arm, the VERY LATEST improvement, and the best; including 14 Double Records, 28 Selections—enough of the world's best music for an entire evening's entertainment—all on easy payments.

You cannot weigh a Grafonola in terms of dollars—it must be placed upon the same terms as patriotism, love of home, love of kindred; for its not the instrument itself that gives it worth, it's the atmosphere it creates in the home.

The songless home is apt to be the weak home; it's the home usually where people discuss whether life is worth living; it's the home where the boy and girl, finding no fund of happiness and amusement, seek their pleasures elsewhere—it's too often the average home where life is unrelieved by any ready-at-hand enjoyment. The songless home does not mould strong characters.

The coming of the Grafonola into such a home is more than the chance acquaintance who can entertain at times by song or instrumental selection. It is the friend of all the family and can be drawn on for many a happy hour.

Do no fail to come in and let us show you the new improved Grafonola—it brings the actual lifelikeness of the artists to your home.

TALK BY TELEPHONE FROM MOVING CAR.

Abilene, Tex., April 10.—A telephone for use on rapidly moving trains has been invented by George Neel. Neel, accompanied by Mayor E. N. Kirby of Abilene, and others, tried out the apparatus with success on a handcar on the Texas & Pacific railroad between Elmdale and Abilene, a distance of several miles. The party on the handcar called the people at Abilene and talked with them. The voices were distinct.

A wire is run along the railroad ties with cogs or barbs sticking up. The wire is sufficiently insulated so as not to get short-circuited by the rails, which are used as the ground or return circuit of the telephone system. The wheels of the car act as a medium through which the return circuit enters and a brush of steel sweeps over the cogs of the wire on the ties, giving the circuit. The speed of the train does not affect the clearness of the voice sound over the wires.

While his system works remarkably well, one problem is the danger of interference with the line of cogs on the ties. Mischief makers could throw the entire system out of order with a few blows.

How to Overcome A Bad Constipation

There is a Mild Laxative That Will Bring Safe and Pleasant Relief Over Night.

MRS. N. FRANTZ

It is only natural that the simplest of ailments should be the most general, and so we have a whole nation suffering from constipation and indigestion, for they are closely allied. But common as constipation is many people do not seem to know they have it. They will complain of headache, drowsiness or biliousness, all unconscious of the cause of the trouble.

You should have a full and free movement at least once a day. If you pass a day you are constipated, and the result will be that you will catch a cold easily or have a more serious ailment. To cure the constipation and forestall still graver trouble take a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night before retiring and by morning relief will come, without disturbance from sleep or any inconvenience.

Legions of people use it regularly in such emergencies, some of them formerly chronic invalids who had suffered from constipation all their lives. Mrs. N. Frantz, 67 Eighth St., Salem, Ohio, took physics for years, and worst of all, without much avail. Finally, she began to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and today she is no longer troubled and eats what she likes. Many others will tell you that they have tried most things recommended for this ailment but have found Syrup Pepsin the only one always reliable. A bottle can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter size being bought by families already familiar with its merits.

Syrup Pepsin is mild, pleasant-tasting and non-griping. Mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is effective in grownups. It is for everyone who suffers from any form of stomach, liver or bowel trouble, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, etc. Its action will so delight you that you will forever avoid harsh cathartics, purgatives, pills and salts.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

WILL MEET AT CHICAGO

General Assembly of Presbyterian Church to Convene May 21.

Big Fight Is Expected Over Report of Home Mission Board.

Chicago, April 10.—Subjects relating to every phase of life—religious, social, educational, political and industrial—will be considered by the 126th general assembly of the Presbyterian church, which will convene Thursday, May 21, in the newly erected $750,000 edifice of the Fourth Presbyterian church—said to be the most beautiful Presbyterian church in the world—located within sight of the blue waters of Lake Michigan, near Lincoln park in Chicago.

Rev. John Timothy Stone, D. D., pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, who was so unexpectedly elected moderator of the general assembly at Atlanta, Ga., last year, will open the assembly in the forenoon with a sermon in which he is expected to survey the church's progress during the last year. Only once before in the history of the Presbyterian general assembly has the retiring moderator convened the new assembly in the church of which he was pastor.

Gavel of Walrus Tusks.

As the moderator mounts the platform to preside over the afternoon session at which the new moderator will be elected, Rev. S. Hall Young, D. D., who spent forty years of his life doing missionary work in Alaska, where he established the first church of any denomination, will present Dr. Stone with a gavel made of the tusks of a walrus which Dr. Young himself killed on one of his expeditions in the Bering Sea. A similar gavel will also be presented to the newly elected moderator when he assumes the duties of his office.

Because of the precedent established last year in the election of Dr. Stone as moderator from the floor of the assembly, without any preliminary electioneering, no aspirants to the office of moderator have appeared. It is expected none will appear. In previous years the pre-assembly scenes were much like those attending the scenes before a national political convention, when rival candidates and their supporters fought for prestige.

Arrangements for the physical comfort of the 800 assembly's commissioners who will come from every part of the United States and its colonial possessions, and the thousands of other persons who will be attracted to the assembly and the pre-assembly gatherings, have been made by a committee of which Edward H. Smith, treasurer of the Oliver Typewriter company, is chairman, and W. Holmes Forsythe, secretary. On this committee are business men such as Cyrus W. McCormick, president of the International Harvester company; James B. Forgan, president of the First National bank, and Henry P. Crowell, president of the Quaker Oats company. An automobile tour of Chicago, through its beautiful resident and congested factory districts, will be one feature of the entertainment provided for the commissioners by the local committee.

Secretary Bryan to Speak.

The program of the assembly is in charge of Dr. William H. Roberts, stated clerk, whose headquarters are in the Witherspoon building, Philadelphia. President Wilson and Secretary of State William J. Bryan, both of whom are Presbyterians, are expected to be present and address the assembly.

The big fight of the assembly's sessions will revolve around the interpretation of that portion in last year's report of the board of home missions which says: "That while in fullest sympathy with every effort to revive, strengthen, and perpetuate the country church, and with every movement to evangelize and Christianize the rural population, nevertheless, the department of church and country life should be discontinued as soon as practicable."

Advocates of the development of churches in the rural districts maintain that the words "as soon as practicable" permitted the department to continue as long as there was need for urging pastors in country districts to become closely related to the everyday life of the rural districts instead of their living in towns miles away from their rural congregations.

Result of a Charge.

On the other hand those who advocate the discontinuance of the department of church and country life say that the words of the resolution adopted by the general assembly "as soon as practicable" meant the immediate cessation of the activities of the department. The report last year was the result of a charge made by a clergyman in one of the Western states that money of the home mission board was wasted in the East for work among the rich farmers and poor immigrants which ought to be spent to place more pastor-evangelists in the mining districts of the West.

What the Presbyterian assembly will do in Chicago next month either to develop or maintain its departments to solve the problems of rural life, immigration, labor and capital, child welfare, public health and housing, and many other questions usually classified under the general head of social service, will affect the policies of all other churches according to Presbyterian leaders who are preparing for the fray.

Pre-assembly conferences will be held by several boards of the church. Rallies and mass-meetings to consider questions of popular interest such as "Constitutional Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic," "Evangelism" and "Young People's Activities" will be held in numerous churches and auditoriums throughout the city, evenings and Sunday afternoons, during which the assembly is in session.

BETTER FARMING IDEA IN BECKER

Farmers Meet at Detroit and Form an Association.

Detroit, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Becker County Better Farming association was organized here Wednesday at the biggest gathering of Becker county farmers and business men ever held in the county.

The meeting was called by Thomas H. Costain of Lake Park, director for Becker county of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association, and there were large delegations present of farmers, bankers, real estate men and other progressive citizens from Lake Park, Frazee, Audobon and every town in the county practically. Supt. Lurton of the Detroit schools was chairman.

The morning attendance was swelled by the presence of the assessors of the county, a meeting of which was adjourned by Mr. Armson of the state tax commission for the purpose.

The first address was delivered by F. E. Balmer, Federal supervisor of agents for the West Central Minnesota association, who outlined what the county agents had been doing in West Central Minnesota.

Supt. C. G. Selvig of the Crookston school of agriculture gave a concise outline of the financial side of the proposition showing $2,000 or $3,000 is needed in each county.

President Osgaard of Concordia college, Moorhead, then gave a ringing address.

County Agent Clement of Clay county spoke of the field work of a county agent and the various problems he helped to solve.

Secretary Davies Talks.

N. S. Davies, secretary of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development Association briefly outlined what he hoped would be done. He said no permanent good could come from the organization only as the work done was reflected by the work of the individual farmer and business man. To accomplish anything worth while it would be necessary for earnest individual effort. He also briefly outlined a comprehensive publicity and advertising campaign.

L. W. Oberhauser, a banker of Frazee spoke, after which about twenty-five farmers made short addresses approving the county agent and development association movement.

President F. A. Weld of the Moorhead normal dwelt upon the general good that comes from such movements. He referred to the wonderful virgin fertility of the Red River valley and what it was capable of producing under proper methods of cultivation and with sufficient stock on every farm to maintain the fertility for future generations.

Following an open discussion Chairman Lurton by unanimous vote was authorized to appoint an executive committee of seven to complete the plans of organization of the Better Farming association, raise the necessary funds for the county agent and for the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association as far as Becker county's share was concerned. After passing resolutions thanking those who had come from a distance to assist at the gathering, the meeting adjourned.

Christian For Senator.

Marshalltown, Iowa, April 10.—M. L. Christian of Clinton, Iowa, was nominated by the Prohibition convention here for United States senator. Malcolm Smith of Cedar Rapids was chosen as the candidate for governor.

HITCHCOCK ATTACKS RESERVE BANK PLANS

Claims Organization Committee Violated the Currency Act.

Washington, April 10.—Senator Hitchcock today urged passage of his resolution calling upon the reserve bank organization committee for all the data upon which it acted in making the selections of cities for reserve banks.

"I think the law was violated in making communities bank in cities with which they never have and never will do business," said Mr. Hitchcock.

Senator Warren voiced the protest of Wyoming to being attached to Kansas City instead of Chicago, and Senator Oliver protested against Pittsburg being put into the Cleveland district instead of the Philadelphia or New York district.

Senator Reed of Missouri defended the committee's action.

RATIFICATIONS OF TREATY EXCHANGED.

Washington, April 10. — Secretary Bryan and Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, today exchanged ratifications of the arbitration treaty which will continue for another five years.

WEARS WIFE'S RING TO DEATH BY NOOSE

Jeremiah Allen Is Hanged in San Quentin Prison.

San Quentin, Cal., April 10.—Jeremiah Allen was hanged today for the murder of his wife on Christmas eve, 1912.

At his own request, Allen was permitted to wear the wedding ring with which he had claimed his wife from a life of shame, and which he found on her hand when, jealous of a paramour who had taken her back to the old life, he killed her.

As he stood on the scaffold there showed on his scalp a scar made by the bullet with which he had tried to end his own life immediately after the murder. In his pocket, as he walked smilingly to his death, was a letter he had written to his partner, Joseph Rapp, declaring his forgiveness of the relatives who aided in his conviction, and his good will to them.

PAYS VISIT TO SALOONS

Commissioners' Junket Had Some Aspects of a Joy Ride.

Hicken Insisted on Visiting Grog Shops, But For Purpose.

Safety Commissioner William A. Hicken doesn't rely wholly upon the reports of the police department as to the character of saloons in the city. He checks up some of them himself.

Yesterday afternoon Commissioner Hicken accompanied Mayor Prince and Commissioner Voss on an inspection trip to the western part of the city. They looked over conditions at the steel plant suburbs, which have been asking for better street lighting and a number of other improvements.

Both going and coming Commissioner Hicken directed the chauffeur to stop in front of various saloons. He walked into the various barrooms to see how they were being conducted. None of the owners knew he was coming and probably some of them do not know that the safety commissioner was one of their visitors yesterday.

But whether they knew he was in their places or not, none of them need be nervous, for the safety commissioner said afterwards that he was satisfied with what he saw. All of the saloons which he visited were orderly; no drunken men were visible; none of them were catering to "kids" and there was no gambling.

Commissioner Hicken added that he believes the character of Duluth saloons has shown a material improvement. Several of those with bad reputations have been put out of business and others have taken warning from the experiences of those which have been tossed into the discard.

Yesterday was not the first time Commissioner Hicken has walked into local saloons. Several times in the past he has gone through local saloons to see for himself how they were being conducted, and will probably continue the same policy in the future.

SUPREME COURT AT WORK GOOD FRIDAY

Case Testing State Cream Law is Argued at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today was the first time in many years that the Minnesota supreme court has held a session on Good Friday. The press of business and the large April term calendar led Chief Justice Brown to ignore the fact that many of the capitol offices are closed.

The only case of general interest argued was the appeal of the Great Western road from a fine imposed by the St. Paul municipal court on March 25 of $15 for shipping cream over its line from here to Austin in violation of the terms of the so-called Johnson sixty-five-mile law. This law provides that cream shipped more than sixty-five miles must be pasteurized or carried in refrigerator cars.

The appeal was taken to test the validity of the law, which has been attacked twice before in the courts, but without success. The constitutionality of the act, however, has never been directly passed on by the supreme court.

MAY PROVE A VALUABLE WITNESS

Charles Broholm May Tell What He Knows About Superior Election.

Arrested last night on a charge of drunkenness, Charles Broholm, 40 year sold, may prove to be an important witness in the fraudulent voting cases that are pending in Superior.

When brought before Judge Windom this morning, Broholm pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness, but during his talk with the judge he happened to mention that he came here yesterday from Superior. Judge Windom asked Broholm if he voted there and the latter replied that he had, also adding that he had lived in Superior but a few weeks. He came there from Floodwood, he told the court.

Judge Windom continued sentence until tomorrow in order that an investigation may be made by the local police and if Broholm's story is true, he will probably be taken over to Superior.

MOUNTAIN LION HUNT.

Animals Are Being Killed in Yellowstone National Park.

Livingston, Mont., April 10.—The big mountain lion drive in progress in the confines of the Yellowstone National park is proving successful, both from the standpoint of the sport and from the number of preying beasts killed.

The Yellowstone kennels, located at Gardiner, secured permission from the United States government to hunt the mountain lions, which are a constant menace to the young elk, deer and antelope in the national preserve. There are a score or more Airedales in these kennels. Within two weeks eighteen mountain lions have been bagged, one the largest ever seen in this country. Henry Anderson, an old scout, who is part owner of the kennels, was the hunter who trailed the big lion.

When the hounds first scent their prey they give chase and the lion resorts to every device to outwit his pursuers. At last he climbs a tree or seeks some spot that he considers safe. When the hunters and dogs reach the place, the lion is shot. When he falls wounded from the tree he finds himself in the midst of the pack and a battle royal ensues.

WILL LUMP CLAIMS FOR EXCESS RATES

Attorney General Smith Tells Plans For Recovery For Shippers.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith today made a definite announcement of his policy in regard to bringing suit against the railroads operating in Minnesota to recover for shippers refund claims under the Minnesota rate case decision, which the carriers have refused to pay.

Only one action, a joint proceeding against all roads which have refused to pay claims filed and allowed by the state railroad and warehouse commission, is contemplated.

It will be instituted shortly after July 21, on which date the time for submitting claims expires. The attorney general already has received about 200 of these disputed claims from the commission, and the number is expected to reach 500 by the time the litigation begins. The amount involved is but $5,000, but the legal principle to be established is considered most important.

Mr. Smith said he expects the case to go to the supreme court of the United States. He will delay bringing the action until the expiration of the year within which claims can be filed, because should he sue now the railroads might cease paying the refunds they have been making voluntarily, and allow the court to determine whether any liability at all rests on them.

WIFE-DESERTER FACES "PEN" TERM

F. J. Brown Breaks Parole After Promising to Support Family.

When Floyd J. Brown stood before District Judge Ensign eight months ago as a self-confessed wife deserter, the court believed that the ends of justice would best be served by paroling the prisoner under a penitentiary sentence.

Brown, however, proved unfaithful to the trust and Sheriff Meining has been directed by the court to pick him up at Minneapolis and turn him over to the authorities at Stillwater prison.

When Brown appeared in court, the suspended sentence was given only after the judge had impressed upon him that if he failed to provide for his family in the future he would be picked up wherever he might be and sent to prison.

Brown deserted his family in this city during the month of February, 1912. In July he was arrested at Minneapolis for the local authorities on a charge of abandoning his two children, both under the age of 10.

Brown saw his youngest child for the first time in the courtroom. It was then 2 months old. He promised Judge Ensign faithfully that he would provide for his family in the future, and make regular reports to the probation officer, Col. F. E. Resche.

This week, the probation officer informed the court that Brown had failed to do as he had promised, and the court made an order vacating the suspension of the sentence. Sheriff Meining yesterday afternoon wired the Hennepin county authorities to arrest Brown and hold the prisoner for him.

Before leaving Duluth, Brown worked as a motorman for the street railway.

"Y" BOYS ENJOY VACATION HIKE

Two Outings, Also, Are Held; Good Friday Program Given.

Twenty-four members of the Knights of Sir Galahad returned to the city yesterday after spending a night at the Spirit Lake branch of the Boat club. The boys hiked both ways from the end of the car line. The following were in the party: James Anderson, Nell Humphrey, Russell Palmer, Robert Hargraves, Irving Dion, John Mitchell, Oscar Ekroot, Alex. Tresise, Ray Larson, Chester Larson, Donaldson Annand, Gordon Clark, Clarence Sangster, Harold Foster, Carlyle Thomas, Munroe Whitmore, Eugene Bondy, Ralph Moe, Edward Weichert, Carl Weichert, Edward Evans, Harold Johnson and N. D. McLeod.

The outing yesterday was a trip to the Northern Shoe company. A trip was made to the Butternut Bread company also, where each boy was presented with a sample loaf of bread.

The evening program was a little play entitled "Dizzy's Dilemma," a one-act play presented by Warren Moore, John Shields, Edwin Pearson and Harold Coe. The program for Good Friday was a breakfast and short service, a swim at 10 o'clock and in the afternoon a hike. The building will not be open tonight. On Saturday the regular program of events will go into effect. The Knights of Sir Galahad will meet Sunday at 4 o'clock instead of 3 o'clock, as is usual. Edwin Scriven, president of the cabinet, will be the speaker. The Sunday club will meet at 5 o'clock. The meeting will take place around the lunch table and Dr. Barker of Washington, D. C., will be the speaker.

There is in Western Australia, a fence, said to be the longest in the world. It was made necessary by the devastating tendencies of rabbits. The fence extends from the temperate regions into the tropics. It is 1,200 miles long, and, except for gates, has no breaks.

MAY CLOSE UP 'DRY' ACTIONS

Long Drawn-Out Fight Over Indian Territory May Be Wound Up.

Proceedings Started By 'Pussyfoot' Johnson May Be Disposed of.

Bemidji, Minn, April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Final disposition of the long drawn out J. E. ("Pussyfoot") Johnson cases in the comparatively near future is indicated by the arrival here of a copy of the government's brief submitted by William Wallace, Jr., assistant attorney general.

A copy of the brief is in the hands of ex-Judge Marshall A. Spooner and E. E. McDonald, attorneys for the Bemidji liquor dealers, and both these attorneys will go to Washington in the near future, it is expected, and make oral arguments before the supreme court of the land.

The question first arose over an attempt by government agents to close Bemidji saloons under the provisions of an old Indian treaty. An injunction prevented and this injunction was sustained by the late Judge Willard. The government appealed to the supreme court, but the point of law has been raised that the proper process was an appeal within six months time to the circuit court of appeals, and this was not done. The supreme court will now first pass on the question of its own jurisdiction. Should it decide that the appeal should have bten made to the circuit court, the Bemidji cases must be dropped because of the lapse of the time limit.

Should the supreme court claim jurisdiction, the case then is taken up on its merits. The concluding section of the government's brief reads:

What Government Contends.

"Finally the need for protection cannot be over emphasized. In 1912 more than 31 per cent of the Indians on the Leech Lake reservation and more than 17 per cent of those on the White Earth reservation were estimated as having tuberculosis while over 19 per cent at Leech Lake and 26 per cent at White Earth were estimated as afflicted with trachoma. Liquor is destructive enough to Indians in ordinary health, but it is death itself to them when they are already weakened by the ravages of disease. Moreover, the state prohibition laws are inadequate to meet the situation. This clearly appears from the following extract from the latest reports, 1912, of the commissioner of Indian affairs:

"'The situation in Minnesota so far as our operations are concerned, change but little. The conditions among the Indians has become worse and reports indicate that the Indians have but little difficulty in obtaining liquor. As about 75 per cent of the Indians in that state are citizens and operations under the provisions contained in the various treaties with the Chippewa Indians have been held in abeyance pending the final determination of the case of Gearlds et al vs. Johnson et al., our only hope lies in the enforcement of the state law. Our work along that line, however, has been to a certain extent hampered by the passage of a law by the state declaring it to be a misdemeanor to employ a decoy.'"

"Bearing in mind, therefore, that the question is preeminently one for congress, that that body has not acted, that there are upwards of 7,000 Indian wards living in the ceded district entitled to and requiring Federal protection, and that these Indians are accustomed to travel more or less over its entire area, there appears to be no sufficient grounds upon which the prohibition of article 7 can be condemned by this court as arbitrary."

TO PROTEST AGAINST INCREASE IN RATES

Gopher Attorney General Going Before Federal Rail Commission.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith will go to Washington next week to enter a protest, if possible, with the interstate commerce commission against the granting of the proposed 5 per cent rate increase to Eastern roads.

All Minnesota agricultural products are affected by the proposed new schedules and the attorney general believes that the effect of the increase on the farm industry of Minnesota should be called to the attention of the commission. Other Western states have entered similar protests.

"This increase is of vital importance to the people of Minnesota," said Mr. Smith. "The effect of the raising of the rates on the price of commodities is not greater on any articles than on farm products."

To Probe Inheritance Tax.

From Washington Mr. Smith will go to New York, where he will be joined by Assistant Attorney General William S. Stevenson, in charge of inheritance tax matters. They will inquire into inheritance taxes that may be due the state from the estates of J. Pierpont Morgan, Donald Smith, Lord Strathcona, Henry H. Rogers, the Standard Oil magnate; Christian Bors and Benjamin Altman. On their way home they will take up in Chicago the matter of the inheritance tax upon the estate of A. Montgomery Ward.

Limit Little Falls Saloons.

Little Falls, Minn., April 10.—An ordinance limiting the number of saloons in the city to eighteen, the number now in business, passed its first reading at the meeting of the council. Under the law Little Falls is entitled to twenty-five saloons.

MAYOR STANDS PAT.

Mellen, Wis., Executive Will Permit No Tilting of Lid.

Mellen, Wis., April 10.—Mayor Orr will stand pat on his order against allowing any laxness in enforcing the laws against saloons running on Sundays despite the efforts of saloon keepers and others desiring to make this an "open" town. He says he will stand by his order for law enforcement.

Every effort was made to induce the mayor to agree to some form of compromise. As a last resort he was asked if it would make any difference in his decision, if it could be shown a considerable portion of the business men favored Sunday opening. The mayor replied he was glad to know the fact.

At a conference of local business men and Ashland attorneys the mayor said, "I will be frank to say gentlemen that regardless of what is said here there will be no change in law enforcement at Mellen."

AITKIN TEACHERS ARE SELECTED.

Aitkin, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The teachers for the Aitkin school for next year have been chosen with one exception and are as follows: Superintendent, R. L. Mason; high school, J. F. Magnus, Glen Flora, Wis.; Miss Helen Patterson, Rush City; Miss Ruth Hosmor, Miss Orpha Cheney and Miss Martha Wolf, Minneapolis; A eighth grade, Miss Ida T. Rud, Minneapolis; B eighth grade, Miss Inga Rund Lansford; seventh grade, Miss Lila Gilmore, Aitkin; A sixth grade, Miss Helen Literski, Winona; B sixth grade, to be supplied; fifth grade, Miss Margaret Grannis, Duluth; fourth grade, Miss Elizabeth Cox, Duluth; third grade, Miss Beatrice Cluff, Aitkin; second grade, Miss Verna Mason, Aitkin; second primary, Miss Alice Gunderson; first primary, Miss Edith Perry; Mr. Ellis, manual training.

SETTLER TAKES LIFE.

Well-to-Do Homesteader Near Roosevelt, Minn., Shoots Self.

Beaudette, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Borkman, a homesteader living four miles from Roosevelt, a small town west of this place, committed suicide Tuesday by shooting himself. No cause is known except that he had been drinking. Mr. Borkman had his place cleared and had money. He was not married. Deputy Coroner F. E. Johnson went to Roosevelt Wednesday to investigate.

THINK LAW UNFAIR.

North Dakotans Question Justice of Second Homestead Entry Law.

Manning, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Just why the government is so anxious to extend further courtesies and bounties to those who commuted their homestead entries and has done nothing for those who put in the full five years completing a residence and improvements on homesteads, is a matter of speculation in this part of the state.

The law at present permits those who commuted prior to June 5, 1900, to make second homestead entries. Senator McCumber has introduced a measure to amend the law to apply to those who have commuted since that time.

Real homesteaders cannot understand why bank clerks, teachers, preachers and others who spent fourteen months on claims, made final proofs, then return to their former homes are any more entitled to additional homesteads than those who made bona fide homestead entries and put in five long years cultivating the claims.

BANK WORK HALTS.

Silent Tribute Paid By Employes to Late Lumber Magnate.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—The tinkling of coins was stilled and employes of the Merchants' National bank sat with bowed heads for several minutes yesterday in respect to the memory of Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the lumber millionaire, whose funeral was held in Rock Island yesterday. A group of surprised patrons waited silently until a bank officer signaled and the rush of work was resumed.

Mr. Weyerhaeuser was a vice president of the bank.

Other business houses suspended operations for a few minutes as a mark of respect to the memory of the lumber magnate.

GIRLS FIGHT FIRE.

Try to Extinguish Blaze in Graham Hall at State University.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 10.—Maids at Graham Hall, a school for girls here, formed a volunteer fire fighting brigade, passed buckets of water to the third floor of the dormitory and attempted to stem the flames when fire swept through that building until the firemen arrived late yesterday. The fire started apparently from a gas jet left burning by house cleaners who had just left the building. The girls, who were out of the building at the time were warned of the fire by children in the street who saw the flames bursting through the roof. The young women were led in their fire fighting by Miss Minnie Frederickson, a student, who assumed command, and directed the work. George Foss, a fireman, was overcome by fumes of gasoline and smoke and is in a hospital. The loss to the building was less than $1,000.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE LEADS TO STABBING

Two Mill City Women Have Sensational Clash Over Subject.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 10.—A suffrage argument late yesterday resulted in the stabbing of Mrs. Mary Ronaltelk and a search by the police for Mrs. Anna Fudedagict, charged with having done the stabbing. The wounded woman, who is said to have received six knife wounds, will recover.

Mrs. Ronaltelk, according to the police, believed women had as much right to vote as men, the other woman declared the women's place was in the home. The argument grew so heated the fight followed.

Mrs. Fudedagict gave herself up to the police tonight and will be arraigned in court tomorrow.

REFERS PREUS CHARGE.

Attorney General to Pass on Accusation Against Insurance Commissioner

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—Governor Eberhart has submitted the charges made against Insurance Commissioner J. A. O. Preus by B. F. Ward of Minneapolis to Attorney General Smith for an opinion as to whether they constitute malfeasance in office.

The commissioner is accused of not enforcing penalties against insurance companies failing to make their annual reports between Feb. 1 and 15. Some time ago Mr. Preus asked the attorney general to pass upon the validity of this law, but no opinion has been forthcoming as yet.

BANK IS REOPENED.

West Brook, Cottonwood County Institution, Better Than Ever.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—Kelsey S. Chase, state superintendent of banks, yesterday reopened the State Bank of West Brook, Cottonwood county, which was closed by his order on Feb. 14, when C. A. Zieske, the cashier, was arrested on a grand larceny charge.

Mr. Chase said the West Brook bank has been reorganized and now is in a better condition than ever.

GATES INHERITANCE TAX PAID STATE.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—The state of Minnesota received $82,538 as the inheritance tax on the estate of the late Charles G. Gates of Minneapolis. Payment was made yesterday for the widow, Mrs. Clarence Hapgood Gates, by her counsel.

They agreed to pay the tax two months ago without contest. They contended at first that Gates' home was in Texas.

ROBBED OF $12,000.

Fargoan Claims to Have Lost That Amount at Mott, N. D.

Mott, N. D., April 10.—A. R. Kime, a collector for a Fargo concern, reported to the police last night that a satchel containing approximately $12,000 worth of negotiable securities had been taken from his room at a local hotel yesterday. Other valuable papers and a small amount of money also was contained in the satchel, Kime said.

GETS WRONG BOTTLE.

Couderay, Wis., Man Drinks Disinfectant for Stomach Bitters.

Couderay, Wis., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lewis Dennis, residing near here, was suffering from stcmach trouble and in the dark crank from a bottle of liquid disinfectant, thinking it was stomach bitters. He will recover, but is suffering from the effects of the disinfectant.

ORATORICAL WINNERS.

Those Who Secured Honors in Upper Michigan Contests.

Hancock, Mich., April 10.—Supt. H. D. Lee of the Hancock public schools, chairman of the district oratorical and declamatory contest to be held in Negaunee the evening of April 24, reports the winners of the three sub-district contests held throughout the Upper Peninsula as follows:

First sub-district—Oratory, "Robert Emmet," Chris Tucker of Calumet; declamation, "The Philippine Question," Wilfred Hocking of Lake Linden.

Second sub-district—Oratory, "The Hill of Common Life," Holburn Dryden of Ishpeming; declamation, "Henry W. Brady," Grace Terrill of Ishpeming.

Third sub-district—Oratory, "A Plea for the Immigrant," Leonard Anderson of Newsminer; declamation, "A Vision of War," Florence Ferihaus of Menominee.

Fargo Dance Hall Row.

Fargo, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—A retaliatory fight against all dancing organizations in Fargo is proposed by the advocates of dancing in a pavilion near the park. The city commission declined to reissue a license for that institution. The management kept a policeman at the dance to maintain order, and used every precaution to avoid objectionable incidents. It is contended that in refusing the license to this place unjust discrimination is being shown other dance halls of the city.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

New York Mills—B. B. Clapp, the Northern Pacific claim agent, was here Monday to turn over $5,000 to H. C. Hanson for Mrs. W. St. Claire. Mr. Hanson has been appointed administrator of the estate of Mrs. St. Claire, who was killed when his speeder was struck by a train some time ago.

Little Falls—Some time ago R. L. Donovan of the farm management bureau of the university extension division was here looking over farms with the object in view of placing a farm in this vicinity under state management. It is now practically assured that the farm of Sam Hammerbeck on route 8 will be chosen.

Red Wing—Rev. W. Lange of Sargent, Mower county, for many years pastor of the Hay Creek German Lutheran church, died at his home after a long illness. Rev. Mr. Lange was born in Germany in 1834 and served as pastor of the church at Hay Creek from 1883 to 1906, when he and his family moved to Mower county.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Bismarck, N. D.—Governor Hanna has gone to Eau Claire, Wis., to endeavor to persuade a wealthy citizen of the place, who is philanthropically inclined, to contribute something towards the endowment of Fargo college.

L Moure, N. D.—Citizens of Badger township voted down by a good majority, the idea of a consolidated school for the reason that it would impose a hardship upon the children being transported from the long distances.

Fargo, N. D.—The committee which is now engaged in securing 1914 memberships for the Fargo Auto club is meeting with good results. A large number have been seen and have signed up and turned over their annual dues.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Deputy Sheriff William Doty has returned after spending the past month in Oregon in connection with the fruitless Cooper extradition hearings.

Devils Lake, N. D.—The petition of J. A. Haig for re-election to the office of county superintendent of schools, is being circulated in Devils Lake.

Fargo, N. D.—The Fargo lodge, No. 260, B. P. O. Elks, will hold its annual installation of officers Saturday night at the regular meeting at the Elks' club rooms on First avenue north.

Devils Lake, N. D.—H. C. Underwood and family have moved to Thief River Falls, Minn., where they will make their future home.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Hancock — Miss Florence Hartman, aged 18 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartman, died April 8 at her home on Lakeside avenue. She is survived by her parents, two brothers; John and Jacob, and three sisters, Tillie, Agnes and Laura, all of Calumet.

Houghton—A. J. Sener, purchasing agent for the Waddell-Mahon corporation, called here by the strike, who has been confined in St. Joseph's hospital, for the past fourteen weeks during which time he underwent two operations, left Tuesday afternoon for his home in New York.

Calumet—Over fifty applications for liquor licenses have been received so far in the village of Red Jacket, including practically all of the present saloonists and a number of new applicants.

Houghton—The fire department has elected these officers: Chief, Louis Voetsch; assistant chief, Ray Eggleston; secretary, M. J. Haas; treasurer, Maurice Spring; captain hose wagon, William Hankey; captain hook and ladder truck, William Meyers.

Lake Linden — Osceola township voted to issue $75,000 bonds to build the Dollar Bay school.

Laurium — Ne-ga-un-Kee Rod and Gun club elected these officers: President, J. C. Vivian; vice president, E. P. Bast; secretary, Harry Hermann; treasurer, John A. Gries. Huron river was selected as the site of the fishing trip, this terminal having been given precedence over the north shore, Huron Bay and other Lake Superior resorts.

Ishpeming — Werner Tuorniketo, a miner, working at the "Sixteen" was injured April 8 when the caps which he was holding exploded. He was badly lacerated about the face, hands, arms and legs. Pieces of the copper cap were driven into the flesh by the force of the explosion.

Negaunee—Fred Roberts this week purchased a sawmill from J. N. Ikkela. He will take the plant to the Dead river district, where he will use it cutting timber from his land.

Marquette—W. D. Foley and Charles Roberts of Duluth were in Marquette Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Kemp of Duluth are visiting their parents in Marquette.

Hancock—Word has been received of the death in Butte of Michael McGrath, a former resident of Hancock and Hubbell. Mr. McGrath moved to Butte twenty years ago. He was 54 years of age and is survived by his wife and five children.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Marinette—Joseph Fisher was re-elected mayor for the fourth consecutive term at the municipal election by a majority of 175 over Charles R. Johnston. Mayor Fisher carried four out of five wards.

Sparta—The grocery store of Wakeman Bros. was entered by yeggmen Tuesday night, who opened the safe and secured a loot of about $400. The safe is located near the front window, and was opened by working the combination.

Mellen—B. Rydahl was elected supervisor in the First ward, A. E. Logan in the Second ward, and John House in the Third ward. Sam Scribner was elected alderman in the Third ward, F. P. Simmons was elected justice of the peace. All other officers held over.

Most Skin Trouble Readily Overcome

The Active Principle of a Famous Remedy Works Wonders.

Many people have marveled the way S. S. S. overcomes skin troubles. The explanation is the fact that S. S. S. works in the blood and the blood is really a most intricate and extraordinary mass of arteries and veins.

When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery.

There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood streams just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements.

It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.

Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and just insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 529 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Do not allow some zealous clerk's eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. to fool you with the same old mineral drugs. Beware of all substitutes. Insist upon S. S. S.

By BRUCE

JAPS, Cubans and Indians have invaded the ranks of teams of the major leagues. There have been Italians, Portuguese, Germans, a whole raft of Irishmen and a few Americans in the game. Some one has sounded the tocsin of alarm and proclaims in loud and lurid words of prophecy that the black men will be in the ranks of the majors within the next few years.

Let the Federal league represent the unknown quantity in the national pastime, as the brain of a football player does in high school. What will the Feds do? Speak up—answer, you don't know. Some of the dark perilists have come to the conclusion that in the desperate quest for players the colored stars of the country may be used.

At least this is the plaint of a wail which comes from the general direction of Seattle, where Rube Foster, manager of the American Giants, a colored team, and one of the greatest of all ebony twirlers, is sojourning.

For years, in fact since the organization of baseball as a commercialized sport, there has been an unwritten law barring the black man from the game.

George Wilson, a pitcher well known over the trail of the semi-professional of the Northwest, would have been of the rank of Walter Johnson or Mathewson, if he had been allowed to play in the big leagues. There was never any doubt of the class of Wilson as a player.

When the Cuban teams were defeating the teams of the big leagues that visited the island, fans of this country raised interesting speculation as to the worth of the Cuban players. As a matter of passing comment it might be mentioned that lots of these "Cubans" are negroes.

The story that the Federals will raid the ranks of the black teams of the country for some of the undoubted stars that are to be found upon these teams, sounds far fetched.

Salute Us, Mr. Gratitude.

IN 1908 George Edward Waddell went from the Philadelphia Americans to the St. Louis Browns. That was the year, constant reader, that Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis came into the stretch together.

There is a handsome concrete grand stand at the St. Louis American grounds. It is one of the finest in the country. It is commonly said that Mr. Rube Waddell built this grand stand.

Understand that George Edward Waddell is not an architect. He built the grand stand by pitching such an excellent brand of baseball that people came with sheckels in their hands and passed into the park, depositing said sheckels with the man at the gate.

At the close of the season, which accumulated and otherwise amassed several hundred thousand iron men for R. L. Hedges, owner of the Browns, Rube Waddell departed with a few lonely dollars.

The other day the same George Edward Waddell died a pauper.

P. S. The grand stand is there and is in very fine condition.

The Way of a Champion.

JOHN SCANLON KILBANE is the champion featherweight boxer of the world. Mr. Kilbane is Irish and therefore must be humorous. Traveling over the country and collecting money for appearing in six and eight and occasionally ten round bouts, in which Kilbane jabs lightly, clinches frequently and dodges deftly, must awaken an occasional sense of the Celtic humor in the thickly thatched bean of the Cleveland man.

Great Old Press Stuff.

IN his day John L. Sullivan was a grand old battler. Chorus of Hibernians: "Aye, aye, you're roight there, me boiy." Passing on with the observation, which was rudely and enthusiastically interrupted, let us say that though a grand old battler, there were certain of the fine points of the game that were foreign to Mr. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan had a way of deciding and otherwise terminating things with that ponderous right.

In Chicago Mr. Charley White is playing an engagement at a theater. He is matched to fight Willie Ritchie. Mr. Sullivan will appear at the same theater each day and instruct Mr. White in the fine points of the game. Oh, isn't that good—yes it is, for the manager of the theater and Mr. Sullivan and the manager of Mr. White.

The idea of Mr. Sullivan instructing Charles Edward White in the intricacies of the fine points of boxing is faintly reminiscent of an educated hog attempting to play one of Mr. Wagner's compositions while afflicted with an injured hoof.

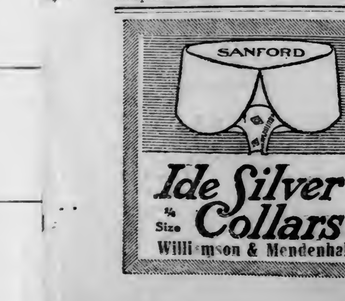
Hire a Freight Boat.

A YEAR or more ago Hannes Kolilemainen came to our humble and hospitable shores via the medium of the third class passage on one of the boats that ply between the old and respected country and the progressive and up to date side of the blue Atlantic.

After remaining in our midst for the said year or more in the capacity of amateur athlete and brick layer Mr. Kohlemainen is about to return to his native land for a brief visit.

Accompanying the whilom Humble Hannes will be several hundred cups, a grand piano, several cases of medals, tankards, vases, stands and statues. These are emblematic of athletic supremacy—also purity—and prosperity.



The whole problem of Hannes and his transportation would be simplified if a freight steamer were to be engaged for the distinguished brick layer.

The N. S. Jackson Person.

TAKING part in the Philadelphia relay games of April 25 will be N. S. Jackson of merrie England. Mr. Jackson is the lad who took the measure of our John Paul Jones. Mr. Jackson is not a tailor, we hasten to add in order to prevent confusion, but an amateur runner.

In the 1,500 meter race of the recent Olympic games Mr. Jackson of classic Oxford met out John Paul Jones, accounted the greatest runner of modern times, and beat our J. P. Jones. Now Mr. Jackson and three other Englishmen are coming to the relay game and will attempt to show the cities of the dear old U. S. A. that there remains some championship material in the tight little isle, though affliction and bitter adversity has beset the athletic destinies of Britannia.

M'GOORTY AND CLABBY

Crack Middleweights to Meet in Australia for Title.

Chicago, April 10.—"It is a disgrace to an American citizen the way they treated Jimmy Clabby in California, and we are sailing for Australia today," was the telegram Manager Larney Lichtenstein sent to the Hammond middleweight boxer's father in Hammond yesterday before he started his boxers to Australia.

Jimmy Clabby and the rest of the party, comprising Joe Welling and Steve Ketchel, Chicago lightweights, are on the high seas bound for the Antipodes. Although Clabby was placed under probation by a Los Angeles court for his trouble with a policeman, his manager slipped him out of the state quietly in order to fill contract engagements in Australia. When Snowy Baker was in Chicago some weeks ago Lichtenstein signed for a series of battles in Sydney and other Australian points.

Third Visit to Australia.

This is Clabby's third visit to Australia. In his two other trips to the English continent he has been one of the biggest boxing favorites known there. Promoter Baker's chief object in bringing on Clabby this time is to have him meet Eddie McGoorty for the middleweight championship of the world. Although McGoorty has been anxious to leave that country for some days, it is more than likely he has been prevailed upon to remain long enough to meet Clabby in a championship battle.

MAY ADOPT PLAN OF AMERICAN LEAGUE

American Association Seeks More Solid Basis of Organization.

Chicago, April 10.—American association club owners discussed ways and means for putting the league on a more solid basis at an unannounced meeting here yesterday. The plan under consideration, contemplates placing the league beyond the power of an individual member, similar to the organization of the American league during its fight against the National league and when it was struggling for an equal voice in the government of baseball.

Such a scheme involves the placing of a majority of the stock of the club, all ground leases and property rights in the hands of a trustee. The American league gave sole authority to President Johnson. Whether the association will bestow the same power on President Chivington could not be learned.

The club owners were loath to discuss the plan before its completion. The transfer of the franchise from Toledo to Cleveland was approved.

Steal "Packers" From Omaha—Earl Hamilton Joins Team.

Kansas City, Mo., April 10.—The Kansas City Federal league baseball club, led by Harry Neily, business manager, arrived today from the spring training grounds at Wichita Falls, Tex., where the Packers have been working for the last month. All the players were in good condition.

The coming of Earl Hamilton, the pitcher Manager Stoval lured from the St. Louis American league club yesterday, put a lot of energy into the team. Manager Stovall declared that with Hamilton and Eugene Packard, formerly with the Cincinnati Nationals, he had two pitchers that would keep the Packers well toward the top.

Released to Soo City.

Sioux City, Iowa, April 10.—Douglas Baird, former star baseball player of Westminster college at Fulton has been released by the Pittsburg Nationals to the Sioux City Western league.

YOUNG PLAYERS TO MAKE RACE IN THE NORTHERN

Every Team But Winona Will Have Many New Faces.

Fans Have No Dope to Assist in Choosing Winners.

Winona is about the only team in the Northern league that can be reasonably doped for the coming race from the showing of last year, for the simple fact that the Pirates are about the only team that have a nucleus of the 1913 team in the lineup.

All of the rest of the flag contenders will be made up for the most part of untried players or players that are new to this league, and therefore unknown.

Take the White Sox for instance. Brackett, Blancke, O'Brien, Sweeley, Rhoades, possibly Meniece and Woods, compose the players that were with the team during the 1913 pennant flight.

Jerry Edmunds was in this lurid league and his qualities are known, therefore he can be figured in as a known quantity. About all of the rest of the vast squad that is being assembled by the Dook, are absolutely unknown to the fans and just what they will do is a dark and mysterious conjecture.

Jack Landry will have more veterans to work with than O'Brien, but according to the reports from the village over the bay, it is planned to replace most of the veterans with young material. Bob Unglaub will have mostly new faces in the lineup of the Fargo team, and looking over the roster of the Winnipeg aggregation one is struck with the absence of the names of players that made the race for the Canadians last year.

One would not expect Conrad of the Fort William team to retain very many of the players who showed such slovenly baseball habits as members of the St. Paul team. Lizzette, Thomas, Krimer and one or two others are the only players of last year to appear on the early roster of the club. The league will be very glad to learn this fact.

As in the dejected case of the St. Paul team of 1913, so the comparison goes for the Virginia aggregation. There was a bunch of miserable and down cast serfs in the Shannon retinue, and the sooner they are out of the league the better it will suit the fans.

Kid Taylor has been house cleaning in energetic fashion. Looking over the club list one runs across several familiar names in Chase, Ursella, Stewart, Lampman, Griesch, Hargrove and one or two others; but as is the case with practically every team in the league with the exception of Winona, most of the men trying for places on the team are men new to the league.

Winona Has the Call.

It is only natural that under the existing conditions Winona should be installed as the strongest contender for pennant in the pre-season dope race.

Lefty Davis had a real minor league ball team; an aggregation that hustled all the way and played the most consistent and most aggressive baseball in the league. It was to be expected that the veteran would stand pat on his 1913 team, for it would be very difficult to improve upon it.

You can take all of the remainder of the teams, figuratively speaking, shake them in a hat, and blindly pick your choice. The fans here have absolutely no idea of what the Sox will do, and the same is quite true for about all of the rest of the teams, saving the gonfalon winners of last year.

If the vast assemblage of youngsters under contract to the teams show promise and some real baseball ability, the season should develop into one of the most successful in the history of baseball in these parts.

Young players are natural hustlers and lend the enthusiasm of youth to their work. New faces as a rule install new interest in the game. Few leagues have faced a season with so large a number of new players as are possessed by five of the six teams of the Northern league.

In picking a pennant winner in the coming contest, the dope followers would naturally like the chances of Winona; in selecting from the remainder of the teams, a follower of the game has very little in the way of dope or past performances to assist his choosing.

Perfection is a mighty word—it honestly describes the new spring

GO TO MAT WITH FEDS

American League Will Fight Grabbing of Earl Hamilton.

Many Jumps From St. Louis Expected—Big Terms Offered.

St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—The first battle in an openly avowed war between organized baseball interests and the Federal league was staged here yesterday and the younger league retired the victor with an American league pitcher added to its ranks and an American league catcher said to be on his way to join the Federals.

Early this morning Earl Hamilton, left-handed pitcher for the St. Louis Americans, departed for Kansas City in company with George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City team which Hamilton announced he had joined. Last night Clem Clemons, catcher for the St. Louis Americans announced he would depart for Chicago on a late train, but he would neither admit nor deny published rumors that he had joined the Chicago Federal team.

Rumors that at least a half a dozen other St. Louis mapor league players had been considering Federal leaguo offers or were soliciting such offers were rife last night.

"You can say for me," declared Robert Lee Hedges, president of the St. Louis Americans to newspaper men, "that President Johnson, the American league, the National commission and organized baseball in general, will never permit Earl Hamilton to play with the Kansas City Federals."

Hamilton signed a three-year contract with the local Americans last year. Clemons was a new man with the Americans and came from the Western league.

A $5,000 bonus and three-year contract for a total of $21,000 was the bait that caused Hamilton to jump, according to Clarence Walker, Hamilton's roommate, who was present when the deal was closed.

Chicago, April 10.—The American league is ready to go to war with the Federals over Earl Hamilton, pitcher of the St. Louis Americans, who jumped to the Federals, according to Ban Johnson, American league president.

"The American league will stop Hamilton if it takes every dollar in the treasury," said Johnson last night. "He had signed a most liberal three-year contract with the Americans.

Nothing will be left undone to check him in his unlawful violation of his contractual obligations. The incident will harm the good record of professional baseball."

Johnson left for Cincinnati last night after a conference with D. L. Reeves, secretary to John K. Tener, president of the National league. Reeves left today for St. Louis.

COVEY WILL MEET WHITE AT TENNIS

Professionals at Court Game Matched for Sunday at Tuxedo.

Tuxedo Park, N. Y., April 10.—George G. Covey, the Englishman who held the open court tennis championship of the world until it was wrested from him a few weeks ago by Jay Gould, the American amateur champion, will meet Jack White, professional, of the New York Tennis and Racquet club here April 12.

Immediately after the Sands-Russell match had been decided at the Racquet and Tennis club yesterday, the third or "rubber" match in a friendly series of three between Neville Lytton, amateur champion of England, with George F. Covey, the British professional as partner, and the doubles champions, Jay Gould and W. T. Huhn of Philadelphia, was played and won by the Americans in three straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

In the first match at Philadelphia the Englishmen won by three sets to two, but in their second meeting at Tuxedo, Gould-Huhn were the victors by three sets to one.

Race Horses Burned.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 10.—Fire which consumed a barn and killed eleven race horses last night, threatened to destroy the Latonia race course near Covington, Ky., but was extinguished with a loss of $10,000 on the barn and $20,000 on the horses.

College Player Injured.

New York, April 10.—The Fordham university baseball team lost one of its best players for the season yesterday when in the first inning of the game on the university grounds against Williams college Jimmy Docling, left fielder, broke his leg while running the bases.

Cambridge, Mass., April 10.—Harvard yesterday won an easy victory over Colgate 7 to 1.

Baltimore Feds' Debut.

Baltimore, Md., April 10.—The Baltimore Federal league club made its debut here yesterday. It won the first game of five innings from Mount St. Joseph's college by 11 to 1. The second game, with the Cross-Country club, went seven innings, the Federals winning 12 to 0.

Travis Takes Honors.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 10.—Medal honors in the first day's play of the annual mid-April golf tournament here yesterday went to Walter J. Travis of the Garden City club, New York, with a card of 78 for the 28 holes. The survivors of the first round of match play were Travis, J. D. Standish, Jr., Detroit; C. S. McDonald, Lambton, Canada; J. F. Hurd, Pittsburg; R. C. Shannon, Oak Hill, N. Y.; P. S. McLaughlin, Scarsdale, N. Y.; Robert W. Hunter, Weeburn club, Connecticut, and J. D. Armstrong, Buffalo.

Governor Stuart Wins.

Norfolk, Va., April 10.—Warned by Governor Stuart that the state militia would be used, if necessary, to suppress violations of the Virginia anti-betting laws, the Jamestown Jockey club last night abandoned the spring race meeting which was to continue until April 17. Raids and fines and prison terms imposed upon bookmakers, marked the few stormy days the meet had been in progress.

A CONTRACTOR WHO BOUGHT BOSTON TEAM

JAMES E. GAFFNEY.

GREAT YEAR PROMISED FOR AMATEUR TEAMS

Duluth Will Have Many Representatives in Both the Amateur and Semi-Professional Ranks; Booking Agency Will Help the Game.

The approaching season promises to be a most auspicious one for the amateur and semi-professional baseball teams of Duluth.

If the local branch of the National Amateur Baseball league is organized, conditions will prove so much the better for the teams of this section; but whether or not the league goes into speedy organization, it looks as if the approaching season will furnish some first-class baseball for the followers of the simon pures and the teams of a less clear amateur complexion.

Organization efforts are in abeyance just at present, owing to the steps that have been taken toward the organization of the Duluth branch of the National Amateur Baseball league, but from the assurances that have been received from the managers of the teams that were in the field last year, it is certain that the Woodlands, Fitzwells, Adams, Twin Ports, Jeffersons, Lakesides, New Duluths, Proctors, Y. M. S. and many other teams will be in the field.

It is the plan of those working out the general scheme of the local branch of the National Amateur Baseball association to classify all of the teams of the city, from the strongest of the semi-professional aggregations to the smallest and most humble of the kid teams.

It is suggested that this work be speeded up a bit, as some of the amateur teams are already in the field and several very early games have been played.

The Baseball Fever.

There will be a team composed of the employes of the steel plant and there will also be a team at Gary. The city from the steel plant to Woodland will contain many teams, and the season promises to be one of the best that Duluth has had for many years.

One of the features of the approaching season promises to be the classification of definite championships. The semi-professionals are going to have a lusty battle for the honors of the city, and perhaps the race will be expanded to include the championship of the northeastern section of the state.

Under the general scheme of the new league every amateur baseball team of the city of Duluth will be engaged in a pennant race, and this condition is bound to increase the general interest and also make for better baseball.

Another factor that will assist in the increase of games and consequently in the baseball interest, is the establishment of a booking agency or clearing house for all of the teams in this part of the state.

H. F. Kelley of the Kelley Hardware has already opened his date book and is soliciting the names of all teams in this section of Minnesota. Managers will assist greatly in increasing the number of games by sending in the names of their teams to Mr. Smith.

As schedules are made up they should also be forwarded to the agency, and thus managers in search of games will be able to book on short notice by sending requests to the Kelley Hardware company.

It is believed that the Elks and Moose lodges will have teams in the field. Max Klein conducted the Moose team very successfully last season and may take charge of the team again this year.

WIDE MARGINS IN PRACTICE GAMES OF ORGANIZED BALL

Indianapolis, Ind., April 10.—A base on balls, a single and two errors allowed the Indianapolis American Association team to score two runs in the eighth inning here yesterday and win from the Cleveland American league club, 6 to 4. The visitors took the lead with two runs in the first and added two more in the fifth. Indianapolis scored one run in the first and tied Cleveland in the fifth, when a double, three bingles and a sacrifice fly sent three runs across the plate.

Topeka, Kan., April 10.—The Pittsburg National league first team yesterday defeated Topeka, 6 to 1.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 10.—The wildness of Boehler, pitching for Detroit, coupled with two errors by his teammates, was responsible for a victory by the Cincinnati Nationals here yesterday by a score of 7 to 1.

Lincoln, Neb., April 10.—The Chicago Americans No. 2 yesterday defeated the Lincoln Western league team and evened up the defeat of Wednesday, winning the second contest by a score of 5 to 3.

Evansville, Ind., April 10.—The Cleveland American association team found Pitcher Farthing's offerings easy yesterday and won from the Evansville Central league team, 16 to 4.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 10.—The Minneapolis association team won from the locals, 8 to 2, yesterday. The locals tried every regular and recruit, several appearing twice in the lineup.

Asheville, N. C., April 10.—Although outbatted by Asheville, N. C., league team here yesterday, the Giant Yannigans, under the wing of Mike Donlin, bunched their hits for a total of nine runs to the locals' five. Jim Thorpe made a home run.

Baltimore, Md., April 10.—The Baltimore Internationals could do nothing with James' pitching and lost to the Boston Nationals yesterday by a score of 5 to 1.

Kansas City, Mo., April 10.—The first team of the Chicago American league baseball club piled up twelve hits yesterday and won from the local American association team, 4 to 2.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 10.—The New York National league team won a poorly-played slugging match from the Chattanooga Southern Association club yesterday, 12 to 4.

BLAMES REBELLION FOR ALLEGED FRAUD

Lumbermen's Lawyer Asks New Trial for His Clients.

Philadelphia, April 10.—The Mexican revolution was blamed for the failure of the International Lumber & Development company to carry out all the promises contained in its prospectuses, by James Scarlet, counsel for the convicted promoters and officers of the company, in arguing for a new trial before the United States circuit court of appeals. The revolution, he said, has drawn the peons from the company's plantations and made labor so scarce that contracts could not be completed.

John R. Markley and Isaiah Miller, promoters; William H. Armstrong, Jr., former general manager; Charles McMahon, former secretary-treasurer, and Col. Alfred H. Stewart, who wrote most of the prospectuses, were convicted about a year ago and sentenced to varying terms in prison and to pay heavy fines. They are at liberty under $15,000 bail each.

MILLIONAIRE WILL CHASE STRAY DOGS

S. M. Booth Elected Poundmaster of Chicago Suburb.

Chicago, April 10.—The sight of a millionaire chasing stray dogs for the capture of which he will receive a small fee will afford amusement to residents of New Trier township, a Chicago suburb.

As a result of Tuesday's election, Sherman M. Booth, millionaire attorney, leader of the Progressive party and whose wife is prominent in national woman's suffrage circles, was elected poundmaster. No nomination for poundmaster was made, but when the ballots were counted it was found Mr. Booth's name had been written in more frequently than any other.

"A practical joke" is Mr. Booth's explanation of his election. "I will take the office," he said, "and fill it efficiently."

He indicated that he believed his easiest capture would be the "goat" of his opponents.

Will Lecture at Princeton.

Princeton, N. J., April 10.—Alfred Noyes, the English poet, has been elected to the faculty of Princeton university by the board of trustees in the capacity of a visiting professor. He will lecture during one term of each year. He also will be a lecturer in English before the senior class.

REUNION OF MASONS ENDS

Maundy Thursday Banquet and Extinguishing of Lights Closes Ceremonies.

Notable Speakers on Toast List—Many Take High Degrees.

The annual spring reunion of Scottish Rite Masons ended at the temple last evening, save for an additional ceremony to take place on Sunday afternoon, with the solemn ceremony of the extinguishing of the lights. On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the ceremony of the relighting of the lights will take place in the auditorium of the Masonic temple.

The affair of last evening, beginning with the obligatory banquet of Maundy Thursday, which all Masons who have reached the degree of knight of the Rose Croix must attend unless prevented by sickness or emergency, and ending with the extinguishing of the lights, was brilliant. On the front of the speakers' table, placed in the center of the west side of the hall, was a huge cross of roses, and behind the table was another large cross, transparent and illuminated. Banks of palms aided in making a setting that was most attractive.

Seven hundred and fifty men sat at the banquet, and it was generally remarked that with a continuation of the growth which Scottish Rite Masonry has been enjoying, soon the banquet hall of the temple will be far too small to accommodate the diners at the traditional banquet.

At the close of the dinner a toast list that was most attractive was gone through with, and interspersed between the speeches was an excellent musical program by the Scottish Rite quartet. During the courses of the dinner Flaaten's orchestra gave a very attractive musical program and was rewarded with frequent and hearty applause. The program by the quartet consisted of Tosti's "Goodbye," beautifully sung; "My Dream of You," a tenor solo well rendered by Don Cole, and three other selections by the quartet.

Senator Harry W. Cheadle, worshipful master of A. T. C. Pierson chapter, Rose Croix, was toastmaster and introduced as the first speaker Siegfrid Levy of Duluth, the oldest Scottish Rite Mason in the Northwest. Mr. Levy replied briefly. Trevanion W. Hugo, sovereign grand inspector general of the thirty-third degree for Minnesota, was then called upon. His talk was about the work being done by the Scottish Rite in a public way. Congressman Clarence B. Miller, thirty-second degree, responded eloquently to the toast, "Our Country." Albert Berg, thirty-second degree, formerly secretary of state of Minnesota, responded to "The Grand Lodge of Minnesota." Charles Helmer, thirty-second degree, sounded "taps" on the bugle, and the roll call was given by Harry W. Nesbitt, K. C. C. H. Rev. C. W. Ramshaw, thirty-second degree, of Cloquet gave the benediction.

During the reunion thirty-seven Master Masons were given the fourteenth degree and forty took the thirty-second yesterday afternoon.

FIGHTING AT TAMPICO. MEX., NOT YET OVER

and all American women and children have been brought up from points on the river below the city, except at La Barra. Those who were there have gone aboard the German tanker Osago. Admiral Mayo emphasizes that refugees desire refuge, not removal."

Secretary Daniels said this morning that he had not been informed of the issuance by Admiral Mayo of any ultimatum to the Federal commander at Tampico to cease firing from the gunboat into the city.

Monterey is said to be quiet.

Two Federals Executed.

Nogales, Sonora, Mex., April 10.—Standing blindfolded on the brink of graves opened to receive their bodies, Francisco Fimbres and Jose M. Ganoba, members of a Huerta junta on the American side of the line, were executed in the cemetery at dawn today by a firing squad. Fimbres was captured several days ago while carrying a message from the junta to Ganoba, who was then at Montezuma.

British Consul as Messenger.

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—Reports of oppressive treatment inflicted by Gen. Villa on H. S. Cunard-Cummins, acting British vice consul at Torreon; of the defeat of a rebel column sent against San Pedro, and that the Federal general, Velasco, had succeeded in joining Gen. Hidalgo at Saltillo, where they have a joint command of 12,000 or 13,000 men, have been brought here by two newspaper correspondents from Torreon. Hidalgo, they said, was trying to reach Torreon with reinforcements when Velasco evacuated that city.

"The correspondents said that while the sending of news from the front was not entirely prohibited, it was censored so severely as to be all but worthless.

Villa, they said, compelled Mr. Cunard-Cummins to run the risk of carrying a demand for the surrender of Torreon to Gen. Velasco, the trip being made under protest, and during it Mr. Cummins was fired upon.

Carothers' Report.

George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department at the battle, in the report of the incident that he had made to Washingon, does not indicate that Mr. Cunard-Cummins was coerced into becoming Gen. Villa's messenger, but states that he did so with some reluctance, after first refusing.

The report of Mr. Carothers to the state department follows:

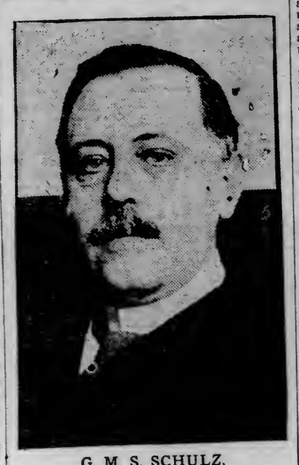
"At 4 p. m., March 27, Gen. Villa sent a messenger to see Cummins, requesting him to go to headquarters. I and H. W. Potter accompanied him. When he arrived, after introducing Cummins to Villa, Villa said to him that he knew that he (Cummins) was an enemy to the Constitutionalist cause; that he had information that Cummins was accustomed to banqueting with the Federals; that he knew he was a friend of Gen. Velasco; that in view of this friendship with Velasco, he wanted Cummins to take a communication to Velasco in which he demanded the surrender of the city to avoid further bloodshed. Cummins refused to take the message, arguing that he was neutral and should not mix in political affairs of the country.

Advised Cummins to Go.

"At this Villa became very angry, and said we foreigners were demanding that he protect foreigners and be humanitarian in his acts; and that at the very first opportunity given us to do some good, we refused. He commenced to talk about probably having to fight all of us, when I interposed and advised Cummins to go.

"Villa said he first thought of sending the message by me, but on second thought had decided on Cummins on account of his friendship with Velasco, as he would be in no danger. Cummins agreed to go, so I wrote some instructions to Mr. Ulmer. Cummins left at 5 o'clock and was to return about noon next day.

"The interview with Villa had a most serious aspect for a few moments, but as it turned out, Villa and he shook hands and parted in the best of spirits."



Mr. Ulmer mentioned in the report is I. M. Ulmer, United States consular agent at Torreon.

Mr. Carothers, when seen by a reporter here, further said:

"On his return on March 30, Cummins was most cordially received by Villa, who embraced him and thanked him for what he had done."

Patrick O'Hear was recently appointed to succeed Cunard-Cummins as British vice consul. Cummins had resigned, but was still acting as vice consul.

ON NEW YORK PUBLC SERVICE COMMISSION

G. M. S. SCHULZ.

New York, April 10.—G. M. S. Schulz has been made a member of the public service commission of Greater New York by Governor Glynn. His choice was a compromise among several candidates. He is at present sitting on the bench as surrogate. This is one of the few appointments made by Glynn which meet with favor. Others are regarded as pro-Tammany and have aroused much criticism.

WANT PICTURES OF ALL PICKPOCKETS

New York Police Start Systematic Campaign Against Dips.

New York, April 10.—The police of all the large cities in the country were asked today to help rid New York of pickpockets. The local authorities seek photographs, finger prints and histories of all the pickpockets on record in the United States.

The crusade was launched here on account of the systematic way in which the lightfingered fraternity have escaped punishment of late. Police magistrates and representatives of the police department, at a conference today, decided that the best way to stop this was to perfect their rogues' gallery records, and take advantage of a recent decision of the court of appeals which makes it legal to use the sworn testimony of a complainant, even though the complainant fails to appear in court. This would frustrate the favorite scheme of pickpockets under arrest, who send friends to buy off complainants or intimidate them.

RECEIVER IS NAMED FOR J. G. A. LEISHMAN

Judgment in Stock Deal is Basis For the Action.

New York, April 10.—A receiver in supplementary proceedings today was appointed for John G. A. Leishman, former ambassador to Germany, in the matter of the judgment for $75,158 obtained against him in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. This judgment is in favor of Raymond Pynchon & Co., bankers and brokers, on a claim growing out of stock transactions.

Leishman is said to be traveling abroad. His home address is Pittsburg.

The receiver in supplementary proceedings will ascertain what property, if any, the judgment debtor has in this state.

45 TYPEWRITERS

For the first forty-five teachers, high-school and eighth grade students, who enter the New Era Business College, Superior, Wis., beginning Monday, April 13th, or soon thereafter, will be given the absolute free use of a typewriter for six months, to be used at home, besides the free use of a typewriting machine to be used in the school room. Write for summer rates and full particulars.

PROBE DEATH OF YERKES ASSOCIATE

The Eccentric Millionaire's Body is Examined By Coroner.

Chicago, April 10.—A coroner's inquest today into the sudden death of Delancey H. Louderback, millionaire street railway and real estate operator and former associate of Charles T. Yerkes, was postponed until April 17 to give an opportunity for analysis of portions of the body. H. G. W. Reinhardt, coroner's physician, made a post-mortem examination today and stated that there were indications that Mr. Louderback might have died from an over dose of a sleeping potion.

It was said that Mr. Louderback recently had arranged his affairs in preparation for an extended trip abroad. He lived here with his sister and a nephew in a residence believed to be unique.

In the center of a city block he built a three-story house 75 by 100 feet, equipped with all conveniences, and then enclosed the entire structure in an outer wall or shell of glass and iron framework which left a space of twenty-five feet between it and the house.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDERING WIFE

Robert Higgins Asks Mercy of Court—Girl Not Arraigned.

Galesburg, Ill., April 10.—Robert Higgins pleaded guilty in the Mercer county circuit court today to the indictment charging that he murdered his wife. Higgins acknowledged that he had committed the crime and asked for the mercy of the court.

Julia Flake, Higgins' stepdaughter, for love of whom he was said to have committed the crime, was not arraigned.

The second count in the indictment of Higgins, concerning his relations with the girl, was dismissed when he pleaded guilty. The state began offering evidence in confirmation of Higgins' plea. S. R. Cates, deputy sheriff, testified that Higgins signed in his presence a confession of his guilt.

No indication has been given by Judge Olmstead of what sentence he will impose on Higgins.

DOWAGER'S DEATH DELAYS CORONATION.

Tokio, April 10.—On account of the death of the dowager empress, the emperor's coronation, which had been fixed for Nov. 10, has been postponed until 1916. The reason for the prolonged delay of the coronation is that the seed of the rice used in the sacred ceremony must not be ripened during a period of national mourning.

SPRING FURNISHINGS

EASTER is the time of renewing things; one of the nice things about it is that most people make it the occasion of new clothes, new hats, new things to wear generally. That is part of the real meaning of this great holiday; everything becomes new.

DENIES HOOKWORM IS IN COAL REGION

Governor Hatfield Takes Issue With Government Inspectors.

Charleston, W. Va., April 10.—Governor H. D. Hatfield, himself a physician, who left active practice to become chief executive of West Virginia, today declared he does not believe the people of the Pocahontas coal field are afflicted with hookworm, as charged by W. C. Stiles of the Federal health service in a report to Washington, and ordered the bacteriological department of the University of West Virginia to make a thorough investigation.

Governor Hatfield practiced medicine for a number of years in the counties covered by Dr. Stiles' report, but before making public his views he consulted a number of other practitioners in the Pocahontas field, all of whom, it is stated, agreed with the governor.

Reduce Oil Price Again.

Bartlesville, Okla., April 10. — Announcement was made here today that the pipe line companies in the Oklahoma-Kansas fields had reduced the price of crude oil from $1 to 95 cents per barrel. This reduction is the second this week and is due, it is said, to over production.

THEIR GOODS STOLEN.

Property Stored at Aitkin By Homesteader's Family Taken.

Aitkin, Minn., April 10.—The household goods belonging to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wakefield, which were stored in the A. B. Feero barn, were stolen recently, and no clew has been found. Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield have been living on a homestead near Jacobson for a few years and stored their goods when leaving Aitkin temporarily. The Feero family has also been living on a homestead near the same place, and during the absence of both families the goods were taken.

DOYLE WILL TAKE OFFICE APRIL 15.

Carrington, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stephen J. S. Doyle, the newly appointed United States marshal of North Dakota, will take over the duties of that office April 15, according to announcement made by him.

Mr. Doyle has not yet appointed his deputies, but it is understood that J. F. Duis of Devils Lake will be one of them.

According to Mr. Doyle's plan he will station deputies at the several Federal districts in the state instead of placing them all at Fargo, as has been the custom.

THEATER BURNED AT LAFAYETTE, IND.

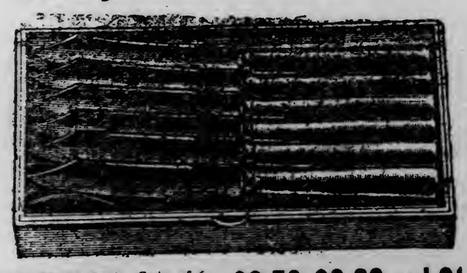
La Fayette, Ind., April 10.—The Dreyfus theater was destroyed here today with a loss of $60,000. The fire started in the furnace room. The theater was built forty-five years ago.

DELAY HEARINGS ON TOLLS REPEAL.

Washington, April 10.—Hearings before the senate canals committee on the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption were postponed today, probably until Monday. At that time several senators who have proposed substitutes for the Sims bill will urge their plans and E. T. Chamberlain, commissioner of navigation, and Judge Thomas Burke, a member of the Seattle chamber of commerce, also may appear.

The committee's decision to postpone hearings arose from the fact that representatives of Pacific coast commercial bodies who wish to present arguments cannot arrive for several days.

Fabre in Appeals Court.



Paris, April 10.—Victor Fabre, chief public prosecutor, who resigned his office in consequence of his connection with the postponement of the trial of Henri Rochette, alleged swindler, was today appointed vice president of the court of appeals at Aix-les-Bains.

The Purdue Harlequin club, which is to present its annual show next week, lost all its scenery. The loss on the building is partly covered by insurance.

OLD TIMERS FORM BASEBALL CLUB

Will Be Ready to Face Any Team at Head of the Lakes.

A baseball team composed entirely of old-time players was organized last evening in West Duluth. The new club will be called the "Zeniths" and intend challenging any aggregation of players at the Head of the Lakes.

Among the players will be Robert Zazler, former pitcher for the University of Iowa team; George Dazell, who played two years ago in the Southern league; Dr. W. E. Judson, former college pitcher, who two years ago played with the West Duluth Commercial club team and caused the defeat of the Proctor club; Dr. E. W. Boerner, a former college team catcher; Frank H. Wade, who ten years ago managed the West Duluth semi-professional baseball team; Arthur Jacoby, Lester Rollins, James Carey, Bert St. Anthony and Frank Wilson.

Arthur Jacoby was chosen manager of the team. The captain will be selected at a meeting of the club to be held early next week. It is proposed to start practice early and arrangements will be made for early games with either amateur or semi-professionals.

"We are willing to take them all on" is the way Mr. Wade stated the stand taken by members of the team. Mr. Wade will play first base; Jacoby, second; Boerner, catcher; Rollins, St. Anthony and Wilson in the outfield positions; Zazler and Judson will take turns on the mound; Dalzell will be at short, and Carey at the third sack.

WILL OPPOSE LICENSE TRANSFER

No More Saloons Wanted Suburbanites State in Petition.

West Duluth people will oppose the proposed transfer of a saloon license from uptown to this end of the city. A petition, which will be presented to the city council, and which is receiving the signatures of many of the business men as well as other residents, requests that the commissioners do not grant the transfer of the license of Bietel & Babich, now operating at 103 East Superior street, to 410 North Central avenue.

The contention of the citizens is that there is now a sufficient number of saloons in this end of the city and that in the block where this firm intends moving, there are now two saloons.

The business men contend that there are now too many saloons in West Duluth for the good of the community and that if the present number were reduced by half, it would greatly benefit the residents as well as the business interests.

MERCHANTS ORGANIZE CREDIT ASSOCIATION.

Retail merchants of New Duluth, Gary, Smithville and Fond du Lac last evening organized a Merchants' Credit association. The object of the organization is to protect the members from bad accounts. The officers chosen are: Frank Brand, president; U. C. Tower, vice president, and L. B. Taylor, secretary and treasurer.

"City Tree Planting."

"Municipal Tree Planting" will be the subject of addresses given this evening by Mayor Prince and Henry Cleveland at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club. It is expected that a large percentage of the members will be out. The meeting will be open to the citizns of West Duluth.

Firemen Have Run.

A match carelessly thrown on the floor of a barn in the rear of the home of Charles Iltis, 223 North Fifty-fourth avenue, started a small blaze which gave Company No. 8 a run at 9 o'clock last night. Mr. Iltis had the flames put out before the department arrived.

Surprise Party.

Mrs M. J. Murray, 621 North Central avenue, was pleasantly surprised last evening at her home by a number of her friends. Mrs. Murray was presented with a handsome cut glass bowl. Five hundred was played. The guests were: Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Boerner, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Oreck, Judge and Mrs. H. W. Lanners, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mrs. E. C. Folsom, Miss Pearl Boerner, Miss Franklyn Cayott, M. J. Murray, R. M. Goff and Douglas Hunter.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. Charles Payne and daughter, Stella, of St. Paul are guests at the home of Mrs. W. E. Kern, 4809 West Sixth street. They will also visit relatives at Eveleth before returning home.

Get your Easter suit at Solberg & Berglund's, 5701 Grand avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Webber, 5711 Wadena street, returned yesterday from a three weeks' visit with relatives in the Twin Cities and points in the southern part of the state.

Your new Easter hats are here. Solberg & Berglund.

Thomas Dailey of International Falls was a visitor today in West Duluth.

New line of shoes for Easter at Solberg & Berglund's.

J. Dennis of Virginia is spending a few days visiting relatives in the end of the city.

Your boy will look fine in one of our Xtra good suits. Solberg & Berglund.

The Citizens' State bank is open for all banking business from 6 to 8 p. m. Saturday evening. Adv.

Frank Gottwald, Sr., who has been spending the winter in Florida, returned home yesterday afternoon.

Miss Pearl Boerner and Miss Franklyn Cayott of Barnum are spending the Easter vacation visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Boerner of West Sixth street.

Just what you want for your banquet or your Easter Sunday dinner, the Non-Excelled brick ice cream, put up in a dainty manner with any design. Murray Brothers, manufacturers.

Watch repairing, Hurst, West Duluth.

SEALED VERDICT IN.

Decree in Partnership Suit to Be Known Monday.

Late yesterday afternoon a sealed verdict was returned by a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court which listened to the evidence in the suit brought by Austin J. Meagher against Joseph Fogarty. The verdict will be opened Monday morning.

The suit involved a dispute over a partnership deal, Meagher demanding judgment for $967.83, alleged to be the remainder due for his interests in the Floodwood Land company which he sold to Fogarty.

Hundreds of people are now thinking of moving. If you have rooms, houses or flats for rent, see that your ad is in The Saturday Herald. Phone your ad before 11 tomorrow morning.

JAIL ROMANCE BROKEN.

Couple Who Courted in Grand Forks Bastile Have Troubles.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—County jail courtships, judged by the experience of A. J. Pettit and Miss Ella Duggan of Grand Forks, are not successful.

Wedded several weeks ago, when they were released from the county jail, the couple has already parted, as was brought to light when Mrs. Pettit was arrested for drunkenness. The woman gave the police a hot fight before she was finally subdued.

Police investigation determined the fact that the county jail wedding lasted just two weeks.

Dentists' at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., April 10.—The spring meeting of the Crookston district dentists just held here voted to hold the next meeting in October, and elected the following officers: President, Dr. J. V. Dexter, Detroit; vice president, Dr. A. Nelson, Ada; secretary, Dr. Paul Hagen, Crookston; treasurer, Dr. F. E. Carella, Argyle; delegate to the state association, Dr. W. A. Robertson, Crookston.

BLUNDERS IN NOVELS.

Some "Howlers" Perpetrated By Famous Women Writers.

London Tid-Bits: That popular novelist make all sorts of funny mistakes and perpetrate marvelous anachronisms when writing their surprisingly thrilling tales is well known. Dickens, Scott, Thackeray, Reade, and so on, right down to the latest, Mrs. Florence Barclay, have all fallen into the trap before today. But in nothing are so many laughable blunders made by novelists as in relation to sport, and this is particularly the case with women writers, however eminent or experienced they may be.

"Ouida" was probably the most astounding of all great story writers of her sex in this respect. Three instances will prove that she took very little pains to learn the details of any sport she was describing. Speaking of one of her heroes who was taking part in a famous boat race, "Ouida" makes this astonishing statement:

"All in the boat rowed splendidly, but none rowed as fast as number six."

If "Ouida" has any blunder to surpass this amusing error in a sporting contest, it may be found in her description of a great horse race, wherein her heroine is supposed to be the owner of the winner. And, this horse having won, the female novelist goes on to show the sensation made by the lady owner (we do not wonder at it either!) when "she came proudly into the paddock, leading in the winner of the Waterloo cup." Of course, all sporting men know that the Waterloo cup is the trophy awarded for the finest dog race in the world.

"Ouida," too, seems to have been totally regardless as to whether sporting items got mixed with her educational ones, or vice versa, for in another story she makes her hero become "very popular at Cambridge, where he got his Blue for history."

This is funny enough to make a varsity man laugh for a month! As "Blues" are given by the sports' captains for certain games only, how any fellow under the sun could get his "Blue for history," either at Oxford, Cambridge, or anywhere else, is a puzzle. But your woman novelist never troubles about a detail like that—not she! Why should she? If Cambridge doesn't give "Blues for history" when she says so—well, it ought to, that's all!

Even the celebrated Marie Corelli is not always accurate when she comes to write about men's sports and men's work. Says she, in "The Treasure of Heaven," when her hero is speaking in that book:

"After school-hours I got an evening job, with a shilling a week, for bringing home eight Highland bull-heifers from pasture."

Bull-heifers, indeed! What sort of creatures are they? The job sounds a bit like that when somebody used to send juvenile boys to the nearest grocer's for a "penny'orth of pigeon milk."

One of our living women novelists made her readers fairly stare, especially those of them who were swimmers or sailors. Indeed, the feat her hero achieved—according to her story—ought to be immortalized in letters of gold. The hero was supposed to have jumped headlong into a raging river to rescue the heroine (this is how it should be in all real stories), and the following way is how he did it (which is how it should not be done in any story):

"With one hand he held her lovely head above the seething waters, and with the other he called loudly for help."

I suppose no woman novelist has yet had the rashness to try to describe a football match in her story. But more than one has worked in a cricket match, usually with astounding accounts of valiant and incredible deeds performed by the hero in the same. For instance, what are we going to think of the brave man who, as set forth gravely by one feminine pen, "went to the wickets with a stern resolve to win the match for the village team. When he went in his side wanted eight to win, and the other side wanted four!"

Well, I'm a bit of a sport myself, and flourished for many years amongst players and have solved some queer problems at cricket in my time, but that one fairly beats me.

The best of all such amusing blunders, however, must surely be an account a popular author has inserted in one of her tales which have "thrilled" thousands of fair readers. When a jockey rides a Derby winner he usually thinks he has done enough to bring him credit for one week. When a player makes a century at Lord's he generally fancies his renown is secure for a little time at any rate. And when a man goes shooting partridges, and astonishes all the best shots by his prowess at the sport, he should be satisfied with himself.

But when anybody does all these three things he must be a hero above the ordinary. And when he does them one day after another, in turns, he must be a perfect marvel. But when the Derby is run at the beginning of June, and partridge shooting doesn't begin until September, yet the hero wins the Derby one day and makes a century at Lord's on the next, and goes shooting the brown birds the following day—why, then he must be something unearthly, that's all!

But it is useless to tell the authoress so. It is no good pointing out to a woman novelist that such a combination and culmination, even for her special hero, is absolutely impossible. She only smiles contemptuously and murmurs, "Well, then, if it isn't possible, it ought to be."

TO DESTROY THE APPLE MAGGOT.

Rural Farmer: A serious pest of the apples, especially the summer varieties, is one which bores through the pulp of the fruit in winding tunnels, and is, therefore, called the railroad worm or apple maggot. It is the larva of a fly with spotted wings which flies around the trees in the early part of the summer, and lays its eggs on the fruit.

Soon before the fruit is half grown the pest could be destroyed by spraying with a sweetened arsenical spray upon which the adult or winged fly would feed, but after the larva enters the fruit and commences to feed in it, there is no remedy. The thing to do then is to be sure and gather and destroy the fallen fruit, or pasture the orchard with fowls or pigs that eat the fallen fruit. After the fruit has remained on the ground for some days, the larva bores out and enters the soil, where it changes to a pupa or chrysalis, and passes the winter there. In the fall of the year is the time to watch for this pest. Many apples contain the railroad maggot without this pest being observed by the persons using them, because it is inconspicuous; yet the brownish winding tunnels show its presence, and indicate that all fallen apples in the vicinity where it occurs should be gathered and disposed of promptly, so that the pests will be destroyed.

Passports issued to balloon pilots and aeroplanists by the Austrian Aero club are worded in fifteen languages, as persons starting aerial journeys in Austria may land among persons speaking any one of as many tongues.

BLUNDERS IN NOVELS.

Some "Howlers" Perpetrated By Famous Women Writers.

London Tid-Bits: That popular novelist make all sorts of funny mistakes and perpetrate marvelous anachronisms when writing their surprisingly thrilling tales is well known. Dickens, Scott, Thackeray, Reade, and so on, right down to the latest, Mrs. Florence Barclay, have all fallen into the trap before today. But in nothing are so many laughable blunders made by novelists as in relation to sport, and this is particularly the case with women writers, however eminent or experienced they may be.

"Ouida" was probably the most astounding of all great story writers of her sex in this respect. Three instances will prove that she took very little pains to learn the details of any sport she was describing. Speaking of one of her heroes who was taking part in a famous boat race, "Ouida" makes this astonishing statement:

"All in the boat rowed splendidly, but none rowed as fast as number six."

If "Ouida" has any blunder to surpass this amusing error in a sporting contest, it may be found in her description of a great horse race, wherein her heroine is supposed to be the owner of the winner. And, this horse having won, the female novelist goes on to show the sensation made by the lady owner (we do not wonder at it either!) when "she came proudly into the paddock, leading in the winner of the Waterloo cup." Of course, all sporting men know that the Waterloo cup is the trophy awarded for the finest dog race in the world.

"Ouida," too, seems to have been totally regardless as to whether sporting items got mixed with her educational ones, or vice versa, for in another story she makes her hero become "very popular at Cambridge, where he got his Blue for history."

This is funny enough to make a varsity man laugh—for a month! As "Blues" are given by the sports' captains for certain games only, how any fellow under the sun could get his "Blue for history," either at Oxford, Cambridge, or anywhere else, is a puzzle. But your woman novelist never troubles about a detail like that—not she! Why should she? If Cambridge doesn't give "Blues for history" when she says so—well, it ought to, that's all!

Even the celebrated Marie Corelli is not always accurate when she comes to write about men's sports and men's work. Says she, in "The Treasure of Heaven," when her hero is speaking in that book:

"After school-hours I got an evening job, with a shilling a week, for bringing home eight Highland bull-heifers from pasture."

Bull-heifers, indeed! What sort of creatures are they? The job sounds a bit like that when somebody used to send juvenile boys to the nearest grocer's for a "penny'orth" of pigeon milk."

One of our living women novelists made her readers fairly stare, especially those of them who were swimmers or sailors. Indeed, the feat her hero achieved—according to her story—ought to be immortalized in letters of gold. The hero was supposed to have jumped headlong into a raging river to rescue the heroine (this is how it should be in all real stories), and the following way is how he did it (which is how it should not be done in any story):

"With one hand he held her lovely head above the seething waters, and with the other he called loudly for help."

I suppose no woman novelist has yet had the rashness to try to describe a football match in her story. But more than one has worked in a cricket match, usually with astounding accounts of valiant and incredible deeds performed by the hero in the same. For instance, what are we going to think of the brave man who, as set forth gravely by one feminine pen, "went to the wickets with a stern resolve to win the match for the village team. When he went in his side wanted eight to win, and the other side wanted four!"

Well, I'm a bit of a sport myself, and flourished for many years amongst players and have solved some queer problems at cricket in my time, but that one fairly beats me.

The best of all such amusing blunders, however, must surely be an account a popular author has inserted in one of her tales which have "thrilled" thousands of fair readers. When a jockey rides a Derby winner he usually thinks he has done enough to bring him credit for one week. When a player makes a century at Lord's he generally fancies his renown is secure for a little time at any rate. And when a man goes shooting partridges, and astonishes all the best shots by his prowess at the sport, he should be satisfied with himself.

But when anybody does all these three things he must be a hero above the ordinary. And when he does them one day after another, in turns, he must be a perfect marvel. But when the Derby is run at the beginning of June, and partridge shooting doesn't begin until September, yet the hero wins the Derby one day and makes a century at Lord's on the next, and goes shooting the brown birds the following day—why, then he must be something unearthly, that's all!

But it is useless to tell the authoress so. It is no good pointing out to a woman novelist that such a combination and culmination, even for her special hero, is absolutely impossible. She only smiles contemptuously and murmurs, "Well, then, if it isn't possible, it ought to be."

TO DESTROY THE APPLE MAGGOT.

Rural Farmer: A serious pest of the apples, especially the summer varieties, is one which bores through the pulp of the fruit in winding tunnels, and is, therefore, called the railroad worm or apple maggot. It is the larva of a fly with spotted wings which flies around the trees in the early part of the summer, and lays its eggs on the fruit.

Soon before the fruit is half grown the pest could be destroyed by spraying with a sweetened arsenical spray upon which the adult or winged fly would feed, but after the larva enters the fruit and commences to feed in it, there is no remedy. The thing to do then is to be sure and gather and destroy the fallen fruit, or pasture the orchard with fowls or pigs that eat the fallen fruit. After the fruit has remained on the ground for some days, the larva bores out and enters the soil, where it changes to a pupa or chrysalis, and passes the winter there.

In the fall of the year is the time to watch for this pest. Many apples contain the railroad maggot without this pest being observed by the persons using them, because it is inconspicuous; yet the brownish winding tunnels show its presence, and indicate that all fallen apples in the vicinity where it occurs should be gathered and disposed of promptly, so that the pests will be destroyed.

Passports issued to balloon pilots and aeroplanists by the Austrian Aero club are worded in fifteen languages, as persons starting aerial journeys in Austria may land among persons speaking any one of as many tongues.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

DEFECTIVE PAGE

ON THE IRON RANGES

GRAND RAPIDS MAY RETAIN MR. M'GUIRE

No Certainty About His Leaving for Another Position.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. J. McGuire will not leave Grand Rapids and the North Central experiment station, if the suggestions which he is planning on making to Dean Woods and the university authorities are favorably acted upon.

Mr. McGuire was made an offer by Dean Woods to go on the road in extension work for the university, with headquarters at the university, his territory to be the northern part of the state, with which he is familiar and in which he has been working the past ten years. Mr. McGuire took the matter under consideration and did not tell Dean Woods that he would not take up the proposition. From this the report got circulated that Mr. McGuire was to leave the state farm, but it seems that this is not entirely settled. Mr. McGuire is loath to leave the state farm here, particularly for a road position, for, though Mr. McGuire has done a great work here for the farmers and for the country, he feels that there is a great field of activity here yet in which he could do still more good. The plans for this work Mr. McGuire is embodying in suggestions which he is to submit to Dean Woods, and asking him to adopt, which would be of vast benefit to the entire northern part of the state.

Grand Rapids Likes Him.

It is the plan of university agricultural school authorities to reorganize the extension department and centralize it with headquarters at St. Paul, or rather, at the university agricultural school, and while Grand Rapids people would be most pleased to see "Mac" get a promotion and material advancement, there are none who would like to see him leave, and a request to have him remain here would have the hearty indorsement of every citizen of Grand Rapids.

It is not at all unlikely that things will shape themselves so that Mr. McGuire will continue at the state farm here, though some material changes will in all probability be made.

MINING WORK QUITE SLOW IN STARTING

Nevertheless Indications Point to Busy Year at Nashwauk.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mining operations in general in this vicinity are a little slower than usual at this time of the year, preparatory to the ore shipping season, which it is expected will commence as soon as navigation on the Great Lakes is open.

The Quinn Mining company, opened a year ago by Butler Bros., stripping contractors, will work extensively this season, it is stated, with two shovels, and preparations for a large shipment of ore are under way. Rumor has it that the concern will erect a washing plant in the near future.

Laid up for Repairs.

The Hawkins Mining company, the largest mine and heaviest shipper for a number of years here, has laid up its shovels and locomotives for repairs, and it is expected the mine will resume operations soon. The company's big concentrator is being given a general overhauling for the season's work.

The Crosby mine, one of the village's old mainstays, is working at present with about thirty men underground. It is stated that the company will build a concentrator.

The Person mine has closed and it is not known whether the mine will operate this season.

La Rue Building Concentrator.

The La Rue mine has a small force at work guilding a new concentrator, and it is expected that as soon as navigation opens shipping will commence from its open pit.

All the mines in this vicinity are hampered greatly with ore containing sand, and the expectations are that all properties here will soon be run in connection with concentrators to rid the ore of sand and other mixtures, to increase its percentage.

GET AFTERNOON OFF.

Weyerhaeuser Employes at Ely Plant Honor Magnate's Memory.

Ely, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday all men employed by the St. Croix Lumber company ceased work during the afternoon, out of respect for Mr. Weyerhaeuser, whose funeral was being held at Rock Island. All the camps of the company are broken for the present season, this having been one of the best years for the cutting of logs, and that one company alone has an estimated cut of about 35,000,000 for the season. About 22,000,000 feet of this cut is in what is known as the "Stony district."

This year's cut will not be touched at the mill for at least one season, as there is a full year's cut of about 45,000,000 feet of logs in the lakes near the Winton mill.

The boilers at the water and light plant are having an overhauling this week. Workmen are giving the plant quite a general overhauling and putting it in first class shape.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a food sale in the parlors of the church Saturday afternoon. The ladies have established a reputation as being first class cooks, and their most choice viands will be on sale Saturday.

ELY'S NEW COUNCIL NOW RUNNING CITY

Mayor Harri Assumes Office and Other Officials Qualify.

Ely, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The last meeting of the old city council was held last evening. The vote cast last Tuesday was canvassed and the victors declared elected. Three aldermen hold over: Aldermen Olof Knutson and Fred B. James, both of the Second ward, and Mike Somero of the First ward. Three give way to new men: Richard Hodge of the First ward, who is succeeded by James White, and Arthur Toms and Paul Buccowich of the Third ward, who are followed by John Preshiren and Axel Hegfors.

A committee consisting of Arvid Sundholm, Henry Chinn and E. F. Stidd was appointed to audit the books of the city.

Mayor John A. Harri qualified today for office, as did also the new municipal court judge, John Schaefer, and both have taken office.

GILBERT KIDNAPER IS AMONG INDICTED

Grand Jury Returns Thirty-One Bills Then Takes Recess.

Virginia, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The grand jury late yesterday, after reporting a number of indictments, thirty-one bills in all, took a recess until next Wednesday. Among those who were indicted, in addition to the list printed in Thursday's Herald, was Frank Dandercou, the local sawmill employe, arrested at Gilbert on the charge of kidnaping a young daughter of a resident of Sparta.

No Balkan Indictments.

The Balkan township election, which was probed by the grand jury, resulted in nothing being done, the charges of colonizing votes made against some officials and employes of the Oliver Iron Mining company not being sustained. It is expected when the grand jury resumes work next week one of the first cases to be taken up will be the charges against Frank Doherty and the Buhl council for the alleged over-payment for cement work.

TWO HARBORS SERVICES.

Presbyterian Church Is to Have Fine Easter Program.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 10.—Special to The Herald.)—The Presbyterian church has arranged a special musical program for Easter as follows:

Morning service—Festival prelude, Dudley Buck; doxology and invocation; hymn; anthem, "The Lord Is Risen" (Charles H. Gabriel), boys' chorus choir; responsive reading and Gloria; anthem, "I Am the Resurrection and the Life," Caleb Simper; Scripture Lesson; prayer and response; solo, "He Is Risen" (Arthur Fisher), Le Roy Ballieu; offertory, "Chant Sans Parloes;" soprano solo, "Hosanna" (Jules Granier), Mrs. J. W. Dorsey; sermon, Rev. Sherwin; hymn; postlude, "Scherzo Symponique" (J. Frank Frysinger).

Evening service—Prelude, "Hosanna" (Theo. Dubois); Gloria and invocation; hymn; anthem, "Overshadowed Are the Seas" (J. Lincoln Hall), boys' chorus choir; Scripture lesson; prayer and response; duet, "I Behold the Lord" (H. W. Porter), Mrs. J. W. Dorsey and Miss Coral Brown; hymn; anthem, "Christ, Our Passover" (E. L. Ashford); offertory, "Spring Song" (Alfred Holliss); soprano solo, "The Resurrection" (Lillian Pait Sheldon), Miss Mila E. Trace; anthem, "I Am the Resurrection and the Life" (Caleb Simper); postlude, "Unfold, Ye Portals" (Gounod).

FORMS BIBLE CLASSES.

St. Paul Man Interests Hebrews in the Movement.

Chisholm, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Principal Joseph Silver of the Hebrew institute, St. Paul, was here Tuesday and Wednesday forming Bible classes for the Hebrew children. He was successful in interesting a large number of scholars and their parents.

Frank Sedlar, who has been connected with the Shenango mine and lately kept the books of the John Snyder general grocery store, left Thursday morning for Calumet, Mich., where he formerly lived.

Theodore Fredell won the high average, 162, and Pete Kowalke the high score, 204, in the Oliver club bowling tournament, beating all other contenders hands down.

Charles A. Kimball, well known all over St. Louis county and better known in Chisholm, has definitely announced himself a candidate for county surveyor.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will give a dance at the Chisholm opera house on April 24.

STRIKE QUICKSAND.

Trouble Experienced By Contractors on Eveleth Job.

Eveleth, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lawrence-McCann company is completing a troublesome city contract at the pumping station at St. Mary's lake. While making an excavation for a new pumping station quicksand was encountered and in order to put in the concrete work forty-foot piles were driven three feet apart. The piles required an average of 287 strokes of a 3,800-pound hammer. The job is nearly completed.

GOVERNOR EXPECTED.

Invited to Attend Bayliss Farewell Banquet at Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans are rapidly maturing for the farewell banquet to be given Willard Bayliss at the O'Neil hotel the evening of April 25.

Governor Eberhart, County Attorney Warren E. Greene, Senator Boyle, Judge Hughes, Village President Austin, Attorney Freeman, A. Y. Peterson, J. H. McNiven and several others will in all probability speak.

The program will consist of an overture by Sims' high class orchestra; vocal solo, Miss Winnifred Hayes; violin solo, Ed Hagen; vocal solo, W. Douglas-Smith; vocal solo, Miss Winnifred Andrews; vocal solo, George Blasing; piano selection, Miss Lucile Brandenberg; vocal solo, H. Angst; cornet solo, Oscar Sinstren; reading, Mrs. H. Angst; vocal solo, Mrs. William Anderson; selections by the High School Glee club.

IS GILBERT CHIEF.

Judge A. R. Anderson Chosen By Village Fire Department.

Gilbert, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fire department has re-elected Judge A. R. Anderson as chief for the ensuing year and P. S. Pray as secretary. They will give their annual ball on Friday, May 17, and, judging from the advance sale of tickets, the affair will be a pronounced social as well as financial success. Laugier's orchestra will furnish the music. The proceeds from this dance are to be used toward the expenses of the department at the tournament to be held this summer in Buhl, to which both the Gilbert and Schley departments will send teams, as well as those from the Elba and Genoa mines.

The employes of the Pickands-Mather company will be given an opportunity to compete this summer in a first-aid contest to be given some time during the coming summer. This will be the first affair of the kind ever held on the Mesaba range and it is expected that over 100 employes who have taken instruction in the work will be participants. During the contest demonstrations will be given in mine rescue work with the use of oxygen breathing apparatus.

AT CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Fine Easter Services Planned in Edifice at Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Special Easter services at the St. Joseph's Catholic church have been prepared and include a three days' program.

Rev. Father W. J. Powers, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, Virginia, will preach at the services at St. Joseph's church Friday evening. Beginning at 7:30 the devotion of the way of the cross will be said and will be followed by the sermon.

Mass will be celebrated Saturday morning at 7:30 and the holy week services will be concluded at 8:30 Saturday evening.

On Easter morning the masses will be said at the usual hours, the first mass at 8:30 and high mass at 10:30. Kempter's beautiful mass, which was composed in 1819, nearly 100 years ago will be sung by the choir. Special Easter music has also been prepared.

IN CHISHOLM CHURCH.

Fine Easter Program Will Be Given By M. E. Church People.

Chisholm, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Due to the efforts of Mrs. Willard Bayliss, Mrs. George L. Train, Miss Winnifred Andrews and Herbert U. Smith, the Easter services at the M. E. church promise to surpass anything given here. The church has been beautifully decorated and the program is a very attractive one. Numbers of the program are as follows:

Prelude, high school orchestra; trio, "Pilgrims of the Night," Misses Clark, Kneebone, Einsweiler; recitation, "Betrayal," Maybelle Pond; recitation, "Trial," Minerva Iveson; Hymn No. 98, congregation; male quartet; recitation, "Crucifixion," Louise Leonard; solo, "In Easter Dawning," Mr. Blazing; duet, "The Angels," Misses Einsweiler and Clark; recitation, "Resurrection," Lulu Twa; solo, "Holy City," W. D. Smith; sermonette, Rev. Ralph C. Jones, pastor; violin solo, offertory, Meditation," Edward Hagen; Hymn No. 180, congregation; benediction.

The musical director is Winnifred Andrews. The committee on decoration, Mrs. George L. Train and Mrs. W. D. Bayliss.

SINKS NASHWAUK SHAFT.

John H. Carlson Makes Progress on Work for Water Purposes.

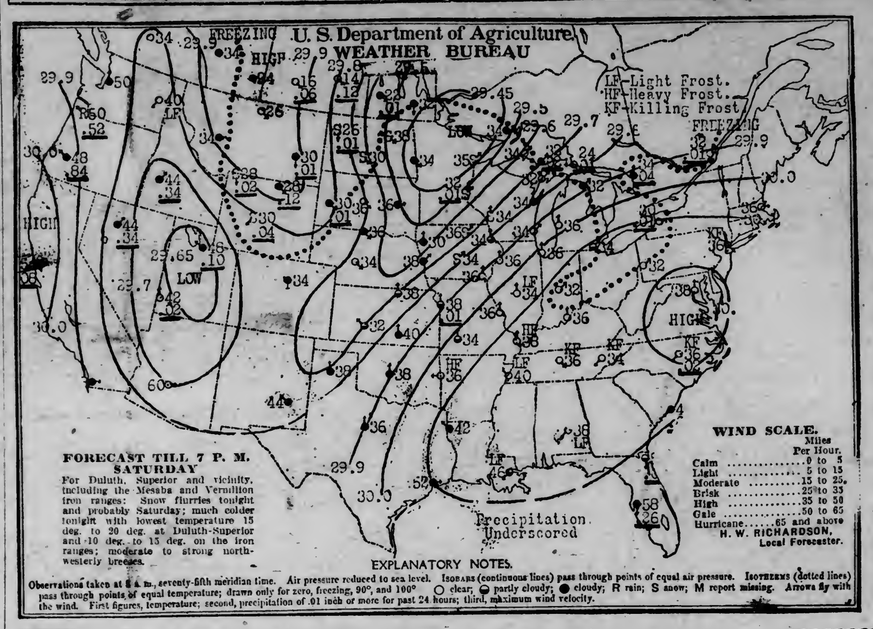
Nashwauk, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—After several attempts to make some progress in the sinking of the new shaft by the water and light commission by contract and day work, the commission engaged John H. Carlson to finish the task as Mr. Carlson has had considerable experience in this class of work. He is making great headway. He is working his men three shifts of eight hours and the work of completion is progressing rapidly. The shaft is to be sunk to a depth of about 150 feet.

GRAND RAPIDS WOMAN PASSES.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. H. D. Powers, wife of H. D. Powers, hardware merchant and prominent pioneer citizen of Grand Rapids, died yesterday at a sanitarium in Minneapolis where he had been receiving treatment for heart trouble. Mr. Powers, who has been with Mrs. Powers for several days, brought the remains home today, and arrangements for the funeral are being made.

IN SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Use It Like a Cold Cream and Dry Eczema Eruptions Right Up.



The moment you apply bold-sulphur to an itching or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist.

This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet, in every instance, it immediately subdues the itching irritation and heals the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again manifests itself.

Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur cream, which should be applied to the affected parts like the ordinary cold creams. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with tortuous itching.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. SATURDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Snow flurries tonight and probably Saturday; much colder tonight with lowest temperature 15 deg. to 20 deg. at Duluth-Superior and -10 deg. to 15 deg. on the iron ranges; moderate to strong northwesterly breezes.

SNOW

If Easter breaks like Good Friday—Good night! There will be many weeps for inability to show off the glad rags provided. On this tenth day of April it snowed, and the worst of it is that more snow flurries are predicted for tonight and probably for tomorrow. It will also get colder tonight, thank you; and the best you can do is hope for better things for Sunday.

Snow and cold weather were the afflictions a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 5:29 and will set this evening at 6:49, giving thirteen hours and twenty minutes of sunshine, three more minutes than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light to killing frosts occurred last hours and twenty minutes of sunshine, Arkansas, Alabama and North Carolina. Temperatures have risen somewhat in Central, Southwestern and Northern states, but it is much colder in Saskatchewan. Snow fell over the greater portion of the Northwest and rain or snow in South Atlantic states, Eastern Canada and from Wyoming westward to California and Oregon.

General Forecasts.

Chicago, April 10.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Saturday:

Wisconsin—Unsettled weather tonight and Saturday, probably light showers turning to snow flurries; colder.

Minnesota—Cloudy and much colder tonight with snow flurries in northeast portion; Saturday generally fair with colder in southeast portion.

Iowa—Unsettled weather tonight and Saturday, probably showers or snow flurries in east portion tonight; colder tonight and in east and central portions Saturday.

North Dakota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday; colder tonight.

South Dakota—Cloudy tonight and Saturday; probably snow flurries; colder tonight.

Montana—Unsettled weather tonight and Saturday; probably snow.

Lower Michigan—Unsettled tonight and Saturday; probably rain or snow in north and rain in south portion; warmer tonight; colder Saturday.

Upper Michigan—Unsettled tonight and Saturday with rain or snow; warmer tonight in east portion; colder Saturday.

PREUS AT VIRGINIA.

State Insurance Head Appears Before Commercial Club.

Virginia, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large audience at the Commercial club meeting last night listened to an address by State Insurance Commissioner Preus who reviewed the insurance situation in this section and praised the advancement made in securing fire-fighting appliances.

Carelessness over insurance and deliberate incendiarism, he contended were the chief causes of fire, and the last was perhaps the hardest to combat.

The remarks of the commissioner were received with interest and applause, especially those relating to the advance made by this city in its fire-fighting equipment.

The proposed range hospital was also referred to at the meeting and a committee will be appointed by President Archer tomorrow to present the views of the Virginia oraganization relative to the location of the projected institution.

The report of the membership of the club read at the meeting last night showed there are 115 active members of the organization now on the rolls.

Hibbing Pressman Dies.

Hibbing, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry Goette, aged 17, employed as pressman by the Tribune here, died in St. Benedict's hospital at Grand Rapids where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. He was the son of Mrs. F. R. Smith of Lincoln street and is survived by his mother, his step-father, three sisters, Mrs. Earl Radcliffe, Lucy and Clara, a brother Walter, two half sisters, Hattie and Faith and a half brother, Robert.

He attended the local schools, graduating from the eighth grade.

INSPECT MISSISSIPPI.

Great Northern Ore Properties' Officials Visit Keewatin.

Keewatin, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—General Supt. Hunner and Assistant Supt. Conklin of the Great Northern ore properties were in town Tuesday looking over the Mississippi mine with a view of soon putting men to work getting the mine in shape for shipping ore from the shaft. Tracks are now being laid near the huge stock pile and as soon as the shipping season opens several shovels will be put to work.

TO OPEN BRAY MINE.

Keewatin Property Expected to Resume Operations Soon.

Keewatin, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is rumored on good authority that the Bray mine will reopen on or about Aug. 15. The Bray is an underground proposition and last year a splendid location was built together with a new shaft, boiler houses and a concrete smoke stack. This mine is expected to be a heavy shipper the coming season.

SUCCESSFUL FARMER.

D. A. McLeod Doing Well With Soil Near Nashwauk.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. A. McLeod, one of the most enterprising farmers in this part of Itasca county, recently added a forty-acre tract to his farm which he will clear and use for haying purposes. He has 160 acres of land which he homesteaded twenty years ago, but which he has only worked the last three years. He has all the late model farm machinery and says that as a business, farming has 'em all beat. A fine county road built last year runs to the farm from the north of the village and Mr. McLeod makes Nashwauk headquarters for the sale of his produce.

GILBERT PRINCIPAL GETS VIRGINIA OFFER

Gilbert, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—K. K. Tibbetts, principal of the Gilbert high school, has received the appointment of principal of the Virginia high school at a salary of $180 per month. Mr. Tibbetts has been very popular with the people of Gilbert and it is not known whether he will accept the offer.

SOPHOMORE CLASS WINS AT RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The declamatory contest at the high school auditorium Thursday evening resulted in the sophomore class winning the cup offered for the best declaimers. The event was a most enjoyable and entertaining affair. Miss Belle Rassmussen rendered a vocal solo, Miss Arthur, readings, and Mrs. McOuat and Miss Nordstrom, vocal duet. The judges were Judge B. F. Wright, R. A. Stone and Mrs. F. R. Harrison.

STOP SNIFFLING

Use Hyomei—It Gives Quick Relief. Best Remedy for Head Colds, Bronchitis or Catarrh.

When your head is stuffed up from a cold or catarrh, causing you to suffer with dull headaches, watery eyes, constant sniffling, spasmodic coughing, or an itching and burning sensation in the nostrils, you need a remedy that will give you the quickest and most effective relief possible — something that will go right to the spot and immediately clear the head and end your suffering.

Use Hyomei—it is just such a remedy—a treatment that is harmless, pleasant to use, and leaves no disagreeable after effects. No round-about method of stomach dosing. Simply pour a few drops of Hyomei into the inhaler that comes with every complete outfit—which can be had from any drug store—and breathe it. You will immediately feel its healing and health-restoring effect.

The antiseptic and germicidal oils that constitute Hyomei mix with the air you breathe so that this healthgiving medication gooes directly to the sore and inflamed mucous membrane lining the nose, throat and bronchial tubes — all irritation is quickly stopped, the congestion relieved, and the delicate tissues healed and vitalized. You will feel better at once.

Boyce drug store sells Hyomei with agreement to refund the purchase price if you are not satisfied. This should be convincing proof that Hyomei is a dependable remedy. Ask for the complete outfit, $1.00 size.

WHY DOCTORS NO LONGER CLAIM TO "CURE" PEOPLE

A few years ago it was a common thing for the family doctor to say, "I will cure you in a few days." This cheerful prophecy often gave the patient new hope and courage but it is no longer good form. Doctors still "cure" malaria and a few other troubles in which their medicines have a direct or "specific" action on the virus of the disease. In other cases they simply give supporting medicine and keep up the strength of the patient until nature effects a cure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure chlorosis and other trouble due to thin blood because they have a specific action on the blood, building it up, purifying and enriching it. This direct action on the blood also makes them the best supporting and strengthening medicine. If you are thin and weak, breathless after slight exertion, if you have palpitation of the heart, gas on the stomach, cold hands and feet, if you are nervous and easily irritated and show other signs of weakened vitality, try these strengthening pills at once and let the rich, red blood cure you. Get a box today at the nearest drug store and begin at once to build up your health. Write now to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

SCARLET FEVER STOPS REVIVAL

Two Harbors, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—On account of the scarlet fever epidemic, C. C. Smith, the evangelist, will not begin the evangelistic meetings on April 19. The executive committee held a special session yesterday and decided that it would be necessary to postpone these meetings, considering the rapid spread of the epidemic during the last week. It is to be hoped that Mr. Smith can arrange to come to Two Harbors at a later date. The executive committee consists of Rev. A. H. McKee, Joseph Engstrom, A. A. Scott, Thomas Owens, William McCurdy, Andrew Sunquist, R. B. Elliott, Rev. L. B. Sherwin and Rev. Johnson.

FINE EASTER PROGRAM.

Coleraine, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The people of Coleraine and neighboring villages are promised a splendid program at the sacred concert at the Village Auditorium at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Easter Sunday. This will be given under the auspices of the Presbyterian church choir, consisting of Misses August and Anderson, soprano; Miss Williams and Mrs. Gillette, alto; Messrs. Anderson and Krieger, tenor, and Messrs. Jennings and Stauff, bass. Rev. Nathan Feather, the pastor, will assist at the services, while C. C. McCarthy will deliver the address. Mr. W. J. Stock will be master of ceremonies in the presiding officer. This will be a free concert, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

The program follows: Prelude, Coleraine orchestra; anthem, "Unfold, Ye Portals," choir; invocation, Rev. Nathan Feather; solo, "Plains of Peace," J. E. Jennings; quintet, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," the "Larks;" duet, "Magdalene," Mrs. Gillette and Miss August; ladies' quartet, "He Lives Again," Miss Williams, Miss Anderson, Miss August and Mrs. Gilette; address, C. C. McCarthy; anthem, "The Awakening Lord." choir; hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," audience.

BETTER PHONE SERVICE.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners granted the telephone department permission to make important changes in the telephone service in the courthouse. In the past there has been but one line running to the courthouse, and any one desiring to talk with any of the county officers was obliged to call up the county auditor's office, and a switch was then made to give the desired connection. This arrangement was found to be very inadequate and inconvenient and delays were frequent and of long duration. Three additional lines will be strung from the exchange to the courthouse, making a total of four circuits. There will be a line for the sheriff's office, one for the auditor and treasurer, one for the county attorney and judge of probate, and one for the clerk of court and register of deeds. The installation of these additional lines will not interfere with the operation of the intercommunicating system, and it will still be possible to use this system in communicating with other officials in the building.

Gilbert Woman's Funeral.

Gilbert, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Harvey was held Tuesday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, and interment took place in the Virginia cemetery. The relatives from outside who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cameron and daughter of Taconite, John Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hosking of Virginia, and Ed Harvey, Sr., and Ed Harvey, Jr., of Iron Mountain, Mich.

Doing Work Among Poor.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Tuesday the Sunshine society will meet with Mrs. T. E. Freeman on Third avenue. Mrs. R. E. Jones will assist in serving the luncheon. The ladies of this society are doing splendid charitable work among the poor people of this city. They are doing all in their power to render aid to the needy scarlet fever cases. It is to be hoped that all the fraternal orders will co-operate with them in this work, and respond with substantial help.

To Insure Nashwauk Employes.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a special meeting of the village council Wednesday evening the matter was taken up of insuring all village employes under the employes' liability act. The village council and the water and light commission both decided in favor of insuring its employes.

At a recent meeting of the water and light commission, John P. Raatama received the appointment of clerk at a salary of $75 per month, taking the vacancy formerly filled by John H. Carlson, who resigned a short time ago.

Rapids Poultry Display.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The poultry show being held here under the auspices of the school agricultural department promises to be a great success. The show is being held in the village hall. W. J. Corwin, director of agricultural work in the schools, has given out suggestions on exhibiting birds.

Beautifies Face in Wonderful Way

An Excerpt from Some of the Beauty Secrets as Recommended in the Boston American, by Valeska Suratt, the Dramatic Star, Whose Self-Made Beauty Has Become World-Famous.

"If you can understand fully this opportunity, there is nothing on earth that can prevent you acquiring the charming complexion which has been your heart's strongest wish. I defy any cream ever sold to produce the exquisite results which can be obtained by the following formula. This cream you should mix yourself, and you will then have a quantity of the most effective beautifier it is possible to obtain and at a cost many times less than is asked for complexion preparations. This cream beautifies the face, hands, arms and shoulders in a most remarkable way, removing every red spot, freckle and blemish and leaving the skin pinky white, soft and of the most exquisite purity.

"Simply mix two tablespoonfuls of glycerine in half a pint of hot water and add one ounce of zintone, which will cost not more than fifty cents at the drug store. Stir until cooled. It is then ready to apply."

"Blood tonics are not the thing for removing pimples. Creams are also useless. What you need is a powerful, yet safe, blood cleanser which will give quick results. Dissolve twelve ounces of sugar and one ounce of sarsene in a pint of water. Of this take one or two teaspoonfuls after meals. Get the sarsene in the original package, by the ounce."

Federal Grand Jury Finds Bill Against Alleged Swindler.

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—On the testimony of farmers and postoffice inspectors from three Northwestern states, the Federal grand jury yesterday indicted S. P. Lesselyoung of Minneapolis for misuse of the mails.

Lesselyoung is charged with promoting a scheme to swindle farmers in Minnesota and North Dakota out of $125,000. He operated the Farmers' General Service company, stock of which he sold to farmers, and the business of which he said was to purchase supplies at less cost and sell produce at higher prices than otherwise could be obtained.

EVIDENCE IN HEINO CASE

The Court Accommodated State's Witness Who Wanted to Leave City.

Former Legislator on the Stand — Jurors Get Half Holiday.

Although Good Friday is a holiday for the courts, a special session was held for two hours this morning in Judge Dancer's division of the district court where the prosecution of John R. Heino on a charge of adultery is pending. The court convened today as a matter of accommodation to John S. Saari, a witness for the state, who wishes to leave the city to fill a business engagement at Portland, Or.

Mr. Saari, who is an attorney, editor of a Finnish newspaper and a former member of the state legislature, testified this morning with reference to telephone conversations which he stated he overheard passing between John R. Heino and Mrs. Olga Gran, co-defendant in the adultery case on three different occasions. The witness said that he had listened at a telephone tap which had been connected with the wires leading into the Gran residence. Victor H. Gran, the woman's husband, and others, he said, also listened.

Strenuous objection was made by the array of attorneys who are appearing at the trial in the defense of Heino to the introduction of this testimony. The witness was stopped when he attempted to read a detailed report of the conversation from a memorandum. Judge Dancer sustained an objection to this procedure and Mr. Saari was allowed to testify from an independent recollection of what he had heard, refreshed only by a glance at the memorandum.

The defense is fighting every inch of the way and during the morning session the court was called upon to constantly rule upon objections. Theodore Hollister, William P. Crawford of Superior, who has been handling a number of Heino's cases in the Wisconsin courts, and Walter F. Dacey are the attorneys for the defense who have appeared so far at the trial. Warren E. Greene, county attorney, is personally conducting the prosecution.

The jury which has been drawn to try the case consists of the following: N. J. Smith, Oscar Anderson, Arthur E. Stock, T. J. McCarthy, E. H. Potts, T. C. Hartman, Emil Wagner, F. T. McDonald, Edward Erickson, Herbert Paul, William E. McCarthy and D. S. McKay.

LYCEUM—"Peg O' My Heart."
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

AT THE LYCEUM.

Shure and a Dainty Colleen Is Peg O' My Heart.

Shure and a dainty colleen is Peg O' M. Heart.

With two eyes as blue as the lakes of Killarney; and her curls as yellow as the sunshine; and her cheeks like two wild roses; sure and it's no poor, weak man could resist the way of her, and her Irish tongue, and the smile of her.

It is not hard to understand the popularity of "Peg O' My Heart," the J. Hartley Manners' play, after seeing the performance of it at the Lyceum last evening. For more than two years it has been running continuously in New York with Laurette Taylor in the title part, and Duluth got its first glimpse of it last evening, with dainty little Florence Martin featured in the company.

"Peg O' My Heart" is as clean and refreshing as an April shower. It is just a dainty, charming, wholly delightful, old-fashioned love story, told with the purest Irish wit. The lines fairly sparkle, and the average theater-goer who is accustomed to being prodded into wakefulness when a joke is coming, and then having it spread out before him in elaborate detail, will miss much of the comedy of Peg unless he sits up in his seat and does some intelligent listening.

The story is simple but has a ready appeal, and the character drawing is excellent. "Peg" made the reputation of Laurette Taylor and took her from obscurity to the position of a Broadway favorite almost over night. The reason was that there was something for the actress to work with. She had a well defined character to work out. "Peg" is a positive character, and a most whimsical, naive and charming one.

Duluth has never seen Miss Taylor in the part, and therefore comparisons are not possible, but those who saw Miss Florence Martin as Peg last evening were not worrying over Miss Taylor's long run in New York. Duluth got its first glimpes of Miss Martin some two year sago when as a mere girl, scarcely out of the hair-in-a-braid stage she was seen here with William H. Crane. She was youthfully charming then. She has lost none of that youthful charm, but she has developed into an actress of intelligence. Peg is no easy part to play. It requires a deft touch, and delicate shadings. Miss Martin provides these, and she also brings to the role her unquestioned youthful beauty and charm, graceful and attractive mannerisms, and that vague quality known as "personal magnetism."

"Adequate" is the word that best describes the rest of the company. There are no noticeably weak spots in it. Probably the best work, next to that done by Miss Martin, must be credited to Miss Maud Allan as Ethel, the daughter of the English family to which Peg is sent. The part is that of a keen minded, rather selfish, girl who is stifled by her surroundings in the commonplace English home of the better class. Miss Allan makes the part very effective.

Colin Campbell rather overplays the part of the silly, useless young Englishman, but nevertheless succeeded in getting a good measure of comedy out of it.

Fred L. Tiden makes Jerry a very likeable young man, and Pell Trenton is satisfactory as Christian Brent.

On the whole "Peg O' My Heart" is one of the decidedly bright spots in Duluth's theatrical season to date. It will be repeated tonight, tomorrow afternoon and night, and Sunday afternoon and night.

Amusement Notes.

One of the most talked-about plays of the day, "Little Women," a dramatization of Louise M. Alcott's famous story, is an early booking at the Lyceum coming under the direction of William A. Brady. "Little Women" is the work of Marian de Forest, a magazine and newspaper writer of Buffalo. The dramatization follows the main incidents of Miss Alcott's story, presenting all the well known and lovable characters. These include Jo, Meg, Beth and Amy, Mr. and Mrs. March, Aunt March, Prof. Bhaer, Mr. Laurence and Laurie, John Brook and even old Hannah, the cook. "Little Women" comes here direct from Mr. Brady's playhouse in New York, where it enjoyed a six months uninterrupted run, and will have the original company and production.

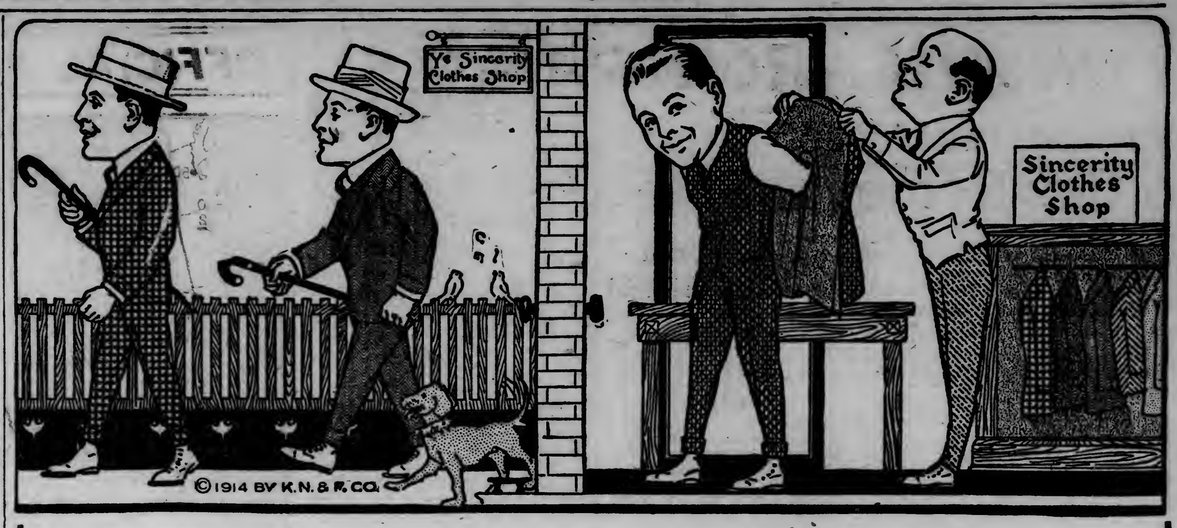
Holy week has apparently not affected the attendance at the Orpheum materially.

The week before Easter is generally conceded to be the duliest in the entire year for the theatrical business, but it has apparently been offset at the Duluth Orpheum by the fact that this week's bill is proving popular. James H. Cullen has been scoring a hit at every performance. Little Major Mack Rhoades, the boy violinist, has repeated his triumphs of Sunday and almost every other act on the bill has been popular.



Easter week is expected to set a new record for attendance at the Duluth Orpheum, owing to the engagement of the Orpheum road show, which will make its first appearance in Duluth. The road show has never been seen in the Duluth theater. It is a bill chosen by Martin Beck, the managing director of the circuit, from all the acts available in the booking offices, and it travels intact throughout the season. It is the only Orpheum show that is not changed from week to week, as all the other acts travel independently. It is also considered the star show of the circuit. This fact, combined with the fact that Lent is over and that Duluth has never yet seen the road show is expected to prove a triple drawing card that will break all attendance records for the theater.

The headline act on the bill will be Romeo the Great, said to be the greatest trained monkey since the days of Consul and Charles the First, two famous Simians that electrified the vaudeville world a few years ago. These animals died, and their trainer now has Romeo the Great, which he says is a more intelligent chimpanzee than either of his predecessors.

The road show will be at the Orpheum all next week with a daily matinee.

Assisted by the bureau of education of the Jewish community, (the Kehillah) of New York, Kalem has produced "A Passover Miracle," a two-part drama based upon the Jewish Feast of the Passover. This great feature will be seen at the Sunbeam today and Saturday. It is the story of the ingratitude shown by Sam, who has been given a medical education by his foster-sister, Lena, to whom he is betrothed. Although he has promised to marry Lena upon his graduation, the boy falls in love with a flashy stenographer. He leaves home after writing a letter in which he promises his betrothed to return the money she has spent for his education. His father, in wrath, vows that the boy shall never return. The foster-sister, however, is heartbroken. But the boy sees the error of his ways and, on Passover eve, he returns while his father and betrothed are celebrating the Feast of the Passover. How a reconciliation is effected, brings this to a heart-touching climax. The titles of the photoplay are in Yiddish and in English.

VICTIM OF ROBBERY FAILED TO REPORT.

Hatless and with a handkerchief tied about his head, a man was found wandering along Superior street about 2 o'clock this morning by Patrolman Perry. He told the officer that he had been robbed an hour earlier by two Patrolman Cavanaugh, bought six copies of The Herald yesterday afternoon from a newsboy, paying $1 for the papers. He then started down Superior street in an effort to sell the newspapers to pedestrians, men and women alike.

But unlike a diplomatic newsboy, Sullivan became angry when the people refused to buy and he began to curse those he approached. One man complained to Patrolman Cavanaugh and the latter placed Sullivan under arrest on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Sullivan pleaded guilty in police court this morning and Judge Windom suspended sentence.

Silverman Says Contract With Former Employes Is Void.

Harry Silverman, manager of a dry cleaning business at 131 East Superior street, will appear in district court tomorrow morning in response to an order to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued forbidding him to continue in his present business.

The matter was to have been taken up last week but was continued for one week. The order to show cause directed against Silverman was issued by the court at the instance of A. L. Agatin, attorney for the Yale company, a competitor, which alleged that when Silverman left its employ in January he was under contract to refrain from conducting a French dry cleaning business in Duluth for five years.

The Yale company asks $2,000 damages and a permanent injunction covering the period of the contract. Silverman, answering the complaint, alleges that the contract is void because his employer discharged him. His attorney is O. J. Larson.

NORTH DAKOTANS BEST DEBATERS

Win Over California University Team at Los Angeles.

Fargo, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota agricultural college participated in a three cornered debate last night here, and at Brookings, S. D., with the agricultural college team of that state and at Los Angeles with the University of Southern California. The locals lost here and won at the other two points. The subject was on the literacy test as applied to immigration. Representatives for the "Aggies" at Los Angeles were Walter Baumgartel and Reuel Wije. Their victory is regarded as a big advertisement for the agricultural college. Baumgartel was formerly from Crookston and was member of championship high school debating team of that place two year ago. George Dixon, William Arvold and George Knutson represented the local college at Brookings and Charles Amidon, Barbara Heidner and William Bolerud were the defeated team at home.

TRIAL DELAYS BURGLAR'S PLEA

Fred Jackson, Confessed Thief, Will Tell Story in Court Saturday.

Owing to a late session of the district court in the Heino trial last evening, Judge Bancer was unable to receive the plea of guilty which Fred Jackson, self-confessed burglar, desired to enter to information charging him with having, on March 10 last, broken into the hardware store of A. O. Geise, 103 West First street, and stolen $25 in cash and several other valuables. The court continued the case until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Jackson will be arraigned at that time. He was recently bound over to the May grand jury on a charge of burglary in the third degree. Jackson is the man who is reported by the police to have confessed to a series of eleven burglaries since December, 1912.

WASTING TIME.

London Answers: Enraptured, they gazed, hand-in-hand, upon the beautiful scene stretched before them in the setting sun. 'Twas the lake district, and they but three days upon their honeymoon.

"Dearest," he said, gazing at her fondly, "isn't this heavenly?"

"Yes, Reginald," she softly murmured.

"Do you know," he whispered ardently, "to me life does not seem long enough for our happiness? Just think, even if we are fortunate, our married life can hardly last longer than fifty years."

"Is that all?" she queried wonderingly, edging nearer.

"Yes, that's so," a touch of sadness in his voice. "Only fifty years in which to love each other."

"Then kiss me quick, Reginald," she exclaimed, "we're wasting time!"

A potato shortage in England caused prices to advance June 1 in Manchester to $30 a ton, against $12.90 at the same time last year.

CAME BY SEA FROM ASIA

Explorer Gives Result of Attempt to Trace Original American.

Evolved to Highest Civilization on the New World Soil.

Washington, April 10.—Harriet Chalmers Adams, one of America's foremost women explorers, who has just returned from a journey along the fringe of Asia, where she has been studying the peoples from Siberia to Sumatra in an attempt to trace the original American, in a communication to the National Geographic society, expresses the belief that the ancient "Americ" peoples came by sea, possibly in broken stages, from Asia.

"This earlier immigration, however, was at a very remote period, for our prehistoric monuments point to an indigenous culture," says Mrs. Adams. "A branch of an old world race, these 'early Americans' evolved to their highest civilization on new world soil." She expresses confidence that a closer study of the Indo-Chinese branch of the yellow race, the Malay, Chinese and Tibetan, as compared to our prehistoric civilization, will throw new light on the problem of tracing the original American.

Ancient Americ Civilization.

For fifteen years Mrs. Adams has been studying the ancient civilization of the new world, those which we call "Americ." She has traveled all over the Western Hemisphere from Canada to Tierra del Fuego, through every state in the United States and Mexico, and eery country of Central and South America. She outlines the ancient Americ civilization as follows:

Pre-Incasic people (before the Incas), who builded Tiahuanaco, now in ruins near the Bolivian shore of Lake Titicaca. This, as far as we know, is the "oldest city of the new world." The people living there today are Aymaras, Indians of the Bolivian highlands, who were subjugated by the Incas of Peru.

Incas of Peru, who rose long after Tiahuanaco fell. These were the Quichua people whose capital was Cuzco, "sacred city of the sun." They were conquered by Pizarro and his followers. Their descendants still speak the Quichua tongue and retain many ancient customs. They live in the Andean highlands of Peru. Mrs. Adams thinks them the most interest-Americans alive today. Ruins of their temples and fortresses are shown throughout the Andean country and even on the Eastern slopes of the Andes in the jungle, she says.

Mayas, of Central America, whose ruins still exist.

Toltecs and Aztecs of Mexico, whose blood flows in the Mexican of today.

Pueblos of the United States, who live principally in Arizona and New Mexico today. The Zuni, Hopi and many other tribes are included in the Pueblos, each speaking its own tongue. These Indians represent the tribes living in permanent stone or adobe houses or settlements, when the white man came, as apart from the nomadic hunting tribes. In ancient days the Pueblos extended from Colorado into Mexico and from Arizona to Texas.

Came in Boats Across Ocean.

While scientists agree that America was peopled by way of the Northwest, Mrs. Adams does not believe that all early Americans came this way. In the Phillipines, Mrs. Adams saw Ifugaos warriers who resemble Aymara chiefs of the Andean highlands in spite of the difference in climate. "This is not strange when we class the Ifugaos as Malays of the Indo-Chinese branch of the yellow race and believe that ancient America was peopled from Asia," she says. "Not only among certain Malay mountain tribes, but also in Western China was I continually reminded of 'things Americ,' but never among people of a low grade of civilization, only when among people of ancient lineage. In olden days, great war canoes were paddled by many oarsmen from one South Sea island to another. It seems likely that in this fashion men set sail from the Malay Peninsula, with their wives and children, food, household goods and domestic animals aboard, and, aided by wind and tide, reached the Promised Land, some palm-fringed isle in the tropic sea."

Mrs. Adams has the records of twenty-five small boats that apparently were blown across the Pacific, one a Japanese fishing boat which landed its unwilling immigrants alive and well on Californian soil two years ago.

FORM PALESTINE ASSOCIATION

Members of Memorial Society Would Settle in Holy Land.

In the memory of his wife, Nechamo German, 30 years old, who died at midnight Thursday at their home in Kinney, Minn., near Chisholm, Mordecai German last evening organized the Palestine Achusa Association of Minnesota, which will have for its purpose the banding together of local Jews, who are desirous of returning to Palestine.

The Achusa associations throughout the world have for their aim the purchasing of land in Palestine and after ten years, during which time the members are expected to pay for their share, the organization goes in a body to Palestine and there settles on farms. There are large organizations in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Winnipeg.

The local organization was effected at a meeting held at the home of Tobias Gordon, 25 North Fourth avenue west. It will be known as the Nechamo society, because Mrs. Nechamo German was always a worker for the Zionist cause and had throughout her life expressed a desire to some day go to Palestine and there settle on a farm for the remainder of her life. She leaves five small children, besides her husband.

Mr. Gordon was named temporary chairman of the Achusa association and another meeting will be held within the month, when permanent officers will be elected. A campaign for members will also be made and efforts will then be started to purchase farm land in Palestine.

Mrs. German was buried at the Jewish cemetery here this morning.

SUICIDE IS BURIED.

Funeral of Settler Who Killed Himself Held at Roosevelt.

Warroad, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Thomas Beckman, aged 45, single, who killed himself by shooting Wednesday on his homestead about ten miles from here, was held Thursday afternoon at Roosevelt. J. Carlson, a neighbor, went to Beckman's house about 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. After knocking repeatedly at the door without getting any response, he called to Mr. Beckman, and instantly he heard the shot. Not daring to enter, he hastened to the home of Richard Olson and reported the circumstance. One of the girls accompanied Carlson to Beckman's, where they found the man lying dead on the floor. Mr. Beckman was in good financial circumstances, and no apparent cause for the act is known. He had been a resident of this part of the country for the past twelve years and was highly respected. Mr. Beckman had been in poor health for some time, and it is believed by his friends that the deed was done while in a melancholy mood or temporarily insane. He leaves an aged mother and two sisters in Sweden.

NO MARKETS ON GOOD FRIDAY

Usual Session By Duluth Board of Trade Saturday.

Business was suspended by the banks and grain and stock exchanges throughout the country today. Departing from the example set last year, when Saturday was also observed as a holiday, the Duluth board of trade will hold a session tomorrow. The Liverpool, London, Paris and Berlin exchanges will be closed today, Saturday and Monday.

With the opening of navigation near at hand, involving preparations for large grain deliveries under contract from the elevators here to Eastern buyers, trading on the local board has become active of late with every prospect that transactions during the next three or four weeks will reach a large aggregate.

Trading in mining stocks has been upon a broader basis during the last two weeks toward which the improvement in the demand for copper metal has been the main factor. Brokers are confident that the resumption of spring work by the railroads and industrial companies will lead to a further marking up of the quotation for copper and a higher range for the issues of the mining companies.

OFFICE OF SUPERIOR & PITTSBURG COPPER COMPANY—To the Shareholders:

You are hereby notified that the Annual Meeting of the stockholders of Superior and Pittsburg Copper company will be held at the office of the company, Calumet, Mich., Monday, April 13, 1914, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year and for such other business as may come before the meeting.

The transfer books of the company will be closed March 6, 1914, and will reopen March 16, 1914.

By order of the Board of Directors.
GORDON R. CAMPBELL,
Secretary.
Dated at Calumet, Mich., March 1, 1914.

FRANCE APPROVES NEW TURKISH LOAN.

Paris, April 10.—The French government today signed an agreement approving of a new French loan to Turkey. In return for the loan, France is to be accorded certain economic advantages. The amount of the loan and the terms have been kept secret.

Djavid Bey, former Turkish minister of finance, who has been engaged in the loan negotiations for six months, is to leave Paris shortly for Constantinople to arrange for a decree authorizing the transaction.

TRAINS COLLIDE ON B. & O. ROAD.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 10.—John Moore, engineer, of Connellsville, was killed, and F. W. Biehl, engineer, of Pittsburg, was hurt when two Baltimore & Ohio freight trains came together near the Glenwood bridge today. A number of cars rolled over a high embankment and traffic was blocked for several hours.

RESERVE CLAUSE DECLARED INVALID

U. S. Judge So Rules in Killifer Case—Latter Belongs to Philadelphia.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 10.—Judge Clarence W. Sessions in the United States district court today denied the application of the Chicago Federal league club for an injunction enjoining Catcher William Killifer, Jr., from playing with the Philadelphia National league club.

The judge denied the application upon the grounds that the Chicago Federal league club did not come into court "with clean hands."

The decision also holds that the reserve clause is not valid.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 10.—Chairman August Herrmann of the National Baseball commission, when informed that the reserve clause had been declared not valid at Grand Rapids, gave out the following statement:

"Judge Sessions' ruling is based on the old reserve clause, which was in Killifer's contract. The old reserve clause has been revised and the one that now is included in contracts is greatly different from the one in question in Grand Rapids.

"The old reserve clause was indefinite in a number of respects while the one now in use is definite in every respect. I cannot comment on the case further until I have an opportunity of knowing just what the decision is in its entirety."

MINORS READY TO GO TO FEDERALS

Latter Claim They Will Have Plenty of Farm Material.

St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—Two minor leagues are negotiating for an alliance with the Federal league, according to a statement made here today by Otto Stifel, the heaviest stockholder in the St. Louis Federals.

"We will have our own minor leagues next season," he said. "Indications are that we can have as many as we want. We have a deal on with two minor leagues, both of high classification, which now are almost ready to jump.

"We must acquire a minor league to which to farm our players. Every man who gambled with us this year and signed a contract at a time when we didn't have much proof of our ability, will be taken care of. Their salaries are assured for their lives as players. We have their names enrolled and always will look after them."

JOHNSON CONFERS WITH HERRMANN

Story on Hamilton Jump Expected to Break Soon.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 10.—President Ban Johnson of the American league and member of the national baseball commission, held a conference here today with Chairman August Herrmann of the commission. Owing to its hurried and impromptu nature, following the jumping of Earl Hamilton of the St. Louis American league team to the Kansas City Federals yesterday, baseball critics are predicting that two members of the commission will have some interesting news to announce when the meeting is over.

It was an executive session with only Johnson and Herrmann present, and previous to the meeting neither would intimate what was to be done.

Yale "Bowl" Progressing.

New Haven, Conn., April 10.—The progress made in the construction of the Yale stadium is such that Secretary Daggett today expressed confidence that the "bowl" would be ready for the football game with Harvard next fall. Collections to date amounted to $370,000. Expenditures include $100,000 for real estate and $175,000 for construction work.

REFUSES NEW OFFER.

Phillips Academy Trainer Won't Go to Pennsylvania.

Exeter, N. H., April 10.—George S. Connor, trainer of the Phillips academy track team for the last thirteen years, has declined an offer of a similar position at the University of Pennsylvania to succeed the late Mike Murphy. Announcement that he had signed a ten-year contract at the local academy was made today.

Connor, who is an Englishman, came to this country in 1888 to participate in a six-day go-as-you-please race in New York, and afterward held positions as trainer with the Chicago Athletic association and at Cornell and Carlisle, coming to Exeter in 1901.

GETS OFFICE ON ONE LONE VOTE

Dan Lund Elected Justice of Peace in Fifth Ward.

Private Citizen Dan Lund has now been elevated to the position of Judge Daniel Lund. One vote in the Fifth ward did it, and Judge Lund has been busily explaining to his friends that he did not cast it.

The vote was cast in the Fifth ward. There has been a vacancy in the office of justice of the peace in this ward for several years. No one has cared to run for the office, because there is said to be a great scarcity of business for such an official in the district.

Some wag, probably a personal friend of the new judge, is believed to have conceived the idea that Mr. Lund would make a good official. On the ballot he wrote "One vote for Dan Lund for the office of justice of the peace."

There was no opposition, and although no provision had been made for the election of such an official, City Clerk McKeague yesterday declared Mr. Lund duly and legally elected.

Judge Lund is not a lawyer by profession, but has carried on a successful contracting business in the city for a number of years.

ILLEGAL VOTING CASES BEFORE COURT

James J. Colt, proprietor of a hotel on Third street; Max Dreger, a taxicab driver, both of whom are alleged to have voted illegally in the primary election on March 24, and Philip Gannon, assemblyman from the First Douglas county district, who is alleged to have aided Colt in voting, appeared in court at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A postponement of the case will be sought by the defendants.

Agents of the prosecuting attorney were in Duluth yesterday looking up the evidence against Colt and Dreger, both of whom are said to have voted in Duluth last September. Fearing that attempts might be made to destroy the evidence, the city clerk was requested to place the ballot boxes and records in the city vault for safe keeping.

WILL READVERTISE FOR PAVING BIDS.

All bids for the paving of Tower avenue from Sixteenth to Twenty-eighth streets were rejected at the meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon. The reason for rejecting the bids was that the lowest bid, offered by Fielding & Sheppley, would cost the property owners more than the highest bid, submitted by the White Construction company. The reason for this was that the latter had apportioned a greater amount of the cost to be borne by the street railway company. The city commission intends to readvertise for bids.

I. O. O. F.

All members of Zenith City Lodge, No. 160, and members of our other Odd Fellow lodges in Duluth are earnestly requested to attend the funeral services of our late brother, A. C. Robinson at Oddfellows hall, 18 Lake avenue on Saturday at 2 p. m., April 11, 1914. EDWARD LOWE, N. G.

MAKE PROGRESS ON THIEF RIVER LINE

Bridge Across River for Trolley System Is Completed.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work on the new electric railway from this city is progressing very rapidly. The bridge across Thief river is now complete. A spur track has been built from the Soo Line and the work of unloading 125 cars of ties is being rushed as fast as possible.

The contracts for grading and track laying were let last week and the contractors have already moved considerable material onto the ground to be in readiness for operations as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

TWO EXPRESS STEAMERS

New Boats Designed for Pacific Coast Passenger Service.

Two new steamships are under construction for the Northern Pacific Railroad company. The boats are being constructed at the Cramp shipwards of Philadelphia, and will ply between San Francisco and Astoria, Or. One of the boats, according to the present intentions of the officials of the railroad, will be called the Northern Pacific and the other the Great Northern.

According to the information received at the Duluth office of the Northern Pacific company from General Passenger Agent Clelland, the new boats will be the finest specimens of ocean-going express steamers ever built in the United States. They will be all steel vessels, 524 feet in length over all, 63 feet of beam and with a total height of 60 feet. Each of the vessels will accommodate 952 passengers and will represent the very latest inventive skill in shipbuilding. They will be equipped with three-screw propellers and the finest of turbine engines.

SALESMAN HAS DISAPPEARED

C. E. Beane, With Month's Salary Due Him, is Missing.

Does any one know of the whereabouts of C. E. Beane, a lamp salesman, who has made his headquarters in Duluth for the last few months?

If so the information would be greatly appreciated by Frank Gritt, manager for the Northern Electric Lamp company of Minneapolis, Beane's employer.

Mr. Gritt, who came from Minneapolis to Duluth today in an endeavor to find a clew to Beane's whereabouts, is unable to account for his mysterious disappearance.

According to Mr. Gritt, Beane was last heard from March 8 from Houghton, Mich. At the time of his disappearance he had a month's salary coming from his employers.

Mr. Gritt stated today that Beane was 38 years old and a man of exceptionally good habits.

Smallest City's Mayor.

Ray, N. D., April 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. W. B. Scott is the first mayor of Ray under the commission plan of government and he also holds the honor of being the first chief executive the city has had. Ray emerged from the ranks of the villages of the state to the full dignity of a commissioned government city in one step. It is the smallest city in the state to adopt the commission plan.

MORE TIME IS ALLOWED

Several Months' Grace Will Be Given Some Cigar Stores.

Alterations Not Necessary Until the Saloon Licenses Expire.

Some cigar stores and other business places will be able to continue in front of saloons for several months after May 1 without making any changes to comply with the provisions of the Hicken code.

The ordinance does not state that it shall be unlawful for cigar stores to occupy rooms in front of saloons after May 1. The section affecting cigar stores, etc., reads "that after the first day of May, 1914, no license shall be granted to any person to sell intoxicating liquors in any room except a front room facing on a street or avenue, the floor of which room shall not be over four feet above or below the surface of the street, and the width of which said room at the rear shall not be more than six feet greater than its width in front."

Under this provision no change will have to be made until the license expires, but before a new license is issued the room will have to be such as specified by the ordinance. Some saloons have already made alterations to comply with the regulations, but it is stated that others will not do so until their licenses have nearly expired.

It is said by several who have asked Commissioner Hicken, head of the safety division, about rearranging their places of business, that the administration will not split hairs in enforcing the ordinance, but that the spirit of the ordinance must be observed. There must be no obstructions which will prevent a full view of the bar during legal closing hours.

The police officials state that it is their belief that the laws are being well observed. In their opinion the liquor business in this city was never better regulated. They say that all saloons are closing promptly at 11 o'clock every night and are taking no chances. The principal reason has been the policy of the commission in revoking the licenses of those who have been guilty of law violations. They also report that the conduct of the saloons during business hours has shown a decided improvement. They explain that the men in charge know that they will be held responsible for what transpires in their places of business and are active in preventing disorder, robberies and sales to minors or drunken persons.

PAINTERS ISSUE ANOTHER STATEMENT

Now Claim They Have Eleven Contractors Won Over.

In a statement issued by the striking painters, paper hangers and interior decorators today they reiterate their former statement that they have several of the contractors signed up and that the latter have agreed to their terms. They state, also, that they are not asking for a "closed shop."

They still insist, however, upon refusing to divulge the names of the contractors—eleven in number now—who, they say, have signed up with them. They stated that their men are already working for these contractors. If the strike is not satisfactorily settled by Saturday they announce that they will begin to do job work at the regular scale of wages. The statement follows:

Painters' Statement.

"First, we wish it positively understood that we are not seeking a 'closed shop.' We are simply looking forward to conditions whereby we can better the conditions of local men. We believe that a demand that men who live here should be given preference in their employment cannot be unfair.

"The 'closed shop' can be used by employers to apply to union men, as well as non-union men. For instance, a man may be refused employment because he is a union man, which has been done, and which necessarily means a 'closed shop' to the union man.

"We also declare—and we consider that our statement will be believed by the public—that we have eleven contractors signed up at this time. The master painters have declared that none of their members have signed. We, of course, should be the best judges of this statement. We refuse to state who these contractors are as we are allowing our members to work for them and intend to do all we can for them.

Will Work by Job.

"Unless a settlement is effected by Saturday evening all our members will be allowed to do jobbing or work by the day at the regular scale of wages for any one wishing to have work done along the general lines of painting. We will allow all of our members to work for real estate men, building managers and owners and the public in general at the same scale. Notice will be given later by an advertisement in our daily papers whom to apply to for men."

FAILS TO ANSWER COURT'S SUMMONS

Illinois Town Clerk's Case is Only Begun, Say "Drys."

Ottawa, Ill., April 10.—John Dillon, town clerk of La Salle, cited to appear today before Judge William Hawthorne to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of court for failing to place the local option question on the ballot in Tuesday's election, ignored the court's order and did not appear. No action was taken by Judge Hawthorne. The case is expected to be transferred to the appellate court.

Dillon was ordered by a mandamus writ to put the question on the ballot, but obeyed, instead, a supersedeas issued by Justice Charles Craig of the state supreme court. The "drys" assert that Justice Craig was without jurisdiction, and declare that the fight is only begun.

For Embassy in Chile.

Washington, April 10.—Senator Shively, acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, today introduced an administration bill to raise the legation to Chile to an embassy. A similar bill is pending in the house.

GUNMEN'S FATE STILL RESTS WITH GLYNN; NO REPRIEVE AS YET

Argument for New Trial May Extend Beyond Death Date.

District Attorney Ordered to Show Cause for Refusal.

Colorado Warden Criticizes Course Taken By Governor.

New York, April 11.—Relatives and friends of the four gunmen sentenced to die in the electric chair early Monday morning for the murder of the gambler, Rosenthal, and the convicted men themselves today based their hopes for a respite on the hearing which began at noon before Justice John W. Goff on a motion for a new trial.

Justice Goff last night signed the order making it mandatory upon District Attorney Whitman to appear today and show cause why a new trial should not be granted.

It is doubtful if the hearing before Justice Goff can be concluded today, in which event it is expected that District Attorney Charles S. Whitman will join with counsel for the gunmen in requesting Governor Glynn to grant a respite. Unless such respite is received by Warden Clancy of Sing Sing prison before the time set for the execution of the four men, he has made it plain that the program for carrying out the mandate of the court will be followed.

Warden Clancy stated his position in reply to a request from Charles G. F. Wahle, counsel for the gunmen, that the executions be postponed until Thursday to provide against the contingency of being able to continue the arguments on the motion for a new trial beyond today.

District Attorney Whitman reached New York from Pittsburg shortly before noon, and went at once to his office, preparatory to the hearing before Justice Goff.

Apparently Resigned to Fate.

Ossining, N. Y., April 11.—Without knowledge of the new turn of events in their behalf in New York city last night, the four gunmen condemned to death for the killing of Herman Rosenthal retired in Sing Sing prison, apparently resigned to the prospect of the execution of the court's sentence on Monday morning.

Warden Clancy informed them that he would not extend their appointed hour of death to a later date next week, an option which the law allows the prison officials. The warden telephoned the same information to counsel for the gunmen in New York.

The four gunmen were notified by Warden Clancy late at night of Justice Goff's order permitting arguments as to a new trial. At first they seemed stunned and incredulous. "Dago Frank" even asked that he be allowed to sleep undisturbed.

So impressed had they been with the finality of their doom that they grasped but slowly the details that the warden gave. When they understood that the order might mean a reprieve, the men wept.

Witness Has Police Record.

Waterbury, Conn., April 11.—William E. Burwel of this city, who has made an affidavit that he witnessed the Rosenthal shooting in New York, has been arrested many times, the police say, for various offenses.

Warden Criticizes Glynn.

Denver, Colo., April 11.—Thomas Tynan, warden of the state prison of Colorado, known because of his lenient treatment of convicts, has sent a telegram to Governor Glynn at Albany, N. Y., adversely judging him because of his refusal to grant a respite to the four gunmen who figured so prominently in the Rosenthal murder. The telegram follows:

"Your course in having the gunmen electrocuted before Becker's trial will meet with the disapproval of a majority of the best citizens of the United States. Killing the under dog by courts and governors and allowing the big crooks to go free, is making for Socialism and anarchy in America. Coming at Easter time, it shows how far politicians have drifted from mercy and Christianity."

WILL GO AFTER DATA ON BILLARD COMPANY

Folk Will File Action in Court at Washington.

Washington, April 11.—Joseph W. Folk, chief counsel of the interstate commerce commission, expects to begin early next week, in the supreme court of the District of Columbia, proceedings to compel witnesses in the New Haven railroad investigation to answer questions concerning the operations of the Billard company.

If it should be necessary to take similar steps to compel the production of the books and records of the Billard company, another proceeding probably would be started, according to Mr. Folk, at New Haven, Conn., as that is the seat of the concern.

As to the witnesses, however, the situation is different. They are under subpoena to appear here, and did actually appear, and their refusal to testify was made here. It is held, therefore, that they fall within the jurisdiction of the District court.

Several Defendants.

In the proceedings to be started, the Billard company, the several recalcitrant witnesses, presumably connected with the Billard company, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company and the latter's subsidiary, the New England Navigation company, will be made defendants, although the railroad and the navigation company have expressed a desire to comply with the commission's orders and to cooperate with it in every way in obtaining the information it desires.

Successful Republican Candidate for the Seat in Congress Made Vacant By the Death of R. L. Bremner.

SEEK FARM CO-OPERATION

Farm Credits and Marketing Conference Delegates to Meet.

Second National Gathering Will Be Held in Chicago.

Chicago, April 11.—Co-operation by farmers is the keynote of the meeting to be held here four days of next week by the second national conference on marketing and farm credits and the Western Economic society. Organization by farmers to sell their products to the best advantage, and co-operation on the part of farmers and dairymen, form the major part of the subjects that will be dealt with in addresses by speakers of national prominence, whose conclusions will be debated afterward.

How far it is permissible for farmers' marketing organizations to go in price fixing, and the effect on such organizations of anti-trust legislation, constitutes another point.

The opinion of the American farmer on the projects of congress to furnish him with rural credit schemes are expected to form an important part of the debates.

Credit Idea on Defensive.

The rural credit idea, regarded by its advocates as the best means of solidifying the borrowing power of the farmers, reducing interest and enabling them readily to buy land and move their crops, will probably have to meet the criticism of its enemies that such a plan would deliver the farmer over to organized money power. The proposed Fletcher bill will be the storm center for this debate, it is understood.

A proposition to put the state brand on Wisconsin farm products will come before the conference for the purpose of ascertaining if such state supervision and indorsement of certain approved products can be made lawful. If necessary, legislation may be suggested that will permit such state cooperation.

Prominent Speakers.

The conference will sit during April 14, 15, 16 and 17. Among prominent speakers will be T. N. Carver, director of the rural organization service of the department of agriculture; John Graham Brooks, president of the National Consumers' league, "The Economic Limits of Co-Operation;" President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, "The Relation of Farmers' Co-Operative Selling Organizations to the Anti-Trust Law;" Charles J. Brand, chief office of markets, department of agriculture, "Marketing Cotton;" Governor Francis McGovern of Wisconsin, "A Market Commission," and many others who will deal with every problem connected with the marketing of agricultural produce and financing farm business. The speakers include not only farmers and dairymen, but financial authorities and a number of government officials who have the most to do with the new system of state and Federal aid to farmers.

WITHDRAWAL OF RATES IS ALLOWED

Washington, April 11.—The withdrawal by the Illinois Central railroad of proportional rates on grain and grain products from St. Louis, Mo., and East St. Louis and Madison, Ill., to destinations east of Pittsburg and Buffalo, was approved today by the interstate commerce commission. Suspension of the withdrawal was ordered vacated.

As no increase in the charges will result from the Illinois Central's action to the milling or grain interests of St. Louis, or East St. Louis, because "other and more direct routes to the destinations involved still will be available to all shippers," the permission was granted.

Speaker at Atlantic City.

SPAIN ASKS U. S. TO INTERVENE FOR HER PEOPLE IN MEXICO

Expulsion of Castilians Is Insisted Upon By Villa.

American Marines Are Arrested at Tampico, But Released.

Apology and Explanation Are Tendered By Gen. Huerta.

FEDERALS REPORTED ATTACKING TORREON.

Washington, April 11. — The Mexican embassy today issued this statement:

"Advices received at the Mexican embassy from the secretary of foreign relations in Mexico City indicate that the forces of Gen. Velasco, Gen. Moure and Gen. Maas have united and proceeded to attack the rebels besieged at Torreon, thus carrying out the strategic plan initiated by Velasco."

Madrid, Spain, April 11.—The Spanish foreign minister today asked Col. Joseph E. Willard, United States ambassador to Spain, to request the government at Washington to intervene in favor of the 1,000 Spanish subjects expelled from Torreon.

According to official news received by the Spanish cabinet from Mexico the expelled Spaniards are in a critical situation, and the government decided to approach the United States in their behalf independently of the measures Spain is taking to bring her subjects back to their own country.

U. S. Marines Arrested.

Washington, April 11.—Official report of the arrest and subsequent release of American marines at Tampico was received today by Secretary Daniels, who forwarded it to President Wilson at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Rear Admiral Mayo reported that after the marines were released upon his demand, he gave the Huerta commander twenty-four hours to salute the American colors as an apology. The time expired at 6 o'clock last night. The report received today did not say whether the demand had been complied with, but Secretary Daniels interpreted press dispatches saying the Mexican commander had apologized as meaning he had complied with Admiral Mayo's demand.

Later Charge O'Shaughnessy officially reported Gen. Huerta's apology for the arrest and detention of the marines and forwarded a copy of a statement issued by Huerta.

Mr. Bryan would not comment on

WILSON GOLFS WHILE OTHERS ARE ASLEEP.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 11.—Bright sunshine and an invigorating temperature greeted President Wilson when he went golfing early today. He arose before any of the other guests at the hotel where he is stopping, and with Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his aide, had the links to himself.

Secretary McAdoo joined the presidential party today. His fiancee, Miss Eleanor Wilson, is here.

EAST TO HAVE RAINY EASTER

Rain and Snow in North and Showers in Southern States.

"Generally Fair" Is Forecast for the Lake Region.

Washington, April 11.—It probably will be a rainy Easter all over the East. Unless some freak of nature sets the best predictions of the weather bureau experts awry, there will be rains and snows in the northern portion of the East, and rains over the southern districts. It is a stock prediction, among lay weather prophets, that if it rains on Easter Sunday it will rain for seven consecutive Sundays thereafter.

The winter linebacks of the last few days was being dissipated all over the country today. A parting shot of freezing temperatures was being felt over the northwestern areas.

"Fair and Warmer."

Chicago, April 11.—The Lake states and the Northern Mississippi valley will enjoy a pleasant Easter Sunday, cool but probably clear, it was predicted by the United States weather bureau here today. The unusually cold weather of the last few days probably will be moderated over the entire district, it was said.

"Generally fair weather will prevail," the official forecast said, "over this entire forecast district over Easter Sunday, the rains in the southern portion probably ending Saturday night. The temperature will begin to rise again in the Northwest tonight and generally over the district Sunday."

OLD HOSE CART USED TO BEAR DEAD CHIEF

Nearly 2,000 Firemen in Line at Seyferlich's Funeral.

Chicago, April 11.—An old hose cart belonging to Engine Company No. 98, whose house was known as "Old Sy's" unofficial headquarters, was impressed into service as a funeral car today to carry the body of Charles Frederick Seyferlich, chief of the Chicago fire department since 1910, to the cemetery.

Another hose cart followed in the funeral procession, bearing many floral tributes from the "boys" in the department and from city officials and friends. The familiar red automobile in which the late chief raced to every "4-11" alarm of fire during his term of office, accompanied the procession to the cemetery.

Members of the city council, the mayor's cabinet and all of the members of the fire and police departments who could be spared from duty attended the funeral services. Nearly 2,000 firemen marched in the funeral procession.

KILLS WOMAN BUT FAILS TO END OWN LIFE

C. P. Lawler Murders Brother's Widow With Whom He Was Living.

Turns Weapon on Himself, But Inflicts Only Slight Wound.

No Reason Given for Crime, Except That He Was Intoxicated.

"Gimme a drink; gimme some whisky," was the repeated cry of Charles P. ("Pat") Lawler from the time he was taken to headquarters last night after fatally shooting Mrs. Mary Lawler, his sister-in-law, and making an ineffectual attempt to kill himself, until he was taken to the county jail at noon today.

The tragedy took place in room 9 of the Astoria hotel, 102 East Superior street, shortly after 10 o'clock. The woman died at 1:30 this morning at St. Luke's hospital without recovering consciousness. The bullet entered her head above the right ear and penetrated the brain.

Continually and persistently the slayer and would-be suicide begged for more of the fiery liquid which he had been consuming in prodigious quantities the last few days. Before being locked in a cell with a charge of first degree murder lodged against him he pleaded for the stuff. When he woke this morning, sick and shaking, he called for it again to appease his burning appetite and still his quivering and shaking nerves.

Had No Motive.

Continually thinking of himself, he seemed to have little regret for his crime. Asked for his reasons, he told several different stories and towards the end of the forenoon he said he didn't know why he did it. From all that can be gathered it appears that the shooting was the outcome of a drunken frenzy. But two or three weeks ago Lawler was in a local hospital with delirium tremens and it is thought that his brain was crazed with the liquor which he consumed since being discharged. And after mortally wounding his brother's wife, with whom he had been living at the hotel as man and wife since last Tuesday, he still wanted more whisky.

His remorse was mostly for himself. He wanted liquor and he spoke in shameful terms of the dead woman. He claimed that it was due to her

ENFORCE COURTESY IN PITTSBURG SHOPS

Man Is Fired for Conduct Toward Woman Worker.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 11.—The arrest and punishment in police court today of Frank Martin brought out the fact that a number of factories in the Pittsburg district have issued orders for their men to be courteous to women workers. At the hearing it developed that Martin, who had been arrested for following a girl home from the factory, already had been suspended under the company's rule, which is being vigorously enforced.

DOROTHY ARNOLD,
New York Girl Who Disappeared Nearly Four Years Ago.

Tells His Story to District Attorney— Place Is Raided.

Score of Bodies of Dead Women Are Reported Burned.

Girl's Father Insists Physician's Assertion Must Be False.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 11.—The mystery surrounding the strange disappearance of Dorothy Arnold, New York heiress, who has been missing for almost four years, may be solved beyond the possibility of a doubt within a few hour.

Following a raid on the Bellevue hospital, and the arrest of Dr. C. C. Meredith, the proprietor, and his associate physicians, it was expected that a score of mysterious deaths would be cleared up.

According to information furnished by Dr. H. E. Lutz, one of the physicians, Dorothy Arnold and a number of other young women died in the institution, following operations, and their bodies were cremated in the huge furnace in the basement of the institution.

District Attorney R. H. Jackson, who made the raid on the hospital, smiled at reports from New York to the effect that John Kleth, attorney for Francis Arnold, father of Dorothy Arnold, had come to Pittsburg unknown to his employer and investigated a report that the missing heiress was at the Bellevue institution.

Lutz Confession Complete.

"Lutz has come through and told us everything," said Jackson. "We have evidence that Dorothy Arnold was traced right to the door of the Meredith's downtown office in the Schmidt building. We have learned enough already to convince us that in this raid we have broken up one of the worst places in the country. It is too early yet to tell you just what will be re-

TRY TO HOLD UP MAIL TRAIN

Two Robbers Shoot Negro Porter When He Shows Fight.

Daylight Robbery Near Tangipahoa, La., Is Failure.

New Orleans, La., April 11.—A daylight holdup of passengers on Illinois Central Train No. 34 was attempted today near Tangipahoa, La. Two robbers, after shooting and wounding a negro porter named Allen, escaped without obtaining any loot.

The two robbers boarded the train at Tangipahoa. Soon after it left the station, they entered a day coach and commanded the passengers to hold up their hands. One bandit flourished a pistol and the other began to relieve the passengers of valuables. Allen attacked the man holding the gun and was shot through the body.

As the negro fell one of the robbers pulled the bellcord, and when the train slackened speed they jumped and fled through the underbrush.

Number 34 is a mail train. It left New Orleans early this morning and arrived at Tangipahoa at 9 o'clock. The sheriff of Tangipahoa parish started for the scene with a posse.

UNEMPLOYED FAIL TO GET THEIR TRAIN

Snow Delays Through Freight They Are Waiting for.

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 11.—The "army" of the unemployed that arrived here late Thursday night from the west still is in camp at Roswell, north of here, awaiting a through Rock Island freight train east. The train which the "army" was to have taken at midnight was held at Pueblo because of a troublesome snow, and the "army" turned in for the night. The men are orderly and are giving the officials no trouble. Sufficient provisions were in camp to feed the men today.

WILL ABANDON BRITISH STEAMER.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., April 11.—Abandonement of the British steamer Croydon, which went ashore on April 6 off Barnuda Island, was decided on today. The 150 tons of dynamite forming part of the cargo was saved but the coal on board was lost. The ship's officers and crew are all well and will return to England shortly with the exception of the captain, who remains at Antigua to give evidence at the inquiry into the wreck, to be held by Lloyd's.

THIEF EXPLODES CARTRIDGES ON SHIP

Immigrant Gets Caught Rifling Baggage of Companion.

New York, April 11.—Passengers on the steamship Vauban, approaching New York early today, were aroused off Sandy Hook by an explosion in the steerage. Fire followed the explosion, but was quickly extinguished. Investigation showed that a Syrian, rifling the baggage of a fellow immigrant, had opened a box of cartridges and in so doing set them off. He was badly burned.

The Vauban came from South American ports and carried among other passengers, Col. G. D. Roper and several members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, returning from a trip to South American cities.

SUFFRAGETTE HURLS PAPER BALL AT JUDGE

Invader of British Museum Starts Rumpus When Arraigned.

London, April 11.—"May Stewart," the militant suffragette who with a cleaver tried to demolish a case of valuable porcelains in the British museum on April 9, created such a disturbance when charged today that the police magistrate was compelled to adjourn the trial. When the public prosecutor opened the case against her, she shouted:

"I have not come here to listen to you today."

The magistrate remonstrated with the prisoner, but she declared she would not desist so long as Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was being "tortured under the cat-and-mouse act—the devilish work of Reginald McKenna, the home secretary."

Then "Miss Stewart" threw a ball of paper at the magistrate, whereupon he ordered the hearing postponed.

"May Stewart" later in the day was identified as "Catherine Wilson," who was arrested on March 16, 1913, in the lobby of the house of commons, dressed in men's clothing and carrying a concealed dogwhip. She was sentenced at that time to six weeks' hard labor as a suspected person.

The real name of the prisoner is understood to be Clara Lambert. She is an organizer of the Women's Social and Political union who has been convicted of suffrage outrages on several occasions.

A few hours after her first appearance "Miss Stewart" re-entered the prisoners' enclosure with two policemen holding her arms. Several other policemen were held in reserve in the court. The prisoner created another uproarious scene, but the magistrate was able to take the necessary formal evidence and then committed her for trial without bail.

KING GUSTAF'S CONDITION GOOD.

Stockholm, April 11.—Further progress toward convalescence was announced in the surgeons' bulletin regarding the condition of King Gustaf of Sweden, issued today from the Sophia hospital, where his majesty was operated on Thursday for ulceration of the stomach. The bulletin says:

"His majesty passed a quiet night and enjoyed a good sleep. The pain he was suffering has diminished considerably and his condition gives reason to hope there will be no setback to his majesty's recovery."

WILL PLANT TROUT IN LOCAL STREAMS

Carload of Fry Will Be Brought Here From St. Paul.

Through efforts of men interested in trout fishing on local streams assisted by Deputy Game Warden Archie Boyd, a car load of trout fry from the state fish hatchery at St. Paul will arrive Wednesday in the West end to be distributed by local sportsmen. The car will be consigned to James Maghan.

Mr. Maghan said last evening that he was making arangements with a number of the local sportsmen to take the fry to the various streams in the neighborhood. Every automobile owner or those with rigs, who have the time to spare, will be asked to take several cans to some spot in the local streams.

Among the streams that will be stocked with the fry will be Miller's creek, Keen's creek, Rocky Run, Lester river, Chester creek and others within a distance of twenty or thirty miles.

"We hope to be able to make it a pleasure to fish in nearby streams within the next year or two," said Mr. Maghan. 'I well remember the time twenty years ago when Miller's creek was one of the best places in the county for fishing. For several years the fish seem to have disappeared from this stream."

Mr. Maghan announced this morning that the Scott-Graff Lumber company had consented to give the use of all of their rigs for the distribution of the fry. Several others, prominent members of the West End Commercial club, were expected to give their consent to the use of machines or rigs today.

WILL CONSIDER Y. M. C. A. PLANS

Mass Meeting Will Be Held at Bryant Social Center Wednesday.

The possibility of establishing a Y. M. C. A. in the West end will be the subject of discussion open to all present at a meeting of the Social center at the Bryant school, Wednesday evening. Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, chairman of the West End Commercial club's committee will be the principal speaker.

Among the other speakers will be R. R. Forward and Carl E. Lonegren. Several boys of the West end will also be asked to join in the discussion and give their opinion on the subject.

Much enthusiasm has been manifested in the project. Since the proposition was taken up earnestly by the committee, many prominent business men and residents of the West end have asked when the campaign for raising money would begin, stating that they had some money waiting for the committee.

The general sentiment is that a building costing about $20,000 could be erected which would meet the demand of the community. It is estimated that a membership of 300 could be secured without much effort.

SOCIETIES READY FOR JOINT BANQUET

Temperance Women Will Give Interesting Program Tuesday Night.

The annual joint banquet to be given by the West Duluth, Duluth Scandinavian and Central Women's Christian Temperance unions of this city, will be held this year on Tuesday, April 21, at the First Baptist Swedish church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. The program is nearly completed.

Arrangements are being made by the joint committee to entertain about 250 guests. The banquet will be served in the large club rooms in the basement at 7 o'clock. The women in charge of the arrangements are Mrs. Joseph Cochran, president of the district; Mrs. C. R. Keyes, Mrs. E. Gustafson, Mrs. Alice Warren, Mrs. Ella Robinson, Mrs. W. G. Garrison, Mrs. P. L. Morterud and Mrs. E. T. Seglem.

The principal speakers will be Mrs. Bessie Laythe Scoville of Minneapolis; Dr. Robert Yost, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; Bert N. Wheeler, Rev. Swaney Nelson of the First Swedish Baptist church, and Rev. H. A. Ofstie of the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church. The musical program will include a number of selections by some of the city's best talent. Among those on the program will be Mrs. J. J. Daniels, Rev. C. W. R. Wermine and Harold Hanson.

WILL ARRANGE FOR GARDEN WORK

Club and School Committees Will Meet Next Week.

Early next week the garden committee of the West End Commercial club, including James W. Preston and James Maghan, will hold a meeting with the joint school committee to start activities in preparing gardens in the contest. The school committees are composed of children and the principals of the schools.

The following are the representatives from the schools: Adams—Herbert Carlson and Lester Peterson; Lincoln—George Fredrickson and Elmer Pearson; Munroe—May Bark, Helmer Jones and Hildur Welander; Ensign—Egel Nelson and Hazel Selseth.

It is expected that nearly 1,000 children will participate in the contest. Members of the committee will make an attempt to have some garden activity in every back yard and on all available vacant West end property this year. An attempt will be made to organize community clubs, also, which will destroy weeds on vacant property not utilized for garden purposes.

Will Talk on Hygiene.

"Personal Hygiene" will be the subject of an address to be given Monday evening by Dr. Mary McCoy before the Junior Women's club of the Bryant school. Dr. McCoy will refer to methods most adaptable to keeping the body in good health. The lecture is one of a series that has been arranged for the young women's organization.

TO CHECK SPREAD OF HOG CHOLERA

"Hog Cholera Week" Designated for Farmers to Take Action.

St. Paul, Minn., April 11.—Governor Eberhart has issued a proclamation designating the week of April 17 to 25 as hog cholera week and urging all farmers' organizations to hold local meetings during that period to discuss the ravages of this disease and adopt measures to prevent its spread.

The governor promises the co-operation of the state through the school of agriculture and other agencies, and he asks that the press aid in the work of distributing information as to how best to check this scourge, which, he says, cost the farmers of Minnesota $5,000,000 last year and those of the country $60,000,000.

The governor says that the best live-stock sanitary authorities of the country will agree that hog cholera may be prevented and stamped out only by following three procedures:

First, quarantine and thorough disinfection of infected farms and communities.

Second, by the use of the serum-virus treatment in communities where the disease is known to exist and through a supervision of its use in uninfected communities.

Third, the strict and efficient co-operation between the hog raisers and neighbors and the public.

Governor Eberhart has sent letters to the governors of Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan and Montana, asking their states to take similar action.

the statement, but will await a full report of all of the circumstances before announcing whether Huerta's explanation will satisfy this government.

Villa Orders Spaniards Out.

Despite the state department's renewed protest against wholesale expulsion of Spaniards from Mexico, Consul Hamm reported today that Gen. Villa had reiterated his order that all Spaniards must leave the section under his control. He also reports confiscation of some Spanish properties. No reply has been received to Secretary Bryan's communication to Carranza, demanding that all cases of expulsion be considered on their individual merits.

Meanwhile Consular Agent Carothers and other consular officers in districts where there are Spanish colonies will continue to press the state department's demands for the safety of Spanish lives and property.

Consul Hamm reports heavy fighting at San Pedro, but did not indicate the results.

Chaos at Torreon.

Advices were summarized in this statement:

"Chaotic conditions at Torreon are reported to the state department, but the commander-in-chief of the forces occupying the district has promised that all foreign property shall be protected. It is insisted, however, that all Spaniards must leave the section under his control, and confiscations of the abandoned property have occurred."

Railroad connections out of Monterey are reported suspended since the first week of April. Telegraphic communication is very difficult.

Gen. Alvardo has wired Consul Hostetter at Hermosillo that a force of 200 men had been sent for protection of settlers in the Yaqui valley and that every effort was being made for their safety.

American Sentenced.

Douglas, Ariz., April 11.—Arrivals at Naco from Cananea report that B. F. Pelzer, an American arrested last week on the charge of circulating counterfeit rebel currency, was sentenced to eight years' penal servitude. Pelzer's safe was said to have contained several hundred counterfeit pesos. Later, it was charged, he was forced to show a secret hiding place where several thousand counterfeit pesos were found.

Aeroplane at Work.

Flights over the Federal ships outside Topolobampo harbor were made yesterday by the Constitutionalist aeroplane Sonora, and bombs were dropped, according to a message received here by Constitutionalist Consul Lellver. Whether any damage was done was not stated.

The message also said the commander of the Japanese warship Itzumo, now off Topolobampo, called on Gen. Obregon and manifested his satisfaction over the guarantee given by the rebels for the safety of the lives and property of the Japanese citizens.

WOMAN WILL BE LAWYER FOR BOYS.

Chicago, April 11.—Mrs. Alice Hurt Thompson has been appointed counselor for the youths whose missteps bring them into the jurisdiction of the newly formed boys' branch of the municipal court. Heretofore boys whose parents were unable to hire lawyers had to come into court undefended. Mrs. Thompson has practiced her profession in the court of domestic relations here.

"It must be understood that I will not base any boy's defense on technicalities," Mrs. Thompson said. "If convinced that a youth is not guilty of a crime, or if guilty there are extenuating circumstances, I shall do my duty to bring his side of the case to the attention of the court.

"I am to be there to make friends and help the boys whose only knowledge of the law at present is how to distinguish the feet of a plain clothes policeman."

PITTSBURG DOCTOR SAYS DOROTHY ARNOLD DIED THERE IN HOME

vealed about Dorothy Arnold's fate by the arrests."

In the big, isolated institution on a high bluff overlooking the murky Ohio, many women met a gruesome fate, according to a confession ascribed to Dr. H. E. Lutz, one of those under arrest, and fully credited by District Attorney Jackson.

The victims numbered a score. There may have been more according to Dr. Lutz. And among them, he said, was Dorothy Arnold, New York heiress, who disappeared mysteriously in 1910.

Both the district attorney and Chief of Detectives E. E. Clark are sanguine that the disappearance of the perfume importer's daughter would be fully and finally explained, together with the dropping from sight of other women.

Physicians Are "Feeders."

According to the alleged Lutz confession, several Pittsburg physicians acted as "feeders" for the hospital, sending to Meredith for illegal operations women who came to them. In a number of cases when complications resulted and were followed by death, the remains of the victims were heartlessly consigned to the monster furnace in the basement, according to Lutz.

Lutz declared that he sent a Mrs. Allison to Meredith. Lutz, declaring that he was almost a wreck as the result of his part in the support of the hospital, described Meredith as a fiend, apparently obsessed by love of brutality.

Some time after sending Mrs. Allison to Dr. Meredith, Lutz asked Meredith where she was. He said Meredith said, she was dead.

"Well, doctor, don't you think this is dangerous work?" Lutz claimed to have asked Meredith.

"Well," Lutz says he was told "there was a certain party that came to me from New York and was traced as far as my office. It was Dorothy Arnold."

Boyd Was Cremated.

When asked what had become of her, Meredith was said to have motioned skyward with both hands, indicating, Lutz declares, that she had been cremated.

Pressed for an answer as to the fate of Mrs. Allison, Meredith made similar gestures. Lutz said he had witnessed cruel treatment of Mrs. Allison by Meredith when the woman was removed from Lutz's office to Meredith's ambulance.

He literally threw her into the ambulance and called her a vile name, Lutz said, and when she moaned that she would like her mother sent for, Meredith assured her with a brutal laugh:

"Oh, you'll see your mother soon enough, all right."

Father Doubts Story.

New York, April 11.—Francis A. Arnold, rich perfumery importer and father of the missing Dorothy Arnold, denied any belief in the report that the girl died in Pittsburg.

"I believe my daughter is dead," said Arnold. "I believe she died the day she disappeared or immediately afterward. The one theory to which I always have turned is that she was kidnaped and made away within a short time. I never received any clew leading to Pittsburg and I do not believe a word of this story."

Dorothy Arnold left her home on the morning of Dec. 12, 1910, and was seen in Brentano's book store about 2 p. m. that day. That was the last trace of her ever found.

KILLS WOMAN BUT FAILS TO END OWN LIFE

that he had gotten drunk. He claimed that she had bought him the first bottle of whisky and that whenever he wanted to leave the room she prevailed upon him to take another drink. With himself still uppermost in his mind one of the last statements he made before being removed from headquarters was, "I wish I was dead."

Lawler Arraigned.

Lawler was arraigned in police court this morning. His examination was set for Monday morning, when he will be in more fit condition to appear. He wore a light bandage around his head. The single shot which he fired against his forehead above the right eye inflicted only a slight wound. He is 54 years old and his victim was 43 years of age.

Two sisters of the deceased, Mrs. Agnes Blaski of 825 East Sixth street, and Mrs. Anna Grams of 727 East Seventh street, visited Crawford's morgue this morning, where the body had been removed from the hospital. They declared that the two had always been the best of friends and could assign no reason for last night's tragedy. The dead woman is survived by several other sisters and brothers. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Further than that it was probably due to the fact that Lawler was crazed with liquor, no motive for the tragedy has been established. Both of them had been drinking considerably, according to the police, and when he was arrested last night Lawler was in a drunken stupor. He told several different stories of the shooting and this morning he still had two or three versions of the tragedy. One of them was that Mrs. Lawler had given him a three-year lease on her farm, located about fourteen miles from the city near the Rice lake road, and had told him yesterday that she had repudiated the agreement by turning over the farm to another man. He had a lease in his pocket, roughly drawn on an ordinary piece of letter paper. Another was that they quarreled about getting married.

Manager Hears Shots.

The sound of the shots was heard by Norman Smith, manager of the hotel, and he immediately notified the police. Detectives Toewe and Bradley responded to the call. Entering the room they found Mrs. Lawler lying across the bed, bleeding from the wound in her head. Lawler, partially dressed, was sitting on a nearby chair. A small bruise over his right eye showed where he had turned the gun upon himself in an effort to kill himself. But after a single attempt he evidently lost heart, for the revolver was found lying in a corner, with three unexploded cartridges in the chambers.

The officers made a hasty examination of the woman, which attracted Lawler's attention. "Did I kill her?" he asked.

"No, she's still breathing," was the answer.

"Oh, hell," he cried, "I wish I had made a good job of it while I was at it and killed both of us," according to the police.

Lived Here Forty Years.

Lawler has resided in Duluth for about forty years. For about half that time he was janitor at the Endion school and made his home with his wife and daughter at 1708 Greysolon road. His wife died some years ago and he is survived only by his daughter, Gertrude, 25 years old. The police say that since the death of his wife Lawler has been drinking considerably.

Martin Lawler, husband of the murdered woman, died last fall, leaving her the farm which C. P. Lawler claims in one story was the cause of the shooting last night. The identity of the woman was established by a letter addressed to her from a local undertaking firm containing a bill for the funeral expenses of her late husband.

The police state that they do not know whether or not the couple had been living together previous to Tuesday. They say that as nearly as they can learn they came to Duluth together from the farm and registered at the Astoria hotel.

Lawler bought the gun with which he did the shooting yesterday afternoon at Piehiger's hardware store, Second avenue east and Superior street, across from the central police station. It was a 32-caliber revolver of one of the cheaper makes.

DEMOCRATS ISSUE CALL FOR CONFERENCE

On April 25 They Will Seek to Choose Candidate to File for Congress From Eighth District—Conference Agreed on at St. Paul Meeting.

At the Eighth district caucus held at the Merchants hotel, St. Paul, prior to the Democratic state conference on March 31, it was agreed to hold a congressional conference in Duluth on April 25, at which an effort will be made to select a Democratic candidate for congress in the Eighth district, and to adopt a congressional platform. John Jenswold, Jr., acting chairman, and Victor J. Benoe, acting secretary of the St. Paul conference of the district delegates, have just issued a call. It follows:

Pursuant to a resolution adopted at a conference of Democrats of the Eighth congressional district, a delegate conference will be held at the city hall in Duluth, Minn., at 1:30 p. m., on April 25, 1914, for the purpose of adopting a congressional platform, organizing a plan of campaign and making a selection of one or more Democrats to be urged to file at the ensuing primaries as candidates for the Democratic nomination for congress in this district. Each county will be entitled to the same number of delegates accorded at the last state conference held at St. Paul. These delegates will be selected at county conferences to be held at a time and place to be fixed by the county committee of each county.

In naming the Democratic county committee, appointed a few days ago by Chairman J. A. Farrell of the recent Democratic county conference, the names of three committeemen named were inadvertently omitted from the list. They follow:

Buhl—W. J. Doyle.
Proctor—Patrick McCabe.
Ely—John Haarl.

CITY TAXES TO BE THOROUGHLY STUDIED

Mayor Mitchel of New York Appoints Special Committee.

New York, April 11.—A comprehensive study of the methods of taxation in use in cities all over the country and abroad, will be made by a special taxation committee appointed by Mayor John Purroy Mitchel to act in an advisory capacity to the city's seven tax commissioners.

It is the mayor's purpose, he said in appointing the committee, to become informed of the best ways and means of creating revenue for the payment of the cost of the municipal government so "that the burdens of taxation shall fall, not only evenly and equally, but as lightly as possible upon those who bear them."

Several former city officers are members of the mayor's committee.

PROPOSED AERO-YACHT FLIGHT AROUND THE COUNTRY FROM DULUTH TO SAN FRANCISCO IS NOW APPARENTLY IN FAIR WAY TO BE BEGUN

Duluthian Contributes $500 Toward Purchase of Flying Boat—Aviator Says He Will Enter "Around-the-World" Race If Successful in Trip From Duluth to Exposition Via Panama Canal.

THE plan to fly an aero-yacht called "The Duluth," from Duluth down the Great Lakes, up the St. Lawrence river, down the Atlantic coast, through the Panama canal to San Francisco, and later back across the mountains to Duluth, may be something more than a mere aviator's dream.

Several weeks ago it was reported in The Herald that Murrell Ellis, an aviator, was planning such a trip, but the report was not taken seriously by many Duluthians at the time, as it was not thought that the plan was feasible.

Since then Ellis has been given some rather substantial backing, and he says he will not only make the trip, but will later enter his boat in the round-the-world race, provided he reaches San Francisco alive. The boat can easily be replaced with wheels in an hour or two, and is then a regular aeroplane.

Ellis has enlisted the support of several well-known Duluth business men, and E. J. Filiatrault, who has successfully managed Duluth's two industrial expositions, has so enthusiastically taken up the idea that he has contributed $500 as the first subscription toward the fund to purchase the right kind of an aero-yacht. Ellis has agreed to make the trip provided the boat is purchased. It will cost between $4,500 and $5,000 complete, and Ellis says he will contract to pay his own expenses either out of his own pocket or from the receipts from exhibition flights on the tour, and will take with him a passenger who will be an expert publicity man for the city. He says he will take with him a man who will write a book in the air while flying, and who will prepare articles for newspapers and magazines, which will be descriptive of the flight. The writer, he believes, could easily earn his expenses and a good salary in this way.

Would Take Six Months.

The trip, Ellis believes, could be made in two months, but he advocates taking a much longer time, possibly six months.

"Every day you are out and every mile you cover will add interest to the flight," is the view he takes of it. "If we spent six months instead of two it would mean just so much greater safety, as we could always wait for weather, and it would triple and more than triple the publicity Duluth would get. By the time we had gone 1,000 miles or more the whole country would be watching the good ship 'The Duluth' every day in the week, and twenty-four hours a day. The flying boat's progress would be recorded in newspapers, magazines and motion pictures. In addition to that millions of people would actually see the boat, for we would stop at every important seaport city in America."

Mr. Filiatrault at first took the matter up as an advertising scheme and two of the automobile manufacturers he represents offered to finance it, but stipulated that Ellis should start from Detroit.

"I then decided it was too good a thing to let go," said Mr. Filiatrault, "and decided to chip in $500 myself and try to raise the balance, if I have to ask for $1 subscriptions from the people of Duluth. Why, $5,000 could be spent in one full page ad in a national magazine. Compare the publicity you would get from this for the PROPOSED ROUTE TO BE FOLLOWED BY THE AERO-YACHT IN ITS TRIP FROM DULUTH TO SAN FRANCISCO.

MURRELL ELLIS, The Aviator Who Wants to Make the Trip.

E. J. FILIATRAULT, Who Is Trying to Arrange the Long Flight.

city. If you spent $1,000,000 you couldn't buy it.

"Ellis has a small flying boat of his own, but says it is not staunch enough for the flight. He wants a boat of the Glenn L. Martin type, with a 100-horse power engine, and capable of making from 90 to 100 miles an hour. It will carry 1,000 pounds in addition to the aviator and his companion, and enough gasoline and supplies to last 1,000 miles. If necessary they could cover that distance in a day and could easily make from 200 to 500 miles a day. Ellis wants to sacrifice everything for safety, however, for his aim is to finish the flight and then enter the race around the world next year, so he would always wait for fair weather, and make jumps of from 50 to 150 or 200 miles a day, except along the coast of Mexico, where he would pound right along."

Mr. Filiatrault outlined his ideas of the trip for The Herald as follows:

"The writer during the last several years has been greatly interested in the question of aviation, and submits to you for the consideration of Duluthians what, in the writer's estimation, is a most feasible plan to give Duluth the much needed advertising which it lacks so much at the present time throughout the United States. From time to time we see in the columns of the daily papers the statement to the effect that the people at large in a great many communities are under the impression that the magnificent steel plant now being completed is located at Superior, Wis., and Duluth is not in any way connected with the big steel plant industry, nor is the name Duluth mentioned in any way in such publicity.

Time Is Ripe.

"Duluth, in the writer's estimation, is just on the eve of its greatest area of prosperity. Therefore, in the writer's estimation, through the assistance of the civic organizations and the business men of Duluth a civic advertising feature throughout the entire United States should be put into force not later than next July for which the writer submits the following proposition for your approval and the approval of the citizenship of Duluth:

"First: The writer would propose to raise the sum of $5,000 for the purchase of a Glen L. Martin aeroyacht of the hydroplane type, the cost of which would not exceed $5,000, and to which the writer at this time would subscribe the sum of $500.

"Second: After the purchase of this aero-yacht the writer proposes to have painted on the under sides of the planes the words 'Duluth the City of Commerce, Industry and Opportunity' and to be constructed to carry the operator and one expert publicity man from our city who would be equipped with a typewriting machine and stand whose duty it would be to start from Duluth about the middle of July and follow the course of the Great Lakes through to Buffalo touching all of the various cities within a radius of 100 miles of the Great Lakes, passing down through the St. Lawrence river thence down the Atlantic coast touching all the principal points westward along the shoreline of the Gulf of Mexico and over the Panama canal. Thence in an upward direction to the Panama exposition grounds on to San Francisco, and then back overland to Duluth. The publicity or newspaper man would distribute literature in pamphlet form in each point visited in the flight of the Duluth aero-yacht in circling the United States in this advertising campaign.

Advertising Possibilities.

"Third: The advertising possibilities of a trip from Duluth around the country would be a most novel method of advertising the city. Ordinary aeroplane flights are no longer much of a novelty but they are nevertheless still commented upon by almost all newspapers but a trip of this kind would be a most decided novelty. In the first place it would be the longest trip ever made by a aero-yacht—it would be the first time a city had ever sent out a flying boat to advertise itself—it would be the first aero-yacht through the Panama canal—it would carry a newspaper writer who would write a book in the air and supply first hand to the press in typewritten form publicity of the flight and would have many other unusual features.

"It would be surprising if the story were not carried on in the front page of every newspaper of importance in every city visited with the picture of the Duluth aero-yacht. The Associated Press would be also probably following the course of the Duluth aero-yacht at important points, and through the publicity of the newspapers it would continue for the time the aero-yacht would take in completing the trip.

"Fourth—Magazines and illustrated weeklies would be eager to get a picture of the Duluth aero-yacht and if the material were properly handled there is little doubt but that magazines would take articles on the trip around the country, especially if they were written in the air. The big motion picture companies would undoubtedly feature the flight and millions of people would see pictures of the Duluth aero-yacht in a great many motion picture theaters of the country. Events of far less interest are featured and there is no doubt they would fall for this stunt, especially as it is not advertising any particular product of Duluth, but merely Duluth, the city of commerce, industry and opportunity.

Hundreds of Stops.

"Fifth—The machine would touch at literally hundreds of cities and towns and its approach would be heralded by the newspaper which would be seen by literally millions of people. Supposing for example the boat would arrive at Coney Island on a Saturday or Sunday afternoon, hundreds of thousands of people would see the Duluth aero-yacht on one such landing. Atlantic City and all the other summer resorts along the coast would be visited in this advertising campaign.

"Sixth—At the Panama exposition if the Duluth aero-yacht were exhibited it would attract many people and it must be remembered that the exposition management is spending big sums of money in advertising and would be only too glad to assist in getting the necessary publicity for the flight of the Duluth aero-yacht all along the way.

"Seventh—A book written in the air telling of the first around the country flight originated by Duluth, the city of industry and commerce, ought to have a tremendous sale, both in souvenir form at the exposition and later through regular channels if it were properly written and edited.

"Eighth—Souvenir postal cards could be used to good advantage in advertising along the way. Each city visited should be only too willing to make souvenir postal cards of the Duluth aero-yacht and sell them long after the yacht had left.

"Ninth—As previously stated the publicity writer and operator of the Duluth aero-yacht should take with them a large number of Duluth pamphlets with arrangements made for supplying additional quantities by forwarding them ahead from time to time. A few hundred of these dropped from the boat would be scrambled for as souvenirs and retained for a long time after. Surely the majority of them would be read. The whole campaign should result in giving the entire country the impression that Duluth is just the liveliest city on the map.

Janus' Record.

"For the information of those who are not acquainted with aviation, take the case of Anthony Janus, who has just completed a sixty-day contract of carrying mail between Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla., said contract running for sixty days. Tony Janus is very well known to Duluthians from the several minor flights that he made during the past summer here with the hydroplane of the smaller type purchased by the Duluth Boat club. During the months of February and March under his contract between the two points named he made his daily trips and at no time was more than three minutes behind schedule time, both in starting from St. Petersburg and back to Tampa. During this time covered by this contract, as previously stated, he made one trip daily. The distance covered in the sixty days represents 3,600 miles, with absolutely no mishap. In addition to the regular scheduled contract trips he traveled over 7,000 miles without an accident of any kind.

"Some two weeks ago the writer caused to be introduced to Duluthians Murrell Ellis, who was brought to Duluth through the writer's efforts from Los Angeles, after having completed seven years of successful aviation, with a view of taking this question up and putting this advertising medium into force. At the present time Mr. Ellis is in my employ pending the decision of the citizens of Duluth and the acceptance of the writer's proposal of raising $4,500, in addition to the $500 which the writer starts the subscription with, to advertise Duluth.

"Mr. Ellis' record as a most careful aviator has been thoroughly looked up by both the writer and others to whom this proposition has been presented, with a view of putting into force the above advertising plan. His record is perfect.

"A great many Duluthians when they read this proposition will inquire as to the expenses connected with a trip of this kind and how they will be covered. In reply, the writer would state that all traveling expenses and other expenses should be easily covered by the independent flights in the various cities and towns, as also through the sale of small souvenirs, photographs and concessions that might be granted to motion picture film companies, or engagements with fairs and carnivals, etc., en route. A complete and correct record would be kept of all receipts and expenditures connected with the flight and upon the return of the Duluth aero-yacht a correct accounting will be made and any funds on the credit side of the ledger after the aviator is paid would be returned pro rata to the various business men or citizens contributing to make up the original $5,000 required."

"Trying to Get Him to Save"

THERE is a volume of sentiment back of those six simple words, if one but stop to consider. The mother, who can picture the future of her boy, is "trying to get him to save." We open accounts almost daily for the boy of today who will be the man of tomorrow. A wife starts an account for her husband. She is "trying to get him to save." She has a vision of the coming years when the accumulation of the earning days will mean rest, contentment, happiness. Perhaps it is a vision of a little farm or a snug home. Saving will make it real. We are trying to get YOU to save, because we see the actual results of saving in the lives of others.

WOMAN PASSENGER ON FLYER KILLED.

London, April 11.—The German aviator, Reichelt, carried a woman passenger with him on a flight last evening. At a height of 200 feet the motor exploded and the monoplane shot blazing to the earth. The woman was dead when extricated. Reichelt died at a hospital.

On several previous occasions Reichelt had narrow escapes from death. Once, in 1913, with a passenger aboard, when at a height of 6,000 feet, his motor stopped and he had to plane downward through a heavy fog in the darkness. He landed on a house, crushing the roof, but he and his passenger escaped injury.

NINETY-FOOT RAIL GOES THROUGH MAN.

"CURED MY BOY OF CROUP AND BUILT UP BOTH THE CHILDREN"--WRITES MOTHER

"I have used two bottle of Father John's medicine and found wonderful results. My children are subject to bronchitis and when they get a cough bronchitis generally follows and then I have to call my doctor. They started with croup and I saw Father John's Medicine advertised and thought I would try it. I gave them the medicine and cured my boy's croup in one night. When I had tried everything else but without success, it cured both of them of the cough and they had no more trouble. I think it is making them strong. I really would not be without Father John's Medicine. I think any one who is troubled with bronchitis and will take Father John's Medicine faithfully will find relief." (Signed) Mrs. E. Imhof, 221 Bentalon street, Baltimore, Md.

Father John's Medicine is for sale in Duluth by William A. Abbett, 205 West Superior street, 101 West Fourth street, 932 East Second street, also Boyce Drug Store, 331 West Superior street; Wirth Drug Store, 13 West Superior street, and practically all other drug stores in the city. If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist, write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1 for a large bottle by express, prepaid.

NO TOLLS FOR WAR VESSELS

Provision of Colombian Treaty Made Public By Bryan.

O'Gorman Sees New Opening to Attack Canal Repeal Bill.

Washington, April 11.—Free use of the Panama canal by Colombian men of war, troop ships and army and navy supply vessels, is proposed in the new treaty between the United States and Colombia signed at Bogota on Tuesday to heal the breach between the two countries over the separation of Panama.

This was announced by Secretary Bryan, with the explanation that the clause in the convention was identical with one in the Colombian treaty negotiated by Secretary Root in 1909, with the approval of Great Britain and ratified by the United States senate, though never accepted by Colombia.

Mr. Bryan's statement followed a long conference at the state department with Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the senate canals committee, which has under consideration the administration bill repealing the clause of the Panama canal act exempting American coastwise shipping from canal tolls.

Ammunition For O'Gorman.

Senator O'Gorman, who is leading the Democratic opposition to President Wilson's repeal policy, went back to the capitol with new ammunition for his fight. He would not discuss the matter himself, but other opponents of exemption repeal pointed to the fact that Great Britain in 1909 had agreed to preferential treatment for Colombian vessels because of Colombia's peculiar relation to the canal, as evidence that Great Britain and Wilson are now putting a new construction on the words "all nations" in the clause of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, guaranteeing equal treatment to the vessels of the nations of the world using the canal. Their claim is that these words were not intended to apply to the United States, the owner of the canal, and they will urge the admission of Great Britain in the Colombian matter as proof.

Even in Case of War.

Mr. Bryan said the treaty signed at Bogota employs the language of the Root-Cortes ship canal treaty granting the use of the waterway to "the troops, materials for war and ships of war of the republic of Colombia, without paying any toll to the United States, even in case of an international war between Colombia and another country."

When the new treaty has been ratified, Mr. Bryan explained, it will be necessary to conclude a treaty between Colombia and Panama. He would not say whether the acceptance by all concerned of the tri-partite treaties would solve all of the problems pending between Panama, Colombia and the United States, nor would he give any further hint of the provision of the latest Colombian treaty, which will be made public next Wednesday.

DR. BARKER HAS A FULL PROGRAM

Taft's Former Advisor Will Speak at Many Meetings.

Extensive preparations are in progress at the Y. M. C. A. for the coming of Dr. C. E. Barker, formerly medical advisor for ex-President Taft. Several thousand printed programs are being circulated this week throughout the city announcing the noted doctor's coming, and his program includes, men, women and children in its scope.

Each noon Dr. Barker will address the men of the shops. A special meeting has been planned for the students of the Central and Duluth Business universities, Tuesday, April 14, will be West End day for all the events of the day will take place at West End centers. At 10 a. m. the doctor will address eighth grade boys at the Bryant school on "A Boy's Problems." At 3 p. m. at the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, there will be a meeting of the mothers of the city, and at 8 p. m. a meeting for men at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will be held on the subject, "A Father's Responsibility to His Boy."

On Wednesday evening, April 15, there will be a special meeting for young men of the city at the gymnasium on "Social Purity." Indications are that there will be a big attendance at each of these gatherings, for there are a number of organizations boosting, including the churches, the schools, business colleges, W. C. T. U., Y. W. C. A., the men of the shops, and the Y. M. C. A.

CAPS AND GOWNS FOR H. S. GIRLS

Commencement Dress May Be Simple Affair, Says Principal Young.

Conventional caps and gowns, such as are worn by those graduated from universities and colleges, will be adopted for the June graduating class of the Central high school, if the plan which has been proposed by Leonard Young, principal, does not fail.

If the principal's ideas are put into effect, the snowy white graduation gown for the sweet girl graduate will be a thing of the past. Simple black caps and gowns would be worn instead.

Yesterday Principal Young mailed out circular letters to the parents of the senior class students, in which mothers and fathers are asked to approve or disapprove of the plan. Postcards on which parents are expected to reply were enclosed.

Principal Young looks upon the expense attendant to graduating dresses as an unnecessary one. He also figures that it will do away with tears on the part of those whom poverty prevents from having a new dress.

The caps and gowns may be rented at a nominal price, according to Principal Young. A number of large firms in the East have a special department for the supplying of the cap and gown trade from high schools and colleges. The rent charged is usually $1,500 for one day and $2 from two to six days, no charge being made for the time in transit.

In his letter to the parents, Principal Young also says: "It is the wish of those in charge of the commencement exercises that they be made simple and dignified, impressive and democratic to the extent that they are in the least possible degree a burden to any one taking part in them."

A number of other high schools have already adopted the plan.

CHURCHES IN SILVER JUBILEE

Duluth Presbytery Will Hear Noted Speakers April 14 and 15—Forty Churches to Be Represented.

Preparations are being made for the silver anniversary of the presbytery of Duluth, which will take place at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday and Wednesday, April 14 and 15. About forty churches will be represented, and Dr. John Timothy Stone, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States and pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Chicago, will be one of the chief speakers.

Other noted speakers, however, will be present. Dr. Joseph Vance, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Detroit, will be present and speak on "The New Chance of the New Day" at 8 p. m. on Wednesday. Dr. Stone will speak on Tuesday evening.

Historical Sketch.

At 2 o'clock Wednesday, Rev. Henry B. Sutherland, stated clerk of the Duluth presbytery, will give a historical sketch of the presbytery. Dr. Maurice D. Edwards, stated clerk of the synod of Minneapolis and pastor of the Dayton Avenue Presbyterian church of St. Paul, will speak following Mr. Sutherland. Dr. Edwards preached the sermon at the organization of the presbytery twenty-five years ago.

Dr. Robert Yost, pastor of the First church of Duluth, will preside at the communion service.

All of the Duluth Presbyterian churches will take an active part in the meetings. Following is a list of the Duluth churches of the presbytery and the date of their organization:

First—Third avenue east and Second street; organized 1869; pastor, Robert Yost.

Second—1515 West Superior street; pastor, John Allen McGaughey. The first organization in the West end, was known as the First Presbyterian church of Oneota; organized 1858; out of this organization came the Second Presbyterian church.

Lakeside—Forty-fifth avenue east and McCulloch street; Willis O. Garrett, pastor; organized 1890.

Westminster—Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street; W. L. Staub, pastor; organized April, 1889.

Hazelwood — Thirty-ninth avenue west and Fourth street; O. D. Slater, pastor; organized 1889.

House of Hope—New Duluth; organized 1891.

Duluth Heights—Organized 1893; Albert H. Mutschler, pastor.

Glen Avon—Woodland avenue and Lewis street; W. W. Lawrence, pastor; organized 1893.

Pastor evangelist, Rev. Franklin J. Barackman.

Sunday school missionary, S. A. Blair, connected with the presbytery nearly eighteen years.

Two of these churches, the First and Second, were organized by the presbytery of St. Paul before the formation of the Duluth presbytery twenty-five years ago.

First Christian Church Sunday School Begins Nine Weeks Agitation.

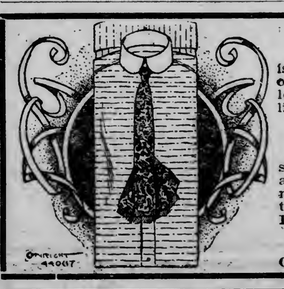
The First Christian church Sunday school is entering upon a Sunday school advance campaign, beginning tomorrow and lasting nine weeks. The purpose is to increase the enrollment and the efficiency of the school. Sundays have been designated as follows: April 12 will be Decision day; April 19, girls' rally day; April 26, boys' rally day; May 10, mothers' day and cradle roll day; May 24, men's rally day; and June 7, everybody's day.

The campaign is a continuous challenge to everybody to go to Sunday school each Sunday.

LOSS OF APPETITE

Most Successfully Treated by Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Loss of appetite is accompanied by loss of vitality, which is serious.



It is common in the spring because at this time the blood is impure and impoverished and fails to give the digestive organs what is absolutely necessary for the proper performance of their functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable all-the-year-round medicine, is especially useful in the spring. Get it from your druggist. By purifying and enriching the blood and giving vitality, vigor and tone, it is wonderfully successful in the treatment of loss of appetite and the other ailments that are so prevalent at this time. It is not simply a spring medicine—it is much more than that—but it is the best spring medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the rich red blood that the stomach and other digestive organs need. Get it today.

WILL HOLD HEARINGS IN THE LAKE CITIES

International Commission Would Solve Pollution Problems.

Washington, April 11. — The extent of pollution in the international waters along the boundary between the United States and Canada is before the international joint commission, which has undertaken to find and apply a remedy.

Chairman Tawney said that at the conference just concluded here, the commission decided first to employ leading sanitary engineers to study the problem, then to give them a hearing, which will be in New York about the middle of May. After that hearings will be held in various cities and towns affected, Buffalo and Detroit, as the two largest, being the first to be visited by the commission.

Mr. Tawney said local conditions would make it necessary to deal with the question in a variety of ways, methods of sewage disposal and water purification which might be desirable at Buffalo perhaps not being practical at Detroit and other places.

The commission will meet again at Sault Ste. Marie on May 4 to investigate the water-power project which American and Canadian concerns desire to build at that point, and which will affect the level of Lake Superior.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

MAYOR BLANKENBERG had a message for the citizens of Philadelphia. He decided to have it printed and then he called on the police department to make a house to house distribution of the message. By this unique method the mayor hopes to arouse public interest in his efforts to secure harmonious relation with the council and to prevent the passage of graft legislation.

The recent enactment of a municipal court appropriation bill embracing extravagant branches has caused the mayor to appeal directly to the people.

In the state of Georgia there are now seventy-six cities and towns that own and operate their electric lighting systems as shown by the figures of the state railroad commission compiled for the last report. Some buy their current from privately owned producing plants and distributing systems. Most of them, however, have their own producing plants as well as their distributing systems.

Planning for the Stork's Arrival

Among those things which all women should know of, and many of them do, is a splendid external application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." It is a penetrating liquid and many and many a mother tells how it so wonderfully aided them through the period of expectancy.

Its chief purpose is to render the tendons, ligaments and muscles so pliant that nature's expansion may be accomplished without the intense strain so often characteristic of the period of expectancy.

At any rate it is reasonable to believe that since "Mother's Friend" has been a companion to motherhood for more than half a century no more timely advice could be given the inexperienced mother than to suggest its daily use during expectancy.

Ask at any drug store for "Mother's Friend," a penetrating, external liquid of great help and value. And write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 302 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book of useful and timely information to expectant mothers. It contains many suggestions that are of interest to all women.

COMMITTEE DEFENDS ITS RESERVE BANK LOCATIONS

Issues Reply to Critics and Points to Misunderstanding.

Declares Every Day Business Will Not Be Interfered With.

Washington, April 11.—The Federal reserve bank organization committee has issued a statement defending its choice of reserve bank cities and definition of reserve districts. It is the first official answer made to criticisms voiced in congress and heard from cities which sought reserve banks, but failed to get them. For the first time some of the data used by the committee in reaching its conclusion is made public.

Particular attention was given to the committee's reasons for choosing Atlanta, Ga., and Dallas, Tex., in preference to New Orleans; for selecting Richmond, Va., instead of Baltimore, and for naming Kansas City instead of Denver, Colo., Omaha or Lincoln, Neb. The committee called attention to the fact that since 37 cities were applicants and only 12 named, 25 had to be disappointed.

"With so many conflicting claims," the statement said, "somebody had to judge. Congress constituted the committee a court and gave the Federal reserve board the power to review. Disappointed competitors should seek a remedy through the orderly process the law prescribes.

Critics Do Not Understand.

"Critics of the decision of the committee reveal misunderstanding, and either do not know, or appear not to know, that the Federal reserve banks are bankers' banks, and not ordinary commercial banks; that they are to hold the reserves and to clear the checks of member banks, make rediscounts for them and engage in certain open market operations. As a matter of fact, the ordinary, everyday banking relations of the community of business men and of banks will not be greatly modified or altered.

"Every city can continue to do business with individuals, firms or corporations within its own limits or in its own region, or in any other part of the Union or world, where it has heretofore done business.

"Reserves are to be held in a new way and in new places, so far as this act controls them, but banking and business generally will no more be confined within districts than heretofore. Every city which has the foundation for prosperity and progress will continue to grow and to expand, whether it has such a reserve bank or not, and well informed bankers especially are aware of this."

Followed Banks' Wishes.

The statement showed that the committee's poll of national banks applying for membership in the system favored Dallas and Atlanta over New Orleans in that part of the South and Southwest which was included in the districts decided upon. It showed that the capital and surplus of national banks in Atlanta was greater than in New Orleans, while in Dallas it was less, but that in both Dallas and Atlanta the loans and discounts and individual deposits were greater than in the Louisiana city.

Discussing the choice of Richmond, the committee pointed out that banks in South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia preferred that city to Baltimore or Washington, and said it was thought unwise to locate another reserve bank close to the one decided upon for Philadelphia. It was pointed out also that sworn statements to the comptroller of the currency showed, on Jan. 31, 1909, that the national banks of Richmond were lending twice as much money in the district eventually created as Baltimore and Washington combined.

Choosing Kansas City.

In support of its choice of Kansas City, the committee said that Montana, Idaho, Arizona, Texas and Nebraska opposed Denver, and that the majority of banks in a tentative district suggested by Omaha were opposed to its selection, and preferred other cities.

"It seemed impossible," the statement said, "to serve the great section from Kansas City to the mountains in any other way than by creating a district with Kansas City as headquarters, or to provide for the northwestern section except by creating a district with Minneapolis as headquarters.

"It will of course be recognized by those who are informed, that of the four cities, Kansas City is the most dominant banking and business center. The following statistics as of March, 1914, will through light on the situation:

City—	Capital And Surplus.	Loans and Discounts.	Individual Deposits.
Kansas City	$11,680,000	$66,205,000	$40,415,000
Omaha	6,570,000	32,848,000	27,258,000
Denver	7,545,000	50,022,000	34,124,000
Lincoln	1,330,000	6,065,000	4,439,000

"The loans and discounts of all reporting banks and trust companies in Kansas City on June 4, 1913, amounted to $91,686,000, exceeding by about $7,000,000 the total loans and discounts of all banks and trust companies in the cities of Omaha, Denver and Lincoln combined."
